Evaluation Received Warmly by House Members

By Brian Morris

Both Gregory and Benoit Houses were recently evaluated and the finished report has been for the most part warmly received by members and leaders of the respective houses. One of the more notable assertions contained in the report is that there is a "racist campus" on the Marist campus.

The evaluation committee, composed of members of the Inter-House Council, acknowledged in their report that one of their prime goals was to "demystify the reputations of Gregory and Benoit. The committee reported, for example, that "strong feeling" that the campus at large is under the mistaken impression that "all the black students, black faculty and black administrators come from Benoit, and that only 25 people live in Benoit. The overall black population, as composition below the Orientalist, would have recognized the point, the committee cited statistical evidence to show that Benoit is viewed as a "Black House." The committee stated that "there is a desire to end this and the fact that only black students apply to live there ... may be more the fault of the campus at large, than the fault of the black student residents of Benoit."

In the case of Benoit the committee recommended that no student be allowed to live in the House more than two years, advised Benoit to do more to end the myths that have been built about the House and suggested too, that the House form itself as a coordinating center for the Racial Benoit to take steps to end the confusion between the Gregory and the Black Student Union.

As for Gregory House the committee reiterated the recommendation of a two year residency, or "readjustment.

New Staff Named

On Monday February 11, the present editorial staff of the CIRCLE announced that Lyn Osborne and Gregory Conocchioli will be the new co-editors of the Marist College newspaper. The two new editors have been actively involved with the CIRCLE in a variety of ways and offer the paper a very different point of view.

The new turnover will be effective with the next issue of the paper.

During the past year, Mr. Osborne, as CIRCLE's layout editor and reporter has been instrumental in giving the CIRCLE a very positive sense of identity. Both Lyn and current CIRCLE editor Anne Trabulsi have been responsible for creating the masthead and overall look of the newspaper. Lyn's work has been widely praised for the professional and high quality appearance of the paper.

As a feature reporter, Mr. Osborne has been responsible for presenting issues of distinct social concern. It is this area that Lyn feels is essential to a college newspaper. It is the area he hopes to be able to continue to develop in the future.

Mr. Conocchioli has been the most active member of the CIRCLE staff, working with many other Marist groups. He is an important member of both the Inter-House Committee and the Marist College College Council.

As the co-editor Greg will find himself responsible for the coordination of a cohesive weekly, along with presenting a variety of stories and features. He has been working hard to bring to the CIRCLE the same quality of reporting and feature articles that he has worked to bring to the CIRCLE.
Students React to New Schedule

To New Schedule

by Debody Nykahl

The Regents today announced that the student at the State University College at New Paltz has submitted the revised schedule for the fall semester. According to the proposal, the schedule is virtually impossible to make. The student said that the revised schedule would be difficult to understand and that the students would be unable to make their way around the campus.

The student said that the revised schedule would be difficult to understand and that the students would be unable to make their way around the campus. The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

"If we do this, we will have to create a new schedule," the student said. "But if we do not, the students will not be able to function properly." The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

The student said that the revised schedule would be difficult to understand and that the students would be unable to make their way around the campus. The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

"If we do this, we will have to create a new schedule," the student said. "But if we do not, the students will not be able to function properly." The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

The student said that the revised schedule would be difficult to understand and that the students would be unable to make their way around the campus. The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

"If we do this, we will have to create a new schedule," the student said. "But if we do not, the students will not be able to function properly." The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

The student said that the revised schedule would be difficult to understand and that the students would be unable to make their way around the campus. The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

"If we do this, we will have to create a new schedule," the student said. "But if we do not, the students will not be able to function properly." The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

The student said that the revised schedule would be difficult to understand and that the students would be unable to make their way around the campus. The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

"If we do this, we will have to create a new schedule," the student said. "But if we do not, the students will not be able to function properly." The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

The student said that the revised schedule would be difficult to understand and that the students would be unable to make their way around the campus. The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.

"If we do this, we will have to create a new schedule," the student said. "But if we do not, the students will not be able to function properly." The student also expressed concern about the lack of appropriate transportation for students who live far from the campus.
Letters To The Editor

Racism And Culture

The Editor

To the Editor:

I have perused a number of books and articles and have come across a problem that has always been on my mind. I have read many articles on this subject, but I have not found a solution that completely satisfies me. It seems to me that the problem is not just a matter of understanding the culture, but also of accepting it. Many people seem to have a problem with this, and I am not sure if this is because they do not understand the culture or if they are just not willing to accept it.

Sincerely,
[Name]

compromising the "quality" of our education as gleaned from this production of the paper including: news, features, sports, hours of 7:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m.

Sprague, John T. Clancy, Debby Nykiel, Charles DePercin, John Carverby

High Caliber?

Dave Pristash

The Marist College CIRCLE is the weekly newspaper of the students of Marist College. It provides news, features, and sports coverage of the college and its events. The paper is edited by students and is published every week.

Voluntary Plan Finds Commuters Hopeful

By Elizabeth Spire

Students are hopeful that the voluntary plan for purchasing gasoline will help them meet the rising costs of gasoline. The plan, which is voluntary, allows students to purchase gasoline at a lower price by purchasing subscriptions to the plan. This plan is particularly helpful for students who commute to school and need to purchase gasoline on a regular basis.

Checking Big Banks

By Ralph Smith

WASHINGTON — "The Bank Book." It is one of the most important books ever written about the banking industry. This book is one of the most important books ever written about the banking industry. It is an excellent guide to understanding the workings of the banking industry and is highly recommended for anyone interested in the banking industry.

Is That All There Is?

By Joanne McDougall

It seems like only yesterday that I was finishing up my last assignment for the semester. Now, with the semester over, I find myself looking back on the past few months and wondering where the time went. It seems like only yesterday that I was finishing up my last assignment for the semester. Now, with the semester over, I find myself looking back on the past few months and wondering where the time went.

The Marist College CIRCLE is the weekly newspaper of the students of Marist College. It provides news, features, and sports coverage of the college and its events. The paper is edited by students and is published every week.

The Editor

The editorial page of the CIRCLE is the place where editors and writers express their opinions on a variety of topics. The page features editorials, columns, and letters to the editor. The page is an important part of the newspaper and is used to encourage reader participation and to provide a forum for discussion.
Shout It Softly

By F.R. Lecourant

This article is about one high school drop-out. I found myself at the University of Detroit, and St. University, Boston College, my junior year. Yet today, I have give thanks to books. (It's one Marist teacher who heard this school dropout. I humbly share it)

For the record I was a French teacher, but I had already been every year. I taught French to two biology classes, and taught French to two French classes, and I taught French to two English classes, and taught French to two Marist College's C.C. I studied the four different generations, and I met with generations. Something happened that year. I was able to share my thoughts with generations. I was able to teach French to generations. I was able to teach French to French classes. I was able to teach French to English classes. I was able to teach French to Marist College's C.C. I studied the four different generations.

Two Generations Of Brubeck

By John Taylor Casey

This is the 29th and early post-war generation. This group has been almost from the beginning of the war. We are today with the follow-up stories about the Brubecks. The Brubecks are the most interesting group of people in the world. They are the people who are perfectly normal, but not perfectly normal. One reason for this is that the Brubecks are probably the most normal people on the planet. People have been telling me about the Brubecks for years, and I have been telling people about the Brubecks for years.

Marist Travels To See “Lorelei”

By Bob Ross

On Friday, February 14th, 1974, a group of students at Marist College visited the Lorelei in Germany. The group was led by Dr. Malcolm X. The students were on a tour of the Lorelei, which was located in Bavaria, Germany. The Lorelei is a large rock formation that rises above the Rhine River. The group was able to see the Lorelei up close and take many pictures of the site.

Third Year View

By Bob Nelson

One of the main reasons why I came to Germany, and more specifically to the Lorelei, is that I was interested in the Lorelei. I was interested in the Lorelei because it is a very beautiful place. I was interested in the Lorelei because it is a very interesting place. I was interested in the Lorelei because it is a very important place.

Affairs Committee Examines Report On Athletic Future

By Brooke Ripley & Robert Creedon

Sports play an important part in the educational experience of college students. For many students, sports are an important part of their college experience. In fact, sports can be a very enjoyable and rewarding part of college life. In this article, we will examine the role of sports in college education and the impact of sports on the college experience.

Marist College Wrestling team boosted its record to 8-5 with a win over Siena College on February 14th. The win was the second straight for the Marist College Wrestling team, which is currently ranked 17th in the nation. The team is off to a good start this season and is looking to continue its winning streak in the coming weeks. The team's next match is scheduled for February 21st against St. Peter's College.
Committee Looks At Marist Sports Future

The Student Affairs Committee at the request of the Dean of Studies has been reviewing a substantial report from the Athletics Department concerning future directions of College programming in the area of physical recreation and athletics. A copy of the full report is available in the Middle States Committee. Copies of which are in the library.

The development of the report grew out of a recognition that the athletic program had attained goals established approximately ten years ago (namely, sound intramural program). Any action, program, or major change in our athletic program now will have its greatest impact in future years. Thus, we must formulate our present athletic programs now to fulfill future needs of the Marist community.

For a large portion of the Marist community, the athletic program and the future of athletics is an issue of little concern. Who cares? What difference does it make? Can the athletic program really have that much impact upon the Marist community? To answer these questions, to inform the community of the advantages and disadvantages of the various policies, and to, in general, develop wide spread Community interest in the athletic program will be the goal of the Student Affairs Committee.

This committee will hold a series of open forums to inform the community of the issues and to provide an opportunity for open discussion of the pros and cons of each issue. We will then attempt to survey the community to determine its opinions and desires in regard to the future of athletics at Marist. This is not a trivial undertaking. This is not a trivial undertaking.

We take time to analyze our position, our goals, and our future in order to determine the role that athletics will play in our future. Any action, program, or major change in our athletic program now will have its greatest impact in future years. Thus, we must formulate our present athletic programs and facilities to fulfill future needs of the Marist community.

Ten years ago, after collecting two straight wrestling wins, the Marist College grapplers went down to defeat when Hunter College beat us. It was another coasting loss. But tonight we defeated Hunter College and turned the tables.

Ten years ago - After collecting two straight wrestling wins, the Marist College grapplers went down to defeat when Hunter College beat us. It was another coasting loss. But tonight we defeated Hunter College and turned the tables.

The CIRCLE editorial staff is in need of someone to fill the position of sports editor. The 1974-75 academic year, this person must have the ability to compile the sports section in a manner that will represent all members of the community. The position requires that the person have good writing and researching skills. The position will be open until filled.

The CIRCLE editorial staff is in need of someone to fill the position of sports editor. The 1974-75 academic year, this person must have the ability to compile the sports section in a manner that will represent all members of the community. The position requires that the person have good writing and researching skills. The position will be open until filled.

Marist Sunk By Stonehill

Marist dropped another close one to Stonehill on Saturday, by a closing score of 49-47. With only three seconds left to play, Stonehill's Chris Civale hit to come within three of the lead. The play was set up when Stonehill fouled Marist twice in the closing seconds of the game. Marist failed to gain anything from the two 1-1 attempts, but Stonehill scored after both misses. The game was close the entire way. It was due to the tempo set by Marist. Coach Bob Petito told the Marist defense, Coach Petro employed his strategy of keeping the ball in the backcourt. In the first half, Stonehill had trouble adjusting to the pace of the game and Marist carried a five point lead into the second half. In the second half, Stonehill made the necessary adjustments and the contest turned into a seesaw battle with neither team leading for very long.

Allan Fairhurst and Joe Cirasella led the Marist attack. Cirasella scored eight of his points in the second half. Marist moved into the bounce situation at the line with 7:41 to go for six points in four 1-1 shots. Overall, the Marist offense was five for five at the line in the second half or 61 percent while the formation was two for seven. All other departments were about even.

With 15 seconds left in the game the score was 47-45. When Stonehill missed a free throw the lead was 47-45. With 1:15 seconds to go, Stonehill missed the ball across court. Cirasella had been called for a foul. On the rebound, Cirasella fouled an opponent. With 15 seconds left in the game the score was 47-45. When Stonehill missed a free throw the lead was 47-45. With 1:15 seconds to go, Stonehill missed the ball across court. Cirasella had been called for a foul. On the rebound, Cirasella fouled an opponent.

Help Wanted

The CIRCLE editorial staff is in need of someone to fill the position of sports editor. The 1974-75 academic year, this person must have the ability to compile the sports section in a manner that will represent all members of the community. The position requires that the person have good writing and researching skills. The position will be open until filled.

The CIRCLE editorial staff is in need of someone to fill the position of sports editor. The 1974-75 academic year, this person must have the ability to compile the sports section in a manner that will represent all members of the community. The position requires that the person have good writing and researching skills. The position will be open until filled.

Meet Your Friends At The CHEESE N' WINE SHOP

The new Mall In Hyde Park (Route 9 - Next to Roosevelt Home) Largest Selection of Fresh International Cheeses Wine Accessories Ethnic Foods & Spices Fresh Ethnic Breads...

Meet Your Friends At The CHEESE N' WINE SHOP

The new Mall In Hyde Park (Route 9 - Next to Roosevelt Home) Largest Selection of Fresh International Cheeses Wine Accessories Ethnic Foods & Spices Fresh Ethnic Breads...

Meet Your Friends At The CHEESE N' WINE SHOP

The new Mall In Hyde Park (Route 9 - Next to Roosevelt Home) Largest Selection of Fresh International Cheeses Wine Accessories Ethnic Foods & Spices Fresh Ethnic Breads...