Br. Tarcisius Retires; Print Shop To Close

By Rich Burke

After 21 years of printing, Brother Tarcisius has announced that the printing shop will close and that he will retire June 1, 1975. Brother Tarcisius, who runs the shop located in the north wing of the gymnasium, has been a resident of Poughkeepsie for nearly 50 years.

He arrived at St. Ann's Hermitage on March 1, 1925, and received the Holy Habit in July of that year. "On August 25, 1927, I was named assistant chef at the Provincial House; or Chip Ermish at Champagnat 721 to deliver the Bulletin of Studies newsletters," he said.

"In March, 1937, I was called in as to their grading policies in the hopes of initiating a grading system which will enable students' grades to be mailed forward home under his name. "The SAC envisions a relationship with Jim LaDota, the food committee, that will greatly help solve this situation," says Mrs. Best, "the affirmative action portion of the bill would greatly help solve this situation." After the federal law would really have an effect on the problem, she replied, "Bias is expensive. Employers have proved eager to comply with the law for this reason."

When President Ford vetoed the bill on Oct. 29, he said the bill "would be an act of faith in the American people and if it serves the needs of our nation's handicapped citizens."

Marist Diners Surveyed By Food Committee Reps

By Donna Corrado

Recently, the food committee had given a survey to the Marist community that proved more successful than in the past. Out of 190 surveys given, 126 students responded to the committee's request.

The first survey of the fall semester failed when 95 surveys distributed and only 21 replied. "The complaint of the committee headed by Mike Carney was that the committee acts on behalf of the students and can only function with concrete examples pointed out by the surveys and personal opinions of students."

"I am helping the committee to collect reliable data on the students' opinion of the meals served, Mike Carney and the committee have given topics to interview with students by going room to room."

According to Mike Carney, the committee "is to voluntarily become a relay between students and Saga. It is also the intent to keep students content and happy."

Concerned students should contact either Marie Donovan, also of the SAC, at Gregory House; or Chip Ermish at Champagnat 721 in regard to presenting further ideas or comments on their efforts. The SAC to Evaluate Grading Policies

In an effort to evaluate Marist's grading policies, Chip Ermish, representative to the Student Academic Committee, inquired of twenty-two other colleges as to their grading policies.

The survey was conducted among students from upper New York State and Long Island, and the following results:

1. Are mid-term grades given to the students of sophomores? Yes; Yes, 14, No 7; No, 12.
2. Are grades mailed home to the parents of freshmen? Yes; No, 16.
3. Are grades mailed home to the parents of sophomores? Yes; Yes, 14, No 7.
4. Are grades mailed home to the parents of juniors and seniors? Parent, Student 17; Both, 1.
5. Are the final grades mailed home to the students? Parent, Student 7; Student 13; Both, 6.
6. Are the final grades mailed home to the parents of freshmen? Yes; Yes, 7; No, 15.
7. Are the final grades mailed home to the parents of sophomores? Yes; Yes, 14, No 7.
8. Are the final grades mailed home to the parents of juniors and seniors? Parent, Student 17; Both, 1.
9. Are the final grades mailed home to the parents of freshmen? Yes; Yes, 7; No, 15.
10. Are the final grades mailed home to the parents of sophomores? No; No, 16.
11. Are the final grades mailed home to the parents of juniors and seniors? Parent, Student 17; Both, 1.
12. Are the final grades mailed home to the students? Parent, Student 7; Student 13; Both, 6.
Marist To Hold Festival

By Jerry Profilo

The New York State Drama Festival will be held at the College Theatre this weekend November 16th through 18th. The festival is sponsored by the County Players, who are also sponsoring the first weekend of the college's annual two-night festival consisting of two days and ten nights of plays. Each play will have fifteen to twenty performances at 7:30 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. After each performance, critics and audience members will have an opportunity to give their reaction and appreciation of the performances. The festival is a meeting of the Marist Regional Theatre Guilds who wish to participate in the festival. There is an entrance fee of $1.50 per person. The festival will be held at the College Theatre. The last night of the festival will be November 18th.

In the festival, there will be twenty different theater units participating in fifteen different plays. For any detail about the theater units and the Campus Center or call 297-3901.

Calendrier Of Events

For the events of the 11-10-74 to the 11-14-74.

Christmas tree and a group of three other students. The students' tasks included setting up the stage and lighting the tree. The festival will be held at the College Theatre and will be open to all members of the Marist community. The festival will be held on November 16th through 18th. After each performance, critics and the audience members will have an opportunity to give their reaction and appreciation of the performances.

The Festival will be held at the Marist College. The festival will consist of two days and two nights of plays. Each play will have fifteen to twenty performances at 7:30 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. After each performance, critics and audience members will have an opportunity to give their reaction and appreciation of the performances. The festival is a meeting of the Marist Regional Theatre Guilds who wish to participate in the festival. There is an entrance fee of $1.50 per person. The festival will be held at the College Theatre. The last night of the festival will be November 18th.

In the festival, there will be twenty different theater units participating in fifteen different plays. For any detail about the theater units and the Campus Center or call 297-3901.

The Festival will be held at the Marist College. The festival will consist of two days and two nights of plays. Each play will have fifteen to twenty performances at 7:30 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. After each performance, critics and audience members will have an opportunity to give their reaction and appreciation of the performances. The festival is a meeting of the Marist Regional Theatre Guilds who wish to participate in the festival. There is an entrance fee of $1.50 per person. The festival will be held at the College Theatre. The last night of the festival will be November 18th.

In the festival, there will be twenty different theater units participating in fifteen different plays. For any detail about the theater units and the Campus Center or call 297-3901.

Comission To Celebrate Revolution

By Chip Keenan

From 1973 to 1983, The People's Bicentennial Commission sponsored a number of events celebrating the bicentennial of the American Revolution. The commission's goal was to encourage all Americans to celebrate the bicentennial by participating in a series of programs and events. The commission was headquartered in Washington, D.C., and was directed by Dr. William F. Simons, the commission's executive director. The commission's mission was to "provide a sense of national identity and purpose for Americans in the 1980s." The commission was composed of a group of distinguished scholars and experts on American history, politics, and culture. The commission's goals included creating a sense of national pride and unity, promoting a greater understanding of American history, and encouraging people to participate in local events and celebrations. The commission's activities included producing educational materials, organizing events, and coordinating with local communities and organizations. The commission's work was supported by grants from the U.S. government and private foundations.

In another incident, members of the commission were arrested in the bay of the People's Revolution. The commission's work was supported by grants from the U.S. government and private foundations.

The commission's activities included producing educational materials, organizing events, and coordinating with local communities and organizations. The commission's work was supported by grants from the U.S. government and private foundations.

The commission's activities included producing educational materials, organizing events, and coordinating with local communities and organizations. The commission's work was supported by grants from the U.S. government and private foundations.
Dear Editors,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the students who participated in the survey "High on Sports" conducted by the "Marist Times". I am grateful for the cooperation of all those who were involved in the survey.

Sincerely,
[Name]

At Marist, I would like to make a point about participation in extracurricular activities. It is crucial to make sure that all students are invited to participate and that no one is left out.

Budget Questions

For one, the Marist College news must have itself a plan for the future, but not without a proper budget. We have a plan to fulfill the needs of the students and to provide them with the necessary resources.

Sports Errors

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the students who participated in the survey "High on Sports" conducted by the "Marist Times". I am grateful for the cooperation of all those who were involved in the survey.

Sincerely,
[Name]

France a la Giscard: A New Leaf (Part 2)

By Panico Greg

But as in so many cases, political parties need not be appalled. Even when President Giscard's first act was to appoint women to high-level posts, the real change was yet to come. The traditional French political system, with its emphasis on personal relationships and informal networks, has been slow to adapt to new circumstances. The new president has promised reforms, but how effective will they be?

The celebrated polytechnic school was founded in 1819. The famous polytechnics, founded throughout the French republic, have been a symbol of excellence in education and research. They have produced many of the most important scientists and engineers in France. The new president has promised reforms to make the polytechnics more accessible to all students, regardless of their background. How effective will these reforms be?

Wives and Men: The Struggle for Equality

By Marceu Desille

In February, at a meeting called "Feminism and the Media: The Role of Women and Men in the Media," in Paris, France, the following points were discussed:

- The media play a crucial role in shaping public opinion and influencing political decisions.
- Women are often portrayed in a negative light, while men are given more favorable coverage.
- The media's portrayal of women can have a significant impact on their self-esteem and self-efficacy.

The following actions were recommended:

- Increased representation of women in media positions
- More positive portrayals of women in media content
- Increased awareness of media bias

The meeting was attended by a diverse group of scholars and activists, including feminists, media professionals, and government officials. The discussions were lively and productive, and the participants were committed to working towards positive change.

The meeting was sponsored by the French Government and the Organization for Women's Rights. The organizers were pleased with the turnout and the quality of the discussions, and they hope to continue this work in the future.
Commentary

By Gregory Cozenfeld

One American holiday I didn't miss was Thanksgiving. It's a day to say thank you. I arrived in England November 10, which takes place November 11. The ceremony takes place at the Royal Hospital Chelsea, and the occasion is the Remembrance Sunday ceremony. The service begins at 11 a.m. in the Royal Hospital's chapel. The service is attended by the British government and members of the British armed forces. The ceremony honors those who served in the British armed forces and those who lost their lives in the war. The service is attended by the British government and members of the British armed forces. The ceremony honors those who served in the British armed forces and those who lost their lives in the war.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.

In spite of the fact that Tennyson and England speak the same language, there are some differences in the way they express themselves. In England, it is more common to say "Happy Birthday" than "Happy Anniversary." In America, it is more common to say "Happy Anniversary" than "Happy Birthday." This is because in America, people tend to focus more on the date of their birth, while in England, they tend to focus more on the date of their wedding.
The Marist College sailing team held the 12 annual Frostbite Regatta, Saturday, November 16. There was a constant wind and a strong current throughout the race which kept the competition tough. In the end, Southampton placed first with 12 points and Westchester, which kept the competition strong throughout the season is 8-1. Their only setback was a 22-13 decision to St. John's last Saturday to determine the ECCVC championship. The loss left Marist with a 6-4 record, the other defeat on the non-conference slate an 8-7 loss to Western Michigan University.

The dreams of a national championship were shattered in the 17-4 loss to Westco, in which Marist committed several key mistakes that cut short their comeback attempt after the visitors had taken an early 7-0 lead. Both the offensive and defensive lines failed to contain Westco and bracket Ed Frey, skipper in this division. Frey was the low point leader in the “A” division. Tom Frey skippered and Peggy Madden crewed to take first place in the “B” division. Frey was the low point skipper in this division.

The Vikings to the Westco one-yard line, only to fumble on the next play. Westchester also took Marist's spot in the Schoeller Bowl last Saturday to determine the five-team loop. Returning from last year's team, takes over the starting five are forwards senior Jarvis Crosby and linemen Steve Harr and Steve Livingston. Fullback William Brown of King's was the other selection.

The loss left Marist with a 6-2 record, the other defeat on the non-conference slate an 8-7 loss to Western Michigan University.

The American College Football Association recognized the Marist College 1-3-1 offensive attack for its accuracy shooting. Off the bench will be junior Brian Murphy, a strong offensive game from short range. Grisella, the team's top scorer a year ago, has been limited in practice due to academic considerations and may not be used regularly in the early going.

Sailing Takes Second

By Tom McTeman

With hopes to erase some of the disappointment of the crucial loss to Westchester Community two weeks ago, the Marist Vikings will host the third annual Empire State Bowl Saturday, facing Pace in what is billed as the New York College Football Championship.

The dreams of a national championship were shattered in the 17-4 loss to Westco, in which Marist committed several key mistakes that cut short their comeback attempt after the visitors had taken an early 7-0 lead. Both the offensive and defensive lines failed to contain Westco and bracket Ed Frey, skipper in this division. Frey was the low point leader in the “A” division. Tom Frey skippered and Peggy Madden crewed to take first place in the “B” division. Frey was the low point skipper in this division.

This was the second straight year McGraw, only a sophomore, has been employed as the point guard in the Marist 1-4-1 offensive attack, while Kane is noted for his accurate shooting. Off the bench will be junior Brian Murphy, a strong offensive game from short range. Grisella, the team's top scorer a year ago, has been limited in practice due to academic considerations and may not be used regularly in the early going.

The American College Football Association recognized the Marist College 1-3-1 offensive attack for its accuracy shooting. Off the bench will be junior Brian Murphy, a strong offensive game from short range. Grisella, the team's top scorer a year ago, has been limited in practice due to academic considerations and may not be used regularly in the early going.

With three starters among seven players returning a fourth moving up to the coaching staff, the Marist basketball team is preparing for the current season with a strong desire to improve on last year's 9-16 record. In the CACC, MIAC, to receive a bid for the NCAA Division III post-season tournament.

The Red Foxes open their 1974-75 season at Iona next Saturday, Nov. 30. The first game for the Marist fans will be Tuesday, Dec. 4 against Kings in Dutchess Community College, where Marist will play all 11 of its home games on the 26-game schedule. Returning from last year's starting five are forwards senior Joe Girrassla and junior Ray Murphy and senior guard Allen Fairhurst. Murphy, a strong rebounder and Fairhurst, a fine playmaker, are both expected to play plenty of playing time. Girrassla, the team's top scorer a year ago, has been limited in practice due to academic considerations and may not be used regularly in the early going.

The loss left Marist with a 6-2 record, the other defeat on the non-conference slate an 8-7 loss to Western Michigan University.

The American College Football Association recognized the Marist College 1-3-1 offensive attack for its accuracy shooting. Off the bench will be junior Brian Murphy, a strong offensive game from short range. Grisella, the team's top scorer a year ago, has been limited in practice due to academic considerations and may not be used regularly in the early going.

The loss left Marist with a 6-2 record, the other defeat on the non-conference slate an 8-7 loss to Western Michigan University.