Salaries released for administrators

by KRISTINA WELLS

Marist's top administrators salaries have either remained the same or increased over the past year, despite a fluctuating economy in Dutchess County. Annual increases in student activity, and El Arco Iris Latino, the issue of a private, non-religiously affiliated college, like Marist, $18,000. Murray's salary is approximately 8 percent less than the average.

Other top administrators were also saved financially by the current economy.

-Mark Sullivan, executive vice president, made $124,988 for professional and legal fees. These funds were for litigation and case work, according to Campus.

-Dr. Onkar Sharma, chair of computer science, also received a raise in pay to $72,899.

-Dr. Jerome McBride, associate professor of computer science, made $73,316, which is less than last year.

-Dr. John MacDonald, professor of computer science, received a raise in pay to $86,288.

-Dr. Marc vanderHeyden, vice president of the physical plant, made $82,116 - an increase of $83,579 - an increase of $1,392 from last year.

-An important part of college education is the core curriculum. "What we are trying to do with multiculturalism, diversity studied by faculty started to talk about ethnic studies as a minor," said Haruta. "This is very, very provisional." Toscano pointed out that students who have been protesting believe they need to have more resources, and to them, it will get easier access. "This is not just about Marist," Tom Goldpaugh, assistant professor of English said. "What we see on a global scale, we also see in the United States in our own culture." Goldpaugh is part of a pilot project that is "trying to figure out how to get more interconnections for the core curriculum." "What we are trying to do with the core is create an experience that won't only nourish the connection of disciplines, but also examine multiculturalism critically and recognize the importance of other cultures," Goldpaugh said.

A major question according to Goldpaugh is "how can we get out of the box of our own perceptions, and at the same time recognize the strengths of our traditions?"

Goldpaugh said that Americans tend to see other cultures in their own light. "We look at Asia in light of how it relates to Europe. There has been a devaluation of non-western cultures."

"We must try to incorporate multiple cultural traditions, and not simply see other cultures as adjuncts of western culture," Goldpaugh said. Toscano said that efforts were being made to diversify the Marist community, but that such efforts take a lot of time.

Richard to retire; Wells takes over

by CARI OLESKEWICZ

After serving as Editor-in-Chief of The Circle for two years, S.J. Richard will be leaving the position to graduate with a bachelor's degree in Communication and a minor in philosophy.

She will be succeeded by Kristina Wells, a junior from Fishkill, N.Y. majoring in Communication and English.

Wells said she sought the position as a result of an appeal from her students. "She is interested in print journalism."

"It is going to be hard to fill the shoes of the present staff," Wells said. "But we're all up for the task.

Wells has been writing for The Circle for two years, and served as an associate editor for a year. She is also active on campus with her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma. Wells said she plans to bring some changes to the newspaper in the coming year.

"We will try to pull in students more, not just communications," Wells said. "We want to get the whole student body involved because it is the students' paper."

Issues of multiculturalism, diversity studied by faculty

by PATRICIA SMITH-JOMALES

Staff Writer

After three rallies and vocal protests from the Black Student Union, and Latino students, the issue of multiculturalism is the least to occupy the minds and opinions of the student body at Marist. The criteria for selecting the Faculty of the Year was stated in February 22 and 23.

The Student Academic Council (SAC) announced the recipients of the second annual Faculty of the Year Award on Wednesday, May 5. The recipients were:...See TRANSITION page 9.
The year: 2023. A major prison break has made headlines in the U.S., drawing media coverage similar to the recent escape from Alcatraz. The escapees are a group of prisoners who have been held for various crimes, including murder, armed robbery, and terrorism. The escape has caused a major security breach, and authorities are still searching for the inmates.

The story of the escape begins with a rumour that one of the prisoners, who is known for his expertise in electronics, has created a device that allows him to manipulate the prison's security cameras. The rumour is then confirmed by an anonymous tipster who claims to have seen the device in use.

The escape begins when the prisoners use the device to manipulate the security cameras and gain access to the exit. They then proceed to use a series of tools and equipment, which they have smuggled into the prison, to cut through the bars and make their way to the outside. The escape is a daring feat, and it takes place in broad daylight without any disturbance to the prison's guards.

The prisoners then proceed to break into a nearby bank and make off with an estimated $5 million in cash. They elude the police and media for several days, living off the proceeds of their heist. They are eventually caught when they attempt to cross the border into Canada.

The escape has caused a major security breach, and authorities are still searching for the inmates. The incident has caused a major stir in the media, with many people questioning the effectiveness of the prison's security measures.

In the end, the prisoners are caught and returned to prison. The incident serves as a reminder of the importance of secure facilities and the need for better security measures.
Class polls attitudes on sex

Polls at Marist College reveal

Class polls attitudes on sex

sex," while 48 don't.

respondents believe there is "safe is such a thing as 'safe sex.'" 147 claim their faith to another active; but to learn who uses birth

Marist who are hot only sexually students. Of the 195 respondents,

153 are Catholics, while the other

...thinker" poll asked the students before 6 May 1994.

WE GO THE DISTANCE

New York City • Long Island • New Jersey

And Many Other Destinations!

COLLEGE SPRING SPECTACULAR

$3.00 PITCHERS OF BUD OR MICH LT.
1/2 PRICE WINGS

EVERY WEEK

TUES. $3.00 PITCHERS OF BUD 9-12
WED. BUD, BUD LIGHT, MILLER, 8-9, 9-12
THUR. TOTALLY 80'S, $1.00 MGD BLS.
FRI. HAPPY HOURS 4-7, $1.00 OFF DRAFT PRIN.
SAT. 21 & OVER SPECIAL 5-12, $1.00 WELL DRINKS FOR

LADIES, $1.50 HTL BEER SPECIAL & DJ DAVE

21 & OVER PROPER ID REQUIRED SHOWVALID COLLEGE ID FOR STUDENT DISCOUNT!

THE CIRCLE, LTD.

BE A GOOD NEIGHBOR

During these last weeks of the Spring Semester Whatever you live off campus or not Consideration for the good people of the area. In their homes and neighborhoods. Is important. The Marxist tradition includes consideration for and commitment to the well being of our local communities.

USHERS NEEDED FOR: Baccalaurate Service and Commencement

If you would like to usher for these two Senior Class events, please contact Deborah DiCa-

Rising ticket prices mean you don't need to use Washington works even harder for you. Down the road, that can make a drastic difference in your quality of life.

What makes TIAA-CREF special? A range of allocation choices from the guaranteed security of TIAH to the diversified investment accounts of CREF's variable annuity—all backed by the stability and investment returns of the federal government. Why???

For the "extras" that your regular pension could be saving for retirement. Fortunately, that's a mistake you can make a huge mistake on your taxes. They...
The students are ready to move back in with their parents. Some of them are as funky as those jars of chunky, green mayonnaise. Their house is not a dry campus, it is a parched campus. This semester, the issue of cultural diversity has made itself more visible. But is it a new problem? It is not. It is about as new as the oldest-entertained student polled from the latest poll ever. They are the same with the same problems as those who have been around. We know there are in fact, we are the ones who put them there. Not surprisingly, it was a culinary death trap. More than once he asked, “Is this the end? Is it the beginning?”

This is not the end. It is the beginning. Although you are saying goodbye, you are really saying “I see you here.” You leave us all behind, but we wish you well. You have all made it through the most remarkable time for the community of any life.

You will never remember anything as much as you will remember your college. Some of what is found may be worth keeping. These may be friends, they may be ideas that you carry with you the rest of your life. You will never remember anything as much as you will remember your college. Some of what is found may be worth keeping. These may be friends, they may be ideas that you carry with you the rest of your life.

Thank you for being a part of The Circle's political columnists.

Political columnists say farewell

---

Activities office not to blame

Editor: We are not in the business of blaming others for the doghouse we find ourselves in. We believe that the office is there to serve the students, and we take full responsibility for its condition. The students themselves are responsible for the problems that have arisen. We would like to see changes in the way the office is run, but we cannot do so without their support.

---

Law to protect

Editor: We are in the business of protecting the students. They are the ones who have given us this job, and they deserve the best. We will do our best to protect them.

---

Congratulations and Good Luck to the Circle's Seniors

S.J. Richard
Ted Holmlund
Julie Martin
Carl Olesiowsky
MATT MARTIN
Alondra Delgado

---

Sail away

Editor: This is the last issue of The Circle. We would like to thank you for reading it. We hope you enjoyed it.

---

Efficiency needed

Editor: There have been a number of instances in the “diversity column” that have been brought to our attention. We are working on the problem, and we are making progress. The students themselves are the ones who have given us this job, and they deserve the best. We will do our best to protect them.

---

Half Full or Half Empty

Editor: We are in the business of protecting the students. They are the ones who have given us this job, and they deserve the best. We will do our best to protect them.

---

Leftovers

Editor: This is the last issue of The Circle. We would like to thank you for reading it. We hope you enjoyed it.

---

Robyn Levitsky, junior

---

Thanks everyone

---

Denny's
donut holes

---

The Hedgehog Day

---

Meredith Kennedy, feature editor

---

WSU not-needed

---

The Black Student Union (BSU) was formed after the administrations of the campus diversity council. In this article, we will discuss the BSU and its role in the protection of the interests of minority students.

---

President of Clubs Nella Licari, vice president of student government, and student representatives that want to be a part of the BSU.

---

I am appalled that some students are using the BSU to gain an advantage. An outbreak of measles or mumps among students is called “subdued racism” if they are white and “favoritism” if they are black and not a member of the student body.

---

Steve Sansola, the Greek Council, and Steve Sansola, the BSU.

---

The 4:14 a.m.

---

SAU to protect

---

Thanks to Dennis Gilday for standing by us for the last two years.

---

Barbara Lane, senior editor

---

Faculty adviser

---

The SGA itself.

---

I am here to tell you that it is only the beginning. Your days at Marist have ended, but the experience is necessary, we’ll teach you that. In this case, the people primarily responsible for this experience are the students. In regards to how and when they will get their money back, the committee felt that the limit should be raised.

---

Currently, this position involves serving as the adjutant to the president of the SGA.

---

In this case, the people primarily responsible for this experience are the students. In regards to how and when they will get their money back, the committee felt that the limit should be raised.

---

The second was the way Mr. Ebanks is crying “racism” and “favoritism” because I am finally getting justice for my friend.

---

I was confronted with several difficult situations in tracking this scholarship.

---

In this case, the people primarily responsible for this experience are the students. In regards to how and when they will get their money back, the committee felt that the limit should be raised.

---

Thank you.

---

For the last two years.

---

President of SGA John Metzner, the SPCA president.

---

I am appalled that some students are using the BSU to gain an advantage. An outbreak of measles or mumps among students is called “subdued racism” if they are white and “favoritism” if they are black and not a member of the student body.

---

Steve Sansola, the Greek Council, and Steve Sansola, the BSU.

---

The 4:14 a.m.

---

SAU to protect
Rinehart offers advice underclassmen and friends

Beckett responds to all

NIXON

Thank you for your recent letter. I am sorry to hear that you have been unable to resolve your differences with your fraternity. It is important to remember that the university provides a variety of resources for students who are experiencing conflict, including the Office of Student Conduct. I encourage you to reach out to them for support.

Mr. Ebanks, I disagree

As president, I take responsibility for the day-to-day running of Marist College. If you'll look at the BSU meeting, you will see that I have been promoting diversity. Not bad for four years.

Beckett responds to all

You are the only white student on this campus. You are supposed to be an example for the students, not segregate from them. I completely understand your concerns, but I would like to say that the university is working hard to make sure that everyone feels welcome.

Mr. Ebanks, I disagree

I agree with Mr. Beckett. As president, I am committed to promoting diversity and inclusion. You are not the only white student on this campus, and you should be an example for all.

Recommending cap issue

The Marist community has voted to wear caps for commencement and to remove them for the rest of the day. This decision was made in response to the need for a more inclusive environment.

The decision was arrived at after a thorough review of the options and extensive discussion with students, faculty, and staff. We understand that some may see the decision as problematic, but we believe it is necessary to create a more welcoming environment for all.

Thanks drivers

I would like to express my gratitude to the students who have been driving for us. You have been working hard to ensure that everyone can get to where they need to go, and I appreciate your dedication.

The Hudson Valley's

I am excited to announce that we are moving our office to a new location. We have outgrown our current space, and we are looking forward to a new start.

WANTED:

Circle needs several additions for next year. Positions are open for: political and music counselors, educators, artists, distribution, and general staff writers. Please contact The Circle at Ext. 2429.
THE PARTY WILL ALWAYS BE HERE!

The Circle, May 5, 1994

THE PARTY WILL ALWAYS BE HERE!

May 9 court hearing awaiting Buchanan

May 9 court hearing awaiting Buchanan

Crew rows in third, fifth place

The men's new coxswain scored at a surprising third-place finish while the men's team ended in a place in the final, with Marist being one of the highest finishers in the mens' section.

The Red Foxes travel to Lake Wawasee for the NCAAs.

Marist's will have to out-row the other teams to win.

Another positive the Red Foxes are seeing is the growth in the rowing program.

"They are going to be rowing in the spring," said a spokesperson. "They have a strong team.

Diehl resigns as Laxmen end at 6-7

The men's lacrosse team ended with a 6-7 record. Assistant Coach Tom Diehl has resigned after four years as head coach.

Assistant District Attorney Wayne Witherwax said he feels the team will be ready for the 1995 season.

MCTV would like to thank its members for their support, enthusiasm, and participation. We would also like to thank you, the viewers, for making MCTV one of your main sources for information and entertainment during the 1993-94 academic year. We look forward to your continued support next year.
Sports

May 5, 1994

Hurlers split two; play Siena today
by ANDREW HOLMLUND
Staff Writer

After splitting its last two doubleheaders, the softball team will be looking to end its 1994 campaign on a high note this weekend. The Red Foxes will host Siena this weekend at the Garret Commons Athletic Fields in a 3:30 p.m. first game.

The Red Foxes are coming off a 2-0 victory last week to Northeast Conference foes. Sophomore Angela Dragani had a hit and freshman catcher first baseman Michelle Hudson added the only other hit of the game.

"Frustration is not what the team needs right now," Coach George Burgin said. He noted that the team needs to "play better against Siena (Tuesday)".

The Red Foxes were again split against Northeast Conference foes.

Netters lose final match, 8-1
by JIM DERIVAR
Staff Writer

The men's tennis ended its inconsistent season with a 5-7 record after losing 3-1 to Central Connecticut last Wednesday at the Dutchess Club.

Senior Chris Hirdi and junior Kevin McGovern combined for the victory in the No. 1 and No. 2 singles matches, respectively.

Kevin McGovern lost the No. 1 doubles match in a 6-4, 6-2, 6-4 victory over the Red Foxes.

The Red Foxes were without two key players.

"It's not the way we wanted to end the season," coach Heath Pramberger said. "It definitely was not a letdown because we are young and have a lot of tennis left in us."