Swinging into action

Not your typical N. Road residents

Property lines aren’t the only things that separate houses

by BETH CONRAD
Senior Editor

They are the sole survivors. Anna and John Manfredi have lived at 67 North Road for 55 years — the only house left on North Road that does not hold Marist students as transient guests.

Mrs. Manfredi, 74, and Mr. Manfredi, 83, sit on their front porch and recall the good and the bad that came along with living amongst Marist students.

“They’re not bad this year,” said Mrs. Manfredi. “I hope they stay that way.”

Looking at the houses next to theirs, Mrs. Manfredi remembers a time when they had problems with the students.

“The first time they moved in about 10 years ago, they knocked our fence down, and those parties would go on until three or four in the morning,” Mrs. Manfredi said.

Manfredi laughs and adds, “What do they go to college for, drinking on Friday nights?”

Mrs. Manfredi points to the house on her left and recalls one party about five years ago when they had to call the police.

There were about 80 people and when the cops came, the kids started coming out in lines, she said. “My God, we thought they were soldiers; where did they put them all?” she said. “It was bad.”

Despite their problems over the years, the Manfredi’s have had some good experiences with Marist students.

“One year, some of the boys left a note on our porch saying we were the nicest neighbors they ever had,” said Mrs. Manfredi.

Manfredi said this year one of the boys came over to introduce himself and shake hands.

“We can’t condemn them all,” he said. “Some of them are very nice.”

With the widening of Route 9 set to take place next year, the Manfredi’s will lose their house; the other houses and businesses on North Road from the gas station to Skinner’s will also be removed.

Manfredi, a retired carpenter, built their house himself.

“We’re really going to miss it,” he said.

The Manfredi’s don’t know where they will live when their house is taken because they are still waiting for an appraisal from the state.

“We just have to wait and see,” ...see MANFREDI page 2 ▶

Faculty studies plan to restructure divisions

by APRIL M. AMONICA
Staff Writer

Linda Cool sees Marist’s development in human terms. “Marist is like an adolescent — it grows in spurts,” says Cool, assistant vice president of academic affairs at Marist College.

The problem is that its arms are too long for its sleeves and its legs are too long for its pants, according to Cool.

Because of these growth problems, the Marist faculty is considering proposals that would eliminate the college’s current academic divisions and create smaller departments, including a separate department of communication arts.

Currently, the college is organized into six divisions headed by a chairperson appointed by the administration. Communication arts, rather than being a separate unit, is one of several areas of study now in the Division of Arts and Letters.

Any change in the college’s academic structure would have to be approved by the board of trustees.

While the faculty’s proposal has not specified what academic areas would qualify as separate departments, the faculty in communication arts has officially requested that it be one of the new departments.

Under some proposals being considered by the faculty, faculty members in an academic area would elect one of their members to serve a three-year term as chairperson.

Faculty members want leaders who are more responsive to the concerns of specific disciplines, said Dr. Richard Flatt, communications arts coordinator.

The plan allows for more direct communication and decision making with the Academic Vice President Marco van der Heyden for “people working in the trenches,” said Flatt.

“The elected chair would be more responsive and accountable to the faculty as a faculty member rather than as an appointed administrator,” Flatt stated in a memo sent to the faculty’s Academic Affairs Committee.

A growing concern among communication arts faculty about the current division structure’s lack of effectiveness has been highlighted according to Cool, who is acting chair for the Division of Arts and Letters.

“The Division of Arts and Letters includes a variety of disciplines — communications, English, foreign language and fashion design — which make strange bedfellows,” Cool said.

Cool pointed out, however, that faculty in some current divisions remain content with the present organization of disciplines.

Academic restructuring of divisions and the election of faculty chairpersons topped the Faculty Executive Committee’s agenda for discussion, according to Dr. Vincent Toscano, chairman of the committee.

“Toscano said.

The goal created between faculty and administration could be realizing a common vision of the changing status of the chairperson,” Toscano said.

The faculty’s proposal would advocate for the faculty and bring their concerns to the administration instead of having been sent down the ranks, Toscano said.

“The chair was greatly underutilized of the faculty to call the meetings, and then the chair was designated the president of the faculty to call the meetings, and then the chair was designated the faculty chairperson,” Toscano said.

While they may solve their immediate problems, the move would...

...see page 2 ▶

by MEGAN MCDONNELL
Senior Editor

Five students, originally suspended from school for holding an off-campus party where alcohol was served to minors, have had their disciplinary sanctions reduced to probation and community service, according to a letter sent to the students by the dean of student affairs.

The students, who are all members of the fraternity Tau Kappa Epsilon, will be on disciplinary probation until May.

None of the hospitality was linked to the off-campus party which resulted in the five students being suspended.

Since each of the five students was in TKE, the college is also considering disciplinary action against the fraternity.

Peter Amato, assistant dean of student affairs, said he could not comment on individual cases.

Although his charter was not revoked as a result of this episode, the fraternity is under investigation, according to Gerard Cox, vice president and dean of student affairs.

“TKE has had a rocky relationship and we’d like to take a look at what their history has been,” Cox said.

According to senior Ryan McEntee, a TKE member from Breezy Point, N.Y., college administrators are responsible for the rocky relationship between the fraternity and the school.

“They were listened to in a sense, but they were also watched on too closely and loved it when we did anything wrong,” said McEntee.

“...see page A1 ▶

MEGAN MCDONNELL
Senior Editor

Five students, originally suspended from school for holding an off-campus party where alcohol was served to minors, have had their disciplinary sanctions reduced to probation and community service, according to a letter sent to the students by the dean of student affairs.

The students, who are all members of the fraternity Tau Kappa Epsilon, will be on disciplinary probation until May.

None of the hospitality was linked to the off-campus party which resulted in the five students being suspended.

Since each of the five students was in TKE, the college is also considering disciplinary action against the fraternity.

Peter Amato, assistant dean of student affairs, said he could not comment on individual cases.

Although his charter was not revoked as a result of this episode, the fraternity is under investigation, according to Gerard Cox, vice president and dean of student affairs.

“TKE has had a rocky relationship and we’d like to take a look at what their history has been,” Cox said.

According to senior Ryan McEntee, a TKE member from Breezy Point, N.Y., college administrators are responsible for the rocky relationship between the fraternity and the school.

“They were listened to in a sense, but they were also watched on too closely and loved it when we did anything wrong,” said McEntee.

“...see page A1 ▶
Battle of the stars; Bart vs Brandon

ARE THESE TYPES OF QUESTIONS INSIDE YOUR HEAD?

How can I decide on a major?

I'm not sure if I chose the right one for me. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?

I'm not sure if I want to go to a career in the field. What should I do?
Foreign films shown weekly; students show little interest

by VINCENT J. ZURLO

For all the hype surrounding foreign films in recent years, the interest displayed by students at Marist seems nonexistent. Of course, not everyone is a fan of foreign films, but it seems that no one in the college community is actively trying to change this lack of interest.

The program has been around for more than 15 years, and has always been free and open to all students. The films are shown weekly, and the schedule is set in advance, so students can plan their time accordingly. The program is run by the Film Department, and is coordinated by Brother Joseph Belanger, fms.

The program has faced some challenges in the past, such as lack of funding and scheduling conflicts. However, the staff has worked hard to overcome these obstacles, and the program has continued to thrive. More recently, the program has added some new features, such as discussions after the films, which have been well-received by students.

Despite the challenges, the staff remains committed to the program, and continues to work hard to attract more students. The program is open to all students, regardless of their background or interest in foreign films.

If you're interested in attending, you can find the schedule of upcoming films on the Film Department's website. You can also email Brother Belanger with any questions you may have. The program is a great opportunity to broaden your horizons and see different perspectives through the lens of foreign films.

GRAD TOLLS CHEERS

by HOLLY WOERH

Marist alumni ring bell to celebrate the 21 Society's 25th anniversary.

This is the 25th year that the 21 Society has been in operation. The society was founded in 1966 with the goal of providing an opportunity for alumni to return to campus and celebrate their achievements.

The 21 Society was founded by a group of alumni who wanted to create a way for alumni to come back to campus and celebrate their accomplishments. The society was named after the 21 alumni who were each released on $100 bail after being arrested for public intoxication.

The society has grown significantly over the years, and now has more than 30,000 members. The society's members include alumni from all over the world, and they come back to campus for a variety of reasons, such as to celebrate their achievements or simply to reconnect with old friends.

The 21 Society's 25th anniversary was celebrated with a bell tolling ceremony, which took place on the Main Quad. The ceremony was attended by alumni, students, and staff, and it was a great opportunity to celebrate the society's milestone.

Alumni return to Marist for homecoming

by VINCENT J. ZURLO

Staff Writer

Alumni return to Marist for homecoming festivities every week this semester. There will be no parades, no cheerleaders, and absolutely no mandatory reunions. Alumni are reminded that this is a time to simply enjoy the sporting events, and not to be too concerned with the logistics of attending the games.

The highlight of the weekend will be the Homecoming football game, which will be played at the new Marist football field. The game will be a sellout, and attendance is expected to be around 15,000.

Do not bring your school ID to the game, as it will not be allowed. The university has been working hard to ensure that the game is as safe and enjoyable as possible, and the staff is confident that they have done a great job.

Red shirt and gold tie is the official uniform for the game, and the maroon and gold colors are to be worn throughout the entire stadium.

The Homecoming football game will be followed by the Homecoming dance, which will be held in the Student Center. The dance will feature live music, food, and drinks, and it is expected to be a great opportunity for alumni to reconnect with old friends.

In addition to the football game and dance, there will be a variety of other events taking place throughout the weekend, including a reunions dinner, a golf tournament, and a dinner dance.

The events are all expected to be well-attended, and alumni are encouraged to attend as many as they can.

Donnelly rededication set

by CAREY ALLABAND

The College Activities Office for Marist's Athletic Department and the Administration have been working hard to ensure that the 21 Society's 25th anniversary is celebrated in style.

The Rededication ceremony will take place on October 10th, and it will be a great opportunity for alumni to come together and celebrate their achievements.

The ceremony will begin at 10:00 a.m., and it will feature a variety of activities, including a bell tolling ceremony, a toast, and a special address by President Xander. The ceremony will be followed by a reception, where alumni can mingle and socialize.

In addition to the Rededication ceremony, there will be a variety of other events taking place throughout the weekend, including a dinner dance, a golf tournament, and a reunions dinner.

The events are all expected to be well-attended, and alumni are encouraged to attend as many as they can.
The Circle

October 10, 1991

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Pass or Fail: What to do with the arms reduction proposal

The recent arms reduction proposals are sponsored by President Bush and Gorbachev. After praised abroad and at home, the proposals have met with controversy. Among the controversial issues is the extent to which the proposals reduce arms.

Deliberations over the arms reduction proposals have focused on the feasibility and practicality of implementing them. These concerns are legitimate and deserve serious consideration. However, the proposals are not devoid of merit. They offer a promising approach to reducing arms, and their implementation would be a significant step toward a safer world.

The proposals include measures such as limiting the number of nuclear warheads and reducing the number of delivery systems for nuclear weapons. These measures would help reduce the risk of nuclear war and contribute to denuclearization in the world.

A full commitment to the largest major on campus can be implemented in other ways as well. For example, it is important to have the students' best interest to have the assistant vice president of academic affairs as acting chair for the Division of Arts and Letters.

In conclusion, let me just say again not to listen to the news like the rest of the New York papers. We will save a lot of ink, and you have a lot of responsibility. Directly,

New York sports defended

Dear Editor:

As a separate department.

I am writing a letter to the editor. The Circle welcomes all letters to the editor. Letters must be signed and submitted in writing. We reserve the right to edit submissions for length, libel, style and good taste.

Sincerely,

Mike O'Farrell, associate editor
For all you bike riders, this is the right place

by RICK DAWSON Staff Writer

Whether one has a mountain bike, a racing bike, or just a bicycle of leisure, there is one thing in common - the enjoyment of the outdoors. With many different riding possibilities throughout the Mid-Hudson region, there are plenty of places to ride and various terrains available.

Tours of various road conditions allow the rider to choose from hilly, flat, steep, and declining terrain.

"The circle of routes available allows the rider to choose from hilly, flat, steep, and declining terrain."

There are various roads that allow the rider to choose from hilly, flat, steep, and declining terrain. Some roads are perfect for mountain biking, while others are designed for leisurely rides. There are flat roads, hilly roads, and roads that require steep climbs and descents.

There is a road that allows the rider to choose from hilly, flat, steep, and declining terrain. Some roads are perfect for mountain biking, while others are designed for leisurely rides. There are flat roads, hilly roads, and roads that require steep climbs and descents.

For general information on where to bike, contact the Mid-Hudson Bicycle Club, 112 South Avenue, Poughkeepsie, or (800) 888-9999. For more information on bike clubs in the area, contact the Hudson Valley Bicycle Press, 26 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, or (800) 888-9999.

Keg bans become national trend

by MOLLY WOHER Staff Writer

Marist College is one of the many college campuses in the United States that has banned kegs from its premises. The decision was made in an effort to reduce the consumption of alcohol and to ensure a safer campus environment.

Marist College has banned kegs from its premises as part of its efforts to create a safer campus environment. The decision was made in response to concerns about the consumption of alcohol and its impact on student life.

The decision to ban kegs was made in an effort to reduce the consumption of alcohol and to ensure a safer campus environment. The decision was made in response to concerns about the consumption of alcohol and its impact on student life.

Marist College has banned kegs from its premises as part of its efforts to create a safer campus environment. The decision was made in response to concerns about the consumption of alcohol and its impact on student life.

For more information on college campuses across the country, contact the Mid-Hudson Bicycle Club, 112 South Avenue, Poughkeepsie, or (800) 888-9999.
Transfer students adjust to Marist

by MARY-GAY PROVOST
Staff Writer

Making new friends, adjusting to Marist and living at Coventry—welcome to the life of a transfer student. Casey is one of the 55 students that I still don't know about to ask my friends or learn from experience. Not here that much anyway with what I saw. It was the first time after one year, came to Marist from Pennsylvania State University-Scranton, Fla.

"The change of scenery was also in breaking, Fla. Not only did I see a new state, but also new people," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"It was originally supposed to be here in Coventry but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally supposed to be here but during the semester, I switched majors to social work because of the atmosphere."

"I've been a social work major. I wanted to be in school. I was one of 10 transfers on campus," said Casey. "I was originally suppose..."
Red Foxes win 3-0, snap scoring drought

by TED HOLMUND
Staff Writer

The soccer team broke out of its scoring slump when it notched a 3-0 victory over St. Francis, Pennsylvania last Saturday. Freshman forward Juan Favero, who hails from Buenos Aires, Argentina, led the Blue Fox attack with one goal and one assist. Sophomore Brian Rose chipped in with a goal apiece to secure the Fox Victory. Favero said the team's play — and his own — are improving with each game.

"We are passing the ball better now," he said. "And personally, I'm getting used to the American way of play.

Last Wednesday, Marist tied Iona College, 1-1. Sophomore Brian Rose scored the lone goal for the Red Foxes.

"I had a great game to turn it completely around," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

Converting more on scoring opportunities was the reason Marist beat St. Francis, said Goldman.

"We are a good control team in the history of this conference.

A win over St. Francis would give the Red Foxes a perfect record of 3-0 — earning them first place and increasing their ACFC win streak to nine games. After Brooklyn College dropped the football program, there are only three teams remaining in the conference.

Marist coach Coach Rick Pardy said his team has "great players making his second chance at winning.

"They're a good team," Pardy said. "It's going to be tough, but we are going to go after them.

Pardy said his team is going to attack St. Francis on both sides of the ball.

"We are going to bring more pressure because I think we can sack them," he said. "Offensively, I think we can continue to run the ball effectively."

Joe McCaigen, the Red Foxes defeated St. John Fisher on both sides of the ball. Defensive end tallied 13 tackles — two for a loss — and three sacks. For his efforts, the senior was named the ACFC defensive player of the week.

"Chris had a game and a half," said Pardy. "The awards are a great honor to him. He has had a great year."

Joe McCaigen, Pratt's lineunit, also notched nine tackles, one sack and a fumble recovery. Linebacker Joe Riccardi also had nine tackles. Sophomore defensive back Gaspari was picked off an errant St. John Fisher pass and returned it 12 yards for a touchdown. Offensively, the Red Foxes gained 348 yards of total offense — 231 coming on the ground.

"We played under tough conditions," said Pardy, referring to the rain storm throughout the game. "I think our production would have been even better in the second half had the field been dry.

The ground attack was fueled by three runners with more than 10 yards on 14 carries scoring three touchdowns. Sophomore tailback Don Ailuania gained 68 yards on 16 carries while scoring two touchdowns. Freshman Kyle Carraro gained 40 yards on 11 carries while sophomore Julian Wyse tallied 47 yards on 13 carries scoring one touchdown.

Four plays later, D'Aiuto fumbled, re-picked the ball, and added 29 yards for his first of three touchdowns on the day. Our second touchdown came just before halftime, McCourt threw back and lateraled the ball to flanker Dan DePietro who pulled up and connected with Dan Phelean for a 50-yard completion to set up D'Aiuto's one-yard plunge.

'Ve just didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "We didn't score enough points today, either.

The Red Sox finally made a snap scoring drought as Marist rapped out six hits and 12 runs as Marist knocked out the Mets.

"We didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "I think we can continue to hit the ball.

This three-game sweep was complete after Mariner College knocked off the Marist women by a score of 6-2. Both Wallace and Southworth saw action in this game as Mariner pounded out 12 hits to just one for Marist. The lone single came off the bat of Patty Ackerstrom.

"We are a good control team," said Wallach. "We can handle Maldonado when he is on base.

I'm just waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

Joining Atlanta on this list of great teams in the junior league. Roger Erickson are the only 20 game winners in all baseball. The Most Valuable Player Award will probably go to Joe Riccardi — the Blue Jays — won its division.

Bill Gullickson of the Tigers and Erickson are the only 20 game winners in the Junior League. Roger Clemens' league in strikeouts, ERA and innings pitched also caused voters to ponder their votes.

However, Gullickson won't win because his ERA is over 4.00. Bill Gullickson of the Tigers and Erickson are the only 20 game winners in the Junior League. Roger Clemens' league in strikeouts, ERA and innings pitched also caused voters to ponder their votes.

"Mike, I don't need a guy like Barry Bonds, who would be just a replacement, Dana Kiecker," said Gullickson.

"That, we just didn't try and get Candy Maddalena when he became available!"

"Well, you let Canditouti go to Toronto. Oh, yeah, I keep forgetting about Kiecker."

"We just didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "We didn't strike out, but we hit a lot of pop-ups."

"The most disappointing loss of the day came in game two," said Chiavelli.

"We've lost games we shouldn't have lost," Favero said. "However, we are passing the ball better now."

"I've been waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

"We've been, waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

"We didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "We didn't score enough points today, either.

"We are a good control team," he said. "We're not a good scoring team yet, but hopefully this is a step in the right direction."

Last Wednesday, Marist tied Iona College, 1-1. Sophomore Brian Rose scored the lone goal for the Red Foxes.

"I've been waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

"We've been, waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman.

Gridders notch third straight win, can clinch ACFC title Saturday

by MIKE O'FARRELL
Sports Editor

The football team will attempt to clinch the conference championship with a victory over St. Francis College this Saturday.

Marist improved its ACFC mark to 4-0 — the best mark in the conference. St. Francis is 1-3-1.

"We did great things defensively," said Pardy. "Our front nine played an incredible game in shutting down the run. The only reason I don't mention the safeties is because they had to defend against the pass."

"The defensive charge for Marist was Chris Pardy. The defense tallied nine tackles — two for a loss — and three sacks. For his efforts, the senior was named the ACFC defensive player of the week.

"We are a good control team," said Wallach. "We can handle Maldonado when he is on base.

Joining Atlanta on this list of great teams in the junior league. Roger Erickson are the only 20 game winners in all baseball. The Most Valuable Player Award will probably go to Joe Riccardi — the Blue Jays — won its division.

Bill Gullickson of the Tigers and Erickson are the only 20 game winners in the Junior League. Roger Clemens' league in strikeouts, ERA and innings pitched also caused voters to ponder their votes.

"Mike, I don't need a guy like Barry Bonds, who would be just a replacement, Dana Kiecker," said Gullickson.

"That, we just didn't try and get Candy Maddalena when he became available!"

"Well, you let Canditouti go to Toronto. Oh, yeah, I keep forgetting about Kiecker."

"We just didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "We didn't strike out, but we hit a lot of pop-ups.

"The most disappointing loss of the day came in game two," said Chiavelli.

"We've lost games we shouldn't have lost," Favero said. "However, we are passing the ball better now."

"I've been waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

Joining Atlanta on this list of great teams in the junior league. Roger Erickson are the only 20 game winners in the Junior League. Roger Clemens' league in strikeouts, ERA and innings pitched also caused voters to ponder their votes.

"Mike, I don't need a guy like Barry Bonds, who would be just a replacement, Dana Kiecker," said Gullickson.

"That, we just didn't try and get Candy Maddalena when he became available!"

"Well, you let Canditouti go to Toronto. Oh, yeah, I keep forgetting about Kiecker."

"We just didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "We didn't strike out, but we hit a lot of pop-ups.

"The most disappointing loss of the day came in game two," said Chiavelli.

"We've lost games we shouldn't have lost," Favero said. "However, we are passing the ball better now."

"I've been waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

"We've been, waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

"We didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "We didn't score enough points today, either.

"We are a good control team," he said. "We're not a good scoring team yet, but hopefully this is a step in the right direction."

Last Wednesday, Marist tied Iona College, 1-1. Sophomore Brian Rose scored the lone goal for the Red Foxes.

"I've been waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

"We've been, waiting for him to adjust to the way we play," said Goldman. "The transition from a foreign country is difficult but he is starting to come around."

"We didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "We didn't score enough points today, either.