Coach Catanzaro Plans to Develop Club with Aid of Experienced Nucleus

by JOHN DWORAK

Coach Joseph Catanzaro announced that the crew will begin on February 15th this year. He said that all interested parties are to report that day at 4 PM to the large lecture hall for an organizational meeting. It is expected that 30 candidates will report for this meeting.

In making the announcement the coach said that the expanded schedule that the crew has assumed makes this early starting date a must. The first race will take place on April 8th against St. John’s University, in New York City. This spring will mark the first real use of the new shell which was acquired in the fall. In commenting on the fall practices, which were tried for the first time this year, Catanzaro said that he was “pleased with the reaction of the students: and that he felt the sessions had served a very useful purpose. The purpose of these were to acquaint the new men with the fundamentals of rowing and to get them accustomed to the shells. This will speed up matters greatly in the spring, when a very intensive training program is undertaken.

In addition to the shell the crew also has new oars and new uniforms. The uniform design was originated by the coach and members of the crew.

In making further comment on the schedule, the coach said that he was disappointed that a home race was not set for the weekend tentatively set as Spring Weekend. On that particular weekend, May 4, 5 and 6, the crew will be in Worcester to race in the Rusty Callow Regatta. The following week the crew travels to Philadelphia to compete in the Dad-Vail Regatta. Also slated to row against Marist are, American International College, Long Island University, Clark University and the seven-meet schedule ends with Trinity College on the 19th of May.

If last year’s showing was any indication of the potential that crew has at Marist, we will definitely be something to be reckoned with this year,” said the coach. He pointed out that unlike last year, all races, save the Dad-Vail and Rusty Callow, will include at least two boats, varsity and junior varsity and possibly a third boat.

Four first boat veterans will return for the season which includes the Dad-Vail Regatta and the Rusty Callow Meet. Returning varsity oarsmen include Tony Campili, a ’62 senior from Wappingers Falls, Sophomore John Dose who rowed at Arlington High School, Walt Herbst, a sophomore and Ed DiSanto, a junior. Others who are good prospects include: Jim Daley of Poughkeepsie, who rowed with the Columbia freshmen and Poughkeepsie High School, Mike Chirriati of Poughkeepsie who rowed with the Pioneers, John Convery of Poughkeepsie who rowed with Arlington High School, Bob Meade who also hails from Poughkeepsie and who rowed for Arlington; Jim Callahan of Poughkeepsie who rowed last year, and Tracy Flanagan of Newburgh who rowed in club races at Clinton, Connecticut last year. Basketball team members, Terry Macken, Walt Barisonnek and Ronnie Franks will also be crew candidates.

Gary Smith, veteran varsity cox of Poughkeepsie will return as crew coxswain this year. He was formerly coxswain at Poughkeepsie High School before enrolling at Marist. Coach Catanzaro summed up crew prospects at Marist by stating: “We can use all the help we can get. We have a rough schedule ahead of us”. The actual workouts on the river will begin as soon as the ice clears!

Two regattas and five meets comprise the 1962 crew schedule according to Athletic Director Brother William Murphy. The Red Foxes open on April 8 against St. John’s University of Brooklyn at Travis Island; April 21st, Marist travels to Worcester, Mass. for a meet with American International College; April 28th to Oyster Bay for a meet with Long Island University. On May 5th, the locals row in the Rusty Callow Regatta at Worcester, Mass. Clark University provides the opposition here on the Hudson on May 10th. The Dad-Vail Regatta in Philadelphia on May 12th is followed by the final meet, at home, on May 19th as Marist entertains Trinity.

The Rusty Callow Regatta included such schools as Amherst, who won the Regatta last year, Clark, American International, Marist and Trinity. The Regatta in Philadelphia features approximately 25 to 30 schools all competing for the Dad-Vail Cup.

Joseph Catanzaro begins his second year as crew coach at Marist this year and is hopeful of a successful crew season.

Dr. Balch Named Encyclopedia Specialist

A new honor has come to Dr. Roscoe Balch, Assistant Professor of History here at Marist. He has been appointed by the Catholic Youth Encyclopedia a "Subject Matter Specialist" in the area of Church history. The Catholic Youth Encyclopedia is projected as a ten volume work to be published by McGraw Hill Book Company under the sponsorship of Cardinal Spellman and the editorship of the Very Rev. Msgr. John H. Harrington. The Encyclopedia is intended for the use of high school students.

Dr. Balch, who came to Marist last fall, is preparing articles on "The Black Death," "The Sicilian Vespers", "Popes Joan", "Urban II", and "The Council of Trent".
To the Editor:

During the past semester, two new sports were introduced to Marist: wrestling and weightlifting. They were met with some enthusiasm; however, due to limited facilities the programs were hindered. At this time, students are pleased to announce better facilities for the coming year. The physical education department has purchased a 325 lb. set of weights and associated body building equipment. In addition, we will have our existing equipment in the establishment of a gymnasium for the Marist fans in the basement of St. Mary's. The gym will be open to all members of the student body on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 3:30 to 5:30 P.M. Although we are not in a position to compete, the main purpose of the program is to give participation in exercise, weight training can be used either to gain or lose weight, develop large and efficient muscles, speed, power or endurance depending on the methods of training. Programs will be tailored to individual needs and desires.

The wrestling squad has acquired six mats and wrestling practice is progressing in earnest; wrestling, one of the most grueling of collegiate sports demands stamina and physical and mental agility which cannot be acquired by any other form of exercise. We welcome everyone to attend Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Field Under Construction
For Intramural Soccer

Brother William Murphy has announced that two soccer fields will be levelled for an athletic field with facilities for an Athletic Building, track, tennis courts, baseball, and track and other sports at a later date.

Brother Murphy also announced that soccer will begin informally in the fall. With players being selected from the intramural ranks. By the fall season, the Intramural Department will make an organized intercollegiate soccer schedule. We hope to have an intramural or intercollegiate team for the spring season with Danbury State and Ford for this fall. No coach has yet been named but several brother-fans are expressing themselves as qualified for the job. This experience will work out with the prospective educators this fall.

The DeVinney Society presented a film shown on the Hall Telephone Hour. The film, "The Thread of Life," demonstrated and explained many of the complex problems of genetics, such as inheritance, mutations, and environment. Through popular demand the film will be shown again Thursday of this week at 7:30. All are invited to attend.

Pre-Law Society Plans
Organizational Meeting

Jim Coombs and Charlie Council have announced plans to form a Pre-Legal Society on campus. The purpose of the society will be to act primarily as an educational group expounding as much as possible the intricacies of a career in law. The first meeting of this organization will be held on Wednesday, February 16th. This meeting is open to all men on campus who are or are remotely interested in law. The agenda will include a discussion of the American Association of Law Schools position on the ideal undergraduate course leading to admission in an accredited law school. While some thought has already been given to the activity of the organization, Mr. Brackman of the college is to give an opening lecture by local attorneys and representatives of various law schools. East coast, definite plans will be begun on Wednesday.

All men who have an interest in law are invited to attend this meeting and to become a part of this society.

The police to the political sometimes equals "We the People".

Probably one of the most difficult responsibilities of the student body is the work in television because right hand and snow must be coordinated with station policy. The staff of a television news show should strive to produce intelligent achievement of your duty.

Soccer Fails to Progress

Gary DePauho, Sports Editor and president, announced last week that the Senior "Fencing" has been rejected due to the fact that the students interested in the project have not turned up. Due to local techniques the Germans have been taught in the German military, this could have been a good idea. On the other hand, "Fencing" permitting from the N.Y.S.A.B.O. Board, without a permit the club would be illegal to legal action and consequently be forced to dissolve their agreement with Marist. A future date for the senior dance has not been set.

Now do you agree with any of our opinions or facts? Do you want more news about the Marist College campus? Do you want to read more about the saving of the world? Or are you satisfied with the campus newspaper just as it is? Other people in the class may be interested in what you have to say about the Marist campus. Our opinion is that the students should be able to express their opinions on this campus. Why do we have to read about all these same things over and over again in some disembarrassing "talks" for nothing?

ROBERT NORMAN GIVES "Lecture"

On January 16th Mr. Robert Norman discussed Journalism and how it was brought into the world of the news media and radio and television. He showed how the old myth of the newspaper reporter being an ill-bred person who was concerned professionally with disarming the press, is only that-just one myth. Today the reporter has to have certain standards of ethics and a personality for the job that he has undertaken. He has to be a man who knows how to conduct an interview. Mr. Norman also said that he should not offend but he also should not avoid controversy. The first thing which a reporter learns is the usage and meaning of the inverted pyramid, which is like a funnel into which all the news is poured with the less important details on the bottom and the main facts at the top. It is also possible to conduct interviews with questions of what he-phases which that are so important to the reporter and the reader.

The reporter’s real life is one of fast movement where he has little time to see his family. The newspaper man always owes his allegiance to the newspaper he works for and must notswar that it.

In radio the reporter is faced with more requirements. He has about fifteen deadlines to meet plus being on target, write and produce some material on the air. Education, says Mr. Norman, is very important to the radio reporter today. he is no longer the unsophisticated fellow who stuck his foot in the door and assumed a persona. There are so many requirements, such as knowing some technical workings of the radio station. In describing his work in the life of a radio reporter, Mr. Norman told how and why he went through the morning news casts which are usually given. As a rule he will go out on his best for the news. He will cover all types of stories from around the world.

Field Under Construction For Intramural Soccer

Brother William Murphy has announced that construction will begin by April 1 for the construction of an athletic field with facilities for an Athletic Building. This athletic field which would be located on the north of the athletic fields and be used for the following sports: tennis, soccer, track, basketball, baseball, football and other track and field and tennis

Brother Murphy also announced that soccer would begin informally in the fall of the year with players being selected from the intramural ranks. The fall soccer season would begin tentatively November 12, 1962, with Danbury Staet and Bard for this fall. No coach has yet been named but several qualified candidates are available and experience will work out with the prospective candidates this fall.

Who me?

Youth is a reaching, questioning, uncertain time. Youth is the best time for trial and error. Youth is the time for trying on separate dreams until you find one that fits you, and can be worn for ever after.

Many of us here at Marist have made our vocational choice. We, generally speaking, have chosen to teach. Marist affords us a well-rounded education and yet a meaner 15% represents the spirit of Marist.

Who comprises this 15%? The same 15% who will, in the future, have the opportunities for the better jobs of their own choosing. Why? Simply stated: These students have a truly well-rounded education. They have participated in extra-curricular activities and have learned to instill a traditional spirit and reasoning to the name of Marist.

This editorial is directed to the other 85%. The students who give a dull, shuddering echo to the name of Marist. The lethargic, almost apathetic, "guys" you see in the hall, in class, and the one you eat with in the cafeteria. Not you; you don't have any responsibility. He's responsible - responsible for absolutely nothing.

Anyone with the slightest iota of responsibility will tell you, and it is rather pathetic that a man should have to be told even once, that you lack the "initiative" and the toil and toil and toil and toil into one of you on receptacles. The pig pen burned down gentlemen!

It's an absolute disgrace that the intramural program is in the charge of a collapse. If you don't think you don't have the responsibility to participate once a week, usually less, in the intramural program then you are apathetic to the curricular activities. And you should be apathetic to you. You will be responsible for shaping the youth the future of the profession and opportunity. You won't even attempt a class meeting for your own benefit and you are molding tomorrow.

I have insulted you and now I leave you a challenge. Pick up that athletic spirit or go without. Pick up that intramural activity or go without. Marist isn't for you, perhaps. I shouldn't have to feel sorry for you, a realizing a opportunity. It is hard to conceive personal betterment a challenge, but indeed, in such a lethargic atmosphere, it can't be done enough, hard to view it as something other than a challenge.

What's what?

by JOSEPH MICHALLE

It seems today that our foreign dipломats arengenesing what the impression that the American public mainly thinks the total war is feasible. I seem to go to lengths to participate, and in this situation I do not participate, in disarmament talks. If there is no chance of armament, I would not participate in the same time a method of disarmament enforcement, then the situation that must be considered alongside with the idea of should I say the fear of disarmament collapse, of armament, that it is disarming the United States? All new.

Having had this question of disarmament injury to the United States put to them, some of the students of Marist had this to say:

"The present economy of the U.S is fundamentally based on war production. The disarming of the armed forces would thereby destroy the basic structure of our system. In that, private industry would not be able to grab back into jobs which are now being filled by the destruction of the war economy. To counteract this problem the government would have to socialize, either by creating government jobs or by directly subsidizing private industry which would now destroy our concept of capitalism and our society as a whole."

F. Patrie

"Disarmament would mean the destruction of the United Nations, which in turn would cause it to us on the same level as other countries, and we would suffer a great loss of prestige which we cannot afford."

M. Laffin

"We would be injured at home by disarmament because we could not protect our country. Our troops abroad would suffer a great loss of prestige which we cannot afford."

G. DeWitt

"Total disarmament would definitely injure us in the economic field. It would be a disaster to the industries and agriculture."

B. Brown

"It seems obvious to me that it would end in our destruction. Our basic industries would be forced to compete with foreign nations who do not have as much to lose.

The People's policy."

Gary DePalle, basketball team president, announced last week that the Seniors Edge" has been granted a license to hold dances. Due to legal technicalities the Germans require that this license be acquired by a local organization. The license was granted by the N.Y.S.A.B.C. Board. Without a permit the club would be able to legal action and consequently was forced to dissolve their agreement with Marist. A future date for the senior dance has not been set.

Now do you agree with any of our suggestions? If you do, let us know. We are on a mission to help you solve something about dangers and perhaps even experiencing a little anxiety over these three disarmament "talks" for nothing?

GARDEN BALL GAMES

At Siena Tonight 6:15 P.M. Berkshire Christian

Thursday 8:00 P.M.

GARDEN BALL GAMES
The Marist College quintet dropped a heartbreaker to Albany College of Pharmacy at Albany last Friday night. The game was a see-saw battle in the first half but Pharmacy had a three point bulge at halftime. The Foxes trailed most of the second half but with a great comeback they tied the score in the closing seconds of the game. The first overtime saw Marist club to the score with a half second left. In the second five minute overtime the Druggists pulled away and the Marist Five could not come back before the final buzzer sounded.

The first half played in the cracker box gym was highlighted by the fact that there was only one referee. The Foxes took a quick lead and led by as much as seven points midway through the half but the Pharmacists called and the lead jumped back and forth with A.C.P. on top of a 31-28 score at halftime.

In the second half Albany opened up a lead and were out in front by eleven at one point and led by five with four minutes left. The Foxes put on a press which caused the departure of forward Dave Flynn due to fouls. With seven seconds left and Marist down by two, Fred Weiss was fouled in the act of shooting and awarded two shots. He swished in the first one and stopped many heartbeats as the second one bounced around the rim and finally dropped through. John Romeo intercepted an Albany pass with time all but run out and the buzzer sounded with the score knotted at 64 up.

After everyone's heart had resumed beating again the first overtime began. Once again the Druggists forced the Foxes to come back again this one being even more of a "cinderella" comeback. With one minute and forty seconds left Marist was down by five and the lead was cut to two with only two seconds left. Fred Weiss pulled down a defensive rebound and immediately called time out. John Romeo took the ball out with one half a second showing on the clock. He fired a full court pass to big Fred who banked in a jump shot just as the buzzer sounded.

Once again everyone managed to relax as the second overtime began. Albany again jumped into the lead and when Marist lost the services of Romeo and Weiss because of fouls A.C.P. pulled and the Foxes could not come back.
