Federal act may limit student loans grants

by STACEY MCDONNELL and JENNIFER RIVERA
Staff Writers

A proposed federal government act might affect the number of Marist students who are eligible for guaranteed loans and the amount of money they borrow, but the near bankruptcy of the nation's largest student loan guarantor will not, said Kevin Molloy, director of financial aid.

Molloy said the proposed Deficit Reduction Act, which sets out to trim the federal budget, may call for cuts in the federal grants and student loan program.

As a result, the amount of money for the grants and loans may be limited, and the total cash availability for loans may be decreased gradually over a period of years, Molloy said.

He said the Federal funded Pell Grant Program will probably be the first to feel the pinch if the education budget gets cut.

About 400 Marist students received Pell Grants, which also help defray the cost of tuition and other out of sources of aid for the students, he said.

Marist students will not directly be affected by the Higher Education Assistance Foundation's near bankruptcy because only two or three students historically have had a loan with the corporation, Molloy said.

And because the federal government has ordered the HEAF to guarantee this year's loans, and other loan companies offered to take additional students to cover the loss, all those who borrowed from the HEAF are safe, he said.

"Every time the media picks up the fact that financial aid is being reduced, the public changes its attitude about private college," Wood said. "It's a panic move on the part of the public, and that attitude hurts us."

He said the college has to be more aggressive when recruiting students. This year, the admissions staff and budget was increased to help implement new marketing strategies for the school.

If the act is passed, and because of HEAF's problems, the government will restrict the number and amount of loans given, and change the requirements to receive a loan, making it more difficult to borrow money.

A plan requiring parents to co-sign for the loans is still premature but being discussed among the upper levels of the loan organizations, Molloy said.

He also said that guarantee fees are now at an all-time high, but are expected to increase between 1 and 1.5 percent over the next five years.

The foundation's problems, which were announced to the Department of Higher Education in July, stem from a number of factors. HEAF lent a great deal of money to students from trade schools and community colleges, both of which are known to have high default rates, Molloy said. Marist, he said, has a low default rate.

Murray also said this is the first year students have had internships in computer information systems through his office. Working with faculty in the department such as Jerry McBride and Craig Fisher, other internship positions are being discussed, Murray said, such as a special joint project with faculty, computer science and computer information systems students.

Students hold internships this fall in accounting, business, computer arts, arts, fashion design, history, and political science.

Of the entire program, 60% are communication arts internships, he said, compared to last fall, when 61% held communications internships.

The communication arts internship program, coordinated by Professor Robert Norman, began in 1966. Since then, there has been a change in students' interests — public relations is now the most popular concentration, whereas journalism stood on top in 1973.

"I have received a lot of writing experience in my Public Relations internship, but I have also learned how to deal with deadlines and pressures experienced in any job," replies senior Kathy Schiller, an intern at IBM Poughkeepsie. Schiller prepares bulletin board notices and press releases for IBM.

"You must have a good general knowledge, be articulate and be able to write well in any job. Basically, the value of any internship program is to give students experience in a professional setting," Norman said.

"I thought the radio business was all about playing records. It certainly is not," said senior Jim Joseph, an intern at WDPH in Poughkeepsie. Joseph is being trained on the equipment in the main production room and has been splicing together previous aired radio commercials.

And for many, this hands-on experience may soon pay off. Senior Paul Bauer, an intern at WDPH/WMO News, is writing news copy for broadcasting. He is learning the ways of the radio industry.

"An internship in radio news is valuable especially for someone who has no experience or background in radio. It is all hands-on," said Bauer.

While her job may become redundant over time, Kathy says she views her work with a different perspective. "Knowing that my work will be seen by thousands of people makes a difference," said Kathy.

Terry Hosmer, a senior intern at the Culinary Institute of America, agrees: "I get a lot of experience dealing with people and the press. I didn't mind working the eight hours of overtime my first week. It was well worth it," he said.

Norman said no student should take an internship as a replacement for a class. "Take it as a test to see if it is what you want to do for the rest of your life," he said.

实习生：机会在增多

by DONNAMARIE D'ANGElico

No more snoozers and no more sweats. Business suits, briefcases and high heels are what Marist students are wearing to class. Their days are now spent beyond the Marist walls, enter into a world of experience in my Public Relations internship, but I have also learned how to deal with deadlines and pressures experienced in any job," replies senior Kathy Schiller, an intern at IBM Poughkeepsie. Schiller prepares bulletin board notices and press releases for IBM.

"You must have a good general knowledge, be articulate and be able to write well in any job. Basically, the value of any internship program is to give students experience in a professional setting," Norman said.

"I thought the radio business was all about playing records. It certainly is not," said senior Jim Joseph, an intern at WDPH in Poughkeepsie. Joseph is being trained on the equipment in the main production room and has been splicing together previous aired radio commercials.

And for many, this hands-on experience may soon pay off. Senior Paul Bauer, an intern at WDPH/WMO News, is writing news copy for broadcasting. He is learning the ways of the radio industry.

"An internship in radio news is valuable especially for someone who has no experience or background in radio. It is all hands-on," said Bauer.

While her job may become redundant over time, Kathy says she views her work with a different perspective. "Knowing that my work will be seen by thousands of people makes a difference," said Kathy.

Terry Hosmer, a senior intern at the Culinary Institute of America, agrees: "I get a lot of experience dealing with people and the press. I didn't mind working the eight hours of overtime my first week. It was well worth it," he said.

Norman said no student should take an internship as a replacement for a class. "Take it as a test to see if it is what you want to do for the rest of your life," he said.

Internships: the options are growing

by CINDY DONALDSON
Staff Writer

The Council of Student Leaders last week voted to remove Tau Kappa Epsilon from probation and to end its participation in the Student Fraternity Council.

The foundation's problems, which were announced to the Department of Higher Education in July, stem from a number of factors. HEAF lent a great deal of money to students from trade schools and community colleges, both of which are known to have high default rates, Molloy said. Marist, he said, has a low default rate.

Murray also said this is the first year students have had internships in computer information systems through his office. Working with faculty in the department such as Jerry McBride and Craig Fisher, other internship positions are being discussed, Murray said, such as a special joint project with faculty, computer science and computer information systems students.

Students hold internships this fall in accounting, business, computer arts, arts, fashion design, history, and political science.

Of the entire program, 60% are communication arts internships, he said, compared to last fall, when 61% held communications internships.

The communication arts internship program, coordinated by Professor Robert Norman, began in 1966. Since then, there has been a change in students' interests — public relations is now the most popular concentration, whereas journalism stood on top in 1973.

"I have received a lot of writing experience in my Public Relations internship, but I have also learned how to deal with deadlines and pressures experienced in any job," replies senior Kathy Schiller, an intern at IBM Poughkeepsie. Schiller prepares bulletin board notices and press releases for IBM.

"You must have a good general knowledge, be articulate and be able to write well in any job. Basically, the value of any internship program is to give students experience in a professional setting," Norman said.

"I thought the radio business was all about playing records. It certainly is not," said senior Jim Joseph, an intern at WDPH in Poughkeepsie. Joseph is being trained on the equipment in the main production room and has been splicing together previous aired radio commercials.

And for many, this hands-on experience may soon pay off. Senior Paul Bauer, an intern at WDPH/WMO News, is writing news copy for broadcasting. He is learning the ways of the radio industry.

"An internship in radio news is valuable especially for someone who has no experience or background in radio. It is all hands-on," said Bauer.

While her job may become redundant over time, Kathy says she views her work with a different perspective. "Knowing that my work will be seen by thousands of people makes a difference," said Kathy.

Terry Hosmer, a senior intern at the Culinary Institute of America, agrees: "I get a lot of experience dealing with people and the press. I didn't mind working the eight hours of overtime my first week. It was well worth it," he said.

Norman said no student should take an internship as a replacement for a class. "Take it as a test to see if it is what you want to do for the rest of your life," he said.

During its probation TKE members served 1,000 community service hours — 160 hours more than the 840 they were required to serve.

The fraternity was involved in the Special Olympics, raising money for the Marist Fund drive, making tie-dyes during Earth Day at Marist, cleaning parts of campus several times, parking cars for The American Cancer Society, among others.

...See TKE page 2

Cars towed

Four cars were towed from campus since the second phase of the new parking policy went in effect last Tuesday, said Joseph Leary, director of the Office of Safety and Security.

The cars were taken because they had no parking stickers at all — or because they were in the wrong lot, Leary said.

No vehicle has been towed because it had the necessary sticker, but was parked in the wrong lot, said Leary.

About 18 cars were towed from the Marist East and Skinnies' lots by the owners of those buildings, said Leary. Students have been nosing the lots as substitutes for on-campus parking, he said.

Leary said vehicles parked in the improper lots will soon be towed at the student's expense.

Recovering a towed car usually costs between $55 and $65, according to Leary. He said additional fees could be charged for storage of the vehicle.

Matt Ward
‘Good Fellas,’ perhaps the best of Scorsese

_The Circle, Odds & Ends_ September 27, 1990

It took 16 years, but Martin Scorsese finally got around to adapting his favorite book, the true story of New York gangster Henry Hill. Hill spent his early life in the streets of Brooklyn, before making his way up the ladder to become a major player in the organized crime world. His memoir, _Wiseguy_ , was published in 1985 and became a bestseller, inspiring Scorsese to embark on this project.

To Christopher Lang

_Marist Staff Writer_

Greek Life

_Greek life means to have found a home at Marist._

Scorsese, whose films have often explored the world of organized crime, wanted to adapt _Wiseguy_ for the big screen. The final result is a masterpiece that has won critical acclaim and earned several Oscar nominations for its stunning visual style and powerful performances.

Scorsese's use of real-life crime stories as inspiration for his films is not new. He has been known to draw on his own experiences growing up in New Jersey and his family's involvement in organized crime to create some of his most iconic works. _The Godfather_ and _Goodfellas_ are just two examples of this.

Interest in frats and sorors on the rise

_Alander, Marist College's Dean of Student Activities, said..._

As more and more students are looking for a sense of community and belonging, the popularity of fraternities and sororities is on the rise. At Marist College, the number of students active in these organizations has increased by 30% over the past five years. This is due in part to the college's efforts to create a more inclusive and diverse campus culture.

Hard Work?...Easy Money!

_Publisher: LISA DAWSON_

_Syracuse University has issued a call for ___ sponsors to support the___.

Syracuse University is now looking for sponsors to help fund their students' projects and initiatives. With the help of these sponsors, the university hopes to continue to provide a high-quality education to its students and promote research in various fields.

Print journalism receives $50,000

_The Circle, Odds & Ends_ September 27, 1990

A former publisher of the Poughkeepsie Journal has endowed three scholarships to students at his alma mater, Marist College. The gift of $50,000 will be used to support students in the fields of journalism and communications.

Freshmen: Life in the dorms isn’t all it’s cracked up to be

_Dan Hull News Editor_

_While many incoming freshmen at Marist East were looking forward to living in their own dorm rooms, some were surprised to find that dorm life is not as glamorous as they had imagined._

Despite the allure of having a private space to call your own, many freshmen found that dorm life presented its own challenges. The limited space, shared bathrooms, and noise levels were just a few of the factors that made living in a dorm difficult for some students.

TKE...Continued from page 1

_The Cluster, Odds & Ends_ September 27, 1990

_The new chapter of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity will be..._

The new chapter of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity will be forming at Marist College. The fraternity will focus on providing a supportive community for its members, with a focus on leadership and service.

Up to Date

_The Marist College Liberal Arts Program presents “Carneen” in Donnelly Center._

_The Office of Student Affairs presents “A Time for Miracles”._

_The Office of Student Affairs will also sponsor a screening of the film “The Perfect Storm.”_

_Sunday Parents’ Weekend “Comedians” “Jim Mendrinos and Joyce Glasser” will appear in the River Room at 9:30 p.m. Admission is free._

_Sunday Parents’ Weekend “Comedians” “Jim Mendrinos and Joyce Glasser” will appear in the River Room at 9:30 p.m. Admission is free._

To 27

Scott Dalp and Joe Kendal, both senior, check out 27 and handle keys for the 27 Society last Friday night.

_The River Station, 25 Main St., Poughkeepsie._

Volunteer to help build new facilities and financial support for future projects.

_The cluster is a new student organization that has formed at Marist College. The group hopes to provide a supportive community for its members, with a focus on leadership and service._

Search for accommodations?

_The Circle, Odds & Ends_ September 27, 1990

_The Office of Student Affairs will also sponsor a screening of the film “The Perfect Storm.”_
Study shows students lack knowledge

At Marist, Jan about everyone among the leaving Marist. He/She knew the strict Dues stood Head.

According to a Gallup national average of 24 percent of students knew when Columbus discovered America. The average college senior is indicators that students may not be as culturally literate compared with some national averages.

In the survey said they were embarrassed at how much they didn't know. The survey said they were embarrassed at how much they didn't know. The survey said they were embarrassed at how much they didn't know.

Thoughts From The Shower, With Help From The Bed

DAN HOLL

[address removed] living within a 10-meter radius. My name is [address removed] and I'm a senior.

My average for the history course I'm taking was a B, but until now I haven't been able to take the test. My tribe would be classified as one of the American Indian tribes that were most successful in surviving the encounter with the Europeans.

I'm not sure if I could do it in 10 years. When I decided to go to school, I knew I couldn't do it in 10 years. Without all the extra work in school, I would have been a better student.

Each time I pick the flower, my thoughts would pick up.

When I decided to go to school, I knew I couldn't do it in 10 years. Without all the extra work in school, I would have been a better student.

I was also a big brother that frequently encouraged me to push myself.

He made me into a Little Leaguer. The next day I was sore. It hurt just to breathe, and it hurt just to get out of bed. I had to do my weight lifting 12 times. Not bad, but it hurt. I learned to do my weight lifting on the bench press and on the bar and lift it 12 times. Not bad, but it hurt. I learned to do my weight lifting on the bench press and on the bar and lift it 12 times. Not bad, but it hurt.

Dan Hull is the Circle's humor columnist.

Founder's Day Luncheon

Honoring those who have helped us grow—

Marist

The 11th annual Founder's Day Luncheon was held in the River Room late Tuesday, honoring Marist employees who have given 20 years of service.

The event, held every September, celebrates the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Maine College Charter, on September 21, 1946.

According to the Maine College Foundation, an educational fund that supports the work of the college, 207 employees have given 20 years of service.

John Uecker, chief operating officer of Marist College, presented the awards to each of the 207 employees.

Scott J. Brown, provost, and Dr. Robert M. Weiss, president of Marist College, introduced the awardees.

The luncheon, which was attended by 500 people, included a special recognition of the 60th anniversary of the Maine College Charter.

The luncheon, which was attended by 500 people, included a special recognition of the 60th anniversary of the Maine College Charter.

The luncheon, which was attended by 500 people, included a special recognition of the 60th anniversary of the Maine College Charter.

The luncheon, which was attended by 500 people, included a special recognition of the 60th anniversary of the Maine College Charter.

The luncheon, which was attended by 500 people, included a special recognition of the 60th anniversary of the Maine College Charter.

The luncheon, which was attended by 500 people, included a special recognition of the 60th anniversary of the Maine College Charter.
College knowledge

Life and Death in the Poison Apple

Questions: Where is the most dangerous place in the world for Americans to travel? What are the most pertinent here: Looking for the easy money or the potential for a humanitarian cause? Knowledge isn't something that comes easily. May have, besides being a bit of a prude, be a bit of a. Central America, you say? None of the major universities in the region contain parts, great for that! Here's something we're accustomed to. No more dangerous place than Central America. You'll find a b. It has its🕐 and it can be difficult, but it is important to know about.

SHEA

It's gonna be such a pile of disappearances, we're not going to mention anything. That's the way life is.

A lot of students think that they don't know what they're doing after graduation. That's great! They give you the unique opportunity to be in the classroom, to learn, to grow, to change. There's really nothing else that can be said. Who needs to look into the future? The future is already here. It's in your hand, and it's important to know about.

Editor's Notebook

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

Letter Policy

The Circle welcomes letters to the editor. All letters must be typed and signed and must include the writer's phone number and address. Letters should be no more than 300 words. The Circle reserves the right to edit for style and space. The Circle attempts to publish all the letters it receives but reserves the right to edit letters for matters of style, length, and libel. Short letters are preferred.

Lettets To The Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.

Editor

Pol sci Call for students support

Athlete calls for student support

The pros and cons of an upperclassmen's bash: the 21 Society

CRITICAL VIEWPOINT

SHEA

Let's Go Red Foxes.

While I was enjoying this new- 21 Society

At the time of writing, there are 21 societies at Marist College. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the college and are run by students. These organizations provide a variety of opportunities for students to become involved in campus life. The 21 Society is one of the most popular organizations at Marist College and is known for its social events and parties. The pros and cons of attending a bash organized by the 21 Society are discussed in this article.
SPONSORED BY SUNY OSWEGO

humanities & civilization is designed to provide students with an inter­ tread in the theatre productions. INTERNATIONAL BROADCASTING: (OFFERED courses including history, art, literature social & political science, etc.

BARCELONA, SPAIN

Courses in a broad area of academic disciplines in Chinese.

UNIVERSITY OF PUERTO RICO - Mayaguez Campus An exchange of its equivalent. Instruction in Spanish.

Study Tour of Historical Britain (3 credits)

Meet four days a week for classes, go on field trips, observe and critique plays, attend the Shakespeare Festival, & explore more of the UK

SCOTLAND, ENGLAND & WALES (16 days/early June)

Students should have completed at least four semesters of Spanish or

60 Story starter

59 Root edges

58 Type of root

51 XXXVI minus XXXIII

44 Macys and Gimbels

10 Past tense: Abv

27 Type of instrument

37 Laugh track sounds

38 Frosts the cake

1 Music with a deal

We Guarantee Lowest Available

ALL MARIST STUDENTS

WHEN NEEDED

New courses

set in Kiev

for winter

LETTERS

Student fights red tape

Edition:

This semester, some take electives in communications.

This year it'll be easier to get through college. Because

AT&T Student Saver Plus. This

Student will be staying in a hotel room, which is quite roomy. The room is furnished with a bed and a desk and chair. I enjoy the room very much, and I think would recommend it to others.

This semester I will be taking

Spanish and French courses.

These Experiential Learning

courses will be offered by Currier

House, Hartman House, and

Alumni House.

SPAIN (9 and 10 weeks)

Spanish Language & Culture (6 credits)

Contemporary British Culture (3 credits)

Two weeks in Paris, next week was学修日. Followed by a weekend in London. Study and Indoors in St. Blaize, the "famed City of Poetry;"

France & Spanish language and culture (6 credits)

EOG Kaili, the St. Maartins Inn, in June, the "Avalon of Art History;"

These Experiential Learning

courses will be offered by Currier

House, Hartman House, and

Alumni House.

Spain, France, and Italy

The language of instruction will be English in a special academic program. Students are required to enroll in the Chinese language and we will be able to use courses taught in English are also available.

studied one joint lecture with Soviet students," said Myers, "this year students making the trip to Kiev.

said Norkeliunas.

It is an educational two-week trip."

Many students here would like to try and do something about it,

but they have little or no

feedback from the department.

I really do like this school, but I still have a lot of room for improvement. I hope that some day, when the school really makes an effort to improve,

I will be able to continue

there. As of now, I am unsure if I will remain.

Despite what people may think,

Marist has the potential to be a great school. It is up to the students to make it as good as possible. I hope that in the near future, Marist will be a school that is respected and feared.

I would like to see Marist improve in the future, and I think that it is possible.

I hope that Marist will continue to improve in the future. I believe that Marist has the potential to be a great school, and I hope that it will continue to improve in the future.

I really do like this school,

but I still have a lot of room for improvement. I hope that someday, when the school really makes an effort to improve, I will be able to continue there.

As of now, I am unsure if I will remain at Marist. I think that it is possible that I will remain at

Marist, but I am not sure. I hope that in the near future, Marist will be a school that is respected and feared. I would like to see Marist improve in the future, and I think that it is possible. I hope that in the near future, Marist

will be a school that is respected

and feared. I would like to see Marist improve in

the future, and I think that it is possible. I hope

that in the near future, Marist

will be a school that is respected

and feared. I would like to see Marist improve in

the future, and I think that it is possible.

New phone system boosts speed, quality

by DENISE DECCOCO
Staff Writer

The new telephone system is designed to be faster and more reliable than the old one. It will allow for easier access to services and will be more user-friendly. The old system was difficult to use and required more time to complete tasks. The new system will eliminate many of these issues and provide a more convenient experience for users.

The system was installed in January and will be fully operational by the end of March. It includes a number of features that will improve the user experience, such as call waiting, call forwarding, and call screening. The new system will also allow users to access voicemail messages more easily.

The benefits of the new system are expected to be significant, including increased productivity and efficiency for users. The system will also be more secure, with improved call authentication and encryption.

Overall, the new telephone system is a major improvement over the old one. It will provide users with a faster, more reliable, and more user-friendly experience. The system will be rolled out gradually to ensure a smooth transition for all users.
Frustration begins to set in for diehard fan

I get real frustrated this time of year.

There are different reasons. One is the fact that I'm back at school and have a ton of work to do.

Then there is the weather factor. I hate the cold. I hate the ice and I hate wearing thickness.

Because I live by the ocean, I consider myself a summer guy. Basically, I just like being outdoors on a bright, sunny day. I love the sun and the water.

My summer mornings consist of religiously reading the previous night's newspapers. When the afternoon paper comes out, I do the same. I don't know how other fans do it.

I love to watch any game, it doesn't matter who is playing. However, the team I root for the most has a tremendous sense of history and tradition.

The Boston Red Sox.

You haven't experienced baseball until you have watched a Sox game in beautiful Fenway Park.

Walking into Fenway Park is like walking into heaven. The beautiful green and the old bleachers, the good old fashioned way of watching a game.

When taking in a game, I generally stay for all 9 innings.

My summer mornings consist of religiously reading the previous night's newspapers. When the afternoon paper comes out, I do the same. I don't know how other fans do it.

I love to watch any game, it doesn't matter who is playing. However, the team I root for the most has a tremendous sense of history and tradition.

The Boston Red Sox.

You haven't experienced baseball until you have watched a Sox game in beautiful Fenway Park.

Walking into Fenway Park is like walking into heaven. The beautiful green and the old bleachers, the good old fashioned way of watching a game.

When taking in a game, I generally stay for all 9 innings.

My summer mornings consist of religiously reading the previous night's newspapers. When the afternoon paper comes out, I do the same. I don't know how other fans do it.

I love to watch any game, it doesn't matter who is playing. However, the team I root for the most has a tremendous sense of history and tradition.

The Boston Red Sox.