Marist Student In Africa Tells Of Invasion Of Guinea

On the morning of November 23 and the evening of November 24, invasion attempts were again apparently carried out - all of which were believed to be just a last-ditch effort to retrieve the men and fallen from these just battered foreign invasion forces. After what one European eyewitness called, "fighting which lasted for two consecutive days," about 200 to 300 people were believed dead. Now in the area of an outrageous foreign invasion of another sovereign state. News of the event spread abroad in many a varied version. The truth, however, only come out when a U.N. mission sent to Guinea by the Security Council issued their findings. The earlier requests for "Tour" for armed maintenance of the building by Marist, actually blocked by the U.S.A. and Britain in the Security Council.

Nevertheless the U.N. mission reported that White Portuguese troops were the main force of the invasion and were delivered to the shores of Guinea by ships controlled by white Portuguese officers. The result of the U.N. mission was a U.N. Security Council resolution condemning the Portuguese aggression and calling on NATO to stop supplying arms to Portugal - the U.S.A. stated no votes were cast.

On December 13 a new U.N. meeting was held in Lagos to discuss the event. The U.A.A. was in full agreement with the U.N. resolution, the only difference of opinion between African states arose out of variation in aid which were offered by each country; some offering military aid (U.A.R., Nigeria, Algeria) others responding with verbal, material or financial support.

Ghana, Uganda, Somalia, Sierra Leone, Senegal, Ivory Coast, Tanzania, Dahomey - in name a few. The O.A.U. also condemned NATO members for "allowing through their complicity and assistance numerous attacks by Portugal against several African territories and states." At the present time Portuguese three colonies in Africa (Porto, Guinea, Angola, and Mozambique) and is carrying out war in all of them. U.S. arms have been found in use by Portuguese fighting African Nationalists in these three colonies. These are, altogether, eight wars within Africa in which NATO powers are involved - a ninth in Biafra ended just one year ago with over two million Nigerians left dead. The United States reaction to

Circle Interview by James Daily

FOY ON ATHLETIC COMPLEX

The questions revolving around the construction of the athletic complex are many and so I decided to present information regarding that as well as with Dr. Foy, concerning this issue. It might be interesting to note that a major fear is that the complex would cost roughly three and a half million dollars would be built from an increase in tuition. This is unfounded according to Lino Foy, the complex would be built from gift funding. The only funding that Marist has received a grant of about $200,000 from the Ford Foundation for the athletic complex. The space containment study was carried out and it is said the plans would call for a project tag of three and a half million dollars. A major problem issue under consideration at this time is the size of the building. It has been approximated that it would cost $100,000 dollars a year. This cost could possibly raise the cost of tuition by one hundred dollars a year per student.

What must be understood in that this athletic complex will not be of off-field house building on - campus that were used for the basketball and field hockey in the main campus center. The present situation right now with the athletic complex is that the buildings are in the preplanning stage. It will most likely be located on the south end of campus and would house an indoor-outdoor pool. In addition to the pool and basketball court various instructional facilities would be included.

This term the planning stage was explained by Dr. Foy is being a stage in development.

Circle Interview by John Wynne

ANDREW PAVELKO ON MAINTENANCE

The purpose of the interview is to find out how the Supervisor views the Maintenance Department.

Mr. Pavelko has been at Marist now for seven years. Prior to this he directed maintenance in New York City and for a brief time was associated with Allied Maintenance Co. at the World's Fair. He wished to get away from N.Y.C. and though there would be gratification in working at a college.

One of the things to consider to be the major problem in maintenance is:

A: Well, some of our buildings have plenty of construction costs were cut down on because of heavy maintenance cost on these buildings. But one of the things right now is that we have a heavy workload because of a lot of things undone that we are trying to do through maintenance. Part of a certain amount of...we wouldn't have that and we say it's a haphazard but some of the things that we couldn't repair are due to misshap in the dormitory.

Q: What about the heating problem - especially in Sheahan?

A: Well, there again Sheahan was the first effort that they had outside contractors do and I think that the way the building was constructed - to cost determine you. It is not what you would call the best building, the walls the climate of the building will cool down and soon the heat that stays in it is all we can do to keep up to make it comfortable. But you will find that this situation prevails mostly when we are in a temperature period of low temperature.

Q: Last year there was a proposal to put insulation on the buildings, what happened there?

A: We had a weather stripping in but most weather stripping in Sheahan that's a definite conservation and it hadn't been replaced it also.

Q: Are there any plans to put more weather stripping in Sheahan? There is a definite conservation potential through the windows.

A: We will tell you that any on the windows. When you have high windows, you can't get into the thermopane windows, you are cutting off all the heat coming in through the windows. Now, the whole idea in heating the windows.

CONT. P.4 - COL.3

New Course Dimension

High Schools Begin Draft Guidance

APPLIED TOPICS IN SCIENCE

by Philip Glennon

Titled Marist Eco Action is also sustained, demonstrating people should first work in their immediate area a group is forming to work at establishing recycling at Marist.
ATTITUDES: OUTRAGEOUS!

by Bill O'Reilly

It is always reassuring to be among people who do not understand me. Just last week one of my neighbors even wrote to his congressman saying that he could not have me as his representative. These letters were very interesting.

As a student, I always liked to consider their arguments. I have often thought that because I am not one of the many who have a highway system that runs right through their backyard, they feel they are entitled to a say in my affairs. This was the case with the Red Foxes. They knew that the best steps and actions that I could take to improve them was to move the border into Italy. After all, a few dollars in Switzerland would mean nothing to the American people. It would be an interesting experiment to see how far we could drive the Red Foxes into the surrender.

But my mother has always taught me to be as honest as possible in my satire. If I see a situation that I find sad, I try to bring it to the attention of the readers. If I see a situation that I find funny, I try to bring it to the attention of the community. If I see a situation that I find sad, I try to bring it to the attention of the community.

Such is the case with the Red Foxes. They are a sad story. They are a sad people. They are a sad life. They are a sad situation. They are a sad situation.

The Red Foxes are a story of an American city. They are a story of an American town. They are a story of an American life. They are a story of an American country. They are a story of an American world. They are a story of an American life.
African Student-Playwright

This Week: "Tour Eiffel"

By ST. GERRY

St. Gerry, a student from Uganda, West Africa, and now a student at Colgate University, is working on a play about the Tour Eiffel and its significance to the African populace.

The play will be performed in the underground theater under the Eiffel Tower, where it will be visible to the public.

"The play is a way for me to express my feelings about the Tour Eiffel and its history. I hope to make it a meaningful experience for the audience," St. Gerry stated.

The play will feature a cast of more than 50 performers, including students from Colgate University and the University of Nairobi, Kenya.

The performance will be held on the evening of March 10th at 8:00 PM. Tickets are available at the box office of the Colgate University Theater.

Chuck Here

SURVIVAL

We fail to sustain the actual case that Bill O'Reilly's articles, in fact, are more than a mere reflection of what the American public feels. It is certainly possible that Bill's columns reflect the views of a particular group of readers, but it is equally possible that the columns are simply an expression of the writer's personal biases.

We no longer attack belief or ideologies, but we do question the right of anyone to force their views upon another.

We have been in the habit of describing our articles as a way to help people think for themselves. We have been in the habit of discussing the consequences of our actions, and we have been in the habit of encouraging our readers to consider the implications of their decisions. We have been in the habit of questioning the assumptions that underlie our beliefs, and we have been in the habit of promoting a critical thinking approach to the world.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.

We are in the habit of relating our articles to the experiences of others, and we are in the habit of using our articles as a way to create a dialogue about the issues that we believe are important. We are in the habit of arguing that our articles are not mere reflections of the opinions of others, but are a way to explore the complexities of the world and to engage in a thoughtful discussion about the issues that confront us.
Applications for nomination to positions on the College Union Board of Directors may be submitted to the Campus Center Director's Office. Each applicant must read the duties of each position before filing. Application forms are available from Mrs. Minnie or the Campus Center Director. Forms must be submitted before the close of business on FEBRUARY 4, 1971.

C.U.B. ELECTIONS

Applications for nomination must be filed by 5 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 15th. Primary elections will be held on the following Wed., Feb. 17th. Active campaigning will begin on the day after filing and must be completed by 5 p.m. on the following Thursday, Feb. 18th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election. Nominated applicants must support his application by 5 p.m. on the following Thursday, Feb. 18th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election.

Positions available are the following:

1. President of the College Union
2. President of the Campus Center's Cultural Committee
3. President of the Campus Center's Lecture Committee
4. President of the Campus Center's Film Committee
5. President of the Campus Center's Student Government

Applications for nomination must be filed with the Campus Center Director or Robin, Clubhouse 100, by 5 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 15th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election. Nominated applicants must support his application by 5 p.m. on the following Thursday, Feb. 18th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election.

Elections are to take place on Thursday, Feb. 25th and the results will be announced at 2 p.m. on the first day of March.

Positions available are the following:

1. President of the College Union
2. President of the Campus Center's Cultural Committee
3. President of the Campus Center's Lecture Committee
4. President of the Campus Center's Film Committee
5. President of the Campus Center's Student Government

Applications for nomination must be filed with the Campus Center Director or Robin, Clubhouse 100, by 5 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 15th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election. Nominated applicants must support his application by 5 p.m. on the following Thursday, Feb. 18th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election.

Elections are to take place on Thursday, Feb. 25th and the results will be announced at 2 p.m. on the first day of March.

Positions available are the following:

1. President of the College Union
2. President of the Campus Center's Cultural Committee
3. President of the Campus Center's Lecture Committee
4. President of the Campus Center's Film Committee
5. President of the Campus Center's Student Government

Applications for nomination must be filed with the Campus Center Director or Robin, Clubhouse 100, by 5 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 15th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election. Nominated applicants must support his application by 5 p.m. on the following Thursday, Feb. 18th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election.

Elections are to take place on Thursday, Feb. 25th and the results will be announced at 2 p.m. on the first day of March.

Positions available are the following:

1. President of the College Union
2. President of the Campus Center's Cultural Committee
3. President of the Campus Center's Lecture Committee
4. President of the Campus Center's Film Committee
5. President of the Campus Center's Student Government

Applications for nomination must be filed with the Campus Center Director or Robin, Clubhouse 100, by 5 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 15th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election. Nominated applicants must support his application by 5 p.m. on the following Thursday, Feb. 18th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election.

Elections are to take place on Thursday, Feb. 25th and the results will be announced at 2 p.m. on the first day of March.

Positions available are the following:

1. President of the College Union
2. President of the Campus Center's Cultural Committee
3. President of the Campus Center's Lecture Committee
4. President of the Campus Center's Film Committee
5. President of the Campus Center's Student Government

Applications for nomination must be filed with the Campus Center Director or Robin, Clubhouse 100, by 5 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 15th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election. Nominated applicants must support his application by 5 p.m. on the following Thursday, Feb. 18th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election.

Elections are to take place on Thursday, Feb. 25th and the results will be announced at 2 p.m. on the first day of March.

Positions available are the following:

1. President of the College Union
2. President of the Campus Center's Cultural Committee
3. President of the Campus Center's Lecture Committee
4. President of the Campus Center's Film Committee
5. President of the Campus Center's Student Government

Applications for nomination must be filed with the Campus Center Director or Robin, Clubhouse 100, by 5 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 15th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election. Nominated applicants must support his application by 5 p.m. on the following Thursday, Feb. 18th. Each applicant must declare himself within (1) one day after filing and (2) One week before the election.

Elections are to take place on Thursday, Feb. 25th and the results will be announced at 2 p.m. on the first day of March.
Big Red At 13 - 4 Record

Two nights ago the Red Foxes traveled to Bloomfield, New Jersey, to face Manhattan College. In an important C.A.C.C. contest, the Red Foxes came away with a 13-4 victory. Bloomfield came into the game with a 17-4 mark and 5-0 in C.A.C.C. play. Up until this game Bloomfield was ranked number two in the nation in small college defense, giving up only 60.9 points a game. The Red Foxes entered the game with a 12-3 mark and 5-0 in C.A.C.C. play. Up until this game Bloomfield was ranked number two in the nation in small college offense, putting up 72.3 points a game.

The Foxes came into the game with a 13-3 mark and 5-0 in C.A.C.C. play. Up until this game Bloomfield was ranked number two in the nation in small college defense, giving up only 60.9 points a game. The Red Foxes entered the game with a 12-3 mark and 5-0 in C.A.C.C. play. Up until this game Bloomfield was ranked number two in the nation in small college offense, putting up 72.3 points a game.

The Foxes came into the game with a 13-3 mark and 5-0 in C.A.C.C. play. Up until this game Bloomfield was ranked number two in the nation in small college defense, giving up only 60.9 points a game. The Red Foxes entered the game with a 12-3 mark and 5-0 in C.A.C.C. play. Up until this game Bloomfield was ranked number two in the nation in small college offense, putting up 72.3 points a game.

Dennis, Mary!!!

Do have come a long way from last year and deserve proper recognition.

Dennis is the only known ball player to get a standing ovation for the best for last, Dennis Curtain. The infamous leader of the Raiders starter gets in foul trouble. Bob Ullrich: and replaced Clarke when he fouled out of the Monmouth game. Brian McGowen has added strength in all three positions when a

Steve every time you turn around Ray is sinking another foul shot. Ray hit up home at the foul line. It seems points and 7,000 rebounds. Sometimes I wondered if he'd ever come back. Clarke played under the shadows of Ray Charlton last year. Charlton turned in another exceptional performance, this time playing aggressive defense as well as his normal balanced offense. Scoring 17 points and holding his man, Monmouth's top scorer, to ten points, Ray contributed greatly to this team win over Monmouth College 91-85.

Carrie Bill Spenla was given an honorable mention for three fine performances. They were as follows: Monmouth - 23 pts - 14 rebounds; King's (N.Y.) - 8 pts - 7 rebounds; Nyack - 10 pts - 7 rebounds.

Due to these three impressive wins Marist has been rated ninth in the N.Y. State Weekly Poll. This is due mainly to an all around team effort.

Center Ray Manning is center. Ray is the only player in Marist Basketball history to receive this honor more than once. Ray is the leading scorer, Ray showed his all around ability by picking off 9 rebounds and by passing off for 7 assists. This win over Nyack (99-66) was important because it was a league game. In another league game against King's (N.Y.) it was Clarke who contributed to the cause with 18 points in another C.A.C.C. win (109-89).

Campus Stuff

by DON DUFFY

Nineteen Straight

Frankenmuth Coach JIM FOSTER, during a time-out- giving instructions to members of his team.**

For the second consecutive week, Junior Guard, Ray Clarke, was selected to the E.C.A.C. Team of the week (December 9). Ray is the only player in Marist Basketball history to receive this honor more than once. Also Ray jointed Clarke as one of two Marist players who have been given this honor. Only two other players, Ken Thompson (now playing for the New York Liberty) and Bill McKinistry have been selected to this team.

Ray received this honor on the basis of his fine performance last weekend, leading the team to three important wins. Against Nyack Missionary College, Ray led the scorers with 22 points although he only played a little more than half the game. Besides being leading scorer, Ray showed his all around ability by picking off 9 rebounds and by passing off for 7 assists. This win over Nyack (99-66) was important because it was a league game. In another league game against King's (N.Y.) it was Clarke who contributed to the cause with 18 points in another C.A.C.C. win (109-89).

On Saturday night, Ray turned in another exceptional performance, this time playing aggressive defense as well as his normal balanced offense. Scoring 17 points and holding his man, Monmouth's top scorer, to ten points, Ray contributed greatly to this team win over Monmouth College 91-85.

Captain Bill Spenla was given an honorable mention for three fine performances. They were as follows: Monmouth - 23 pts - 14 rebounds; King's (N.Y.) - 8 pts - 11 rebounds; Nyack - 20 pts - 7 rebounds.

Due to these three impressive wins Marist has been rated ninth in the N.Y. State Weekly Poll. This is due mainly to an all around team effort.

Center Ray Manning is center. Ray is the only player in Marist Basketball history to receive this honor more than once. Ray is the leading scorer, Ray showed his all around ability by picking off 9 rebounds and by passing off for 7 assists. This win over Nyack (99-66) was important because it was a league game. In another league game against King's (N.Y.) it was Clarke who contributed to the cause with 18 points in another C.A.C.C. win (109-89).

On Saturday night, Ray