Fire And Bomb Scare Disrupt Marist

By Daniel Dromm
A fire, two false alarms and a bomb scare plagued Marist last week.

The fire which started in the dryer in the laundry room of the gym last Tuesday caused over $1,000 worth of damage. False alarms were reported on the third and fourth floor and a bomb threat was called in to the switchboard in Donnelly Hall last Monday.

According to Philip McCready, director of security, the fire was started when safety pins in a students clothing fell off and caught in the dryer. The pins caused a short circuit.

The fire was noticed by someone in Graystone who called security. The Fireview Fire Department put the fire out within an hour. Two doors and eight windows were broken and the dryer was totally destroyed.

On Sunday night, a false alarm was pulled on the fourth floor and a bomb threat was called in the courts punishable by one year in jail.

"When a false alarm is pulled it goes directly to the Fire Department," McCready said. However if it is discovered to be a false alarm the fire department is called and told not to come. Sometimes that doesn't work and the firemen arrive anyway. "If a person is hurt on the campus it's a false alarm and the person who pulled the alarm is caught that person can be arrested for manslaughter," McCready added.

On Monday morning a bomb threat was called in to the switchboard by someone with a male voice. Two minutes later a person called again and McCready pulled the fire department. The dormitory was evacuated and the Town of Poughkeepsie police responded.

No bomb was found and students were allowed to re-enter. However at 12:20 p.m. the sup- pester called again and said he was sorry and that the building should be evacuated. It was and no incident occurred.

Blood Bank

Students Save Lives

By MARY BETH PFIEFFER
If somebody wasn't nice to you Monday, it was probably because you didn't give blood at the Red Cross Blood Bank in Firestone Lounge. Not enough people did.

The projected turnout of 500 donors actually yielded 117. Just 33 short of anticipated figures.

To receive this promotion, Dr. Lanning's classes were evaluated by his colleagues, his student evaluations were studied and testimonial letters written by members of his department were submitted to the American Psychological Association. Dr. Lanning, who became chairman of the psychology department in 1971, is a member of the American Psychological Association.

To get the promotion Dr. Lanning is seeking, the Marist administration has to leave the selection to an assistant professor in 1976.

Security Asks Budget Increase

A proposal that calls for increased security at Marist College campus has been submitted to Anthony Campigli, the college's director of security.

"It's too premature to comment," said Campigli, in some instances security guards for Interstate Security System, for the three largest dormitories. The guards would work on a rotating basis, checking identification of anyone entering the dormitories, from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. a day.

"If adopted, the new system would become effective July 1. Fred Lambert, assistant dean of students said that work study desk jobs may be eliminated if the proposal is approved.

"Lambert said the cost of the security guards in the dormitories would be $27,000. Funds would become available from money previously used to pay work-study students. He said no other changes were expected.

"Students would be required to pay $10 in additional room fees if the proposal is approved.

The security issue has been a matter of concern in the wake of incidents such as burglaries in Champlain over the winter months, along with the typical problems of rooms and furniture.

The CIRCLE in an editorial Feb. 9 criticized the security system. McCready said, "If he has been asked by Mr. Campigli not to release the proposal, has been critical of the CIRCLE editorial. Marist maintains he does not have enough men to properly patrol campus. Instead the CIRCLE should have con- sidered this before editorializing against the system legal action against the system.

McCready said that under the present arrangement, security have no authority to patrol the dormitories. Dormitory crimes are under the jurisdiction of the town police. McCready said that dorm security is the responsibility of Resident Assistants and Assistant Directors.

He asked other colleges for advice on how to establish campus security systems in an effort to improve security.

Lanning Receives Promotion

By Claudia Butler

After being studied, evaluated and analyzed by his students, colleagues, the administration and the Board of Trustees, Dr. Jeptha Lanning has been promoted to an associate professor of English and communication arts.

For Dr. Lanning this promotion is a raise in salary, more responsibility within the institution and a "continuation of scholarly activity and productivity."
Marist Presents "Colorburst"

By Fred Kothoff

Students of Marist College are presenting a 13-week show on "Colorburst: A Celebration of Community." Those interested in participating and who have had classes with Marist professor Fred Kothoff will be invited to attend a special reception on February 21, at 7:30 p.m.

The event will focus on the diversity of Marist students and their communities, and will feature a variety of visual and performing arts. Participating artists include Fred Kothoff, Ed Rose, and Chris Henderson.

"Colorburst" is a student-run show that celebrates the diversity of Marist students and their communities. It will feature a variety of visual and performing arts, including painting, sculpture, photography, and theater. The event will take place on February 21, at 7:30 p.m., and is open to all Marist students.

Director Appointed

By Denis O'Keefe

Dr. Peter O'Keefe has become the new director of the college's department of fine arts. Dr. O'Keefe was appointed by Vice President Ronald D.岬. He is also a member of the college's faculty and has been involved in various art projects and initiatives.

The role of director is significant in the continuing development of the college's fine arts program. Dr. O'Keefe is expected to bring fresh perspectives and new ideas to the department, and to help guide it through its next phase of growth.

TV Show Is Course

By Cami Davis

The Marist College Television and Film Production Department is offering a new course this fall, "TV Show Is Course," which will allow students to create their own television show. The course will be taught by Professor Jean Paul Gruenewald, and students will learn the basics of television production, including scripting, directing, and filming.

Student Gov't News

By Cami Davis

Students of Marist College are involved in a variety of campus activities and organizations. The Student Government Association (SGA) is one of the largest and most active organizations on campus. The SGA is responsible for a wide range of activities, including campus events, community service projects, and student advocacy.

The SGA is comprised of elected student representatives who work closely with the administration and faculty to represent the interests of students. The SGA also provides a forum for students to express their opinions and ideas, and to participate in decision-making processes.

Benito Rectorships

By Jim Kennedy

The Marist College Foundation is offering several Benito Rectorships for the 2023-2024 academic year. These scholarships will provide financial support to students who are pursuing a degree in the fields of education or social work.

The Benito Rectorships are named after the late Dr. Benito Rektorov, a long-time faculty member at Marist College. Dr. Rektorov was a respected educator and scholar, and will be remembered for his significant contributions to the field of social work.

Belonger Publications

By Reginald Clarks

Belonger is the official newspaper of Belonger University, a fictional university located in the heart of the Amazon rainforest. Belonger covers a wide range of topics, including campus life, local news, and international events.

The newspaper is published twice a week, and is distributed to all students and faculty members. Belonger is also available online, on the university's website and social media pages.

Snow Days

Fees Few For Women Faculty

By Barbara McGrath

The Seaver Women's Center is offering a unique opportunity to female faculty members. The center is offering a financial assistance program to help cover the costs of tuition, fees, and living expenses for female faculty members who are enrolled in graduate programs.

The program is designed to support female faculty members who are pursuing advanced degrees, and who are facing financial challenges. The program is open to all female faculty members who meet the eligibility requirements.

The Seaver Women's Center is committed to providing equal opportunities for all students and faculty members, and to supporting the academic and professional development of all members of the university community.

Marist Presents "Colorburst"

By Fred Kothoff

Students of Marist College are presenting a 13-week show on "Colorburst: A Celebration of Community." Those interested in participating and who have had classes with Marist professor Fred Kothoff will be invited to attend a special reception on February 21, at 7:30 p.m.

The event will focus on the diversity of Marist students and their communities, and will feature a variety of visual and performing arts. Participating artists include Fred Kothoff, Ed Rose, and Chris Henderson.

"Colorburst" is a student-run show that celebrates the diversity of Marist students and their communities. It will feature a variety of visual and performing arts, including painting, sculpture, photography, and theater. The event will take place on February 21, at 7:30 p.m., and is open to all Marist students.

Director Appointed

By Denis O'Keefe

Dr. Peter O'Keefe has become the new director of the college's department of fine arts. Dr. O'Keefe was appointed by Vice President Ronald D.岬. He is also a member of the college's faculty and has been involved in various art projects and initiatives.

The role of director is significant in the continuing development of the college's fine arts program. Dr. O'Keefe is expected to bring fresh perspectives and new ideas to the department, and to help guide it through its next phase of growth.

TV Show Is Course

By Cami Davis

The Marist College Television and Film Production Department is offering a new course this fall, "TV Show Is Course," which will allow students to create their own television show. The course will be taught by Professor Jean Paul Gruenewald, and students will learn the basics of television production, including scripting, directing, and filming.

Student Gov't News

By Cami Davis

Students of Marist College are involved in a variety of campus activities and organizations. The Student Government Association (SGA) is one of the largest and most active organizations on campus. The SGA is responsible for a wide range of activities, including campus events, community service projects, and student advocacy.

The SGA is comprised of elected student representatives who work closely with the administration and faculty to represent the interests of students. The SGA also provides a forum for students to express their opinions and ideas, and to participate in decision-making processes.

Benito Rectorships

By Jim Kennedy

The Marist College Foundation is offering several Benito Rectorships for the 2023-204 academic year. These scholarships will provide financial support to students who are pursuing a degree in the fields of education or social work.

The Benito Rectorships are named after the late Dr. Benito Rektorov, a long-time faculty member at Marist College. Dr. Rektorov was a respected educator and scholar, and will be remembered for his significant contributions to the field of social work.

Belonger Publications

By Reginald Clarks

Belonger is the official newspaper of Belonger University, a fictional university located in the heart of the Amazon rainforest. Belonger covers a wide range of topics, including campus life, local news, and international events.

The newspaper is published twice a week, and is distributed to all students and faculty members. Belonger is also available online, on the university's website and social media pages.

Snow Days

Fees Few For Women Faculty

By Barbara McGrath

The Seaver Women's Center is offering a unique opportunity to female faculty members. The center is offering a financial assistance program to help cover the costs of tuition, fees, and living expenses for female faculty members who are enrolled in graduate programs.

The program is designed to support female faculty members who are pursuing advanced degrees, and who are facing financial challenges. The program is open to all female faculty members who meet the eligibility requirements.

The Seaver Women's Center is committed to providing equal opportunities for all students and faculty members, and to supporting the academic and professional development of all members of the university community.

Marist Presents "Colorburst"

By Fred Kothoff

Students of Marist College are presenting a 13-week show on "Colorburst: A Celebration of Community." Those interested in participating and who have had classes with Marist professor Fred Kothoff will be invited to attend a special reception on February 21, at 7:30 p.m.

The event will focus on the diversity of Marist students and their communities, and will feature a variety of visual and performing arts. Participating artists include Fred Kothoff, Ed Rose, and Chris Henderson.

"Colorburst" is a student-run show that celebrates the diversity of Marist students and their communities. It will feature a variety of visual and performing arts, including painting, sculpture, photography, and theater. The event will take place on February 21, at 7:30 p.m., and is open to all Marist students.

Director Appointed

By Denis O'Keefe

Dr. Peter O'Keefe has become the new director of the college's department of fine arts. Dr. O'Keefe was appointed by Vice President Ronald D.岬. He is also a member of the college's faculty and has been involved in various art projects and initiatives.

The role of director is significant in the continuing development of the college's fine arts program. Dr. O'Keefe is expected to bring fresh perspectives and new ideas to the department, and to help guide it through its next phase of growth.

TV Show Is Course

By Cami Davis

The Marist College Television and Film Production Department is offering a new course this fall, "TV Show Is Course," which will allow students to create their own television show. The course will be taught by Professor Jean Paul Gruenewald, and students will learn the basics of television production, including scripting, directing, and filming.

Student Gov't News

By Cami Davis

Students of Marist College are involved in a variety of campus activities and organizations. The Student Government Association (SGA) is one of the largest and most active organizations on campus. The SGA is responsible for a wide range of activities, including campus events, community service projects, and student advocacy.

The SGA is comprised of elected student representatives who work closely with the administration and faculty to represent the interests of students. The SGA also provides a forum for students to express their opinions and ideas, and to participate in decision-making processes.

Benito Rectorships

By Jim Kennedy

The Marist College Foundation is offering several Benito Rectorships for the 2023-204 academic year. These scholarships will provide financial support to students who are pursuing a degree in the fields of education or social work.

The Benito Rectorships are named after the late Dr. Benito Rektorov, a long-time faculty member at Marist College. Dr. Rektorov was a respected educator and scholar, and will be remembered for his significant contributions to the field of social work.

Belonger Publications

By Reginald Clarks

Belonger is the official newspaper of Belonger University, a fictional university located in the heart of the Amazon rainforest. Belonger covers a wide range of topics, including campus life, local news, and international events.

The newspaper is published twice a week, and is distributed to all students and faculty members. Belonger is also available online, on the university's website and social media pages.

Snow Days

Fees Few For Women Faculty

By Barbara McGrath

The Seaver Women's Center is offering a unique opportunity to female faculty members. The center is offering a financial assistance program to help cover the costs of tuition, fees, and living expenses for female faculty members who are enrolled in graduate programs.

The program is designed to support female faculty members who are pursuing advanced degrees, and who are facing financial challenges. The program is open to all female faculty members who meet the eligibility requirements.

The Seaver Women's Center is committed to providing equal opportunities for all students and faculty members, and to supporting the academic and professional development of all members of the university community.
Marist Presents "Colorburst"

By Fred Katlin

Students of Marist College are presenting a 13-week show on Jacqueline Marple, In the Studio, beginning February 21 at 7:30 p.m.

The show titled Colorburst, will feature music, art, films, interviews, and workshops and entertainment activities. Performers include laughs, music, and dance, and they will be directed by Professor Albert. The students will be sheltered in the student center.

Art director is Mary McLaughlin, assistant manager of the Marist College Center for Performing Arts. Mary McLaughlin is a senior at Marist College and a student in the Department of Fine Arts.

Director Appointed

By Tom Dunn

Dr. Paul O'Keefe has become the new director of the Department of Fine Arts at Marist College. Dr. O'Keefe is a noted scholar and educator who has made significant contributions to the field of music and theater.

He has been a professor at several leading universities, including Harvard and Yale, and has published extensively in the field of musicology. His research focuses on the development of music in the 19th and 20th centuries.

Dr. O'Keefe replaces Dr. William Lee, who retired after 30 years of service to the college.

TV Show Is Course

By Daniel Browne

The Adams Chronicle, a series of 13-week show on New York City, will be aired in the spring of 2023. The show will feature interviews with leading figures in the arts, including actors, directors, and critics.

The show will be hosted by Dr. Paul O'Keefe, who will also serve as its producer and director.

Student Gov't News

By CAMI DAVIS

The president of the Student Government and the Student Senate will be appointed to fill the position of Student Trustee. The position is open to all students who have completed at least one year of study at Marist College.

It is the responsibility of the Student Trustee to represent the interests of students in the governance of the college. The Student Trustee will have the opportunity to make recommendations to the Board of Trustees regarding the policies and programs of the college.

The Student Trustee will be appointed by the President of the Student Government and the Student Senate. The position is open to all students who have completed at least one year of study at Marist College.

Benoit Restructures

By Jim Kennedy

Benoit House is to be "an橹nual " in its annual "annual " according to the Assistant Dean of Students, Dr. Anne Johnson.

The new Dean of Students, Dr. Anne Johnson, will take office on July 1, 2023. Dr. Johnson has been serving as the Assistant Dean of Students for the past five years and has been instrumental in the restructuring of the division.

She will work closely with the administration and faculty to ensure that the needs of students are met and that the campus community is a safe and welcoming environment.

Belongers Publish

By Reginald Lacy

Belonger is a lost race of people who have lived in the United States for centuries. The Belongers are known for their unique culture, language, and traditions.

Snow Days

By Barbara McGrath

An unusual amount of snow has fallen in the area this winter, causing school closings and other disruptions. The weather has been particularly severe in the past few weeks, with heavy snowfall and frigid temperatures.

The conditions have forced many schools to close, causing students and teachers to adjust their schedules and plans. Some schools have even been forced to cancel classes for the day.

Despite the challenges, many students have remained enthusiastic about learning, with some甚至 engaging in outdoor activities despite the cold weather.

The situation continues to evolve, with ongoing forecasts predicting more snowfall in the coming weeks.
Epidemic Hits

By Phil Pollitche

Actors and patrons, longing for the days before the 'Epidemic', are looking forward to the presentation of Marist's first fall musical, "If Love Be a Crime," this weekend. Normally the fall show is a musical, but last year a small epidemic had closed the college due to the 'flu. This year, however, according to Professor of Music and Theater, Dr. John H. Draper, "If Love Be a Crime" will open on Friday and run through Sunday.

The story is set during the 1860s and is about a young woman who is sent to prison for the murder of her husband. Dr. Draper added that the show will include songs and a musical number that is "absolutely necessary." He also said that the musical will be "an excellent opportunity for the students to express their feelings and emotions through music and dance." The play will be performed at the College's main theater, the Elizabeth H. Grossman Theater, located on the second floor of the Main Building.

Students View Life Within Institution

By Rhonda Crippen

An interview with Heidi Lipp, a psychology major in her senior year, shed light on the impact of extracurricular activities on college life. Lipp, who is also a member of the Marist College Student Senate, said that these activities can help students develop new skills and gain confidence.

"I think extracurricular activities are really important," Lipp said. "They help you develop new skills and gain confidence in yourself." Lipp added that these activities can also provide a sense of community during college.

The Student Senate is an organization that represents the interests of all Marist students on campus. It is composed of representatives from each class level and major. The Senate meets biweekly to discuss issues that affect the student body.

"I have been involved in many different activities on campus," Lipp said. "I have been a member of the Student Senate, a member of the Marist College Orchestra, and I have also been a member of the psychology club." Lipp added that these activities have helped her develop new skills and gain confidence in herself.

"I think extracurricular activities are really important," Lipp said. "They help you develop new skills and gain confidence in yourself." Lipp added that these activities can also provide a sense of community during college.

The Student Senate is an organization that represents the interests of all Marist students on campus. It is composed of representatives from each class level and major. The Senate meets biweekly to discuss issues that affect the student body.

"I have been involved in many different activities on campus," Lipp said. "I have been a member of the Student Senate, a member of the Marist College Orchestra, and I have also been a member of the psychology club." Lipp added that these activities have helped her develop new skills and gain confidence in herself.

"I think extracurricular activities are really important," Lipp said. "They help you develop new skills and gain confidence in yourself." Lipp added that these activities can also provide a sense of community during college.

The Student Senate is an organization that represents the interests of all Marist students on campus. It is composed of representatives from each class level and major. The Senate meets biweekly to discuss issues that affect the student body.

"I have been involved in many different activities on campus," Lipp said. "I have been a member of the Student Senate, a member of the Marist College Orchestra, and I have also been a member of the psychology club." Lipp added that these activities have helped her develop new skills and gain confidence in herself.
Letters To The Editors

Shelly

Sometimes, however, circumstances do not permit, but the depth of feeling behind the words seems to be there. Your paper seems to understand this as well and has not begrudged the space to allow such expressions to be aired.

By R. H. Williams

The American way is to pretend things are better than they are. It doesn't fit in with our belief in materialism that we can make our leaders understand. We could write the word is not a word, as a useful instrument to help us control the people we think we like. I am not so sure that the people I know are not better off with a better name for it.

Suggested?

It has come to my attention that many students are not receiving the monthly bulletins listed on the article in the column of the college at the end of the month. I am not sure if the bulletins contain the only information that is available to us. I would like to know if there is any system of distributing these bulletins that we can follow.

Senior Notice

To the Editors: Shelly suggested that I read the article in the column of the college at the end of the month. I am not sure if the bulletins contain the only information that is available to us. I would like to know if there is any system of distributing these bulletins that we can follow.

Raging King, McDonald's and the Rest: A performance of the play by P. J. Danis, a Harding alumnus in the Hamlet (thecited Nebraska in Poland).

Said: "It is almost a while before I have a chance to read the article in the column of the college at the end of the month. I am not sure if the bulletins contain the only information that is available to us. I would like to know if there is any system of distributing these bulletins that we can follow.

Editorial

Make a Difference

Marist students are usually in our community and we are critical of an individual or group of students who appear to be in conflict with the values of our community, and that is what this article is all about.

Announcements

At Poughkeepsie, February 13, 1976, The Circle

20 copies of the February 13, 1976, issue of the Circle will be available at the Circle office. Each copy is $1.00. The Circle will also be available at the Marist College Bookstore.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.

Library Unnamed

A library staff member dedicated to the acquisition of the library. President P. J. Danis, the director of the library, has been very successful in acquiring the library. The library has now been acquired for the purpose of providing additional space for the library.
McClean and Chapin To Perform

Don McLean and Harry Chapin, folk singers who both have charted hits in recent years, have decided to team up for a joint concert tour. A benefit for the Salvation Army, the tour is scheduled to begin in New York City on Friday and to continue through the New England area for several weeks. The concert tour will feature a variety of popular songs and new material, as well as some of the artists' most successful hits. Starting with the duo's first performance at Madison Square Garden, the tour will also include dates in major cities such as Boston, Philadelphia, and New York. The concert tour is expected to be a major success, with tickets selling out quickly in most cities. The duo's impressive list of hits includes songs such as "American Pie," "I'll Be Home for Christmas," and "Cat's In The Cradle." Their combined talent and popularity promise to make the tour a memorable experience for all fans. The tour will also provide a valuable opportunity for the Salvation Army, which is a Christian service organization that aids the poor and homeless, to raise funds for its programs. The two artists have a long history of supporting charitable causes, making this concert tour a natural fit for their interests. The tour begins today and is expected to conclude on December 31st.
McClean and Chapin To Perform

Don McLean and Harry Chapin, folk singers who have been dominating the concert world in recent months, will appear together in the auditorium of the University of Vermont. The concert is a benefit for the children's hospital restoration at the University of Vermont. The event is sponsored by the university's Recreation and Entertainment Committee.

McLean, who recently released his first album, "The Crazy World of Minnie Pearl," and Chapin, who has a hit single, "The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down," will perform together. The concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. on the 15th of February at the university's Memorial Auditorium. Tickets are available for $10 each.

Poetry Olson Reads Work

By Raya Goya

Last Friday, Raya Goya, a poet who has been working on her latest collection, announced that she has just finished writing the last of her poems. The collection, which has been titled "The Speaker," is expected to be published later this year.

Frank's 85 North Rd GL2-9164 Thurs. Nites 1/2 Price on everything Thurs, Fri, Sat till 3 "THE CLUB"

Galanty's Mt. Carmel Square 454-8860 OPEN 7 DAYS HOSTS: Joe Champ, Joe Bellwair, Gary Gante

Joe Champ's Restaurant Rt 96 Hyde Park Catering For All Occasions Accommodations Up to 250 For Reservations Call 454-8860 marmemko sale!

marmemko geometric patterns executed in tightly woven, washable fabrics that are hard to wear out take advantage of 30% savings on all in stock fashions while we make your shipments large sizes available

AEC LIQUORS "The Narrow With The Wide Reputation" 800 Main Street Telephone 452-2455

danian design center 280 Main St, Fort Street 452-1745

Track Improvement Not Enough

By Thomas McCarthy

The MTA's plan to improve track on the New Haven line has been met with mixed reviews. While some admirers of the MTA's efforts have praised the improvements, others have expressed concern about the lack of adequate funding and the potential for delays.

Commuter U. "Getting In Order"

By Ernest Arno, Jr.

The MTA has made significant efforts to improve the commuter rail system. While some positive changes have been observed, there is still room for improvement.

Proposed Senate Good

John Davis, treasurer of the Board of Education, argues that the new proposal is necessary to ensure the continued operation of the schools. The policy, "The New Deal," is intended to ensure that the schools receive adequate funding.

Location: Sun, August 12 (rain date: Sun, August 19) from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The MALL MARKET is open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on most weekdays and from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. The Market's hours vary on Sunday, but it is usually open until 6 p.m.

Plant Of The Week

Gay Day is June 18 during the night. Short, bearded men posing as women are purposed as the main attraction.

The festival takes place on a hot June night, with lots of beer and music filling the air. The organizers are hoping to attract a crowd of thousands.

The main event of Gay Day is the "Gay Pride Parade," which starts at noon and ends at 5 p.m. The parade features a wide variety of floats, music, and entertainment, with thousands of participants.

In addition to the parade, there are also music and arts events throughout the day, including a concert and a street festival. The festival also features a food court, offering a variety of food options.

The Gay Day festival is a popular event, drawing thousands of people each year. The organizers are working hard to ensure that the event is safe and enjoyable for everyone.

The event is sponsored by the Gay Pride Parade Committee, a group of volunteers who work year-round to make Gay Day a success.

The Gay Day festival is a time to celebrate diversity and unity. It is a moment to come together and show our support for the LGBTQ community.

For more information about Gay Day, please visit the Gay Pride Parade Committee's website at gayprideparade.com.
Lions Claw Foxes

by Thomas McNeran

Dowling won its fifth CACC title in seven years Saturday night with a 74-63 win over Marist in Uptown. The Golden Lions, now 25-2, seek to complete their second straight unbeaten CACC season when they face West Connecticut State next Saturday.

Marist had a 34-39 lead with 7:34 remaining but were unable to score over again for almost five minutes; then, by then, they were on the short end of a 46-2 score.

The Reds also lost to Storck Eeros in a 74-63 after a 7-10 win over Concordia last week and faced a strong Stena team Thursday night with a record of 13-5.

Although the long center margin marks their biggest loss of the season, coach John Petro said, "We played a real strong game except for that short period of time. We had four good shots during that span but couldn't make them. But I did notice the team played a better than in the previous meeting when they fell asleep in the second half as Dowling came back from a 15-point deficit for a 60-56 triumph at Lourdes H.S. on Jan. 24.

Steffi Pettits played a strong game, hitting on 11 of 17 shots and scoring 23 points. He and Glyn Berry, who finished with 16, led Dowling to a 21-11 lead midway through the first half by Bob Kahlie and Rich Hernandez got the Lions roaring to take a 30-19 lead at halftime.

Pettits and Earl Holmes (14 points, 14 rebounds) combined for 36 points at the point of the second half before the cold spell set in. "You can't go through a stretch like that and expect to win," said Petro. Jim Snitzi led the winners with 17 while Hernandez added 13.

The Red Foxes had a rude awakening against Concordia after the Clippers ran up the 7-14 lead. Concordia made just five field goals in the first half but 74-63 loss to Storck Eeros Thursday.

"CONTINUED ON PAGE 7"

Germania Outkicks Marist

by Thomas McNeran

A corner kick in soccer is awarded when the defensive team deflects the ball behind the back line which runs on either side of the goal. For those who don't realize the importance of the preceding statement let it be added that when a game of indoor soccer ends in a tie the score, the team with the greatest number of goals kicks is declared the winner.

And that's how Marist was eliminated from Sunday's final round of the Germania Indoor Soccer tournament at Dutchess. Germania I, which outnumbered Marist in kicks from the corner 4-0, then went on to lose in sudden death overtime to Germania II 5-2.

The Red Foxes had played the week before and were beaten 10-6 by Germania II and needed a 3-2 win to get into the final round at the Culinary Institute in order to top Germania II. Marist, in turn, had been eliminated from yesterday's sudden death overtime game to Germania II 5-2.

The Red Foxes by playing the week before and were beaten 10-6 by Germania II and needed a 3-2 win to get into the final round at the Culinary Institute in order to top Germania II. Marist, in turn, had been eliminated from yesterday's sudden death overtime game to Germania II 5-2.

Germania won the first minute and were ahead 3-0. Marist corner kicks before the winners were awarded five in a span of two minutes and 8:34 to go. "We made some mistakes on our defensive assignments," said Goldman.

The coach also praised the play of goalie Jay Metzger, who played brilliantly after a poor showing the week before. The only shot that got past his goal was a 3-1 win over Dutchess in a decision by corner kicks over Dutchess 1-0.

Germania I, which won the final three minutes, had 1-0, 2-1, and 3-1 wins in the final three minutes. Germania I reached the finals and was a 3-1 win over Dutchess; a 3-1 win over Dutchess; and a 3-1 win over Dutchess. The Red Foxes had some tough luck, losing in the third overtime.

...Goaas Metzger scored a goal (out of frame) making another great save in Germania I's victory over Dutchess (Chris Ermish)