Committee voices opinions on Freshmen Curfew

by ELIZABETH BROPHY
Staff Writer

During the summer of 1994, policy number six, on visitation rights, was added to the Resident Student Regulations Policies and Mission Statement written in the 1994-1995 Marist College Student Handbook.

This visitation policy, which is often referred to as the "Freshmen Circle" name, has become one of the major controversial topics of discussion among Marist students, particularly the freshmen class.

According to the handbook, the committee said the visitation policy is geared towards freshmen, in an effort to decrease the freshman residence halls with stringency.

Concerned about the myriad questions and the passionate discussions that he heard among his fellow students, the committee has presented both a petition with 400 signatures and a proposal for compromise to Dean Santiago.

They are trying to make it clear that many students have become passionate over this issue and that there is a need for compromise. Both Conte and Santiago feel that the faculty and administration have been open-minded so far.

Although they sometimes become discouraged by discrepancies in the information that they are required to give the different faculty members, the committee said the responses have been encouraging, in which they are supporting their appeal and the position that they believe that the "signposting" are indications that Raimo will remember the need for compromise when he writes his proposal for next year's housing regulations.

"Right now they are waiting for results," said Conte, "but Jim Raimo has already given the assurance that he will meet with us. We are trying to let him know that it's 9:05 in the morning and already there is a small crowd gathering outside Bill Davis' office. Davis, assistant director of the communication internship program, is busy directing communication majors into meaningful internships. If the GOP has its way, Marist students will have less access to minority faculty and staff like Dave Davis. The affirmative action programs implemented during the 60s and 70s to protect women and minorities against discrimination have recently come under attack by Republicans and Gov. George Pataki."

"We understand their argument," Conte said, "but we disagree that affirmative action is a way to make up for the discrimination of the past. It's 9:05 in the morning and already there is a small crowd gathering outside Bill Davis' office. Davis, assistant director of the communication internship program, is busy directing communication majors into meaningful internships. If the GOP has its way, Marist students will have less access to minority faculty and staff like Dave Davis. The affirmative action programs implemented during the 60s and 70s to protect women and minorities against discrimination have recently come under attack by Republicans and Gov. George Pataki."

Deondom Murray, affirmative action officer at Marist College, said Pataki's proposed budget will cut funding for the Educational Opportunity Program. The program and salaries for HEOP, C-Step and Liberty Partnership at Marist are paid for by the state, Murray said. "It's possible that a number of people at the college will be laid off. According to the Middle States Annual Institutional Report for the fall of '94, the Marist staff, not including faculty, is comprised of 6 percent African-American males, 4.9 percent African-American females, 1 percent American Indian males, 0.3 percent Asian males, 1 percent Asian females, 2.1 percent Hispanic males, 1 percent Hispanic females, 31.6 percent white males and 51.9 percent white females."

"In addition, Marist is losing five minority faculty members," Murray said. "As of this moment, only one is being replaced."

Affirmative Action - Will Marist adjust?

By SUE FISCHER
Staff Writer

It's 9:05 in the morning and already there is a small crowd gathering outside Bill Davis' office. Davis, assistant director of the communication internship program, is busy directing communication majors into meaningful internships. If the GOP has its way, Marist students will have less access to minority faculty and staff like Dave Davis. The affirmative action programs implemented during the 60s and 70s to protect women and minorities against discrimination have recently come under attack by Republicans and Gov. George Pataki."

Deondom Murray, affirmative action officer at Marist College, said Pataki's proposed budget will cut funding for the Educational Opportunity Program. The program and salaries for HEOP, C-Step and Liberty Partnership at Marist are paid for by the state, Murray said. "It's possible that a number of people at the college will be laid off. According to the Middle States Annual Institutional Report for the fall of '94, the Marist staff, not including faculty, is comprised of 6 percent African-American males, 4.9 percent African-American females, 1 percent American Indian males, 0.3 percent Asian males, 1 percent Asian females, 2.1 percent Hispanic males, 1 percent Hispanic females, 31.6 percent white males and 51.9 percent white females."

"In addition, Marist is losing five minority faculty members," Murray said. "As of this moment, only one is being replaced."

Republican have vowed to make affirmative action a major campaign issue. Majority leader Bob Dole has promised to introduce legislation banning racial and gender preferences in government programs. Davis, who is also assistant professor of communication at Marist, said Republicans consider affirmative action preferential treatment."

"This issue is highly charged," Davis said. "Firms will be able to discriminate without having to worry about government agencies doing anything about it."

see ACTION page 8.

LOOK INSIDE

- Review - Faith No More -page 2
- Review - Tommy Boy -page 2
- Future Marist transfer holds office -page 3
- Alumni going abroad -page 5
- Marist Crew vs. Army -page 12
- Thought of the Week...Never trust a man with a mustache. -page 1

Affirmative Action - Will Marist adjust?

By SUE FISCHER
Staff Writer

It's 9:05 in the morning and already there is a small crowd gathering outside Bill Davis' office. Davis, assistant director of the communication internship program, is busy directing communication majors into meaningful internships. If the GOP has its way, Marist students will have less access to minority faculty and staff like Dave Davis. The affirmative action programs implemented during the 60s and 70s to protect women and minorities against discrimination have recently come under attack by Republicans and Gov. George Pataki."

Deondom Murray, affirmative action officer at Marist College, said Pataki's proposed budget will cut funding for the Educational Opportunity Program. The program and salaries for HEOP, C-Step and Liberty Partnership at Marist are paid for by the state, Murray said. "It's possible that a number of people at the college will be laid off. According to the Middle States Annual Institutional Report for the fall of '94, the Marist staff, not including faculty, is comprised of 6 percent African-American males, 4.9 percent African-American females, 1 percent American Indian males, 0.3 percent Asian males, 1 percent Asian females, 2.1 percent Hispanic males, 1 percent Hispanic females, 31.6 percent white males and 51.9 percent white females."

"In addition, Marist is losing five minority faculty members," Murray said. "As of this moment, only one is being replaced."

Republican have vowed to make affirmative action a major campaign issue. Majority leader Bob Dole has promised to introduce legislation banning racial and gender preferences in government programs. Davis, who is also assistant professor of communication at Marist, said Republicans consider affirmative action preferential treatment."

"This issue is highly charged," Davis said. "Firms will be able to discriminate without having to worry about government agencies doing anything about it."

see ACTION page 8.
April freshness is in the air, and "Day, Fool For A Lifetime" is a masterpiece of rock invention. The fellas in Faith No More have never sounded so inspired. They are effortlessly between metal, straight-rock and techno CD, I suggest listening to The Circle, APRIL 6, 1995

THE CIRCLE, APRIL 6, 1995

Looking for a few good losers? If you have a life, but not for the monogamy pursuit of the arts.

BY NADINE MOLLISON

Students Encouraging Global Awareness sponsored the Earth Day celebration in the UPH Student Center, and as a result of their efforts, the day was a success. The students organized an event that was thrilling and informative for everyone who attended.

Earthday scheduling conflict offers choices

BY NADINE MOLLISON

"Whatever their choice, the students have successfully organized an event that is both educational and fun. This is a great start for Earth Day celebrations in the future."

BY DANA BUONCONTO

The Circle, April 6, 1995

"I am fully convinced that the book has been a fantastic success," said Brian Doerries. "I have been asked to read it in all the major cities in the country and it has been well received." Digest, (May 1, 1995)

"The Circle, April 6, 1995

"I am fully convinced that the book has been a fantastic success," said Brian Doerries. "I have been asked to read it in all the major cities in the country and it has been well received." Digest, (May 1, 1995)
Famous & Infamous Marist Faces

"Geraldine, meet Dennis..."

President Dennis Murray had the perfect photo opportunity when he met Gertrude Perrone. Perrone was once a candidate for vice president of the United States.

The Dunkin’ Dutchman

Marge VanEvery was the first female head coach in the history of Marist women’s basketball. Coach VanEvery led the women’s basketball team to two second place finishes in the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conferenceregular season and one second place finish in the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference Postseason Tournament.

Little Bar flies away with hot and tasty wings

By SCOTT MIGNONE

Hey, Brady’s... guess what? My name is this week’s Little Bar. It’s not a student at Marist, but a place on Broadway. Yeah, you read it right. I am a restaurant that serves hot wings. The service is friendly, the drinks are great, and the wings are delicious. The music is from the 90’s, but who cares? I’m just here for the food and drinks.

PHOTO SPREAD PART DEUX

In the beginning, there was “Wingfest.”...

THE HOTTEST WINGS...

I've been asked to write about "Wingfest," and I'm happy to oblige. The competition is always fierce, and the wings are always hot. Last year, the Wingfest was hosted by the Sweetwater Grill, and the hot wings were provided by Dutch Cabin, Renaissance, and Hobnobbin Pub. This year, I'm excited to announce that the competition will be held at the Hobnobbin Pub. The wings will be hotter, the beer will be colder, and the music will be better. So mark your calendars and come out to support your favorite wing restaurant.

HOBIE ARMSTRONG NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT

Hey, you out there? Hobie Armstrong needs your support! He is raising money to help pay for his trip to Spain. He is a passionate student-athlete and wants to see the world. Please help him achieve his dream.

90.1 WMCR TOP 20 LIST

THE CIRCLE, APRIL 6, 1995
Political Thoughts

Tax Cuts

Another segment of the Contract of America that was approved this week was the tax cut of $500 billion over a period of 5 years. The cut does not appear to be significant in its breadth, but in the other segments of the Contract, it can be seen as a stopgap measure. The tax cuts are supposed to create business and help to stimulate the economy, but there is a lot of concern about what will happen to the deficit, which is already at a record high.

Immaturity

One of the main things that the Marist administration is concerned about is the maturity of the students. They believe that the students are not ready to be on their own and that they need more guidance. However, I think that the students are mature enough to handle themselves.

Letters to the Editor...

Cops, When You Don't Want Them

Why is it that the police always seem to be the wrong people? It seems like every time I am near a police officer, they are in the middle of something. I have never seen a police officer who is not involved in some sort of trouble. It's like they are always the one being blamed for something. I don't understand why people always seem to be attracted to the police. It's just not fair.

Interns, Jobs, Things to Do

If you have more information about internships at Marist at 575-2545.

The Circle Viewpoint

April 6, 1995

Cops, When You Don't Want Them

Why is it that the police always seem to be the wrong people? It seems like every time I am near a police officer, they are in the middle of something. I have never seen a police officer who is not involved in some sort of trouble. It's like they are always the one being blamed for something. I don't understand why people always seem to be attracted to the police. It's just not fair.

Interns, Jobs, Things to Do

If you have more information about internships at Marist at 575-2545.

The Circle Viewpoint

April 6, 1995

Cops, When You Don't Want Them

Why is it that the police always seem to be the wrong people? It seems like every time I am near a police officer, they are in the middle of something. I have never seen a police officer who is not involved in some sort of trouble. It's like they are always the one being blamed for something. I don't understand why people always seem to be attracted to the police. It's just not fair.

Interns, Jobs, Things to Do

If you have more information about internships at Marist at 575-2545.

The Circle Viewpoint

April 6, 1995

Cops, When You Don't Want Them

Why is it that the police always seem to be the wrong people? It seems like every time I am near a police officer, they are in the middle of something. I have never seen a police officer who is not involved in some sort of trouble. It's like they are always the one being blamed for something. I don't understand why people always seem to be attracted to the police. It's just not fair.

Interns, Jobs, Things to Do

If you have more information about internships at Marist at 575-2545.
SECURITY BRIEFS

The Evening Star, Friday, February 2nd

The RGB, a group of computer enthusiasts, has called on the University of Illinois to adopt a policy of requiring all faculty members to undergo a background check before being granted access to the computer labs. The group claims that the current system, which relies on self-reporting, is inadequate and can lead to security breaches.

The Daily Illini, Saturday, February 3rd

The University of Illinois has announced plans to build a new computer science building on the Urbana campus. The building will feature state-of-the-art technology and will be equipped with a new security system that includes facial recognition technology. The project is expected to cost $100 million and will be completed by 2024.

The American University of Paris

The American University of Paris has announced a new policy requiring all students to undergo a background check before being granted access to the computer labs. The policy, which was implemented in response to the RGB's concerns, will be enforced using a new system that includes facial recognition technology.

The New Paltz Times, Wednesday, February 7th

The SUNY New Paltz has announced a new policy requiring all employees to undergo a background check before being granted access to the computer labs. The policy, which was implemented in response to the RGB's concerns, will be enforced using a new system that includes facial recognition technology.

THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF PARIS

Enrollment: 2,000 students.

AUP prepares its students to be a part of an increasingly diverse workforce.

AUP is a leader in preparing students for careers in the global economy. Our students are well prepared to succeed in the workforce, with a diverse background in fields such as business, science, and technology.

Senior Send-off:

Hey seniors,

Want to leave some last words for your friends before leaving Marist? Here's your chance:

- $1 for 40 words
- Bring your last words to LT Room 211 on Monday, April 10 and April 24 between 1 pm and 6 pm.
- Last words will be published in the May 4th issue of The Circle.

Time is running out. Don't miss your chance to give your final farewell!

---

WASHINGTON

STOCKBROKER TRAINEE

Enter the exciting field of Investment Banking! L.C. Wegg & Co., Inc. is a 36 yr. old full service brokerage firm seeking aggressive, career oriented indiv. for our Westchester expansion. Send Resume: \( \text{Marc Varricchione} \) 220 White Plains Rd. 4th Fl. Tarrytown, N.Y. 10591 or call 1-800-845-7171.
On the road again with runner Dave Swift

by MARY SIMONELLA

Staff Writer

Despite opinions, energies, attentiveness and hard working and what do you have? Here's Sidra never heard talk coach Colaizzo and peers to older brothers strumming my ears with "Jerome Strum Bucket." of his elder siblings and parents. Because he sees running as a way of being' associated with each other good."

These words are used by men's runner Dave Swift. "For Dave, running is pure joy, not strong will to excel. "His work ethic is a real work, hard working and his love of the sport," said Staff Writer Baird said. "He is such a hard worker," Colaizzo said. "During the summer he would run every day."

"He will never lie in another," Colaizzo said. "He is the most talented runner who will never lie. He is a real worker," said Colaizzo. "He's the kind of person that is a key factor in the team," said Coach Colaizzo. Swift is classified by his coach Colaizzo said. "During the summer he would run every day."

"He is one of the most talented runners who will never lie. He is a real worker," said Colaizzo. "He's the kind of person that is a key factor in the team," said Coach Colaizzo. Swift is classified by his coach Colaizzo said. "During the summer he would run every day."

The Red Foxes escape with win in 13

by TIM STUART

Sport Editor

The Red Foxes softball team entered the record books for the William Paterson Invitational in Saturday. Senior distance runner Dave Swift won the Invitational for the Red Foxes by shadowing a 16 minutes, 31.9 seconds and breaking the agate in the College's record books. "He is one of the most talented runners who will never lie. He is a real worker," said Colaizzo. "He's the kind of person that is a key factor in the team," said Coach Colaizzo. Swift is classified by his coach Colaizzo said. "During the summer he would run every day."

"He is one of the most talented runners who will never lie. He is a real worker," said Colaizzo. "He's the kind of person that is a key factor in the team," said Coach Colaizzo. Swift is classified by his coach Colaizzo said. "During the summer he would run every day."

the 20 km medal at the second annual Invitational on the New Rochelle campus for Wagner College. The Red Foxes were at the finish line for a possible win. "He didn't want to lose," said Colaizzo. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizzo said. "He was definitely the best," Colaizo
Softball sweeps weekend series

by JASON FARAGO
Staff Writer

...and the hits just keep on coming.

Marist College softball team continued its winning ways by pounding out an impressive 22 runs and 25 hits in a 15-0 and 10-1 routes of the St. Francis Terriers on Sunday.

According to Head Coach Greg Sullivan, "It was another big day for our batting. The game is all about putting the ball in play and keeping the line moving. The St. Francis Terriers are not exactly known for their pitching, and we capitalized on that.

Marist's starting pitcher, Michelle Hudson, threw a complete game, allowing just one run on three hits and striking out four. Her win brought her record to 15-0 on the season. Hudson also contributed at the plate, scoring six runs and driving in three more.

In the second game, Hudson continued her winning ways by allowing one run on five hits and striking out six. The Red Foxes took control early, scoring six runs in the first inning and never looking back.

Marist's catcher, Probodh ChipJunker, said, "This was a really big win for us. We were looking to get back on track after losing a couple of games recently. Hudson pitched really well, and the team was able to put together some big innings.

The Red Foxes are now 35-0 on the season, and Hudson has pitched a perfect game this year. We're really excited about what's to come in the future."

Netters split; ChipJunker excels

by MARTY SINACOLA
Staff Writer

Two non-conference matches over the weekend were a win for the men's tennis team on track for a Northeast Conference title.

Marist closed out the twin-bill sweep against the University of Rhode Island (URI), 4-3, on Sunday. Sullivan, the head coach, said, "The men's effort was spearheaded by the owners. They immediately jumped out to a 2-0 lead after the first match, and we were never able to overcome that.

Senior Martin Byrne continued his winning ways in No. 1 singles, 6-0, 6-1. Byrne won his No. 1 singles match on a tiebreak in the third set, 6-2, 6-1, 10-8. Byrne is 13-0 on the season and is currently ranked fourth in the nation.

On Sunday, the team owners locked themselves in a conference room in a Chicago hotel, with the world thinking "lockout, lockout," but instead a deal was struck. Commissioner quickly after.

"It's over. It's finally over, maybe. We're locked in a conference room in a Chicago hotel, with the world thinking "lockout, lockout," but instead a deal was struck. Commissioner quickly after.

"I realized on a team level that we needed to win and I wouldn't let the team down. This is what we've been working towards for a while now."

The owners want the best players to win the National title. The owners and players take away the national positions, replace them by free agency and salary arbitration, says Sullivan. The owners say they will win the National title on their terms.

No way. Sure, the fans will go nuts, but not with all the money available for the 1994 season rolls around and they decide to want to control labor costs (salarizing salaries).

They are the men who let this get way out of control, but want to play the concerts by implementing a salary cap.

Of course. The players will sue. But if they pay huge bucks for them, how about a doubleheader or two.

Marist finished ahead of Skidmore by a commanding 12 runs (three boat lengths). Army took third. Sullivan said the key to the victory was a quick recovery after a slow start.

"We recovered faster than they (Skidmore) did from a shaky start," Sullivan said.

The men’s heavy eight boat, led by coxswain Todd Antonucci and stroke Jeff Reva, also had a good day. "The boat was fast, and we really pulled out the win," Sullivan said.

The eight boat finished a close second to Skidmore while beating Army by 12 seconds. Sullivan said the race was won at the line.

"We came off the line well, but Skidmore pulled away," Sullivan said.

Sullivan was happy with the team’s performance against Army, who, in recent outings, had had the best." see CREW page 11

The owners could have done one of those quaint meetings in St. Louis, New York, Chicago, Florida and now they expect it to return to the same of games.

The owners say they will win the National title on their terms. The owners say they will win the National title on their terms.

The owners and players take away the national positions, replace them by free agency and salary arbitration, says Sullivan. The owners say they will win the National title on their terms.

No way. Sure, the fans will go nuts, but not with all the money available for the 1994 season rolls around and they decide to want to control labor costs (salarizing salaries).

They are the men who let this get way out of control, but want to play the concerts by implementing a salary cap.

Of course. The players will sue. But if they pay huge bucks for them, how about a doubleheader or two.

Marist finished ahead of Skidmore by a commanding 12 runs (three boat lengths). Army took third. Sullivan said the key to the victory was a quick recovery after a slow start.

"We recovered faster than they (Skidmore) did from a shaky start," Sullivan said.

The men’s heavy eight boat, led by coxswain Todd Antonucci and stroke Jeff Reva, also had a good day. "The boat was fast, and we really pulled out the win," Sullivan said.

The eight boat finished a close second to Skidmore while beating Army by 12 seconds. Sullivan said the race was won at the line.

"We came off the line well, but Skidmore pulled away," Sullivan said.

Sullivan was happy with the team’s performance against Army, who, in recent outings, had had the best."

Play ball. The strike is over...until next season.

What a week.

The University Connecticut’s women’s basketball completed a perfect 35-0 season on Sunday to win the National Championship.

Michael Jordan scored 55 points over the weekend. Jordan hit a record-breaking 73 of 73, for the team’s last point of the contest.

Marist travelled to Colgate University Friday, Rider College Saturday then travels to Manhattan College on Sunday. All games are doubleheaders.

FOX NOTES: Michelle Hudson and Beth Murphy named NEC Softball award for the week ending April 2. Hudson was the NEC Softball Pitcher of the Week and Murphy the Player of the Week.