New Proposals Follow Security Force Evaluation

Due to a recent rash of incidents on the campus, there has been a re-evaluation of priorities in involving this department.Full and part-time personnel have engaged in this reassessment. Proposed changes include the installation of better lighting, electronic equipment to screen areas such as the parking lots and bookstore, and adult supervision of the student security staff.

There have been many problems that have brought about the need for these innovations. One of these is the student security staff that is supposed to be patrolling the campus on a 24 hour basis. There is a re-examination of the qualifications of these student roles that is expected to result in a lack of prestige and respect for the position. This also causes a larger turnover, as many students earn their money for a while and then quit the position. A new proposal is also taken that is hoped to increase prestige for the security position in the future by increasing the salary process. This screening will hopefully be undertaken by a security-residence committee.

In accordance with the Academic Policy Committee's efforts to tighten the program for Marist College's academic calendar, a three-year B.A. degree program was brought on a recent meeting of the faculty. It is hoped that this will increase the prestige for the program.

The criteria to be used in selecting these students will be established by an Admissions Committee consisting of the Director of Admissions and the Director of Academic Dean and responsible for reviewing the applicants' overall qualifications.

Benefits for these veterans were not authorized until enactment of the current GI Bill on June 1, 1968. Thus, they must complete training within eight years of release or by the May 31, 1974 deadline, whichever is later. The deadline is extended for veterans interested in flight training, apprenticeship and on- job and farm cooperative training.

As winter ends and spring fills the air: another Marist basketball team makes its way into the record books and enters the yellowed pages of the record books. Looking back, we can sense the uniqueness of this season. The season was filled with ups and downs but I feel the coaches and players will look back on this one with a satisfied smile. Who expected this in the Big Four and the toughest M.I.T. big game to come? It was enough to scare the life out of a hard-core basketball fan! We thought the Marist basketball team was going to win the N.A.I.A. districts. The Kansas trip was an experience that will be difficult to forget.

To the players and the coaches, goes a well-deserved congratulations. Coach Petro has built an excellent record with real talent and dedication. The Marist basketball team is to be admired. They have shown they can win the big games in the future. Will this be the year that Marist makes it all the way to the NCAA? Although Xavier College of New Orleans did. They were provided with a unique experience that will be remembered forever. The Marist basketball team has earned the respect of everyone in the country. Several schools from the big colleges have shown that Marist is a force to be reckoned with. This dedication coupled with talent promises a bright future for the Marist basketball team.

Marist's own Big "O" hits for two.

Overall it was Marist's best showing ever in the Continental Championships and completed Marist's best indoor season ever. Coach Rich Stevens and Coach Len Ohm remarked that this would have to be considered Marist's best track performance ever in the history of the track at Marist. Not only did the Red Foxes excel in the varsity competition, but even the JV performances were good. The team showed itself ready for a fine outdoor season and over 30 showed up for the outdoor track meeting, the finest turnout in many a year for Marist.

begin immediately on plans for this spring season.

At the closing luncheon the new governor, Greg. Faulkner, of Ferndale, was announced and he made his acceptance speech as the key note speech for an all-K-club event. Former governor, George Latimer announced that he will be running for a national president at the convention in Miami Beach this August. The event was a very rewarding convention, for only the K-club members who went, but for the club as a whole and also Marist College. All those interested in joining the K-circle of Marist are invited to attend the meeting on Sunday, March 25th, 1973 at 5:00 p.m. in the cafeteria.
