HULETT SEeks TOTAL INVOLVEMENT

New President Won By Close Vote:
Lombardi And Lebman
In By Landslide

The hectic week of campaigning climaxed last Wednesday afternoon in the Rathskeller with the announcement of the election results by Commissioner Kevin MacNeill. Bolden broke out of the traditional gathering place of hopefuls, adherents of interested students, with the news of victory by Al Hult and Leo Lombardi, for President and Vice President respectively.

Allen David Hult was elected by 31 votes over Timothy Kane, III, in what was considered by many a surprise victory. The total vote was 437 evenly divided with 50 abstentions. Al commented that he was "very happy to see that the students had enough faith in me to elect me President. In the coming year, I will need the full support of the student body, in helping to gain the goal of total involvement of the student in every aspect of college life."

At the victory party thrown by Leo Lombardi, which was widely attended by most of the candidates, past President and Brother presented Allen with the gavel.

Leo Lombardi won the vice presidency seat by a landslide, 377 to 27. In his acceptance speech, Daniel Mahoney said: "Let us all work together to make our school the best it can be for all of us."

Three other areas colleges-Olmsted, St. Mary's, New York and Vassar—had held their preliminary meetings and have drawn up their constitutions. The ambitious program might possibly include the initiation of a cross-registration an inter-colleges lecture series and a cooperative library service.

Three other area colleges—Orange, Hamilton and Blitar Community College—have a standing offer from the council area schools to add more strength to an already promising inter-colleges relationship.

Three Day Peace Fast Demonstrates Student's Discontent For Viet War

A three-day fast staged by eighteen Marist students and two Brothers of Holy Cross at the present week's end was in demonstration of their discontent. All of the students remained quiet except two who complained of illness after two days of fasting.

Bro. Anselm, supernumerary for 15 months, has been traveling in the Fast for the last three months and this week the student continued his daily activity. They fasted on bread and water for three days, three hours a day. The fast was in demonstration of the spirit of the present day. "We have entered a thre..." the student concluded.

As a result of the three-day fast, the student feels that his organization should be more than a quiet and intellectual...

Mutual Toleration
Dear Sir:

In light of the recent controversy between the Greek organizations, I would like to take this opportunity to express my thoughts on the matter. It is my belief that both sides have valid points, and that mutual tolerance is the key to resolving this conflict.

I suggest that the fraternity members in question should meet and discuss their concerns in a calm and respectful manner. By doing so, they can work towards finding a solution that satisfies both parties. It is crucial that we avoid escalation and polarization, as this will only serve to exacerbate the situation.

I hope that my suggestion will be taken into consideration, and that a positive outcome can be achieved.

Yours sincerely,

This recent catalogue of a few traditional garbage habits can serve as a reminder to many of us that we are on the right track.

In fact, it is not surprising to find that garbage is often the most nutritious food we can find. Garbage can be a source of nutrition that is close at hand and easy to get. Garbage contains a certain amount of protein, which is necessary for the growth and development of our bodies. Garbage is also a good source of vitamins and minerals, which are important for the proper functioning of our bodies.

The garbage contains no enemies or pests, which can be a problem with many other foods. Garbage is also a good source of fiber, which is important for digestive health. Garbage is also cheaper than many other foods, which is a benefit for many people.

In conclusion, garbage
is a useful and nutritious food that can be used to help improve our lives. It should be considered a valuable resource that should not be wasted.

Although the initial plan was to have a conference on energy, the current discussion is centered around the social and economic aspects of energy. The conference will bring together representatives from business, government, and academia to discuss the many issues related to energy, including the cost and availability of energy, the impact of energy on the economy, and the role of energy in our daily lives.

The conference will also include a panel discussion on the future of energy, which will focus on the challenges and opportunities faced by the energy sector in the coming years. The panelists will provide their perspectives on how the energy sector can be transformed to meet the needs of a changing world.

The conference will be

This recent collection of some very pure examples of the sort of things that can happen to you can be a scene of some delight, especially for those of us who are in the habit of using garbage as a source of inspiration. The following are some of the more common and amusing examples.

When you open the trash can and pull out the garbage bag, you'll be startled by the variety of things you'll find inside. From old newspapers and magazines to broken bottles and cans, you'll find all sorts of items that you'd never expect to see in a bag.

One of the most interesting things you'll find in the garbage is old maps. You never know what kind of interesting information you'll find on these maps, from old city plans to historical maps of the area.

Another interesting item you might find is old letters or notes. These can be a great source of inspiration for your writing, and you never know what kind of interesting stories you'll find inside.

When it comes to garbage, you never know what you'll find. So be sure to check it out next time you open the trash can.

Cagers Finish With Championship

After a disappointing start of 6 losses, the Marist College Basketball Team played some fine basketball after the Christmas vacation; when the boys had themselves and realized what they could do, the record was 6-6. For the first time ever, Marist took the Central Atlantic College Conference Basketball title with an overtime win over Bloomfield in a playoff game at the end of the season.

Leading the club in scoring and rebounding were Bill Gowen and McInerney. When either one of them was out of the game, the other one did not. Both averaged over 20 points per game. The best Marist had an average of 20 points a game for the season.

Gowen has come a long way in two years. Many people do not realize that he never really played organized competitive basketball until last year. Bill seemed to really find himself and realized his potential in rebounding, scoring and defense. Bill played a big role in the first time he had the experience and he along with his tremendous ability.

Bill McInerney did a tremendous job. Only a sophomore

Bill provided Marist with scoring, rebounding and a burning desire to win. He was rewarded by being named at the E.C.A.ophotosynthetic of the Week for the week ending February 14, 1968. This is quite an honor again, the first time a Marist student has been honored. When McInerney and Gowen were our Marist in a tough team to beat. Bill was always a top scorer and McInerney was in trouble. The entire team depended on these two men for the year. Both came through in fine style.

Rick Schaefer provided a spark that was critical to keep the average spectator. He always played the opposite game throughout the season. He was needed for the rebounding, rebounding had no shortage and leadership, and he responded to all these responsibilities in every game. Rick averaged over 14 points a game in the last game of the season and the final game of the season. Rick was a senior. He was the one who was the key player to win the championship.

Another key player was John Stitt. John started for the first time ever and seemed to get the key baskets in many of our wins. By the end of the season, John could be counted on to keep the lead guards around. His shooting percentage was high considering that he was just 5-10 in height. Through determination and desire, John became an excellent basketball player.

John Flood, also a senior, did an excellent job for the team. Playing against men who had more experience and awareness than him, John did his job of the best and is held against the other big men.

Another spark play and tireless worker was Al McGunnigle. He started for almost every game. Al was always ready to play for and give 100%. At 2-3, he was asked to play center and forward against men who had no height or weight. Al had the uncanny knack of stealing the ball and hitting the right place at the right time. His second place in the final game was a masterpiece. He had some beautiful steals throughout the year. McGunnigle made the difference in quite a few games with his hustle.

Not playing too much but a tremendous help coming off the bench were Pete Farrell and Jim Brady. They were always ready to do their share by the clutch performance of both of them in the last game and Bloomfield games. Both were put into games at key times and responded with clutch performance to give Marist two more wins on the season.

Kerry Loper and Barete Vett also contributed heavily even though they did not play as much as everyone would have liked too. Their spirit and never-say-die attitude enabled the 1967-68 Marist squad to be a team.

Let’s not forget Pete Gallagher who had just broken into the starting lineup before breaking his arm at Sacred Heart. Pete was just getting adjusted to varsity basketball before the unfortunate accident happened.

I would like to thank the spectators who supported us throughout the year, especially those who attended the last game. Without doing so we might not have won that game. Attendance and spirit means so much to a team and the support and cheer make up for a lot of mistakes and help the players win.
