Proposed Study Of Dutchess Jail

Douglas McHoul, the Democratic-Conservative candidate for county representative, declared that "it is our obligation to see that the residents of Dutchess County who are employed at local penal facilities are not in the same danger as the inmates of Attica were.

He has proposed the creation of a panel that would make recommendations. In downtown college center. The proposal called for two college students, one or more minority group representatives, at least twelve community leaders, the Dutchess area industrial community, a representative of the Dutchess area of the Board of Representatives and Sheriff Quinan and an aide of his. The panel would present its plans on September 22, and classes began.

In conjunction with the Roosevelt F.D.R. Symposium, which was organized by Mr. Vincent Toscas of the Dutchess County Jail, Mr. Toscas will sponsor a community panel, which will be called "the coming of the war."

In the longer term, the possibility of incorporating the concept of "human rights for prisoners" into education programs in Dutchess County, has been considered by the fourth symposium, which was organized by Mr. Vincent Toscas of the Dutchess County Jail. Due to the size of the group, the meeting was moved to a more productive one, and instead of demonstrating the group met in the F.D.R. Library. Here for the next three and a half hours many relative suggestions were made as to what must be done to bring about Prison Reform. It was suggested that the students and community are basically ignorant of today's prisons, their conditions, and the laws which govern them. The meeting was then directed to solving such problems. In conclusion, three committees were formed. The largest of the three, "the Study Committee," was formed to refine the work of the subcommittee, and to develop leadership potential for a possible loan for a new campus. The government gave $315.00 to the committee, and the group was informed of the offense charged against the accused.

"Handcuffs, chains, irons or straightjackets." They declare that no punishment should be inflicted unless the inmate has been "informed of the offense charged against him and has given a proper opportunity to present his case." They are clearly stated that untitled prisoners are "prevented from being informed and should be treated as such.

The legal status of these rules was considered by the Fourth United Nations Conference on Human Rights in 1948. The discussion then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korean. The discussion was then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korea in 1970.

On Friday, September 17th at about 1 o'clock a group of residents between 30 and 60 years old from the area just outside Champaignville, Illinois decided to demonstrate at the Dutchess County Jail. Due to the size of the group it was felt that a meeting would be more productive, and instead of demonstrating the group met in the F.D.R. Library. Here for the next three and a half hours many relative suggestions were made as to what must be done to bring about Prison Reform. It was suggested that the students and community are basically ignorant of today's prisons, their conditions, and the laws which govern them. The meeting was then directed to solving such problems. In conclusion, three committees were formed. The largest of the three, "the Study Committee," was formed to refine the work of the subcommittee, and to develop leadership potential for a possible loan for a new campus. The government gave $315.00 to the committee, and the group was informed of the offense charged against the accused.

"Handcuffs, chains, irons or straightjackets." They declare that no punishment should be inflicted unless the inmate has been "informed of the offense charged against him and has given a proper opportunity to present his case." They are clearly stated that untitled prisoners are "prevented from being informed and should be treated as such.

The legal status of these rules was considered by the Fourth United Nations Conference on Human Rights in 1948. The discussion then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korean. The discussion was then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korea in 1970.

On Friday, September 17th at about 1 o'clock a group of students between 30 and 60 years old from the area just outside Champaignville, Illinois decided to demonstrate at the Dutchess County Jail. Due to the size of the group it was felt that a meeting would be more productive, and instead of demonstrating the group met in the F.D.R. Library. Here for the next three and a half hours many relative suggestions were made as to what must be done to bring about Prison Reform. It was suggested that the students and community are basically ignorant of today's prisons, their conditions, and the laws which govern them. The meeting was then directed to solving such problems. In conclusion, three committees were formed. The largest of the three, "the Study Committee," was formed to refine the work of the subcommittee, and to develop leadership potential for a possible loan for a new campus. The government gave $315.00 to the committee, and the group was informed of the offense charged against the accused.

"Handcuffs, chains, irons or straightjackets." They declare that no punishment should be inflicted unless the inmate has been "informed of the offense charged against him and has given a proper opportunity to present his case." They are clearly stated that untitled prisoners are "prevented from being informed and should be treated as such.

The legal status of these rules was considered by the Fourth United Nations Conference on Human Rights in 1948. The discussion then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korean. The discussion was then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korea in 1970.

On Friday, September 17th at about 1 o'clock a group of students between 30 and 60 years old from the area just outside Champaignville, Illinois decided to demonstrate at the Dutchess County Jail. Due to the size of the group it was felt that a meeting would be more productive, and instead of demonstrating the group met in the F.D.R. Library. Here for the next three and a half hours many relative suggestions were made as to what must be done to bring about Prison Reform. It was suggested that the students and community are basically ignorant of today's prisons, their conditions, and the laws which govern them. The meeting was then directed to solving such problems. In conclusion, three committees were formed. The largest of the three, "the Study Committee," was formed to refine the work of the subcommittee, and to develop leadership potential for a possible loan for a new campus. The government gave $315.00 to the committee, and the group was informed of the offense charged against the accused.

"Handcuffs, chains, irons or straightjackets." They declare that no punishment should be inflicted unless the inmate has been "informed of the offense charged against him and has given a proper opportunity to present his case." They are clearly stated that untitled prisoners are "prevented from being informed and should be treated as such.

The legal status of these rules was considered by the Fourth United Nations Conference on Human Rights in 1948. The discussion then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korean. The discussion was then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korea in 1970.

On Friday, September 17th at about 1 o'clock a group of students between 30 and 60 years old from the area just outside Champaignville, Illinois decided to demonstrate at the Dutchess County Jail. Due to the size of the group it was felt that a meeting would be more productive, and instead of demonstrating the group met in the F.D.R. Library. Here for the next three and a half hours many relative suggestions were made as to what must be done to bring about Prison Reform. It was suggested that the students and community are basically ignorant of today's prisons, their conditions, and the laws which govern them. The meeting was then directed to solving such problems. In conclusion, three committees were formed. The largest of the three, "the Study Committee," was formed to refine the work of the subcommittee, and to develop leadership potential for a possible loan for a new campus. The government gave $315.00 to the committee, and the group was informed of the offense charged against the accused.

"Handcuffs, chains, irons or straightjackets." They declare that no punishment should be inflicted unless the inmate has been "informed of the offense charged against him and has given a proper opportunity to present his case." They are clearly stated that untitled prisoners are "prevented from being informed and should be treated as such.

The legal status of these rules was considered by the Fourth United Nations Conference on Human Rights in 1948. The discussion then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korean. The discussion was then turned to the prevention of crime and treatment of criminal offenders in Korea in 1970.
by Anne Trabulsi

Urgent Need For Reform

by Dennis Alwon

by Tim Walsh

Interview With Reverend Miller
By Bill Drucker

A recent Grand Jury investigation of the case of Bill Drucker revealed that the 80-year-old man was not only a prominent business leader but also a man of great compassion. When Drucker was told that he had cancer, he refused treatment and decided to use his wealth to help others. He donated a substantial portion of his fortune to charities and hospitals, and his example inspired many others to follow his lead.

Drucker's dedication to charity and his sense of responsibility were both qualities that were admired by his peers. They appreciated his generosity and his willingness to work hard to achieve his goals. Despite his advanced age, Drucker was still active and engaged in his community, and his presence was missed when he passed away.

Letters To The Editors

More Sex!

Dear Editor,

Where Would You Go If It is your first time issue, it does not take precedence to see if the person you are talking to is also interested. However, if you do find someone who is, it can be a great experience.

Sincerely,

John Doe
Dear Mr. Rockefeller

Sept. 17, 1971

Mr. Rockefeller

Dear Mr. Rockefeller,

I write to you in response to the recent incident at Attica. The people of this state have a right to know the facts in this matter, and you, sir, as chief executive have a duty to provide them. To remain silent is to give consent. You have already given your public consent to what has happened. It is the right of the residents of this state to expect, to demand, that you undertake the task of reforming this system.

Community and at the same time to discuss how their class could be adapted to the needs of the situation. In other words the process of identifying the matter of interest in a class has its basic division and is characterized formally by the establishment on campus of any clinic to aid women pregnant with an unintended child. This woman is seen by a sympathetic older woman who has felt her reality - her rightousness. that juxtaposes all distinct divisions of government - of what it's ideals as a means of killing her without any means of control except to the people. It is characterized formally by the establishment of a clinic to aid women pregnant with an unintended child. This woman is seen by a sympathetic older woman who has felt her reality - her rightousness. that juxtaposes all distinct divisions of government - of what it's ideals as a means of killing her without any means of control except to the people. It is characterized formally by the establishment of a clinic to aid women pregnant with an unintended child. This woman is seen by a sympathetic older woman who has felt her reality - her rightousness. that juxtaposes all distinct divisions of government - of what it's ideals as a means of killing her without any means of control except to the people. It is characterized formally by the establishment of a clinic to aid women pregnant with an unintended child. This woman is seen by a sympathetic older woman who has felt her reality - her rightousness. that juxtaposes all distinct divisions of government - of what it's ideals as a means of killing her without any means of control except to the people.
Boothees Upset By Sacred Heart

Marist College Soccer game, the because of penalties. Veteran game, but had two called back Murray Milligan, also had a good pressive by making 22 saves, Parcell was particularly imressive by making 22 saves, the Greyhounds from Assumption 4-0. The Viking, had a great day. Davis offense passed and ran over the offense. - -

The scoring began the first time the Vikings took possession of the ball. On the first play from scrimmage Wilkens hit Tim Murphy for a 40 yard pick-up as Murphy made a fine over the shoulder grab. From the 10 yard line Davis scammed into the end zone for the first Viking touchdown. Fred Krampe kicked the extra point as the Vikings took on an early 7-0 lead.

Two of the Sacred Heart players are well known and they proved to be the defense. Charlie Forrest, who scored three goals in one of the best scorers on the East Coast while his partner Joe Milligan, who has played on the U.S. American, has played on the U.S. Blum allowed very little yardage. The Vikings scored their final 14-0 when Tim Wilkens hit Paul Volkli from the 30. Wilkens hit Paul Volkli from the 30. Wilkens made a fine over the shoulder pass and ran over the Viking defense led by co-captain Hank Illum allowed very few touchdowns. The Vikings won on an 45 yard line. Moving down to the 15 yard line Davis had the ball and went through the Greyhounds into the end zone for his second touch­down. A Wilkens to Murphy aerial nullified. From the 23 yard line the Vikings gave the ball to Davis again and the assumption defense into the end zone. Once again his score was nullified. From the 23 yard line the Vikings gave the ball to Davis again and the assumption defense into the end zone. Once again his score was nullified. From the 23 yard line the Vikings gave the ball to Davis again and the assumption defense into the end zone. Once again his score was nullified. From the 23 yard line the Vikings gave the ball to Davis again and the assumption defense into the end zone. Once again his score was nullified. From the 23 yard line the Vikings gave the ball to Davis again and the assumption defense into the end zone. Once again his score was nullified.

Vikings Sails At Cornell

This past weekend the Vanity Sailing Team drove to Ithaca to participate in a regatta hosted by Cornell U. on Lake Kissig. Under the guidance of Coach John Heilmann, team members Cathy Richard, Joe McCann, Bill Sears, Nancy Weber and "Doc" John Dyer represented the college. Participant schools included Marist, Cornell, Hobart, and Albany State. Joe McCann sailed in B Division races, and Bill Sears sailed in A Division races.

Vikings Annihilate Assumption Waiting To Wallop Westchester

by Kevin Donnelly

The Vikings, playing under the lights for the first time on Ledonnoff Field, overwhelmed the Greyhounds from Assumption 4-0. The Viking offense looked to be in mid-season form as it scored touchdown after touchdown, in the first half. Defensively the Viking looked as strong as ever as they held the Assumption team to 26 yards through the air and minus 6 on the ground.

The only threat from Assumption came early in the first quarter. After the Greyhounds received the kickoff, Murphy ran back 50 yards before being tackled. After picking up 46 yards the Viking defense stiffened. From then on the Viking defense was in complete control.

Offensively, the Vikings could not be stopped. Led by Jim Wilkens at quarterback, the offense passed and ran over the Assumption team. Nigel Davis, starting in his first game as a Viking, had a great day. Davis scored five times throughout the game, but had two called back because of penalties. Veteran Murray Milligan, also had a good night.

Traveling Band Bows In Debut

by Marty McGowan

The traveling band went to New Haven, Conn. last Saturday to open its 1978 season against Southern Connecticut. With them to tour the rolling hills of the S.C.S.C. campus were two crewmen Mike Kelly and Bob "Creech" Creeden. Earlier in the week the senior class chose Marty McGowan and Bob Salomone as co-captains. McGowan, a transfer student, will be competing for the Marist band as well. Unfortunately the S.C.S.C. campus was too crowded to allow for much opportunity to score, and the Vikings had to settle for typical shots, due to the opposition's missteps in their own goal area. Playing well on the line was freshman Tim Trotta.

Bob Salomone was the next M.O.T.H. man. He stopped the Attacker's scoring drive as they threatened the 4 yard line. The P.A.T. was missed and the half ended with the Vikings in front 3-0.

The Vikings scored their final touchdown in the third quarter as Murray Milligan went over from the 3 and Davis converted. Davis converted to finish the scoring for evening with the Vikings leading 10-0.

This Saturday night the Vikings take on Holy Family College at Mt. Vernon to meet Westchester College. It will be the first meeting between the schools and it looks to be a great game. It also marks the beginning of league competition for both schools. who entered Metropolitan Division of the Eastern Collegiate Club Football Conference. Metropolitan set the Vikings and West­chester as the teams to beat in the Metropolitan division.

The Vikings are preparing diligently for the upcoming conference. League officials stated that this Saturday's game between the Vikings of Marist and the Vikings of Westchester is the biggest club football contest in the East this year.