Cerulli Elected President In Closest Election Yet

By Jack Gordon

A week ago today Marist College students went to the polls and elected a Student Government President and Treasurer along with two Sophomore Class Representatives and two Senior Class Representatives.

Ralph Cerulli captured the Presidential post by barely winning, 298 to 284, with 18 abstentions. The Senior Class offered two candidates, the two governmental positions and the two Sophomore Class Representative positions. McHugh 72 votes, Barbara Treasurer 62 votes and 15 abstentions. The Sophomore Class will be represented by Steve Schilite and Mike Williams, who captured 115 and 94 votes respectively.

The offices of Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, and Vice-President along with the representatives of the Junior Class, which comprise the remainder of the Student Government, had no candidates running at all.

The offices of Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, and Vice-President along with the representatives of the Junior Class, which comprise the remainder of the Student Government, had no candidates running at all.

McHugh 72 votes, Barbara Treasurer 62 votes and 15 abstentions. The Sophomore Class will be represented by Steve Schilite and Mike Williams, who captured 115 and 94 votes respectively.

The offices of Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, and Vice-President along with the representatives of the Junior Class, which comprise the remainder of the Student Government, had no candidates running at all.

The CIRCLE seriously questions the validity of elections called for by the President-elect. Furthermore, the procedures for elections as set down in the Constitution of the Student Government have been so flagrantly abused that the elections thus far are insulting to even the most misinformed voter. As a result we call for the present Student Government to meet in Council, study the constitution and amend it if necessary. The result of this meeting should be guidelines for a new and valid election.

The following is an excerpt from the Joint Public Statement issued by the Conspirators of the Central European Coalition.

"We are citizens of a country that has been invaded by negroes. We ask for a convenient place to live. We do not have a holy conspiracy to shun them. They shall not kill a commandment which our ancestors have been willing to mismatch without impunity a million times. We see it as convenient to join us in demanding that our government in its war against Germany be only one of the secret invasion of Laos, and its expansion of the war in Southeast Asia immediately and bring its troops, planes, guns and bombs home without delay. We ask our fellow citizens to resist this war by refusing to fight, refusing to pay taxes, refusing to cooperate in any way. Finally, we ask the people to resist all violence to a world without violence, that violence which for so long has ruined so many lands, so many souls." In support of these people and their beliefs, the Mid-Hudson Coalition for Peace is promoting "The Public is Consciously Invited to Attend!!!"

Defendants:
Dr. Robert K. Adams
Fr. Philip Bergman
Sister Elizabeth McAllister
Fr. Neil Leavitt
Antoniowicz

CONT. P. 3 Col. 3

Bill Noonan graduated from Marist last June, and after the summer he was faced with the draft. Bill let it ride too long, but not sure of his convictions, not wanting to go. Searching within himself about his objections to the war.

The overpowering bureaucracy of the draft did not lend any concrete assistance till he received his induction notice, to report to duty on December 17, 1970. Bill said at this time "I don't want to go but I do not want to have the country." Through the aid of Joseph Francesco, a former classmate of Bill's at Marist, Bill was referred to a draft counseling group in New York City. After many honest and soul searching discussions with these people, Bill realized his only recourse was to apply for a conscientious objector status.

According to Bill these were the most important weeks in his life. He received a two week reprieve from his local draft board to appeal for a conscientious objector status. Bill filled out the C.O. form and appeared in person with Joe Francesco and a priest from his neighborhood one month later. On that night Bill received his C.O. classification. It is important to note that Bill did not have a hard time obtaining his C.O. because of the help of such people as Joe Francesco, the priest and letters from the Marist Community and home who supported his C.O. claim. The composition of his local draft board was also, not typical of all draft boards. According to Bill they were compassionate and understanding.

Bill is applying for a position at the Astor House to perform his alternate duty. If accepted, he plans to do part time volunteer draft counseling for Marist Students.

Joseph Francesco is presently attending Queens College for his Masters degree in Guidance and Counseling and is a part time draft counselor. He has applied for a position as housemaster for the Marist residence halls for the forthcoming academic year. If accepted, he plans to continue his role as a part time draft counselor on campus.

The Circle seriously questions the validity of elections called for by the President-elect. Furthermore, the procedures for elections as set down in the Constitution of the Student Government have been so flagrantly abused that the elections thus far are insulting to even the most misinformed voter. As a result we call for the present Student Government to meet in Council, study the constitution and amend it if necessary. The result of this meeting should be guidelines for a new and valid election.

Ralph Cerulli

Harrisesburg Defendant Draft Counselling Anticipated From Marist CO

Father James Groppi

Here March 24

James Groppi a nationally known Roman Catholic Priest noted for his activities in the Milwaukee civil rights movement will speak here at Marist on Monday March 24 at 9:00 P.M. The presentation will deal with Civil Rights and Human Rights: The Movement Today and will take place in the new cafeteria.

Joseph Francesco

William Noonan

Elizabetht McAllister

James Groppi

William Noonan
Pacifist Conscience

BY SAL PIZZA

Last Stop

BY JOE BUNO

On June 30, the last day of the war will expire. At that time Congress will vote whether or not to continue the draft. The Nixon Administration was forced to resign in a shambles, and the nation was left with a new President, Lyndon B. Johnson.

It is difficult not to place the present of a volunteer army with other decisions the nation has made in recent years. Nixon has promised to end the war, but his succeeding only in invading Cambodia, where he had no intention of stopping. He has also failed to end the war in Vietnam. This failure has led many people to question their beliefs and the way they think.

However, the draft must be abolished, and it must be abolished immediately. It is a violation of the Constitution to conscript people into the military for war. The Constitution guarantees the right to an adequate defense, but it does not guarantee that the government has the power to conscript people into the military. The Constitution also guarantees the right to freedom of speech, and the right to freedom of thought. These rights must not be violated.

Accepting the military as a necessary evil only destroys everything humanity has ever valued. The nation should not continue to make war and to conscript people into the military. The nation should not continue to conscript people into the military, but should abolish the draft.

Edward Kennedy's support for the draft is that he doesn't want to see any fighting rich man's war. Kennedys and those who subscribe to his position are being held hostage to a system that they don't want to see any fighting rich man's war. They are being held hostage to a system that they don't want to see any fighting rich man's war.

What is necessary, therefore, is the immediate and unconditional cessation of all conscription. It is necessary, therefore, that all conscription be stopped immediately.

ATTITUDES: ONGEBOUSE

BY BILL ORCZY

On cold, cloudy, overcast days such as The East Village Community Center, I discovered that the most entertaining parts of these days are the other people. I was sitting on the floor, reading a book, when I heard someone say, "Hey, what are you doing?" I looked up and saw a man with a beard, wearing a red shirt and blue jeans.

"I'm reading a book," I said.

"What kind of book?" he asked.

I pointed to my book and said, "I'm reading a book." He smiled and walked away.

This was strange. I had never been approached by someone before. I decided to follow him and see where he was going. I followed him to a small library, where he picked up a book and began reading.

"Hello," I said.

"Hello," he said.

"What are you reading?" I asked.

"I'm reading a book," he said.

"What kind of book?" I asked.

"I'm reading a book," he said.

We laughed and continued to read.

Disabled In Action

BY MIKE WARD

I was going to dinner tonight and as I approached the door a man in a wheelchair was there. He was clearly in pain and in need of help. I decided to help him.

I helped him into the car and we went for a walk. I asked him where he was going and he told me that he was going to see a friend. I asked him if he needed any help and he said yes.

I took him to see his friend and we talked about the war. I felt that he was in real pain and I decided to help him.

I asked him if he needed any medicine and he said yes. I gave him some medicine and he thanked me.

I asked him if he needed any help and he said yes. I gave him some help and he thanked me again.

In the end, I realized that I had made a difference. I helped a man in need and I made a difference.

Love Your Enemy

BY TOM TOWN

As a result of Mrs. Landau's talents and efforts as a family counselor, Court observations have become a popular and worthwhile project for many members of the community. I have been involved in such a project.

The People's Court Town police officers, including myself, have visited in court. Our observations have been a success, and we have been involved in each project.
Pacifist Conscience

BY SAL PIZZA

June 30, 1971, was a defining moment for me. At that time, I decided to work with young people, to help them find their own voice in the world. As a pacifist, I believe in the power of change and the importance of peace. I believe that we can make a difference in the world, even if it's just a small one.

Last Stop

BY JOE BURNO

The night he left, my heart was heavy. He was a friend of mine, a man who always had a smile on his face. He was killed in the line of duty, doing what he loved most. I still Miss him today.

Pete Seeger

BY LEON SPANCHER

In 1971, Pete Seeger was a household name. His music and activism had touched many lives. I had the honor of interviewing him for a radio show.

Summer Jobs

BY KATHY HARVEY

Levi's is known for its strong and exclusive partnerships with colleges and universities. I had the opportunity to interview a student who had worked for them.

Disabled In Action

BY MIKE WARD

I was a part of a group of disabled activists who were fighting for equal rights. We were determined to make a difference and to be heard.

Love Your Enemy

BY TOM TOWN

Justice of the Peace. With the help of my office, we have been able to make a positive impact on the lives of many in our community.
25,000 Civilians Killed In 1970

Empty Phrases

Marti College appears to be living up on the words community, participatory, and democracy. However, recent action at the college shows that the administration is not fulfilling these promises. A small group of students took to the campus. An excessive block of time was taken by a debate on the non-existence of the student community. Marti College is not going to become one of those wonderful communities with a lot of time to talk. Last week's discussion meeting on the campus was an example of this discussion. Out of a total of ten students who attended, only two showed any interest in the discussion. The other eight spent their time chatting and not listening to the speaker. There was no attempt to take any action or consider what the students on the issue. When Marti students start caring for their own problems, maybe we can start talking about real issues...
25,000 Civilians Killed In 1970

All Complaints Referred to R. Nixon

CIRCLE EDITORIALS

Empty Phrases

Mai Chau College appears to be hanging on the verge of collapse, threatened by a deepening crisis. The school, which was once the pride of the education system, is now facing severe problems due to a lack of funding and support.

Mai Chau College is not going to be any of those wonderful places where students laugh and learn. Last year’s student council meeting was an example of this. The student council was forced to cut the budget and many students have reported that the quality of education has declined significantly.

We must come up with a candidate or solution. Those students who looked for answers to their problems will be the losers in the end. They should be working for the community as well as we all talk about.

Letters To The Editors

Committee For Student Concerns

Student Election Survey

To the Editor:

Last week the students of Mai Chau College voted in the election surveys. It is apparent that the Student Government has lost much of the support of the community. As a student of the school, I would like to say that the survey results have been announced.

The survey, which was distributed to the students during the week of March 20-27, included questions about the role of the student government.

Joke Is Costly

During the evening of Friday, March 10th, the humorous Joke was performed at the CAFE. Attendees found the joke to be very enjoyable.

Your Opinion, Don’t尸 Page, etc.

Commuter Student

I would like to congratulate the Commuter Student on their recent victory. The victory of the Commuter Student is a testament to the power of unity and the strength of the people.

Significant Note

Very often things happen on the CAFE campus that seem to be insignificant. However, their impact is significant. For example, a recent event that occurred on our campus was significant.

Pacifism

To the Editor:

The beautiful simplicity of the CAFE Student Government is evident. The CAFE Student Government has been able to maintain a pacifist stance throughout its history. This is a testament to their commitment to peace.

The CAFE Student Government has been able to maintain a pacifist stance throughout its history. This is a testament to their commitment to peace.
Interview And Viewpoint

Urban Renewal In The Union Street Area
BY R. WILCOX

M. Richards Crosby is a realtor and a city planner. He is very interested in a proposed urban renewal project which is scheduled to begin in the Union Street Area in the near future. Crosby is responsible for the organization of the Urban Renewal Unit in the city of Buffalo and he is currently working on the project.

The project is designed to improve the area by replacing old buildings with new ones, and to attract more businesses and residents to the area. The project is expected to take place over several years and will involve the demolition of many old buildings and the construction of new ones.

In an interview, Crosby expressed his enthusiasm for the project and his belief that it will bring new life to the area. He said that the project is a "priority" for the city and that he expects it to be completed within five years.

Crosby also discussed the challenges that the project will face, including the need to coordinate with other city departments, and the potential for opposition from residents who are concerned about the effects of the project on the area.

Despite these challenges, Crosby remains optimistic about the project and is looking forward to its completion. He believes that the project will bring a "new face" to the area and that it will be a positive development for the city.

One Week: A Report

Good News
BY FR. LEO GALLANT

The community is on the verge of a major improvement. The new school, to be built on the present site of the old school, will be complete by the fall. The old school will be demolished and the new one will be built in its place.

The new school will have more classrooms and better facilities for the students. The community is very excited about the new school and is looking forward to its completion.

The construction of the new school is being overseen by the city's department of education, and is expected to be completed by the fall of 2023. The community is very much looking forward to the completion of the new school and is excited about the changes it will bring to the area.

One Day: A Report

On The Rath
BY T. RATH

When you eat at the Rath, you can feel that you are paying more for the experience. Because the Rath is located in a historic building, it has a unique ambiance that sets it apart from other restaurants.

The Rath has been in business for over 50 years and has a reputation for serving delicious food. The menu offers a variety of dishes, including meatballs, sausages, and pasta.

In this article, I will discuss the benefits of eating at the Rath, and why I believe it is worth the extra cost.

First, the Rath has a long history of serving quality food. The family that owns the Rath has been in the restaurant business for generations, and they take great pride in providing excellent service and food.

Second, the Rath's location in a historic building adds to its charm. The atmosphere is warm and inviting, and the restaurant has a unique character that makes it a memorable dining experience.

Finally, the Rath's menu is extensive and offers a variety of dishes that appeal to different tastes. The food is flavorful and well-prepared, and it is a treat to savor each dish.

In conclusion, I believe that eating at the Rath is worth the extra cost because of the unique ambiance, history, and quality of the food. The Rath is a cherished local institution that offers a memorable dining experience.

One Hour: A Report

Up From Under
BY DONNA MOORE

The human hand can open many doors, but it is the mind that truly opens the heart. The story of the human hand is a story of courage, resilience, and the power of the human spirit.

The story of Donna Moore, a woman who has faced many challenges in life, is a testament to the power of the human spirit. Despite her disabilities, she has overcome them and achieved great success.

Moore was born with a congenital heart defect, which required open heart surgery at the age of three months. Despite this, she went on to become a successful businesswoman, and she now runs her own company.

Moore's story is one of inspiration and hope, and it shows that with the right attitude, anything is possible. Her story is a reminder that the human spirit is a powerful force that can overcome even the most difficult challenges.

One Minute: A Report

Phys. Ed. Curriculum

The physical education curriculum is designed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of physical fitness and health.

The curriculum includes a variety of activities, such as aerobic dancing, weightlifting, and swimming. Students are encouraged to participate in a variety of sports and activities, and are taught the importance of maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

In this article, I will discuss the benefits of a well-rounded physical education curriculum and why it is important for students to have access to a variety of activities.

First, a well-rounded physical education curriculum helps students develop a positive attitude towards physical activity. By providing a variety of activities, students can find something that they enjoy, and this can help them develop a lifelong habit of physical activity.

Second, a well-rounded physical education curriculum helps students develop important life skills. By participating in a variety of activities, students can develop teamwork, leadership, and communication skills.

Finally, a well-rounded physical education curriculum helps students maintain a healthy lifestyle. By providing a variety of activities, students can learn about the importance of nutrition, exercise, and overall health.

In conclusion, a well-rounded physical education curriculum is important for students because it provides a comprehensive understanding of physical fitness and health. By providing a variety of activities, students can develop a positive attitude towards physical activity, develop important life skills, and maintain a healthy lifestyle.
Interview And Viewpoint

Urban Renewal In The Union Street Area

BY R. WILSON

M. Richard Crocken is a professional, industrial, and economic development planner. He is very interested in a planned, community-oriented urban renewal project for the Union Street area in particular, and the downtown area of the city in general. Crocken is growing up in alternative to monoculture. He suggests that the city of Milwaukee, with its heterogeneous population, is a place of contrasts. He suggests that it would be most beneficial for the people of Milwaukee to be involved in urban renewal projects that would help to rejuvenate the city. He suggests that the people of Milwaukee should be allowed to retain their own values and lifestyles instead of being forced to conform to an artificial standard of living.

R.W. has asserted that the city is a place where people can come together to establish a suitable population. He suggests that it is not the city that is making decisions to rebuild the city, but rather the people of the city. He suggests that the people of the city should be involved in decisions that will affect their daily lives. He suggests that the people of the city should be allowed to have a say in the rebuilding of the city, and that they should be able to retain their own values and lifestyles.

Mr. Crocken, Why do you think the people of Milwaukee are so interested in urban renewal projects for the Union Street area?

Mr. Crocken: There are dozens of individuals and groups who are interested in urban renewal projects for the Union Street area. These people believe that the area has potential for development and that it is important to preserve its history and culture. They believe that the area should be preserved for future generations.

Mr. Crocken, What are some of the specific projects that are being considered for the Union Street area?

Mr. Crocken: Some of the specific projects that are being considered for the Union Street area include the development of a pedestrian mall, the construction of a new public market, and the creation of green spaces throughout the area. These projects would help to revitalize the area and make it more attractive to visitors and residents alike.

Mr. Crocken, What are some of the challenges that are facing the people of Milwaukee as they work to rebuild the Union Street area?

Mr. Crocken: Some of the challenges that are facing the people of Milwaukee as they work to rebuild the Union Street area include the need for more funding, the need for more public participation in the decision-making process, and the need for better communication between the various stakeholders involved in the project.

Mr. Crocken, How can the people of Milwaukee ensure that their interests are represented in the decision-making process for the Union Street area?

Mr. Crocken: The people of Milwaukee can ensure that their interests are represented in the decision-making process for the Union Street area by getting involved in the process and by communicating their concerns to the decision-makers. They can also form groups and organizations to advocate for their interests and to ensure that their voices are heard.

Mr. Crocken, What role can the people of Milwaukee play in the future of the Union Street area?

Mr. Crocken: The people of Milwaukee can play a crucial role in the future of the Union Street area by getting involved in the decision-making process, by making their voices heard, and by working together to create a vibrant and dynamic community. They can also support local businesses and organizations that are working to improve the area, and they can help to attract new businesses and residents to the area.

Good News

BY F.R. GALLANT

A few weeks ago when I wrote a letter to the editor of the Circle, I mentioned that the Circle was the most important newspaper in the city. I also said that I was aware of the fact that there is a group of people who believe that the Circle is not doing enough to promote the interests of the people of Milwaukee. I wanted to clarify that I believe that the Circle is doing a great job of promoting the interests of the people of Milwaukee, and that I am fully supportive of the Circle's efforts.

It is important to note that the Circle is not just a newspaper, but rather a community organization that is dedicated to serving the needs of the people of Milwaukee. The Circle is a voice for the people of Milwaukee, and it is committed to promoting the interests of the people of Milwaukee.

The Circle is a valuable resource for the people of Milwaukee, and it is important that we continue to support it. The Circle is doing a great job of promoting the interests of the people of Milwaukee, and we should all be grateful for its efforts.

One Evening

BY TOM BARKET

Wed, May 11, 1971, 7:30 pm, union street, west side, music, fun, dancing, and relationship building.

The sounds of happy music filled the air as we gathered at the Union Street Cafe for a fun evening of dancing and relationship building. The atmosphere was electric, and everyone was smiling and having a great time.

The DJ was spinning a mix of classic and modern hits, and the dance floor was packed with people of all ages enjoying the music and each other's company.

As the night went on, the energy only continued to build, and everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves more and more.

In the end, it was a fantastic evening that left everyone feeling happy and refreshed.

On The Road

BY R. WILSON

When you eat in the street, you may think that you are paying more for the food because the street vendors are trying to make a profit. However, there are street vendors who are not trying to make a profit. They are simply trying to make a living. When you eat in the street, you are eating food that is prepared and cooked by street vendors. The street vendors are not making a profit, but they are making a living.

You may want to think about the food that you are eating when you eat in the street. You may want to think about the people who are preparing and cooking the food. You may want to think about the street vendors who are trying to make a living.

On The Road

BY R. WILSON

When you eat in the street, you may think that you are paying more for the food because the street vendors are trying to make a profit. However, there are street vendors who are not trying to make a profit. They are simply trying to make a living. When you eat in the street, you are eating food that is prepared and cooked by street vendors. The street vendors are not making a profit, but they are making a living.

You may want to think about the food that you are eating when you eat in the street. You may want to think about the people who are preparing and cooking the food. You may want to think about the street vendors who are trying to make a living.

Phys. Ed. Curriculum

One of the main goals of the physical education curriculum is to teach students the value of physical activity and how it can benefit their overall health and well-being. It is important that students understand the importance of physical activity and how it can help them to achieve their goals.

The physical education curriculum should be designed to be engaging and fun for students. It should include activities that are age-appropriate and that encourage students to be active. The curriculum should also include activities that are designed to be inclusive and to accommodate the needs of all students.

The physical education curriculum should be evaluated periodically to ensure that it is meeting the needs of students. It should be revised and updated as necessary to ensure that it remains relevant and effective.

The physical education curriculum should be evaluated periodically to ensure that it is meeting the needs of students. It should be revised and updated as necessary to ensure that it remains relevant and effective.

The physical education curriculum should be evaluated periodically to ensure that it is meeting the needs of students. It should be revised and updated as necessary to ensure that it remains relevant and effective.

The physical education curriculum should be evaluated periodically to ensure that it is meeting the needs of students. It should be revised and updated as necessary to ensure that it remains relevant and effective.

The physical education curriculum should be evaluated periodically to ensure that it is meeting the needs of students. It should be revised and updated as necessary to ensure that it remains relevant and effective.

The physical education curriculum should be evaluated periodically to ensure that it is meeting the needs of students. It should be revised and updated as necessary to ensure that it remains relevant and effective.
ROWSERS READY FOR RUTGERS RACE ONRARITAN RIVER

The Marist College Crew team of 1971 has its third season in a row as a junior weight training program which included rowing. The winter rowing program was conducted by the "rowing tanks" in the Student Union. The team members, the above-provided crew, carried out the major portion of the winter training. The junior weight training program which included rowing, the winter rowing program was conducted by the "rowing tanks" in the Student Union. The team members, the above-provided crew, carried out the major portion of the winter training.

Beginning his third year at Marist, coach Austin is optimistic yet not overconfident because of his squad youth. All things considered he feels that this year's team will probably be the best team to take the squad at Marist history, for the heavy weight squad makes final preparations for the season, the coaching staff hope young, hard work and determination can substitute for the usual age and experience that is so important for rowing. In analyzing the season, the Heavyweight squad travels to Connecticut on April 27 for a scrimmage meet. The following day, Marist travels to New York to compete against Cornell University. These two meets of the season for the Marist Rowing Team.

John Thack, better known as J.T., has been an unusual hero during his four years at Marist. He has done his job extremely well as manager of the Marist basketball team. He was an assistant coach for three years and this past year excelled as the varsity manager. John Thack is now an assistant coach at Marist and helps with the basketball, and related activities has been outstanding. He has given the best he has, himself, totally and without hesitation, sometimes to the detriment of his scholastic work but always to the good of the team.

The little things outside of the classroom do not see during a season of competition are often the heart of a team effort. Mental tasks, small administrative tasks, that the coach and the team to concentrate on, are important. Any season and each game, are the execution of these small tasks. Total devotion, spirit, and desire for victory are the center of this man's life.

I can probably best be described as a loyal, interested, devoted sportsman with a tremendous amount of sports knowledge. If you need a question answered concerning basketball trivia or the names of basketball stars in the league, you can ask John Thack if he is in the library or in the gym. He is one of the basketball buffs who can keep you interested with stories and statistics every day of the week.

I feel, as a coach, that his real value is an ability to tell a job in day and day out. He has been our scorekeeper, public address announcer, timekeeper, trainer, equipment men and wherever the school needed some drudging. He has been very patient. He has done hundreds of jobs that go on, yet it is impossible to recreate all of the jobs that John Thack has completed as basketball manager. Very often people ask John Thack how he was able to get up at 2:00 or 4:00 A.M., completing the}

---

Joint Tributes to John Thack

Doc Goldman

Coach Petro

The experiences of a coach are colored by the seasons he has, the players he meets, and by the personalities of his Director of Athletics. It has been my privilege to have a good man through four years of successful college and his team. Without this person the game would be less than we were, or, presently, are. His devotion to Marist basketball, and related activities has been outstanding. He has given the best he has, himself, totally and without hesitation, sometimes to the detriment of his scholastic work but always to the good of the team.

The little things outside of the classroom do not see during a season of competition are often the heart of a team effort. Mental tasks, small administrative tasks, that the coach and the team to concentrate on, are important. Any season and each game, are the execution of these small tasks. Total devotion, spirit, and desire for victory are the center of this man's life.

I can probably best be described as a loyal, interested, devoted sportsman with a tremendous amount of sports knowledge. If you need a question answered concerning basketball trivia or the names of basketball stars in the league, you can ask John Thack if he is in the library or in the gym. He is one of the basketball buffs who can keep you interested with stories and statistics every day of the week.

I feel, as a coach, that his real value is an ability to tell a job in day and day out. He has been our scorekeeper, public address announcer, timekeeper, trainer, equipment men and wherever the school needed some drudging. He has been very patient. He has done hundreds of jobs that go on, yet it is impossible to recreate all of the jobs that John Thack has completed as basketball manager. Very often people ask John Thack how he was able to get up at 2:00 or 4:00 A.M., completing the