Security staff grows as campus expands

by Donald R. Godwin

The rapid growth of the Marist campus has prompted the addition of three supervisor positions to the college's security staff and a total reorganization of the staff's nighttime coverage.

Joe Waters, director of safety and security, said the decision to increase the security staff was based on a definite need, with the Garden Apartments and the anticipated Lowell Thomas Center creating much more ground to cover.

Two security guards were promoted to supervisor positions, and a former security employee was hired as the third new supervisor, who is named Joe C. Simon.

The increase in the security staff focuses on the night shift, with an added patrol supervisor and two full-time guards now responsible for patrolling assigned areas of the campus.

Waters said the campus is divided into three sectors, with a full-time guard and a student guard patrolling each.

The north sector includes the Garden Apartments, Marist East, the townhouse area and the waterfront area of the boat house. The central sector includes all areas, east to west, between the north entrance of the college and Donaldson Hall. The south sector begins with the Campus Center and covers all the area south to the McCann Center.

The supervisor, who covers the central area, is responsible for the coverage of the dorms at night. The patrol supervisor will roam through the dorms between the hours of 3 a.m. and 7 a.m. for fire-safety, since the only person usually awake is the desk security, said Waters. "It's the first time it's ever been done."

According to Waters, the addition of the night supervisor has helped create better communication with the residence directors.

"We have a better relationship with the housing residence directors," said Waters, "because they are being told of anything that happens during the night."

In addition to the north sector security guard, there is also a Town of Poughkeepsie policeman stationed at the Garden Apartments temporarily, said Waters, until the fire alarms are hooked up to the Dutchess County Fire Alarm Headquarters.

"He is there from 11 p.m. until 7 a.m. with a campus security radio, "Safety," said Waters. "He's there during those hours because they're the most dangerous hours, when the students are asleep.

"Security is as good as it's ever been," he said.

Another issue discussed was the absence of house phones in the garden apartments. Murray said the apartments were not designed to accommodate house phones and that they would not be installed. In response to a suggestion that the Marist switchboard be open 24 hours, enabling garden apartment residents to make calls into the campus phone system, Murray said that the college should look into expanding switchboard hours. Off-campus callers can currently be connected to the college's internal phone system from 7:45 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday.

In an emergency, Murray said, residents in the garden apartments should call the local Marist phone number, 471-3240, and then be transferred to the special emergency line in the security office.

Another subject discussed at the forum was the housing resident students displaced by the housing shortage. Factors influencing the problem included the increased student population, the Townhouses, Kirk Houses, Chain Pines, Hail and North Road.

Continued on page 3

The new sound of WMCR

by Dave Rakowicky

"We have a solid format where people will want to listen to us 24 hours a day," said Simon. "We want a solidified format where people will feel that we are a part of their daily lives." Sheehan added. "We want a solidified format where people will have a place to go for their daily entertainment." Sheehan said.

"The patrol supervisor will roam through the dorms at night," said Waters. "He's there during these hours for coverage of the dorms at night." Sheehan said.

"We have a better relationship with the housing residence directors," said Waters, "because they are being told of anything that happens during the night."

In addition to the north sector security guard, there is also a Town of Poughkeepsie policeman stationed at the Garden Apartments temporarily, said Waters, until the fire alarms are hooked up to the Dutchess County Fire Alarm Headquarters.

"He is there from 11 p.m. until 7 a.m. with a campus security radio, "Safety," said Waters. "He's there during those hours because they're the most dangerous hours, when the students are asleep."

"Security is as good as it's ever been," he said.

Another issue discussed was the absence of house phones in the garden apartments. Murray said the apartments were not designed to accommodate house phones and that they would not be installed. In response to a suggestion that the Marist switchboard be open 24 hours, enabling garden apartment residents to make calls into the campus phone system, Murray said that the college should look into expanding switchboard hours. Off-campus callers can currently be connected to the college's internal phone system from 7:45 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday.

In an emergency, Murray said, residents in the garden apartments should call the local Marist phone number, 471-3240, and then be transferred to the special emergency line in the security office.

Another subject discussed at the forum was the housing resident students displaced by the housing shortage. Factors influencing the problem included the increased student population, the Townhouses, Kirk Houses, Chain Pines, Hail and North Road.

Continued on page 3

Marist College may provide financial retribution for students affected by the late completion of the Garden Apartments, said Marist President Denis Murray at an open student forum held last week in the Theater.

"We will consider some type of financial retribution for those students who have been most in-converted," Murray said.

Murray added that he agreed with a suggestion from Student Body President Suzanne Ryan to form a committee of students and administrators to work out the details of student refunds. The committee will begin work after all students are in permanent housing.

According to Murray, the committee will consider both the "financial and the academic and physical pressure put on the student due to the delays." The committee will also be looking at "the financial and economic impact on the student due to the delays." The committee will also be looking at "the financial and economic impact on the student due to the delays."

"The rapid growth of the Marist campus has prompted the addition of three supervisor positions to the college's security staff and a total reorganization of the staff's nighttime coverage."

"The patrol supervisor will roam through the dorms between the hours of 3 a.m. and 7 a.m. for fire-safety, since the only person usually awake is the desk security," said Waters. "It's the first time it's ever been done."

According to Waters, the addition of the night supervisor has helped create better communication with the residence directors.

"We have a better relationship with the housing residence directors," said Waters, "because they are being told of anything that happens during the night."

In addition to the north sector security guard, there is also a Town of Poughkeepsie policeman stationed at the Garden Apartments temporarily, said Waters, until the fire alarms are hooked up to the Dutchess County Fire Alarm Headquarters.

"He is there from 11 p.m. until 7 a.m. with a campus security radio, "Safety," said Waters. "He's there during those hours because they're the most dangerous hours, when the students are asleep."

"Security is as good as it's ever been," he said.

Another issue discussed was the absence of house phones in the garden apartments. Murray said the apartments were not designed to accommodate house phones and that they would not be installed. In response to a suggestion that the Marist switchboard be open 24 hours, enabling garden apartment residents to make calls into the campus phone system, Murray said that the college should look into expanding switchboard hours. Off-campus callers can currently be connected to the college's internal phone system from 7:45 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday.

In an emergency, Murray said, residents in the garden apartments should call the local Marist phone number, 471-3240, and then be transferred to the special emergency line in the security office.

Another subject discussed at the forum was the housing resident students displaced by the housing shortage. Factors influencing the problem included the increased student population, the Townhouses, Kirk Houses, Chain Pines, Hail and North Road.

Continued on page 3

The new sound of WMCR

According to Mike Stamo, promotions manager, the station wants, "...to have everything related to music on campus related to New Rock 92." She said she would like to establish a relationship with college stations around the country. She said she would also like to sponsor concerts at the Mid-Hudson Civic Center, along with album and poster giveaways from major artists.

This year's staff has met some resistance from listeners, mainly because of the negatively generated by last year's musical output, said Sheehan. Now, however, the staff is more dedicated and receptive to change, allowing for a smooth transition from the old format. According to Simon, who is promotions director for Polygram Records, "...there will be no more transitions from one song to the next. It's just about the music and the artists."

"The obstacles are people not liking the music we play, because it's new," Sheehan said, "but we're happy that the college is willing to give us a chance with it and turn us to new music."

Record companies, the major promotional source of music aired by radio stations, have been very cooperative by providing free records or posters this year, in part due to New Rock 92's growing reputation and its listings in the College Music Journal. The CMJ is a place where record companies and radio stations can listen to what is being played by other stations around the country.

New Rock 92 is fighting to establish itself as the alternative-to-commercial radio by playing the music usually passed over by the profit controlled stations, said Simon. "We are basically a non-profit station," Simon said. "We do not seek to alienate a core of listeners."

"We want to attract listeners to tune to 92.7, so they'll get a lot better station that's a lot more solid and consistent musically," Sheehan said, "and consistency is what gets listeners."
Ryan: New CSL will be agent for campus change

by Anthony Dellemons

The Marist College Council of Students Leaders has a potential "agent" for campus change. Last year Marist students were surveyed as to what they thought the Marist student was like. This year CSL is going to be this year's "agent" for Marist student change.

CSL is a body of student leaders who are chosen by a vote of the college for the purpose of representing the interests of all students. CSL has a representative from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. CSL is also a body of student leaders who are elected by the student body to represent the interests of Marist students.

CSL's leaders will not only be representing the student body, but also will be helping to shape the future of Marist College.

According to Jeff Kolden, a freshmen leader at Marist College, CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"I'm excited about CSL because it gives me a chance to make a difference on campus," said Kolden.

Kolden is one of the freshmen leaders at Marist College. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

Freshman size up their first two weeks of college

by Fred Dever

Freshmen size up their first two weeks of college

January 2-27, 1986

Please HELP US SCHEDULE WINTER INTERSESSIOIY IN DETERMINING THE COURSES YOU WANT.

NAME OF COURSE DESIRED

TIME OF DAY

(A.M., P.M., OR EVENING)

LOCATION

Poughkeepsie or Fishkill

Continued on page 3

Rubin's ideas change with time

by Brian Kryz

Rubin's ideas change with time

The first of three articles in the series "Inventors in Action." Rubin's ideas change with time

Rubin's ideas change with time

Please return to: School of Adult Education, Marist East 205 or Office of the Registrar — Donnelly

Continued on page 3

THE COURSES YOU WANT.

January 2-27, 1986

THE CIRCLE - September 19, 1985 - Page 3

Continued from page 2

Please be aware that CSL is a body of student leaders who are chosen by a vote of the college for the purpose of representing the interests of all students. CSL has a representative from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. CSL is also a body of student leaders who are elected by the student body to represent the interests of Marist students.

CSL's leaders will not only be representing the student body, but also will be helping to shape the future of Marist College.

According to Jeff Kolden, a freshmen leader at Marist College, CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"I'm excited about CSL because it gives me a chance to make a difference on campus," said Kolden.

Kolden is one of the freshmen leaders at Marist College. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

'Marist has already announced its first CSL meeting. They are held every Monday at 7:45 a.m. in the Gannett Center for the Public

The social life is what you make of it. If you don't like things, you can change them. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"We'll have to make sure the CSL is a body of student leaders who are chosen by a vote of the college for the purpose of representing the interests of all students. CSL has a representative from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. CSL is also a body of student leaders who are elected by the student body to represent the interests of Marist students.

CSL's leaders will not only be representing the student body, but also will be helping to shape the future of Marist College.

According to Jeff Kolden, a freshmen leader at Marist College, CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"I'm excited about CSL because it gives me a chance to make a difference on campus," said Kolden.

Kolden is one of the freshmen leaders at Marist College. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"We'll have to make sure the CSL is a body of student leaders who are chosen by a vote of the college for the purpose of representing the interests of all students. CSL has a representative from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. CSL is also a body of student leaders who are elected by the student body to represent the interests of Marist students.

CSL's leaders will not only be representing the student body, but also will be helping to shape the future of Marist College.

According to Jeff Kolden, a freshmen leader at Marist College, CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"I'm excited about CSL because it gives me a chance to make a difference on campus," said Kolden.

Kolden is one of the freshmen leaders at Marist College. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"We'll have to make sure the CSL is a body of student leaders who are chosen by a vote of the college for the purpose of representing the interests of all students. CSL has a representative from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. CSL is also a body of student leaders who are elected by the student body to represent the interests of Marist students.

CSL's leaders will not only be representing the student body, but also will be helping to shape the future of Marist College.

According to Jeff Kolden, a freshmen leader at Marist College, CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"I'm excited about CSL because it gives me a chance to make a difference on campus," said Kolden.

Kolden is one of the freshmen leaders at Marist College. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"We'll have to make sure the CSL is a body of student leaders who are chosen by a vote of the college for the purpose of representing the interests of all students. CSL has a representative from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. CSL is also a body of student leaders who are elected by the student body to represent the interests of Marist students.

CSL's leaders will not only be representing the student body, but also will be helping to shape the future of Marist College.

According to Jeff Kolden, a freshmen leader at Marist College, CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"I'm excited about CSL because it gives me a chance to make a difference on campus," said Kolden.

Kolden is one of the freshmen leaders at Marist College. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"We'll have to make sure the CSL is a body of student leaders who are chosen by a vote of the college for the purpose of representing the interests of all students. CSL has a representative from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. CSL is also a body of student leaders who are elected by the student body to represent the interests of Marist students.

CSL's leaders will not only be representing the student body, but also will be helping to shape the future of Marist College.

According to Jeff Kolden, a freshmen leader at Marist College, CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"I'm excited about CSL because it gives me a chance to make a difference on campus," said Kolden.

Kolden is one of the freshmen leaders at Marist College. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard. CSL is a "real opportunity" for the students to have their voices heard.

"We'll have to make sure the CSL is a body of student leaders who are chosen by a vote of the college for the purpose of representing the interests of all students. CSL has a representative from the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students. CSL is also a body of student leaders who are elected by the student body to represent the interests of Marist students.

CSL's leaders will not only be representing the student body, but also will be helping to shape the future of Marist College.
To the Editor:

Too Late/' last in The Circle, the Class of 1986 has one thing to say, “It Is NOT could not begin its search for a completed and the candidates were opportunity to re-emphasize the.

reason for existence. The first of six goals listed in the State—of its history and traditions and a commitment to the contem—programs such as the special services program/services for the magnet heritage of service can be seen today in the college's

Officer

Brian O'Keefe

Real World

Ronnie goes to school

Brian O'Keefe

117

Petterson

John M. Brennan

editor.

duties for the Marist men’s basketball team will be playing at Madison Square

Leo and Sheahan halls. His name is Gregory Brennan.

of the Marist fathers to re-fought the Viet­

America from the godless commies papers, the students at NC State

by Brian O’Keefe

Experiences of exposure

Teresa Razzano

Brian O’Connor

February 10, 1986

C/O The Circle

Corrections

A lively story about the Charles Knaver, the son of legendary Marist basketball great Joe Paterno, was published in the April 7 issue of The Circle. The story was correct in stating that Knaver was the first Marist basketball player to be selected to the All-American team. However, it incorrectly stated that Knaver was born in 1948. Knaver was actually born in 1949.

Cartoonist

Coraline Seppey

Speaking of local events, the election results for the 1985 Student Council were announced on March 4. The new council consists of President Michael Brennan, Vice President Brian O’Reilly, Secretary Christine Cohrin, Treasurer David McCraw, and Class Presidents John M. Brennan and Michael Brennan.

Brian O’Keefe

Vice President

Appalchenian students will write to the Class of 1986 for the position of editor in chief. Although the first issue of The Circle was released in September 1985, the students at NC State have been critical of the paper, and a letter to the editor is welcome.

Teresa Razzano

Christine Cohrin

David McCraw

Brian O’Connor

to Marist now and I have always been a

Teresa Razzano

Brian O’Keefe

time of a concept that was

Mary Ellen Palaia

from the everyday problems, no

Brian O’Keefe

Michael Brennan

September 22-28*

Petitions For The Candidacy For The Positions of Class of 1989

President

Nicholas James O’Keefe

Vice President

Charles P. Fassett

Secretary

John J. Brennan

Treasurer

David McCraw

Student Government!

Get involved in Student Government!
A couple of big kids

how can I do this?

This Week

Enroll in America's Largest Management Training Program.

Becoming an officer in today's Army—which also includes the Army Reserve and Army National Guard—requires the right kind of management and leadership training. That's why the Army ROTC program exists.

In the Army ROTC 4-year program, you'll acquire discipline of mind and spirit, and the ability to perform under pressure.

We call it leadership.

Get started now:

Enrollment is open year-round. Call 1-800-ARMY-400 for more information.

For more information contact Captain Lathan, Marist College (914) 631-2300 ext. S 28

Open 24 Hours 473-1576

Colleary ready to dig in

PALACE
Diner & Restaurant

Breakfast - Lunch - Dinner

Fresh Seafood - Steaks - Chops - Cocktails - Baking on Premises

Show your college ID and get a FREE Glass of Beer with your meal!

7% DISCOUNT

194 Washington Street Poughkeepsie, New York

(Next to All Sport. A short walk from Marist)

College is ready to dig in

In Brief

Women's tennis

The Marist women's tennis team lost to Fairfield University on Sunday by a score of 7-2, ending their season. The loss brings their record to 3-12 for the year. In the doubles match, the team lost 6-0.

Men's tennis

The Men's tennis team also lost to Fairfield University on Sunday. The score was 7-2, bringing their record to 6-7 for the year. In the doubles match, the team lost 6-0.

Baseball

The Baseball team defeated Michigan State 11-2 on Friday, but lost 1-0 on Saturday. They are currently 2-1-1 in their series.

Softball

The Softball team lost to Fordham 3-2 on Friday, but won 5-3 on Saturday. They are currently 6-7 in their conference.

Basketball

The Basketball team played against Fairfield University on Sunday and lost 93-82. They are currently 6-12 for the year.
Foxes romp Maritime, play St. Peter's next

by Dan Pietrafesa

After shutting out SUNY Maritime 26-0 Saturday night, the Marist football team heads to Jersey City, N.J., tomorrow night to play the Peacocks of St. Peter's. The Peacocks will open its 1985 season tomorrow night after a season in which its football program was cancelled after one game.

St. Peter's was dominated in its season opener last year 72-0 by Catholic University, which resulted in the team's roster being cut down to 19 players after 15 either quit or were injured in the contest.

The Peacocks last but were awarded a 1-0 forfeit victory.

Marist Head Coach Mike Malet was impressed last Friday with the performance of the Peacocks in their scrimmage against Fairleigh Dickinson University-Madison and is ready for a tough contest. "They played tough, aggressive football," he said.

The quarterback situation will not be changed for tomorrow's game. Both Jim Fedigan and Jonathan Cannon will be alternated as they were in the season opener.

"Both did a fine job," said Malet. "Neither one is ahead of the other at this point."

Red Fox fans can expect the Foxes to use a running attack to control the tempo of the game because that's the team's strength, according to Malet.

The Foxes opened up their 20th season of football Saturday, with a 26-0 shellacking of SUNY Maritime at Stitzel Field, in Poughkeepsie. The team used a powerful running attack (300 yards) out of the key formation as they did last year in oupping Maritime 33-7.

Marist drew the only blood it needed in its first possession, a 40 yard, five play drive capped off by a 25-yard touchdown pass to Ed Christensen from Jim Fedigan.

The second touchdown was a five yard run by Mark Suraci after a Brian Cesca interception gave Marist a first down on the Maritime 11. The extra point missed, and Marist led 13-0 going into the half.

The Foxes could have seen its lead increase heavily in the first half, but several fumbles and two key penalties prevented an early comp.

The sloppy play ended in the second half as the Foxes scored two more times on a nine-yard pass from Cannon to Howard Herodes in the third quarter and a Suraci run in the fourth quarter.

Marist booters lose to Monmouth; meet Robert Morris next

by Brian O'Connor

The Marist soccer team will try to improve its record when they play Robert Morris this Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

In action last week, the Foxes fell to East Coast Athletic Conference rival Monmouth College 2-0. The squad showed a strong first half but was dominated by Monmouth in the second. Marist is now 0-1 in the ECAC, 1-0 in the Tri-State Conference and 1-3 overall.

The soccer squad picked up its first victory of the season last week with a 4-1 defeat of Tri-State Conference foe Fairfield University. The Foxes showed a new spark with goals from freshmen Mark Edwards and Kodani Kambarani and two by junior forward Jim McKenna. McKenna now leads the team with three goals on the season.

Yesterday, the team was to play Hartwick College, which ended its season in the final four last year. Marist proved to be a worthy opponent in their match last season as they took Hartwick into overtime but fell, 0-1.

Marist has been out-scored 11-5 by its opponents so far this season. Goalie Bill Tholen has made 24 saves and has a .686 save percentage in four matches.

The soccer team has 16 matches remaining with the next four being away. Nine of the scheduled games are at home.

Intramurals

by Brian O'Connor

The Marist College Intramural Sports Program is starting its 1985 season for co-ed bowling, the foot­ ball, racquetball, co-ed soccer, co-teen three-oh-three basketball and co-ed volleyball.

The teams are designed to encourage good sportsmanship for all Marist College students, according to Bob Lynch, the intramural director.

Questions can be answered at the Intramural Office at 472-3240 extension 329 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Volleyball takes Vassar in 1st match

by Sue Blazisjewski

The Marist College volleyball team defeated Vassar College in its first match of the season, coming off last season's conference winning record.

After losing the first match 15-13, Marist came back strong as they took the next three games, 15-0, 15-13, 15-6.

Veterans Marie Bernhard, Pat­ ty Billen and Maria Gordon pro­duced excellent teamwork in their victory Friday night.

After coming off their East Coast Athletic Conference first place finish last year, the team hopes to have a winning season this year. Coach Vic Van Carpels has high expectations for the squad this season, hoping to take the title again.

Monday, the volleyball team headed to Russell Sage College in Troy, to play a dual match with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and today they travel to West Point to take on the lady Cadets. Their first home match is against SUNY College and Ramapo in a dual stand, on Thursday, Sept. 26 at 6 p.m.