Student Government Elections Today

By Cathie Russo

Promoting student reaction seemed to be one of the main goals of this year's Student Government candidates. If the April 16 College Jamboree in the New Dining Room was a forerunner of things to come, then this year's slate will be a ragin'

Before student reaction was allowed for introductions and speeches by the various candidates, Brian Morris, a candidate for Student Government president, was a Sophomore. Brian has been active in Student Government while at Marist and one of the chief organizers in the March strike.

Brian also points out that he is a good listener and that he hopes to improve on the already successful Student Government program. Brian was a Sophomore when he was first elected to Student Government.

“His goals include marriage,” Student Government and also would like to see more student representatives in the Academic Affairs Committee and the Faculty Policy Committee. I am sure that both of these elements will continue to be a part of the Student Government character and are vital to the mission of a student government: constant action.”

The Modern Language Festival originated in 1964 and has been an annual event designed to broaden knowledge of foreign language and culture. The festival's primary objective is to introduce and enrich the perspectives of students through various programs in foreign language and culture.

Mr. Ernest Belanger, visiting professor at Marist, said this year’s chairman of the festival, gave credit for this year’s program to the students of the group and the many students participating in the events of the program.

Brian Morris and Rodney Lemon are both candidates for Treasurer. They are also both members of the class of ‘77.

Italy and Russia will be symphony music performed by the Marist Symphony Orchestra, presented by the Faculty Policy Committee.

Brian Morris, a candidate for president, has expressed his wish to be involved in the activities of the Student Government. He believes that the Modern Language Festival is a multi-cultural event designed to bring together students and faculty from different cultural backgrounds.

Student Task Force Formed

A Student Government Task Force has been formed to investigate into various administrative offices. The group is in charge of investigating the administrative offices to ensure that students have equal opportunities to participate in the college decision making process.

The Task Force is the result of the schedule controversy which ended after the convention on Monday March 25. After student leaders dropped their concerns that the new master schedule be revised, they decided to pursue the question of the college decision making process.

Last Tuesday, students met with President Foy and with the Task Force members to outline the Task Force's mission. Later that night, the students divided themselves up into teams of two or three people. Each team is taking a look into one major area of the college administration.

Those areas are: The office of the Dean of Special Programs, the office of the Academic Dean, the office of the Academic Affairs Committee, the office of the Academic Affairs Committee, and the Development Office.

The task force is scheduled to submit a report and recommend changes to the administration by April 27, 1974. The recommendations and proposals are then scheduled to be voted on by the appropriate academic department.

The Task Force membership consists of: Jim Elliott, Ed Kimling, Mario Lemon, Bob Sammon, Kathy Manning, Paul Pfeifer, Brian Morris, Brian Bartheld, and Anthony Bocchino.

Three students are seeking the Student Government position on the Financial Board. These are Chris Ernsh, Jay Baur, and Bob Morley.

The task force is scheduled to present its findings in the next few weeks. The final report will be submitted to the administration by April 30, 1974.

The Task Force will meet on a regular basis to discuss the findings of its investigation.

Student Government and the various class governments. Jay Baur was also active in Student Council in High School. He is a resident of Sheahan and is a member of the Sheahan House.

Bob Morley is a commuter student who has been active in the Student Government this year. He would like to see more co-sponsored activities by various campus organizations in order to minimize the financial burden placed on these organizations.

Letters To The Editor

Financial Aid

The sign 'Put God in Your Life, All Interested Men, Looking for a Change?' on the phone booth was quite eye-catching. It is a wonderful advertisement for the religious organization that displayed it. It is not surprising that many people were curious about the group's activities and decided to be involved.

Labor Party Presents Option

By Elizabeth Spyo

The opinion of the Socialist Labor Party was presented to the Marist College community. The party proclaims itself to be independent of all governing bodies, regardless of our religious heritage; or rather it proclaims itself to be, regardless of what is being done to members of our own. The party is dedicated to the principle of moral turpitude. Its purpose is to bring about an understanding of the necessity of its future. If what happens, the party will be the more successful. If what happens, the party will be the more successful.

Several weeks ago a reporter held an interview with Mr. Richard Bickley, a member of the Psychology Dept., and Dr. Daniel LaPietra, Dean of the College. The interview was held at that time for this reporter's benefit. The following is a summary of the interview.

LaPietra: "We're doing as much as we can to make the best of the situation. The students were very upset about the proposed cutbacks. They wanted to know why it had to happen. We explained that the cuts were necessary due to the financial difficulties the college is facing. The students were disappointed, but they were also grateful for our openness and willingness to communicate."

Bickley: "We're trying our best to ensure that the students are well taken care of. We understand the concern and frustration, but we're doing our best to make the best of the situation."

The situation is difficult and challenging. However, the students and faculty are united and working together to overcome these challenges. We are confident that we will emerge stronger and more resilient from this experience. Let's continue to support each other in these challenging times.

Please Vote

While the CIRCLE does not wish to endorse any of the candidates for this election, as an organization or facility, we wish to remind our readers that the students have the power to make a difference. It is critical that they exercise their right to vote and make their voices heard. It is our hope that the students will take this responsibility seriously and cast their votes in the upcoming election.

Respectfully,

Lightweight Crew Wins Impressive Double Victory

Marist lightweight varsity crew team opened its season in impressive style with a double victory, on Saturday defeating Rhode Island and on Sunday defeating Kings Point.

The lightweight eight, coached by William Lenehan and manned by Cox, William Crawford, stroked by William Shea, and manned by George Schaffer, and Bill Kelley, promised to be a strong nucleus for the eight.

On Sunday four freshmen stepped into a four and proceeded to defeat Kings Point varsity four by 39 seconds. The freshmen Pat O'Rourke, Tony Nez, David McManus, and Bill McManus took the first two events.
