Marist Student In Africa Tells Of Invasion Of Guinea

Sunday - November 22, 1970 - early in the morning the Portuguese ships could be seen lurking off the coast in Guinea's territorial waters. A few hours later, the exiled Guinean, and black African mercenary troops hoisted the Portuguese national flag in the streets of Conacry. In the words of L'Echo de la Place, a daily newspaper, the mercenaries appeared in the streets with guns blazing, and everyone saw them. They were extremely well armed - machine guns, bazookas, mortars and machine guns. A lot of people were coming home from late night parties, and it was not unusual to see street fights and casualties were reported.

At the same time other similar forces had landed and split off for other missions. Portuguese and Guinean political prisoners at Conacry Prison were released.

On the morning of November 23 and the evening of November 24, invasion attempts were again apparently carried out - this time there were just a last-ditch effort to retrieve the near successful but battered foreign invasion force. After what one European eyewitness called, "fighting which lasted for two consecutive days," estimates of 200 to 300 people were believed dead.

Since it was the reality of an outrageous foreign invasion of another sovereign state. News of the event spread out of Conacry to all parts of the country, in many a varied version. The truth, predictably, is that they came out when a U.N. mission sent to Guinea by the Security Council issued their findings. The earlier requests by their forces for armed assistance were effectively blocked by the U.S.A. and Britain in the Security Council.

Nevertheless the U.N. mission reportedly that White Portuguese troops were the main force of the invasion and were delivered to the shores of Guinea by ships commanded by white Portuguese officers. The result of the U.N. mission was a U.S. Security Council resolution condemning the Portuguese aggression and calling on NATO powers to send non-combatting arms to Portugal - the U.S. abstained with no negative votes were cast.

On December 10 an emergency O.A.D. meeting was held in Lagos to discuss the situation. The S.A. was in full agreement with the U.N. resolution, the only difference of opinion between African states was over the nature of aid which were offered by each country - some offered military aid (U.A.R., Nigeria, Algeria) others -responding with verbal, material or financial support.

The questions revolved around the activities of the athletes in their athletic complexes. It was an easy interview with Dr. Foy, concerning this issue.

It might be interesting to note that a major fear is that the complex will not be used. Even the best complexes would cost roughly three and a half million dollars would be built in an increase of 30%.

The interview was conducted by John Wynne.

High Schools Begin Draft Guidance

In keeping with the changes taking place in the Selective Service System, about 60% of the high schools and colleges have recently received new high school curriculum guidelines for how the draft works. Already New York City has adopted this CURRICULUM GUIDE TO THE DRAFT for use in all of its public high schools, and many of our nation's school districts are following suit.

He took his position in order to direct maintenance in New York City and for a brief time was associated with Allied Maintenance Co. at the World's Fair. He was able to get away from New York and there was a position which would be gratification working at Marist.

Q: What do you consider to be the major problem in maintenance?

A: Well, some of our buildings have been under construction costs were cut down on. This has been a heavy maintenance cost on these buildings. From a right now is that we have a heavy work load. There is a lot of things undone that we are trying to do through maintenance and it is not a certain amount of...will it wouldn't be possible to say it's vandalism but some of the things that are not fixed due to lack of repair are due to misuse in the present day.

Q: What about the heating problem - really important?

A: Well, there again is a lot of work to be done.

It is always reassuring to discover that some people do read my columns. Theeditor heretofore described me as nobody who anybody suspected was an outlaw in any of his territories. But I really believe that the one out of Madison Hall (no relation to Barney) has this in mind whenever he reads my columns. If he isn't, I know who he is, and I'm not sure who he isn't. He sometimes sends me a note to me at The Circle. Sometimes he just leaves it under the door of my office. But I don't know what to make of it. I think it was a note from the poet laureate of my days at the Circle. He had a habit of writing me long, rambling letters about the state of the country and its affairs. He wanted to know what could be done to improve things. I told him I didn't know. He replied that I could do a better job than any of the other professors. I accepted his challenge, and I began to think about what I could do. I decided to write a column. It turned out to be a lot of fun. The editor agreed to publish it, and I was off and running. I've been writing about the state of the country and its affairs ever since. I've been delighting in the fact that I can't think of anyone else who's doing this. I enjoy the challenge, and I think I'm doing a pretty good job. I'm grateful to the editor for giving me this opportunity. I'll keep on writing about the state of the country and its affairs. I think it's important. I hope it helps people think about things. I appreciate the editor's support. I'll continue to write about the state of the country and its affairs. I think it's important. "Common Sense" is a monthly newspaper circulated by several neighborhood groups. It is a unique publication that reflects the people living in the area to the problems they face and provides a platform for discussion and debate. The paper is widely read and influential in the community. Among the reasons for the problems faced by "Common Sense" are the lack of financial support and the struggle for a fixed circulation.

The paper is funded by the local community, and it has been historically supported by donations from local businesses and individuals. However, in recent years, the funding has been dwindling, and the paper is struggling to keep up with the demands of a growing population. The paper has also faced criticism for its editorial content, and some members of the community have expressed concerns about its lack of balance and impartiality.

"Common Sense" is a valuable resource for the community, and it is hoped that the paper will be able to continue to provide a voice for the people and their concerns. The community will need to work together to ensure that "Common Sense" remains a vital part of the local landscape. The paper has been a source of information and support for many years, and it is important that it continues to serve the community.

TO THE STUDENTS AND FACULTY OF MARIST COLLEGE -

A reign under Emperor Nero proved to be destructive in many ways. While Rome was defeated by the destruction of the city and the loss of life of its people, it was also attacks on peace-loving people. Christians in today's world are similar to Nero and his destruction. The Mid-Hudson Coalition For Peace is an attempt to bring all sympathetic persons and groups into a large area body which will work for a quick end to the war in Southeast Asia and to help build a more united and civil America.

At this time our primary concern is to give our support to the Harrisburg Six through the Washington's Birthday Defense Committee (a group organized in New York City to coordinate publicity and fund raising for the defense of those indicted by the Grand Jury,) by informing area residents and students about the existing situation and also by working to raise funds for the defense.

The Mid-Hudson Coalition is soliciting interested persons and groups who will voluntarily work for peace. All interested persons are asked to write or contact:

I saw Nero sitting on Capitol Hill today. It was quite a scene. He looked far too much the same as the last time I saw him. There was no sign of the great man who ruled the world. He was just an ordinary man, a man who could not understand why the people loved him. He was a man who could not understand why the people loved him. Foxes Foiled for First CACC Defeat
Dribblers Dropped in Double O.T.

Big Red At 13 - 4 Record

Two nights ago the Red Foxes traveled to Bloomfield, New Jersey to face Bloomfield College in an important C.A.C. conference game. Bloomfield came in with a 1-4 record and a 4-1 league record. This game was the Red Foxes earlier in the season.

The Foxes came into the game with a 13-3 mark and 5-0 in C.A.C. play. Up until this game Bloomfield was rated number two in the nation in small college defense, giving up only 60.9 points a game.

The game was close in the first half and then in the second half. The locker room was 36-30 for Ray Clarke and the Foxes with 12 points.

Marian came strong in the second half to tie the game at 68 and then to lead the squad in the first half with thirteen points, eleven coming from the charity stripe.

In the first overtime period Ray Clarke scored all four of Marian's points to deadlock the contest 72-72. In the second overtime session Bill Spens hit a foul shot to send Marian into the 82-79 lead.

Bloomfield's Dave Wright got hot and scored five of Bloomfield's last 2 points to bring victory to the Giants.

Marian was led by Ray Clarke (24 pts), Spens (21 pts, 14 rbs.), Manning (18 pts), and Joe Scott (10 pts, 12 rbs.).

High man for Bloomfield was Jim Kroll with 33 points.

The low cut Marian's win streak at nine which was a new school record. Marian puts their 10 game home win streak on the line in an important CACC game against Dowling Saturday night at Dowling Center.

The Variety Basketball Team continued their win streak this week with victories over King's (N.Y.) and Monmouth College.

Against King's the Red Foxes posted a stronger team record to 5-0. It was a well balanced attack, which saw 6 men in double figures.

Marian shot out quickly to take the lead at halftime 37-33. Joe Scott - 10 points, 6 rebounds and Ray Manning - 10 points, 6 rebounds, led the attack though only playing about half of the period. The second half saw more of the game with the Red Foxes leading 82-82 with 9:00 remaining. At this point King's College counted a man down full court press with the second purple Knights cut the score by twenty points. The final score was 106-89. The Red Foxes were led by Joe Scott (18 points, 12 rebounds), Ray Clarke (16 points), Ray Manning (14 points, 11 rebounds), Lee Cherry (12 points), Bob Ulrich (12 points), and Jim Conetino (11 points), Captain Bill Spens pitched in 11 points, Glen Jacobson led King's College with 20 points.

The Red Foxes returned home to face Monmouth College. Monmouth, members of the N.A.A. District 1 Champion, came into the game with a 9-1 record. The Hawks at the time were the top 1 rebounding team in the nation.

Funny thing about the Marian Varsity is that it's a 13-3 record, they have become a real good squad. When the season began, I honestly felt they didn't have the team that was as good as last year. The biggest problem that existed was in the back court. Ray Clarke played under the shadow of Ray Chaffee last year. Chaffee has a tremendous shot and there was no need for Clarke to shoot therefore there was doubt in my mind how well he could perform. Ray has proved that he can shoot with the best of them and his selection to the BCAC team of the week attests to his ability. Ray has given me more thrills this year on the court than anyone else in my many years at Marian. Lee Cherry has improved 20% since the start of the year. When Clarke fouled out of the Monmouth game with 5:30 to go, Lee took over control of the game and led the Red Foxes to the 74-65 victory. The up front trio of Scott, Spens and Manning have just been magnificent. Scott has been very consistent and has been shooting the eye out of the basket. He hasn't fouled out of the last four games and went 4 minutes in the Kings game before he committed a foul. A new Marian College record for Joe whose major is fouling out. Bill Spens played probably his best game of the season against Monmouth with 25 points and 7,000 rebounds. Sometimes I wondered if he'd ever come down. Ray Manning is still at the foul line. It seems everytime you turn around Ray is sinking another foul shot. Ray hit 11 free throws in the win against Monmouth. And God bless our tremendous bench, Steve Shoak hit 20 points against Kings Point and replaced Clarke when he fouled out of the Monmouth game. Brian McWhorter has added strength in all three positions when a starter gets in foul trouble. Bob Ulrich, Instant Offense has provided the offensive spark most recently with 12 against Kings. Ed Reilly and Jim Conetino have been ample back up for Clarke and Cherry. And the best for last, Dave Lane. The indispensable leader of the Rattlers. The coach is the only ball player to get a standing ovation for entire game. Dave collects three basketball cards so he can chew the gum and make bubbles. Do it for Mary, Dennis!!

We all kid the girls but nothing is ever said good about them. They have come a long way from last year and deserve proper recognition.

We are all happy as long as we win. Let's give the girls a little support and a good hand clap at the next game. Do it for Dennis, Mary!!

Bruce Potter moves through three Albany St. defenders for two points.

Clarke and Team Rise to the Occasion

For the second consecutive week, Junior Guard Ray Clarke, was selected to the E.B.A.C. team of the week. (No. 11). Ray is the only player in Marist basketball history to receive this honor more than once. Also Ray was one of only two Marist players who have been given this honor by the Marist Players. Ken Thompson (now playing for the New York Knicks) and Jim Conetino (11 points, 1 rebound). Clarke and Bill McIntyre have been great to the team.

Ray received this honor on the basis of his fine last week, leading the Marist in three important wins. Against Nyack and T. M. College, Ray led all scorers with 23 points although he only played a little more than half the game. Besides being leading scorer, Ray showed his all around ability by picking off 3 rebounds and tying off 3 assists. This win over Nyack (99-66) was important because it was a league game. In another league game against King's (N.Y.) it was Clarke who contributed to the cause with 16 points in another C.A.C.C. win (109-89).

On Saturday night, Ray turned in another exceptional performance, this time playing aggressive defense as well as his usual balanced offensive. Scoring 17 points and holding his man, Monmouth's top scorer, to ten points. Ray contributed greatly to his team win over Monmouth College 91-85.

Captain Bill Spens was given an honorable mention for three fine performances. They were as follows: Monmouth - 13 pts, 14 rebounds; King's (N.Y.) - 8 pts, 11 rebounds; Nyack - 20 pts - 7 rebounds.

Due to these three impressive wins Marist has been rated ninth in the N.Y. State Weekly Poll. This is due mainly to an all around team effort. CACC game planning is currently leading the team in scoring 16.3, and is only 74 points away from joining the 1000 point club which should reach very soon. Forward Bill Spens is the team's top rebounder averaging more than 11 a game and should break the existing career rebound mark. Guard Ray Clarke is the team leader in steals with an average of 6 per game. Ray broke a single game record for assists (9) against Albany St. and he could become the first man in all time.

This Saturday night Marist faces defending C.A.C.C. champion Dowling College who are currently 14th in the New York state poll. This game is a must win for Marist if they put up a 10 game home streak on the line in search for a C.A.C.C. Championship.
