Discussion Continues on Choice of New Vice Pres.

In an address to the student body, Rev. Malcolm Boyd, as ordained Episcopal priest, discussed various topics such as Students, Church, and Black-White relations.

In recognizing Marist's move to co-education, the Rev. Boyd discussed the advantages of a co-ed campus, which would allow people of the opposite sex to mix and make human beings, not as sex objects.

In describing the student's role, the Rev. Boyd quoted the words of Dick Gregory, "Theriger of today is the student; he is so out of it and bored with his present position.

Foy and Goldman Discuss Athletics

To get physical education courses approved in a college without a physical education major is a 'slight of hand.' With these words, Mr. Foy informed the students about the history of Marist College receiveing over 340 votes, Joe Goldman to the convocation.

Young Lectures by Brian Flood

Owner of the Folklore Center in New York City, Mr. Young, delivered three separate addresses on various topics. These addresses were "underground," "The Underground Church," and "The Underground University." Mr. Young also discussed the question of "academic athletics." He stated that the academic athletics would be the "four lives" he is going through.

Francesce Elected With Over 340 Votes

Receiving over 340 votes, Joe Francesce carried away the student council's presidency by vote of his opponents. Ted Francese carried away the 5th, witnessed a clean slate of students cast their support for Piazza won—with a shout of a landslide—victory over Steve Harrison and Gene Stoffel. 454 students at the Varsity Club came very close to upsetting Sal. Three hundred votes were cast for the vice presidential candidates. The sub-committee will then make its recommendation to the full committee, which can arbitrate any conflict or application.

Francesce Elected With Over 340 Votes

In November of 1968 at a house meeting, students began to discuss the possibilities of a more liberal open house policy for Humanities House. At two other house meetings this same topic was debated with arguments for all sides presented. Finally, the students agreed to a 2.61 of the study, and the open house policy was changed to start in early February. A small minority were opposed to any extension of the partial hours and another small minority felt that the open house should be for seven days a week, 24 hours a day. A committee was formed to draw a map of the residence halls and are asked to behave and dress accordingly.

Humanities House Proposes Policy

Included in the number of candidates for vice president which was left vacant last year was Edward Cashin, who is the 5th, witnessed a clean slate of students cast their support for Piazza won—with a shout of a landslide—victory over Steve Harrison and Gene Stoffel. 454 students at the Varsity Club came very close to upsetting Sal. The Problem In Presidio

The problem is not so cut and dry as it seems to be.

The city of Presidio is a small town with a population of 5,000. It has been experiencing a decline in population and a rise in crime rates. The town is facing financial difficulties and is struggling to provide basic services to its residents.

The town council has proposed a new budget that includes cuts to police and fire services, which is causing concern among residents. Many feel that the town is not doing enough to ensure their safety.

Some residents have called for a recall election to remove the current council members and replace them with more effective leaders. Others have suggested increasing taxes to fund needed services. The issue is complex and requires careful consideration.

Down By The Riverside

Dear Editor,

I write to you today to express my concern about the recent incident that occurred in the river area. As a resident of the area, I have noticed an increase in littering and pollution. The river is an important part of our community and it is important that we work together to keep it clean.

Sincerely,

AFC Academic Freedom Committee

The Academic Freedom Committee is holding a meeting today to discuss recent issues related to free speech on campus. The meeting will begin at 2pm in the Common Room and will be open to all students.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to request that the college publish a list of all professors who have been censured or had their privileges revoked. This information is important for students to know in order to make informed decisions about which classes to take.

Sincerely,

Foy and Goldman Discuss Athletics

The Academic Policy Committee has been working on a new policy regarding athletics. The committee is concerned about the lack of transparency in the selection process for student athletes.

Thoughts on Pacifism

by Vincent Begley

Although I shouldn't really be "wasting" space on this assignment, I think it will be a pretty interesting exercise for everyone. A lot of my family members are definitely going to find it instructive. I have already started to work on the piece. I am hoping that I will be able to finish it before class begins. I think that it will be helpful to have this assignment. It will give me a chance to think about the issues that are currently facing us.

The City of Light

by Brendan McDevitt

The story opens with a description of the city of Paris, France. The buildings are tall and majestic, and the streets are wide and clean. The air is fresh and crisp, and the sun shines bright and golden. The people are dressed in elegant clothes, and they speak in a soft, melodic language. It is a city of beauty and grace, and it is a city of wonder.

Marist Bank

by Kenny McPherson

Marist Bank is located in the heart of the city, and it is a beautiful building. The facade is made of marble, and it is topped with a statue of a lion. The interior is spacious and well-lit, with large windows that offer a view of the streets below. The bank is open from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and it offers a wide range of services, including checking and savings accounts, loans, and investments.

Contradiction Resides in Cafeteria

by G. Stearns

The cafeteria at Marist College is located in the basement of the main building. It is a large, open space with a high ceiling and large windows. The food is good, but it is expensive. The students often have to choose between eating at the cafeteria and skipping meals. There is a sense of contradiction here, as the students are both attracted to the food and repulsed by the cost.

Campus Theft

From:

Dear Sir:

Almost a month ago I attended a basketball game. A week later I noticed my wallet was missing from my coat pocket, and the next day I discovered my student card was missing from my wallet. It's now clear that my wallet, and any contents, were stolen.

Sincerely,

Campus Theft

From:

Dear Sir:

I have just read the letter of Mr. Deucher, and I must say that I find it offensive and disrespectful. His statement that Mr. Deucher was unfounded is not true. Mr. Deucher has a long history of supporting the student body, and his efforts have been commendable.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

The atmosphere of disfavor that he says prevails on campus is not based on factual evidence, but rather on the opinions of a select few. Mr. Deucher is a vocal champion of student rights, and his efforts have been undervalued by the administration.

FOXXES CONCLUDE BEST SEASON EVER

The Varsity Basketball Team has just concluded the best season in the school's history as the team posted a 17-10 record. The number of wins (17) is the most won by any Marist team in the past. It is also the first time in five years that the squad had a winning record. It is also the first time in 17 years that the squad had a winning record.

The team was made up predominantly of sophomores as only three players were seniors. Most of the time Coach Ron Petro had three or four sophomores playing.

Leading the team in scoring, there were five men in double figures, was the flashy, backcourt guard, Ken. (there were five men in double figures), was the flashy, backcourt guard, Ken! Ziel Classic and was also named the third player in Marist history to score 1,000 points.

Probably one of the biggest keys to Marist's success was Ray Charlton. Ray came in from Suffolk Community College at the mid-term break. He was a definite factor in the winning streak as he gave considerable help to Thompson in the backcourt. Ray averaged 12 points per game coming into a group of unknown players and trying to fit into new patterns and defenses. Ray did a great job heading the last 7-0 as he has the knack of hitting the right man at the right time. He also made the press work as he has quick hands and seems to always come up with the ball. His high game was against Nyack when he scored 19 points.

Freshman Joe Scott also helped out considerably. Joe was moved up from the freshman squad at the mid-season break when some of the varsity ballplayers became ineligible because of academics. Joe provided the rebounding and scoring bunch coming off the bench. There were two ballgames that he almost single-handedly won. Against Brooklyn he scored 15 points and had 15 rebounds as he cleared the boards almost every time in the second half. Against New Palz, he ignited the spark that brought Marist from 18 points behind to win the ball game. Joe had 14 points and an extremely important 18 rebounds. Still a little young, he did a great job with the varsity. He looks like a definite star for the next three years at Marist as he has a great winning attitude to go along with his constant hustle and second effort.

Among the players who were sophomores Bill Spenla, John T. Kach (Mgr.), Ass’t Coach Jim Foster.
