Student Representation: A Myth Of Community
Groove Tube

By Elise Holm

One of the strangest responses one can encounter in a car is the "groove tube." It usually appears immediately before a speed bump. After two or three bumps, things finally begin to sink in. One finds oneself grooving on the bar chart. And one says, "You can't dance with that guy until you're cut out.""

"But what about that space over there?" I think back. This is the space where the "groove tube" is. It is a sort of mental tube, a tunnel through which one can see the future.

"And you can't dance with that guy until you're cut out," I say to myself."

"Because that is the tube for the people who do not dance."

"What about that space over there?"

"Well, that space is for the people who do not dance."

"And you can't dance with that guy until you're cut out," I say again to myself."

Elections '70

The time has once again for the election of new people to represent us in the halls of government. Time to end a leadership that has failed us: the time to make a change. To join the fight in support of the candidates you believe in.

Governor

In New York State the gubernatorial race has been the most contentious in recent memory. Both candidates have been heavily scrutinized, but no one can disagree about the need for change. The people with the most to lose are the politicians, and the people with the most to gain are the voters.

U.S. Senate

The Senate race offers a chance to the district that has been struggling for years. Both candidates have been heavily criticized, but no one can disagree about the need for change. The people with the most to lose are the politicians, and the people with the most to gain are the voters.

O.K. Corral Revisited

The man with a gun and a hat is no longer the hero we need. We need a leader who is willing to fight for what is right, and who is willing to stand up for the people. The time has come for change. The people with the most to lose are the politicians, and the people with the most to gain are the voters.

Doctoral Fellowships

To the Editor:

We are pleased to announce several Doctoral Fellowships for your consideration. We have received applications from a diverse group of candidates, and we believe that we have selected the most talented and promising students. We encourage you to consider these applications and to offer fellowships to the candidates who demonstrate the most potential.

Social Psychology

Students, on the other hand, were more inclined to agree with the idea of the group's influence. They believed that the group was more important than the individual, and they were more likely to conform to the group's norms. The Greatest Show on Earth

The circus opened once again, and the crowds came out in droves. The clowns and the acrobats were as amazing as ever, and the animals were as impressive as always. The performers were dressed in costumes that were as colorful as the rainbow, and the music was as loud as the crowd.

The system would not work without the people who make it work. The people who make it work are the people who believe in the system, and who are willing to fight for it. The people with the most to lose are the politicians, and the people with the most to gain are the voters.

Vikings Baptize Catholic U. 25-6
Rain-Soaked Terrain Tames Game

Wilkens, Gestal Spark Squad
Winning Skein At 5-0

by Kevin P. Donnelly

The Vikings returned home last Saturday after three weeks on the road and defeated Catholic University by a score of 25-6 in front of a Homecoming crowd of 2,000. The Vikings have won five games in a row without a defeat, while Catholic University’s season mark slipped to 2-3.

Field conditions did not seem to bother the Vikings as they were never in any serious trouble throughout the game. The defensive unit had another fine day allowing C.U. to gain less than 100 yards. The offensive unit continued where it left off against Iona. Jim Wilkens two touchdown passes and one touchdown run carried the offensive unit of the Vikings.

The scoring started in the first quarter. After an exchange of punts the Vikings began to move. Hadiouche and Kowinski brought the ball deep into Catholic University territory. From the 20 yard line Wilkens spotted Chuck Browne open over the middle and hit him for the first Viking touchdown of the day. Bill O’Reilly missed the extra point as the Vikings took an early 6-0 lead. The first half turned into a defensive battle as both teams were able to get to the scoreboard again. The Vikings went close in the second quarter Forced to punt from their end zone, C.U. was the victim of the Vikings the ball on their own 35 yard line. The Viking offense moved down to C.U.’s 8 yard line where their drive failed. A field goal attempt by O’Reilly was missed as the second quarter came to a close.

The Vikings showed how devastating they could be in the third quarter. Henry Blum started things by blocking a Catholic University punt deep in Catholic University territory. From the 17 yard line Wilkens rolled the right and went for the score behind the block of Browne. The two point conversion was missed. The score, 12-0 in favor of the Vikings.

Late in the third quarter C.U. was again forced to punt. Co-captain Dan Gestal took the punt on his own 35 yard line and kicked the ball straight to the end zone. The Viking return unit got the ball and O’Reilly added the extra point giving the Vikings a commanding 19 to 0 lead as the fourth quarter began.

The Vikings kept rolling along in the fourth quarter when Wilkens hit Bill Pecore with a 40 yard touchdown pass to put the game out of reach. John Yacozobski missed the conversion attempt. With the Vikings on top by a 25 to 0 score, Catholic University began to move. Rich Lamanstagne, the C.U. quarterback, started them moving. A pass interference call against the Vikings brought the ball deep into Viking territory. From there Lamanstagne hit John Ruggi for 15 yards before he was taken out of bounds on the Viking 12 yard line. Dan D’Agostino took it from there by powering his way in for the touchdown. The conversion attempt was missed and the game came to a close with the Vikings on top 25-6.

Booaters Split By 1-0 Scores

by J.T.

The Soccer team completed a week of both satisfaction and frustration last week as they posted both victory and defeat by identical 1-0 scores.

The Soccer team travelled last Wednesday afternoon to Nyack, New York, to engage in an important conference game with Nyack Missionary College. Freshmen Joe Kamoune (a transfer student from West Africa) scored the game’s only goal at 1:40 of the first period. Pete Walskez was credited with the assist. Goalie Pat Pardelli sparkled in the nets with 23 saves. Many of his seven came on almost unbelievable plays. Marist took only 18 shots, while Nyack was credited with 26.

The Red Foxes returned home last Saturday afternoon to face a very strong Newark State team. Newark State’s Ivo Lekich slipped a shot past goalie Pat Pardelli with three minutes gone in the second overtime period. Once again Pardelli was tremendous. Pat was credited with 19 saves while his counterpart Joe Barra had 15. Both teams had 24 shots on goal.

The split decision brought the season record to 1-1-0. Their record in conference play is 2-1-0.

No story on the Crew team appears in this week’s Circle since no information was provided by the Director of Sports Information, the Athletic Department, or the Crew team.
