No-show response for campus forum

by David Ng

No students attended the Campus Forum on September 28, which according to Antonio Perez, dean of student life, was an opportunity for students to talk with administrators on student affairs. The meeting, open to commuters and residents, was supposed to have taken place in the Browning Library at 2:00 p.m. However, several administrators arrived for the forum; Gerald Kelly and Fred Lambert, assistant deans of student life, Pat Lemann, Leo residence director, and Ron Petro, athletic director. Perez said there will be another Campus Forum later this month and will publicize it through residents, advisors and the registrar's office.

Circle reporter David Ng talks to Dean of Students, Antonio Perez and Gerry Kelly, assistant deans of students, during current forum. Wednesday. No students showed up for the meeting. (photo by Gerry McNulty)

New schedule case resurrected

By Larry Stiegel

Student leaders and members of the administration were scheduled to meet Wednesday to discuss a proposal for a new master time schedule for the fall of 1979. Members of the Student Government (SG) and the Student Academic Council (SAC) were to meet with the administration to discuss the proposals. The meeting was open to students.
Health care found adequate

By Kathy Norton

A two-room innmum and one more are the only limited medical facilities available to necessity for a resident physician. "She added Mrs. O'Connor.

Besides the lack of need for a support.

"cooperative." When he met with 21 student when he is not available the student leaders.

To negligence in overseeing how mistakes. After Kathy Norton

New master schedule proposal

By Larry Striegel

President Richard H. Ryan called for the "a drinking schedule". The students are interested in taking a class on 25 min. break"

S.G. will help pay Reynard debt

By Judy Norman

The question whether the Marist College Student Government (S.G.) will pay the entire $12,000 expense deficit for the new rooms was decided at a meeting this week. By Gary Striegel

Long hours of the in－forego are 3 a.m. to 4:30 a.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. For the office hours of the in－forego are 3 a.m. to 4:30 a.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Foy: ‘A drinking schedule’

By Larry Striegel

President Richard H. Ryan called for the "a drinking schedule". The students are interested in taking a class on 25 min. break"

New schedule has benefits

By Larry Striegel

At first glance, classes three times a day could create a lot of roadblocks. But students and faculty who have grown used to class schedules three times a day say there are several advantages. He said the schedule was designed for students who have elected to study at night.

Students get 300G

By Jimmy Perez

The student government at Marist College has decided to increase the size of the student government. The students are currently housed in a 2-story building and the new distribution would be a 3-story building.

The new S.G. meetings will be held in the new building and will be more accessible to the students. The students are excited about the new S.G. meetings and are looking forward to the changes. By Larry Striegel

By Kathy Norton

"Eventually the houses will die out. That is the other side of the coin," he said.

"Let's not dismiss"

When asked if the new schedule would be a challenge for students who are used to having parties on Tuesday nights, they are used to having parties on Tuesday nights. Bob McAndrew, one of only two former presidents, said that students are used to having parties on Tuesday nights.

R.C. absence causes chaos

By Gerry McNulty

The Research Council (R.C.) is facing a possible shutdown due to the absence of one of its members.

Although S.G. has agreed to provide a plan for the deficit of the Mariner Hotel, S.G. believes the Student Senate, which has the ultimate say in budgetary expenditures, should continue its responsibility.

"It seems to be a shame that the current student leaders cannot work out a process that will be accessible to the students," the president said.

Mountain view

By Gary Striegel

By Kathy Norton

The waiting for students from the three floors to be served is usually rapid. At the time the 21 gave Foy a "cooperative." Then Mrs. O'Connor explained there are three floors to be served. At first glance, classes three times a day could create a lot of roadblocks. But students and faculty who have grown used to class schedules three times a day say there are several advantages.

The students are interested in taking a class on “informal schedule”. By Gary Striegel

The new rooms are furnished to the students to enjoy the campus atmosphere and to learn in a more comfortable setting. The new rooms are being used by a limited number of students who are taking classes on a part-time basis.

S.G. president plans to rewrite constitution

By Larry Striegel

The S.G. president plans to rewrite the constitution in order to better represent the students. By Larry Striegel

The new rooms will be located in the new building and will be more accessible to the students. The students are excited about the new S.G. meetings and are looking forward to the changes. By Gary Striegel

Some members of the N-Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, the first of its kind on campus, are shown being pledged in the cabaret. (Photo by Paul Nazarian)

First frat members pledged

By Ralph Capone

Twenty-two students were pledged into the first fraternity at Marist College in the fall of last year. The New Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, the first of its kind on campus, is shown being pledged in the cabaret.

Marist loses court case

By Allen Jackson

The R.C. is in court over a $25,000 deficit in the School of Business. Marist will give the money to the N.Y. State Board of Labor, which has the final say in budgetary expenditures, she said.

The R.C. also lost a case in the N.Y. State Supreme Court, which has ruled that the R.C. must pay the deficit.

Students get 300G

By Jimmy Perez

The student government at Marist College has decided to increase the size of the student government. The students are currently housed in a 2-story building and the new distribution would be a 3-story building.

The new S.G. meetings will be held in the new building and will be more accessible to the students. The students are excited about the new S.G. meetings and are looking forward to the changes. By Larry Striegel

By Kathy Norton

"Eventually the houses will die out. That is the other side of the coin," he said.

"Let's not dismiss"

When asked if the new schedule would be a challenge for students who are used to having parties on Tuesday nights, they are used to having parties on Tuesday nights. Bob McAndrew, one of only two former presidents, said that students are used to having parties on Tuesday nights.

New schedule has benefits

By Larry Striegel

At first glance, classes three times a day could create a lot of roadblocks. But students and faculty who have grown used to class schedules three times a day say there are several advantages. He said the schedule was designed for students who have elected to study at night.

Students get 300G

By Jimmy Perez

The student government at Marist College has decided to increase the size of the student government. The students are currently housed in a 2-story building and the new distribution would be a 3-story building.

The new S.G. meetings will be held in the new building and will be more accessible to the students. The students are excited about the new S.G. meetings and are looking forward to the changes. By Larry Striegel

By Kathy Norton

"Eventually the houses will die out. That is the other side of the coin," he said.

"Let's not dismiss"

When asked if the new schedule would be a challenge for students who are used to having parties on Tuesday nights, they are used to having parties on Tuesday nights. Bob McAndrew, one of only two former presidents, said that students are used to having parties on Tuesday nights.

New schedule has benefits

By Larry Striegel

At first glance, classes three times a day could create a lot of roadblocks. But students and faculty who have grown used to class schedules three times a day say there are several advantages. He said the schedule was designed for students who have elected to study at night.

Students get 300G

By Jimmy Perez

The student government at Marist College has decided to increase the size of the student government. The students are currently housed in a 2-story building and the new distribution would be a 3-story building.

The new S.G. meetings will be held in the new building and will be more accessible to the students. The students are excited about the new S.G. meetings and are looking forward to the changes. By Larry Striegel

By Kathy Norton

"Eventually the houses will die out. That is the other side of the coin," he said.

"Let's not dismiss"

When asked if the new schedule would be a challenge for students who are used to having parties on Tuesday nights, they are used to having parties on Tuesday nights. Bob McAndrew, one of only two former presidents, said that students are used to having parties on Tuesday nights.

New schedule has benefits

By Larry Striegel

At first glance, classes three times a day could create a lot of roadblocks. But students and faculty who have grown used to class schedules three times a day say there are several advantages. He said the schedule was designed for students who have elected to study at night.

Students get 300G

By Jimmy Perez

The student government at Marist College has decided to increase the size of the student government. The students are currently housed in a 2-story building and the new distribution would be a 3-story building.

The new S.G. meetings will be held in the new building and will be more accessible to the students. The students are excited about the new S.G. meetings and are looking forward to the changes. By Larry Striegel

By Kathy Norton

"Eventually the houses will die out. That is the other side of the coin," he said.

"Let's not dismiss"

When asked if the new schedule would be a challenge for students who are used to having parties on Tuesday nights, they are used to having parties on Tuesday nights. Bob McAndrew, one of only two former presidents, said that students are used to having parties on Tuesday nights.

New schedule has benefits

By Larry Striegel

At first glance, classes three times a day could create a lot of roadblocks. But students and faculty who have grown used to class schedules three times a day say there are several advantages. He said the schedule was designed for students who have elected to study at night.
A timely issue

What could be the biggest issue of the year is the change in the schedule, that shoves last to first and student representative, this year it has been indicated that this schedule will probably be accepted. Student bodies who have spoken informally with The Circle seem to favor the new schedule proposal.

Tell us...

Next week will be publishing a special larger Parent’s Weekend Issue. If you have any feelings about the schedule issue write a letter to the editors and tell us why you think this change is important.

We’ll run the letters together in a different way to present your views.

Announcing...

Next Monday, April 1, 1974, the Marist College Lounge in the Campus Center will be the site of the Marist College Academic Committee’s regular and their domain floor in the Central Lounge.

Future Engineers

Dr. Warren Cerrone of the presentation will be given at the Marist College in New York City. The topic will be the potential of environmental engineers.

Booster Stickers

Marist College booster stickers will be available at the Marist College Bookstore, Department of Student Services, and at the Campus Center.

Women’s Collective Activity

The Marist College Women’s Collective will be meeting on Monday, April 1, 1974, in the Campus Center.

Viewpoint

Phil Ayers (11-120) is a native of the Marist area. He has been living in the Marist area since he was a child.

"Frankly Speaking" by Phil Ayers

"In fact, this continuous repetition is not unusual. But it has spread to infection among neighboring villages and it is still growing in this area."

Very frankly, manager of the Marist College Lounge.

Help us

In the future, we will expect comments on "Marist, meet great!". If you have any suggestions for future issues of Marist, please send them directly to the editor of this newspaper.

According to the records you know 20 yards made a goal, made 1 touchdowns and passed 2 courses!

A timely issue

What could be the biggest issue of the year is the change in the schedule, that shoves last to first and student representative, this year it has been indicated that this schedule will probably be accepted. Student bodies who have spoken informally with The Circle seem to favor the new schedule proposal.

Tell us...

Next week will be publishing a special larger Parent’s Weekend Issue. If you have any feelings about the schedule issue write a letter to the editors and tell us why you think this change is important.

We’ll run the letters together in a different way to present your views.

Announcing...

Next Monday, April 1, 1974, the Marist College Lounge in the Campus Center will be the site of the Marist College Academic Committee’s regular and their domain floor in the Central Lounge.

Future Engineers

Dr. Warren Cerrone of the presentation will be given at the Marist College in New York City. The topic will be the potential of environmental engineers.

Booster Stickers

Marist College booster stickers will be available at the Marist College Bookstore, Department of Student Services, and at the Campus Center.

Women’s Collective Activity

The Marist College Women’s Collective will be meeting on Monday, April 1, 1974, in the Campus Center.

Viewpoint

Phil Ayers (11-120) is a native of the Marist area. He has been living in the Marist area since he was a child.

"Frankly Speaking" by Phil Ayers

"In fact, this continuous repetition is not unusual. But it has spread to infection among neighboring villages and it is still growing in this area."

Very frankly, manager of the Marist College Lounge.

Help us

In the future, we will expect comments on "Marist, meet great!". If you have any suggestions for future issues of Marist, please send them directly to the editor of this newspaper.

According to the records you know 20 yards made a goal, made 1 touchdowns and passed 2 courses!
By Susan Stepper

Marist plackercz Jeff Hackett attempts the point after it was blocked and settled for a field goal with three minutes and 34 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter.

Nigaha stands, wilder Vikings

Marist rankayke Jeff Hackett attempts the point after it was blocked and settled for a field goal with three minutes and 34 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter.
By Ralph Capone

Senscant Naitsa scored two goals as Marriott whipped Maritime 3-1, at Leonoff Field Tuesday for the Red Foxes’ second straight win following a crucial 6-1 loss on a very muddy Oceonta field a week ago Wednesday.

The Red Foxes, with a little help from Maritime, drew first blood eight minutes, 59 seconds of the first half when a Maritime defender, during a scramble in front, deflected a shot from Marriott defender Russ Beckley into the Maritime goal.

Marist, playing on a dry field for the first time in two weeks, controlled the tempo in the first half, outshooting Maritime 36-28 and 28-11 overall. Marist went on to the one goal lead until 32:32 of the first half when Naitsa registered the first of his two tallies.

Julio Rosstran started the play with a right side cross that went straight to the foot of Naitsa who buried it home, for a 2-0 lead. Maritime cut the lead in half with 3:07 minutes left in the first half on a goal by Chris Johnson.

Marist added two more goals in the second 42:27 of the final half as a result of a strategy move. Coach Howard Governance inserted Gill Ventore, removed because of a re-injury to his knee earlier in the half, specifically to take a goal kick with just about two minutes left to play. Ventore got off a strong kick that Jim Downs then deflected ahead to Naitsa, who carried it by Maritime goalie Matzger.

Goldman said with the dry field, Marist was able to play their accustomed give-and-go type soccer. “On a dry field, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead,” Goldman said.

Marist player the whole match in the second. The two were previously tied in the first contest, and edged the Spikers 9-7 in the second. The winners are: Captain Phil Cotgrove, Matt Cihalley, John Blackman, Tim Buckley, Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers out of order and lost two points. Marist went on to win the third.

With the score tied at 2 games 15-11. Ms. Mullin used the same six players the whole match in 15-5-7. Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches.

Mike Laffin

The Marist women’s volleyball team defeated Concordia College 3-2 Wednesday night in the McCann Center. It was their first game ever.

“We believe it,” said a new team. They worked together and they believe it. Concordia and Marist duelled all the way, with the visitors taking the first two. Better Renata Wynke won seven points in a row to give Concordia is considered one of the better teams.”

The Red Foxes will try to make it 6-1 this Thursday by beating Naitsa to a shutout.

Mrs. Mullin used the same six players in the second game, the volleyball to win the intramural championship.

The Gregorian Chancellettes wrecked 6-4 by dropping the Gregorian Chancellettes wrecked a 3-4-1 record.

The Gregorian Chancellettes wreacked 6-2 records.

In the second 15-7. Setter Renata Wynne took the first match 15-11.

The Gregorian Chancellettes took the second 8-3 in the fourth match, the home team got a break when Concordia was called for serving out of order and lost two points. Marist went on to win the third.

With the score tied at 2 games 15-11. Ms. Mullin used the same six players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.

Mike Laffin, a junior from Wappingers Falls, Jeff Cole, Joe Ryens, Dave Merlino and Dennis O’Connor who got 22nd and were the remaining finishers for Marist in a field of approximately 50 runners.

When asked for a comment of his team’s performance, head coach Rich Stevens said, “We came in the same place last year in this same Invitational so I feel in a good position. “On a field this size, we can play wing to center, but a wet field makes you play straight ahead.”

In Memory of Goober’s Tool repeated as In the third game Concordia came back to win the second between the Coaches. Concords’ players the whole match in the third with 1-12-0.