Since the opening day of school, there have been a total of twelve alcohol confiscations by Marist security. There have been no recent arrests.

The majority of alcohol confiscations have been beer. However, there have been some hard liquor confiscations also.

Security responded to an assault in Champagnat Hall at 3:31 a.m. on Sat., Sept. 18, a fire alarm went off in Townhouse H-3 at 3:50 a.m. The alarm was set off as a result of burning food in the kitchen.

On Sun., Sept. 19, another fire alarm went off at 11:54 a.m. in Campus Center because of heat detection. The building is being held. Security will have the area cleaned as soon as possible.

The layout of the new dormitories is unique compared to other dormitories here on campus. Each floor will include a common area, a kitchen, two bathrooms and four bedrooms.

Construction of the new dormitories marked the beginning of campus improvements. Although sections L and M have not been completed, vandalism is not a major problem in the new dormitories, according to Mike Schleyer, a senior from Mt. Laurel, N.J., a resident who moved into his townhouse at the beginning of school and is happy with his new environment.

"I think Marist is looking toward the future, and these dorms are a part of that," Schleyer said. The layout of the new dormitories is unique compared to other dormitories here on campus. Each floor will include a common area, a kitchen, two bathrooms and four bedrooms.

Land of confusion

Hillary or Bill

To clear up any questions, when I say Clinton I mean Bill, when I say President, I mean Bill, when I say he, I mean him, and when I say his, I mean his. I am not going to dwell on any of the present, past, or future problems we have here at Marist, I want to focus on the upcoming election. We all know that the election is coming, we all know that the election is coming, but not many of us know what to expect from it. I was reading the other day about the possibility of a third party emerging, a new party that could change the dynamics of the election. I think that would be a good thing, but I also think that it would be a bad thing. The country needs a strong, united party, but we also need a party that will challenge the status quo.

We all know that Bill Clinton has been a controversial president, some people love him, some people hate him. I am not going to get into the details of his presidency, but I do want to point out that he has made some positive changes in the country. He has helped to reduce the deficit, he has helped to create jobs, and he has helped to improve the economy. However, he has also made some bad decisions, and some people think that he is not qualified to be president.

Many people are concerned about the future of the country, and they are worried about the direction that it is heading. I think that we need to have a strong, united party that can lead the country in the right direction. I think that Bill Clinton has the potential to be a great president, but I also think that he needs to be held accountable for his actions.

The Novels of AYN RAND

The Fountainhead and Atlas Shrugged have captured millions of minds about their publication. They have also inspired many to study the ideas behind the novels.

A course exploring Ayn Rand’s unique vision of rational thought, individualism, respect for achievement, and freedom is being offered in Pragmatics, beginning with a pre-consensus letter. The lecture will be offered at three times: 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Sept. 20 Holiday Inn, 503 Washington Ave, Kingston
Sept. 20 Marriott Courtyard, 469 South Rd, (Route 9), Poughkeepsie
Sept. 21 Holiday Inn, Route 9 and 146, Poughkeepsie

This course is offered by the Institute for Objectivist Studies, a widely recognized source for research and education in the ideas of Objectivism, the philosophy of Ayn Rand.

Fall semester sees initiation of Marist honors program

by ROBERT G. TARGOS

The image of its honors student is the picture perfect success story, a sweet, innocent ideal that has changed. With the beginning of the fall semester, the Marist Board of Trustees approved the program in April. The program was originally scheduled to start in the spring of 1993, however delays in the approval of the program.

The program provides more options for Marist students toльthe choices rather than having an RA to choose. It also allows students to work in a more independent environment.

"The program provides more options for Marist students to work in a more independent environment," said the program's director, John Shirley.

Young runners start on high

by GREG ROBB

Staff Writer

Troy High's Frank Girone is the defending state champion in the mile and 1,600 meters, the latter title he won as a freshman. He has won six straight state meets, including last year's state meet at UAlbany. Girone's father, a former track coach, said he was "very satisfied" with his son's performance.

Robert C. Nelson of Kittansett, Mass., won the state meet in 4:03.2. "I was very satisfied with my performance," he said.

Fall is in the air—Red Fox fever is nowhere

The football team has started its season in impressive fashion, rattling off its first two games without a loss. The fans are not sitting quietly, however, as they have sold out the stadium for the first time in years.

The fans were cheering vociferously and the Red Foxes were making their presence felt. The team was playing exceptionally well, with their defense holding the opposition to just one touchdown in the first half.

Senior quarterback Brian McCourt said that the team was happy with the way they were playing, especially on defense.

"We knew we could do it," McCourt said. "We knew we had the ability to shut teams down."
