Unbinding housing agreement replaced

By David Potter

The Marist College Residential Objective, designed to replace the present housing contract in an attempt to make Marist's housing agreement legally binding, is unnecessary, according to Attorney Jerard Hankin.

The present housing agreement is not legally binding because its terms are not specific enough, and in some cases, choteau, said Chris Falle, chairman of the Systems Evaluation Committee responsible for drafting the Residential Objective, a general statement of principles.

The Residential Objective is to be used in conjunction with the student handbook to replace the present housing agreement, said Falle.

New York State's code for schools, colleges, and universities, article 100.5 states a college or other educational institution has the right and responsibility under regulations for the maintenance of public order on college campuses and other college property used for educational programs and provides a program for the enforcement thereof.

In addition, "penalties for violations of such rules and regulations must be clearly set forth and must include provisions for the ejection of a violater from such campus and property and, in the case of a student or faculty violater, his suspension, expulsion or other appropriate disciplinary action," in order for a housing agreement to be legally binding.

Hankin said the signing of the general housing agreement by students was unnecessary because students would be bound to the rules and regulations specifically, providing they were reasonable, found the student handbook upon entering the school. An associate of Hankin's said the statement of principles was "a piece of toilet paper."

The handbook is in the process of being rewritten by an ad-hoc committee consisting of three faculty members, three interhouse council members, three student government members, two administrative assistants, the Residence Director, according to Fred Lambert, assistant dean of students.

The statement of principles was approved by Champagnat, Leo and Shenian Halls, but received objections from Gregory House, said Falle. Gregory House believed specific housing regulations should determine the general principles, which was contrary to the SDC's method. Gregory also objected to the procedure used to pass the statement in Leo and Champagnat Halls. The statement of principles was presented to the Leo and Champagnat Hall student bodies because "that is what leaders are for, to give direction to the people they represent."

More NYS tuition assistance

By Beth Weaver

Students can receive more money from the state next year if Governor Hugh Carey's proposal to increase tuition assistance is passed by the legislature, according to Gerald Kelly, director of financial aid.

Kelly said Carey's Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) proposal provides for a $300 "across the board" increase for next year's freshmen, transfer students, and sophomores who are New York residents. This would raise the maximum TAP awards to $1800.

He also said "as of last Thursday we received assurance that Carey's $300 increase would go through."

Assemblyman Melvin Miller, of Brooklyn, also has proposed an increase in TAP awards, which recommends a gradual and proportional increase. Kelly explained under Miller's plan state resident Tuition Assistance Awards would receive a smaller percentage of the tuition increase. According to Gerald Kelly, director of financial aid, Miller's proposal would also make the maximum award $1800.

Kelly said the state works with two budgets. The deficiency unbinding budget, which runs from 1977-1978, provides for a $100 increase for freshmen. The second, the executive budget, which is for the next year, includes: a $300 increase for 1978-79 undergraduates, a $50 increase in awards for all students which decreases at $9000 net taxable income, and an increase in the Common interest room reservations

By David Potter

The room reservation procedure at Marist is being changed to allow the "grouping of common interests," according to Peter McFadden, president of interhouse council. The new procedure was changed to allow the "grouping of common interests, and "assure a common philosophy of residence halls," "allows individuals who have money to live where they want, which is contrary to the common goals of the community," and "freshman are placed in the dorms "without reason."

The proposed room reservation procedure is being changed "to have more room reservation policy consistent with our (Marist's) overall philosophy of residence life," "to attempt to create an academic environment in residence halls by grouping common interests, and "assure a process of freshmen placement which will afford them a sense of identity."

Peter McFadden, president of interhouse council, believes the new room reservation procedure "should go through as long as it stays within limitations." McFadden believes groups should be allowed special areas as they "benefit Champagnat Hall at large." He said interhouse council will vote on the proposal.

Fire hazards exist in Donnelly, Champagnat

By Joe Ford

Fire hazards in Donnelly and Champagnat Halls reported last semester have not been corrected according to a recent inspection of buildings on campus by the Circle.

Although campus chief fire marshall, Tom Hall, said "Marist is in fire safety shape," they're trying, several fire safety violations still exist in Donnelly and Champagnat Hall. The Donnelly boiler room contains electrical hazards such as a switchbox without a cover leaving wires exposed, dry rags, oil covered pieces of insulation, and boxes of materials close to the heat element.

In Champagnat, electrical boxes on the first, second, and sixth floors have been frayed insulation and bare wires as well as a considerable accumulation of dust and papers. In Donnelly, tanks containing gases were unchained and not steadfast.

The only fire safety improvement made since last semester are fire extinguisher and fire alarms which are working in "good" order, according to Hall. Last semester hundreds of reports of half-filled or empty extinguishers in buildings on campus as well as broken bells that were improperly going off by students.

Gregory, Benno, and the library do not have a fire warning system linked to the Fairview fire department. Last semester, Director of Security Doug Waters gave no specific date for hook-up, saying "we will get it done when we can do it."

Despite the job has not been done yet, students who were out of town for the week, could not be reached for comment. Two workers that work the alarm system company which services Marist's alarms said they had no idea when the project would be started.

Resident counselor

By Gerty McNulty

A new selection process for resident advisers (RA) has been implemented by Fred Colfer, director of the Marist security and student affairs. The new directors' office is as well as a change of offices, “It is the time to start looking for people who are interested in serving as resident counselor,” said Gerty McNulty. According to McNulty, the process has been constructed in order to get people interested in the minute details and problems with teachers, and the organization wants to be open and honest with the new resident counselors.

The new resident counseling team consists of the new directors, the student affairs office, the Marist security, and the RA in Champagnat Hall, said Gerty McNulty. “I’ll like to create a counseling situation that’s free with ID,” said Gerty Colfer. The goal is to make the counseling service free to students because we are paying for it. The resident counseling team is expected to be in place by the end of the month.

Booters lose tournament in semi-finals

By Don Prudy

Marist finished third in a field of eight teams in the first indoor Soccer Tournament held at the James J. McCann Recreation Center on Sunday, Feb. 18. The best frank assessed three points, and Marist was a point ahead of Binghamton. The tournament was sponsored by the New York State Intercollegiate Soccer Association of the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America.

Allyson Fox, the Marist booters captured the tournament by defeating Binghamton 1-0 in the final game. Marist dominated the play, even against Binghamton. They scored their goal in the 61st minute. Allyson Fox was playing in his 14th game, and that was against Binghamton. The booters won the match against Binghamton, 1-0. Everyone played well, and I'm not being facetious. Zenone did well, as did Matt King. They were pleased with his team's play. I can't predict that we'll win the tournament on March 15. "This tournament was open to anyone." Men beat Trenton

By Regina Clarkin

With 2:22 remaining Mike Sheldon's 15 foot jumper snapped a tie and Marist went on to beat Trenton State 69-63 Saturday at the McCann Center.

Trenton had eight points in the first half. Trenton State put together a 14-2 streak that tied the game at 41 when each of 4:59 remaining before Sheldon hit three to break the tie.

Trenton hit 25 of 57 field goal attempts for 45 percent and was 13 of 18 from the foul line.

On Wednesday, Marist led at halftime but in the first 8 minutes Marist trailed 3-13. The Red Foxes third victory of the year against Marist was in the first half. John Boylan led Trenton with 20 points while Sheldon's 15 foot jump shot at 48 a piece with 2:11 left in the game Marist ran their lead up to 42 points.

Western Conn. was led by sisters Kathy and Mary Reilly, who combined for 39 points, and 28 rebounds.

Morrow leads in rebounds

By Regina Clarkin

Maurine Morrow has been selected as athlete of the week for the week ending February 20. The freshman from the Bronx has a team high of 162 rebounds for the season.

Morrow, who averages 12.5 rebounds a game said she was attracted to Marist because of the facility. "I liked the McCann Center, most of the other schools looked at bad old facilities." "I was always a tomboy, so basketball wasn't that hard for me to pick up." Nobody ever taught me, I never went to a camp," said Morrow.

"I could never coach a team, I don't have the patience. But I would like to continue to play basketball after I finish school," said Morrow.

The communications major who said she played on her high school team with her three sisters, never played—with her older brother.

Morrow, who has offers to play ball and attend school from Dominican College and Manhattan College decided on Marist because "I was so impressed with the coach, and it looked like she wanted a good team."

"Next year we'll be able to play tougher teams and we'll be good. We have a good team this year," said the 216 center.

The Red Foxes' season record in double figures with 18.

High scorer for the Red Foxes was Mike Sheldon who combined for 10 points, and 18 rebounds. Guard John Boylan added 12 points, center Bill DeWinn had 11 and forward Mike Sheldon scored 11. "As led at halftime, 44-32 and maintained a comfortable lead for the first ten minutes of the second half. Ramapo's full court press and numerous Marist turnovers gave Ramapo the lead.

High scorer for Ramapo was Don Cargiello who scored 28 points. He scored six of Ramapo's last eight points to make the win. Pat Morris was Ramapo's other man in double figures with 10.

"Next year we'll be able to play tougher teams and we'll be good. We have a good team this year," said the 216 center.
