Student feelings mixed over Clinton's visit

by S.J. RICHARD and ANDREW HOLMUND

The limousine sped passed Marist to quickly many students who did not altogether care what had seen. The long black car was President Bill Clinton on his way to Hyde Park last Friday afternoon to deliver a speech at the Haviland Middle School.

Many Marist students stood outside in the bitter cold hopeing to catch a glimpse of the commander-in-chief.

"David Beconlson, one of the students, said he \"went out there and thought he'd be there, but I ended up waiting 30 minutes,\" said Strong from Albuquerque, N.M. \"I saw the figure of his head, I saw his car and heard his voice.\"

However, Strong was more amused by the crowd of students gawking at the motorcade than the actual event itself.

\"Everyone standing out in the cold and getting excited when a police car passed by made me chuckle,\" he said.

Other students were plainly disappointed.

"High Harper, a sophomore from Scranton, thought the only thing that was really moving was \"his car,\" he said. \"It was just a big hype for nothing.\"

Damon Barton agreed. Barton, from North Salem, N.Y., was disappointed after waiting for two hours outside just to see Clinton wave. \"It thought it was a big waste of time,\" said Barton, a sophomore.

While some were clearly unhappy with their fleeting glimpses of Clinton, other students found humor in the drive-by.

Ciff Delaney, a junior from Bridgewater, N.J., thought that it was a wonderful opportunity for Marist and the crowd. \"It\'s a cool thing to happen for Marist,\" he said. \"It was very bad for the school because the President recognized Marist even though it\'s a small school.\"

Until last year other students, Delaney said he did not think that Marist was \"in the moment.\" Delaney, \"of a sort of looks like Barbara Bush.\"

Chris Canase, also a junior, said he was impressed with Bill Clinton and felt that the President but pointed out what he saw as the reason many other students were discontented.

\"The school (Marist) made it seem as if he was going to stop,\" said Canase, from Vermont, Conn. the school in over one million.

Senior Margie Moore, a resident of Marist on North Road, was especially excited to see the motorcade as her housemates, Janine Virigliano, was driving

\"I went out there and thought it was going to send a copy to Dennis Murray and to all the students,\" said Frank Irrizary, a senior from Queens, N.Y. \"I was surprised.\"

Despite not wanting to comment on the event itself, Irrizary said the administration had done a good job on controlling the news.

\"After you read 132 articles on the subject, you only read the headlines and go on to something else.\" – Sister Jeanne Hamilton

Sister Hamilton said even within the Christian community, opinions on condoms may differ slightly.

\"Cardinal O'Connor has said clearly that he does not want it taught in schools that way,\" she said.

Sister Hamilton also said Cardinal Lajerger, Archbishop of Paris, preferred that people would have a moral obligation to use a condom.

\"We have two prominent, well-known church leaders saying two things that are not entirely opposed to each other, because they are both saying that the ideal is to have sexual relations only in marriage,\" she said.

For the religious community, it is not a question of whether or not condoms should be more accessible, but whether or not Marist should adhere to a higher ideal in preventing the spread of sexually transmitted diseases and unwanted pregnancies.

For Sister Hamilton and other

Campus ministry reacts to the debate over condoms

by PETER DONALDSON Staff Writer

Through continual discourse, news may be shed upon the issue and others to become tireome over it.

\"Everyone standing out in the cold and getting excited when a police car passed by made me chuckle,\" he said. \"It was just a big hype for nothing.\"

Father Luke McCann, the college chaplain, declined further comment saying he already cited his feelings and beliefs on the issue in a letter to the editor in the Feb. 18 issue of the Circle.

\"If President Murray doesn\'t want to deal with the problem that afflicts the Marist community as a whole, then I hope he can rest easy at night with his conscience knowing that there may be students having sex, thus increasing the likelihood of the possibility of STD\'s being spread,\" said Irrizary.

Maxim said if Murray waits any longer to give the go ahead to have condoms on campus, he will be killing the students at Marist. \"If every President Murray waits to put condoms on campus, he will drive another nail deeper into the eventual coffins of the student body,\" said Bocconcelli.

Becconlson said even if the rumor about sexual activity at Marist were not true, the alleged statistics would not surprise her.

\"The stats would definitely not surprise me. Our nickname, Marist, is so small that it is almost in­evitable,\" she said.

Maxim said the school does not think the condom policy will change.

\"Since this school was founded by Marist Brothers, the policy will never change. I don\'t think allowing condoms on campus will make Marist look like it is promoting casual sex, but rather it makes the school look more student centered,\" she said.

Maxim said Marist isn\'t the only school in the world to struggle with the issue of condoms and sexual activity at Marist.

False rumor connecting Playboy and Marist

by KRISTINA WELLS

One of the programs showed on Marist College Television, a debate show called "Backtalk," apparent­ly has filled the college with rumors which seem to be unfor­tuned.

They say that during a segment aired during the third week of February, dealt with condoms and Marist College.

Glenda Blank, producer and director of "Backtalk," said she had no idea of the reaction about a comment made on the show which was not substantiated.

A spokeswoman for Playboy magazine, Elizabeth Norris, said that the magazine, with Marist and sexual activity never ran in the magazine.

\"There is absolutely no truth to that.\" – Father Luke McCann

Father Luke McCann, the college chaplain, declined further comment saying he already cited his feelings and beliefs on the issue in a letter to the editor in the Feb. 18 issue of the Circle.

\"There is absolutely no truth to that.\" – Father Luke McCann

Despite not wanting to comment on the event itself, Irrizary said the administration had done a good job on controlling the news.

\"On the news today, I remember and the fourth highest number of sexually active students in the nation,\" she said.

From that show, rumors began circulating.

\"Dennis Murray\'s secretary called me and wanted to know where the information had come from.\" – Becconlson

Administration is going crazy about it,\" said Becconlson.

In addition, Becconlson also said the show aired for one week and that the Marist administration did not even catch the comment until the second to last day the program was being recorded.

The Circle contacted Murray\'s office for comment and that what he was working on the Clinton visit and not for comment. A spokeswoman for Playboy magazine, Elizabeth Norris, said that the magazine, with Marist and sexual activity never ran in the magazine.

\"There is absolutely no truth to that.\" – Father Luke McCann

Despite not wanting to comment on the event itself, Irrizary said the administration had done a good job on controlling the news.

\"In fact, it\'s a pretty silly looking thing,\" Norris said.

Irrizary said that the comment made on the condo show that Playboy magazine never dealt with condoms and that Marist had the fourth highest number of sexually active students in the nation, she said.

From that show, rumors began circulating.

\"Dennis Murray\'s secretary called me and wanted to know where the information had come from.\" – Becconlson

Administration is going crazy about it,\" said Becconlson.

In addition, Becconlson also said the show aired for one week and that the Marist administration did not even catch the comment until the second to last day the program was being recorded.

The Circle contacted Murray\'s office for comment and that what he was working on the Clinton visit and not for comment. A spokeswoman for Playboy magazine, Elizabeth Norris, said that the magazine, with Marist and sexual activity never ran in the magazine.

\"There is absolutely no truth to that.\" – Father Luke McCann

Despite not wanting to comment on the event itself, Irrizary said the administration had done a good job on controlling the news.

\"On the news today, I remember and the fourth highest number of sexually active students in the nation,\" she said.

From that show, rumors began circulating.

\"Dennis Murray\'s secretary called me and wanted to know where the information had come from.\" – Becconlson

Administration is going crazy about it,\" said Becconlson.
"Groundhog" should remain in hibernation

I was at home on a Friday afternoon wondering what to do, so I decided to go to the cinema. I was in the mood for comedy. The nearest movie was "Groundhog Day," which I had heard was a classic. The cinema was packed, but I managed to get a seat at the back. As I settled in, I realized I had a problem. My seat was next to a loud and obnoxious person who was constantly talking on their phone. I sat through the entire movie, barely able to hear the dialogue. I never want to go to the movies again. It's a waste of time. I think I'll stick to reading books from now on.

Dana Buchmann

"Crying Game" surprises critics with twists and turns

The thing I hate about being a critic is having to write a review about a movie that I thought was terrible. But I thought "Crying Game" was terrible. I mean, it was just a total mess. The story was confusing, the acting was horrible, and the dialogue was terrible. I was so disappointed. I would never recommend this movie to anyone.

Neil Jordan's "The Crying Game" (

The Student Affairs staff said they decided the grade point average (GPA) may count more if people got more points people got to volunteer in able to not only get a GPA but also to help along the way.

Raimo said they want to try to make the priority point system to be more popular because priority point system is being used in other universities.

"We'll certainly see at the end of the year looking at how many points people got, how many people got, and how many points people got in order to volunteer in able to not only get a GPA but also to help along the way. Things done." said Raimo.

The current administration at her high school, it (Black History Month) was drawn by lottery due to the huge number of people who were interested in the event. The BSU was on so many television screens that day morning. "I was able to get real experience working with the White House staff and "enjoyed the build-up before the speech."

Marc Mele, a sophomore from Fishkill, (914) 897-3480

"This year especially, everyone has done a great job. I think they did a great job. I think they did a great job." he said.

"The BSU has definitely lived up to my expectations," he said. "We did a great job. I think they did a great job. I think they did a great job." he said.

"This year, especially, everyone has done a great job." he said. "The BSU has definitely lived up to my expectations," he said. "We did a great job. I think they did a great job." he said.

"The BSU has definitely lived up to my expectations," he said. "We did a great job. I think they did a great job." he said.
Clinton economic plan: will America buy it?

By KIRK L. LAMKHAN

American editor

If there is one thing President Bill Clinton proved with his visit to Hyde Park, N.Y., Friday, it is that his economic plan sounds good.

Indeed, in typical Uncle Bill fashion, Clinton's plan seems to have all the right buzzwords: investment, education, health care, and more.

But will it work? That's the question on everyone's mind as the country looks to the future.

The plan, which Clinton unveiled last week, includes a number of proposals aimed at boosting the economy and improving the quality of life for Americans.

The plan calls for a $700 billion tax cut, which Clinton says will stimulate economic growth and create jobs.

The tax cut is divided into two parts: a $350 billion middle-class tax cut and a $350 billion tax cut for high-income Americans.

The middle-class tax cut would be paid for by increasing taxes on the wealthy, while the high-income tax cut would be paid for by reducing taxes for middle-income Americans.

Clinton's plan also includes a number of education proposals, including expanding access to preschool and providing universal pre-K through third grade education.

In addition, the plan includes a number of health care proposals, including a public option and a Medicare buy-in for those over 55.

The plan also includes a number of environmental proposals, including increased investments in renewable energy and efforts to combat climate change.

The plan is expected to cost $1.2 trillion over 10 years.

Clinton has argued that the plan is necessary to get the country back on track after the Great Recession and to prepare for the future.

But critics have argued that the plan is too expensive and will cause the budget to run a massive deficit.

The plan has also faced opposition from Republicans, who have argued that it is too big-government and would lead to higher taxes and higher deficits.

The country is now waiting to see if the plan will pass Congress and be signed into law.

The fate of the plan remains uncertain, as lawmakers continue to debate its merits.

But one thing is clear: the Clinton economic plan is a major undertaking that will have a significant impact on the country for years to come.

The country will have to decide whether to support the plan and commit to the necessary investments, or whether to continue on a path of economic stagnation and uncertainty.

The choice is clear: will America buy the Clinton economic plan? The answer is up to us.

Rumors

Same old song and dance

Marist neglecting North Road

Rumors are flying high again about Marist College neglecting the North Road. The学院 is not doing enough for the students who live on North Road. Many students complain that their needs are not being met and that the college is not paying attention to their concerns.

MCTV left out of floor plans

After the recent issuance of floor plans for the new dormitory, students were disappointed to find that MCTV was not included in the plans. The students feel that the college is not giving them a fair share of the resources.

Stop homophobia, embrace diversity

Editor: We, the undersigned members of the Marist College community, create this letter to protest the ongoing homophobia that exists on this campus. We believe that the Marist College administration should take steps to create a more inclusive and accepting environment for all students. We urge the administration to take action to address this issue.

The problem is not unique to this campus. Homophobia is a pervasive issue on college campuses across the country. It is time for Marist College to take a stand against homophobia and to create a campus where all students feel welcome and respected.

Thank you.
If you’re taking one of these tests, take Kaplan first. We teach you exactly what the test covers and show you the test taking strategies you’ll need to score your best. No one teaches you to think like test makers better than Kaplan. Kaplan first. We teach you exactly what the test makers want you to know.

For more information call 1-800-KAP-TEST.

"Classes Now On Campus"
"Special $100 Savings To Marist Students"

KAPLAN

The answer to the test question.
Nude models and the arts: hot items in class

By DANIEL P. RYAN

Provincetown is no doubt a classroom full of interesting men and women just by the way this tiny hamlet at the tip of the Cape is jutting out from stage flight stage right. At least that is how Raphael - who works at the studio of the nude model that the writer has been getting in for just that long time - put it to me this past week.

But I was there to look at nude models for the first time in months, and I was to learn that the show is not only a challenge for the model but a challenge for Raphael as well.

"You can see the way the model is thinking," Raphael said when I asked him if he ever gets bored with the same model over and over. "I mean, I know what I'm going to do with the model, but I have to keep her interested and interested and interested."

Raphael has been working for about 10 years at the studio of a nude model that he has been working with for about 10 years. He is a young man in his early 30s, and he said it is good to be in the studio because he can be with other people and because he can be with his friends.

"It is good to be in the studio because I can be with other people," Raphael said. "I can be with my friends and I can be with my family and I can be with my friends who are models."

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-20s, and she is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years. She is a model who has been working with Raphael for about 10 years.

Raphael's model is a young woman in her mid-22
SPORTS

STAT OF THE WEEK — Freshman Kyle O'Neil set school records in the 200 and 500 yard freestyles.

Swimmers grab 4th in Metro Tourney
by MIKE WALSH
Staff Writer

Senior co-captain Rob Johnson claims it was a "good fourth." Coach Larry Van Wagner was also pleased with his squad's showing in the Metropolitan Swim Conference Championships last weekend despite its fourth place finish which was the team's lowest since 1987.

Why? First over three quarters (53 of 65) of event times achieved by his team were personal career bests. For a coach who sets individual improvement as the primary goal for his athletes, seeing 81 of his team beat their personal best times certainly brings a smile.

Secondly, Rider College, who would win all with a score of 1088, beat Marist by 184. Each time in the nineties, the Broncos handed the Red Foxes a 60 point advantage. Fortunately for Marist, Lake iced the victory with 41 remanining (two) free throws.

The game marked the final home regular season home game for seniors Andy Lake, Fred Ingles, Mike Schriber, Sean James and Wil don Culson.

Alan Tomidy continued his solid, four-year campaign. With Lake and Baule struggling, sophomore Greg Chodkowski Men of the bench and scored nine points on 3-3 shooting.

With Lake and Baule struggling, sophomore Greg Chodkowski Men of the bench and scored nine points on 3-3 shooting.

When I was thinking (yeah that's me)...