New Student Gov’t Structure Subordinate to a College Council

The change in the functioning and the responsibility of the Student Government in the last three years has been very significant to say the least. No longer is the Student Government just another of the social activities at Marist College. It now takes care of all social and cultural programming for the community and even goes beyond to other areas of general college interest, namely, athletic, academic, governance, and their various structures.

One of the steps which we have taken with our Student Government this year was its apparent failure to provide a representative and centralized student voice on campus. We felt that one of the main reasons for this stemmed from the present form of representative structure on the campus. Through our discussions on this issue, it was the consensus of the Major Area Class system structure (i.e., six from the Senior Class, two from the Junior Class, etc.) to represent a large, but limited, portion of the student body. It was felt that a more efficient way of representing the student body was needed.

In working with this, and working of a proposal presented by President Ralph Cervelli, the Student Government wishes to present to the College Community a proposal for a new Student Government:

1. Membership
   • Executive Committee
   • President
   • Vice-President
   • Secretary

2. To be chosen by the Student Body through a General Election.

3. Adopted Clubs (Type of club: Business Club, Y.P.R.I.C., Accounting Club, Drama, Social Clubs, Clubs Organizations, First-Year Residential Club, Public Relations Club, Marketing Club, Accounting Club, Business

4. Communications Representative (Type of club: VCR, Circle)

5. Inter-House Council Representatives

6. Commutcr Representative

7. College Council Representatives

8. First-Year Residential Club Representative

9. Treasurer

10. Secretary

11. Budget

12. Coordination of Student Affairs

3. Provide continuity of operation

The proposal for the new Student Government has been discussed with the Student Government and the College Council. The College Council awaits the record of the faculty’s opinion on the issue of creating a permanent council and the faculty vote, add his own views to the proposal. We hope that the proposal will be accepted by the faculty, it would mean that the council composed of students would be elected to represent the students to the College Council. The vote on the said proposal will be held in the student vote, and the faculty members and staff members would serve as the representatives of the entire college community. The proposal is now being forwarded to the Board of Trustees of Marist College and to the faculty for consideration. The thirty students who were chosen by Mr. Cervelli, in such a fashion as to best represent all the groups of the College. The College Council has chosen a student by the proposal for the acceptance of the Council by the students, and a representative to the New Republic of the College. The College Council was created by President Cervelli at the request of the Executive Committee.

London Reaction

On January 4, a group of sixteen Marist students and two faculty members—Professor John Dougherty and Mr. Landau, left the U.S. for London. They were on their way to London via Laker Airlines and landed at Gatwick Airport on January 6. The trip was a reward for all the students, who had been selected from the typical classroom atmosphere of the College.

The students arrived in London at 9:30 a.m. and about to begin the day at 10:00 a.m. They were very lucky if we were to bed earlier than 1:00 a.m.

Although our stay was very long and interesting things to be seen, London was a very busy city. There were a lot of parks, churches, and green grass. It rains practically every day, and so London is a natural way of life for the British people. The main interesting things we visited were the Westminster Abbey, Windsor Castle and Hampton Court, and Oxford University, which houses the oldest college in England. Such an institution is the birthplace of William Shakespeare. The students met our stay included a visit to the British Parliament and the结束

Development Office Explored

What exactly is the Development Office? Just about every Marist student has made some direct contact with it but few really know exactly what it is.

Whether the Marist student is in the dorm or in Robinson Hall, he should be surprised to see his name, picture, and accomplishments brought out in his home-town paper.
Room Reservations: Simplified

This year's simplified method of room reservations was devised in order to avoid a rush on the first floor of the residence halls. Although the room draw was held on February 3rd, those who registered for rooms by the 1st of February will be notified of their assignment as soon as possible. However, due to the fact that all available rooms will be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis, students who did not register for rooms by the 1st of February will be assigned rooms on a first-come, first-served basis. The rooms were assigned on the basis of the date the room reservations were received, and there was a preference for those students who had already made arrangements with their home or family. A difficulty developed when several people requested the same room, thus making it necessary to cut off the reservations for that particular room. The procedures for the room assignments are as follows:

1. Students must register for rooms by the 1st of February.
2. Rooms will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis.
3. Students who did not register for rooms by the 1st of February will be assigned rooms on a first-come, first-served basis.
4. A difficulty developed when several people requested the same room.

Jottings

The present problem of the Class of '75 Student Government is non-controversial. It involves the appointment of a new director of student activities. The present director has resigned, and there is a need for a new individual to take over the responsibilities of the position. The students who are interested in this position are being encouraged to apply. The appointment will be made by the end of the month. The new director will be responsible for the planning and execution of student activities.

Modern Dance: Not For Marist

The current dance program at Marist College is undergoing changes. The dance department is exploring new avenues for dance instruction and performance. The program is expanding to include more contemporary and experimental dance forms, focusing on the integration of dance with other artistic disciplines. This shift aims to broaden student participation and enhance the educational experience. The changes are expected to take effect in the upcoming academic year.

Frosh Involvement

The present problem of the Freshman Association is the provision of activities and services for the first-year students. The Freshman Association is currently working on a proposal to provide a welcome week for the new students, involving a range of events and activities to help them integrate into campus life. The proposal includes workshops, orientation sessions, and social events. The purpose is to create a welcoming environment and foster a sense of community among the new students. The proposal is scheduled to be presented to the faculty and staff for consideration in the next few weeks.

On Student Apathy

With all the talk about the shape the college is in and the way we spend our time, it's easy to forget about the impact our actions and attitudes have on our education and the college itself. The problem is, when students don't care, it seems there are no solutions. The students are the ones who need to be the ones who care. But it's not easy. Sometimes it's hard to see the bigger picture. Sometimes it's hard to understand the questions and problems, but that's the challenge. If you don't like it, do something about it. If you want to make a difference, you have to be willing to take action. And that's what it's all about. Taking action to make things better. And that's why we're here. To help. To be a part of the solution. Not the problem. That's what it's all about. That's the Circle. That's us. That's what we do. That's why we're here. That's what matters. That's what it all comes down to. That's why we're here. That's what matters. That's what it all comes down to.

New Circle Policies

In the first issue of the Circle, we announced that the new online newspaper would feature comments, editorials, and features on a variety of topics. Since then, we've received a lot of feedback from readers, both positive and negative. We would like to thank all of our readers for their input. We have made some changes to the online newspaper in response to your feedback. We have added a new section called "Letters to the Editors" to provide a platform for readers to express their opinions. We have also added a new section called "Art, Not Trash!" to showcase the creative work of our students. We hope you enjoy the new features and we welcome your continued feedback.

Insurance Renewal

Dear Editor, We are writing to you to bring to your attention the renewal of our insurance policy. Our current policy is set to expire on February 18, 1972. As you may know, insurance policies are renewed annually and it is important to renew our policy in a timely manner. We understand the importance of having adequate insurance coverage and we have worked with our insurance provider to ensure that our policy meets our needs. We hope that you will consider supporting our efforts by helping us to renew our insurance policy. Thank you for your attention to this matter. Sincerely,
