Student Body President candidates embark on campaign trail

by KRISTINA WELLS
Editor

On Sun., Feb. 12, the Student Government Association announced the four candidates running for Student Body President. Mikael Carlson, Timothy Hanson, Philip Mason, and Jennifer Nocella will be campaigning this week until elections on Feb. 20 and 21.

Speaking with The Circle this week, the candidates focused mostly on the prevalent issues the student body will be faced with in the upcoming year.

Carlson, vice president of academics for SGA, said, "The most important issues right now are the cap on clubs and the freshmen curfew. These are two concerns that have come to the forefront in the last semester," he said.

Mason, a sophomore communications and English major, said the current policy needs to be eliminated altogether.

"Why can't adults in the eyes of the law, 18-year-olds, 19-year-olds, have a say in the things that affect our lives?" he said. "The policy should be eliminated altogether."

Hanson, a junior computer information systems major, said the current freshmen curfew policy needs to be ratified in some way.

"Nicolich was a member of the Class of '96 for two years, so it was community council, employment, and campus life," he said. "Students would have a say in the things that affect their lives."

The four candidates for Student Body President (from left to right) - Tim Hanson, junior, Mikael Carlson, junior, Jennifer Nocella, junior, and Philip Mason, sophomore. The presidential debate will be broadcast live on MCTV tonight at 10:00 p.m.

The four candidates for Student Body President (from left to right) - Tim Hanson, junior, Mikael Carlson, junior, Jennifer Nocella, junior, and Phil Mason, sophomore. The presidential debate will be broadcast live on MCTV tonight at 10:00 p.m.

The month of February allows for the appreciation of the influence of African Americans. According to Nocella, the greatest task facing the elected official of the Class of '96 for two years, so it was community council, employment, and campus life," he said. "Students would have a say in the things that affect their lives."

Mason said the current policy needs to be eliminated altogether. "The policy should be eliminated altogether."

Hanson, a junior computer information systems major, said the current freshmen curfew policy needs to be ratified in some way.

"There is no suspicion that drunk driving caused the accident," he said.

Nicolich was a member, has begun work on creating a scholarship in her memory. "Sally was the kind of person that everyone around her knew was special," she said. "She was true and loyal and was always there for you when you needed a friend."

The BSU celebrates Black History Month

by ROBERT G. TARGOS
Staff Writer

The month of February allows the Marist community to realize the important contributions of African Americans to the history of the United States. According to Tim Gamory, president of the Black Student Union, Black History Month started long before Martin Luther King Jr. delivered his inspirational wisdom in the 1960s during the Civil Rights movement.

"It creates a window for people to recognize and celebrate our contributions," Gamory, a senior, said. "It's serving its purpose, but it's not the end of all."

Gamory said the events the BSU have already sponsored included the Minneapolis Gospel Sound with the Student Programming Council.

"Not only BSU members come to the events, but all students participate," he said. "We're getting across an expression of culture and our background."

Future events to be sponsored by the BSU for February include a lecture by Minister Yuusuf Muhammad in the theater on Feb. 21, and Black History Jeopardy next Thursday in Donnelly, room 225.

Gamory said that black history encompasses different cultures all over the world. February allows for the appreciation of the influence of African Americans. According to Nocella, the greatest task facing the elected official of the Class of '96 for two years, so it was community council, employment, and campus life," he said. "Students would have a say in the things that affect their lives."

Mason said the current policy needs to be eliminated altogether. "The policy should be eliminated altogether."

Hanson, a junior computer information systems major, said the current freshmen curfew policy needs to be ratified in some way.

"There is no suspicion that drunk driving caused the accident," he said.

Nicolich was a member, has begun work on creating a scholarship in her memory. "Sally was the kind of person that everyone around her knew was special," she said. "She was true and loyal and was always there for you when you needed a friend."

The BSU celebrates Black History Month

by ROBERT G. TARGOS
Staff Writer

The month of February allows the Marist community to realize the important contributions of African Americans to the history of the United States. According to Tim Gamory, president of the Black Student Union, Black History Month started long before Martin Luther King Jr. delivered his inspirational wisdom in the 1960s during the Civil Rights movement.

"It creates a window for people to recognize and celebrate our contributions," Gamory, a senior, said. "It's serving its purpose, but it's not the end of all."

Gamory said the events the BSU have already sponsored included the Minneapolis Gospel Sound with the Student Programming Council.

"Not only BSU members come to the events, but all students participate," he said. "We're getting across an expression of culture and our background."

Future events to be sponsored by the BSU for February include a lecture by Minister Yuusuf Muhammad in the theater on Feb. 21, and Black History Jeopardy next Thursday in Donnelly, room 225.

Gamory said that black history encompasses different cultures all over the world. February allows for the appreciation of the influence of African Americans. According to Nocella, the greatest task facing the elected official of the Class of '96 for two years, so it was community council, employment, and campus life," he said. "Students would have a say in the things that affect their lives."

Mason said the current policy needs to be eliminated altogether. "The policy should be eliminated altogether."

Hanson, a junior computer information systems major, said the current freshmen curfew policy needs to be ratified in some way.

"There is no suspicion that drunk driving caused the accident," he said.

Nicolich was a member, has begun work on creating a scholarship in her memory. "Sally was the kind of person that everyone around her knew was special," she said. "She was true and loyal and was always there for you when you needed a friend."

The BSU celebrates Black History Month

by ROBERT G. TARGOS
Staff Writer

The month of February allows the Marist community to realize the important contributions of African Americans to the history of the United States. According to Tim Gamory, president of the Black Student Union, Black History Month started long before Martin Luther King Jr. delivered his inspirational wisdom in the 1960s during the Civil Rights movement.

"It creates a window for people to recognize and celebrate our contributions," Gamory, a senior, said. "It's serving its purpose, but it's not the end of all."

Gamory said the events the BSU have already sponsored included the Minneapolis Gospel Sound with the Student Programming Council.

"Not only BSU members come to the events, but all students participate," he said. "We're getting across an expression of culture and our background.

Future events to be sponsored by the BSU for February include a lecture by Minister Yuusuf Muhammad in the theater on Feb. 21, and Black History Jeopardy next Thursday in Donnelly, room 225.

Gamory said that black history encompasses different cultures all over the world. February allows for the appreciation of the influence of African Americans. According to Nocella, the greatest task facing the elected official of the Class of '96 for two years, so it was community council, employment, and campus life," he said. "Students would have a say in the things that affect their lives."

Mason said the current policy needs to be eliminated altogether. "The policy should be eliminated altogether."

Hanson, a junior computer information systems major, said the current freshmen curfew policy needs to be ratified in some way.

"There is no suspicion that drunk driving caused the accident," he said.

Nicolich was a member, has begun work on creating a scholarship in her memory. "Sally was the kind of person that everyone around her knew was special," she said. "She was true and loyal and was always there for you when you needed a friend."

The BSU celebrates Black History Month

by ROBERT G. TARGOS
Staff Writer

The month of February allows the Marist community to realize the important contributions of African Americans to the history of the United States. According to Tim Gamory, president of the Black Student Union, Black History Month started long before Martin Luther King Jr. delivered his inspirational wisdom in the 1960s during the Civil Rights movement.

"It creates a window for people to recognize and celebrate our contributions," Gamory, a senior, said. "It's serving its purpose, but it's not the end of all."

Gamory said the events the BSU have already sponsored included the Minneapolis Gospel Sound with the Student Programming Council.

"Not only BSU members come to the events, but all students participate," he said. "We're getting across an expression of culture and our background."

Future events to be sponsored by the BSU for February include a lecture by Minister Yuusuf Muhammad in the theater on Feb. 21, and Black History Jeopardy next Thursday in Donnelly, room 225.

Gamory said that black history encompasses different cultures all over the world. February allows for the appreciation of the influence of African Americans. According to Nocella, the greatest task facing the elected official of the Class of '96 for two years, so it was community council, employment, and campus life," he said. "Students would have a say in the things that affect their lives."

Mason said the current policy needs to be eliminated altogether. "The policy should be eliminated altogether."

Hanson, a junior computer information systems major, said the current freshmen curfew policy needs to be ratified in some way.

"There is no suspicion that drunk driving caused the accident," he said.

Nicolich was a member, has begun work on creating a scholarship in her memory. "Sally was the kind of person that everyone around her knew was special," she said. "She was true and loyal and was always there for you when you needed a friend."

The BSU celebrates Black History Month

by ROBERT G. TARGOS
Staff Writer

The month of February allows the Marist community to realize the important contributions of African Americans to the history of the United States. According to Tim Gamory, president of the Black Student Union, Black History Month started long before Martin Luther King Jr. delivered his inspirational wisdom in the 1960s during the Civil Rights movement.

"It creates a window for people to recognize and celebrate our contributions," Gamory, a senior, said. "It's serving its purpose, but it's not the end of all."

Gamory said the events the BSU have already sponsored included the Minneapolis Gospel Sound with the Student Programming Council.

"Not only BSU members come to the events, but all students participate," he said. "We're getting across an expression of culture and our background."

Future events to be sponsored by the BSU for February include a lecture by Minister Yuusuf Muhammad in the theater on Feb. 21, and Black History Jeopardy next Thursday in Donnelly, room 225.
Spring 1995 club budgets—Where does the dough go?

by MEREDITH KENNEDY

Brighton, Mass.

The Spring '95 budgets have been released in the form of club budgets mounted on Kraft paper in the Office of Student Activities, Room 201 (200). Each budget was created in one hour by a student or group of students, and served as a good example of what a budget should look like.

According to Lisa Goddard, treasurer of the Student Activities, the Spring '95 budgets are a great deal better than previous years, with some students actually turning in negative budgets.

"On the average, The Circle is not any real profit," said Goddard. "We're looking at $500.00, we make $500.00, and we're looking at what our Clowdus department is going to be.

Marist hit with first snow storm of '95

by BRIAN FRANKENFIELD

New York, N.Y.

After the snowstorm on last week's warm weather, last spring's Marist Magnum's hit some snow. The snowstorm was a great deal worse than Marist's spring weather, with lots of rain and snow piling up on the snowbanks.

Band students like being a band students, but not when they're trying to travel around.

While students may be trying to travel around, they also want to travel to other places. They want to travel to Florida for spring break, and to England for Christmas. They want to travel to New York City for Christmas, and to Hollywood for Christmas. They want to travel to New York City for Christmas, and to Hollywood for Christmas.

Marist students like being a band students, but not when they're trying to travel around. They want to travel to Florida for spring break, and to England for Christmas. They want to travel to New York City for Christmas, and to Hollywood for Christmas.
MONDAY GREEK NIGHT
Bring your Frat or Sorority
For the Berties Olympics
Doors Open at 8pm Games at 9
Drafts start at a Quarter.
No Cover

THURSDAY IS YOUR NIGHT!!!
1st Four Kegs Are FREE
1.75 Zimas $1.00 Shots
Berties also presents Bring Your Buddy Night
Simply show up at Berties on Thursday with this ad and a friend and the two of ya get in for the price of one.

TUESDAY MENS NIGHT
Guys its your turn at ALL YOU CAN DRINK FOR $8.00
Ladies Get Free Drafts
9pm-12pm
Reservoir Square and Rood Mood

FRIDAY HAPPY HOURS 4PM-8PM
Buy One Get One Free
Any Drink in the House
Free Buffet from Emmilius
Members of 4-Guys in Disguise
No Cover 21 and over please

Don't forget March 8th
4-Guys In Disguise
Don't forget March 8th
4 Bands and FREE Drafts all night.
No Cover

Reservoir Square and Rood Mood

NEW Exhibit of NY State abstract artist scheduled for Marist gallery Feb. 23

New exhibit of NY State abstract artists

by NOIRE MOZZONE

Don't forget March 8th
Berties Bash '95
Kick Off your Spring Break right the way with 4 Bands and FREE Drafts all night.
Doors open at 8pm.
Stay tuned for more details.
Letters to the Editor...

Surfing Marist's Infoshop for a Living

Cruisin' lor a British

Random thoughts on selected ideas

Construction and Destruction

Edukashun?

Gov. Pataki's proposed budget plans to cut or decrease the amount of financial aid for students. Financial aid was the only way to go. Now, think about what it was like to apply to colleges. These 57, if the budget it approved, will lose their financial aid from the State will be eliminated and those students will be left with nothing. $1,000 next year.

The President's Viewpoint

Random thoughts on selected ideas

Construction and Destruction

We've heard rumors of praise, rumors of complaints, but now we want to hear from you! Suggestions, complaints or testimonials are welcomed by the staff. Don't keep your comments to yourself. Let the whole world in on your message. Ext. #2429

SINGR BREAK

Nassau / Paradise Island,
Canun and Jamaica from $299

Air, Hotel, Transfers, Parties and more.
Organize small group

Call 1-800-822-0321
The Cactus Club

51 Market St. 452-3179

MONDAY
PINT NIGHT FROM BASS TO $1.00 OFF ALL PINT DRAFTS
WOODECKER

TUESDAY
PITCHERS & WINGS $3.00 PITCHERS & 1/2 PRICE WINGS

WEDNESDAY
NICKLE BEER NIGHT .05 CENT DRAFTS WHILE SUPPLIES LAST
LADIES $1.00 WELL DRINKS EVERYONE $1.50 RED WOLF BTLs DIFFERENT PARTY EACH WEEK 18 & UP

THURSDAY
NO SCRÉW! AROUND COLLEGE NIGHT 18 & UP
POWER HOUR 9pm-10pm $.50 WELL DRINKS
.50 CENT DRAFTS 8pm-2am

FRIDAY
MODERN ROCK LIVE 21 & UP
$1.50 BOTTLE BEER SPECIAL DJ RAY 'til 4am

SATURDAY
LADIES NIGHT LADIES $1.50 WELL DRINKS ALL NIGHT $1.50 BUD LIGHT BLTS FOR EVERYONE all request DJ'S 'til 4am

SPECIAL EVENTS
FRIDAY 2/17 THE DEADBEATS GRATUITE DEAD COVERS
WEDNESDAY 2/22 OLD SCHOOL HIP-HOP PARTY WITH DJ H-BOMB
BRAND NEW REDUCED COVER WITH MARIST I.D. EVERY FRIDAY & SATURDAY 21 & UP

---

Trolleys

Monday
Free Refill Night
$5.00 Domestic Draft
All You Can Drink
9-12pm

Tuesday
Bud Draft 50¢ Mug
Ladies Well Drinks $1.50

Wednesday
Rotating Bottle Night
50¢ Domestic
$2.00 Well Drinks 9-12am

Thursdays - Marist College
Senior Night (17 & over)
$1.50 Well Drinks
50¢ Drafts
$1.00 Test Tube Shots

Friday
2 for 1 Happy Hour
Dance to the greatest musical hits

Saturday
2/25 Live Music - T-Bone Pitcher Night
Bud $4.00

Sunday
Hang Over Noon Day
75¢ Dom. Drafts
Bloody Mary $1.75
Screwdrivers $1.50

Pool Table
Darts

Trolley's
96 Main Street
Pok., N.Y.
485-3887
21 and Over

---

Student Government Elections 1995
February 20 & 21, 1995

Go Out and Vote YOU HAVE THE POWER!

---

Troy Cup Club

Lookin' for a night of high rolling and gambling with Jim Karol? The night offers everyone in town to forget your worries and try to win some great prizes. No money is needed, all is provided for and the prizes range from gift certificates to CD's to CD players, a TV and a VCR. So take a chance. What have you got to lose?

Wednesday, February 21, 1995
At 8:00 PM in the Theatre, B.S.U. and S.P.C. are proud to present Minister Yusuf Muhammad. As a Justice on college campuses and high schools, Yusuf Muhammad has been enlightening our youth by speaking about how to survive and become productive in a hostile environment. By focusing on the importance of Black history, the community and the use of economics, Mr. Muhammad shows the students that knowledge of self and the strengthening of our cultural roots are the keys. Limited seating, so up to win FREE tickets to Club Activities today.

Friday, February 24, 1995

Troy Cup Club featuring Brad Lowery with the Habibian opening. Sponsored by B.U.L. and S.P.C. Brad has been seen on NBC's 'Shawarts at the Apollo and promises to be an extra-ordinary night! Doors open at 8:30 PM with the show beginning at 9:00 PM. Admission is free for all Marist students and $5 dollars for any non-Marist students.

For any additional event information, call the S.P.C. event information hotline 1-803-777-1000.

---

Seniors

Attention Seniors:
Your senior night is becoming involved in the upcoming senior events.

---

The Senior Class Officers will be holding a meeting Wednesday, February 15, at 12pm in CC Room 123. The topics covered will include:*
- Senior formal
- Senior week fireworks
- Class T-shirts
- and numerous fund-raisers*

S.P.C.

At 8:00 PM in the Theatre, B.S.U. and S.P.C. are proud to present Minister Yusuf Muhammad. As a Justice on college campuses and high schools, Yusuf Muhammad has been enlightening our youth by speaking about how to survive and become productive in a hostile environment. By focusing on the importance of Black history, the community and the use of economics, Mr. Muhammad shows the students that knowledge of self and the strengthening of our cultural roots are the keys. Limited seating, so you can win FREE tickets to Club Activities today.
The Man Behind the Mask - Brad Kamp

by JIM HARRISON

If you can't be out on the ice with the hockey team, then the next best thing is to be out on the sidelines with a camera. Brad Kamp, the eighth-year head coach of the St. Francis (PA) men's hockey team, has taken to the sideline to get the best possible shots of his players in action.

Kamp's role is not only that of a coach, but also a mentor. "When I was thinking about coaching, I knew I wanted to do it for the love of the game," Kamp said. "But I also knew I wanted to give back to my community and the game of hockey."

Kamp has been with the team since its inception in 1987, and has guided the team to a total of four NCAA Tournament appearances. "I love the dedication and passion that I see in my players," Kamp said. "They work so hard and they put in so much time and effort."

Kamp's favorite memories come from the 1994 NCAA Tournament, where the team made it to the championship game. "It was a great feeling," Kamp said. "We had a chance to win it all and it was a great experience for everyone involved."
The sweet smell of victory. The women's swimming and diving team did not smell the chlorine that past weekend evidence to another unprecedented victory.

The Red Foxes ousted the entire field by an impressive margin, winning downpost second-place rival Rider College, 672-556. The much-awaited victory capped off goals that had been set by the team early in the season.

The first goal was to win well, and consistently, and from that the second goal of repeating at Metro champs would hopefully fall into place.

How right they were.

The team saved its best performances for the last and most important test meet of the year. Despite the absence of the swimmers, who broke ten school records, the divers leadership of the competition stands above all accomplishments.

Senior Jen McCausley, junior Janine Martin and sophomore Danielle Szlapka bring to the table the one-and-three-meter divers.

"The divers have been a great source of support," head coach Liz Goodstein said. "I have to give Melanie (Melanie Bolstad, diving coach) all the credit. As strong as she is here at Marist, they will continue to be very competitive.

McCasley said she was happy with her and her fellow divers' contributions to the victory.

"It was a great victory for us, we were in a must-win to take 2-3 in both events and we did," she said. "We didn't open any doors for anyone to sneak in."

When asked if this past weekend was the best he had seen his team perform this season, Goodstein did not mince saying he was excited to announce it. Goodstein is right in his assessment.

-In the end, the last two weekends were both victory weekends for the team.

STAT OF THE WEEK:

-Drang: Men's basketball scores double digits, the men's basketball team is a perfect 10-0.

TwoAdjusted rebounds by Marist in the NEC, but it may end sooner than late.

-Back to back defeats by Marist in NEC history to win a title in the NEC, but it may end sooner than late.

-The team swept through the competition, breaking ten school records on the weekend and qualifying nine swimmers and divers and five relay teams for the ECACAs.

-Told the team is a perfect 10-0.

-Back to back defeats by Marist in NEC history to win a title in the NEC. However, there was a question of whether the pack passed the goal line before the end of regulation.

The referees said no. "I'm the last one to blame the referees, but they took that goal away," Walsh said.

Junior forward Kris Rojek said he had no doubt in his mind about the goal. "That was definitely a goal," Rojek said.

Walsh and the players also questioned a missed call on the takedown of freshman George Mary's period-breaking shot in the third period.

Freshman Jason Rojek of Robert Morris said he was totally disappointed with the officials.

"The referees were the number seven and eight players on the floor for the game," he said.

Head coach Ken Babineau said he was looking forward to the opponent.

"This point (the eight point lead) deficit, we go back in the game, and now we're up seven," Babineau said.

The Red Flash, put up 25 points after the first half, and at 106-65, the game was over. Babineau said.

"We are so relieved that we got the point," Babineau said. "It was so exciting." Maguire said. "We are so relieved that we got the point," Babineau said.

"It's the University of Connecticut," Babineau said. "We are so relieved that we got the point," Babineau said.

"We are so relieved that we got the point," Babineau said. "It was so exciting." Maguire said. So relieved that we got the point," Babineau said.

fter being a dominant factor in the team's starting lineup as a Freshman, Darrah Metz has come to Marist and the team's starting lineup as a Freshman, Darrah Metz has come to Marist and nearly every game since. Darrah Metz has come to Marist and nearly every game since.

"It's the University of Connecticut," Babineau said. "We are so relieved that we got the point," Babineau said. So relieved that we got the point," Babineau said.

"We are so relieved that we got the point," Babineau said. "It was so exciting." Maguire said. So relieved that we got the point," Babineau said.

fter being a dominant factor in the team's starting lineup as a Freshman, Darrah Metz has come to Marist and the team's starting lineup as a Freshman, Darrah Metz has come to Marist and nearly every game since. Darrah Metz has come to Marist and nearly every game since.

"It's the University of Connecticut," Babineau said. "We are so relieved that we got the point," Babineau said. So relieved that we got the point," Babineau said.

fter being a dominant factor in the team's starting lineup as a Freshman, Darrah Metz has come to Marist and the team's starting lineup as a Freshman, Darrah Metz has come to Marist and nearly every game since. Darrah Metz has come to Marist and nearly every game since.