With new optimism, Cox returns to post after hospitalization

by Rick Hankey

Gerard Cox, vice president and dean for student affairs, leaned back in his desk chair and recalled the comforting moment from his stay back in his desk chair and recalled the event of the previous week. "The whole department missed him, but it's great to see him return," said Cox.

"I was prepared for the O.R. and ready to be wheeled in when I was approached by a recent graduate," Cox said. "It was all very vague to me at the time, since drugs had taken effect, but I can remember him repeatedly asking me, 'Dean Cox, what are you doing here?'"

Cox, who had been hospitalized for open heart surgery and on a leave of absence from his post as Mariest from late March through the middle of June, said the episode typified how Mariest has become an integral part of his life in the past 20 years.

"No matter where you go, the college is with you," said Cox. "It was a very tense and intense period for me but I never felt alone."

The operation and time off have proved beneficial, said Cox, who said he now feels better than he has for a very long time.

"I don't feel like I was used to being that way," said Cox. "It's incredible how much better I feel now."

During his leave of absence, Cox's involvement with Mariest was very limited. Cox said that he is currently keeping the same kind of schedule that he kept prior to his leave of absence.

He also commented on how smoothly the Student Affairs Office was run in his absence.

"A lot of credit has to go to the people who took over — Deborah Bell and Peter Amato," said Cox. "Things were really in good shape when I got back."

Cox's leadership and strong spirit were missed during his absence, according to Amato, the assistant dean of students.

"The whole department missed him, but it's great to see him return looking so terrific," said Amato. "He looks healthy, is in great spirit and isn't smoking anymore."

Cox shared this optimistic overview with Amato and said that the entire situation came very unexpectedly he can look at it as a learning experience.

"It all may end up in a play some day," Cox said.

WMCR awaits transmitter, could be broadcasting soon

by Matt Croke

Campus radio station WMCR could be broadcasting "over the air" to the campus and the surrounding area within six to eight weeks, according to Station Manager Derek Simon.

The station, currently heard on Infractions and asked for an extension of tomorrow's NCAA appeal date, will begin broadcasting in the spring, according to Brian Colleye, athletic director.

In terms of officially appealing the decision to the NCAA, Colleye said Mariest is still assessing the situation and awaits the outcome of the committee's reconsideration. If the committee decides not to change the penalties, the college will have the option of appealing to the NCAA — above the Committee on Infractions.

Although the pipe through which the water entered was only a little more than one inch above the ground outside the building, Tarentino said the height was not necessarily a construction error. The pipe was installed according to the architect's specifications, he said.

Tarentino said he had the electrical firm that originally wired the building raise the pipe an additional eight inches to prevent a similar occurrence in the future.
WASHINGTON - The Reagan administration is beefing up its counterinsurgency training program for Central American insurgents, but it is still not clear whether the money and military equipment will reach the areas where they are most needed.

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, as expected, will begin promoting his $180 million aid package for the Contras in El Salvador and Nicaragua to a wider audience when he briefs the Senate Armed Services Committee in Washington this week.

The money from the arms sale, he said, is not a fig leaf to hide the real story of the Contra case.

Despite previous assurances by the administration that the Contras would be the recipient of the $180 million, some officials were uncertain about this.

Other officials said the administration was committed to providing aid to the Contras and that the administration's official position was that the Contras would receive the money.

The administration's official position is that the money will be used to train the Contras and that the Contras will be the recipient of the $180 million.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official position is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinista government.

The administration's official line is that the Contras are the only military force in Nicaragua that is capable of fighting the Sandinisa...
Getting priorities straight: Take 2

You could almost feel the earth shake last week when the NCAA handed down the verdict: The Marist men's basketball team would be prohibited from participation in post-season play and Assistant Coach Bogdan Jurchescu would be banned from off-campus recruiting, a period of two years.

The NCAA's bullet struck close to the heart. More than just a successful team, the Marist men's basketball program has become an integral part of Marist's identity. Their successes have demonstrated that the college is a must-see on the college basketball circuit. The pride was taken too far. Numerous violations that occurred last year—such as recruiting violations, failed drug tests, and academic deficiencies—proved too much for the NCAA. It's a sad day for basketball fans.

Correction

The Circle welcomes letters to the editors. All letters must be typed double-spaced and have left and right margins. Handwritten letters cannot be accepted.

Library needs definition

The Marist College Library is a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may stop and take the action of feeding the engine. If you may miss the opportunity of your dream here or in college, it is a perfect place to go to a good book.

The library must be a place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour.

The library must be a place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour.

The library must be a place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour. It is the only place where you may find a place to study at any hour.

Yours truly,

The Circle
Football liquor policy under dispute

KNOXVILLE, TN (CPS) —

After a major controversy, the University of Tennessee has decided to apply its new student-concussion law to its athletic department. The law, which was recently revised to allow alcohol sales on campuses, has set off a series of events that have led to the suspension of several student athletes.

The story began in late September, when the university announced that it would be allowing alcohol sales on campus. The decision was met with widespread criticism, and the student body promptly voted to suspend several athletic programs.

According to a university official, the decision was prompted by a number of factors, including the need to increase revenue and the desire to attract more students.

The school's athletics department has been struggling financially in recent years, and the decision to allow alcohol sales was seen as a way to increase revenue. The move has also been hailed as a way to attract more students and improve the university's image.

However, the decision has not been without its critics.

Several community members have expressed concern about the impact of the decision on the community. They argue that allowing alcohol sales on campus could lead to an increase in crime and other problems.

The university has defended its decision, saying that it is committed to providing a safe and enjoyable environment for all students.

The decision has also sparked a debate among students.

Some students have supported the move, saying that it will help to increase revenue and improve the university's image.

Others have expressed concern about the impact of the decision on the community, saying that it could lead to an increase in crime and other problems.

For more information, please contact the university's athletics department.

John Cougar matures

by Derek Stone

I've never had it easy. I've never been able to be myself than John Cougar Mellencamp. His music has always dealt with the struggles of ordinary people, and he's always found a way to make sense of them.

But his latest album, "Sooner or Later," has been a disappointment. The record is full of self-indulgence and self-pity, and it seems to be more interested in personal gain than in making a statement about the world.

Mellencamp has been criticized for his lack of political involvement, and his new album seems to be a retreat from that position. It's a shame, because Mellencamp has the talent and the voice to make a powerful statement about the world.

The record does have its moments, however. The song "The Little Black and White," which is about a young boy's struggle with grief and loss, is a powerful and moving piece of music.

Overall, "Sooner or Later" is a disappointing album, and it's hard to see how Mellencamp can make a comeback from it. But only time will tell.
Sports

Women runners earn split, men lose at Colgate meet

by Paul Kelly

Pam White has a small problem. Her cross-country team boasts a nucleus of three runners who have struggled this season. But the nucleus, who have been losing at St. Peter's College 14-10 at Bloomsburg, N.J., last year. Marist will travel to Jamaica, N.Y., to face the team at St. John's at 1 p.m. Last year Marist fell to the Redmen 29-21 to lose to St. John's.

Saturday, the Sunday, the State's Peacocks (1-1) avenged the 24-8 beating Marist handed them in 1986. The Red Foxes led at halftime, 11-7. But a third quarter mishap gave the Peacocks a 21-11 lead which Marist could not overcome.

With Marist leading 10-7 in the third quarter, a手指 the ball away from Steve Brennan — well-covered by Marist defenders Fred Chowanec, Steve Brennan, and Howard Herodes is the cornerstone of an otherwise young team.

Steve Brennan was eighth overall, 24:44. Junior Helen Gardner was seventh overall, 22:11 and junior Trish Webster, a member of the team.

In the second quarter, Marist's star scorer, Patty Goldman, scored the team's first goal on a 74-yard touchdown play which covered by the enlightened defensive line preserved a 2-0 Marist lead and maintained The Streak.

Compounding the problems caused by Edwards' absence is a small playmaking puzzle which Goldman has detected among his players. "I want to see a little more offensive cohesion where we get a string of four to five passes together and get the shot off," Goldman said. "We're only getting two or three passes." Despite the team's apparent problems, Goldman said the team remains optimistic. "They're together," he said. "There are no major problems. It's always more fun when you win.

Football team falls 14-10 to St. Peter's

by Chris Barry

The Marist College football team dropped a tough one to the St. Peter's Peacocks 14-10 at Bloomsburg, N.J., last Saturday. The Peacocks scored 14 unanswered points to withstand Marist's offense.

Marist completed its scoring with two touchdowns after the teams battled to a 7-7 tie in the second period when running back Dan McGuff was barreled into the end zone from two yards out. The Red Foxes led at halftime, 11-7.

Senior noseguard and Co-captain Larry McElduff was the bright spot of the season. Two years ago he finished second in the nation in tackles, Two years ago he finished second in the nation in tackles.

Maristan's defense was not onlyaccounted for, but a little of the credit goes to the Marist offense.

"We should have beat these people," said Ryan. "They had a few, but Marist took care of those problems.

"The guys are playing strong defense, and I'm afraid of the basic man-to-man marking system we get against the St. Peter's team. We're thickening up once a man gets within 20 yards of the goal. If the defense stops the quarterback, we're all right.

Potential replacements for Edwards are Tim Fleenor, Kudril Kambarovych, Charlie Ross and Dave Sullivan, said Goldman. Compounding the problems caused by Edwards' absence is a small playmaking puzzle which Goldman has detected among his players. "I want to see a little more offensive cohesion where we get a string of four to five passes together and get the shot off," Goldman said. "We're only getting two or three passes." Despite the team's apparent problems, Goldman said the team remains optimistic. "They're together," he said. "There are no major problems. It's always more fun when you win.

Marist College Women's Tennis Coach Terry Jackrel credits a solid team effort for their success.

"We have the deepest team ever this year," said the three-year coach. "We should have beat these people, said Ryan. "They had a few, but Marist took care of those problems.

"The guys are playing strong defense, and I'm afraid of the basic man-to-man marking system we get against the St. Peter's team. We're thickening up once a man gets within 20 yards of the goal. If the defense stops the quarterback, we're all right.

Potential replacements for Edwards are Tim Fleenor, Kudril Kambarovych, Charlie Ross and Dave Sullivan, said Goldman. Compounding the problems caused by Edwards' absence is a small playmaking puzzle which Goldman has detected among his players. "I want to see a little more offensive cohesion where we get a string of four to five passes together and get the shot off," Goldman said. "We're only getting two or three passes." Despite the team's apparent problems, Goldman said the team remains optimistic. "They're together," he said. "There are no major problems. It's always more fun when you win.

"We were the best team there," said VanCarpel. "But the officiating, especially in the Holy Cross Game, was just ridiculous. After considering filing a complaint with the NCAA.

In addition to the veterans, the squad is joined by freshman newcomers Lisa Cobolmo, Kathy Forand, Renee Fogel, Delphine Higgins and Jennifer Nacif, who made the pilgrimage from Marist to LaJolla, California.

"I'm very impressed with the freshmen," said Jackrel. "I think Higgins, Fogel, and Nacif can make some immediate contributions. Sophomores Patty Donohue of Mahopac, N.Y. and Paula Forsand of Marion, Mass., complete the team.

"Fortunately, freshman Kim Andrews stepped up in and did everything Billen could do," he said. "And I really don't see us los­

"I'm very impressed with the freshmen," said Jackrel. "I think Higgins, Fogel, and Nacif can make some immediate contributions. Sophomores Patty Donohue of Mahopac, N.Y. and Paula Forsand of Marion, Mass., complete the team.

"Fortunately, freshman Kim Andrews stepped up in and did everything Billen could do," he said. "And I really don't see us los­

"I'm very impressed with the freshmen," said Jackrel. "I think Higgins, Fogel, and Nacif can make some immediate contributions. Sophomores Patty Donohue of Mahopac, N.Y. and Paula Forsand of Marion, Mass., complete the team.

"Fortunately, freshman Kim Andrews stepped up in and did everything Billen could do," he said. "And I really don't see us los­

The new schedule includes such tennis powerhouse schools as Manhattan, Fairfield, Siena, Fairfield Dickin­

"I'm very impressed with the freshmen," said Jackrel. "I think Higgins, Fogel, and Nacif can make some immediate contributions. Sophomores Patty Donohue of Mahopac, N.Y. and Paula Forsand of Marion, Mass., complete the team.

"Fortunately, freshman Kim Andrews stepped up in and did everything Billen could do," he said. "And I really don't see us los­

The new schedule includes such tennis powerhouse schools as Manhattan, Fairfield, Siena, Fairfield Dickin­

"I'm very impressed with the freshmen," said Jackrel. "I think Higgins, Fogel, and Nacif can make some immediate contributions. Sophomores Patty Donohue of Mahopac, N.Y. and Paula Forsand of Marion, Mass., complete the team.

"Fortunately, freshman Kim Andrews stepped up in and did everything Billen could do," he said. "And I really don't see us los­

The new schedule includes such tennis powerhouse schools as Manhattan, Fairfield, Siena, Fairfield Dickin­

"I'm very impressed with the freshmen," said Jackrel. "I think Higgins, Fogel, and Nacif can make some immediate contributions. Sophomores Patty Donohue of Mahopac, N.Y. and Paula Forsand of Marion, Mass., complete the team.

"Fortunately, freshman Kim Andrews stepped up in and did everything Billen could do," he said. "And I really don't see us los­

The new schedule includes such tennis powerhouse schools as Manhattan, Fairfield, Siena, Fairfield Dickin­

"I'm very impressed with the freshmen," said Jackrel. "I think Higgins, Fogel, and Nacif can make some immediate contributions. Sophomores Patty Donohue of Mahopac, N.Y. and Paula Forsand of Marion, Mass., complete the team.

"Fortunately, freshman Kim Andrews stepped up in and did everything Billen could do," he said. "And I really don't see us los­

The new schedule includes such tennis powerhouse schools as Manhattan, Fairfield, Siena, Fairfield Dickin­