KUNSTLER TONIGHT

THirty-eight men have died at Attica, Ohio, as the result of a ultimatum by the Mass Crips to restore law and order. The noted civil rights lawyer will speak to the Marist community concernig the current struggles with which he is involved. He is expected to be joined at eight o’clock in the cafeteria to a capacity crowd. The event is being co-sponsored by the College Union Board and The Circle.

Last Thursday, September 9, the inmates of Attica Correction Facility initiated actions to gain control over cellblock areas within the prison compound. Two days later an unprecedented gesture, the inmates turned to William Kunstler, were asked to come to Attica on the prisoners request and meet the demands of the inmates.

Of the thirty-eight men issued by the inmates all but three were agreed to by prison officials. One of the three contested demands was the asking for amnesty for the killing of a guard in the initial takeover of the prison; a crime punishable by death in New York State. Another inmate demand was for the release of all prisoners to a non-imperialistic country, presumably Algiers, upon the invitation of Eldridge Cleaver. The third demand that went unmet was for the ousting of the prison superintendent.

The demands that were met, however, dealt with providing better medical facilities, improved food services and living conditions, in general for penal prisoners.

The negotiations which lasted three days ended in failure by the decision of the Governor Rockefeller to retake the prison by force. A virtual army of 1,200 state police, local police and national guardsmen called Governor Rockefeller invaded the prison compound at 8:40 A.M. Tuesday morning. In the action that followed 27 men were killed, adding to the one guard who was killed in the beginning, bringing the total killings to 28. The assembled law-enforcement group attempted to the successful retake of the prison by helicopters, which halted beer gas canisters into the occupied prison.

The five day rebellion by the inmates of Attica is over, ended abruptly by a swift action, unprecedented in American Penal history.

Locally, it is apparent that Marist students, particularly those living in the residence hall are somewhat aware as to what has happened at Attica. Students on campus are organizing an activist group of all concerned individuals to decide exactly what action can be taken to alleviate the conditions of local prisoners, especially the Dutchess County Jail. These students will call a general meeting setting the time and location to be announced later today.

THE

VOLUME 33 NUMBER 2
MARIST COLLEGE, POUGHKEEPSIE, NEW YORK 12601
SEPTEMBER 16, 1971

Rip Van Winkle Wide Awake

by Jim Daly

The start of the new school year has found the parents of the City of Poughkeepsie school children in a rage over the total lack of bus transportation in the school. The parents threatened to boycott by keeping their children out of school. Partial funding was then funded by the City and the boycott was broken. Bonita Res, a resident of P.D.A.R.A.'s Rip Van Winkle House is still holding their children out of school. The parents in Rip Van Winkle did not receive bus transportation for their children, who have to walk 2.9 miles to the middle school, which contains the kindergarten through the eighth grade.

The parents of this community have elected their students to help in giving their children, who number 17, some classroom activities while they are missing none in the schools. Marsha Bonita, and Denise Alkon are coordinating this volunteer effort, which began on Tuesday, September 14. Marsha Bucasi said the parents were doing a better job of turning out Marist students and he is optimistic about their continued efforts.

The biggest problem in this building is getting legal action against one Mr. Corbetta, the landlord of the building, for misrepresentation. It seems when advertising his apartment, Corbetta said that rents in the buildings was $125. It has also been alleged that Louise Sole, a student, who moved in to the Waves 2, in which the Rip Van Winkle House is located, could not get involved.

Besides the 2.9 mile distance to the middle school, the parents state that their children must walk to The Lower Main Street, which has the highest crime rate in the City of Poughkeepsie. During the winter some of these children will have to walk home after dark.

The parents stated that they would hold out as long as there was no transportation provided by the city.

Beginning of 2.9 mile walk to school

Any students interested in helping in the tutorial program now under way, please contact Marsha Bucasi or Denise Alkon. The hours that this program are run are between 9:06 A.M. and 2:30 P.M. It has been reported that more volunteers are needed, especially on Mondays and Wednesdays.

S. G. Allocates Funds

by Ed Kissling

On Tuesday night, September 7, at 8:30 P.M., the Marist College Student Government was called to order at a meeting in Lee Lounge. The goal of the meeting was to dispense budget money for different student activities. News of a possible CUB Concert, featuring John Denver, in late October, was also announced.

President Cerulli's appointee for Student Government positions and committees were approved on the initial tabulation of the votes. The committee was filled that of attorney general Bill Decker was chosen.

Fifteen student activities have been allocated a budget of $1,000. President Cerulli had made a tentative budget, which he said "would be the best for the good of all." However, the entire Student Government, Cerulli in particular, finalized the budget and approved its budget for $466.00.

The Appalachian Action Group budget was lost, so action was delayed until a new one can be prepared.

There was no representative from the Marist Ecology Action present. That budget was dropped until someone comes forward.

At a good portion of the Radio Club's equipment was stolen, the club asked if it would submit another budget. Therefore we approved. The Circle was given $7,100.00, after it was learned that the size of their phone bill and their $1,200.00 deficit.

The yearbook asked for $2,000.00, and it was awarded in full. President Cerulli noted that the Roywood had cut down its budget from $3,000.00 to $3,000.00 over the year.

The Football Club received $4,000.00 with the promise from its president, that he is instituting a strong management. The cheerleaders were not represented, an action that President Cerulli found to be deferred.

At this point in the meeting President Ralph Cerulli, asked that those representatives at the meeting, "to stick around ... both here tonight and throughout the year." He added that the Student Government will need all the support it can get. After he finished speaking, about twelve people left the Dairy building.

More budget requests are upcoming. The Gaelic Society was given $650.00. This club has given aid to both the Children's Theatre and the Football Club.

The Commuter Union wanted $1,300.00. The leader of this group stated that they were fighting quality and the perception of the commuter students. They were given an office in the Campus Center. The S.G. finally budgeted the Commuter Union $800.00 after a personal appeal from the President Cerulli.

The Psychology, Biology and Chemistry Clubs asked for a couple hundred dollars each. The group received $125.00 at the suggestion of the President, Cerulli also suggested that the clubs have representatives to the College Union Board. C.U.B. President Ed Cichor settled with Cerulli, $106.00 for both clubs.

The final budget request came from the Children's Theatre. They were budgeted $1,200.00. The government seemed taken aback to learn only last night that the theatre group had $1,100.00 in the bank.

FONTAINE HOUSE

by Dominic DeVincenzo

The opening of the fall 1971 semester here at Marist brought with it the renaming of Fontaine Hall to residence living. Late last month, a list of forty names (22 boys and 8 girls) were submitted to Mr. Lambert for approval of living at the new house. The list was finally agreed upon and those people are now living at Fontaine. There are no resident coordinators or resident advisors or even a house master. The only person living in Fontaine who is not a student is Louis Emmony, who is graduate assistant.

cont. pg. 5
October 16, 1971

Ward's Words

by Mike Ward

Although there are more disabled students on campus this year, the administration doesn't seem to be aware of their special needs. It's a bit surprising, since the new campus guidebook lists a special center for disabled students. The new path across the quad was built with a curb at one end only, so it is not usable by a wheelchair bound student. The goal of the administration might be to make the campus more accessible to all students, but the needs of the disabled were not being considered. They left a path that could be used by other students, but not by those in wheelchairs. This is a good example of how the administration doesn't always think ahead or plan well. The new path is not usable, but it should be. The administration needs to be more aware of the needs of the disabled.

Benito Means People

Benito House: A Goal, A Reality, A Future

by Frederick A. Lambert

Benito House is occupied by thirty-two Black students, twenty-six young men, and six women. The students live here to form a community, to learn about being Black, and to develop leadership skills. If there's a sister or brother in the house, each is an activist in their own right. The house is committed to the idea of the Black Power Movement, and the students have a strong sense of responsibility for their community. It is hoped that Benito House will be a place where Black students can come together and learn about being Black. The house is an important part of the Black Power Movement, and the students are dedicated to its success.

But You Can't Fool All The People All The Time

by Bill Decker

The Black Power Movement is currently facing a crisis. The organization is facing a lack of funds, and the need for volunteers. The movement needs more support from the community, and more volunteers to help organize events. The Black Power Movement needs to reach out to the community and explain its goals and objectives. The movement needs to show the community that it is committed to improving the lives of Black people.

September 16, 1971

Hillcrest

by Marty Kelly

David, when I come in my mind and try to describe him to you, it is difficult to do so. He is a man of many contradictions and paradoxes. He is at once gentle and strong, kind and tough. He is a man of many talents and abilities, and yet he is a man of many weaknesses and flaws. He is a man of great intelligence and wisdom, and yet he is a man of great naivete and simplicity. He is a man of great beauty and grace, and yet he is a man of great vulgarity and vulgarity.

Campus Folly

by Dilling

Dilling

by Pat Pat

"No Title"

by Tom Walsh

"We better dig our way out of the swamp, until the waders have us hooked."

"But it's too early for this year."

"So you say?"

"Yes, I say."
Ward's Words by Mike Ward

Although there are more disabled students on campus this year, the administration doesn't seem to be aware of their special needs. It seems that the administration is more focused on the aesthetics of the building rather than the functionality of it. The new project that the school is embarking on is a $2 million dollar project to improve the accessibility of the building. This new project is supposed to be completed by the end of the year. The school is claiming that the project will improve the accessibility of the building for all students, including those with disabilities. However, many students with disabilities feel that the project is not enough and that the school should be doing more to accommodate their needs.

But You Can't Fool All The People All The Time by Bill Deacon

Now that more young people have been granted the ability to vote, there is a growing awareness of the importance of civic participation. Many young people are becoming disillusioned with the political process and are demanding more transparent and inclusive decision-making processes. The younger generation is demanding greater representation and a more active role in shaping the course of public affairs. It is crucial for the political establishment to engage with this new generation and address their concerns. The younger generation is not only more politically aware but also more socially conscious and demanding. The younger generation demands a more just and equitable society, where everyone has equal opportunities and rights. It is crucial for the political establishment to listen to the younger generation and take their concerns seriously.

Don't Cop Out by Fr. Leon Guinn

The Benedictine Community is currently facing a crisis of confidence. Many members of the community are questioning the authenticity of their vocation and the effectiveness of their efforts. The community is facing a significant decline in membership and financial resources, and there is a growing concern about the future of the monastery. It is crucial for the community to address these issues and work towards revitalizing their mission. The community needs to re-evaluate its priorities and develop a clear vision for the future. The community needs to be open to new ideas and approaches and be willing to adapt and change as necessary. The community needs to be more transparent and inclusive in its decision-making processes and be more accessible to the public. The community needs to be more creative and innovative in its fundraising efforts and be more effective in its outreach and engagement with the community.

Hillcrest by Marty Kelly

Campus Folly by Librarian

Benito Means People by Byrdie A. Lambert

Benito Means People by Pati Pat

Benito Life by Brenda Williams

Really, I'm Typical by Brenda Williams

I am a female student and a resident of Benedict House. Benedict House is occupied by thirty-two black students, twenty-six women, eight men, and two mixed-race students. I have been in residence for two years now, and I have to say, I would like to give my feelings and opinions about Benedict House.

Benedict House is a very good place for students to meet and socialize. It is a great place to treat each other on a society and friendship basis. To me, living in a house is like living at home and at the same time, it is a place where you can meet and socialize with people from different backgrounds. Benedict House is a place where you can meet and socialize with people from different backgrounds.

We also take care of the house as we would in our own rooms. Even though we have resources to come and go as we wish, living in Benedict House is like having a home and sharing a home. Benedict House is like having a home, but you have to be careful and make sure everyone is treated equally.

Benedict House is just like any other house, but you have to be careful and make sure everyone is treated equally.
Benoit: A Road To Equality

David Whitbread

I am the leader of the committee that is working on our school's discriminative policies. This position is not an easy one to hold, but I believe that it is necessary for the well-being of our school.

The goal of the committee is to ensure that all students are treated equally and that discrimination is not tolerated. We have been working on this issue for several months, and we are making progress.

Our first step was to establish a clear definition of what constitutes discrimination. We have worked with teachers and students to ensure that everyone understands the meaning of this term.

Next, we are working on developing policies that will prevent discrimination from occurring. We are also working on ways to educate students on the importance of treating everyone with respect.

I believe that our efforts will make a positive difference in our school community.

Black on Black

AN INDIVIDUALS POINT OF VIEW

by Joe Johnson

I don't know how many of you have heard about the recent events in the Black community. It's a sad situation that has affected many people.

I want to speak out about my own experiences as a Black individual. I have faced discrimination and prejudice throughout my life, and it has been challenging.

What I want to say is that it's important to remember that we are all human beings, regardless of our race. We should treat each other with respect and kindness.

I believe that we can create a more just society by understanding and accepting each other.

Circle Editorials

On Student Government

Last week, the student council announced the results of the election for the next academic year. I want to congratulate the new members of the student council.

I believe that student government is an important aspect of our school. It gives students the opportunity to be involved in decision-making and to have a voice in the school's affairs.

I hope that the new council will work hard to represent the students and to make our school an even better place.

Exploding The Myth

The size of the Circle is swelling with the growing enthusiasm of students for student government. I believe that students should be involved in leading our school.

I also believe that student government can be a positive force in our school. It can help to create a more inclusive and democratic environment.

Prison Reform

The current prison system is not working. I believe that we need to address the root causes of crime and to focus on rehabilitation, not just punishment.

I hope that we can work together to create a system that is fair and just for all.

King Scholars Program

The Martin Luther King Scholarship Program was established in our school to honor the legacy of Dr. King. I believe that this program is important for our school.

I encourage all students to apply for the scholarship and to use this opportunity to learn more about the life and achievements of Dr. King.

Why Do Black Students Live In Benoit?

When Black students move to a predominantly white community, it can be a challenging experience. I believe that our school should do more to support these students.

I hope that we can work together to create a more inclusive and welcoming environment for all students.

The original demands made by the leaders of the Africanachsen Association were met and the situation has improved. I believe that we need to continue to work towards a more just and equitable society.

HILLCREST (cont. from pg.2)

"Today, I'm unable to go to the gym because I'm feeling unwell. I hope to be back soon."

Calander

Thursday, 16th - C.B.R. lecture by Mr. William Kanister, 8-10 pm, cafeteria

Friday, 17th - Drama Club play "The Storm" by京津, 8-10 pm, auditorium

Saturday, 18th - Soccer match against Abbott B, 2-4 pm, field

If you wish to announce an event, you must notify The Circle office at least two weeks prior to the event to be held.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT (cont. from pg.1)

The current student council is composed of a representative from each grade level. I believe that this setup is necessary to ensure a diverse representation.

I hope that we can continue to work together to create a more inclusive and democratic student government.

To Vote

New York State requires voters to register before the election. I believe that this process is important for ensuring an accurate and fair representation of the voters.

I hope that everyone will exercise their right to vote and that the election will be free and fair.
Benoit: A Road To Equality

by Joe Johnson

I am himself the author of 'Black on Black' and I thought it was very interesting to see the reactions to this work. It has been very surprising to see how many people are excited about it. I am very pleased that it has been well received.

---

Circle

Black on Black

AN INDIVIDUAL POINT OF VIEW

by Daniel Whitfield

I have to say that I think this is a very positive development. It is good to see that more people are interested in the issue of race and ethnicity. It is important to have a diverse perspective on this topic.

---

Exploding the Myth

The Circle is compiling the findings surrounding Benitez House. It aims to provide accurate information and help in the understanding of student issues.

---

Prison Reform

The original demands made by the inmates of the Alcatraz Correctional Institute were long-term prisoners against inhumane prison conditions. The state agreed to make twenty-eight concessions, including the legalization of professional growth, the availability of medical care, and the right to vote. Despite this, the inmates continued to protest and demand more reforms. This led to a series of negotiations and improvements, which included the release of several prisoners.

---

Circle Editorials

To Vote

New York State requires candidates to register with the state. The registration process is straightforward and includes submitting a form to the Board of Elections. This form must be completed and submitted in person or by mail. The deadline for registration is typically set by the state and is usually a few months before the election.

---

Hillcrest

cont. from pg.2

- Time passed and the weather got bad so we had to stay inside for a while. We spent the day watching videos and playing board games. We managed to stay dry and warm, and we enjoyed each other's company.

---

Calander

Thursday, Sept. 16 - C.U.B. lecture by Mr. Williams Kantor, 7 p.m., college Union.

Friday, Sept. 17 - T.V. Team meeting at 8 p.m., cafeteria.

Saturday, Sept. 18 - C.U.B. play: "The Younger, Older, and Black," 8 p.m., college Union.

---

Student Government

cont. from pg.1

- The Student Government met last week to discuss upcoming events. The budget for the events was approved, and plans were made for the next term.
Struggles Within The Marist Community

September 16, 1971

It's National Time
by Roslyn Purvis

The scene is the library of the Marist College. The bells ring, and the students begin to file in. They sit, stand, and talk, but no one moves. The students are waiting for the Marist College Cabinet to meet. The Cabinet is the student government of the Marist College. It is made up of elected student leaders. The Cabinet meets every week to discuss important issues affecting the students.

A History Of Undercurrents

September 16, 1971

Food Committee
by Lynne Navarro

On Sept. 16 the food committee of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, of which I am a member, met in the office of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs to discuss the future of the food program.

The Sensational Chris Evert

Graduate Study In Business Probable

About The Play
by James Michael Nason

Marist College may gain an entirely new perspective as an entertainment center next year when the Bergin Theatre presents its first major production in the new season opening on Friday, August 21. The Bergin Theatre is the main performing arts center of the Marist College campus.

The program would require the expenditure of a considerable amount of time and effort, but it is expected that the rewards of such a project would be well worth the effort. It is hoped that the Bergin Theatre will be able to provide a valuable service to the Marist College community.

An Opinion

September 16, 1971

By Ralph Ceder

Recently I was asked to do an interview with a student from Marist College. The student was interested in discussing the role of the arts in higher education. I was surprised to learn that the arts were not given as much attention as they should be.

The arts are an important part of any college education. They help to develop critical thinking skills and provide a means of self-expression. The arts also help to foster a sense of community and to create a more enjoyable campus environment.

I believe that the arts should be given more attention in college education. It is important that students have the opportunity to experience the arts in a variety of ways. This can be done through courses, lectures, and performances. The arts should also be integrated into the curriculum in order to provide a more well-rounded education.

I hope that Marist College will continue to support the arts and provide opportunities for students to engage in the arts. It is important that the arts are given the attention they deserve.
Struggles Within The Marist Community

September 15, 1971

By Ronnie Paris

The Black student movement and the Black student struggle for liberation in the Marist community are deeply rooted in the historical development of Black students both within and outside of the Marist community. The Black students at Marist have been involved in a long history of struggle, which has led to the establishment of their own student association, the Black Student Union.

In order to truly understand the struggle of Black students at Marist, it is important to recognize the historical context in which they are situated. The Black students at Marist are part of a larger national movement for Black liberation, and their struggle is intertwined with the struggles of Black students across the country.

The Black Student Union (BSU) was established at Marist in 1971, and it has since become a powerful force for change within the Marist community. The BSU has played a critical role in organizing student protests, rallies, and other forms of direct action in order to demand greater representation and recognition for Black students.

Historically, Black students at Marist have faced significant challenges, including discrimination and exclusion from key decision-making processes. The BSU has worked to challenge these barriers and to create a more inclusive and equitable environment for all students.

The BSU has also played a critical role in advocating for the inclusion of Black history in the curriculum. The BSU has demanded that the curriculum be expanded to include courses on African American history and African American studies.

The BSU continues to play a vital role in the Marist community, and its influence can be seen in the ongoing struggle for greater representation and recognition for Black students. The BSU has a proud history of fighting for justice and equality, and it will continue to do so in the years to come.

ATTENTION ATTENTION

SUPPORT CLUB FOOTBALL

When purchasing schmier beer (1 A card or 125) please keep the receipts and return them to Box 25 and 10 for the receipt from a card and as a 125. Thank you.

Graduate Study In Business Probable

James Michael Navarro

Marist College may gain a unique new perspective on the world's business community with the establishment of a graduate program in management. The program, to be launched in the fall of 1971, will provide students with an opportunity to earn a master's degree in business administration.

The graduate program in management will be offered in the Graduate School of Business at Marist College. The program will focus on providing students with a solid foundation in business principles and management practices. Students will have the opportunity to specialize in areas such as finance, marketing, and human resources.

The graduate program in management will be open to students from a variety of backgrounds, including those with a bachelor's degree in business or a related field. Students will be required to complete a total of 36 credit hours, including coursework in core business areas such as accounting, economics, and management.

The master's degree in business administration will be awarded to students who successfully complete the program. The program will be offered on a part-time basis, allowing students to work while they study.

The graduate program in management at Marist College is designed to prepare students for leadership roles in the business community. The program will provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to succeed in a wide variety of business careers.

An Opinion

Ralph Fiore

Recently I was asked to write an essay on the future of journalism. In my opinion, the future of journalism is bright. It is an exciting time for journalists. With the advent of digital media, it is now easier than ever to reach an audience.

I believe that the future of journalism will be characterized by a greater focus on compelling storytelling. Journalists will be able to use a variety of media to tell their stories, including video, audio, and social media.

I also think that the future of journalism will be marked by a greater emphasis on investigative reporting. With the ability to reach a wider audience, journalists will be able to uncover stories that would have been impossible to tell in the past.

In my opinion, the future of journalism is bright. It is an exciting time for journalists. With the advent of digital media, it is now easier than ever to reach an audience. The future of journalism will be characterized by a greater focus on compelling storytelling and a greater emphasis on investigative reporting.
Vikings Ready for Assumption

BERNIE PREDICTS

Marti - 36  Assumption - 12
Marti - 49  Westchester - 17
Marti - 21  Manhattan - 12
Marti - 18  New Haven - 6
Marti - 36  Iona - 6
Marti - 42  Fairfield - 13
Marti - 24  Norwalks - 3
Marti 20  Providence - 18