Compromise Reached By Marist and Saga

By Tom Hudak

Last Tuesday a meeting was held by Frederick A. Lambert, Assistant Dean of Students and Dean Barry C. Brushco of College Activities, to let the student body know of the recent compromises made by Marist College with the Saga Food Service.

These compromises had to be made for several reasons. The first being, that the number of people eating in the Rathakellian was way above the expected amount, causing a large loss of money for the College and student. The second reason was due to the many complaints of students about the cleanliness of the dining hall and the prices. The problems of the food service were investigated and a new program was developed.

The compromises as stated by Dean Lambert are listed below:
1. Rathakellian cash prices have been adjusted downward.
2. Prices have been adjusted downward.
3. Cash value will be rounded up to the nearest dollar value. Points will be increased.
4. All point purchases will carry a one-point discount, with the exception of 10 cents or less.
5. Points will not be redeemable in the Rathakellian during half meals. For example, the first semester, new food programs would be investigated. A new system will be effective at opening of second semester.
6. Saga must give a 30 day notice prior to December 1, as to whether or not they want to continue serving Marist College. Saga will be responsible for the food service up to that date. Afterward, the food service will be handled by the College.

Since the meeting several developments have occurred. Dean Lambert and Mr. Russell have worked out a compromise to take the complaints of the students concerning the food service. In order to see that these complaints are heard, and to monitor the menu to make sure it has variety, Mr. Russell said, "I worked well last year and I see no reason why I shouldn't do the same this year."

During the meeting, the students found that most of the complaints came from students.

Construction Continues

By Philip Palladino

Mr. Louis Greenspan, project director for the McCann Foundation, said that construction workers are now building the Field House located south of Students Union. The Library, in addition, has begun work on the lower level of Field House.

The foundation of the Field House will be completed in approximately one week if the men don't run into any problems. The only problem right now is the amount of water. The Rock underground isn't a major catastrophe, but it does slow down the process for completing the foundation. Mr. Greenspan said, "We have to be careful how we secure the building is going to be and how we secure the concrete as we go. That building isn't going anywhere. The foundation is lying on solid rock."

After 20 more peers are put in place, the construction of the field house will begin. The exterior, lockers and locker rooms, bath rooms and swimming pool will be in operation. The elevator will be done in 20 days. The wall panels will be 75 percent complete, plumbing and carpentry about 65 percent. If everything goes smoothly, this project will be done around Thanksgiving. But it won't be operated until the spring of 1976.

Another area of construction on the campus is the building of the new Marist College Library. Mr. Greenspan stated that "Progress is going well, the elevator will be done in 30 days. The wall panels are 75 percent complete, plumbing and carpentry about 55 percent. If everything goes smoothly, this project will be done around Thanksgiving. But it won't be operated until the spring of 1976."

Security Expanded

By Michael O'Shea

In most phases of society, as time goes on, things change. As the population of students has risen here at Marist, the Security System has risen to meet these changes. The campus has been working hard all summer at this goal. They have had the added burden of watching over the new library in Fontaine which is open at all times. Thus creating a good spot for vandalism and theft. But Phil Mulligan, head of Campus Security, said that there have been no problems with this other than having to keep a good eye on it.

The Security Department has made many changes to carry out its mission to protect the students on campus. Among these have been the acquisition of a new radio. With this new, more powerful radio, they are better able to communicate during their patrols with the main office. This radio also has a distance of 30 miles, so that it can be used in case of very important emergencies. The Department has also purchased an electric golf cart, so that greater mobility can be obtained during patrols.

With this new cart, security personnel can get to the areas quicker and can cover more ground on the campus in less time.

Another addition to the department is the appointment of Norman Donahue. Mr. Donahue has been hired as the head of night security. More lighting has also been installed around campus for greater safety with the hope that even more will be put in the future. The increased parking lot has been restored in an attempt to make parking at night safer.

WMCR Begins Broadcasting Rape Center Opened

By Daniel Drono

The WMCR radio station, located in Marial, began broadcasting earlier this month. The station’s programming includes music, talk shows, and local news. The station is being supported by donations and is run by volunteers.

The University of the Arts will be the site of a new rape crisis center. The center will provide a safe and confidential space for survivors of sexual assault to receive support and resources.

Secondary Ed. Team Formed

By Bill Broens

Any student interested in serving as a secondary school teacher should be aware of the new Secondary Education Program at Marial. The program has been created to provide opportunities for students to learn about teaching, develop their teaching skills, and gain experience in the classroom.

Ministry Team Formed

By Krol Arnie

A new Campus Ministry team has been formed to support students in their spiritual growth. The team is composed of members from the Campus Ministry Office and includes representatives from various campus organizations.

All programs and activities of the Campus Ministry will be planned and supervised by the new team. The team will meet regularly to discuss and develop new programs.

The goal of the Campus Ministry is to provide a supportive environment for students to explore their faith and develop a meaningful relationship with God.

Department of Psychiatry

The Department of Psychiatry has announced the appointment of Dr. John Smith as the new department head. Dr. Smith brings extensive experience in the field of psychiatry and has previously served as the director of a large teaching hospital.

Dr. Smith’s research interests include the treatment of depression and anxiety disorders, and he has published numerous articles on these topics. He is also dedicated to providing quality care to patients and is committed to advancing the field of psychiatry.

The appointment of Dr. Smith is expected to strengthen the department’s commitment to excellence in research and clinical care.

Dr. Smith will begin his duties on January 1, 2024, and will work closely with the existing faculty to ensure a seamless transition.

The Department of Psychiatry looks forward to working with Dr. Smith and the entire faculty to continue delivering high-quality care and advancing the field of psychiatry.
Marist Begins Pre-School Program

By Wally Sulha

It is fortunate again to see a group of children dancing, singing and playing in the Marist College campus. However, very few parents really know why their children are there.

This year, the psychology department at Marist College has started a pre-school program for children ages three to six. Dr. Christine McInnes and Ms. Patricia B. Anthony, two members of the psychology department, run this program.

The program is a part of the Marist College psychology's dual focus of research and teaching. The department has been a leader in the field of psychological therapy.

The program offers three hours of early childhood education to help prepare children for school. The children are taught to work in a group, to share, to take turns and other social skills. By the end of the program, the children should be ready for kindergarten.

The program is free and open to the public. It is located in the McInnes' home. The program is open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. For more information, call 785-3301.

WMC Begins Broadcasting Rape Center Opened

By Daniel Dromm

WMC's popular news program, "The Circle," has now expanded to include the presentation of a rape crisis center.

The center opened in mid-September and is located in the basement of the Marist College campus. The center is staffed by trained volunteers who provide information, counseling and referral services to victims of sexual assault.

The center is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Fridays. For more information, call 785-3301.

Children's Theatre Sets First Production

By Dave Kasnoff

Children's Theatre program, which opens this weekend, is a new venture for the Marist College drama department. The program is directed by Dan Kasnoff, who has been involved in theater for many years.

The play, which opens on Friday, is "Theatricals," a play about the life of a boy named Jeremy. The play is performed by children from the Marist College community.

The play is open to the public and will be held in the Marist College Auditorium. The play is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and 2 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for children.

Plays Underway

By Dave Kasnoff

The Marist College Theater Guild will be performing its spring production, "Romeo and Juliet," in the auditorium on April 10 and 11. The Guild is composed of students from Marist College.

The play is directed by Paul Kasnoff, who has been involved in theater for many years. The play is open to the public and will be held in the Marist College Auditorium. The play is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and 2 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for children.

Letters To The Editors

Dear Members of the Marath Community,

In order to promote better communication and networking among students, faculty, and staff, the circle was established. It is a club where we can meet and discuss different issues. We hope you will join us.

SAC News

Dear friends at Marath,

You have an opportunity to change the student council on campus. The SAC is looking for new members who are interested in making a difference. If you are interested, please contact your SAC representative.

Reasons for Leaving

Dear friends,

I am leaving Marath because I have made a new commitment. I am joining a new organization that will provide me with more opportunities for growth. I hope you will continue to support Marath and the students here.

Yearbook News

The All Colleagues and Organizations of the College are pleased to announce the publication of the College Yearbook. This is the first year that we have published a yearbook. The yearbook is a collection of photos and articles that capture the essence of our college. We believe that it will be a valuable resource for current and future students.

Food Improvement

Last Tuesday, SAC officers and the Food Committee met with students to discuss food service issues at Marath. A recent survey showed that students were not satisfied with the food quality and variety. The committee promised to try to improve conditions and make the students feel more welcome.

Reactions to the Editors

The circle is an opportunity to express your opinions and ideas. We encourage you to write letters to the editors. Your feedback is important to us.

Letters To The Editors

Dear Members of the Board of Directors,

In order to promote better communication with students and faculty, we are developing a new department at the Mason Student Center. This department is called the "Council for the Circle" in order to maintain a consistent format for the "Councils". Activities of an academic nature from different departments and campus organizations are to be held in this council. In order to be more effective, as well as a departmental council, the following departments have been involved: Branches, Activities and Planning, Staff, and Development Council. The mining of students and faculty is well reported in this article.

Reasons For Leaving Dear friends at Mason,

It was a difficult decision for me to leave Mason in May to resign from the Counseling Center. It is not the first time I have had to make this decision. Although I have received offers from other counseling centers, I am unable to accept them due to the circumstances of my current situation. I am now teaching graduate courses at Mason and am working on my dissertation. I am also working on a research project with the Counseling Center at Mason. In the future, I hope to have more time to devote to my own research and to my own personal development.

Yearbook News

The All-College Organizations will be accepting staff for the next year. This is the first time in the yearbook’s history that such a thing has happened. We are currently in the production of the book. Normally, the editors select the best people for the positions available. However, this year we are selecting the best people for the positions available. This means that you must be a student at Mason, have a strong interest in yearbooks, and be available to work during the production of the book.

Food Improvement

Last Tuesday, SACA and the food committee held a meeting to discuss problems with the food service at Mason. A recent survey of all complaints revealed that many students were dissatisfied with the food service. As a result, the food committee is taking steps to improve the situation. They have asked the food staff to increase the variety of food offered, to improve the quality of the food, and to be more responsive to student feedback. In addition, the food committee has asked the staff to increase the number of choices available, to improve the cleanliness of the dining halls, and to be more flexible with the hours of operation.

Arts Council Formed

by Jack Byrne

The Marist College Theatre Arts Council on campus recently announced the formation of the Arts Council. A new student organization, the council will be the voice of the student body in the creative arts on campus. The council's aim is to promote the arts and provide a forum for student expression. The council will be advisory to the Marist College Arts Department and will work closely with the arts faculty. The council will meet regularly to discuss arts-related issues and plan events. The council's first meeting is scheduled for September 25, and all students interested in joining are encouraged to attend.

Admissions Chooses Student Interns

by Claudia Butler

The Admissions Office at Marist College is seeking student interns to assist with the college's recruitment efforts. Interested students should have excellent communication skills, a positive attitude, and a willingness to work as a team. Interns will be responsible for a variety of tasks, including phone outreach, email correspondence, and literature distribution. The internship is paid, and housing is available. More information can be found on the Marist College Admissions website. Applications are due by October 1.

Freshman Class Sets Record

by Carol Davis

The Marist College Class of 2025, with 1,150 students, has set a new record for the largest class in the college's history. The class is 51 percent female and 49 percent male. The class comes from all 50 states and 37 countries. The largest number of students are enrolled in the business school, followed by the arts and sciences school. The class average SAT score is 1050, and the average ACT score is 24. The class is also diverse in terms of socioeconomic status, with 26 percent of students receiving financial aid.

The win continues the team's winning streak, which now stands at 15 games. The next game for the team is against St. John's University on September 27 at 3:00 PM. The game will be played at the Marist College Soccer Field.
Injury Sidelines
All-American Barnes

by Jack McCutcheon

Larry Barnes, the first all-American from Mattuckett Community College will be out for at least six weeks of this upcoming Viking season due to a wrist injury which comes from Kennedy High School. In 1970, Connecticut, broke his ankle while making a tackle during the team's 20-0 win over the University of Scranton. He was to play the tackle position on the defensive line.

Larry, who stands at six-foot-three, weighs 230 and forty pounds, had three professional offers to play football, including one from the New York Giants. Also, following his junior year in high school, was drafted by the San Francisco Giants as 38th overall but he turned down that deal.

Larry's real desire though, is not to play professional ball but to go into business which is his major here at Marist.

He first became aware of Marist as a potential enrollment through his eligibility in the National Letters of Intent program. He played four years of varsity sport, which is all anyone is allowed. He looked around for a small college with a good business department, and then a well - rounded college football program. Larry found that Marist fulfilled his qualifications.

The atmosphere at Marist is a combination of things. Larry still comes here. Larry says Larry, "The students at Marist have a lot of fun, but the teachers have really been good to me."

And he feels Marist has a unique coaching staff. "There is not as much pressure," he says.

Cross Country Winning

The 1975 Running Red Foxes put their season record at 4-1 with Saturday's win at Van Cortlandt Park against Queens College, Kings Pk., and Point Pk. (U.S.M.A.)

Marist has now won 13 straight at Van Cortlandt Park dating back to 1972. The last time to beat the Marist mariaders was Queens College, 25-30. Marist could not handle Queens with the past two years so Saturday was the return bout with the noted track powerhouse.

The Red Line easily captured the meet with 19 of the first 24 finisher. The first five across the finish line were the new Marist record.

15 and Kings of Ps 49, and Marist defeated Kings Point by the perfect score of 15-0. This put Marist's record at 4-1 on the season after a running spot at the hands of LeMoyne College on Wednesday.

On Wednesday Marist had traveled to Oneonta State in what Coach Rich Stevens had told his squad would be a very close meet against Oneonta. The Red Foxes had barely defeated Oneonta last year, at New Paltz's neutral course, 29-26. Oneonta had lost only one runner, so Coach Stevens reckoned it would be a very close on their tony, hilly home course. LeMoyne was a new school to the Marist schedule, as the team had never beaten them in the 15-year history prior.

Coach Stevens knew they had two good runners back from last year's mediocre team and had picked up one good freshman. So he decided to go to LeMoyne with the purpose "to aim for Oneonta" and that a win over the Hawks would be an automatic win over LeMoyne also. A strategy for defeating LeMoyne instead of "aiming" out of our state's marist's top five runners were to try and beat LeMoyne's second and third place runners.

LeMoyne's second man and let no more than one Oneonta runner ran LeMoyne's top five of Fred Coulthart (won the fastest time ever recorded on the course) and Bob Coulthart (set a fresh record for the course for Marist), Tom Luke, Brian Shilts, Larry Blaisdell and Tom Meade.

Marist runners did not notice that enough LeMoyne runners were LeMoyne's best hope fell from within the 3:5 mile mark and it was a two-man race between LeMoyne and Bob. Chuck did his best to prevent the dumping which LeMoyne registered 36-29.

Sports Profile

by Pat Perrotto

"Winning in cross-country gives me a higher euphoric feeling than in any other sport. I've never been in, says Fred Kolthay, a Marist runner and co-captain of this year's Marist team.

Fred Kolthay, who lives in New Hamburg, New York, set a new Marist record of 25:39.9 in the 10,000 meters in the fourth annual Glassboro International Meet in Glassboro, New Jersey, in 1975. His five mile run in 23:18.18 last season against the world renowned team of Penn State, has left him feeling very strongly that we have a stronger team this year. Kolthay is all too sure that our runners know it too. It's too bad that I can't see them again this season.

The season's loss of a couple of our top seven from last year's team, George McCutcheon, and Steve VanSoo, has hurt us on the Invitational meet. However, it's not a major goal and can fall well time-wise," he concludes.

Fred runs at Southern New York Community College against the Owls and also races for Marist. Fred says: "I never really think that we are going to win. However, we can certainly pass the Owls."

As a Communication Arts major, Kolthay has the time of his life. He says that because of the amount of time he devotes to cross-country, he is more than less forced to use his free time for study. He also admits that there are times when
