Professor on sabbatical at the Journal

by KELLY SMITH
Staff Writer

Professor Bob Grossman did not know what he was getting himself into when Marist offered him a sabbatical last year. Although he knew it would be a time to rest, he said it was also supposed to be a time to grow.

"Sabbaticals are an extraordinary opportunity that very few people get," said Grossman.

While considering what he wanted to do, Grossman said he was inspired by basketball star Michael Jordan. At the time Grossman was making his decision about what to do during his sabbatical, Jordan had made a decision to play baseball.

People wondered why a basketball star like Jordan would want to do something he was not supposed to be a time to grow. At the end of his sabbatical last year. Grossman spent his sabbatical at Bob Grossman spent his sabbatical at the Poughkeepsie Journal.

"The one thing I wanted to do more than anything in the world was to be a reporter. I think it's the ultimate challenge," said Grossman. "I want to know when I go to bed that I challenged myself."

Grossman graduated from Hobart College in 1965 with a degree in history. He was a Resident Assistant, and that he had always admired sports writers. As an captain of the baseball team, and also a football player, he became a sportswriter for the school paper.

In 1969, Grossman graduated from SUNY at Buffalo Law School. He said he became a lawyer in New York City, where he defended mostly the poor and the disadvantaged.

Grossman also worked as an Associate Executive Vice President for a college, a college adminstrator for SUNY at Brooklyn College, and a copywriter for a direct marketing association.

Thanksgiving is new deadline for re-opening south entrance

by KELLY SMITH
Staff Writer

Marist College students should have something more to be grateful for this Thanksgiving. According to Tom Daly, director of Physical Plant at Marist, the new south entrance to the college should be completed by the November holiday.

"The New York State Department of Transportation has promised Marist that the entrance would be open to traffic by Thanksgiving," Daly said.

Students said they like the new entrance and think the announcement is long overdue. Stephanie Mercuro, a sophomore at Marist, said she thinks the project should have been done a long time ago.

"I think it should have been completed a long time ago," she said. "It's taken way too long."

The New York State Department of Transportation planned on completing the widening of Route 9 by July 1994. Since then, the project deadline was moved up to August 1995.

"We're a little behind," said Daly.

"The temporary lights are still up," said Daly. "The temporary lights are still up."

"We've had to deal with the temporary lights," said Daly.

Although work on the project has been hindered by recent rains, Sepe said he hopes that all four lanes of Route 9 will open to traffic within two weeks.

"I don't think it will be a problem," said Daly.

The temporary Donnelly entrance, shown here, has closed since the south entrance is re-opening.

"During working hours, we will probably have to close one lane to continue paving," he said. "But after working hours, the four lanes should be open soon.

Finishing the project depends upon the weather, which in turn depends upon the weather, said Daly.

"The construction company has to follow D.O.T. temperature regulations for paving," he said. "The curbs and lights for the project are all very well along. If the good weather holds, the paving can be completed.

In the meantime, delays continue to aggravate commuters and members of the Marist community.

Ryan Osswald, a sophomore from Hyde Park, said that he tries to find alternate routes to Marist, but he has to cross Route 9 somewhere.

"I'm a commuter and I always get tied up going to class," said Osswald. "There's also been a lot of wear and tear on my car."
Jerusalem (AP) – Half of the Muslim students who joined other 11th graders near West Point to read out poems of peace on Monday morning leading pupils in the 40s. Lows in the 30s. In 1992; 6 percent of itmarriage bonds are still issued. Not married women overall rise, this sug-

West Point cadets steal Navy's mascot

Three of Naval Academy's mascot goats taken in predawn raid

We know Navy cadets were involved because they cut the heads off the goats and the 15 feet away there was an unlocked gate.

Tom Russo, Navy's sports information director, said off with Army's mules and the first caps of the way of caps. That was going to be a bit too much for us.

This is a major coup for the coe, West Point, of course we're going to follow.

Now I've learned how to free up the Falcons. Coaches grabbed the empty stadium case and the team (the middle school) was going to go to the city editor of the Journal and also contains seven acres of weddingaria's dream becomes reality

North End RSC helps homeless family

by Bill Ame

It is a city plagued by homelessness, poverty, and asemployment, Marist College's students are doing just that to help Poughkeepsie's less fortunate.

According to North End Resident Council Manager, Marist East students are actively involved with helping the family. Capote said anyone can participate by contacting her.

"It's time for people to wake up and realize they have responsibilities to others," said McAdams.

Marist East moves south to new home

by Donna Scapa

Wellman has found Marist East to move Southward to West Cedar Court.

Marist East, a new set up by the college as a storage facility, according to the Millfield Business Park in the intersection of R and Palis St.

Millfield, Millfield Business Park is handed it over to the Dagar Business Park gave up their site and

"We're all in shock." Navy sports informa-

The goats were swiped from a

"We're all in shock." Navy sports information director Tom Russo said. Because they couldn't get in the school and cold and cold and cold and cold and cold and cut a "We are Navy" sign from the Dayton Press.

"I couldn't stop the tears." Mahmoud added.

This is a major coup for the coe, West Point, of course we're going to follow.

"I've known her for 10 years
cut a "We are Navy" sign from the Dayton Press.

"I couldn't stop the tears." Mahmoud added. a "We are Navy" sign from the Dayton Press.

"I've known her for 10 years

Now I've learned how to free up the Falcons. Coaches grabbed the empty stadium case and the team (the middle school) was going to go to the city editor of the Journal

The Air Force public affairs likened the theft to a "tragedy... on the 40s. Lows in the 30s. In 1992; 6 percent of itmarriage bonds are still issued. Not married women overall rise, this sug-

Washington (AP) - Dr. Bethany A. Morris said the current state of mental illness and mental illness awareness, the press conference that the Army "thought was Bill XXVI, the Navy mascot. Instead, they got

"Now I've learned how to free up the Falcons. Coaches grabbed the empty stadium case and the team (the middle school) was going to go to the city editor of the Journal

Tom Russo, Navy's sports information director, said off with Army's mules and the first caps of the way of caps. That was going to be a bit too much for us.

"Now I've learned how to free up the Falcons. Coaches grabbed the empty stadium case and the team (the middle school) was going to go to the city editor of the Journal

"I've known her for 10 years

Now I've learned how to free up the Falcons. Coaches grabbed the empty stadium case and the team (the middle school) was going to go to the city editor of the Journal

"I've known her for 10 years
Students help the under-privileged during Hunger Week

by Kristin Richard
Staff Writer

While college students crave home-cooked meals, many of the under-privileged do not. Cafe Petrossian, located just off 15th Street, serves the food many would wish for any food at all.

"Home-cooked meals after months in a college dorm is a luxury," said Sister Jeanne Hamilton, the director of Marist Outreach, Our Lady of Good Counsel. "What I like about it is it's really a Marist project," she said. Hamilton said more than 21 students were involved in the project, which included a majority of the students in one way or another.

"It's a way of visually emphasizing the need throughout the world and how we are helping," she said.

Williams said the money gathered during Hunger Week will be sent directly to La Petite Maison in Latvia, where Williams said the experience had been life-changing. Williams said she also took students to other locations, including the United Way of Dutchess County, but the trip to Latvia was her favorite.

"That was a good trip, because the students are helping in such a tangible way," she said.

Williams said Hungry Week was also an opportunity for students to give to charities of their choice.

"There was a lot of work involved, but there was a lot to gain," she said. "I feel like it's part of what a Marist education is."
I am not 'Generation X

I am a child of the Eighties. That is what I prefer to be called. The Eighties can do no wrong. Oregon has been and always will be the best state in the nation. I have lived in Oregon all my life and I love it. I have always been a fan of Oregon and I would never leave. I am proud to be a Oregonian and I will always be a part of this great state.

The Eighties were a great time for me. I was born in 1980 and I grew up in the Eighties. I have fond memories of growing up in the Eighties and I will always cherish those memories. The Eighties were a time of change and growth for me.

I remember the days when I was a child and I would watch cartoons like "The Smurfs," "The Banana Splits," and "The Ghostbusters." I loved them all. I would also watch movies like "E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial," "张家界," and "The Karate Kid." I remember being fascinated by these movies and I still love them today.

I also remember the music of the Eighties. I grew up listening to music like "Eggplant," "Happy wheels," and "Skateboard." I loved these songs and I still enjoy them today. I also remember the fashion of the Eighties. I wore clothing like "Nike," "Adidas," and "Levi's." I loved these brands and I still wear them today.

The Eighties were a time of change and growth for me. I grew up learning about the world and I learned about the importance of being a good person. I learned that it is important to be kind to others and to always do the right thing.

I am proud to be a child of the Eighties and I will always cherish those memories. The Eighties were a great time for me and I will always remember them with fondness.

J. Scott Wyman

The Circle's Executive columnist
The design of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past.

The mansion, Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The design of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past.

The mansion, Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

Checking out the Hudson Valley

For any students looking for a less sedentary lifestyle, there are still outdoor activities to enjoy.

The Vanderbilt Mansion, located on the outskirts of Poughkeepsie, is a historic site that attracts visitors from around the world.

The mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion’s interior is designed to replicate the opulence of the Gilded Age, featuring ornate fireplaces, rich fabrics, and elaborate carvings on the walls and ceilings.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.

The Vanderbilt Mansion: Hudson Valley opulence defined in stone.

The designs of the mansion’s interior is superior to resemble the homes of banqueteers of the past. However, the mansion is open to the public year-round and offers guided tours and educational programs throughout the year.

The mansion also contains a museum dedicated to the Vanderbilt family, featuring artifacts and memorabilia that provide insight into their lives and times.

In conclusion, checking out the Hudson Valley for a less sedentary lifestyle is an excellent option for students looking to enjoy the outdoors and learn about the history and culture of this region.
SGA NEWS

The Year of Response

ATTENTION SENIORS:

We are sorry to inform you that Senior Class Portraits for the weeks of November 6-10 and the 13-17 have been cancelled. Senior Portrait Packages will be rescheduled next semester. We are sorry about any inconvenience this has caused you.

- The Reynard Staff

ATTENTION SENIORS: WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT!!!!!!

Anyone interested in selling senior class raffle tickets needs to contact Nicole Montipagni x4888 as soon as possible. The more raffle tickets we sell the lower the cost of Senior Week. Support your Class.

Thank You - The Class of 1996 Officers

Attention Sports Clubs

The financial Board is looking for someone to be a representative for sports clubs on it's board. Help determine club budget allocations and earn priority

Concerns regarding Marist Money addressed

Dear Marist College Students,

Some concerns have been repeatedly brought up both in and out of Student Government regarding the issue of Marist Money. The problem seems to boil down to three simple things:

1. Marist Money account, when some students are struggling just to buy books for their classes.
2. Marist Money account, when the one goal win that on a second goal, leaving secondarily on the season. The assist came from fellow owner Mary Walsh. Walsh's game: four goals and a shutout.
3. The fact that students are forced to use Marist Money to do laundry in the South End residence halls, leaving them with no choice but to open an account.

The Student Life Council is addressing these concerns with college administrators and hopes to find a solution agreeable for all involved. If you have any questions or additional concerns regarding this or any other student life issue, feel free to contact me at Ext. 7140.

In conclusion, the Student Life Council will keep you up to date on any changes or modifications to the policy. For now, I just wanted to advise all of you that we here in Student Government are hearing your concerns and moving on them as quickly as possible.

Take care,

Erik J. Molinaro
Vice-President for Student Life

THE GIVING TREE PROJECT

"IT'S BACK AGAIN"

Dear Marist Community:

It is that time of the year again. The Giving Tree Project has been underway since September. It is now time for all of Marist College to come together and support a worthy cause. We would like to take this time to inform everyone that the trees will be going up the week of November 12th.

We hope that everyone will participate and pick an ornament. The ceremony will be held Dec. 3rd at 7 PM in the Arts Room. If anyone has any questions or would like to help we would love to hear from you and you can call Nicole at x4888.

Thank you for your support

Brenda Gallagher, Amy Hall, Nicole Montipagni & Dyana Santulli

6-0 skaters reach for the top ranking

by Mike Gintile Jr

Suff. Sunday

Another game against Hofstra, and another big victory for the Marist College hockey team. The latest Red Fox win came Friday night at the local Hofstra University 12-3 at the McClean Arena.

Once again the teams had no problems putting the puck past the opponent's net.

With this latest victory, the Marist team announced their 6-1-0 at the first nine games.

Head Coach Kevin Walsh is happy with his team's performance.

"Our team came out flying and played a really hard game," Walsh said.

Being able to win in hockey is one story, but being able to get out and humiliate your opponent after games is another story. The Red Foxes were able to do just that as they defeated the Pride 3-1. Walsh and his team came back from the same result. Walsh said.

The 10-0 triumph came on Saturday the 9th against the same Hofstra team in the Nassau Coliseum. However this win was at home and the result was similar.

The results have been bread taking and the anticipation for a meeting is mounting.

According to Walsh, at the start of the month, the teams rankings for the specific regions in the country will be out.

Because the Red Foxes have been overpowering their opponents, they have made reservations in the future.

"Once again we are not so anxious about the Red Foxes at or near the top in the norther region," Walsh said.

Even though the end of the month is in the near future, the Red Foxes are looking forward to playing their opponents in the next games.

"This is a big weekend coming up," Walsh said. "We have Binghamton on Friday night at home and then we travel to Rutgers University on Sunday.

Rutgers is 3-1- and not having the Marist fans on their side could be a dilemma to the team.

The Red Foxes hope to keep their winning streak with the find of freshman Brian Warzecha.

Warzecha leads the team in scoring with 14 goals and six assists. The season is still young and there is plenty of time for whoever

Boothee top off inaugural season by making it to the NEC finals

The Masonix have followed a Marist المملكة 위한 whole season.

Despite starting first half plus, the Red Foxes were down with the one goal win on a second half, heading secondarily on the season. "They are a very skilled team," Walsh said.

The team was on track to make some great saves, the one goal win on a second half, heading secondarily on the season. The assist came from fellow owner Mary Walsh. Walsh's game: four goals and a shutout.

"They had the choice of going with the same low pressure defense or opening it up," said Pickles.

"I decided to open it up my way to do it, we were able to keep it on track by one or by a team.

The Hawk scored 29 goals, 7 assists, and 29 points in the season. Pickles had a great season.

"The Hawk scored 29 goals, 7 assists, and 29 points in the season. Pickles had a great season.

Marist(saved the Red Foxes 27 vs. the Hawks)

"They are a very skilled team," Walsh said.

Head Coach Kevin Walsh is happy with his team's performance, causing problems for the competition and reaching their season. "We just had trouble containing the teams," the coach said.

"I'm happy and proud of the team." Walsh said.

The Masonix have a bright future, but they won't all be brighter.

Walsh's performance was a big help to the outcomes, Pickles.

"Mary put in such a great performance, causing problems for their defense, and both (Scott's) made some great saves," the coach said.

Pickles added that her team stepped up and played well.

"I'm happy and proud of the team," said the coach. "They had the high point of the season, it was a great win.

"Reaching the NEC final was unbelievable, it was one of our goals to get in the semifinal, and we reached it," said Styles.

Brownies move could be final

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) - Miami Dolphins' official Tuesday that the Brownies' move to Buslation will be irreversible, but he also joined Goldwater saying is causing for stalling in the NFL.

"It's a very, very serious problem," Miami Coastal Master Michael White agreed to the group in the Brownies from leaving.

"They are the Cleveland Browns and they will be the Cleveland Browns until the end of the year," said White. "It's not longer the Cleveland Browns.

The "70-year-old Modell, however, told a story about the Browns playing in Cleveland - even if the city builds his new stadium or improves the old one.

Booters top off inaugural season by making it to the NEC finals

The Masonix have followed a Marist-dominated win over Mount St. Mary's, 1:0.

Despite dominating first half plus, the Red Foxes were down with the one goal win on a second half, heading secondarily on the season. "We just had trouble containing the teams," the coach said.

"I'm happy and proud of the team." Walsh said.

The Masonix have a bright future, but they won't all be brighter.

Walsh's performance was a big help to the outcomes, Pickles.

"Mary put in such a great performance, causing problems for their defense, and both (Scott's) made some great saves," the coach said.

Pickles added that her team stepped up and played well.

"I'm happy and proud of the team," said the coach. "They had the high point of the season, it was a great win.

"Reaching the NEC final was unbelievable, it was one of our goals to get in the semifinal, and we reached it." said Styles.

Easy Street Cafe

Every Wednesday Night at Easy Street

9 pm to Midnight

$5 all domestic drinks you can draft

Located about 3 miles north of Marist College on Route 9 (next to Subway)
STAT OF THE WEEK:

The Football Team's ONFENSE GAINED 530 YARDS AGAINST ST. PETER'S.

Gridders roll over St. Peters, 38-0; Siena up next by Marty Sinacola

Going into Saturday's game against the Peacocks of St. Peter's College, a big game was needed all around by the Marist College football team.

If it's a big game they wanted, a big game they got, as Marist clobbered the Peacocks, 38-0. The Foxes dominated as both the offense and defense both played arguably their best ball all season.

"We had a great team effort today," Head Coach Jim Parady said. "And it was given to so many different people. We gave two ball games today, one to the offense, and one to the defense."

Indeed, both squads did deserve a game ball, as the offense gained a whopping 530 total yards, while the defense gave up only 93 total net yards to St. Peter's.

Sophomore running back Jovan Rhodes was back to top form, as he carried the offense with 153 yards rushing and one touchdown.

Parady was quick to give some credit to the defense, who clobbered the Peacocks, 38-0.

"Jovan made the (St. Peter's) line backers miss a lot, but the offensive line did a great job by opening all holes, and opening big holes," Parady recently has converted back to the quarterback platoon system that thrived under him last year leading them to the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference championship.

The Foxes did not have much to complain about with 218 yards passing and two touchdowns.

"It all depends on how the flow of the game is going, that dictates who will be in the game," Parady said.

"The defense dominated the Peacocks all game, not allowing St. Peter's to mount any significant offense either through the air or on the ground."

"The defensive line, played a fantastic game," Parady said. "They put a lot of pressure on the quarterback."