Students test computer network

by J.W. STEWART

With the installation of a new computer system drawing near, some South End students have been testing the feasibility of connecting their personal computers to the mainframe from their dorm rooms, according to Information Center Manager Dennis Creagh.

Creagh said nine students, chosen through a lottery system conducted by Information Services, have brought their PCs to have them installed with a token ring card, a device which makes it possible to link the PC with the mainframe.

Creagh said he needed less than 20 students for the test because only 30 token ring cards were available.

In order to be eligible for the test, students had to reside at the South End of campus where the necessary fiber optic cables were already installed and own an IBM-compatible computer with a hard disk, 640 K worth of memory, 1.5 megabytes of free hard disk space and one free slot on the motherboard, said Creagh.

The same requirements will hold true next semester if students want to bring their PCs. Students on the North End of campus will have equal access to the mainframe after the dry run is completed, pointed out Creagh.

The token ring card is positioned on top of the motherboard, which lies flat inside the PC and controls the computer, explained Creagh. The PC is then plugged into a dual phone/computer jack in the wall, completing the telecommunication line.

Creagh said testing out the PC/mainframe connection will last the rest of the semester and will provide some much-needed answers.

“We are expecting them to use it and give us feedback. From that, we'll be able to fine-tune our system and have it ready for the fall. We want to work out the bugs now because this is new to us,” pointed out Creagh.

Once the dry run is completed, Creagh said one of the obstacles he and his associates will have to overcome is how to get token ring cards to students without charging them the price of a regular token ring card — $600-5800.

“The token ring cards will be available,” he said. “We just don't know how. All that is being determined.”

Updated plans for campus renovation revealed

by JULIE MARTIN

The plans for a new dormitory, townhouses and renovations for the current campus center, which may include an art gallery, continue in hopes of bringing all student residents back on campus, said Mark Sullivan, executive vice president.

The new residence hall will be five stories high and located on the sloping land north of the current student center. It will house approximately 300 students with six students to a suite, said Sullivan.

According to Sullivan, the suites, which will be divided into eight “houses,” will include three double-bed rooms, a living room and a bathroom.

One major concern to students, said Tom Birdseye, an architect from Einhorn, Yaffee and Prescott located in Albany, was that there be a quiet study space and other “multi-purpose” rooms.

Students expressed a desire to have a quiet and comfortable lounge,” said Birdseye. “We are also trying to fit in more recreational spaces which would include pool tables and video games.”

Other plans for the residence hall include: seminar and classroom space, a laundry center, a computer lab, a food court area, maybe a food court kind of thing.”

The student center include: additional dining area, the program will provide students with the opportunity to take honors Core courses, which provides honors in Liberal Studies and in the major.

Incoming freshmen will be invited into the program based upon their GPA of 3.0 and must have at least 45 credits to take the upper-level courses.

However, honors courses will be limited only to students in the honors program.

“The course instructor and the director of the honors program, who will be elected by an honors council to serve a three-year term, will decide,” said Sullivan.

In order to graduate from the program, a student will have to have a cumulative GPA of 3.5 and an honors GPA of 3.0. The student will also be required to have taken 40 honors credits, to have received no honors grade lower than a B. The class of 1995 will be the first class to take honors Core courses, but those students may not have time to take all required courses to graduate from the program.

In the past, students have been concerned that an honors program would isolate honors students from other students and that it would be elitist.
'White Men Can't Jump' is an airball!

by BRIAN McNELIS

Wesley Snipes and Woody Harrelson, two up-and-coming stars in the new film comedy "White Men Can't Jump," show what happens when they decide to take on the title role in an airball. Although the film is not yet released, the buzz is already buzzing about its potential.

Tour of Poughkeepsie Journal Wednesday, April 6 6:00 PM

CNNC and New York Times

Friday, April 10 7:00 PM

Sponsored by Comedy Arts Society Carl Loizou or 708-0994

---

"Children are a more difficult audience to please than adults," Wes Snipes, a star from the upcoming film "White Men Can't Jump," said in an interview. "Adults can handle a lot of things that kids can't handle."

KIDS ARE TOUGHER CRITICS FOR 'Wizard of Oz'

by TARA MASON

Staff Writer

It seems that whenever a black activity is listed, it’s usually a geographical location or a community event, and given the current performance in the film, it’s not going to get any better. Kids, on the other hand, are much more receptive to the film than adults. The reason for this is quite simple: kids like the film. They like the idea of a world where there is no discrimination, where everyone is equal. The film is a perfect example of this, and it’s something that kids can relate to.

All Instincts aside, film is fairly 'Basic'

by MARC LIEBER

Film critic Marc Lieber has been talking about the film industry for years, and he’s always been critical of the way that filmmakers treat their audiences. He says that the film industry is becoming more and more commercialized, and that the filmmakers are more interested in making money than telling good stories.

The Commuter Union invites you to experience comedy and dancing, Mariestyle!

After the C.U.B. T.G.I.F. Comedy Club, join us for Dance 'til You Drop

10' x 15' big screen

When: Friday, April 3

Where: the dining room time 9:30pm - 2am

Win CD's, tapes, or $50 CASH in the dance contest.

Professional DJ’s, lasers, lights, a big stage to dance on. See you there!

3 $ Single • 5 Couples w/ID • 4 Without

---

SGA prez wants input from students

By CHRISSY CASSIDY

DAVID G. GROBY

While a primary reason for the Student Government Association was to give students a voice in the decision making process of the college, the important task of the SGA president is to make sure that the students are heard.

Tour of Poughkeepsie Journal Wednesday, April 6 6:00 PM

CNNC and New York Times

Friday, April 10 7:00 PM

Sponsored by Comedy Arts Society Carl Loizou or 708-0994

---

"Children are a more difficult audience to please than adults," Wes Snipes, a star from the upcoming film "White Men Can't Jump," said in an interview. "Adults can handle a lot of things that kids can’t handle."

Students, faculty review candidate

by JULIE MARTIN

Associate Editor

As the April 7, 1993, commencement ceremony is quickly approaching, students and faculty are looking critically at the new generation of student leaders. The Student Senate is responsible for overseeing the planning of student activities, and the Student Affairs Office is responsible for overseeing the administration of student activities.

Recall? The guy is turned to another side of the room, and the room is filled with the sound of laughter.

by BRIAN McNELIS

Staff Writer

While I’m on the subject of the airball, I’ll mention that it’s not going so well. Kids, on the other hand, are much more receptive to the film than adults. The reason for this is quite simple: kids like the film. They like the idea of a world where there is no discrimination, where everyone is equal. The film is a perfect example of this, and it’s something that kids can relate to.

Security Briefs

by RICH NASS

Minors can play a role in academic life

by DONNA SICALI

When Law and Justice graduate night Commencement is held at the end of the school year, Commencement is set to occur in Donaldson to finish off his final year. As it turns out, the ceremony is delayed because of a technical issue.

The most popular minors

by JENNA RACELA

Staff Writer

The Division of Arts and Letters will be replaced by a new division, the Division of the Humanities. The Division of the Humanities will oversee all the humanities-related programs and activities, including the arts and letters.

---

"Children are a more difficult audience to please than adults," Wes Snipes, a star from the upcoming film "White Men Can't Jump," said in an interview. "Adults can handle a lot of things that kids can’t handle."

by TARA MASON

Staff Writer

It seems to me that whenever a black activity is listed, it’s usually a geographical location or a community event, and given the current performance in the film, it’s not going to get any better. Kids, on the other hand, are much more receptive to the film than adults. The reason for this is quite simple: kids like the film. They like the idea of a world where there is no discrimination, where everyone is equal. The film is a perfect example of this, and it’s something that kids can relate to.
Strike a chord

By JENNIFER KAYE
Staff Writer

Two new Japanese courses will be offered next fall to encourage Marist students to become more globally aware, according to Maurice Hamada, an assistant professor of history.

Hamada also was in an exchange program where she taught in the U.S. for one year. She believes American students will be more interested in Japanese courses.

"If you remove yourself from the familiarity of your own country and culture, you can see the part of another culture very clearly," Hamada said.

Hamada said some of the courses will focus on the history of Japan and some on the culture of Japan. Hamada also will teach the courses, which are scheduled to be offered in the fall of 1992 and the spring of 1993.

The courses also will focus on the culture and language of Japan, according to Hamada.

"I think the culture and language are valuable in understanding the values of other cultures," Hamada said.

Hamada said the courses also will focus on the culture and language of Japan, according to Hamada.

"I think the culture and language are valuable in understanding the values of other cultures," Hamada said.

Hamada said the courses also will focus on the culture and language of Japan, according to Hamada.

"I think the culture and language are valuable in understanding the values of other cultures," Hamada said.

Hamada said the courses also will focus on the culture and language of Japan, according to Hamada.

"I think the culture and language are valuable in understanding the values of other cultures," Hamada said.

Hamada said the courses also will focus on the culture and language of Japan, according to Hamada.

"I think the culture and language are valuable in understanding the values of other cultures," Hamada said.
Despite what many think, campus recruiting isn’t business as usual.

APPOINTMENTS

continued from page 3

Several of the new appointees are near freshmen as they seek to keep the campus busy. The people who are interested in the positions are said to be

Students interested in the field of mass communication are asked by group of local businesses to participate in the annual mass communication forum.

A few students present for media career day plans

by AMY GRUNWALD

Student interest in the field of mass communication is growing, and as a result, several groups of local businesses have requested the participation of students in the annual student communication forum. The event, which began at 9:30 a.m. in the Student Center, was hosted by the Local Newspaper Association.

Students were encouraged by the speakers to participate in the forum and to network with professionals and businesses who attend. The event featured speakers such as Robert Normand, associate professor of communication.

Here’s what’s on tap for senior week plans

by CARLA ANGELINO

Senior week is underway and the planning continues. Senior week will continue until May 12.

The Information Center notified all offices and faculty of the coming Marist week. Then when the computer was “booted up,” the only one computer, located in the Donnelly Computer Center, contracted the virus.

The newer IBM PS/2, identified by a smaller 3 1/2 plastic disk, has copier machine attributes. IBM PS/2 was to lie dormant in the partition table of the hard drive. The only way for the virus to awaken was for the memory of the computer to read the date as March 6, 1992, said Federico.

The Michelangelo virus, unique to certain IBM models and compatible computers, was to lie dormant in the partition table of the hard drive.

The Michelangelo Virus appeared on the PC’s screen, but few cases were reported anywhere. The virus was not detected by anti-virus programs.

“By Wednesday, the students were able to boot up their computers and find out that the virus was there,” said John T. Federico, student staff administrator.

The only way for the virus to awaken was for the memory of the computer to read the date as March 6, 1992, said Federico.

The virus was detected by a Clam program and the computer was re-booted.

“By the time Marist, we’re able to and the computer was re-booted,” said Federico.

The Information Center notified all offices and faculty of the coming Marist week. The alarm.

The Information Center notified all offices and faculty of the coming Marist week.

The airport was notified of the coming Marist week.

The Information Center notified all offices and faculty of the coming Marist week.
Bill and Ed(mund's) Excellent Adventure

Once again college students are watching an election not only asking "Who will win?" but "Will we Care?"

A lot of people don't know Jerry Brown's real name is Edmund G. Brown Jr. Come to think of it, a lot of people don't know a lot about the candidates, their policies or even that they are in the same race.

This is the case with the presidential race. The public is woefully unprepared. How many people know that Brown is the father of Arabella and Elder? The public seems to care more about what Senator Bob Dole will wear on election night than what policies he will support.

Brown, who has run for governor of California in the past, is running against President Ronald Reagan. Reagan is a popular candidate and has been in office for two terms. Brown, on the other hand, is a relative newcomer to the political scene.

Brown is known for his reformist policies, including his proposal to increase the state's minimum wage to $5.75 per hour. Reagan, on the other hand, is known for his conservative policies, including his support for the defense industry and his opposition to abortion.

Despite their differences, both candidates are running on a platform of change. Reagan promises to bring stability and prosperity to the nation, while Brown promises to bring progress and reform.

As the election approaches, it is important for the public to educate themselves on the candidates and their policies. By doing so, we can ensure that our voices are heard and that we have a say in the direction of our country.

The Circle Viewpoint

April 2, 1992

An England, a land that contrasts with Marist

Ah England, a land that contrasts with Marist

In the Circle

April 2, 1992

Privacy Act of 1974

Editor:

This organization is primarily dedicated to giving affordable health care to everyone who could not normally afford it. We provide free, voluntary counseling about family planning to people who cannot afford to pay for such services. Also, we provide low-cost or no-cost contraception to the maintenance of women's health. All women receive counseling and education on safe sex. Marist community and society are not one with those who have a lack of insurance for women's health services.

If you don't have anything nice to say...

Editor:

BC: Thank God I burned those pictures...continued from page 9

Looking back, it's hard to believe how much we've changed.

Bill Clinton sarcastically points at his wife.

Hillary: If he's Stevie Wonder, who am I?

BC: Hey, he deserved it. We all have our...continued from page 9

Thinking back on our lives at Marist,

Jen Chandler, senior editor

I was a little shocked when I was...continued from page 9

We are appalled at the ignorant...continued from page 9

...continued from page 9

We are blowing off, maybe we can...continued from page 9

I am sure that Marist College has...continued from page 9

Moreover, I do not see that an...continued from page 9

"If you like saving money on car insurance, give me a hank." Before the cost of insuring your car leaves you a total wreck, give me a bell on our phone call, I'll work hard to come up with a quote that's just your driving at.

Antony P. Nicolis
Senior Account Agent
47 Civic Center Plaza
Poughkeepsie, NY 12601
(914) 931-9611

AUD: Let's hit the boat and get a hank.

A case of seniors

Why are we, and this is not only...continued from page 9

The Shale Shack

Haircuts

Special Perm

Spiral Cut

Regular Perm w/ Cut

Spiral Cut

Regular Perm w/ Cut

04/02/92
Tensions rise as finals approach; vandalism threatens computer usage

JOSEPH T. GRAY

Creagh said vandalism is a major issue for the college. "The most serious form of vandalism is attacking disk drives, which erases configuration files and viruses." Creagh added that the damage can be expensive, especially for students who have limited funds. He also stated that the college has a $150 fine for anyone caught vandalizing a computer.

Kaplan helps you manage your time.

Kaplan offers the best value.

Kaplan is the industry leader.

Kaplan Test Prep

The answer to your test prep needs.

There are hundreds of questions on the GMAT, GRE, and LSAT. This checklist will help you answer all of them.

Kaplan makes test prep convenient. With 170 centers and thousands of class schedules, you’re sure to find the perfect one for you.

Kaplan helps you manage your time.

Kaplan offers the best value.

Kaplan is the industry leader.

Kaplan Test Prep

The answer to your test prep needs.

There are hundreds of questions on the GMAT, GRE, and LSAT. This checklist will help you answer all of them.
Touring U2 rocks sellout crowds

by SUE YANUSZ and JONETT RENESMER

U2 have been in the news for the right reasons. The Irish rockers, known for their sellout shows, have been playing to packed stadiums throughout the world, including their recent tour of the United States. The band, consisting of Bono, the lead singer, the Edge, the guitarist, Adam Clayton, the bassist, and Larry Mullen, the drummer, are a force to be reckoned with, and their concerts are always a spectacle.

On this particular tour, U2 performed at Madison Square Garden, where they played to a packed crowd. The concert was a testament to the band's ability to captivate audiences, and their music continued to resonate with fans of all ages.

The band's performance was a highlight of the evening, as they played hits from their album, "The Joshua Tree," and other classic songs from their extensive catalog. Bono, in particular, was on top of his game, and his vocals were as powerful as ever.

After the concert, we couldn't help but think about the impact that music has on our lives. It's amazing how a simple song can bring people together and create a sense of community.

Vandalism plagues parking area

by MARK STACKOW

Unfortunately, the same cannot be said for the parking lot at the Mid-Hudson Civic Center. The lot, which is used for concerts and events, has been the site of several incidents in recent weeks.

This past weekend, a car was reported to have been vandalized in the parking lot. The incident has raised concerns about the security of the area, and many are calling for increased vigilance.

The parking lot is situated near the entrance of the Mid-Hudson Civic Center, and it's a popular spot for concert-goers. It's a shame that such incidents are taking place, as they detract from the overall experience.

Despite these challenges, the parking lot is an important part of the civic center's operation, and efforts will be made to ensure that it remains a safe and welcoming space.

Silver Needle Fashion Show

April 23, 1992 • 7 pm
Mid-Hudson Civic Center
Student/Faculty/Staff Tickets $10.00
(Upon 2 Stg • 2 Std) $5.00

Available April 6th & 9th
5:30 pm • Fashion Show
6:30 pm • Donnelly Hall

For reservations or more information, call the Box Office at 285-2244.

Ever Get Somebody Totally Wasted?

by STAFF Writer

Gorch, a Marist student, has a reputation as a "party animal." One night, he was out at a local bar when he began to feel a bit too much of the good stuff.

He decided to take a break from the party scene and head to his dorm, the Marist College dormitories. Gorch then parked his car in the Marist College dormitory parking lot.

As he was walking into the dorm, he realized that he had forgotten his wallet. He searched his pockets and found it, but it was too late. The dorm was full of students, and he didn't have enough money to pay his way out.

Gorch knew that he had to act quickly. He decided to call his roommate, who lived in the same dorm, and ask for a loan. His roommate was happy to help, and he gave Gorch the money he needed.

Gorch was grateful, but he knew that he had to pay him back as soon as possible. He promised to do so, and he kept his word.

This experience taught Gorch the importance of being responsible and taking care of his own business. From then on, he made sure to always have enough money on him, and he never again made a decision that could put him in a bind.
defeating Ramapo College 7-2 last season, Barker, the third Marist head coach in his last season, improved its record to 6-2.

Jeff Barker and John Cleary faired well in a 4-6, 6-3, 6-1 triumph while the doubles team of Joyce and Valente scored 6-4, 6-0 and 6-2, and Sharpe scored 6-0.

"I expected it (this performance) of 27 players are freshman. There was a lot to do with his list of players, and he told them, "We're looking forward to next season," Diehl said. "We knew it would be a challenge," he said.

The Red Foxes took control of a 7-7 mark and 6-2 result.

"We lost some seniors, but we have a lot of up-and-coming players," Barker said. "We're looking forward to next season, when we'll have a lot of up-and-coming players," he added.

The 30-year-old Parady said naming a new coach from within the system will make for a smoother transition and a stronger nucleus for a region to grow into.

The 30-year-old Parady was named the head football coach at Dutchess Community College.

Four years into the season, the Admirals will play in the final game of the season.

Marist dropped to 6-5 overall and 4-2 in the MAAC, while the Red Foxes finished the season at 19-5 overall and 10-3 in the MAAC.

Despite the 30-4 loss to UMBC, Jim Parady was named the head football coach at Dutchess Community College.

Despite the 30-4 loss to UMBC, Parady was named the head football coach at Dutchess Community College.
Track sprints into inaugural season

by MATT MARTIN
Staff Writer

The Marist track team knew starting a program from scratch would be like “blowing in the wind.”

On Saturday, the Red Foxes faced the elements head-on while competing at the Army Spring Meet at West Point last Saturday.

Braving the 30-mile-per-hour wind and a 20 degree windchill factor, the track program began its inaugural season under less than ideal conditions.

“It was like watching people run in water out there,” said Coach Phil Kelly. “Racing in the rain is not easy.”

Despite the bad weather, the Marist team had some positives to take away.

“A few minor setbacks — injuries and an unexpected tie against the United States, one has to wonder if teacher (Coach K) can beat student (Coach X),” Patrick Matic said.

As much as I like Indiana, Duke should be able to advance to the finals.

The Red Foxes managed to bring home a victory in the 5,000-meter run with a time of 15 minutes, 41 seconds.

“After we beat Siena, I thought if we keep playing this way that no one can stop us.”

The Red Foxes are looking forward to the next three years in the NAAC.

Jerry Tarkanian’s name has been mentioned as a possible candidate for a job in the NBA. Shouldn’t be a tough task for KEEP, or all, is he coaching profession.

I feel as if I should say something about the recent incidents surrounding the Mets, but what do you say about a bunch of perversions?

The Mets will be a team to watch this year, Yanke fans be right.

In one of the three number three starters? Come on, give the guy a joke.

He’s playing the role of the Rich Johnson. The特色 is not able to come back strong and make any number four man Jeff Johnson is back for the Mets, and you have to keep your eye on him.

It seems he is not able to escape without giving at the height of the baseball prediction, you’re wrong.

The new development on the firing of Ken Micheli, the Mariner’s new rotating chair, and the American League West this week.

No. 22 O’Farrell is The Circle’s sports editor.