Juniors and Seniors Hold Ring Formal

Ann Antoniolli and Marianne Guglielmo
Awarded Leads in Guild’s Spring Production

The Theatre Guild, under the guidance of Brother Joseph L. Belanger, announces the participation of the associate members of the Guild in its production of Two Blind Mice. The play, written by Samuel Spewack, will be directed by Mr. James Britt and is a delightful satire on the State Department.

Ann Antoniolli and Marianne Guglielmo of the associate membership play the female leads in the production. Other associate members participating in the play are Diana Ianelli, Eileen Smith and Sandy Pascoe.

Miss Antoniolli is a 1959 graduate of Wappinger High School and is now a student nurse at St. Francis School of Nursing. She appeared in a previous production of the Theatre Guild as Una in The Wise Have Not Spoken by Paul Vincent Carroll. Miss Antoniolli is playing the part of Crystal, a career scientist working for the government.

Miss Guglielmo is a 1957 graduate of Highland High School and is presently employed by Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation. She participated in the Roosevelt High Thespian Society and worked on make-up and set construction for the Marist Theatre Guild’s production of An Evening With Eugene O’Neill. Miss Guglielmo plays the part of Karen, a young attractive secretary in this spring’s production of Two Blind Mice.

Miss Ianelli is a 1960 graduate of St. Joseph’s High School, Brooklyn, New York and is presently enrolled at Dutchess Community College. She participated in the Dramatic Club at St. Joseph’s and is a new associate member of the Guild. Miss Ianelli plays the part of Letitia, another career scientist in government employ.

Miss Smith is a 1960 graduate of Highland High School and is also a student nurse at St. Francis School of Nursing. She appeared in a previous production of the Theatre Guild as Una in The Wise Have Not Spoken by Paul Vincent Carroll. Miss Smith is a new associate member of the Guild. Miss Ianelli plays the part of Karen, a young attractive secretary in this spring’s production of Two Blind Mice.

Local Party Leaders
Speak to Republicans

by JOHN DWORAK

"Teamwork" and "party unity" were the words with which William Thomas used to describe political organization. Thomas, Chairman of the First Ward Republican Club of Poughkeepsie and Thomas Milano, Republican Alderman from the First Ward in Poughkeepsie, were guests at the meeting of the newly formed Young Republicans Club of Marist College, Thursday evening on campus.

The meeting was opened by president Peter Hanley, who introduced Dr. Balch, club moderator. Dr. Balch’s opening remarks concerned the "unmistakable trend" which is sweeping the American campuses. This "unmistakable trend", conservatism, he said, was still undefined. Calling on his own observations of similar movements, he stated that the Democratic party of the early forties had an enthusiastic following of the same proportions as the Republican movement has today. It is the influence of these people, in certain ideal and responsible positions that is giving the Democratic party the recent victories that it has enjoyed. He went on to mention that it only a matter of time before the nation will feel a similar effect from this Republican movement.

Thomas was then called on to describe the activities of the local organization. He stated that his club was interested in getting in personal touch with the residents of his ward. Working in conjunction with the larger city organization the club could give service on city-wide issues. He said that it

(continues on p. 3)
To the Editor:

I want to thank you and Mr. O'Keefe for your kindness and support during my visit.

The Source of Ends

We live today in the twilight of purpose, without the glaring reality of need. Our brains, and even peripheral wants are satisfied, without our having done much to obtain them by our own ingenuity. But in the eyes of certain others, it seems as if there is still much to do. College newspapers are always running impromptu crusades to get their student bodies to join in and act. Clubs, organizations, surveys for things to do to increase class unity. Athletic directors and athletes are constantly exhorting the benefits of intramural and intercollegiate sports, and the need for physical fitness. Literary clubs are constantly urging an increase of expression through the written word. Student governments (see letter) give advice to their students to govern themselves. The NFCCS and the NSA are quick to point out the utility and disutility, respectively, of the HUAC. And finally, students will be woken up by the statespersons' donors to their campaign chests.

Class officers periodically look around for things to do to promote the welfare of the College, and warmest personal regards are sent to students, who have been designated as the , "right hands" or "strategic points". It is to be hoped that Mr. McAndrew's interview with Mrs. Fisher can be made, in some way, a permanent possession of the College. It is to us all the manner which the article so helpfully explicated the problem of the student to college journalism lies in helping the reader to understand the significance of the headline, and the news that all are already obvious. It is also to be hoped that the page of last week's Record did this in a rather distinguished way.

Sincerely,

D. P. Ausubel
Professor of Education

The Source of Ends

We live today in the twilight of purpose, without the glaring reality of need. Our brains, and even peripheral wants are satisfied, without our having done much to obtain them by our own ingenuity. But in the eyes of certain others, it seems as if there is still much to do. College newspapers are always running impromptu crusades to get their student bodies to join in and act. Clubs, organizations, surveys for things to do to increase class unity. Athletic directors and athletes are constantly exhorting the benefits of intramural and intercollegiate sports, and the need for physical fitness. Literary clubs are constantly urging an increase of expression through the written word. Student governments (see letter) give advice to their students to govern themselves. The NFCCS and the NSA are quick to point out the utility and disutility, respectively, of the HUAC. And finally, students will be woken up by the statespersons' donors to their campaign chests.

Class officers periodically look around for things to do to promote the welfare of the College, and warmest personal regards are sent to students, who have been designated as the , "right hands" or "strategic points". It is to be hoped that Mr. McAndrew's interview with Mrs. Fisher can be made, in some way, a permanent possession of the College. It is to us all the manner which the article so helpfully explicated the problem of the student to college journalism lies in helping the reader to understand the significance of the headline, and the news that all are already obvious. It is also to be hoped that the page of last week's Record did this in a rather distinguished way.

Sincerely,

D. P. Ausubel
Professor of Education

March 13, 1962

ALUMNI NEWS

The ink had hardly dried on last week's issue of The Record when word was received that Tom Krit, 61, had foreclosed on the residence paid for him by a sixty year old woman of Texas for the "Old Man River" state of Mississippi.

An organizational meeting for the Alumni will be held early in May. At this meeting aims, areas of activity and organizational framework will be discussed. Further information on the monthly social meeting, and the time and place will be announced later.

March 13, 1962

Young Democrats Elect Officers: Plan Seminar

At the last meeting of the Young Democratic Club, John Bucemi and Thomas Heffernan, biology majors from Newburgh and the Bronx respectively, were elected co-chairmen. The establishment of purposes for the Club's founding was submitted, selected and unani­ mously accepted.

Mr. Hechi, chairman of the Dutch­ land County Democratic Committee, has been invited to deliver a lecture this Tuesday, March 14, 1962, at 8:30 P.M. in the Wash­ ist College. The Democratic Club has been invited to attend a lecture to be given by John Bingham on March 14th at Vassar College. Mr. Bingham is the American Economic Adviser to the United Nations.

March 13, 1962

The RECORD

Editor: James Callahan
Asst. Editor: James Moloney
Advisor: Mr. Cornelius Russell

THE RECORD is published every Tuesday of the school year, exclusive of holidays, by the students of the College. It is the official organ of the Marist Student Government, and the College. It is obviously being di­ rected with vigor, imagination, and en­ thusiasm, and the presentation of the honesty and practicality of the architectural arrange­ ments are also impressive.

When I returned to my room on Wed­ nesday night I was so stimulated intelec­ tually that I stayed awake reading untill 4:30, having to get up the morning at 5:15 AM.

With best wishes for the future suc­ cess of the NFCCS and the NFCCS, and the need for physical fitness. Literary clubs are constantly urging an increase of expression through the written word. Student governments (see letter) give advice to their students to govern themselves. The NFCCS and the NSA are quick to point out the utility and disutility, respectively, of the HUAC. And finally, students will be woken up by the statespersons' donors to their campaign chests.

Class officers periodically look around for things to do to promote the welfare of the College, and warmest personal regards are sent to students, who have been designated as the , "right hands" or "strategic points". It is to be hoped that Mr. McAndrew's interview with Mrs. Fisher can be made, in some way, a permanent possession of the College. It is to us all the manner which the article so helpfully explicated the problem of the student to college journalism lies in helping the reader to understand the significance of the headline, and the news that all are already obvious. It is also to be hoped that the page of last week's Record did this in a rather distinguished way.

Sincerely,

D. P. Ausubel
Professor of Education

March 13, 1962

ALUMNI NEWS

The ink had hardly dried on last week's issue of The Record when word was received that Tom Krit, 61, had foreclosed on the residence paid for him by a sixty year old woman of Texas for the "Old Man River" state of Mississippi.

An organizational meeting for the Alumni will be held early in May. At this meeting aims, areas of activity and organizational framework will be discussed. Further information on the monthly social meeting, and the time and place will be announced later.

March 13, 1962

Young Democrats Elect Officers: Plan Seminar

At the last meeting of the Young Democratic Club, John Bucemi and Thomas Heffernan, biology majors from Newburgh and the Bronx respectively, were elected co-chairmen. The establishment of purposes for the Club's founding was submitted, selected and unani­ mously accepted.

Mr. Hechi, chairman of the Dutch­ land County Democratic Committee, has been invited to deliver a lecture this Tuesday, March 14, 1962, at 8:30 P.M. in the Wash­ ist College. The Democratic Club has been invited to attend a lecture to be given by John Bingham on March 14th at Vassar College. Mr. Bingham is the American Economic Adviser to the United Nations.

March 13, 1962
Chemistry Students' Receive Honor Awards

Brother Andrew Molloy, Chemistry Department Chairman, has announced the award of copies of the Handbook of Chemistry and Physics and letters of congratulations to honor students in first year chemistry. First honors go to James Pennell, '65, followed by Brother Stephen Slack, '64, Peter Killen, '65, Joseph Ianelli, '63, Daniel Verrico, '64, and to Charles Button, top student in the evening division. Mr. Pennell's award was presented to the College by the Chemical Rubber Publishing Company, and qualifies him for a national competition, sponsored by the company, among first year students of chemistry. The other five awards are sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Section of the American Chemical Society to encourage students in the study of chemistry and allied sciences. Nominations for the awards were made by Brother Richard LaPietra and Mr. Stelvio Zanin, day and evening instructors respectively, on the basis of the students' overall achievement at the time the nominations were sent in.

In his letter of congratulations to the students Dr. R. P. Eischens, Chairman of the Awards Committee of the Mid-Hudson ACS, expressed the hope that "by receiving this award you will know that the members of the chemistry profession are interested in your efforts and wish to encourage you to go further in the field of chemistry."

Applications Up Over Last Year

Brother John Malachy, Registrar, made known last week the following information concerning the rate of applications for next year's freshmen class. As of March 1, 1962 there are 286 applications on file; this compares favorably to 90 applications as of March 1, 1961. He went on to state, "If the flow of applications follows last year's trend, we should have approximately 500 applicants from which we will be taking 200 freshmen." This will represent an increase of 68 students over last year's freshmen class of 142.

With the completion of Sheehan Hall, the new dormitory, the Registrar indicated that 120 of the successful applicants will be resident students.

Accordingly, another indication of the rapid development the school is undergoing is the number of inquiries the Registrar's Office has received this year to date. As of March 1, 1962 there has been 700 inquiries compared to 200 as of March 1, 1961. Among the various reasons for this phenomenal growth, Brother John hastened to add, is the advertisement we have been receiving from our contented student body. We should have approximately 500 applicants from which we will be taking 200 freshmen." This will represent an increase of 68 students over last year's freshmen class of 142.

Bowling News

After several setbacks, the intramural bowling program is getting a new start. Brother William Murphy made it known that enough interest has been shown through his recent survey to warrant getting a bus to transport interested bowlers to and from the lanes.

The same house system will be used, Ed Shanahan has been working all year as moderator of the group and it was only through his efforts that there is an established organization.

Bowling is at the Hoe-Bowl Lanes in Hyde Park and takes place on Monday afternoons at 3:45. The bus will leave the school at 3:30 and return when the session is over. A schedule has been worked out by Brother Murphy and Mr. Shanahan. The league will not work on a handicap basis so you can see the importance of individual support of your houses. It is important that we have an interest in bowling at this time because on the basis of the averages compiled now, an intercollegiate team will be formed in the fall.

NOTICE: DEADLINE

March 19 is the last day articles will be accepted for the spring issue of the Literary Quarterly.