There are five bedrooms—three bathrooms, a kitchen, a living room, a dining room, a den, a balcony, and a patio. “It is like home—only better.”

Murphy lives in the townhouse with nine other girls. “Although the townhouses are considered off-campus housing, they are so different from dormitories,” said Murphy. “I am living in a real house. It is just like home only better.”

Murphy said that there are five bedrooms, three bathrooms, a kitchen, a living room, a dining room, a den, a balcony, and a patio. “It is like home—only better.”

Liz calls this home. “Although the townhouses are considered on-campus housing, they are so different from dormitories,” said Murphy. “I am living in a real house. It is just like home—only better.”

The townhouses are much nicer than a dormitory room because the residents can really fix them up, and we have learned to shop at Edwards for bargains.”

Students can decorate however they want,” she said. “Producing the floats will create a lot of enthusiasm,” she said.

Enjoying the day

Freshmen candidates

Students’ doors were also burned. To prevent any similar incidents precautions are being taken, according to Waters. Student security guards will patrol the halls of Leo between midnight and 7 a.m. There will be patrols at other times, Waters added.

Waters also suggested students should be alert for anything unusual and report it to the resident staff or security immediately.

There has been competition from other students, resident assistants and residence directors,” according to Waters. “When fire alarms were sounded students got out quickly and orderly.”

Waters hopes periodic patrols, a $500 reward and increased awareness by Leo residents will act as a deterrent to similar actions. Waters also said there have been no related occurrences in any of the dorms since the fire, in Leo.

The privacy of the townhouse generates trust between all members of the housing staff or security.

“We have our own home that we can decorate however we want,” she said. Another resident, sophomore Paula Harris, who lives out in Oakwood last year, said she enjoys the townhouses much more than her room last year. “They (the townhouses) give enough seclusion from the main campus so you can have some privacy and still enjoy Marist’s social life,” she said.

The privacy of the townhouse generates trust between all the residents, said resident Lisa Crandall. “There is a real element of trust in the houses, said. “You never have to worry that someone is going to steal something.”

Crandall, a junior, said that there is rarely someone in the house that she does not know. There are always unfamiliar faces walking around Champagnat, she said. “It is so private. It is just ours,” said Pallini in agreement with the rest of her housemates.

“We have our own home that we can decorate however we want,” she said.

The next issue of The Circle will appear Oct. 28.
Marist’s minority

You've seen them at meals, club meetings, and at parties. The ones who are running around hanging up decorations, trying to keep up with the demands of the holiday season. They are tired and more than a little busy, but if they're finishing up the last-minute details.

They sit in their rooms and complain. They are always saying yes. They never just belong to a common sense don't always come as a matter of course. So many intelligent people on this campus. Why is it that when there are supposedly doers, not talkers. When something bothers them, they spend four years at college and then learn, "All your friends (if you have any) have only seniors involved in this."

They neither want, nor expect, the same thing. They are impaired students at Marist. You don't have to be impaired to appreciate other ways of student involvement. There must be a better understanding of what's going on, and the way its described. Understanding it will help other people deal better. That's it, that's all about.

Students who find themselves avoiding the sorts of activities before may get their first chance to "habla espanol" with other people. They read the newspaper and see that the students involved to have a good understanding of what's going on.

A big bold

Eileen Hayes Cartoonist

Parti Walsh

C.U.B. Vice President

Sincerely,

John Petacchi, Dawn Oliver

C.U.B. President

Spanish Club, said, "This semester has been a real eye-opener for many of the students. They have only seniors involved in international or individual may be analyzed as a whole.

Spain and Portugal were the highlights at the annual Fall Puck Supper held in the Atrium of the Student Center. A variety of Spanish and Latin American dishes were served in addition to some new high school exchange students, our students. Thanks to the wonderful people who are working in the International Office.

From that, they become familiar faces around campus.

There are the orators — the 20 or 30 orators of the year. They are the ones who are天然に読む自然の形でこの文書を返す。
Homecoming Dance on Saturday, October 9, at 9:30 invite you to attend the Homecoming Vic­

Almanzar, Edna Figueroa, Marina Suarez, Christina Voss, Sharon Stevens, Sue

To Members of the apparent discomfort when encountering familar?) Despite the lack of harrowing

Editors,

Dress will be semi-formal and admission

September was a great success because of

Bibeau, mentor for the Spanish Club, kept

Hickey; Frank & Ann Kuhar; Jeptha &

- Unreasonable Distance From Home

- Athletic Commitment

- Military Leadership

September was a great success because of

Thats in Henry for sharing his dorm room.

Our World Choral Weekend is

September was a great success because of

Rodney Davis R.A.

The simple fact is that the United States today, and the rhetoric of those who decry our

a recognition between so long as we wish our dependence, the Armed Forces have served in the founding of the

for the Oct. 15-19 Long Weekend

through October 31st

the world grows smaller and the conversation going throughout the bump in the center of his trouser is the

The reason for the raised center in the trays as opposed to a more concave

Page 4 • THE CIRCLE • October 7, 1982

Our World Choral Weekend in

We have the opportunity to

Maria Sanchez, Matthias and St. Mary's

Pertinent Residence Information

1982 • THE CIRCLE • Pago 7

Welcome to Millertime

Page 7 • THE CIRCLE • October 7, 1982

The debate over ROTC at Marist

by Cedry Lauda

The Circle has asked me to present the "opposing" view of the proposal to establish a "xander" R.O.T.C. Extension Center at Marist under a cross-enrolled program with Fordham University, the

The debate over ROTC at Marist

by Cedry Lauda

The Circle has asked me to present the "opposing" view of the proposal to establish a "xander" R.O.T.C. Extension Center at Marist under a cross-enrolled program with Fordham University, the

This month’s news feature is now open for

More letters-

Tray bumps revisited

Thank you

Dear Friends of our

My siblings and I were driven to a quiet standpoint, I believe that the military establishment has the

- The RESIDENCE HALLS WILL RE-OPEN AT

- NO ONE WITHOUT AUTHORIZATION WILL BE

- NO ONE WITHOUT AUTHORIZATION WILL BE
Freshmen welcome parents

by Laura Blotnick

The afternoon was warm and sunny last Saturday as freshmen and their families gathered in the field outside the McCann Center for the second annual Freshmen Parents' Day.

The event, which was sponsored by the College Centers and the Marist Alumni Association, was also attended by Students Affairs staff, had a large and enthusiastic turnout.

Parents sat in groups on the grass talking getting acquainted while music by WMCR was playing through amplifiers.

There was also a hamburger and hot dog stand, which was a hit among the parents.

The event included the three-legged race and volleyball, frisbee and football. Other events included a tour of the campus, face painting and entertainment for the children.

Parents Day was a good idea. Most of the students agreed they enjoyed the day. "I like it because of the freedom," said Chris Hughes who said he liked the atmosphere here but found it quieter than he thought it would be. She said she thought Freshmen Parents' Day was a good idea.

Parents found this especially true of the students. During the course of the day students and their families participated in games of volleyball, frisbee and football. Other events included the scavenger hunt race and the marshmallow eating contest.

The event gave students a chance to show their guests around campus and to introduce them to their friends. It also provided the opportunity to get an idea what life would be like in college. "I like it because of the freedom," said Andy Amon. "There's more than there was in high school and not being guided into it. There is freedom." One student, John D'Onofrio said he liked it because he found it more than he thought it would be.

Most of the students agreed they enjoyed the day. Among them was Chris Hughes who said he liked the atmosphere here but found it quieter than he thought it would be. She said she thought Freshmen Parents' Day was a good idea.

The atmosphere was very relaxed with people sitting in groups on the grass talking getting acquainted while music by WMCR was playing through amplifiers.

Parents sat in groups on the grass talking getting acquainted while music by WMCR was playing through amplifiers.

The afternoon was warm and sunny last Saturday as freshmen and their families gathered in the field outside the McCann Center for the second annual Freshmen Parents' Day.

The event, which was sponsored by the College Centers and the Marist Alumni Association, was also attended by Students Affairs staff, had a large and enthusiastic turnout.

Parents sat in groups on the grass talking getting acquainted while music by WMCR was playing through amplifiers.

There was also a hamburger and hot dog stand, which was a hit among the parents.

The event included the three-legged race and volleyball, frisbee and football. Other events included a tour of the campus, face painting and entertainment for the children.

Parents Day was a good idea. Most of the students agreed they enjoyed the day. "I like it because of the freedom," said Chris Hughes who said he liked the atmosphere here but found it quieter than he thought it would be. She said she thought Freshmen Parents' Day was a good idea.

Parents found this especially true of the students. During the course of the day students and their families participated in games of volleyball, frisbee and football. Other events included the scavenger hunt race and the marshmallow eating contest.

The event gave students a chance to show their guests around campus and to introduce them to their friends. It also provided the opportunity to get an idea what life would be like in college. "I like it because of the freedom," said Andy Amon. "There's more than there was in high school and not being guided into it. There is freedom." One student, John D'Onofrio said he liked it because he found it more than he thought it would be. He said she thought Freshmen Parents' Day was a good idea.

Most of the students agreed they enjoyed the day. Among them was Chris Hughes who said he liked the atmosphere here but found it quieter than he thought it would be. She said she thought Freshmen Parents' Day was a good idea.
Blood drive nets sixteen gallons

Marist students and staff donated sixteen gallons of blood at the Hudson Valley Blood Service center during a blood drive sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon.

"I belong to the Marist Munch bunch"

Commuters & Residents:
Save 10%
Check out coupon booklet. Good in Coffee Shop, Deli and Dining Hall
Purchase of booklets may be made in Food Service Office

JOSEPH'S RESTAURANT

— Serving lunch and dinner

2 Delafieild Street
Poughkeepsie

454-8860

ROOSEVELT THEATRE

Rte. 9, Hyde Park CA9-2000
ACRES OF FREE PARKING

Now Playing
Heled Over 8 Weeks!

An Officer and a Gentleman

Anchorage Cinema

HYDE PARK MOTEL
AAA APPROVED

Albany Post Road (Rt. 9)
Hyde Park, N.Y. 12538

1/4 mi. North of Roosevelt Home & Library. Adjacent to restaurants, Theaters, Vanderbilt Home, Playhouse, Roller Skating Rink, State Parks (6 mi.) Eighteen-hole Golf Course (Dinnean, 6 mi. north), 2 mi. N. of Marist College.

MEENA & PAUL VAKHARIA
Tel No. 914-229-9161

Classifieds

To that one house on Lee St. You're a real sweetheart! Mr. X and D

Karen P. — What's up?“, you'd better believe it! Beauty treatments, must keep a handy gift!

With you I got nothing just thinking about you, can't wait to see you again.

Heartbreaker

Jay. There's a chance in the sky to win game.

Respond to the classifieds, we will

Brian's next door this morning, let me know who will be there.

Rideal's in the city this morning.

Now a boy in the sky to win game.

Respond to the classifieds, we will

THE CIRCLE — October 7, 1982
McDermott's Irish Pub reopens
by Kevin Schulz
McDermott's Irish Pub, just a half mile from Marist on Delafield Street, has reopened after being closed for remodeling.

Although only half completed at this time, modifications have already been made to the bar area to include a new dance floor. Perhaps the biggest change is the conversion of the kitchen area into an entertainment room, the pool table, and installation of an outdoor fireplace. Perhaps the biggest change is the conversion of the kitchen area into an entertainment room, the pool table, and installation of a outdoor fireplace. Perhaps the biggest change is the conversion of the kitchen area into an entertainment room, the pool table, and installation of an outdoor fireplace. Perhaps the biggest change is the conversion of the kitchen area into an entertainment room, the pool table, and installation of an outdoor fireplace.

While the atmosphere may be quieter for now, it is expected to return once additional modifications are made. The manager said, "We're looking forward to bringing our customers back to our newly remodeled space."
Booters win two as record rises to 4-3

by Joe Diditri

The Marist College soccer team improved its record to 4-3 with wins over Siena and U.S. Merchant Marine Academy (Kings Point) last week. The squad beat the New York University University tomorrow at home in a Tri-State Conference match-up at 3:30 p.m.

Showing an aggressive attack and a tight defense, the Red Foxes downed King's Point, 3-1. The scoring started early as quarterback Joe Didziulis led the offense to a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage. The Marist defense then closed up tight and allowed very few shots on goal.

Marist tied the score at the 9:47 mark of the first half when Tho Dinh scored with an assist from Greg Shively. The Foxes then took the lead for good as Mark Adams made the score 2-1 with an assist from Wayne Cargill at the 39:22 mark of the first half.

Marist added one more goal in the second half when Cargill out-raced the King's Point goalkeeper and banged the ball home at the 31:15 mark with an assist from Adams.

John Malatestnik only had to make two saves during the game as opposed to the 10 saves by Cargill in the game. The Red Foxes outshot the Indians 13-2 and led in corner kicks, 7-3. Siena dropped to 0-4-2 after the loss.

Marist drops second straight, 27-20, to Iona

by John Petracchi

Fullback Todd Leone rushed for 98 yards and three touchdowns as the Iona Gaels erased a 14-point deficit and won 27-20 at Memorial Field in Mount Vernon last Friday night.

Marist, now 1-2 overall, will play Brooklyn College in the homecoming game Saturday at Leonidoff Field at 1:30.

"We could have won against St. John's last week, but we have won against Iona," said disappointed Marist coach Mike Adams.

"We lost our mental discipline and our players played football their own way, and it hurt us," said Malet.

The Gaels defeated four different Iona backs to gain over 50 yards on the ground while giving up 315 yards in total offense.

Malet said the offense played well enough to win, but the defense did not play as well as it could. "Our special teams didn't help us either," said Malet.

The Red Fox special teams fumbled twice and were the subject of a controversial penalty that cost Marist the ball late in the game.

With Marist leading 20-12, Iona was forced to punt and Marist received the ball in good field position. But the officially opened 12 Marist players on the field and gave the ball back to Iona.

The official blew the call. We looked at the film over and over and still counted 11 men on the field, Malet said. That was a damaging call by the referee.

Six plays later, Iona quarterback Rich Caprio took the ball over from the five for a score, and then passed for the two-point conversion to tie the game at 20-20. Marist was unable to generate much offense of its own, picking up just one first down in the second half.

Leone put the game away with 10 minutes to play, as he bulled over from the five-yard line, his third touchdown. Iona held a 27-20 lead for the rest of the game.

The Red Foxes opened up a 20-6 lead early into the second half as quarterback Jim Cleary, who led Marist in rushing with 99 yards, dashed 75 yards to paydirt. Cleary's run was the longest touchdown run in Marist history, breaking his own record set in 1980. That touchdown put the Red Foxes up by 14 points with just 14 minutes to play in the third quarter.

But from that point on, it was all Iona. The Gaels ran back the ensuing kickoff 55 yards to the Marist 27-yard line. Two minutes later, Todd Leone scored his second touchdown of the game on a three-yard run to pull Iona within eight points.

EXTRA POINTS:

Iona averaged a 15-15 deficit at the hands of the Red Foxes in last year's homecoming game at Marist. The Foxes have accumulated over 250 yards of total offense in each of the three games thus far.

Ron Dimmie, with 231 yards rushing, is ahead of his record-setting pace of last year in which he totaled 474 total yards. Cleary on the season has passed for 292 yards and three touchdowns while running for 128 yards and two touchdowns.

Brian Sewing leads all players with 21 tackles, while Pete Maloney has been in on 19 tackles.

Between the Lines

by Bill Towers

Will Sundays ever be the same again? It's a natural thing. Sunday at 1 and 4 p.m. is football time... pro football. Not college or Canadian. Now comes along football strike and the ritual is broken. What do you do?

Well, now's the chance to read that book you've been meaning to read. On Channel 12, we have NASTAR car racing. That's about as close as you can get to the real thing.

On this particular Sunday there is a variety of chances to catch up. On Channel (12) we have NASTAR car racing. That's about as close as you can get to the real thing.

On Channel 2 (CBS) offered a NCAA Division III football game featuring Baldwin-Wallace against Wittenberg. Thanks, but no thanks. I get my fill of Division III football when Marist plays.

Besides, I can't stand to listen to two professional sportscasters, Pat Summerall and John Madden, pretend to get excited over a college game. I guess I'm just not used to hearing them with the Giants.

I watched one quarter of this game, but had to change the channel when player's father was interviewed in the stands after his son scored a touchdown. That was too much!

Next we had the ABC (Channel 7) baseball game of the week. This was actually good — even with Howard Cosell doing the commentary. The Orioles made a fine attempt at a miracle but fell to veteran Don Sutton and his Milwaukee teammates.

Next on the dial was WOR (Channel 9) and the New York Mets. You've got to feel sorry for the Mets. It was so pathetic watching Steve Calkins strike them out and make it look so easy. The lineup was nicked with the Mets of the future that resembled the Mets of the present.

I couldn't bear to watch any longer. Announcers Ralph Kiner and Loren Brown don't make matters any better either. I think Kiner would be better off as a bedtime story-teller.

And Browne is just full of information. He gives all the statistics you never wanted to know and at the best time not to tell them. He should spend as much time watching the game as he does looking at stats sheets.

Next we had the NBC (Channel 4) which offered a football game from the Canadian Football League. One pitted Saskatchewan against Calgary. The action was fast and hard-hitting. But the score was 34-0 before halftime, and announcer Don Criqui kept mumbling something in Yogi Berra style about it's never over until it's over. So much for the CFL.

Well the day is over and I survived. I'm not always this negative on Sundays. Just bring back the NFL games and my attitude will change. There is talk about a NFL Player's Association All-Star game this Sunday. That should be decent, but it won't be the same. Enough is enough. Let's settle this football strike before I and millions of other people go crazy!

If we can't have football, I have one request. The National Hockey League opens its season this week. Please, CBS, bring back the "NHL on CBS" on Sundays again!