The government has done an ...tion of the Interplanetary Research Association.

The reason the operators engage in these practices is fairly obvious. They hire a non-scheduled (supplemental) airline flight for the purpose of allowing students who are attracted by the appeal of illegal charter flights to Europe on illegal charter flights, to ...sions is a dead giveaway that the flight is an illegal charter.

In the past few years, surveillance by the CAB and legitimate air carriers has resulted in court action against charter violators. Last June, the American Society of Travel Agents obtained a Federal Court injunction which stopped 23 illegal charter flights to Europe. But before you cancel your vacation plans, on the assumption that most charters operated by U.S. and foreign-flag airlines are legitimate, and consider that you get what you pay for, usually.

Dr. Stephen Caviar, Associate Professor of Mathematics at SUNY at Buffalo, will be a Guest Lecturer at Marist College on April 17, 1972. Dr. Caviar will deliver two lectures: Impossible Constructions in Geometry at 1:30 p.m. and "Topics in Number Theory" at 8:00 p.m. Both lectures are open to the public and will be held in room 248 of the math building.

Dr. Caviar's visit is being sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America with financial support from the National Science Foundation.

This Program of Visiting Lecturers was inaugurated in 1954 to strengthen and stimulate the mathematics programs of two or four year colleges and to aid in the motivation of able college students to consider careers in mathematics and the teaching of mathematics.

Dr. Caviar studied at Swarthmore College and Duke University. He has been at SUNY at Buffalo since 1963. He was a Visiting Associate Professor at the Israeli Institute of Technology during the Spring 1973 semester.

The Harrisburg Trial

It was fitting that the trial of the Harrisburg Seven came to an end in Holy Week. Not only was it one of the most significant events of the anti-war movement, but also a major milestone in the struggle for civil rights. The trial was a testament to the courage and determination of those who had organized to resist the war and to demand justice for the poor and oppressed.

During the trial, Father John Clair Berrigan, S.J., and his brother Philip, were found guilty of conspiracy and violation of the Anti-Mobility Act. Although they were later sentenced to a total of 14 years in prison, their actions have inspired countless others to stand up against injustice.

The Berrigans were not the only ones on trial. The entire group of seven activists, including Sister Nancy, were charged and convicted. They were all part of a large network of organizations and individuals who were working to expose the war's true costs and to demand accountability for those responsible.

The Harrisburg trial was a major victory for the anti-war movement. It galvanized public support and helped to shift the political landscape. The trial also demonstrated the power of grassroots organizing and the importance of community support.

The end of the trial was marked by a sense of relief and a renewed commitment to the struggle. The activists were released from prison and returned to their communities, where they continued to work for peace and justice.

The Harrisburg trial was a turning point in the history of the anti-war movement. It was a powerful reminder of the importance of solidarity and the necessity of continuing the fight for a more just and equitable world.
The Draft
A Renewed Trickle Of Manpower

During the Easter vacation, the Marist College spring track team will open up its 1972 campaign this Wednesday, April 12, at the Amsterdam High School. The team opens against the Dutchess Community College of Poughkeepsie in a dual meet.

This will mark the first home meet of the season. Since the Dutchess team is the only other team in the area, the meet gives Marist a chance to pick up some much-needed track experience.

There will be three outdoor track meets during the season at the Dutchess Community College. The meet on Wednesday will be one of the three, and the other two will come during the spring season as they continue their training on a much colder Hudson River.

The Marist team will be stronger than they were last year due to some added running strength. Last year in many of the meets the distance events were almost evenly distributed, and the team was able to put many of the distance runners as well as some of the strongest weight men in the Marist team.

Tennis Squad
The Marist College Varsity Tennis squad will open a nine match season against Quinnipiac College on April 14 at Hamden, Conn.

Head Coach Ron Petro feels that this will be a building year for his squad, which hopes to return to the N.A.A.A. nationals.

The team opens at 1 p.m. on Saturday at the Marist College Outdoor Tennis facility, and the opening partner will be Fred Wernick, a freshman.
