Vandals Strike On Campus

By Claudia Butler

"The Marist students responsible for the vandalism should be ashamed of themselves," said Philip McCreasy, Director of Security. "It's such a shame to see a good thing like this happening."

Several cars were damaged by two Marist students in Shenan lot. After witnesses provided information, the students agreed to make restitution and are now on probation. Five rooms in Shea Hall were vandalized last month on the Columbia Day weekend. These are under the investigation of both the Marist and the Town of Poughkeepsie Police Departments.

McCreasy pointed out that the thefts and damages during the month of October were unusually concentrated. Incidents began on October 9 when two students were apprehended for a security breach. The car was stolen from the Chemapagat Hall parking lot. The car contained the keys to the residence hall and the on-duty student was unable to enter the hall. The individual was arrested and convicted of larceny.

McCreasy suggested several ways in which students can assist in preventing the vandalism. He recommends that residents report any suspicious activity in security. Students should also assume some responsibility for the behavior of their visitors. He stressed that exit doors in the residence halls should be locked and not taped or propped open. Lastly, students should cooperate by being alert to destructive activities and the destruction or repossession of witnesses is assumed.

Women Learn Self-Defense

By Barbara Magrath

A free self-defense crash course for girls was held in the gym Oct. 23 at 4:00 p.m. Two Marist students, Gigi Birdas and Lenny Fendley instructed. The main instructor, Mr. Zwerdling said, "The Rape Center on campus sparked off the idea. She offered the students to pay after the crime, I thought we should pay something to help prevent it from happening."

About 35 girls attended the seminar. Generally, the participants said they felt the course was a good idea. One said, "It got me really interested, now I'd like to learn more."

Zuccarello Stresses "Academic Integrity"

By Karen Durcer

"Rape culture must be eliminated," Professor Zuccarello said. "We have been overly critical of the culture in which we work. It is time we got over our overbearing standards and stopped discussing the world of Academic Life in terms of 'good' and 'bad' behavior."

Zuccarello went on to say that "equilibrium is a concept that needs to be accepted in our society. It is time we got over our overbearing standards and stopped discussing the world of Academic Life in terms of 'good' and 'bad' behavior."

Sports Discussed: Amateurs vs. Pros

Approximately twenty-five professional and amateur athletes attended a Free Press Open Discussion about sports professionalism. The discussion was moderated by Professor Zuccarello and included panelists from various sports, such as football, basketball, and baseball.

The discussion focused on the impact of professionalism on sports, the role of money in sports, and the ethics of professional athletes. The panelists agreed that professionalism has both positive and negative effects on sports. Professional athletes often earn a higher salary than amateurs, but they also face greater pressure to perform.

Funding Underway

The Board of Trustees has approved a $50,000 budget to fund the development of a new athletic facility. The facility will include a state-of-the-art weight room, a training center, and a new field for outdoor activities.

Fake Books

"Suddenly the prices went up and we don't have any idea what's going on," said a customer who paid $38.95 for a new novel. "The books are just rolling off the presses," he said. "The prices are just outrageous." The customer was referring to the recent increase in the cost of books.

The increase in prices has caused many students to look elsewhere for textbooks. "I used to buy my texts at the college bookstore," said one student. "Now I have to pay more money for the same book." The increase in prices has also affected the sale of used books. "People used to buy used books," said another student. "Now they're just buying new books."
Rape Conference Slated

The Dutchess County Women's Conference on Rape, slated as the Dutchess County Women's Conference on Rape, will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Martin College of Business on Thursday, Nov. 6. The event will be co-sponsored by Linda Balsey, a Marist Collegeпулe; Psychology major, and the Women's Center of the Mid-Hudson Valley. The conference will include workshops, a panel discussion, and a resource fair. For more information, contact the Women's Center of the Mid-Hudson Valley at 845-231-3444.

By Carol Seegers

"Sex and drugs are a reality of our times," said Dr. John D. Hines, director of the Sexual Health Center at St. Luke's Hospital in New York City. "They are prevalent, especially among young people, and it's important to address the issue of sex and drugs." Hines will present a workshop titled "Sex and Drugs: The Importance of Communication" on Wednesday, Nov. 5, at 10 a.m. in the Martin College of Business. The event is free and open to the public.

"I was shocked when I saw the price of that book," said John Smith, a student at Marist College. "Prices have gone so high that it's hard to afford the textbooks we need." The average cost of textbooks has increased by 15% in the past year, according to the College Board. As a result, many students are looking for ways to save money, such as buying used books or renting textbooks.

Sports Discussed: Amateurs vs. Prof

By Barbara McGrath

A recently announced book, "Amateurs vs. Prof: The Battle Rages On," explores the debate between professional and amateur athletes. The book examines the controversial issue of whether professional athletes are paid too much or not enough. It also discusses the impact of professional sports on society and the role of amateur sports. The book is available in local bookstores.

Fundraising Underway

By John Doe

The College of Business is organizing a fundraising campaign to support the construction of a new student center. The goal is to raise $1 million, and the campaign will run until November 30. The university has already received a $250,000 donation from the Alumni Association. To donate, visit the College of Business website or contact the development office at 845-231-3444.

Arts Editor Speaks On Journalism

By Jane Doe

"I was honored to speak at the Arts Editor's Conference," said John Smith, the arts editor of the local newspaper. "I shared my experiences in journalism and the importance of telling stories. It was a great opportunity to connect with other journalists and share ideas." The conference, which was held on Saturday, Nov. 7, included workshops, panel discussions, and a keynote speech by a prominent journalist. The event was sponsored by the College of Business and the Arts Department.

Higher Education Pursued By Handicapped

By Charles Taylor

"I am pursuing higher education despite my disabilities," said Jane Doe, a student at Marist College who has a physical handicap. "I believe in the power of education to change lives. I have already completed my associate degree and am now pursuing a bachelor's degree. I am grateful for the support of my family and community." Doe is an example of how individuals with disabilities can achieve their goals through education.

Present tense: "Meals On Wheels" Helps Aged

By Jane Doe

"Meals On Wheels" is a program that delivers meals to senior citizens who are unable to cook for themselves. The program is run by the local senior center and is funded by community donations. It provides a valuable service to people who may not have access to other meal options.

"I am grateful for the meals delivered to me," said John Smith, a senior citizen. "The program has been a lifesaver for me." Smith is one of many seniors who benefit from the "Meals On Wheels" program.

A Suggestion

In a recent meet to Faculty and staff last week, President Prey announced the appointment of the present Dean of Business, Tom Wade, to a new position. The new position was not a promotion but rather a new title for an existing position. This announcement by President Prey was made in the context of the overall restructuring of the college. It is believed that President Prey should have explained the nature of the change more clearly to the Faculty and staff.

In that sense, President Prey also announced that "Our President Prey has recently approved the functions presently performed by the Career Counseling Center. He believes that the restructuring of the college as a whole should be done in a manner that is consistent with the overall goals of the college."

The editorial of the Circle expresses the concern of the Faculty and staff about the nature of the change and the implications for the future of the college.

Harriers Capture Title

Led by Fred Kohlman's record-setting individual championship, the Harriers easily won the 1974 Cross Country Championships title. Kohlman took the lead at the 60th Annual New York Times/Spina Cup Championship held in New York City last Sunday by placing ninth in the men's race. Kohlman's time was 1:11:33.5, and his victory was the first for the Harriers in the championship since it began in 1940. Kohlman's victory was enough to secure the team's third consecutive title, and the Harriers finished the race with 25 runners in the top 25, 19 runners in the top 50, and 18 runners finished the race. The Harriers won the team championship with 23 points, the next closest team was the Harvard Crimson with 66 points. Following Kohlman in the top ten were Harriers Peter Jukich, Mark White, and John Fisher. Mark White placed 11th with 1:13:57, and Jukich finished 12th with 1:13:59. Last year's Harrier placed fourth in the championship, which is the highest placing in the Harriers' history.

The Harriers led the race early and never relinquished it. Although the team was not in the lead after the first mile, the Harriers were able to gain back the lead in the second mile. After the second mile, the Harriers were able to maintain their lead for the remainder of the race. The Harriers' performance in the championship was a result of the team's hard work and dedication throughout the season. The Harriers' victory in the championship highlights the team's success throughout the season and their ability to perform under pressure.

The Long Beach State Lion cross country team captured its third straight title in five years last Saturday in the NCAA Cross Country Championships. The Lions also set a school record with 2,100 points, the most in NCAA history.

The Lion cross country team, which is coached by Norm Smith, has been a dominant force in the NCAA over the past five years. The team has won every meet it has entered, including the NCAA Cross Country Championships last year. The team's success is due in part to the talent of its runners, who are well-trained and well-prepared for the high-level competition.

The Lion cross country team is known for its strong depth. The team has runners who can compete at the highest level and runners who can contribute to the team's success. This balance of talent is what has made the Lion cross country team so successful over the past five years.

The Lion cross country team is also well-coached. Norm Smith is a highly respected coach who has guided the Lion team to success. He has a strong track record and is known for his ability to develop runners and bring out the best in his team.

The Lion cross country team is also well-funded. The team has access to the latest training equipment and technology, which helps the runners improve their performance and stay injury-free.

The Lion cross country team is also well-supported. The team has a strong fan base and a supportive community, which provides a positive environment for the runners to thrive.

The Lion cross country team's success is a result of the hard work and dedication of its runners, coaches, and support staff. The team's success is a reminder that hard work and dedication can lead to success at the highest level.

Quarterback Phil Colangelo plunged for two touchdowns and the Viking defense came up with several key plays to spark Mariot to a 30-20 victory over Oswego State at Leonfield Field Saturday. It was the best game we played all year," declared head coach Ron Levine. "The defense played very strong and the offense made few mistakes.

The first key defensive play came when senior nose lineman John Cunningham intercepted a Laker pass giving Mariot possession on the Laker 39. Colangelo wasted no time covering 28 of them on the ground himself before spacing them from the two with 9:07 remaining in the game. Tim Trotta made the point after for a 5-0 lead. Neither team could manage a first down on the ensuing possession, but the visitors opened the second quarter with a touchdown. They went for 110 yards on the Viking 6 with a first down. Jim Papago then made the second key play, intercepting an attempted pass in the end zone and returning it 46 yards to the Laker 35. Five plays later Colangelo ran four yards for the TD and Trotta's PAT made it 14-0 with 11:07 to go in the half.

Danny Wakely scored one of the few offensive mistakes, a fumble on the 18-yard line to give the scoreboards the third quarter. Later the Lakers managed only to move the ball two inches in three possessions as the team was 3-14.

KOLTHAY NAMED ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Fred Kolthay, a junior from New Haven, N.Y., has been named Mariot College Athlete of the Week for the week ending Monday. This marks the third time Kolthay has been named to the award.

Kolthay, number 1 man on the Mariot cross-country team, set a new course record of 21:32 while winning the individual championship in the New York State Open Championship and qualified for the first team state all-staff. Last Wednesday he set a new record for the Mariot course in a meet with New Haven and Vassar.

NOTES FROM THE SPORTS DESK

Aside from the Vikings’ 36-10 win over Oswego State, there were some big upsets in club football last weekend as the top teams in both the Midwest Conference and the National Club Sports Association rankings suffered their first defeat. Pace, coming off a 47-0 win over Mariot, held off Brooklyn 14-12 in Brooklyn Friday night. The Mariot and Pace teams played to a 0-0 tie in the first game.

Meanwhile, the Vikings were coming off a 38-0 win against the Great Lakes defense. "We were not prepared for the game," said Pete Levine. "That is the key to our offense as we don’t have a very strong offensive line.

Saturday the Vikings travel to Indiana to face the Redwings of St. John’s. The Redwings are led by the running back of back. "Chilly" Vito and Sal All and a strong defensive line, termed by Levine as the best in the conference.

Booters Lose But Retain Lead

After suffering their first defeat of the season at the hands of Western Connecticut State in Wooster last Wednesday, the Mariot soccer team bounced back from a 2-0 defeat Saturday in a 5-1 win over Siena. Siena 9-3 at Leonfield Field their final home game of the season.

The 5-0 loss to the Colonials prevented Mariot, now 11-1, from clinching their first ACC championship. It may only be a shadow of the 1977 ACC title but the Red Foxes can wrap it up with a victory over Illinois State in New Jersey Tuesday.

Danny Wakely scored four goals and Zenoe Naitza added three in the Red Foxes’ 11-goal rout of the Illinois State 10-1. Zenoe scored four goals and was named to the highest of the three goals. "Joe" Goldman, "We played casually and didn’t adjust to their narrow field.

The Mariot outscored the Illini 5-3 in the second half.

Naitza broke the game open with three quick goals in the first twelve minutes of the game. The second, at the 2:50 mark, was the result of a nice passing combination between Zenoe and Naitza.

"He (Zenoe) and Firmino have always been our own," said coach Goldin. "When he passes off and moves toward the goal he becomes a double threat.

Goldman feels that the Red Foxes have been relying too much on the Naitza twins. "There received a lot of help out there and no matter how good two of them may be, everyone else also has to play well.

The visitors cut the lead to 5-4 with a goal by Jack Goodale in the 15th minute. Goodale scored in a corner kick from Tom Narell at 15:14. John McCall got it back two minutes later by converting a corner kick from Zenoe. Then Tim Trotta added two points with another goal in the 18th minute.

Zenoe made the game wide open with three quick goals in the first twelve minutes of the final year’s match in which the Vikings scored three goals in the final quarter of the 25-26 shock upset of Colangelo. "That touchdown (Pilson’s) was a big one; if that we didn’t score before we could come back and possibly win," said Mac.

Wakely was really nothing to worry about. - Mike Laflin, receiver on a pass from the kickout on the kickout. "I can’t believe we couldn’t come back and possibly win.

The defense, especially John Pottenger, Billy Dunn, Jerry Diemin, Mike Schiltz, James Cunningham, Papago and Clarke limited the visitors to just 254 points on the field.

Meanwhile, the Vikings were coming off a 38-0 win against the Great Lakes defense. "We were not prepared for the game," said Pete Levine. "That is the key to our offense as we don’t have a very strong offensive line.

Saturday the Vikings travel to Indiana to face the Redwings of St. John’s. The Redwings are led by the running back of back. "Chilly" Vito and Sal All and a strong defensive line, termed by Levine as the best in the conference.
