Marist Year at Home

Student View

By Ed Kistling

During the spring break, which runs from March 28th through April 11th, 1972, Mr. Conlan will conduct a tour of the Soviet Union. This trip is open to students of Marist College, the alumni and members of the Marist community who are interested in visiting Russia.

Mr. Conlan sees this trip as an excellent opportunity to reinforce the knowledge acquired in the classroom. However, he is not able to allocate those with no prior knowledge of Russian history and language or culture. Mr. Conlan has indicated there is no other introduction to a culture than a first hand visit with its land, its people, its customs.

All interested students planning on going on the trip are required to register before the end of the semester. It is his desire to have those interested be represented in the group, indicated at the very beginning with some sort of a program or orientation. The purpose of this is to achieve the best possible itinerary as expected of them as well as answer any questions and provide any information they will need to make their trip as enjoyable as possible. The proposed itinerary for the trip is as follows:

1st Day: NEW YORK - Depart New York's Kennedy International Airport via KLM Royal Dutch Airlines "Jet" to Amsterdam.
2nd Day: AMSTERDAM - Arrive Amsterdam, enjoy "get together" with local high school or college students.

4th Day: LENINGRAD -- The morning is devoted to visiting the world famous HERITAGE MUSEUM, a treasure house of more than two million objects of art. It includes many halls display works by Leonardo da Vinci, Rembrandt, Raphael, Michelangelo, the French Impressionists, and other masters. In the afternoon, visit the "Palace of Young Pioneers" for a "get together" with Soviet students.

5th Day: LENINGRAD -- Visit the factory's activities with a visit to Leningrad's 80,000 seat Kirov Theater.

6th Day: LENINGRAD -- Visit the factory's activities with a visit to Leningrad at "Iskra" for "Get together".

8th Day: LENINGRAD - In the afternoon, visit the local school or college. The afternoon is "at leisure" for independent exploration or Optional Excursion.

The college union floor has been in a state of flux since the spring semester started. Those who think that we should have a better understanding of all issues and that we need to be more involved in student affairs should come forward and take action. The committee has been working hard to ensure that our voices are heard. Let's support them!

Don't Cop Out

By Fr. Leo Callant

In many parishes, Christmas services are given over to a baby laid on a manger and left to die. But there is another Christmas meaning to be kept in mind. The celebration of Christmas is the occasion to be born to life. We are born to life today because of the miracle of the Incarnation. Because of the mystery of the Incarnation, the world is in need of Christmas today.

A hundred years ago, Matthew Arnold wrote of himself as “a man of the world and the world’s judge.” He knew too well what it was like to live in the world. If he were alive today, he would also know that the world is in need of Christmas. The world needs to be born to life, to be given the gift of God’s love and mercy. The world needs Christmas to remind us that we are not alone, that we have a Savior who loves us and will save us.

What is needed today is a new vision that only Christ can bring. A vision that sees beyond the holiday festivities, beyond the gifts and the lights, to the true meaning of Christmas. It is a vision that sees beyond the material world to the spiritual world, to the world of love and mercy.

Don't cop out. Don't let the world’s judge become the world’s enemy. Don't let the world's judge become the world's judge. Don't let the world's judge become the world's judge.

Little Boy Lost

By Tom Walsh

Once upon a time a little boy lived. He knew that he was little and wanted to grow up and be big. He found out what he had to do to grow, but he found out it was not easy. He found out that he had to work hard, but he found out that he had to work hard. He found out that he had to be patient, but he found out that he had to be patient. He found out that he had to be brave, but he found out that he had to be brave. He found out that he had to be strong, but he found out that he had to be strong.

So he decided one day that he would run until he couldn't find his way home anymore. The little boy ran and ran and ran until he was lost. He found himself in a strange place, a place he had never been before. He was lost and he didn't know what to do. He was scared and he didn't know what to do.

"Don't you know what you're doing?" the little boy asked himself. "How can I find my way home?"

"Oh, I believe I did, but I'm not looking for. Who are you?"

"I'm a little boy lost, and I'm looking for my way home."

"Well, I'm not sure what you're doing here. Are you lost?"

"I'm lost. I'm lost. I'm lost."

The little boy turned and began his long journey home. He was happy and happy and happy to be home. He was happy and happy and happy to be home.

Plight of Disabled To Be Recognized

By R. R. York

The College Union Board is sponsoring a spring semester calendar which all students can participate in. The calendar includes events such as workshops, discussions, and activities designed to address the needs of disabled students. The calendar is open to all students and aims to promote understanding and acceptance of diversity. It is hoped that this initiative will foster a more inclusive and supportive campus community.

Ward’s Words

We are Christians because we believe in the teachings of Christ. As Christians, we are called to live our lives according to the teachings of Christ. The teachings of Christ are rooted in the Bible and are the foundation of our faith.

Love, neighbor, and enemy are the three key aspects of Christianity. These teachings are important because they are the building blocks of our faith. They are the foundation of our faith.

The fact that disabled people are difficult to accept, often makes them feel isolated and excluded from society. It is important to understand that disabled people are human beings, just like anyone else. They have the same rights and needs as everyone else.

Other people are alive in this world, but they are not the only ones. They need help. They need help. They need help.

We need more support. People need more support. People need more support. People need more support.

Figure Skaters

I am representing a group of Dartmouth County students who are interested in figure skating. We are planning to host an event in the near future. If you are interested in learning more about this event, please contact me.

Everyman Revisited

The piece you are referring to is a play called "Everyman." It was written by John Gower in the 14th century and was translated into many languages. The play was first performed in London in 1528 and is still widely performed today.

The play is about a man named Everyman who is on a journey to find the meaning of life. He meets Death along the way and realizes that he must confront his own mortality. The play is a reflection on the human condition and the nature of existence.

The play has been adapted and performed in many different ways over the years. It has been performed in both English and Latin, and has been translated into many other languages. It has been performed in theaters, universities, and even in prisons.

The play is still relevant today and is often performed as a means of exploring the human experience. It is a timeless piece of literature that continues to be appreciated by audiences around the world.

Comment on "Student Apathy"

I have been reading "Student Apathy" and I was interested to read your thoughts on the issue. I agree that it is a serious problem and that something needs to be done.

In my opinion, the root of the problem is a lack of motivation. Students are not motivated to work hard because they do not see the value in their education. They do not see the importance of getting good grades and doing well in school.

I believe that we need to change the way we teach and the way we evaluate students. We need to make education more relevant and interesting. We need to show students the value of education and the impact it can have on their lives.

In conclusion, I think that we need to address the issue of student apathy head on. We need to make education more relevant and interesting. We need to show students the value of education and the impact it can have on their lives.

Merry Christmas—This will be the last page of the semester.

Cagers Romp Over Yeshiva and Southampton...

The Marist Varsity Basketball Team opened its 1971-1972 campaign with a 96-77 victory over the Mighty Mites of Yeshiva. The game, played at Yeshiva, proved to be an even match in the first half with the score reading 42-45 in favor of the Red Foxes. Marist depended heavily on a aggressive defense, which yielded few points, but many fouls. The second half saw the arrival of freshman Mike Hart. Hart, who earned all-county honors at C. Ketcham high school, led the Marist attack in the second half with 11 points and 14 rebounds. Mike Hart led all scorers in the game with 30 points. Captain Joe Scott netted 14 points, and Soph Nick Jackson helped out with 11 points. Jim Costello cut off the bench with 11 points.

The following night the Red Foxes travelled to Nyack, New York to compete in an important Central Atlantic Conference game against Nyack Missionary College. Marist, the defending league champions, jumped out to an early lead in the first half. But the Marist defense quickly died down as Nyack caught up and cut the lead to nine points 42-33. In the second half, Captain Joe Scott was directing force as Marist coasted to an easy 80-60 victory. Joe Scott led all scorers with 25 points. Also scoring in double figures were senior Ray Clarke with 13 points, Senior Brian McGowan with 12 points and freshmen Mike Hart 16 points.

Wrestlers Open Victoriously

The wrestling team opened its season last Thursday, when they traveled to New York to face Yeshiva University. The Foxes were overpowering in winning 36-5, as six grapplers registered pins. Picking on their opponents were 118 lb. Lance Liborns, 126 lb. Bob Parrell; 138 lb. Georgebabar; 158 lb. Wayne Krizian; 167 lb. Pat Lavell; and heavyweight Bill Burke. Other Marist winners were Ed Foy, who outpointed opponent 182 and co-captain Jim Lavery. Craig Vogel won the 196 pound match by forfeit. The Foxes put on a fine exhibition of wrestling in recording their first win of the season.

Saturday's first home match of the season against Southampton was much tougher, but wasn't decided until heavyweight Bill Burke defeated Southampton's Steve Shepherd, 9-3. Going into the 177 pound match, Southampton led 24-21. Jim Lavery then outpointed his opponent 182 and the match. Craig Vogel's forfeit victory pushed the Foxes into a three point lead and Burke's decision secured the Foxes second victory.

In the match Bob Parrell and Pat Lavell each picked up their second pin victory of the season. Parrells coming after 2:34 of the first period, and Lavell's with 32 seconds left in his 167 pound contest. The final score was Marist 36 - Southampton 24.

After the Southampton match, coach Larry Heinemann stated that he felt the Foxes still had some rough spots and should improve as the toughest schedule moves on.

During the pre-season workouts, the members of the team elected Jim Lavery and Lance Liborns to the positions of co-captains for the 1971-72 season. Both captains are juniors and have been wrestling since their freshman years. Neither has been beaten this season and will next face Wagner College this Saturday at 2:00 in the gym.

Frosh Capture First Two

By Mike Morone
