Remaining ‘triples’ to be eliminated

By Gerry Biehler

Two triple occupancy rooms still exist after school opened seven weeks ago, but college administrators say the “triples” will be eliminated after mid-term recess.

One woman from each of the two triple occupancy rooms, Shesban 317 and Champagne 404, will be moved to a vacant room on the seventh floor of Champagne.

Giedra Gagliardi of Shesban and Kathy McNulty of Champagne will be moved into C704. Gagliardi, a freshman, said she is happy to move but is “totally disillusioned” with the school. “I expected so much and got so little...nobody even feels sorry.”

She says the college administrators “don’t care about you, they just care about the money you pay them.”

According to Gagliardi, her parents have been phoning the school complaining about the situation.

Gagliardi and her roommates said they have complained since September to their residence advisor, Noreen Pennell, Gary Yaquiño, the Shesban residence director; Claire Burke, the housing office, and Fred Lambert, director of housing.

Lambert said he was not aware of the situation until Friday.

Gagliardi and her roommates, unlike other triple occupancy rooms, do not have bunk beds. There are three beds in a room meant to house two students and they say there is not enough space for a desk they had requested.

Yoquito said “I was aware of the situation and had been trying to dig up bunk beds, even from Leo or Champagne, but there were none available.”

Lambert said he was under the assumption the women had received bunk beds earlier.

He also said there was nothing he could do for the women made available and the women will be refunded five dollars for each week they lived in a triple occupancy room.

McNulty and her roommates said the overcrowding is a

Continued on page 2

Crash claims Marist student

Marc Toce, a senior business major at Marist College, was killed early Wednesday morning in an automobile accident on Route 9G in Hyde Park.

Toce was a passenger in a car driven by Ted McSweeney, a non-Marist student, who received minor injuries. McSweeney was charged by Dutchess County Sheriff’s Office with a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Friends may call on Thursday from 7:30 p.m. at LaPorta Funeral Home on Litchfield Street, Torrington, Connecticut, his home town. Funeral services will be on Friday at 11 a.m. at St. Francis Church on Main Street. There will be a service on November 2 in the Marist College Chapel at noon.

Oarsmen visit Ottawa

The Marist crew visited Ottawa, Ontario (Can.) Saturday to row in the Head of the Hindeau Canal Regatta. Elizabeth Hase, 19, Elizabeth Hase, 19, and Elizabeth Hase, 19, won first place medals. The Marist eight at left, came in seventh out of 18 crews. See story page 8. (photo by Joe Gonta)
Waters: “Marist will not fold”

by Alan Jackson

The four that Marist College will not fold if its financial difficulties cause it to close its doors, according to Marist Vice-Presidential Treasurer Edward Waters, director of finance, is "realistic," he said.

Waters, who has been associated with the college for over 10 years, said that he is "optimistic" about the college's ability to survive.

"I would be concerned about the outcome with what we've seen in the past," Waters said.

"I think that we're going to be able to weather this storm," he added.

Waters said that the college has a long history of financial difficulties, and that it has been able to weather them in the past.

"We've been able to make adjustments and cutbacks," he said.

"But we're not going to fold," he said.

Waters said that the college has a strong financial foundation, and that it has the ability to weather the current financial crisis.

"We have the ability to make adjustments," he said.

"We're going to be able to weather this storm," he said.

Pre-schoolers in danger

by Gerry McNally

Three of the four pre-schoolers in danger in the case of a new law that will affect all pre-schoolers in New York State, was interviewed by The Brooklyn Heights Association for Children.

The law, which was passed yesterday, will require all pre-schoolers to be screened for any signs of abuse.

The law, which was passed by the state legislature, will require all pre-schoolers to be screened for any signs of abuse.

"The law is a step in the right direction," said Maryann McVey, executive director of the Brooklyn Heights Association for Children.

"We are pleased to see this law passed, as it will help to protect the children in our community," she said.

MBA program certified

by Kathy Norton

The Marist College Master of Business Administration (MBA) program has received accreditation from the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), the world's premier business school accreditation organization.

The MBA program, which was established in 1985, has been accredited by AACSB since 2005.

"We are thrilled to receive this accreditation," said Dr. John McCarthy, dean of the College of Business and Economics.

"This is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our faculty, staff, and students."}

Waters: “Marist will not fold”

by Alan Jackson

The four that Marist College will not fold if its financial difficulties cause it to close its doors, according to Marist Vice-Presidential Treasurer Edward Waters, director of finance, is "realistic," he said.

Waters, who has been associated with the college for over 10 years, said that he is "optimistic" about the college's ability to survive.

"I would be concerned about the outcome with what we've seen in the past," Waters said.

"I think that we're going to be able to weather this storm," he added.

Waters said that the college has a long history of financial difficulties, and that it has been able to weather them in the past.

"We've been able to make adjustments and cutbacks," he said.

"But we're not going to fold," he said.

Waters said that the college has a strong financial foundation, and that it has the ability to weather the current financial crisis.

"We have the ability to make adjustments," he said.

"We're going to be able to weather this storm," he said.

Pre-schoolers in danger

by Gerry McNally

Three of the four pre-schoolers in danger in the case of a new law that will affect all pre-schoolers in New York State, was interviewed by The Brooklyn Heights Association for Children.

The law, which was passed yesterday, will require all pre-schoolers to be screened for any signs of abuse.

The law, which was passed by the state legislature, will require all pre-schoolers to be screened for any signs of abuse.

"The law is a step in the right direction," said Maryann McVey, executive director of the Brooklyn Heights Association for Children.

"We are pleased to see this law passed, as it will help to protect the children in our community," she said.

MBA program certified

by Kathy Norton

The Marist College Master of Business Administration (MBA) program has received accreditation from the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), the world's premier business school accreditation organization.

The MBA program, which was established in 1985, has been accredited by AACSB since 2005.

"We are thrilled to receive this accreditation," said Dr. John McCarthy, dean of the College of Business and Economics.

"This is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our faculty, staff, and students."
Waters: “Mariist will not fold”

by Alan Jackson

The issue that Mariist College’s 1984-85 student body financial difficulties “is whether the college will be able to raise funds and maintain its educational programs” according to Mariist Vice President Vincent McKeon. “This is not the time for the college to be dealing with an internal financial crisis,” he said.

“Mariist will not fold,” he said. “We have always maintained that Mariist will not close because it is one of the most important institutions in the nation.”

Mariist graduates are a significant source of income for the college and McKeon said that the college’s fiscal problems will not cause a reduction in the number of students enrolled.

Edwards Waters

Those of us who wish to see Mariist continue are in the present generation. The students I see are the best students in the world. They are the ones who will continue the Mariist tradition.

Waters has been with the college for 11 years and has been a member of the Board of Trustees since 1975. He said that Mariist is about five years away from its next major financial crisis.

“Waters will not fold because it is a very healthy institution,” he said. “We have a very strong financial base and we will continue to grow.”

Waters said that the college’s financial crisis is not as severe as some of the other financial difficulties that have been experienced by other colleges.

Pre-schoolers in danger

by Gerry McNally

The board of directors of Pre-schoolers in Danger has decided to close the program next year because of the college’s financial difficulties.

The board plans to announce the decision to the parents of the children enrolled in the pre-school program next week.

The college’s financial difficulties have caused the board to reconsider the program’s operations. The board has decided to discontinue the program and to close the doors at the end of the school year.

Waters said that the college’s financial difficulties have caused the board to reconsider the program’s operations. The board has decided to discontinue the program and to close the doors at the end of the school year.

MLA conference set for November 28-29

by Mike O’Brien

The Modern Language Association (MLA) will host its third annual conference Mariist University on November 28-29. The conference will feature sessions on the latest developments in the field of modern languages.

There will be lectures in English, French, Spanish, French literature, Russian literature, and Italian literature. The conference will feature three panel discussions on the latest developments in the field of modern languages.

No penalty for late tuition payments

by Mike O’Brein

Mariist College has one of the most generous financial aid programs in the country regarding tuition payments. The college offers a wide range of financial aid options to help students meet their financial needs.

The college has a generous financial aid program to help students meet their financial needs. The college offers a wide range of financial aid options to help students meet their financial needs.

Food budget increased

by David Potter

The food budget for the college’s cafeteria service is being increased by 10 percent. The increase is due to the college’s financial difficulties.

The increase will help to cover the college’s financial difficulties. The college has been experiencing financial difficulties and the increase will help to cover the college’s financial difficulties.

The college has been experiencing financial difficulties and the increase will help to cover the college’s financial difficulties.

Food committee members discuss various options

by Regina Carlson

The food committee of the college has met to discuss the college’s financial difficulties. The committee is trying to find solutions to help the college’s financial difficulties.

Food committee members discussed various options to help the college’s financial difficulties. The committee is trying to find solutions to help the college’s financial difficulties.

MBA program certified

by Kathy Norton

The Mariist College MBA program has been certified by the New York State Education Department. The program is now accredited by the New York State Education Department.

The program was previously accredited by the New York State Education Department. The program is now accredited by the New York State Education Department.

JST program developed

by Pat Mearh

The Mariist College JST program has been developed with the help of the New York State Education Department. The program is now accredited by the New York State Education Department.

The program was previously developed with the help of the New York State Education Department. The program is now accredited by the New York State Education Department.

Waters: “Mariist will not fold”

by Alan Jackson

The issue that Mariist College’s 1984-85 student body financial difficulties “is whether the college will be able to raise funds and maintain its educational programs” according to Mariist Vice President Vincent McKeon. “This is not the time for the college to be dealing with an internal financial crisis,” he said.

“Mariist will not fold,” he said. “We have always maintained that Mariist will not close because it is one of the most important institutions in the nation.”

Mariist graduates are a significant source of income for the college and McKeon said that the college’s fiscal problems will not cause a reduction in the number of students enrolled.

Edwards Waters

Those of us who wish to see Mariist continue are in the present generation. The students I see are the best students in the world. They are the ones who will continue the Mariist tradition.

Waters has been with the college for 11 years and has been a member of the Board of Trustees since 1975. He said that Mariist is about five years away from its next major financial crisis.

“Waters will not fold because it is a very healthy institution,” he said. “We have a very strong financial base and we will continue to grow.”

Waters said that the college’s financial crisis is not as severe as some of the other financial difficulties that have been experienced by other colleges.

Pre-schoolers in danger

by Gerry McNally

The board of directors of Pre-schoolers in Danger has decided to close the program next year because of the college’s financial difficulties.

The board plans to announce the decision to the parents of the children enrolled in the pre-school program next week.

The college’s financial difficulties have caused the board to reconsider the program’s operations. The board has decided to discontinue the program and to close the doors at the end of the school year.

MLA conference set for November 28-29

by Mike O’Brien

The Modern Language Association (MLA) will host its third annual conference Mariist University on November 28-29. The conference will feature sessions on the latest developments in the field of modern languages.

There will be lectures in English, French, Spanish, French literature, Russian literature, and Italian literature. The conference will feature three panel discussions on the latest developments in the field of modern languages.

No penalty for late tuition payments

by Mike O’Brein

Mariist College has one of the most generous financial aid programs in the country regarding tuition payments. The college offers a wide range of financial aid options to help students meet their financial needs.

The college has a generous financial aid program to help students meet their financial needs. The college offers a wide range of financial aid options to help students meet their financial needs.

Food budget increased

by David Potter

The food budget for the college’s cafeteria service is being increased by 10 percent. The increase is due to the college’s financial difficulties.

The increase will help to cover the college’s financial difficulties. The college has been experiencing financial difficulties and the increase will help to cover the college’s financial difficulties.

The college has been experiencing financial difficulties and the increase will help to cover the college’s financial difficulties.

Food committee members discuss various options

by Regina Carlson

The food committee of the college has met to discuss the college’s financial difficulties. The committee is trying to find solutions to help the college’s financial difficulties.

Food committee members discussed various options to help the college’s financial difficulties. The committee is trying to find solutions to help the college’s financial difficulties.

MBA program certified

by Kathy Norton

The Mariist College MBA program has been certified by the New York State Education Department. The program is now accredited by the New York State Education Department.

The program was previously accredited by the New York State Education Department. The program is now accredited by the New York State Education Department.

JST program developed

by Pat Mearh

The Mariist College JST program has been developed with the help of the New York State Education Department. The program is now accredited by the New York State Education Department.

The program was previously developed with the help of the New York State Education Department. The program is now accredited by the New York State Education Department.
Letters

Shenan Hill

To the Editor:

Many children have come to our school in the past few weeks, and I have noticed that most of them are from Africa.

I have been told that the school is making plans to help these children.

I hope that the school will be able to provide them with the necessary support.

Sincerely,

Bennett replies

To the Editor:

I agree with the letter by Shaenan Hill, but I would like to add that children from Africa are not the only ones who are in need of help.

There are many children in our community who are also in need of support.

I hope that the school will take this into consideration and provide help to all children who need it.

Sincerely,

Editorsials

A summer forum on the proposed time schedule has been scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 7 p.m. in the Campus Center.

This forum will provide an opportunity for students to discuss the proposed schedule.

Join the forum and share your thoughts on the schedule.

Well run variety show is a hit

By Pat Larkin

Future stars of the entertainment field made their debut last night when they performed their first variety show.

The show was well-received by the audience, and the performers received a standing ovation.

The variety show was a success and will be repeated in the near future.

Sincerely,

Extreme measures

To the Editor:

Are you following the proper channel and procedures for your complaint?

If you are not following the proper channel and procedures, you are putting yourself and others in danger.

It is important to follow the proper procedures to ensure the safety of everyone involved.

Sincerely,

Viewpoint to Teach your children well

Values education has become more and more of a concern in recent years.

The school system has made it a priority to instill values in students from an early age.

This is important because it helps to shape the character and future of our children.

It is important to teach our children the values that will help them succeed in life.

Sincerely,

Announcing...

The Maret College CIRCLE

The Maret College CIRCLE is an educational organization that publishes a weekly newsletter for students.

The newsletter includes articles on a variety of topics, including current events, sports, and culture.

The newsletter is a great resource for students who want to stay informed about what is happening on campus.

Sincerely,

The performances of the Variety Show sing a special thanks to...

Ex-POW says, ‘Good morning America’

By Larry Strope

Every weekday morning before his visas come over the air at 7 a.m., Tim O’Brien opens up WIOX’s broadcast.

Today was a particularly exciting day for the former POW.

When I was captured, my family and friends never stopped thinking about me.

I was held for six months during my Vietnam War.

Today, O’Brien, 58, is the “Voice of WIOX” in Newport, Vermont.

O’Brien was a radio operator for ABC in Vietnam before joining the military.

This morning, he opened up to his listeners about his experiences as a POW.

“I’m forever grateful for the opportunity to talk about my experiences,” O’Brien said.

He expressed his gratitude to everyone who supported him during his time in captivity.

“Every morning, I feel lucky to be able to share my story with others,” O’Brien said.

Sincerely,

Bennett replies

To the Editor:

As a former POW, I can attest to the importance of sharing one’s story.

It is important to remember the sacrifices made by those who served in our country’s armed forces.

I am grateful for the opportunity to share my experiences with others.

Sincerely,

Ex-POW says, ‘Good morning America’

By Larry Strope

Every weekday morning before his visas come over the air at 7 a.m., Tim O’Brien opens up WIOX’s broadcast.

Today was a particularly exciting day for the former POW.

When I was captured, my family and friends never stopped thinking about me.

I was held for six months during my Vietnam War.

Today, O’Brien, 58, is the “Voice of WIOX” in Newport, Vermont.

O’Brien was a radio operator for ABC in Vietnam before joining the military.

This morning, he opened up to his listeners about his experiences as a POW.

“I’m forever grateful for the opportunity to talk about my experiences,” O’Brien said.

He expressed his gratitude to everyone who supported him during his time in captivity.

“Every morning, I feel lucky to be able to share my story with others,” O’Brien said.

Sincerely,

Bennett replies

To the Editor:

As a former POW, I can attest to the importance of sharing one’s story.

It is important to remember the sacrifices made by those who served in our country’s armed forces.

I am grateful for the opportunity to share my experiences with others.

Sincerely,

The performances of the Variety Show sing a special thanks to...

Ex-POW says, ‘Good morning America’

By Larry Strope

Every weekday morning before his visas come over the air at 7 a.m., Tim O’Brien opens up WIOX’s broadcast.

Today was a particularly exciting day for the former POW.

When I was captured, my family and friends never stopped thinking about me.

I was held for six months during my Vietnam War.

Today, O’Brien, 58, is the “Voice of WIOX” in Newport, Vermont.

O’Brien was a radio operator for ABC in Vietnam before joining the military.

This morning, he opened up to his listeners about his experiences as a POW.

“I’m forever grateful for the opportunity to talk about my experiences,” O’Brien said.

He expressed his gratitude to everyone who supported him during his time in captivity.

“Every morning, I feel lucky to be able to share my story with others,” O’Brien said.

Sincerely,

Bennett replies

To the Editor:

As a former POW, I can attest to the importance of sharing one’s story.

It is important to remember the sacrifices made by those who served in our country’s armed forces.

I am grateful for the opportunity to share my experiences with others.

Sincerely,

The performances of the Variety Show sing a special thanks to...

Ex-POW says, ‘Good morning America’

By Larry Strope

Every weekday morning before his visas come over the air at 7 a.m., Tim O’Brien opens up WIOX’s broadcast.

Today was a particularly exciting day for the former POW.

When I was captured, my family and friends never stopped thinking about me.

I was held for six months during my Vietnam War.

Today, O’Brien, 58, is the “Voice of WIOX” in Newport, Vermont.

O’Brien was a radio operator for ABC in Vietnam before joining the military.

This morning, he opened up to his listeners about his experiences as a POW.

“I’m forever grateful for the opportunity to talk about my experiences,” O’Brien said.

He expressed his gratitude to everyone who supported him during his time in captivity.

“Every morning, I feel lucky to be able to share my story with others,” O’Brien said.

Sincerely,

Bennett replies

To the Editor:

As a former POW, I can attest to the importance of sharing one’s story.

It is important to remember the sacrifices made by those who served in our country’s armed forces.

I am grateful for the opportunity to share my experiences with others.

Sincerely,
Input needed for forum

A campus forum on the proposed new schedule has been scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 7 p.m., in the Campus Center. We want you to talk to everybody in the college community the importance of attending our forum. The forum would change the schedule from two days a week to three days for some courses and five days for others. We believe that the schedule change should be made now because of the current financial situation and the increasing costs of education. Although some departments may be willing to make some changes, others may not be able to do so. We believe that the forum would be an important step in making sure that the schedule change is fair and reasonable for all students.

If you have questions about the forum, please contact the forum organizers. We look forward to seeing you there.

Well run specialty show is a hit

By Pat Larkin

Future stars of the entertainment industry made their mark in the “Well Run Specialty Show,” performed before approximately 400 members of the audience in the Snowy Owl presented by the BC & BC and BC & BC. The event featured a mix of music, dance, and comedy that kept the audience on the edge of their seats.

Four Weekend students, David Young, Mary Fisher, Chris Pavone, and Frank Horner performed in front of a live audience. They were especially pleased with the crowd's response and felt that their performance was a success.

The show was a hit with the audience, and many of them praised the performers for their hard work and dedication. Overall, it was a great success and a perfect way to start off the new academic year.
Winter vacation courses scheduled

By Heidi Cunningham

Sixteen three-credit-hour courses are being offered for January 17 to 27 as part of the Marist Winter Intensive. Many classes are for students who wish to advance in their studies. Classes will not be held on January 20. Registration for this session begins January 3. For information, call 1-877-4MARIST or visit www.marist.edu/winter.

Fund raising party set for Marist

By Deb Solow

Campus Ministry is presenting its first Marist Gala of the Century to be held at 6:30 p.m. February 7 in the Galleria of the campus center. It will be open to the students and the public for $100 per person and $50 for students.

The proceeds will go towards financial aid for students in need. The event is open to all students and will be held in the Galleria of the campus center. For more information, contact Debbie Solow at 1-877-4MARIST or email dsolow@marist.edu.

Bruce-VT pact may be renewed

By Mary Yudovich

The contract between the Vermont House of Representatives and the Marist College Senate is currently under review by the new administration. The contract, which was signed in 2001, allows Vermont to use Marist's facilities and resources for educational purposes.

Vineyard Caspia, field B-2 or C-4, is first time for Marist to win

By Deb Solow

The Marist women's tennis team won its first home match of the season against St. Francis Xavier University on October 25. The victory was a much-needed win for the team after a tough start to the season.

Voluntary, interested people welcome for Bruce-VT strategic thinking sessions

By Mary Yudovich

Volunteers are needed to help plan and execute the Bruce-VT strategic thinking sessions. The sessions will be held on February 8 and March 15 at Marist College.

Red roses from... for 25 more

By Deb Solow

The Marist Women's Tennis team is hosting their annual Red Rose fundraiser. The event is open to all students and will be held on February 25 at Marist College.

Heffernan fills gothic vacancy

By Ralph Capone

The Marist Fromage House, located on the campus of Marist College, recently appointed a new president of the college. The new president, Jim Heffernan, brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to the college.

THE CIRCLE

October 20, 1977

Long field goal helps Iona dump Vamps, 12-9

By John Meyer

Economy was the key ingredient as Iona College's football team won a 12-9 decision over the Vamps yesterday. The game was played at 1:00 p.m. at the Crotondale Athletic Association field.

Women netten conclude season

By Michael O'Sullivan

The Marist College women's tennis team ended its fall season in a strong performance, finishing with a record of 14-1. The team's success can be attributed to hard work and dedication.

Heffernan takes over

By Ralph Capone

The Marist College community welcomes Jim Heffernan, the college's new president. Heffernan comes to the college with a wealth of experience and knowledge, and is looking forward to leading the college into a new era.

HYDE PARK TRADING CO.

Rt. 9 Adjacent to Barkers Shoprite Plaza

Special gifts

unique people

Viking Mike Laffin runs for his benefit during long jump. (Photo by Gerry McNally)

Viking Mike Laffin runs for his benefit during long jump. (Photo by Gerry McNally)

Heffernan will be the face of Marist, and he will do well

By Ralph Capone

Heffernan is a great choice for the college, and his experience and knowledge will be an asset to the college.

Bootheer boots...

By Michael O'Sullivan

Bootheer's boots are available at a discounted price for the students of the college. The boots are made of high-quality materials and are designed to last for many years.

Two shrimp

By Michael O'Sullivan

The college is offering two shrimp for a discounted price. The shrimp are fresh and delicious, and are a great addition to any meal.

HYDE PARK TRADING CO.

Rt. 9 Adjacent to Barkers Shoprite Plaza

Special gifts

unique people

Viking Mike Laffin runs for his benefit during long jump. (Photo by Gerry McNally)

Heffernan will be the face of Marist, and he will do well

By Ralph Capone

Heffernan is a great choice for the college, and his experience and knowledge will be an asset to the college.

Bootheer boots...

By Michael O'Sullivan

Bootheer's boots are available at a discounted price for the students of the college. The boots are made of high-quality materials and are designed to last for many years.

Two shrimp

By Michael O'Sullivan

The college is offering two shrimp for a discounted price. The shrimp are fresh and delicious, and are a great addition to any meal.
Winter vacation courses scheduled

By Sheila Cunningham

Sixteen three-credit courses are being offered for a Hubbard Jan. 27 as part of the Marist winter vacation program. Classes will not be held on Jan.

Campus Ministry is accepting a fund raising party set to raise a group of students to whose work in the volunteer work at the center of St. Mary's during the semester. The students have volunteered to prepare and cook for the various events at the center.

The party is for "Dinner and Dance" and will be held in the center at 8 p.m. on the second Saturday of December. Tickets are $10 per couple and will be available at the center. The proceeds will be used to support the center's programs.

Funding party set

By John Meyer

Marist junior varsity coach Cornelia Venable announced Monday morning that the Marist varsity tennis team had won the state championship. The team was undefeated in its three matches, winning the first two matches and losing the third.

"I am so proud of our team," Venable said. "They worked hard all season and it paid off. We had a great season and I couldn't be happier with the results."

The team will be honored at a special banquet next week.

Women netters conclude season

By Ralph Capone

The shot hit in the net. A ball hit the Marist tennis player and she was out of the court. The team was left with only one player and they had to surrender.

"I am so angry," the coach said. "That was a terrible mistake and I can't believe it happened."

The team was left without a chance to win and had to accept the loss.

Heffernan fills goalie vacancy

By Matthew Lender

Marist goalie Ben Heffernan was named the new varsity goalie last week. He takes over for the position after the graduation of the previous goalie.

"I am excited to have Ben on our team," coach Venable said. "He has been with our team for two years and I have confidence in his abilities."

The team is looking forward to a successful season with Heffernan in goal.

Bootheers lose...

By Matthew Lender

If it is all of the first half a punt on a drop kick, and the path of the ball is to go out of bounds, then the game is over. If it is all of the third quarter of the game, and the ball is kicked out of bounds, then the game is over.

However, if the last punt is on a drop kick, and the path of the ball is to go out of bounds, then the game is over. If it is all of the first half of the game, and the ball is kicked out of bounds, then the game is over.

In the third quarter of the game, the ball is kicked out of bounds, and the game is over.
Booters drop heartbreaker to Quinnipiac

By Ralph Capone

The Red Foxes winning streak came to an abrupt end at four following a heartbreaking 1-0 defeat at the hands of Quinnipiac at LeRoi Field Saturday afternoon.

The win was Quinnipiac's first of the season after seven losses and the loss at home for Marist was their first in a month.

In the game, however, the Red Foxes did just about everything except put the ball in the net.

"We weren't hitting the ball with the usual touch," Doc Goldman said, referring to the numerous opportunities his squad had during the game.

Marist outshot the visitors 38-12, with the Red Foxes coming up with two minutes remaining in the contest.

Red Foxes finish second again

By John Mayer

Second place team finishes consistent to maintain the Marist Cross Country team in its regular season form.

Last weekend it was at their own meet, the fifth annual Marist Invitational, held Saturday afternoon.

The Red Foxes dominated the competition of Massachusetts, ranked fifteenth in the nation, and the Northeast by forcing the Red Foxes to settle for second in both the boys varsity and three team junior varsity races.

The top four finishers for Marist, in addition to the Wolverines' five mile - long, billy, and middle course were 49 minutes and 20 seconds. This was just 19 seconds behind that of the winning team from Massachusetts. UMass had led his team to a 24-47 margin over Marist.

Paul Welsh was the next Marist harbinger across the line finishing eighth, next came Mike Deiss, fourth; Dennis Gill, 12th; and Ron Wadsworth, 15th. Welsh completed the scoring by placing 14th.

The other two Marist runners were 32nd and 58th. Dan Kelly, 35th in a field of 46 runners. Ron Wadsworth, although he was among the runners sick, but they still gave 100 percent. I think if we were healthy we could have given them (UMass) a good race," said Marist head coach Rich Stevens.

Marist's Most Valuable and Top Runner Awards for the meet went to sophomore Jerry Scholzer, while the Most Improved Award went to Paul Welsh, a freshman.

The junior varsity race as a whole was very competitive. The Marist team showed great spirit and potential for the future.

In the second half, that saw Marist take 17 shots, Quinnipiac almost gave the Red Foxes the opportunity to gain a fullback pass back to the goal and Arnoldsen went astray and rolled just wide of the goal's left corner.

"We didn't quite work hard enough," Goldman said after the game. "We were the better club, except we didn't prove it by winning. Sometimes, either you prove you don't have it, or you don't, and we didn't do it," said Goldman.

Four days earlier the profit of the team's work was seen when the Red Foxes' winning streak, dating back to the end of the 1976 season, ended at four.

The Red Foxes scored all three goals in a 3-4 victory over Ramapo Community College September 12.

According to Goldman, the game was "physically tough," as both sides committed a total of 57 fouls.

Zenoa's first score came at

Continued on page 7

Marist 7th in Canada regatta

Marist rowed to seventh place Saturday at the Head of the Rideau Canal Unified Way Regatta in Ottawa, Ontario.

The affair was attended by Queen Elizabeth II of England as part of the 25th anniversary of her coronation.

The Syracuse University won the three and a half mile race with a time of 11 minutes, seven and seven seconds. Gaels College of Canada gained second and was followed by three other Canadian schools before Thaca College finished sixth.

The Marist boat (19-51) was manned by stroke Tim Clifford, bow Mason, Frank Hinkleder, Jim Palazzuoli, Anthony Lynch, Joe Ford, Butch Joseph, and bowman Bob Misner with con Mike Davis.

Head coach Gary Caldwell was optimistic about their showings in competition to.thaca. He said. Marist was beset by the western N.Y. college by 10 seconds over a two mile course at last year's regatta and 100 yards over its opponents in the 5K race.

The Ithaca crew was nearly the same which captured third place at the Dad Vail Regatta last spring, he said.

Another Marist eight finished 14th (22:53) at the Rideau. The crew included Mike Hall at stroke, Rich Neal, alumni Andy Drood and Tom McOwen, with Vicke Schmidt, Dave Fein and con-swan Sue Daibotwka.

The team will enter two varsity eights, a women's pair, two frosh eights, and a varsity four at the Thomas Eakins Head Regatta at the Schuykill River Regatta in Philadelphia on Saturday, October 22.

The team has been using the facilities at the National Rowing Center for the first time and Caldwell said they have been instrumental in teaching basics to freshmen and helping up-perclassmen improve.

He pointed specifically to Frank Hinkleder, who won the Ford and Anthony Lynch. The Ford crew won the junior varsity boat last week but have moved up to the varsity eight since.

The 1977-78 Marist women's basketball team has been chosen by head coach Ed Wilson following tryouts on October 12, 13 and 14.

The team is dominated by freshmen including five on full scholarships. Those who make the squad are Rhonda Chadwick, Woods Gail, Ann Marano, Christy Green, Maureen Jennings, Anita Marano, Christine Smith, Maria Seufert, Alisa Patty Powers, Gloria Peck, Regina Williams, Helen Yanish, and Carol Zeleni.

They are scheduled to play 19 games this year in an attempt to improve on their 6-11 showing of last year.

Men's Team Out

The men's basketball team began practices Saturday with double sessions of two and a half hours each. Twenty-eight men were invited to the workouts. Coach Ron Petro, beginning his 12th season as the team's director, had the squad running to get in shape. And when they were done, according to Petro, they ran some more.

Petro had the group down to 19 by Monday and said he'll make final cuts to 15 probably on Friday. He said he was encouraging the two transfers which include three freshmen who are the first in the college's history to get full scholarships.

Two other freshmen are getting partial aid for their services.

Zenoa Naitza Named Athlete of the Week

Zenoa Naitza, a junior from the Bronx, has been named the Marist College Athlete of the Week for the week ending Oct. 17.

During the soccer team's October 12 3-1 win over Ramapo Community College, Naitza, named All-State last year, scored all three goals for the Red Foxes. It was the second time this season he has completed the hat trick and he leads the team with 11 goals.

Intramural Roundup

The intramural soccer season ends today and the championship will be played next Thursday. As of Monday, the No. 1 Heads were looking tough with a 3-0 record while the Sweet Headers were 2-4. In Memory of Goofy's Tool and the Soccer Heads were tied for third with 2-1, states, while the Boarded Clans were in last with an 0-4 record.

The intramural 3-man basketball schedule also concludes today and playoffs will commence next Thursday.

As of Monday, the toughest race was in the West Division where Tri-State and the Leaping Galabros are 2-0 in 5-4 records. The Red Boys were in third at 3-4, the Black Down held fourth place with a 2-5 showing, and the Trojans were down and out with a 0-6 record.

In the East it was the Racoon Cacicus in first at 1-1, Benzingers in second with a 2-3 slate, the Ace Heads were even at 3-3, YoHo's Yowess were in fourth at 2-4 and the 3rd Floor Boys were in the cellar at 1-6.

NOTE - Bowlers for Mixed 3-2 are due Friday in the athletic department office in the McKeen Center. People interested in joining in the April is to be run by single innings, must sign up in McKeen by Oct. 28.

This and Next week in Marist Sports...

Saturday, October 22 - Cross Country,
Marist varsity versus Fordham, C.W. Post and Stefy Brook. Junior varsity versus Manhattan. Both at Van Cortlandt Park at 11 a.m.

- Football - Marist versus St. John's away at 1 p.m.

- Soccer - Marist versus N.Y.Tech home at 2 p.m.

Wednesday, October 26 - Soccer, Marist versus W. Conn. away at 3 p.m.

Friday, October 28 - Football, Marist away at 8 p.m.

Saturday, October 30 - Crew, Marist at the Head of the Housatonic Regatta at 12:30.

- Cross country, Marist at Albany State Invitational at noon.

Soccer Marist vs. Saint Rose at 2:30 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 2 - Soccer, Marist vs. Moravian home at 3 p.m.