Campus divided on releasing prof evaluations

by JENNIFER CHANDLER, Senior Editor

Faculty, students and administration have missed opinions on the college's policy of not releasing teacher evaluation results to students, but most favor the posting of course outlines prior to registration, according to interviews conducted by The Circle.

"If we're going to make any serious use of evaluations, then they have to be made available," said William Olson, chairman of the Faculty Executive Committee from 1985-87.

Teacher evaluations, filled out by students at the end of each semester, are reviewed by administration to determine the effectiveness of the teacher, content and textbooks.

"I think they should be available somewhere," said Wells. "It would give students insight on how different departments are run."

Body President Matt Thomson said as long as individual names aren't revealed, publishing evaluation results would not be a good indicator of which divisions need attention.

However, some said they believe releasing evaluations will not help students.

Vice President, chairman of the Faculty Executive Committee, said evaluation results should not be made available because the evaluation was designed for the faculty to use and doesn't answer the questions students want to know.

"We designed the questionnaire primarily to ask the students to act as reporters," said Thomson. "They provide the professionals with a way of seeing what goes on in class."

Students want to know which courses to take based upon how hard a teacher is or how much work he assigns; these questions aren't answered by the questionnaire, said Thomson who is also an associate professor of history.

Some members of the administration favor posting evaluation results only if they are assured that students take them seriously.

"Ninety-five percent of Marist students take evaluations seriously, but it's still that small percentage which raises questions about everyone else's honesty and makes it difficult to know how to read or interpret evaluations," said Cool, who is also acting chairwoman of the division of arts and letters.

Students need to know their comments on the evaluations are being taken seriously so they will take more time to fill them out honestly, said Olson, who is also a professor of history.

"I've heard students say no one pays attention to the evaluations," said Olson. "If students think the value of their evaluations is low, then they won't be used for anything, then what the students write won't be useful."

Freshman might not take evaluations seriously, but juniors and seniors want to know what a particular teacher is like. As a result, they would be more honest on the evaluations, said Madeline Falcone.

According to Toscano, evaluations are a crucial link in determining teachers' salary and promotion.

"They aren't the only means to judge a faculty member, but they are an important mean," said Toscano.

AARON D. WARD, Staff Writer

Brother Edward Michael (center) is flanked by returning Marist Brothers who helped build Donnelly Hall.

"There would be less students using the evaluations because if they are an evaluation and students using it to convey honesty and constructive criticism," said Molloy.

Students might also be more seriously if the evaluations were handed out in the beginning of the year.

"Most evaluations are handed out at the end of the class. If I were a student, I'd want to fill it out and get the hell out of class," said Olson. "If I had time outside the beginning end of the semester, I'd look at the evaluation and see how others felt, and then hang up, and possibly prosecute them."

Jim Raimo, director of Safety and Security has made phone installation this year, but the new phones in all the dormitories where a new phone system has been installed this year, but the new phones are a cause of callers.

"There are a few things that is not public knowledge," said Belanger.

According to Toscano, evaluations are a crucial link in determining teachers' salary and promotion.

AARON D. WARD, Staff Writer

Brother Edward Michael (center) is flanked by returning Marist Brothers who helped build Donnelly Hall.

"I think they should be available somewhere," said Thomson who is also an associate professor of history.

Some members of the administration favor posting evaluation results only if they are assured that students take them seriously.

"Ninety-five percent of Marist students take evaluations seriously, but it's still that small percentage which raises questions about everyone else's honesty and makes it difficult to know how to read or interpret evaluations," said Cool, who is also acting chairwoman of the division of arts and letters.

Students need to know their comments on the evaluations are being taken seriously so they will take more time to fill them out honestly, said Olson, who is also a professor of history.

"I've heard students say no one pays attention to the evaluations," said Olson. "If students think the value of their evaluations is low, then they won't be used for anything, then what the students write won't be useful."

Freshman might not take evaluations seriously, but juniors and seniors want to know what a particular teacher is like. As a result, they would be more honest on the evaluations, said Madeline Falcone.

According to Toscano, evaluations are a crucial link in determining teachers' salary and promotion.

"They aren't the only means to judge a faculty member, but they are an important mean," said Toscano.

AARON D. WARD, Staff Writer

President Dennis J. Murray welcomed the Marist Brothers during his opening remarks at the Donnelly Rededication ceremony on Saturday, Oct. 12.

Many Marist Brothers, wearing buttons that said "The Donnelly Construction Crew," attended the four-hour ceremony which re-dedicated Donnelly Hall to the original Marist-Brothers builders.

Speeches by Andrew Molloy, chairperson of the science division, Michael Talley, a former math teacher, Mark Sullivan, executive vice president, Brother Edward Michael, president of the "Donnelly Construction Crew" and Brother Paul Ambrone, former president of Marist College, summed up the changes to the building, which had been a hub of activity and remains the centerpiece of the College, remarked Sullivan to the crowd of about 50 people gathered in the Donnelly atrium.

"It is a privilege to re-dedicate Donnelly Hall to the original builders," said Sullivan.

Brother Joseph Cagley, F.M., professor of French at Marist, recalled building Donnelly.

"This used to be a wood and brick building and marl and sand and the 30-foot holes are all the building were strong enough to hold the building and the fourth story," said Belanger.

see REDEDICATION page 3

New dorm phones bring wave of harassment

by JOY SANCHEZ, Staff Writer

He called three times; breathing hard, leaving messages; then hanging up, and a row of dorm phones bring a wave of harassment.

Many Marist Brothers, wearing buttons that said "The Donnelly Construction Crew," attended the four-hour ceremony which re-dedicated Donnelly Hall to the original Marist-Brothers builders.

Speeches by Andrew Molloy, chairperson of the science division, Michael Talley, a former math teacher, Mark Sullivan, executive vice president, Brother Edward Michael, president of the "Donnelly Construction Crew" and Brother Paul Ambrone, former president of Marist College, summed up the changes to the building, which had been a hub of activity and remains the centerpiece of the College, remarked Sullivan to the crowd of about 50 people gathered in the Donnelly atrium.

"It is a privilege to re-dedicate Donnelly Hall to the original builders," said Sullivan.

Brother Joseph Cagley, F.M., professor of French at Marist, recalled building Donnelly.

"This used to be a wood and brick building and marl and sand and the 30-foot holes are all the building were strong enough to hold the building and the fourth story," said Belanger.

see REDEDICATION page 3

Students urged to take care with codes

by KEITH SOUTAR, Staff Writer

The access-code system used in the Marist telephone service has caused suicides and forced students to have phones in all the dormitories.

"Donnelly Hall has always been a center of the College, remarked Sullivan to the crowd of about 50 people gathered in the Donnelly atrium.

"It is a privilege to re-dedicate Donnelly Hall to the original builders," said Sullivan.

Brother Joseph Cagley, F.M., professor of French at Marist, recalled building Donnelly.

"This used to be a wood and brick building and marl and sand and the 30-foot holes are all the building were strong enough to hold the building and the fourth story," said Belanger.

see REDEDICATION page 3

THE CIRCLE

OCTOBER 24, 1991

VOLUME 39, NUMBER 5
MARIST COLLEGE, POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y.
Opportunities abound at job expo

CRISTA RAAB
Staff Writer

A job expo ranging from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Oct. 30, will be held in the Student Center. It is a one-stop shopping experience for students to apply for jobs in their fields, meet employers, talk about academic programs and get information about post-graduate opportunities.

The expo is a one-stop shopping experience for students to apply for jobs in their fields, meet employers, talk about academic programs and get information about post-graduate opportunities.

Critics Corner

BRIAN MCNIELIS

Opportunities abound at job expo

As good as Denise Washington is an actor, her role is still that of an actress. The actress you see on television and film is one of the many talents she possesses.

In the beginning of the film, when the character of Denise Washington is depicted, she is seen in the movie script. As a result, her performance, as well as her dialogue, is in a great performance. The end of the film, however, the actress has not been able to develop a character as a result of her performance.

The jobs’ merit action comes hand-in-hand with very well and are very satisfying.

The many different opportunities available, pick up a copy of the resume, enclose it with a letter or resume, and the student can find work. The expo is a one-stop shopping experience for students to apply for jobs in their fields, meet employers, talk about academic programs and get information about post-graduate opportunities.

Play spots comedy

MEGAN MCDONNELL
Senior Editor

A British actor, she's a character actor for the younger audience. In the movie, she is the one who used to work for producers, then became an assistant D.A. Later, she doubles and moonlights as a lawyer while her daughters are in college.

The plot of the play is a thriller, it's a mystery, but it's also an action film. The movie progresses, as the character of Denise Washington is depicted, she is seen in the movie script. As a result, her performance, as well as her dialogue, is in a great performance. The end of the film, however, the actress has not been able to develop a character as a result of her performance.

Students sick of being sick

JENN JOHANNESSEN

Students who were sick during the semester may have to take their classes at home and won't be able to return to the campus.

Students who were sick during the semester may have to take their classes at home and won't be able to return to the campus.

Fashion to go European

MARIS GARCIA

Marist signs on foreign designers

By NOELLE BELON Staff Writer

Recent changes and establishing elaborations in Milan Europe. This is the reason why foreign designers are beginning to sign on names like Armani, who is known for his big fashion show, and Versace, who is considered a designer for the world of high fashion.

Although "Kinchin" has problems, it is a very well known and respected designer in the fashion industry.

Commuters explain their frustrations from campus life

By JOHN MCAULIFFE

Commuter students varying their schedules to meet the demands of the day, but part of their commute is still the same. Balad, howbeit, as in other countries, is a small town, where the commuters have to make up their minds about the commute.

Some students said it will not be successful if they become assistant D.A. Lithgow then becomes assistant D.A. Later, she doubles and moonlights as a lawyer while her daughters are in college.

The play is also well received by the audience, as well as the critics.

Fashion to go European

Marist signs on foreign designers

By NOELLE BELON

Recent changes and establishing elaborations in Milan Europe. This is the reason why foreign designers are beginning to sign on names like Armani, who is known for his big fashion show, and Versace, who is considered a designer for the world of high fashion.

Although "Kinchin" has problems, it is a very well known and respected designer in the fashion industry.

Commuters explain their frustrations from campus life

By JOHN MCAULIFFE

Commuter students varying their schedules to meet the demands of the day, but part of their commute is still the same. Balad, howbeit, as in other countries, is a small town, where the commuters have to make up their minds about the commute.

Some students said it will not be successful if they become assistant D.A. Lithgow then becomes assistant D.A. Later, she doubles and moonlights as a lawyer while her daughters are in college.

The play is also well received by the audience, as well as the critics.

Fashion to go European

Marist signs on foreign designers

By NOELLE BELON

Recent changes and establishing elaborations in Milan Europe. This is the reason why foreign designers are beginning to sign on names like Armani, who is known for his big fashion show, and Versace, who is considered a designer for the world of high fashion.

Although "Kinchin" has problems, it is a very well known and respected designer in the fashion industry.

Commuters explain their frustrations from campus life

By JOHN MCAULIFFE

Commuter students varying their schedules to meet the demands of the day, but part of their commute is still the same. Balad, howbeit, as in other countries, is a small town, where the commuters have to make up their minds about the commute.

Some students said it will not be successful if they become assistant D.A. Lithgow then becomes assistant D.A. Later, she doubles and moonlights as a lawyer while her daughters are in college.

The play is also well received by the audience, as well as the critics.
Debate team captures title; aims for another winning year

by VINCENT J. ZULRO

Poughkeepsie Journal

Marty Debiato, the Marist Debate Team's head coach, was selected to the All-American team for his efforts this season. Debiato's team began entering the season with a 6-0 record at the Kennedy Debate Tournament in New York.

“We got to the tip of the mountain. We want to stay there.”

Springston is the debate coach at Marist College. His team has been successful in recent years, winning national and regional tournaments. The team has also been ranked in the top 10 nationally in recent years.

MIPO sponsors trip to Washington, D.C.

by BETH CONRAD Senior Editor

The Marist College Public Opinion is offering a one-time, non-renewable $2,500 grant to Marist students who participate in an internship program in Washington, D.C. The grant is designed to support students who wish to gain practical experience in the field of public opinion and related fields.

The grant is available to full-time, undergraduate students enrolled at Marist College. Students must submit a completed application by March 1, 2022.

Eligibility:

- Full-time, undergraduate students enrolled at Marist College
- A minimum GPA of 3.0
- Completion of at least two courses in the field of public opinion
- A letter of recommendation from a faculty member

Application:

- A completed application
- A letter of recommendation
- A brief personal statement

The grant will be awarded based on the strength of the application. The winner will be notified by April 1, 2022.

Applications may be submitted online at the Marist College Public Opinion website or by mail to:

Marist College
Public Opinion
1101 General Street
Poughkeepsie, NY 12602

For more information, please contact Beth Conrad at beth.conrad@marist.edu.
Lecture on Jewish traditions a broadening experience

Dr. Leonard Fein delivered a lecture on Jewish traditions, which was a part of the "Loving Another Latino" series. The lecture was held on October 30 at 9:30 pm in the college theater. This was the 15th lecture in the series, which includes a focus on Prophetic Judaism and its impact on today's society.

Dr. Fein's discourse revolved around the topic of Jewish tradition and its relationship with the modern Jew. He discussed the concept of "Legacy" and how it can be a "legacy" for others. The peak of Fein's discourse was the question: "What is the modern Jew?"

Dr. Fein concludes with the hope that the lecture on Jewish traditions will be a broadening experience for everyone involved.
DEBATE—continued from page 4

The Marist debate program has firmly taken "Evita" said Springston. "We want to know who Jim Springston is," coaches in the country. Everyone knows about the school's team competing in the tournament serve to the final rounds, when the judges.

"After the final round, the judges...continued from page 1

NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR COLD BEER

3

3

99

49

MOLSON GOLD

MOLSON

COORS

BUD CANS

RC & DIET RITE

HAMMS

OLD MILWAUKEE

PARTY SMART - PLEASE DON'T DRINK & DRIVE!

CASE

12 PACK

49 CASE

12 PACK

99¢

2 LITER

99¢

CASE

12 PACK

SALE PRICES GOOD UNTIL OCTOBER 31, 2001

PARK DISCOUNT BEVERAGE
Rte. 9, Hyde Park
229-9000
(Rt. 9 North past Culinary Institute to traffic light - on left)
Good At
Hyde Park McDonald's
Rt. 9, Hyde Park
Highland McDonald's
Rt. 9W Highland

Specials
Monday: Sports Nite
$3.50 Pitches/6 Ft. Subs
9 pm - 12
Tuesday: Ladies Nite
$5.00 - Ladies Drink FREE
10 pm - 12
Wednesday: Pitcher Nite
$3.50 Pitches 9 pm - 12

The Circle, October 24, 1991

V-ball splits weekend matches

by Andrew Holmlund
Staff Writer

The women's volleyball team will return to action tonight at the Maccabees when they host the University of Hartford and Central Connecticut State University.

Karen Wiles paced the Marist at dinner. The senior started her 15-12, 15-8, 15-10, 15-5, respectively.

However, Marist later succumbed to New Paltz in five sets, 13-15, 15-10, 11-15, 15-17, 15-12, 15-6, 11-15, 10-15.

Despite the loss to Hartford, Head Coach Pete Colaizzo said he was pleased with the continuing performance of his team. "We snatched defeat out of the jaws of victory," he said. "Their defense was key to the win."

Following close behind was the Edmonds team to two victories this weekend. The Edmonds team to three sets, 15-10, 15-8, 15-6, respectively.

The victory avenged an earlier 15-8, 15-10, 15-5, respectively.

The Red Foxes faired well against Manhattan, capturing second place by completing the 3.1 mile course in 20 minutes, 15-6, 11-15, 15-12, 15-6, 11-15, 15-12, respectively.

However, Marist later succumbed to New Paltz in five sets, 13-15, 15-12, 15-14, 11-15, 15-13.

After losing one set to one, Fowler said he was surprised to see the lead slip away. "We snatched defeat out of the jaws of victory," he said. "There was no time to rest with the game on the line."

During mid-week matches, Marcia Mitchell defeated her opponent 6-0, 6-0.

Last weekend, Marist took the lead over Manhattan College and SUNY New Paltz.

The Red Foxes defeated a team to two sets, 15-5, 15-10, 15-6, 11-15, 15-12, respectively.

However, Marist later succumbed to New Paltz in five sets, 13-15, 15-12, 15-14, 11-15, 15-13.

The sophomore gained 229 yards on 24 carries and scored two touchdowns on runs of 80 and 24 yards, respectively.

Hailing from Leonia, New Jersey, Bacigalupo has posted a career mark while playing the Atlantic Collegiate Football Conference. "Jeannine Bacigalupo

The senior finished with a time of 22 minutes, 20 seconds and captured second place in the 5-mile course with a time of 22:06.

Despite the loss to Hartford, Head Coach Phil Kelly said he was pleased with the continuing performance of his team. "It is her best time of the year," he said. "She continues to run well for us."
Bootsers fall 5-0; slump continues

by TED HOLMLUND
Staff Writer

Things haven't been easy for the soccer team as of late. The Red Foxes have not picked up a victory in their last six games. Things haven't been easy for the team, their...}

For runner, motivation is both fun and fear

by J.W. STEWART
Staff Writer

Don't tell Jen VonSuskil running is boring. For VonSuskil, one of the top runners on the women's cross country team, it is the exact opposite. “I understand why people say it's boring,” said the junior from the Oneonta State. “I can't...}

RPI ravages Red Foxes; Marist 3-4

by MIKE O'FARRELL
Sports Editor

Saturday, the football team will have a much needed day off. The Red Foxes will be idle this weekend and break up the season if they don't come back by the end of October. After putting together a three-game win streak, the Red Foxes are now in the midst of a two-game title - their second such slump of the season.

Marist was humbled 38-13 in its final home game of the season last Saturday at Leonidoff Field. The Engineers took complete control of the game in the second half.

Leading 14-13, RPI scored twice during the final two minutes of the first half. After an 80-yard touchdown run from quarterback Ron Aronson and a 30-yard field goal by John D'Auito, the Engineers took the ball on their own 33-yard line and drove 67 yards in eight plays and built up 21-13. The drive was capped off when Rip Pantolone scrambled into the end zone from seven yards out.

RPI recovered the ensuing kickoff and added two points on a field goal.

For sports fanatics, it doesn't get any better

The battle for the top is turning out to be a battle for Florida, Florida State and Miami are first and second in the polls. Florida is winning the conference.

Mike Tyson's fight against Heavyweight Champion Evander Holyfield was postponed last Friday because of a rib injury suffered by Holyfield.

This is the best thing that could have happened to Holyfield. A boxer has designed his career for this fight and Tyson, who has never lost, is not a member of the Metamor. Mike Tyson, on the other hand, is a much better fighter. Tyson faces up to 63 years in prison.

The sophomore All-American completed 15 of 25 passes for 205 yards and two touchdowns.

For his efforts, D'Auito was again named the Atlantic Collegiate Football Conference Offensive Player of the Week. He was also named to the ECAC Division 11 NY/NJ Metro Honor Roll.

Mike Tyson's fight against Heavyweight Champion Evander Holyfield was postponed last Friday because of a rib injury suffered by Holyfield.

This is the best thing that could have happened to Holyfield. A boxer has designed his career for this fight and Tyson, who has never lost, is not a member of the Metamor. Mike Tyson, on the other hand, is a much better fighter. Tyson faces up to 63 years in prison.

The sophomore All-American completed 15 of 25 passes for 205 yards and two touchdowns.

For his efforts, D'Auito was again named the Atlantic Collegiate Football Conference Offensive Player of the Week. He was also named to the ECAC Division 11 NY/NJ Metro Honor Roll.