During the past few weeks of February, students have demonstrated strong interest in educational administration and student personnel services. The operations of the Campus Center are managed by students, who are supervised by the director: the planning, administration, and control of the affairs and functions of the Marist College Union are vested in the Program Board, while the Policy Board establishes and enforces policies which will enhance and facilitate the functioning of the Campus Center.

Each office and chairmanship position requires a great amount of work and discipline, for each elected and appointed student on the College Union Board must assume and delegate responsibility accordingly. Every member of the C.U.B. learns the important elements necessary for the development, promotion, and execution of various cooperation programs. The educational, cultural, social, and recreation areas of the Campus Center are two personal factors which are demanded of all officers.

The future of the Privateer, the official organ of the College Union, will be in the hands of the board. This publication will serve as a forum for students to express their views and opinions regarding the safety, comfort and convenience of the Campus Center. It will also contain information about events and programs, and help to focus attention on the board's goals and objectives.

Twenty-five students including two members of the Third Year Abroad Program, apply for positions on the College Union Board. Only twelve students could be accepted to fill the vacant positions. Their names, along with a description of their involvement, are described below:

As was announced in the Circle several weeks ago, a new constitution for Student Governing has been introduced in the form of a constitutional proposal. On February 24th, the students, faculty, and the administrative representatives of the College held a meeting in the Academic Complex in order to pass initial student reaction. A meeting to discuss the constitution was then held last Tuesday, February 29th. Though it was poorly attended, the general consensus seemed to favor the proposal. The main points are outlined below.

The main organizational change to be effected will be a decrease in the power of the traditional Executive Board, and the creation of a Student Policy Board, composed of representatives from the dorms and from the commuter areas. The board will then form and coordinate student policy in all areas.

The main function of the Student Policy Board was to fund out funds to the various student organizations, which might be taken over by the Student Finance Board. With the addition of the Student Policy Board to Student Government as the top decision-making body, student organization will be more. The Executive Board has not been phased out completely, since it retains an administrative function, which is the only way as large as the Policy Board could not carry out efficiently. Another significant structural change has been the elimination of the situation in which one committee allocated Student Government funds to student organizations with no limitations on the amount or to any extent. Since Student Government officers were elected, it was felt they be allowed to allocate funds according to their personal beliefs. As such, the proposal was rejected.

However, it was decided that a club whose budget was cut would have some recourse. It was decided that the Student Finance Board should not have the final say in the matter. Therefore, the Student Policy Board will have to ratify all recommendations made by the Finance Board, which retains the power to set a budget ceiling which the Policy Board may not run over. It is hoped that, using this system, Student Government financial solvency will be assured, and no club will have its budget severely cut without reason.

In the final analysis, the constitutional proposal introduces a division of labor between Student Government that was previously unknown. The Executive Board handles administrative and ministration, and the Policy Board is responsible for financial matters. The Finance Board takes care of financial matters, and the Policy Board acts as a check on the Executive Board, and as a policy forum for students. There is only one unexplained matter: who is what. The Executive Board is composed of the traditional elected officers: the president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. The Policy Board includes the treasurer and the vice-president, two students elected at large, and one student appointed by the treasurer.

The Policy Board is quite a bit different. It is made up of members of the Student Senate, College Union Policy Board, and the Commuter Union each designate one of their members on the Policy Board.

The chairman of the Student Academic Committee and the student member of the Senate. The Commuter Union Committee are automatically made members of the Policy Board.

Eight members are elected from the commuter population to serve on the board. Finally, each house council appoints a specified number of representatives to the committees to act as liaisons between the house council and the Policy Board. Colid Floor Proposal

Seems like the second floor of Thursday will be made coed. This has been a long time coming. I'm sure that there will be no problems. The biggest problem that will arise is the need for another petticoat on the floor. So, let's get on the ball, and let's make sure that this proposal goes through. Then we can all have a good laugh. And who knows, maybe we can even get the second floor to be made coed. That would be great.

Student Government

Student Government elections will be held on Friday, March 30. The candidates are as follows: president, vice-president, treasurer, and secretary. The elections will be held in the Student Center, and all students are encouraged to vote. The winners will be announced on Monday, April 2.

Academic Affairs Committee

The new Academic Affairs Committee has been formed to address the concerns of students and faculty. The committee will meet weekly to discuss issues related to academics, such as course offerings, faculty appointments, and curriculum development. The committee is open to all students and faculty members, and meetings are open to the public. The first meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 3, at 3 PM in the Student Center. If you are interested in attending, please contact Professor Smith for more information.

Race Problems

One of the most vital and yet ignored problems here at Marist College is the recognition of race. The line between blacks and whites is not only a class issue but also a race issue. We need to ask several questions, especially if we have long believed that we have moved beyond the need for race consciousness.

Some argue that racial consciousness is an unnecessary burden on society. They believe that we should focus on other issues, like economic inequality. However, I believe that we cannot ignore the issue of race. It is a fundamental part of our identity and history, and it affects every aspect of our lives.

The fact that we have a long history of racial discrimination in the United States is evident. The teaching of race consciousness should not be avoided. It is important to acknowledge the current state of race relations and to work towards a more just future.

There are several ways to address the issue of race on campus. One way is to offer courses that focus on race and its impact on society. This would allow students to learn about the history of race relations and the current state of race relations.

Another way is to support organizations that focus on race. This includes organizations that work to combat discrimination and promote equality.

Finally, we need to be aware of our own biases and stereotypes. It is important to recognize that we all have biases and that we need to work towards overcoming them.

Act Now

For the past two years as an academic policy and symbolism, student government has been at the forefront of student concerns. We have seen a rise in the number of students enrolled in our institution, which has had a positive effect on the quality of education.

However, this increase in student enrollment has also led to a decrease in the quality of faculty. The current faculty members are not able to provide the same level of support and guidance as in the past.

In order to address this problem, we need to take action. We should consider implementing a new system for selecting faculty members, one that is more inclusive and representative of the student body.

Our goal should be to ensure that all students have access to the same level of support and guidance, regardless of their background.

S.A.C. Applications Asked

Dear Mr. Flynn:

I am writing to request your support for the Student Academic Committee (SAC). SAC is an organization that works to improve the academic experience of students here at Marist.

We have been working on several initiatives to improve the academic experience, including the development of new courses and the expansion of existing ones.

I am confident that we can make a positive impact on the academic experience of students, and I hope that you will consider supporting our efforts.

Sincerely,

Mark FitzGibbon

Presidential Letter

Dear Students:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent events that have taken place on campus. I am aware of the frustrations and concerns that have been expressed by some members of the student body.

I understand that these issues are important and that we need to address them. However, I believe that we need to work together to find solutions that are in the best interests of all students.

Thank you for your understanding and support.

Sincerely,

Fr. Leo Gallant

Three days after the cease-fire agreement in Paris, American Peace Action Coalition leaders met with Vietnamese guests in the Soviet Union to discuss their views of the situation in Vietnam. Among the Vietnamese guests were a variety of high-ranking political and military personnel from both North and South Vietnam and the announced ceasefire. The views expressed by the Vietnamese were significant inferences for the American Peace Action Coalition leaders and for the American public. This is because there is evidence that the Peace Action Coalition may have been involved in a campaign of terror against the Vietnamese people, and the issue of political interference in the Vietnamese struggle is a sensitive one. The Vietnamese now express their views of the situation in Vietnam and the announcement of a ceasefire.

The Vietnamese government have expressed their views of the situation in Vietnam. They believe that the ceasefire is only temporary and that the United States is attempting to gain a political advantage. Furthermore, they state that the United States is attempting to gain a political advantage by allowing the Vietnamese people to exercise their right to self-determination. WRESTLERS WIN

By Jim Donnelly

Last Saturday saw the Marist matmen compete in the 11th District Wrestling Tournament of the N.A.A.L.S. Other schools competing were Iona College, Fairfield University, College of Engineering, Kings College, Southhampton, and Monmouth. The first style wrestler for Marist was the "little man," Lance Brooks, who wrestled three wrestlers in his weight class and was his first match but succeeded in taking third place by forfeit. Mike Asip also took a decision loss in his first match and a win in his second match. In his first place spot in his class by winning his two matches. In the 178 lb. class, Jim Dirscherl, who had a broken nose, was one of two in his class. He was in a rear end situation as he lost a pin. The next match was a win and a split decision over his classMate. Frank Freeney wireless for the year was determined to ave this and vent out the frustrations of a first year wrestler. He decided his man quite handy. At 177 was Jim Lavery the captain of Marist College wrestling. "'Apples the folk hero who is reported to have pressed the whole school with a machine ten times.) His fantastic speed was matched with an easy decision (9-3). His record now is 10-2. In the surprise rookie of the year, Rich Beaney met a heart breaking ending as he was pinned in a tough battle but showed that he has bright futures. In the final match John Redmond in a very lighthearted weight showed the mastery he has learned in four years by pinning his man in thirty seconds. John is a study of strength and nerves and personalities as he was a hard working, talented wrestler. His record now is 17-1. Another person who had a great deal of experience was an athlete who had a great match on his last three years. He now also and great person and total athlete. Shangri-La's to him and all the wrestlers of Marist College for their fine work.

Moments in what is the Marist College Red Foxes have been going for there to be two over New Haven two weeks ago and gave Coach Ron Petro his 100th win as head coach of the Red Foxes. The game was marked with a win and a loss, a split between the two teams, but despite the hostile crowd and physical confrontions, Marist emerged as the victor, handing the Hawks 79-74. This win assured Marist to a post season bid and a chance to win the District 31 championship. Mike Hart again led Marist with his accurate left handed shot and wound up with 25 pts. and 12 rebounds. Gil Lorey's led Southhampton with 23 pts. On Tuesday the Red Foxes hosted the Hawks at New York City with a 1508 loss. Marist again jelled together and played excellent basketball, led by Jim Martell's 24 pts., Mike Hart's 20 pts., and Bob Egan's 16 points. This win assured Marist a 10-2-10. The post-season bid will be held at Bowling Green College where Iona is seeded No. 1, and holds a 9-0 record. Plattsburg is seeded No. 2 with an 11-2 record with two more games to go. Monmouth is seeded with either one of the Red Foxes and Marist is seeded with either Manhattan 12-3 or Newark High School who is seeded 11-11. The leading rebounnder was Ray Murphy with 16, Ron Glickman and Jim Dirscherl added 11 and 10, respectively. Murphys also contributed with a good hitting 0.0, while Bucky Kulinelli added 9. The second J.V. victim was New Paltz in a tough game over Lourdes last Thursday Night. The Hawks of New Paltz were within five points with seven minutes to go, but the strength of the Red Foxes proved to be too much. Marist controlled the boards 65-64, which won them the game 86-79. The leading rebounnder was Ray Murphy with 16, Ron Glickman and Jim Dirscherl added 11 and 10, respectively. Murphy also contributed with a good hitting 0.0, while Bucky Kulinelli added 9. The third and final win was an overwhelming triumph over Vassar, 111-46. They smothered Vassar in every department. The leading rebounnder was Ray Murphy with 24, Joe Nohilly with 19, Ray Murphy with 15 pts. along with 15 rebounds.

Trackmen Drop Tri-Meet To Queens And Iona

Although Marist's indoor track team may have lost against Queens and Iona College in a triangular indoor track meet at Fitzgerald Gymnasium on Saturday, the team made it's strength known and showed over in the short-four-year span of indoor track that they can be a force. The first win of the meet was Queens 46%, Iona 22, and Marist 16%. Marist was also the center of attention during the competition until the final two events had taken place. The first was the one mile relays, which Iona placed second to win up over the two runners. Marist would have won if a double-dual scoring was used. Queens was pulled off the line by a tough Bantam which was highly impressed with the team. Queens Bantam was highly impressed with the young guns and was a strong showings in the high jump, 60 yard dash, and the triple jump. It was in two of these events and the two-mile event that the Red Foxes set new school records. Mark Hettrick, voted the outstanding freshman of the meet for Marist, set a new school record in the mile, clocked a 3:47.2 time for fourth place. He later came back to post mile two in a very close race in the second mile two, a 4:27.2 time for fourth place. He broke Greg Howse's mark of 8:27.5 set in 1970. Webster ran the last leg of the Marist mile relay also.

The third and final win was an overwhelming triumph over Vassar, 111-46. They smothered Vassar in every department. The leading rebounnder was Ray Murphy with 24, Joe Nohilly with 19, Ray Murphy with 15 pts. along with 15 rebounds.

Golf

Those who are interested in trying out for the Marist College Golf Team, there will be a "very" important general meeting on Thursday, March 19, in room 106, Donnelly Hall. These interested people please come, for the meeting will be held with this semester's schedule, and post season tournaments. If you can't attend, please contact either Juan Campos, Jxt, L-226 or Mr. Vincent Toccano.
