ATTITUDES: OUTRAGEOUS!
by Bill Rody

Tell it to the President, we don't want gag orders. Your not down too often - I know that Tim but just because no. You know what you need to do - I don't want to sound upset but I think you should be kid, you know Leonard Bernstein's Scale. You have to have a scale for everything. I'm just saying, you don't play by the rules. The rules don't change just because you are a Big Shot, you know what I mean?

by Mike Werd

It is a day of the year when I have been making my columns, I was thinking about a column on the special education classes. This week is the time when I was thinking about the special education classes that took place at the beginning of the school year. There was a demonstration coming for the classes to show how they were improving. Mr. Werd the principal was there and he was saying that there were improvements. The problem is that the school board was saying that they were going to take over the classes. The problem is that the board was saying that they were going to take over the classes. I don't think that on another day I would have been able to see the problems of the disabled. ****

For Judy
by Tom Stahl

Judy came walking in and you could tell she was tired. She ran over and said something to the desk. Then she walked back to the desk and said something to the teacher. She left. She left. She left. She left and I couldn't believe it. I thought, "What is wrong with Judy? Is she going to be okay?"

I thought, "What is wrong with Judy? Is she going to be okay?"

Just one more weekend of the semester would better the feeling. Judy came back to the room and she sat down. Then I said, "What's going on Judy? Are you okay?"

Judy came back to the room and she sat down. Then I said, "What's going on Judy? Are you okay?"

It is a day of the year when I have been making my columns, I was thinking about a column on the special education classes. This week is the time when I was thinking about the special education classes that took place at the beginning of the school year. There was a demonstration coming for the classes to show how they were improving. Mr. Werd the principal was there and he was saying that there were improvements. The problem is that the school board was saying that they were going to take over the classes. The problem is that the board was saying that they were going to take over the classes. I don't think that on another day I would have been able to see the problems of the disabled. ****

The Future Of The Draft
by Cennt W. Tier, Director of Student Services

When I went with college students to Vietnam, among the first questions they asked me was, "What is the future of the draft?"

The question is hard to answer because it is impossible to say this time to give any certain dates that can specify the end of the draft. There is no way to know if anybody wanted to go to the war for a flag of coffee. I can only tell you that, in that case, the answer may be no.

Congress is the sole authority over the draft system, and the only reason that the question is being asked is because the Selective Service System is now in office and the process of implementing it is being handled by the Selective Service Board. There is no reason to doubt that the Selective Service Board will implement the program in a way that is consistent with the Constitution and the laws of the United States.

A special commission headed by Mr. John W. Dean, Jr., and containing Mr. Alexander E. T. (June) Kunz, a former Supreme Court Justice, has determined that the Selective Service System is consistent with the Constitution and the laws of the United States. The commission has recommended that the Selective Service System be implemented as soon as possible. The Selective Service System is currently in operation in the United States.

The Selective Service System is the only system that can be implemented to provide a system that will ensure that all American citizens have equal opportunities to serve in the military.

A special commission headed by Mr. John W. Dean, Jr., and containing Mr. Alexander E. T. (June) Kunz, a former Supreme Court Justice, has determined that the Selective Service System is consistent with the Constitution and the laws of the United States. The commission has recommended that the Selective Service System be implemented as soon as possible. The Selective Service System is currently in operation in the United States.

The Selective Service System is the only system that can be implemented to provide a system that will ensure that all American citizens have equal opportunities to serve in the military.

A special commission headed by Mr. John W. Dean, Jr., and containing Mr. Alexander E. T. (June) Kunz, a former Supreme Court Justice, has determined that the Selective Service System is consistent with the Constitution and the laws of the United States. The commission has recommended that the Selective Service System be implemented as soon as possible. The Selective Service System is currently in operation in the United States.

The Selective Service System is the only system that can be implemented to provide a system that will ensure that all American citizens have equal opportunities to serve in the military.

A special commission headed by Mr. John W. Dean, Jr., and containing Mr. Alexander E. T. (June) Kunz, a former Supreme Court Justice, has determined that the Selective Service System is consistent with the Constitution and the laws of the United States. The commission has recommended that the Selective Service System be implemented as soon as possible. The Selective Service System is currently in operation in the United States.
The "Grandstand of the Year" Club might offer special prices for people who behave nicely, since the dates, there are many opportunities for young people to meet and socialize. The club offers nightclubs, dance counters, and other social activities. In addition, the club has a number of sekion, or social events, that are specifically organized for young people. These events are a great opportunity for young people to meet and socialize in a fun and relaxed environment. The "Grandstand of the Year" Club offers a variety of activities to meet the needs of young people, and it is a great place to have fun and make new friends.

The "Grandstand of the Year" Club offers a variety of activities to meet the needs of young people, and it is a great place to have fun and make new friends.
One Night

by Richard Branson

It was a dark night indeed with no moon and only the glow of a few distant torches illuminating the clouds. For me it was the perfect setting for the excitement of the hunt, a time when nothing could stand in my way of accomplishing my goal. I had decided to quiet my mind and focus solely on the task at hand, and I had brought my best weapons to ensure my success.

"Boy, am I scared. Monday, Wednesday, Friday got to...." I found myself muttering to myself as I walked through the darkness, my heart racing with anticipation. My best prescription sunglasses were crucial to my success.

The lead man and I stumbled off. We were picked up, pointed at the back of the truck and thrown back in the days when we could call it that. Mostly we were picked up and thrown into gullies that erosion had cut into the soil. Apart from the gullies, the soil had made it an impossible task to travel by cart to the village. But then another ditch. And then, looking ahead, we could see another ditch, or looking ahead, we could see a strange college dormitory room, with doors and bars. The door was locked, and the bars were about a mile from the door. I knew we were in a strange wood when we saw the three sets of the same wood, the same bar, the same door. I knew we were in a strange wood when we saw the three sets of the same wood.

I was in a kind of resigned state. I just had no choice but to go up to the reality of the present, yet to form a vision of tomorrow's world. But holding out to the possibility of the dream coming true was a vision.

Finally, I awoke in a kind of resigned state. Where was I? And then, I saw him just in time. I saw him just in time.

Chapter of Zero Population

If you care enough, maybe you can meet the Paulist challenge...

It's not easy, being a Paulist. Befittingly, this year marks the 19th anniversary of our beloved student group, which for the past 19 years has been the focus of our lives.

On December 1, 7:30 p.m., the Student Government of Marist College will sponsor a meeting in Blodgett Auditorium with the student government of the University of California at Los Angeles. The meeting is open to all students.

The goal of this meeting is to discuss the problems of our various student groups and to determine how we can work together to achieve our common goals.

Barnett To Speak At Population Meeting

On December 1, 7:30 p.m., the Student Government of Marist College will sponsor a meeting in Blodgett Auditorium with the student government of the University of California at Los Angeles. The meeting is open to all students.

The goal of this meeting is to discuss the problems of our various student groups and to determine how we can work together to achieve our common goals.

January Study-Travel Course In London

During the month of January, a group of Marist students, supervised by the Paulist Father of the month, Mr. Michael E. Hayes, will be in England traveling the English and Scottish countryside. The students will explore the history and culture of England and Scotland, with a focus on the role of religion in daily life.

The trip will include visits to historic sites such as the Tower of London, the British Museum, and the Scottish Parliament. The students will also have the opportunity to interact with local residents and gain insight into their daily lives.

Dr. Amy Meyer defended her thesis entitled "Cultural Revolution" at Columbia University. She was looking forward to the day when her work would be published and made available to the general public.

Campus Stuff

by Don Duffy

Are you kidding! The student newspaper of the Marist College Staff. They have gone to great lengths to ensure that this year will be the best yet. By setting up a "kiosk" and rustling up a group of eye-catching volunteers, they have managed to create a buzz around campus. The volunteers are tasked with distributing the newspaper to students in various locations around campus, including in the student center and in classrooms.

Along with the newspaper, the staff has also worked on creating a new website for the publication. This website will feature articles, interviews, and other content related to the news on campus.

Three Marist students were among the top 5 in their class.

Federal Student Aid Programs At Marist

Along with the continuation above, there are also a few national and state programs that can aid in the paying for college. These programs include grants, scholarships, work-study, and student loans.

Work-study is a federal program that provides students with part-time employment opportunities while attending college. This program helps students earn money to pay for their college expenses.

Scholarships are funds provided by individuals, organizations, or the government to help students pay for college. Scholarships can be awarded based on academic achievement, financial need, or other criteria.

Student loans are funds borrowed by students to help pay for college. There are different types of student loans, including federal student loans and private student loans.

The application process for federal student aid programs is multi-step and can be time-consuming. Students are encouraged to apply as early as possible to increase their chances of receiving aid.

The deadline for applying for most federal student aid programs is the start of the fall semester. Students are encouraged to apply as early as possible to increase their chances of receiving aid.

Federal student aid programs are available to eligible students.

For example, Eligibility to receive federal student aid programs is determined by the Federal Student Aid agency. Students are required to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to determine their eligibility.

The FAFSA is available online and can be completed by students and their families.

The FAFSA is a multi-step application that requires students and their families to provide information about their financial situation, including income, assets, and family size.

For more information on federal student aid programs, students are encouraged to visit the Federal Student Aid website or contact their financial aid advisor.

Travelers now available as campus reps for Garber Travel, 1406 Beacon Street, Brookline, Mass., interested students write or call (617) 734-2100 for David Trock.

Travelers now available as campus reps for Garber Travel, 1406 Beacon Street, Brookline, Mass., interested students write or call (617) 734-2100 for David Trock.
Footballers Finish Flawlessly

Farleigh Dickinson Falls Dead

The Vikings finished their third straight undefeated season Saturday by defeating Fairleigh Dickinson University by the score of 33-4. It was the first time in the history of the team that any Marist team has gone unbeaten throughout their season. Fairleigh Dickinson's mark fell to 3-3.

For eleven seniors it was their last time in a Viking uniform. Co-captains - Jack McDonnell and Dean Gestal, along with Bob Durso, Don Hinchey, Cotton Nash and Bob Durso will graduate in the spring and will be missed.

The hardest hit by graduation will be the defensive backfield. McDonnell, Rooney, and Gestal gave the Vikings three good seasons and developed into the best pass receiving duo of any team in the nation. Hinchey and Nash will also be leaving the defensive unit making it the hardest hit unit of the Vikings.

The senior unit will be without the services of Mickey Calulli and Bob Scala whose play at offensive tackle has never been lacking. Mark Kowinski and Bob Durso, who played behind their two yard line this season, gave the Vikings the best pass defense in the country runners. Mark had an incredible season and developed into the best pass defensive unit in club history. Hinchey and Nash will be missed.

Harriers Complete Season At N.A.I.A. Regions

On Saturday, Nov. 7, the cross country team travelled to Van Cortland Park to compete in the N.A.I.A. regional. This was their last meet of the season and the Harriers finished in the field of 14 schools. Patterson State won the event and thus ended a very long season. The 400 yard relay was won by New York City College and the 440 yard relay was won by Virginia Tech. The men's 1500 yard relay was won by Springfield and the women's 1500 yard relay was won by Amherst. The men's 5000 yard relay was won by the University of Oregon and the women's 5000 yard relay was won by the University of Akron.

Booters Lose To Graduation

On Friday, Nov. 6, the football team travelled to Van Cortland Park to compete in the N.A.I.A. regional. This was their last game of the season and the Booters finished in the field of 14 schools. Patterson State won the event and thus ended a very long season. The 400 yard relay was won by New York City College and the 440 yard relay was won by Virginia Tech. The men's 1500 yard relay was won by Springfield and the women's 1500 yard relay was won by Amherst. The men's 5000 yard relay was won by the University of Oregon and the women's 5000 yard relay was won by the University of Akron.
In approaching the problem of ecological destruction it is generally accepted that the most effective and important action will necessitate sweeping reform of industry. Included in the price of every new factory, of every new road and every power plant must be the price of ecology. No longer can it be ignored as in the past. However each individual must become involved in move to rescue the environment. What follows are suggestions that each person can incorporate into his daily life. Some require sacrifice, others may fit in very well with your present life style. In considering the cost to the environmental destruction these sacrifices are minimal.

Water
- put bricks in toilet tank
- don't use colored toilet tissue (dye treatment is resistant to decomposition)
- don't use garbage disposals

Food
- grow your own
- garden organically
- recycle organic garbage
- don't use persistant pesticides (DDT, dieldrin, aldrin, chlordane, lindane)
- avoid harmful additives

Solid Waste
- don't use plastic wrap
- reuse aluminum foil
- avoid paper towels
- collect and sell newspapers
- reuse paper bags and plastic bags
- don't use styrofoam cups, plates, bowls
- read newspapers in libraries
- buy second hand

Life Style
- reduce consumption
- borrow and lend
- rely on yourself, make your own, grow your own, repair your own
- economize

Population
- limit yourself to two children
- adopt

Air
- don't drive
- use public transportation
- arrange car pools
- walk
- bicycle
- get a smaller car with a smaller engine
- use less electricity
- buy few electric gadgets

Encourage voluntary birth control
Support legalized and available abortion

---

Adherholt... From 5

Hand in, the prime subject being our security system and its director, Mr. Adherholt. Before I turned the letter in, however, I decided to talk directly to Dean Wade and Mr. Adherholt. While my talk with Dean Wade was just that, a talk, my talk with Mr. Adherholt proved to be very enlightening. I found Mr. Adherholt, to my surprise, to be open minded and community minded towards Marist. As I sat there talking to him I found out a few things not too many people have heard of before. While I was there, Mr. Adherholt, upon hearing of a break and entry into a car, put an extra guard on the lower lot from 10 P.M. to 7 A.M., irregardless of his budget. While not agreeing on all points with him, I felt that he was at least concerned. He agreed with my petitioning the Student Government to form a commission to go into the security system and come up with new and better ideas. He is willing to tear down every rule and come up with something we can all agree upon. I am asking the Student Government to take action on this problem and form a commission to come up with new ideas. I, myself, am volunteering. If the Student Government passes over this, not only would they be making a mistake but they would also be neglecting their duty to do as they were elected to do, that is to govern this school and its policies.

I also learned that before one criticizes he should realize both sides of what he is criticizing before making an accusation. The Security System...? needs improvement. How? It is up to the student body how.

Sincerely,

James M. Heilmann
Class of '73

---

War... From 4

Poisoned. The rate of birth of hideously deformed babies has skyrocketed.

Fact: We live with these facts. Most of us have been able to come to terms with this country's policy of murder and devastation. We make the appropriate responses when forced, put peace signs on our cars, flash "V"s when its appropriate. But by and large, we have learned to live with the War.

As long as that is true – as long as those who oppose the American involvement in Vietnam sit quietly and let the War go on, then the Nixon administration will interpret that silence as approval, and ten years from now South Vietnam will still be a garrison state and a whole generation of Americans and Vietnamese will have forgotten what peace is like.

But what can we do? That is the question on which the Peace Movement founders. Marches are out of date; petitions a waste of time; elections don't happen very often, and besides we lose. What is left?

No one knows. The Peace Movement needs new ideas. It needs the commitment of the people who have dropped out in frustration. The War is intolerable, yet we tolerate it. We need to remind ourselves that it isn't over. It isn't over for the men who carry draft cards in their wallets, and for those who refuse them. It isn't over for the men who will go to Vietnam or who are in Vietnam, or for those they leave behind. It isn't over for the people of Vietnam, for whom the slogan "Yankee go home!" must burn in their hearts and their guts. It won't be over until the masses who organized the one-day marches and the excursions to Washington sign up for the long haul. Only the people can stop the war.

It's time. Now.

—John Kater

Lecturer, Dept. of Religious Studies

Chairman, Mid-Hudson Committee to End the War in Vietnam

---

VIKINGS TO FACE ST. JOHN'S IN BOWL GAME