By David Ng

Declining enrollment will force some New York colleges and universities to close in the 1980's, according to a study by the Commission on Independent Colleges and Universities, but Admissions Director James Daly says Marist College will survive. The April 1977 study, "Understanding Higher Education in New York State," said the national birth-rate decline began to drop in the 1960s and will result in fewer potential college students in the 1980s. It also stated that between 1973 and 1985 the decline in New York high school graduates will be 13 percent from 256,358 to 222,189, and will continue into the 1990s.

Daly, appointed director this summer, said Marist will survive the tight student market because of its faculty and career programs. He said the faculty is experienced and has "a solid" background. Students today are more career-oriented and Marist has made "good moves" in business, communication arts, and other programs, Daly claims.

Daly also says Marist's abroad, internship, and sports programs will help attract prospective freshmen.

However, Daly said the college, which has set freshman enrollment records for the past four consecutive years, will suffer a temporary decline in enrollment.

The number of graduates from Long Island high schools which has comprised a majority of the Marist resident population will seriously decline, said Daly. Long Island is a good student market, according to the admissions director, because it has a high-population density. Daly has a "loan area with only 13 colleges. Marist would like to be a severe drop of students from New York City, where it also has attracted a large number of students, he said, because many

By Joe Ford

Vinny Quinn, the resident advisor of the seventh floor in Champagnat Hall has been named the new resident coordinator (R.C.) for Champagnat beginning next semester, according to a job description

Quinn, a junior, was chosen from a group of four members of the Champagnat residence staff for the position. It has been vacant since last year when all R.C. positions on campus were discontinued due to what Dr. Antonio Perez, dean of students, called "financial constraints.

The job was reopened this year after students had complained of disorganization and confusion in the dorm. According to a job description for the R.C. position, some of Quinn's duties will include assisting Residence Director Fred Gainer in strengthening communication between R.A.'s and students, assisting in programming events and activities for each house, and supervising pre-arranged house daily schedules of the R.A.'s.

One problem Gainer points to is maintenance in the dorm. Some of the maintenance problems which are reported by the R.A.'s are not being satisfactorily attended to, he said, "I'd like to get together with Mr. Pavelko (maintenance director) to try to work something out," said Gainer. Quinn also acknowledged the problem and said he did not "know the particulars" about the situation.

By David Potter

Suzanne Breen, vice president of Student Government and successor to President Linus Foy, who will resign Dec. 17, says she intends to "keep up and stay on top of issues," when she becomes president, but said she didn't know what the issues would be.

Breen will take office January 23.

Breen said she had "to find out what students want," but she said "students do not care" about the issues concerning Marist.

"I'd like to leave myself with options," she said, "as honestly right now, I'm a blank."

Breen also said she doesn't believe the student participate more nor do they offer any plans for change. She said she wants to communicate better with students by utilizing the post office and dealing directly with the Circle. She suggested the use of a student government newsletter delivered by mail to students weekly.

Suzanne Breen

She also said "I am not commenting on what I am doing next semester," but added plans were being decided on.

Breen, a junior, said she wants student government to raise money by involving "other people." Antonio Perez, dean of students, said she intends to "keep up and stay on top of issues," when she becomes president.

Quinn picked as RC

By Joe Ford

Vinny Quinn, the resident advisor of the seventh floor in Champagnat Hall has been named the new resident coordinator (R.C.) for Champagnat beginning next semester, according to a job description

Quinn, a junior, was chosen from a group of four members of the Champagnat residence staff for the position. It has been vacant since last year when all R.C. positions on campus were discontinued due to what Dr. Antonio Perez, dean of students, called "financial constraints.

The job was reopened this year after students had complained of disorganization and confusion in the dorm. According to a job description for the R.C. position, some of Quinn's duties will include assisting Residence Director Fred Gainer in strengthening communication between R.A.'s and students, assisting in programming events and activities for each house, and supervising pre-arranged house daily schedules of the R.A.'s.

One problem Gainer points to is maintenance in the dorm. Some of the maintenance problems which are reported by the R.A.'s are not being satisfactorily attended to, he said, "I'd like to get together with Mr. Pavelko (maintenance director) to try to work something out," said Gainer. Quinn also acknowledged the problem and said he did not "know the particulars" about the situation.

By David Potter

Suzanne Breen, vice president of Student Government and successor to President Linus Foy, who will resign Dec. 17, says she intends to "keep up and stay on top of issues," when she becomes president, but said she didn't know what the issues would be.

Breen will take office January 23.

Breen said she had "to find out what students want," but she said "students do not care" about the issues concerning Marist.

"I'd like to leave myself with options," she said, "as honestly right now, I'm a blank."

Breen also said she doesn't believe the student participate more nor do they offer any plans for change. She said she wants to communicate better with students by utilizing the post office and dealing directly with the Circle. She suggested the use of a student government newsletter delivered by mail to students weekly.

Suzanne Breen

She also said "I am not commenting on what I am doing next semester," but added plans were being decided on.

Breen, a junior, said she wants student government to raise money by involving "other people." Antonio Perez, dean of students, said she intends to "keep up and stay on top of issues," when she becomes president.

Quinn picked as RC

By Joe Ford

Vinny Quinn, the resident advisor of the seventh floor in Champagnat Hall has been named the new resident coordinator (R.C.) for Champagnat beginning next semester, according to a job description

Quinn, a junior, was chosen from a group of four members of the Champagnat residence staff for the position. It has been vacant since last year when all R.C. positions on campus were discontinued due to what Dr. Antonio Perez, dean of students, called "financial constraints.

The job was reopened this year after students had complained of disorganization and confusion in the dorm. According to a job description for the R.C. position, some of Quinn's duties will include assisting Residence Director Fred Gainer in strengthening communication between R.A.'s and students, assisting in programming events and activities for each house, and supervising pre-arranged house daily schedules of the R.A.'s.

One problem Gainer points to is maintenance in the dorm. Some of the maintenance problems which are reported by the R.A.'s are not being satisfactorily attended to, he said, "I'd like to get together with Mr. Pavelko (maintenance director) to try to work something out," said Gainer. Quinn also acknowledged the problem and said he did not "know the particulars" about the situation.

By David Potter

Suzanne Breen, vice president of Student Government and successor to President Linus Foy, who will resign Dec. 17, says she intends to "keep up and stay on top of issues," when she becomes president, but said she didn't know what the issues would be.

Breen will take office January 23.

Breen said she had "to find out what students want," but she said "students do not care" about the issues concerning Marist.

"I'd like to leave myself with options," she said, "as honestly right now, I'm a blank."

Breen also said she doesn't believe the student participate more nor do they offer any plans for change. She said she wants to communicate better with students by utilizing the post office and dealing directly with the Circle. She suggested the use of a student government newsletter delivered by mail to students weekly.

Suzanne Breen

She also said "I am not commenting on what I am doing next semester," but added plans were being decided on.

Breen, a junior, said she wants student government to raise money by involving "other people." Antonio Perez, dean of students, said she intends to "keep up and stay on top of issues," when she becomes president.

Quinn picked as RC

By Joe Ford

Vinny Quinn, the resident advisor of the seventh floor in Champagnat Hall has been named the new resident coordinator (R.C.) for Champagnat beginning next semester, according to a job description

Quinn, a junior, was chosen from a group of four members of the Champagnat residence staff for the position. It has been vacant since last year when all R.C. positions on campus were discontinued due to what Dr. Antonio Perez, dean of students, called "financial constraints.

The job was reopened this year after students had complained of disorganization and confusion in the dorm. According to a job description for the R.C. position, some of Quinn's duties will include assisting Residence Director Fred Gainer in strengthening communication between R.A.'s and students, assisting in programming events and activities for each house, and supervising pre-arranged house daily schedules of the R.A.'s.

One problem Gainer points to is maintenance in the dorm. Some of the maintenance problems which are reported by the R.A.'s are not being satisfactorily attended to, he said, "I'd like to get together with Mr. Pavelko (maintenance director) to try to work something out," said Gainer. Quinn also acknowledged the problem and said he did not "know the particulars" about the situation.
Nominees for Who's Who selected

By Pat Labich

Eighteen Marist College seniors have been nominated to "Who's Who in America's Universities and Colleges" by a committee of Marist faculty, leadership, and students.

A committee of eight members, under the chairmanship of Lambert, met recently to choose the 18 candidates. Lambert said the committee was composed of faculty, students, and administrative staff of the college.

The 18 nominees were selected from a list of 30 students proposed for inclusion in "Who's Who in America's Universities and Colleges" by a committee was Lambert. He said the students had been selected from a list of approximately 50 students based on their academic and civic achievements.

The 18 nominees were chosen from the following departments: Accounting, Business Administration, Communications, Economics, English, History, Mathematics, Philosophy, Psychology, Business, Business Administration, Communications, Economics, English, History, Mathematics, Philosophy, Psychology, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Computer Science.

He said the committee was composed of faculty, students, and administrative staff of the college.

The 18 nominees were selected from a list of 30 students proposed for inclusion in "Who's Who in America's Universities and Colleges" by a committee was Lambert. He said the students had been selected from a list of approximately 50 students based on their academic and civic achievements.

The 18 nominees were chosen from the following departments: Accounting, Business Administration, Communications, Economics, English, History, Mathematics, Philosophy, Psychology, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Computer Science.

"Who's Who in America's Universities and Colleges" is a directory of outstanding students in the United States. The directory is published annually and contains information on more than 200,000 students from approximately 2,000 colleges and universities across the country.

Each year, nominees are selected based on their academic achievements and civic activities. The directory includes information on students' academic majors, extracurricular activities, and community service.

The directory is used by colleges, universities, and businesses to identify outstanding students for potential employment opportunities. It is also used by potential employers to identify students with strong academic and civic backgrounds.

The directory is available for purchase online and through subscription services. It is also available in print form and in digital formats such as PDF and e-book.

The directory is produced by The Marquis Who's Who Publishing Company, which is based in New York City. The company is a leading publisher of directories of outstanding individuals in various fields, including business, academia, healthcare, and the arts.

The directory is used by colleges, universities, and businesses to identify outstanding students for potential employment opportunities. It is also used by potential employers to identify students with strong academic and civic backgrounds.

The directory is available for purchase online and through subscription services. It is also available in print form and in digital formats such as PDF and e-book.

The directory is produced by The Marquis Who's Who Publishing Company, which is based in New York City. The company is a leading publisher of directories of outstanding individuals in various fields, including business, academia, healthcare, and the arts.
Caring about other things

When more than half of every student here has been alerted to wanting people laugh through the course of basketball, you get into talking about other things that are happening on campus. Same is true in terms of the students who are not on campus. It’s not unusual to watch the Dolphins and Colts behind their respective games Monday night above the halls of the Globetrotters performance at the McClean Center.

Neil, who was once a 35-year-old but later admits to being 35, gets home to his wife Rose and his five daughters. He was born in New York City, at the Triboro, and for the Trotters, are on the road between October 21 and April 10 and in training for most of the summer. Neil has been out of the round world for over a year now and has been very serious about basketball while he tries the organization of his life as a single, but has developed his own style. Called the King of Basketball, Neil is about to have a new chance to show the fans what he can do.

Thank you

There comes a time when all hopes aren’t lost, when there’s no more waiting around outside the window and give up, but somebody still pulls you out of your difficulties. With the help of others, we can get ahead out all right - Larry Striegel.

Larry is that lazy fellow who would work 24 hours a day has the man time has put the best possible Circuit. The semester is closing in a close and so is Larry’s career at Marist. He has been ac-

Christmas thoughts

Many of you will go home over vacation, plan on being back in school early, drink spiked eggnog, bargain prices, getting juiced on New Year’s in the morning on a cold, snowy night. Watch the Peanuts special for the sixth time, and for the sixth time broadly smile when Charlie Brown’s Alley cat, Snoopy.

Lil’s philosophy of Christmas and compare it with yours.

Frankly speaking... by Phil Frank

I CERTAINLY APPRECIATE THIS CHANCE TO DISCUSS THE PROBLEMS I'M HAVING WITH MY ANTHROPOLOGY COURSE, PROFESSOR...
Letters

from page four

in the deviltry every week. These things and objects may appear trivial, but they do add up. Furthermore, there will still be a personal gain, regardless of your concern for the cleanliness of our environment. I for one will be reviewing more frequently over the next few years. Therefore, I would like to see those of you who have constructive complaints and objections. If the Print Committee is to do its job, we do need your help and participation. Thank you.

The Print Committee

False accusations

To the Editors:

has no facts to base his accusations on. Not once has he been in my house. We have unity as a family and are not willing to be divided, I need your help and support. The next house meeting, next Wednesday, will be a permanent suggestion for those of you who signed by 23 residents of Gregory Hall. I am working on making improvements in our living areas, and I hope you will help me do so. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Cecil Walker, Resident Advisor

Hartwick swimmers

Dunk Red Foxes, 63-39

by Craig Lynn

We went to the McCann Center last Thursday night to support our men's swimming team in their meet against Van Wagner. Hartwick has been in a bit of a slump this season and the game was expected to be a close one. But tonight, the Red Foxes put on a show.

Coach Stevens believes the team has developed a strong swimming ability and that the team will be ready for any competition.

In the 200-yard freestyle, Van Wagner's Tyler Barton doubled in the 50- and 100-meter freestyle events. The team also set records in the 100 and 200 freestyle relays.

The team is ranked in the top half of the nation, and Stevens believes the Red Foxes have a reasonable chance to win another conference championship.

The team will be in the thick of things when they host Manhattan on Tuesday at 7 p.m.

WINE & LIQUOR

STORE

Bend, 1977

Page 6

WINE

GINS

BOU R BON

60°

WINE

VALUE

IMPORTED LIQUORS OR GERMAN TABLE WINE

YOUR CHOICE

ONLY 99!

Dale's Office

If you are planning to host a special event or celebration, you may want to consider these prices.

Thursday

8th December

Mass will be held at 12:00 p.m.

The Peace Corps is alive and well and needs volunteers for you.

All you need to do is to sign up for the Peace Corps. It's easy.

To the Editors:

I am writing this letter to you to express my concern about the lack of concern for student affairs on campus. We have several incidents, which were reported on campus. However, there was apathy on campus. When asked about the small number of students who vote, Blanchard replied, "Obviously we haven't seen much of a problem." When asked about the SG, Blanchard said, "The SG was the most popular political group on campus." When asked about the lack of communication, Blanchard said, "I don't think there is any lack of communication."

However, the Print Committee is reviewing the SG's decision and will provide the students with a report on their findings.

Marist to survive

by Marist student

The basketball team is doing well this season, and the coaches believe that the team has a good chance to make it to the tournament. The team has several freshmen performing well, and they are expected to continue their success.

Lack of communication

by Marist student

The basketball team is doing well this season, and the coaches believe that the team has a good chance to make it to the tournament. The team has several freshmen performing well, and they are expected to continue their success.

Lack of communication

by Marist student

The basketball team is doing well this season, and the coaches believe that the team has a good chance to make it to the tournament. The team has several freshmen performing well, and they are expected to continue their success.

Lack of communication

by Marist student

The basketball team is doing well this season, and the coaches believe that the team has a good chance to make it to the tournament. The team has several freshmen performing well, and they are expected to continue their success.
Z. Naitza named to 2nd team

By John Mayer

The Marist women's basketball team, winner of a 60-59 contest Saturday against the City College of New York, will face what could be its toughest challenge of the season Friday at the McCann Center at 8 p.m.

Marist's Lina Marano, the second leading scorer in the game, will face another first half. Miler Elleen Carey added 16, second for the first. Mariano, a senior, had 12 of her team's 59 points in the first half. Fatty Elleen Carey added 16, second for the first half.

Marvill built a 24-10 lead with just over two minutes gone by in the game, but City College came back led by CCNY's Andrea Clarke, who had six points in a two-minute span. The score remained close for the rest of the half, with the lead changing hands nine times. The teams went to the halves at 37-32 at halftime.

The score remained close during the second half as the Red Foxes tried to catch Montclair. Petro said the turning point for the Indians occurred with about four minutes remaining in second half when sophomore John Hennard, Montclair's leading scorer, made a three-point play to put the Red Foxes in the lead. Despite the loss, Red Foxes scored in double figures, including senior Neil Lajemison, who had 13 and pulled down 12 rebounds. Rich Crump scored 10 points, Hirschman went 5-for-5 in the second half to compile 13 points. Hirschman scored 11.

The team was scheduled to open Monday in its first real home at the McCann Center Wednesday against Hartwick, and will travel to the Max Ziel Classic Friday. It will play at Owego on Saturday and at Kings杀手 on Sunday. The Red Foxes will be back at the McCann Center next week, on Dec. 15, and 16, for the Alumni Christmas Tournament and December 20 vs. Manhattan.

Men lose opener to Montclair

Ron Clarke was given the Most Valuable Player Award by the Marist Football Club at the team's annual awards dinner tonight at The Last Chance Saloon in Poughkeepsie.

Bob Danielle and Kevin Rolletter were named the Marist Men's Athletes of the Week for the week ending Dec. 5.

Marist Athlete of the Week for the week ending Dec. 5.

Carey Named Athlete of the Week

Eileen Carey, a freshman from Stony Point, N.Y., has been named the Marist College Athlete of the Week for the week ending Dec. 3.

Carey scored 20 points in the women's basketball team's opener against Mount St. Mary's and was the second leading scorer in the game's 60-59 victory over CCNY on Saturday. Carey, at 5-4, is only the second woman to be named Athlete of the Week.

Crew Captains Elected

Seniors Mike Davis and Jack Boyle and juniors Bo Mason, and Tim Clifford were elected co-captains of the Marist crew for the 1978 spring season at a meeting last Friday in the Tishman Center.

According to head coach Gary Caldwell the team voted to train in Florida during the spring vacation but will have to raise $5,000 to do so. It will be decided if the team will try to round up the money through a mailing list and a Montclair Night at the Last Chance Saloon on Dec. 21.

He said the team may train at the Florida Institute of Technology if the money is raised.

Petro Will Seek Height

One of the hallmarks of a winning program in college athletics is the amount of recruiting which brings in prospects in year out and in.

Petro, who coaches the basketball coach, had a pretty good year last year - with the aid of three scholarships - but will have to go through the process again this year.

Petro says he has not started yet but he and assistant coach Bob Hildreth will begin their recruiting efforts.

He will again have the scholarships to lure good players to Marist and says he probably will be looking for a tall player - around 6-6 or 6-7 - to replace senior Neil Lajemison. He said he'd like to be able to have a player who can handle himself around the boards, like Lajemison, who already has a few prep players in mind to fill the tall order.

INTRAMURAL ROUNDUP

Before talking about lacrosse, I have to name the winners of the Intramural Tourney. The first held this year, Stephen VanKleen was the winner while Rich Grump, last year's winner, came in second. Jim Sweeney of the soccer team came in third. There were no women participants. Sorry I didn't have this in last week's paper.

“Expected a tough game, and I think we did an excellent job against Eileen Witt. 'The girls didn't give up when they were behind, and I think that's a good sign. For the record - Marist commit ed 25 turnovers, but had six steals. The team shot 24 for 51 (47 percent) from the floor, 13 of 25 from the line. Its regular season record now stands at 2-0.

...The Red Foxes were scheduled to host Mount Saint Vincent Wednesday. Sugar Smacks

So far the West Point team, which calls itself "The Sugar Smacks", hasn't lost a game. The team defeated Army 75-74 at West Point and Cortland and Fordham by margins of nine points.

Marist head coach Eileen Witt said the Smacks are very "aggressive" and don't make mistakes. She said their team will have to run and try to play it in its two games so far. She said her team is trying to get to a certain point, called a "call a light game" because of the aggressiveness, but she's not especially worried about the boards.

Claude named grid MVP

Mike Teitelbaum went 6-for-15. Teitelbaum is writing a George Plimpton-type story about training with the man's basketball team. He played three times during the season and got mention, I want to express sincere appreciation: More than I have in most classes.

To these, Dec. 26 - Men's basketball, Marist vs. Hartwick, 22-20.

Men lose opener to Montclair

Ron Clarke was given the Most Valuable Player Award by the Marist Football Club at the team's annual awards dinner tonight at The Last Chance Saloon in Poughkeepsie.

Bob Danielle and Kevin Rolletter were named the Marist Men's Athletes of the Week for the week ending Dec. 5.

Marist Athlete of the Week for the week ending Dec. 5.

Carey Named Athlete of the Week

Eileen Carey, a freshman from Stony Point, N.Y., has been named the Marist College Athlete of the Week for the week ending Dec. 3.

Carey scored 20 points in the women's basketball team's opener against Mount St. Mary's and was the second leading scorer in the game's 60-59 victory over CCNY on Saturday. Carey, at 5-4, is only the second woman to be named Athlete of the Week.

Crew Captains Elected

Seniors Mike Davis and Jack Boyle and juniors Bo Mason, and Tim Clifford were elected co-captains of the Marist crew for the 1978 spring season at a meeting last Friday in the Tishman Center.

According to head coach Gary Caldwell the team voted to train in Florida during the spring vacation but will have to raise $5,000 to do so. It will be decided if the team will try to round up the money through a mailing list and a Montclair Night at the Last Chance Saloon on Dec. 21.

He said the team may train at the Florida Institute of Technology if the money is raised.

Petro Will Seek Height

One of the hallmarks of a winning program in college athletics is the amount of recruiting which brings in prospects in year out and in.

Petro, who coaches the basketball coach, had a pretty good year last year - with the aid of three scholarships - but will have to go through the process again this year.

Petro says he has not started yet but he and assistant coach Bob Hildreth will begin their recruiting efforts.

He will again have the scholarships to lure good players to Marist and says he probably will be looking for a tall player - around 6-6 or 6-7 - to replace senior Neil Lajemison. He said he'd like to be able to have a player who can handle himself around the boards, like Lajemison, who already has a few prep players in mind to fill the tall order.

INTRAMURAL ROUNDUP

Before talking about lacrosse, I have to name the winners of the Intramural Tourney. The first held this year, Stephen VanKleen was the winner while Rich Grump, last year's winner, came in second. Jim Sweeney of the soccer team came in third. There were no women participants. Sorry I didn't have this in last week's paper.

“Expected a tough game, and I think we did an excellent job against Eileen Witt. 'The girls didn't give up when they were behind, and I think that's a good sign. For the record - Marist commit ed 25 turnovers, but had six steals. The team shot 24 for 51 (47 percent) from the floor, 13 of 25 from the line. Its regular season record now stands at 2-0.

...The Red Foxes were scheduled to host Mount Saint Vincent Wednesday. Sugar Smacks

So far the West Point team, which calls itself "The Sugar Smacks", hasn't lost a game. The team defeated Army 75-74 at West Point and Cortland and Fordham by margins of nine points.

Marist head coach Eileen Witt said the Smacks are very "aggressive" and don't make mistakes. She said their team will have to run and try to play it in its two games so far. She said her team is trying to get to a certain point, called a "call a light game" because of the aggressiveness, but she's not especially worried about the boards.

Claude named grid MVP

Mike Teitelbaum went 6-for-15. Teitelbaum is writing a George Plimpton-type story about training with the man's basketball team. He played three times during the season and got mention, I want to express sincere appreciation: More than I have in most classes.

To these, Dec. 26 - Men's basketball, Marist vs. Hartwick, 22-20.