Mr. Catanzaro Named Coach

by Charles A. Council

Brother Linus Richard, President, has announced that Mr. Joseph Catanzaro, coach of the Poughkeepsie High School crew for the last ten years, has agreed to serve as coach for the newly-formed Marist crew. Mr. Catanzaro will continue with the high school in an advisory capacity, while at the same time he will assume his duties as full-time coach here at Marist.

C.I.C. Meeting

The annual meeting of the Catholic Inter-Racial Council, held in New York City, was attended by three students from the Marist campus. The students attended on the invitation of Father John La Farge, S.J., who is one of the founders of the organization and present Chaplin of the New York Chapter. The meeting honored Charlene Hunter, one of the first Negro students to attend the University of Georgia.

College students attended from many of the Catholic colleges in the metropolitan area. Among those schools represented were: Fordham, St. Francis, New Rochelle, Mount St. Vincent, and Marist. Robert Snyder, Gary Smith, and James Coombs were sent as representatives from our campus.

The Marist men reported that they had spent an interesting and informative evening. They learned that the CIC was very interested in obtaining the aid of young people, especially those who were now engaged in an active college life. They seemed to be enthused by the scope and magnitude of CIC's task. They feel that it is a problem of more than domestic interest, and that it requires international attention in line with the Council's potential expansion into a world organization. This is the first of many Marist excursions.

This move demonstrates the administration's realization of student interest during crews fall tune-ups, and its willingness to provide the financial support needed to make college crew a varsity sport.

The administration wishes to express its thanks to Al Eckert for the assistance he has given the college in organizing the sport. Mr. Eckert, for president of the Mid-Hudson Schoolboy Rowing Association, served as volunteer coach during the fall, and made available to the college a shell and launch. Although this loan of equipment was much appreciated, Brother Linus indicated that the college hoped to obtain its own equipment in the near future. Mr. Catanzaro is busy contacting other colleges and sources of rowing apparatus to implement this plan. Thus far, rowing machines have been obtained, and will be in operation tomorrow, in St. Mary's Recreation Hall.

nb Brother John Malachy, Registrar has announced that he is qualified to serve as an adjunct to Selective Service Boards (local). This means that registration for the draft, which must be done within five days after reaching the age of 18, can be completed in Brother John's office. He has also stressed the necessity of complying with the 5 day time limit.

Class Notes

by Phil Bruno

Recent events have bolstered Marist College's position among college circles in Dutchess County. Foremost of these events was Emil Oesterling's capturing of the lead in an upcoming Vassar College production. The play, August Strindberg's The Pelican, calls for two male actors. After an open try-out, Emil was awarded the male lead.

Emil is a sophomore here at Marist and very active in student activities. Besides taking this part at Vassar, he is serving as assistant director for this year's Marist College Theatre Guild production of The Wise Have Not Spoken.

The effects of this accomplishment go much further than would appear on the surface. It is through deeds such as these that friendly exchange programs of all types may one day be worked out among local colleges.

Victory Dance

This Saturday night, the Freshman class will hold their first dance of the year. Dancing to the music of a trio and rollicking merriment are on the agenda for the evening's festivities, which are scheduled to begin at nine and run until one at the local Knights of Columbus Hall. Donations are $3.00, and include refreshments.

This dance is being held in honor of the basketball team.

Joe Spada led the day hop attack with 16 field goals and three foul shots for an intramural record of 35 points. Fred Weiss figured big in rebounding for the winners. High man for the losers was Jim Moloney, who threw in 20 points.

Yesterday the upperclassmen broke into the win column by defeating the frosh day hop II team in overtime 49-47. Woods and Donnelly were high men for the victors---each scoring 14 points.
