A program leading to a Bachelor of Arts, with a major in business degree will be initiated this coming fall semester, announced Brother Paul O. Stokes, Dean of the day division. The program was designed by two of the ablest men in the field, Mr. Ted Prenting of the University of Chicago, and Mr. Eugene Zieha of the University of Illinois, who is responsible for the founding of the Air Force Business School in Dayton, Ohio.

The curriculum would include the following major courses: Price Theory & the Market, and National Income in the Freshman year; Managerial Accounting I-II in the Sophomore year; Public Policies toward Business, Financial Management, and Business Law in the Junior year; Money & Banking, Marketing Management, Personnel Management & Industrial Relations, and Production Management in the Senior year. The degree, being a product of a liberal education affords the student the cultural value of a liberal college, and at the same time gives him the opportunity to secure a major in Business.

This program will be made available not only to the incoming Freshmen, but to the '64 graduates as well. For the present Freshmen it will require that they pick-up the lacking credits in basic economics, which could be done either in the night or day division.

This program already in progress in the night division with a registration of about sixty pioneers, should increase enrollment, as well as establish a well-rounded course of study for Marist. The head of the department for the day division was not disclosed and should be announced later in the year.

Why has Jim "King" Cullen changed his name to "Bobby the Boys Av", if Bobby has it that Phil Cullum is spending vast amounts of money on "SuperBoy" comic books. By the way, Phil, since when has Union College moved to Albany? No, Davitt, you can't fill the pool with Rheingold! We would like to congratulate Dan "Quee" Varion on winning "The Best Dressed Man of the Year" Award. A little tidbit from our roving reporter: Joe impedance's car broke down last week at the Ronneville Salt Flats last year. Hey, Casey Corey, lay off those MO trains. Authorities are asking about those strange blinking lights from up the hill. Gills, how do you like moon-light batting? Has "Urata" dubbed his car the human-mobile? Buffalo Bob, have you heard of "Elektro"? Cheerleaders, attention: You can't wear leotards to the Bard game. Hey, Buffalo Bob, have you heard of "Elektro"? Raymond's Record would like to make it the policy of the paper to print, one week in advance, all of the various meetings and functions which will occur on campus. To facilitate this policy we request that the secretaries of all campus organizations submit a memo of their coming meetings by the Thursday of the week in which the meeting will occur, at least a week in advance.
