College changes off-campus policy

by MEGAN MCDONNELL

The board of trustees has voted unanimously to revise Marist’s code of student conduct, which will now state that the college takes no responsibility for the actions of students living off campus.

However, the recent wording of the code still leaves the option open for the college to intervene, said Matthew Thomson, student body president.

The policy, passed on Nov. 2 and scheduled to appear in next year’s student handbook, requires stricter guidance on campus when it comes to public disturbances, illegal activity, and court appearances—specifically, that students must answer to a higher authority, and that these rights go with being a citizen under a “good neighbor” policy.

However, the first policy says that “students” conduct off the campus is subject to disciplinary action, while the second only says that the college reserves the right to enforce its code of conduct.

According to Thomson, the confusion in the revised policy begins with its last line, which says that the college places importance on being a good neighbor, and “conduct which undermines its status as such a neighbor.”

“This policy will not be clear to the average student,” Thomson said. “Keeping Marist in there somewhere confuses the issue.”

We want students to act in favor of the college, but if they create a public disturbance, we’re the intermediary for someone who is annoyed by what our students did,” said Cox.

The revised code clearly tells students to take responsibility for their actions when off campus because neighbors may choose to file complaints or come to the town and/or city government, according to Cox.

If local police identify the allegedly disruptive residents as Marist students, they notify college security, and the office of student affairs investigates the incident.

...see POLICY page 4

Need for a new dorm is questioned by students

by JULIE MARTIN

In light of new plans to construct a dorm at Marist College, students are responding with their own ideas as to whether or not a new dorm should be the college’s top priority.

Most students interviewed by The Circle said they felt upgrading the library should be focused on first—not a new dorm.

Although serious efforts have been made by the college to improve the library situation, some students say more needs to be done.

“I think improving the library is a definite necessity,” said Kari Casey, a freshman from Kingston, P.A. “I did a paper on acid rain and I had a hard time finding anything. I had to go to the head of the science department to get resources.”

Laura Sullivan, executive vice president, has said in the past that the choice between a new dorm and a new or improved library is not that simple because a dorm is financed in part by the New York State Dormitory Authority while any investing in the library has to be done using the college’s money.

Estimates in the past have put the final cost of a new library as high as $30 million.

Yes, some students said they would still prefer to see the college pursue improving the library before erecting a new dorm.

Joe Bice, a freshman from Brooklyn, N.Y. said he felt there isn’t a need for a new dorm right now.

“The dorms we have now are fine,” said Bice. “The library could be better. We’re here for an education.”

Brian Walters, a sophomore, agreed saying, “I think the library is weak. We still have to think about academic needs first.”

David Barretts, a sophomore from Demarest, N.J., said he has found the removal of reference books and lack of other resources in the library a real inconvenience.

“The fact that they discarded reference books is horrid,” said Barrett. “It’s been through ProQuest and the mainframe (the computer used to help find specific reference material) just to seek help at other libraries.”

However, other students said they feel other places and services on campus—including a new dorm—could be improved as well.

Tim Sheehan, a freshman from Whitinsville, Mass., said the new dorm should indeed be the next program.

“I do think think that we need all the help that we can get,” said Sheehan. “I think the new dorm is more important because the students need more space,” said Sheehan.

Other students said they thought other areas for improvement

Laura Raffaneli, a senior from New Brunswick, N.J., said: “I feel they need to expand the counseling and help services center and the library before building to accommodate new students.”

Raffaneli also said that if the college decides to build the dorm, they should try to keep as many juniors and seniors on campus as possible.

“I think it’s really unfair that housing isn’t available to upperclassmen,” said Raffaneli.

The next issue of The Circle will appear on Dec. 12.
Scorsese, DeNiro strike again in 'Cape Fear'

by BRIAN MCNELIS

When Martin Scorsese and Robert DeNiro combine their talents in a film, the result is usually a spectacle, a visual and aural treat that is not to be missed. Their latest collaboration, "Cape Fear," is no exception.

In the film, DeNiro stars as a lawyer who is stalked by DeNiro. Nolte, who once again proves he is a versatile chameleon that can play any role.

DeNiro, who seems to be getting a "beeping" sound from the police department and a line are both available, leaves the phone and you will hear a high frequency tone.

"BADMOTORFINGER" contains 12 thought provoking new artists to grace the music scene. The bass and drums sound extrordinary as they are blended into a seamless whole, creating a powerful groove.

"Jesus Christ Superstar" is a musical that has been a staple of the rock opera genre. The singing is superb, with a strong cast of performers.

Students victimized in Po'town urban crime

by JIM TRUJANO

Staff Writer

The University of Hartford police have become involved in a series of crimes in the campus area. The crimes include theft, vandalism, and assaults.

The investigation has since been accompanied by a confirmation slip signed by the police department. The investigation showed no evidence which were not completed.

The shooting occurred at 3:00 p.m. on the campus of Northampton College. The police were called to the scene after a student was shot.

For example, the University of Hartford police

"The whole budgeting process is overcomplicated. The lack of funds allocated in their budgets, according to Federico, he reviews the report on the specifics of all particular budgets are due, there still is some confusion. which he or she receives a sample budget."

Good sound from band ‘Soundgarden’

by DANA BUCONCITI

Dana Buconciti joined the rock band 'Soundgarden' in 1988 and has been a member ever since then.

She has a certain Sinkhole "(Where) the water flows underground, and comes out on the other side.

"You can tell when the last minute to hand in their budgets," said Tosner. "And if you are the event's objective."

Cub Presents J.J. GATTI Date: Thursday, November 21st, 1991 Time: 9:30 p.m. Place: River Room Cost: No admission with Marist ID

Cub presents J.J. Gatti, singer, songwriter, who has recently secured a record contract with Chrysalis Records, is a true talent. His music is a blend of introspective, emotional, and infectious, with a touch of soul and R&B.

The greenhouse located in Donnelly Hall will be dedicated to Dr. William F. Morone, a biology professor, and the Marist campus in developing the greenhouse. The dedication will take place some time next spring.

"The biggest problem in the film is the question of whether or not the finale is a success. The music is memorable, and the final scene is powerful, but whether or not the film as a whole is successful is debatable."
HONUS

continued from page 1

A concrete called just outside main campus buildings, and under a life of its own, it will do that.

The career-oriented law firm, the firm town衔, has been a mainstay in Orcas Island for several years. The firm is known for its dedication to personal injury and civil litigation, and for its commitment to providing quality legal services to individuals and businesses in the area. The firm has a reputation for being client-focused, responsive, and effective in representing its clients.

At the firm, the attorneys and support staff work closely together to ensure that clients receive the best possible representation. The firm places a high value on communication and keeping clients informed throughout the legal process. They strive to provide clear and concise explanations of legal issues and options, and to keep clients updated on the status of their cases.

The firm is committed to providing high-quality legal services at a reasonable cost. They offer a range of services, including personal injury and civil litigation, estate planning, business law, and family law. The firm also provides pro bono services to individuals who cannot afford to pay for legal representation.

In addition to its legal services, the firm is involved in the community and is committed to making a positive impact in the area. They participate in various community events and sponsor local organizations. The firm also has a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion, and works to ensure that all clients are treated with respect and dignity.

Overall, the firm is dedicated to providing excellent legal services and to making a positive impact in the community. They are committed to providing efficient, effective, and accessible legal services to all clients, regardless of their background or circumstances.
Honor before glory

Abstract thoughts on politically jumbled world

By MARK MARBILLE

Instead of writing about one specific issue this week, I've decided to try the abstract approach. I've been thinking about this for a long time. A lot has been happening over the last few days, in fact. If you're perdue the analysis.

College should be a challenge! It should force you to grow up and take responsibility. It should force you into your intellectual abilities so that you can think critically. And in order for this second criteria to occur, there has to be some kind of intellectual challenge.

Because just as there are students at Marist College who are not successful, there are students who are not successful here as not stimulating and, in some cases, even a bit harmful.

Currently there are no students who would ever consider transferring to another school for the first group of students, thus why not the second group as well?

The program would be won on by the Academic Affairs Committee and the faculty of the school.

My current feeling is that this proposal to long as certain conditions are met, it might be a good idea to go forward with this program.

Let's face it, we live in a world of competition. A student in one honors college is going to be challenged to be a leader as they are in the other.

This way an honors program can attract the quality students without the academic challenge of an honors program on its own. It may not be handicap yourself or your future. It may not be a good idea to go forward with this program.

Yes, in the long run students should be afforded an honors program where they can work with more advanced classes and get more intellectual challenge. But as it is, the honors students are mainly a banner because they are not going to change the world.

But at the other part of the country will come more challenging especially when they haven't done the work and waste or waste a lot of time doing it as well.

Neither way, the decision should still be made and the college must continue to look at the situation to see if it should or shouldn't be done.

For the public at large, there is much more of a real necessity to look at the American public to see if it should or shouldn't be done.

More Marist students will probably find some merit in the idea which many people feel to be a waste of time. I believe that the public doesn't see it the same way. I believe that the public doesn't see it the same way. I believe that the public doesn't see it the same way. I believe that the public doesn't see it the same way.

Do you still believe in "Magic?"

By JASON MILLER

After being bombarded by Ero radioactive waste and the film "The Circle" in the past few days, one must ask the question of whether that of the circle. They feel the media has been responsible for creating a false perception of what is the real story.

Also, if the news article were the environment or what happened in the beginning, the truth is that something good happens for the environment.

The reaction from the students who were at the Johnson Campus on planning on going to the circle.

The second, "Out of Order," a comedy skit show in the tradition of "Saturday Night Live," will premiere the week we come back from the Thanksgiving break. The skit show is expected to be a hit with viewers.

The decision to approve a new show "Out of Order," a comedy skit show in the tradition of "Saturday Night Live," was made by the college's management.

The show will feature sketches and impersonations of prominent figures in the entertainment industry, including politicians, celebrities, and athletes.

The show is expected to be hit with viewers and will be a great addition to the college's entertainment lineup.

By ROBERT BOWEN

I have come to notice that the students who work in the Campus Police Department are very much appreciated by students, faculty, and staff. They are always there to help, and their presence is greatly appreciated.

Students often come to them with questions or concerns about safety, and they are always willing to help. The Campus Police Department is an important part of the campus community, and they should be recognized for their hard work.

The Circle Viewpoint

NOVEMBER 21, 1991

Response to criticism of aids

By RICHARD NASS

I referred to the editorial "Society's reaction to AIDS" written by Howard Goldman, the head coach of the Marist College men's basketball team. I agree with his view that the AIDS epidemic is a real problem and that society should be more concerned about it.

As an editorialist, I would like to respond to the issues raised by Mr. Goldman.

"If you like saving money on car insurance, give me a honk."

By ANTHONY P. NICOLIS

Senior Account Agent

67 Civic Center Plaza

Poughkeepsie, NY 12601

471-9611

You're not even trying to save money! Why are you laughing?

Addison College night fashion blunders

By AMY ELLEN BENDER

Thank you, thank you, thank you! Korkes is now known, at least to this audience, as the "High Priestess of Fashion." If Korkes' Margot Marky and the Funky Bunch. If you heard it, you'll laugh. If you didn't hear it, you'll laugh. If you don't laugh, I'll laugh for you.

The second, "Out of Order," a comedy skit show in the tradition of "Saturday Night Live," will premiere the week we come back from the Thanksgiving break. The skit show is expected to be a hit with viewers.

The decision to approve a new show "Out of Order," a comedy skit show in the tradition of "Saturday Night Live," was made by the college's management.

The show will feature sketches and impersonations of prominent figures in the entertainment industry, including politicians, celebrities, and athletes.

The show is expected to be hit with viewers and will be a great addition to the college's entertainment lineup.

By ROBERT BOWEN

I have come to notice that the students who work in the Campus Police Department are very much appreciated by students, faculty, and staff. They are always there to help, and their presence is greatly appreciated.

Students often come to them with questions or concerns about safety, and they are always willing to help. The Campus Police Department is an important part of the campus community, and they should be recognized for their hard work.

The Circle Viewpoint

NOVEMBER 21, 1991

Response to criticism of aids

By RICHARD NASS

I referred to the editorial "Society's reaction to AIDS" written by Howard Goldman, the head coach of the Marist College men's basketball team. I agree with his view that the AIDS epidemic is a real problem and that society should be more concerned about it.

As an editorialist, I would like to respond to the issues raised by Mr. Goldman.

"If you like saving money on car insurance, give me a honk."

By ANTHONY P. NICOLIS

Senior Account Agent

67 Civic Center Plaza

Poughkeepsie, NY 12601

471-9611

You're not even trying to save money! Why are you laughing?

Addison College night fashion blunders

By AMY ELLEN BENDER

Thank you, thank you, thank you! Korkes is now known, at least to this audience, as the "High Priestess of Fashion." If Korkes' Margot Marky and the Funky Bunch. If you heard it, you'll laugh. If you didn't hear it, you'll laugh. If you don't laugh, I'll laugh for you.

The second, "Out of Order," a comedy skit show in the tradition of "Saturday Night Live," will premiere the week we come back from the Thanksgiving break. The skit show is expected to be a hit with viewers.

The decision to approve a new show "Out of Order," a comedy skit show in the tradition of "Saturday Night Live," was made by the college's management.

The show will feature sketches and impersonations of prominent figures in the entertainment industry, including politicians, celebrities, and athletes.

The show is expected to be hit with viewers and will be a great addition to the college's entertainment lineup.

By ROBERT BOWEN

I have come to notice that the students who work in the Campus Police Department are very much appreciated by students, faculty, and staff. They are always there to help, and their presence is greatly appreciated.

Students often come to them with questions or concerns about safety, and they are always willing to help. The Campus Police Department is an important part of the campus community, and they should be recognized for their hard work.

The Circle Viewpoint

NOVEMBER 21, 1991

Response to criticism of aids

By RICHARD NASS

I referred to the editorial "Society's reaction to AIDS" written by Howard Goldman, the head coach of the Marist College men's basketball team. I agree with his view that the AIDS epidemic is a real problem and that society should be more concerned about it.

As an editorialist, I would like to respond to the issues raised by Mr. Goldman.
LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL!!!

With

THRIFTY BEVERAGES’

★ 5 WEEKLY SPECIALS ★

1. DOMESTIC CASE.......................... SCHAFFER LOOSE CANS MID-40 REBATE $ 5.99
2. PREMIUM DOMESTIC CASE........... ROLLING ROCK LONGNECK $12.99
3. IMPORT CASE............................ LABETT’S (Reg. & Lite) $13.99
4. QUARTER KEG............................. MICHELOB $27.99
5. HALF KEG................................ BUSCH $41.99

★ One Mile From Campus
★ Fast and Friendly Service
★ Free Posters and Signs
(JUST ASK)

PARK DISCOUNT BEVERAGE
Rte. 9, Hyde Park 229-9000
(Rt. 9 North past Culinary Institute to traffic light - on left)

MOLSON $12.99
$2.00 REBATE (MAIL IN)

BUD
LONGNECKS $12.99
COKE 12 PACK $3.29

BUSCH
LONGNECKS RC 2 LTR. $9.99
COKE 2 LTR. $11.19

HOLIDAY GIFT PACKS
BEERS OF THE WORLD • SAM ADAMS • GROSLCH
WHILE SUPPLIES LAST! TERRIFIC CHRISTMAS PRESENTS!

BUD $13.49
CANS 12 PACK $6.99

HAMMS $6.99
POLIDAR SODA 59¢

BEERS OF THE WORLD • SAM ADAMS • GROSLCH
WHILE SUPPLIES LAST! TERRIFIC CHRISTMAS PRESENTS!

BUD $13.49
CANS 12 PACK $6.99

HAMMS $6.99
POLIDAR SODA 59¢
WHERE CAN YOU FIND A JOB THAT'S MORE THAN A JOB THAT PAYS $29,475 TO START WITH INCREASES TO $47,750 FASTER THAN 5 YEARS?

If you've got what it takes, now's your chance to prove it. Take the Transit Police Test.

• Superior opportunities for promotion and advancement
• State-of-the-art vehicles, weapons and equipment
• Specialized training in all aspects of policing
• National recognition for your work on New York's first accredited police force.

You must file by December 6, 1991.
(For information or an application, call 718-330-8770)

The Circle, November 21, 1991

CONTACT YOUR MARIST HI-LIFE REPRESENTATIVES FOR COMPLETE INFORMATION:

* We will set up an appointment to speak to you.
* Experienced Hi-Life Tour escorts.
* Don't be left in the cold.

Where are you going for ANDREW HOLMLUND Staff Writer

Mermen take second at relays

The men's swimming and diving team brought home fourth place in the Metropolitan Conference Relays. Conk, a senior, and Brink, a junior, led the Red Fox charge.

The swimming and diving team to a fourth-place finish in the Metropolitan Conference Relays. Conk, a senior, and Brink, a junior, led the Red Fox charge.

by ANDREW HOLMLUND Staff Writer

The swimming team, coming off a second-place finish in the Metropolitan Collegiate Conference Relays, will move on to the NCAA Convention held at the Convention Center.

In the relay competition, the Red Foxes finished second behind Catholic University. The third place finisher was James J. McCarron College.

The Red Foxes finished second behind Catholic University. The third place finisher was James J. McCarron College.

In the diving competition, Rob Magarity led the Red Foxes in the 200-yard butterfly, recording a time of 1:51.19 while Andrew Holmlund led the 300-yard breaststroke, finishing in 3:09.69.

Gage led the Red Fox attack on the 1,000-yard freestyle with times of 10 minutes, 49.31 seconds and 10 minutes, 35.94 seconds. Magarity took first place in the 400-yard butterfly relay with a time of 4:34.32. Seniors Chris Prauda, Frank Hammon, Tom Bubel and Rob Holmlund led the Red Fox charge.

Mermen take second at relays

The men's swimming team, coming off a second-place finish in the Metropolitan Collegiate Conference Relays, will return to action against Central Connecticut State University, Fashion Institute of Art and Rhode Island College.

In the relay competition, the Red Foxes finished second behind Catholic University. The third place finisher was James J. McCarron College.

In the diving competition, Rob Magarity led the Red Foxes in the 200-yard butterfly, recording a time of 1:51.19 while Andrew Holmlund led the 300-yard breaststroke, finishing in 3:09.69.

Gage led the Red Fox attack on the 1,000-yard freestyle with times of 10 minutes, 49.31 seconds and 10 minutes, 35.94 seconds. Magarity took first place in the 400-yard butterfly relay with a time of 4:34.32. Seniors Chris Prauda, Frank Hammon, Tom Bubel and Rob Holmlund led the Red Fox charge.

Mermen take second at relays

The men's swimming team, coming off a second-place finish in the Metropolitan Collegiate Conference Relays, will return to action against Central Connecticut State University, Fashion Institute of Art and Rhode Island College.

In the relay competition, the Red Foxes finished second behind Catholic University. The third place finisher was James J. McCarron College.

In the diving competition, Rob Magarity led the Red Foxes in the 200-yard butterfly, recording a time of 1:51.19 while Andrew Holmlund led the 300-yard breaststroke, finishing in 3:09.69.

Gage led the Red Fox attack on the 1,000-yard freestyle with times of 10 minutes, 49.31 seconds and 10 minutes, 35.94 seconds. Magarity took first place in the 400-yard butterfly relay with a time of 4:34.32. Seniors Chris Prauda, Frank Hammon, Tom Bubel and Rob Holmlund led the Red Fox charge.

Mermen take second at relays

The men's swimming team, coming off a second-place finish in the Metropolitan Collegiate Conference Relays, will return to action against Central Connecticut State University, Fashion Institute of Art and Rhode Island College.

In the relay competition, the Red Foxes finished second behind Catholic University. The third place finisher was James J. McCarron College.

In the diving competition, Rob Magarity led the Red Foxes in the 200-yard butterfly, recording a time of 1:51.19 while Andrew Holmlund led the 300-yard breaststroke, finishing in 3:09.69.

Gage led the Red Fox attack on the 1,000-yard freestyle with times of 10 minutes, 49.31 seconds and 10 minutes, 35.94 seconds. Magarity took first place in the 400-yard butterfly relay with a time of 4:34.32. Seniors Chris Prauda, Frank Hammon, Tom Bubel and Rob Holmlund led the Red Fox charge.

Mermen take second at relays

The men's swimming team, coming off a second-place finish in the Metropolitan Collegiate Conference Relays, will return to action against Central Connecticut State University, Fashion Institute of Art and Rhode Island College.

In the relay competition, the Red Foxes finished second behind Catholic University. The third place finisher was James J. McCarron College.

In the diving competition, Rob Magarity led the Red Foxes in the 200-yard butterfly, recording a time of 1:51.19 while Andrew Holmlund led the 300-yard breaststroke, finishing in 3:09.69.

Gage led the Red Fox attack on the 1,000-yard freestyle with times of 10 minutes, 49.31 seconds and 10 minutes, 35.94 seconds. Magarity took first place in the 400-yard butterfly relay with a time of 4:34.32. Seniors Chris Prauda, Frank Hammon, Tom Bubel and Rob Holmlund led the Red Fox charge.

Mermen take second at relays

The men's swimming team, coming off a second-place finish in the Metropolitan Collegiate Conference Relays, will return to action against Central Connecticut State University, Fashion Institute of Art and Rhode Island College.

In the relay competition, the Red Foxes finished second behind Catholic University. The third place finisher was James J. McCarron College.

In the diving competition, Rob Magarity led the Red Foxes in the 200-yard butterfly, recording a time of 1:51.19 while Andrew Holmlund led the 300-yard breaststroke, finishing in 3:09.69.

Gage led the Red Fox attack on the 1,000-yard freestyle with times of 10 minutes, 49.31 seconds and 10 minutes, 35.94 seconds. Magarity took first place in the 400-yard butterfly relay with a time of 4:34.32. Seniors Chris Prauda, Frank Hammon, Tom Bubel and Rob Holmlund led the Red Fox charge.

Mermen take second at relays

The men's swimming team, coming off a second-place finish in the Metropolitan Collegiate Conference Relays, will return to action against Central Connecticut State University, Fashion Institute of Art and Rhode Island College.

In the relay competition, the Red Foxes finished second behind Catholic University. The third place finisher was James J. McCarron College.

In the diving competition, Rob Magarity led the Red Foxes in the 200-yard butterfly, recording a time of 1:51.19 while Andrew Holmlund led the 300-yard breaststroke, finishing in 3:09.69.

Gage led the Red Fox attack on the 1,000-yard freestyle with times of 10 minutes, 49.31 seconds and 10 minutes, 35.94 seconds. Magarity took first place in the 400-yard butterfly relay with a time of 4:34.32. Seniors Chris Prauda, Frank Hammon, Tom Bubel and Rob Holmlund led the Red Fox charge.
Cagers earn first exhibition victory

by MIKE O'FARRELL

Sports Editor

The men's basketball team did something last Saturday it had never done in Head Coach Dave Magarity's six-year stint at Marist — win an exhibition.

The Red Foxes wrapped up their exhibition season with a 95-67 rout of Concordia University.

"I don't put much stock in them (exhibition games)," said Magarity. "It's nice to finally get one, but what is important is that we make progress."

One area of progress made by the Red Foxes was the transition game. It entails scholarships valued at $385,000 at approximately $245,200, according to Doris.

"I get nervous when we play that way," he said. "It is hard for me to get into the game. It has to do with playing that style of game. But with our athleticism, we can wear teams down."

The transition game and defensive pressure, while two important aspects of the Marist attack, do make Magarity nervous.

"We were able to jump on them early and that helped," he said. "We did some good things in terms of pressure and rebounding."

The Red Foxes will not play another game until the season opener Dec. 2 at Stena College.

Budget cuts affect athletic dept. slightly

by J.W. STEWART

Staff Writer

Despite being allocated more money, the Marist Board of Trustees, of the Na­tional Collegiate Athletic Association policy are among reasons for the cuts, said Gene Doris, director of athletics.

The Intercollegiate budget currently is the same level it was last year. The reduced finances, however, do not include financial aid.

The financial aid includes 24 full scholarships worth $345,000 and 59 partial scholarships valued at approximately $1.5 million, according to Doris.

The budget is distributed to 16 intercollegiate programs such as expenses for travel, meals, supplies, uniforms and equipment, said Doris.

"It is free agent time and things are starting to get ugly," said Doris. "It is not helping either."

The NCAA is also deserving of some blame, Doris said.

"The NCAA has to have its budget cut unless something drastic happens," he said. "Yes, you want to be aligned in a conference, but you want to be aligned team-wise, too. You want to play regionally or locally. Realizing the NCAA is what they have to do.

"If they (NCAA) change the way they do business, we'll be OK," he said.

Doris also said the concept of "stepping up to the Joneses" has not helped either.

"According to that philosophy, if one school in a conference builds a new indoor football practice facility, it will most likely be able to draw more prospective student-athletes."

Other schools in the conference will then be forced to do the same thing if enrollment numbers drop. Thus, the cost of athletics has increased.

The intercollegiate cuts have affected, in particular, the Sports In­tercollegiate Department and the men's basketball program.

Second-year Sports Information Director Dan Sullivan said his budget has not changed much from last year but he still had to make a few minor adjustments to save money.

One such step is reducing the amount of pay given to his statisti­cians at home basketball games.

"We trimmed a little back in our game-day budget, that's all," Sullivan said.

The intercollegiate cuts have also postponed an appointment of an assistant SID any time soon — something Sullivan said he can live with.

"I'm able to do the things I need to do promotionally — but it's hard by yourself because there's so..."

...see BUDGET page 11

Hanna, Smits, new uniforms and a MVP

Rambling thoughts while wondering the whereabouts of Tom Hanna:

Marist and Rick Smits is starting to make a name for himself in the NCAA.

Prior to the season, "expert" said this would be Smits' make or break year with the Indiana Pacers.

So far, he has shown he is ready to become one of the league's top centers.

Through the first 12 games, the "Dunking Dutchman" has scored in double figures each game, averaging 15.6 points per game.

More importantly, he is the Pacers' leading scorer and rebounder at 10.5 points and 10.6 rebounds per game.

"He was outstanding," said Magarity. "He was a key in our transition offense and he was able to produce when he was down on the baseline."

Joining Hanna in double digits were Fred Eagles and Sean James scoring 19 and 16 points, respectively.

Mike Schreiber also played a solid game, scoring seven points and grabbing nine rebounds.

The Red Foxes will not play another game until the season opener Dec. 2 at Stena College.

Red Foxes end season with victory

by MIKE O'FARRELL

Sports Editor

The football team has a knack for playing well for the final game and some of the season.

Last year, the Red Foxes destroyed Brooklyn College 40-0 in their season finale.

This season, Marist trounced Assumption College 42-0.

With this victory, Marist finished the season 6-4. For the first time in the school's history, the team posted back-to-back winning seasons.

Marist scoring two touchdowns in the first three quarters, dominated all phases of the game.

Running back Don D'Aiuto rushed for 44 yards on 19 carries, scoring two touchdowns.

The sophomores also found his way into the record book.

D'Aiuto broke the all-time single season rushing record that had previously been set by Ed Christiansen.

D'Aiuto was just one part of the Marist rushing attack that tallied 337 yards.

"Our offense is geared to a run­ning attack," said Head Coach Dave Magarity. "It is an integral part of our scheme. It is not very likely we have a number of running backs that can contribute."

Kyle Carraro led the attack with 37 yards on seven carries and one touchdown. Fullback Chuck Mullaly carried the ball 14 times for 66 yards, scoring one touchdown.

The Red Fox offense was in top form avenging a 35-18 loss from the year before.

The other two Marist touchdowns were scored by John Hanna and Rick Smits.

Kushy ramblined in from two yards and McCougle from 42 yards with a 45-yard streak.

Defensively, the Red Foxes limited the Saints to 142 yards of offense — 119 rushing.

"We have been able to do some great things defensively the last few games. I think we have a bit of slump in the middle of the year, but we made adjustments and were able to stop them," Magarity said.

Assumption was only the fourth team in school history to rush over 100 yards.

Jason DiTullio led the defensive unit with 13 tackles.

"I was able to make some plays, but I think we can make some improvements," he said.

More importantly, he was able to play a tribute to the seniors.

"It is an integral part of our team," he said. "We want to win for the seniors."

This season, Marist trounced Assumption College 42-0.

"It is an integral part of our scheme. It is not very likely we have a number of running backs that can contribute."

Kyle Carraro led the attack with 37 yards on seven carries and one touchdown. Fullback Chuck Mullaly carried the ball 14 times for 66 yards, scoring one touchdown.

The Red Fox offensive unit was on top form avenging a 35-18 loss from the year before.

The other two Marist touchdowns were scored by John Hanna and Rick Smits. Each scored from two yards and McCougle from 42 yards.

Defensively, the Red Foxes limited the Saints to 142 yards of offense — 119 rushing.

"We have been able to do some great things defensively the last few games. I think we have a bit of slump in the middle of the year, but we made adjustments and were able to stop them," Magarity said.

Assumption was only the fourth team in school history to rush over 100 yards.

Jason DiTullio led the defensive unit with 13 tackles.

"I was able to make some plays, but I think we can make some improvements," he said.

More importantly, he was able to play a tribute to the seniors.

"It is an integral part of our team," he said. "We want to win for the seniors."

Cal Ripken is the consummate player. He goes out and plays nine innings every day. He was the league's best player.

Fielder does have a grip and it is legal.

Last year, he was the league's best player and was denied the award because he played on a "non-contender."

This season, he puts up another great campaign but is still without the award. The selection committee has not been won over by Ripken yet.

But, with his steady play, the MVP award is bound to be the unanimous choice.

"I'm going to make another prediction!"

The California Redskins will not finish the season with an unblemished record.

"Take that one to the bank."

Mike O'Farrell is The Circle's sports editor.