Former Marist Student Arrested On Rape Charges

Arrest Made After One-Year Investigation

by KRISTINA WELLS
Editor

On Aug. 2, New York State Police arrested a former Marist College student in connection with the rape of a co-ed that occurred on campus several years ago.

John A. Tasso, 20, was arrested in Brooklyn, N.Y., by the Violent Felon Warrant Squad, and was charged with three counts of rape of the first degree, a felony, according to State Police Investigator Alan Luchette.

The accusation was handed up by a Dutchess County Grand Jury and a bench warrant was issued for Tasso's arrest, Luchette said.

"He did not resist arrest and was turned over to the Town of Poughkeep­se Police Department," Luchette said.

William Grady, Dutchess County district attorney, confirmed Tasso was charged with three counts of rape of the first degree. Tasso could receive between 25 and 75 years in state prison.

According to Grady, Tasso, who was represented by counsel, was ar­taigned in the Town of Poughkep­se Justice Court on Aug. 3, where he pleaded "not guilty." The Brooklyn resident was held in the Dutchess County Jail until his release on Aug. 4 when he posted a $22,000 surety bond.

"The Dutchess County Grand Jury is still investigating the entire inci­dent and charged him with the Class B felony. It convicted of three counts of rape in the first degree. Tasso could receive from 25 to 75 years in prison." Tasso did not comment on whether Tasso's withdrawal was related to the investigation.

Leary also said he was told of the arrest and of the co-existing investiga­tion by the Dutchess County Attorney's of­fice.

"I was informed that there had been one arrest made and that the inves­tigation was continuing by the DA's office," Leary said.

At Marist College, administrators declined to comment on the arrest because it is being handled by state and local police officials. President Dennis J. Murray said he was unable to give a statement because the case has not yet been settled.

In addition, Detective Paul Holt, Town of Poughkeepsie Police, said he would not compromise the investi­gation by commenting on the case at this time.

The Circle made several unsuccess­ful attempts to contact Tasso and his attorney.

Feeling claustrophobic?

Even with the construction of the new Mid-Rise and the new Townhouses, some students are hav­ing a hard time living in cramped quarters.

Each of the new Townhouses and the suites in the new Mid-Rise are required to be built-up to accommodate the current number of priority points accumulated.

"We just don't do that." Padovani said. The visitation guidelines are in reaction to complaints from students, and their parents about people being on their floor who were not registered.

These guidelines are for all students who have guests signed into their room at 12:20 on a week night will receive a phone call from the security officer or resident assistant on duty.

"The difficulty surrounding this is determining which student is to move out of the tripled room in the Townhouses or the Suites if it becomes a problem.

Many students expressed interest in being informed when Vision 94 will be completed.

"At the present time there are no plans to break down the built-up rooms.

"I think that the housing situa­tion was poorly planned," said more Diane Guarnera. "Administration should have thought more carefully about how many students were to be admitted and how many students that lived housing for.

Housing and Residential Life calls it a freshmen violation policy, but some freshmen say it's a curfew.

The new regulations affects both freshmen and upperclassmen.

According to the policy, "All roommates sharing a room will be expected to be in their dorms on their own floor by 12:30 a.m. (Friday-Saturday) and return to their own area or room.

According to Assistant Director of Housing, John Padovani, said the new regula­tion allows both freshmen and upperclassmen.

"The policy is strictly enforced in the freshmen halls and will be used as a guideline for other students when problems occur," Padovani said.

"They told us we didn't have a curfew when we got here, but you have to be in your room by 12:30 a.m., so that is a curfew," Bria said.

The Circle conducted a non-scientific poll from Sept. 13 to Sept. 20. Almost 1000 students responded to this question:

Do you support the new freshman curfew in the dorms?

Yes = 92
No = 857

"They're not being given the chance to prove themselves re­sponsible. So when they are given a chance, they're not being given a chance to have guests over all the time," McBride said.

Editor's Note: Safety and Security Joseph Leary said he supports the plan but believes it will be difficult to enforce.

"I really don't see a squad of security guards wandering up and down the hallways, checking on students, Leary said.

Oliver Stone's 'Killers' cause both shock and delight.

By JUSTIN HERMANN

We can always expect to see on an Oliver Stone film and leave the theater feeling afraid of the American government and its intelligence services.

Such is the case with 'Circle,' a new film which is about to be released. The film features a government agent who is seeking to expose a global conspiracy.

Some scenes of the movie are terrifying, including a scene where the agent enters a building and finds a group of people meetings. The building is on fire, and the agent is able to save some of the people inside.

However, other scenes of the movie are less intense. One scene features a government agency that is conducting a training exercise. The exercise involves a group of people pretending to be terrorists, and the agents are supposed to catch them.

The film's director, Oliver Stone, has said that he wanted to make a film that was as realistic as possible. He wanted to show the audience what it would be like to be a government agent and to see the challenges that they face.

Overall, 'Circle' is an intense and thought-provoking film. The performances are strong, and the direction is excellent. It's a film that will leave you thinking long after you've left the theater.

Justice?

The story may be old, but the problem hasn’t gone away. Sure, most sophomores, juniors, and seniors can recall where they were at 10:30 p.m. on Sat., Sept. 11, 1993, when the rape occurred, but it seems that most students have put it in the back of their minds and have tried not to think about it.

And a lot of questions are still being asked. Some have said it was acquaintance rape. Some say security is tight at all. Others have called the whole thing a hoax. Some have said it was acquaintance rape.

But sssshhh—we don’t like to talk about these things. Administration has kept quiet.

The story may be old, but the problem hasn’t gone away.

So let us ask you, the students: Do you feel vindicated?

Some have said it was acquaintance rape.

Credits determine parking. Why?

Editor:

I’m a junior at Marist, but am unimpressed with the decision to make credits the determining factor in parking. I believe that it is a very bad move for the administration to make and that it will cause a lot of problems in the future.

Therefore when it came time to get a parking pass, I found the end of the line in terms of parking.

I reside at Gartland Commons and I usually park my car downstairs in the parking garage.

I walked in and the student parking attendant looked at me and said, “Sorry, but you need to have a certain number of credits to park here.”

I was very disappointed because I have always been a good student and have always maintained a 3.0 GPA. I have never had any problems with my parking or any other aspect of Marist. I feel that the administration is just trying to squeeze money from the students.

It is hard to believe that Marist has come to this. I have been a student here for four years and have always enjoyed my time here.

Well in order to top back school I'm going to need to take a break from school. My semester is basically over and I'm going to take a little break. I was thinking of going to Europe, but I don't have the money for that. I was thinking about going to a beach or something. I don't know. I'm just going to take a little break and then get back to school.

There are a few things that I want to do while I'm on break. I want to see a lot of movies and read a lot of books. I also want to spend some time with my family and friends. I'm going to try to keep in touch with them as much as possible.

Offense sputters as booters fall to Mountaineers

by TERRY WILKINS

A scoreless half of last season is beginning to loom for the men's football team as the Red Foxes fell to West Virginia University, 14-7. In their opening game on Sept. 10, the Red Foxes were outscored by the Mountaineers in the first quarter, 7-0, and were unable to find the end zone the rest of the way.

"We were a lot better today than last year," said head coach Jim Parady. "I'm pleased with our overall performance and we're definitely improving as a team."

The Red Foxes fell to 3-1 overall, 1-1 in the Northeast Conference, while West Virginia improved to 1-3 overall, 1-1 in the Big East. The Red Foxes dropped to 3-1 overall, 1-1 in the NEC.

The Red Foxes were outscored by the Mountaineers, 7-0, in the first quarter and were unable to find the end zone the rest of the way.

"West Virginia played a much better game than we did," said head coach Jim Parady. "We weren't prepared for their offense and we didn't execute our offense as well as we did last week against Fordham."

The Red Foxes scored their first touchdown of the game in the second quarter, but were unable to score the rest of the way.

"We scored our first touchdown of the game and were able to put together a good drive," said head coach Jim Parady. "But we weren't able to sustain our offense and we weren't able to put together a good drive for the rest of the game."

Gridders capture first MAAC win, 37-19

By ANDREW HOLMLUND
Sports Editor

When the football team entered last Saturday's contest against Iona College, little did they know they were going to beat the number-one ranked team in the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference.

In their inaugural MAAC conference game, the Red Foxes defeated the Iona Gaels, 37-19, before a 1,423 fans who came to watch the big game.

The win was also Marist's (1-1 overall; 1-0 MAAC) first triumph on the young season. Iona fell to 0-1.

The Red Foxes were led by junior quarterback Pete Ford, who threw 9-12 passes for 135 yards. The freshman started also rushed for two touchdowns from one and two yards, respectively, while throwing for two more touchdowns.

Junior cornerback Tom Perske connected on a 46-yard pass from Ford to senior wide receiver Jamie Woodson for the first touchdown of the game. Marist took a 14-0 lead into the half.

After Iona quarterback Tom Swift was sacked on a fourth down by Tim Silo at 9:30 of the first quarter, the Red Foxes went on an eight-play, 37-yard touchdown drive.

Trailing 7-0, Marist tied the game at seven when Ford scored on a 1-yard plunge with 3:35 remaining in the opening quarter to cap off a 13-yard, 59-yard drive.

Thirty-one seconds later, Marist snipped the tie, forcing Perske out of his own end zone for a safety.

The Red Foxes increased its lead to 16-7 when Ford hit senior wide receiver Chris O'Neil on a 24-yard strike with 1:35 remaining in the second quarter.

Senior Bob Delponte, who is sharing quarterback duties with Ford, came into the game and threw a 3-yard touchdown pass to D'Aiuto with 1:10 remaining to give Marist a 23-7 lead at the half.

Marist's lead increased to 30-10 after Ford scored on a 1-yard touchdown run with 8:18 remaining in the third quarter.

Delponte ended the first score of the third quarter. Ford once again hit D'Aiuto on a 20-yard pass play. It was the shortest drive of the game for the Red Foxes, completing it in five plays for 68 yards.

Junior quarterback Peter Ford drops back to pass in a recent game. Marist stunned rival Iona, 37-19, on Saturday.

Netters defeat Iona for fourth straight win, 8-1

By JIM DERIAN

When the women's tennis team defied the court at the Delaware County Recreation Center yesterday afternoon, it was a confirmation of their undefeated season.

According to Trouban, Head Coach Dave Strong, the team may be that strong.

The Red Foxes are currently 6-0 in their 13-match season, which includes 11-1 last season.

It was a week ago, Marist was scheduled to take on Delaware County on a 9-8 victory. If they could have got on the court, it would have been tighter, but it was the Red Foxes runner-up for the title.

Senior Karen Blackwell is the number-three singles player and Dr. Robert Weller is the number-four doubles player.

We got the ball, and we got it back. The next step was to beat out the netters and the doubles team, which dominates in the field.

As we saw today, the Red Foxes have an advantage in doubles, which is crucial in tennis.

Football needs to use just one quarterback

By ANDREW HOLMLUND
Sports Editor

When I was attempting to program the forecast of the Marist football team, honestly did not think they would fare too well.

After finishing its 1993 schedule with a 5-6 mark (5-6), the Red Foxes were losing a host of players to graduation, including the franchise's all-time leading receiver, Don D'Aiuto.

However, after two games, the 1994 edition of Red Foxes has not anything I had expected.

Currently, the team is 1-1 and is coming off a win against Iona College, 37-19.

And it may be as strong as any Marist has fielded in years.

Head Coach Jim Parady seems to be pretty content with his team's performance, especially in the offensive side of the game.

The third-year head coach is the man in charge of the offense and the quarterback and running back position.

Right now, junior Pete Ford and senior Bob Delponte are splitting the quarterback, which was previously run by Brian McCourt.

However, Delponte and Ford are the number-two quarterbacks.

The head coach has not given any indication of who the only starting quarterback is going to be.

Andrew Holmlund
Sports Editor

I think that Parady and his coaching staff are going to have to make a decision on this before the next game against Fordham.

Parady also said playing two quarterbacks will not hinder any of the receivers.

On Tuesday, the Red Foxes were in New Jersey to battle Fairleigh Dickinson, and this week against St. Francis (N.Y.) on Friday, as long as the Red Foxes win, they could win the conference.

Will Marist go with Ford again or choose to run the offense in these key situations, but who will be used next time?

I won't say who the coaching staff will use, but they will have to make a decision on who their number one quarterback is going to be.

They are playing well as of late, so many records have been broken, but it will be interesting to see how the jury will react to these new players.

For now, the Red Foxes need to stay on track and get into the playoffs in the end.
