Author to address college

by STACEY MCDONNELL
Managing Editor

Alex Haley, Pulitzer Prize-winning author of "Roots," will visit the college Tues., April 2 and give the Industry Speech in the Campus Center Theater at 7 p.m.

A reception and question period will follow the speech in the Campus Center Lounge immediately after the lecture titled, "Find the Good and Praise It."

Haley will be speaking as a representative of the Cunnen-Hackett Lecture Series. Peter C. Hanley, a Marist trustee and acquaintance of Haley, arranged the appearance.

The report states that Haley "has really established the black heritage in America," said Hanley. "Alex has given them a sense of pride."

"Roots," his second book, became the biggest best-seller in U.S. publishing history, selling almost 10 million copies in its new publication in about 30 different languages.

The novel was written after researching his maternal ancestors for 12 years. Haley was able to trace back about 200 years and six generations to Kunta Kinte, who was kidnapped in 1767 and brought to the United States as a slave.

In 1977, the novel was filmed into a 12-hour television mini-series, which, in its seven-night run drew about 130 million viewers.

Read all about it: Faculty and administration discuss library

by CHRIS SHEA
Editorial Page Editor

Faculty and administration met last Friday to discuss what they say has become one of the most important issues concerning the college — the state of the library.

The committee of the Library Development Committee, some pressing needs to upgrade the library include more study space for students and an orientation program for new students.

The most essential need, the committee said, is a new library to house a larger, more modernized facility.

The LDC comprises appointed faculty members, student representatives and Library Director John McGlinchey.

A report on the current status of the library, "The State of the Library," was presented by the LDC at the meeting, and faculty were encouraged to voice what they think should be done to improve the library.

The report characterized the library as "alarmingly deficient in traditional formats," such as books, reference indexes and periodicals. Marist is, however, strong in non-traditional formats such as the audio-visual collection and ProQuest — a computerized periodical database. It is only one of two systems installed in any New York State college, according to the report.

Also, the report criticized the administration for not spending a greater percentage of the college's budget on the library.

Nationalally, the average college devotes 3.8 percent of its budget to the library, the report said. Marist, however, devoted only 2.74 percent of the overall budget to the library.

During the 1990-91 academic year, Marist spent $940,794 on the library. This figure was up from $34,974 spent in 1989-90.

At the meeting, Academic Vice President Marc vanderHeyden said the college had other needs such as leaving Martin East, building the Dyson Center and renovating Donnelly Hall to address before dealing with the library.

But now, upgrading the library is at the top of the list, said faculty and administrators.

President Dennis J. Lennon stated that sentiment at the meeting by saying the library is now Marist's "highest academic priority."

Faculty input on the library will be formulated along with "The State of the Library" report into a new proposal by the Academic Affairs Committee (AAC).

This new proposal will be sent to the Faculty Executive Committee, President Lennon, the Office of the Academic Vice President and the Board of Trustees.

Ideally, a new facility for housing the library is needed, but it will be difficult to accomplish on the practical level because of money problems.

The cost of a new library building has been estimated at $8 million of which about 50-60 percent must come from private donations.

Vernon Verte, assistant professor of political science and chairman of the LDC, said expecting a new library to be built tomorrow is not realistic, especially with the current economic climate.

Marist - Vassar teacher program phasing out

by KAREN CICERO
Senior Editor

Marist and Vassar College administration announced the cooperative teacher education program, prompting Marist — with an enrollment of 6,800 and Vassar's 2,600 students — to expand the teaching curriculum on-campus, said Marc vanderHeyden, vice president for academic affairs.

About 23 juniors, already taking Vassar courses, will complete the program with the following: the more than 100 freshmen and sophomores in the program will have all the education classes at Marist.

The program "results from Vassar's demands that Marist limit the number of its students in the program and pay a substantial amount of money for them to take classes Vassar classes, according to Marc vanderHeyden." 20th Century Book Award.

This academic year, Marist paid Vassar an undisclosed sum toward the salary of a new professor to accommodate the growing number of students in the program, said Marc vanderHeyden. In the program's six-year history, no other money was exchanged for the Marist workers.

"We are trying to do our best to explore with the dean (of Vassar) other ways to continue this arrangement," Marc vanderHeyden said.

"But right now, it is correct to say we are phasing-out the program." 20th Century Book Award.

Two students angry over Spring Break smoke out

by DAN HULL
News Editor

Two sophomores are seeking compensation for damage to their personal belongings caused by a smoke machine, which was used without their knowledge during a training drill over Spring Break.

Sophomores Anthony Waller and Jenna Frimond refused the college's offer of $50 each for cleaning high number of students violated in wiped off their possessions, after the machine left a greasy residue throughout their sixth-floor Champion Hall room.

First we were shocked that everything was gone, but then when we found out about the smoke machine we were extremely pissed off," said Stepnowski, a communication major from East Meadow, N.Y.

The smoke machine, which the Fairview Fire Department used for the first time at the college, was intended to add realism to the March 14 drill and had never before left any residue, according to Fairview Deputy Chief Richard Dormeyer.

Dormeyer said although all flat surfaces in the room were covered, the smoke built up and managed to creep under the coverings.

The room, which was the Marist room was too small for the volume of smoke," Dormeyer said. "It does have any smoke. It built up and seeped into the closets and up the windows. The windows were open and the door was closed.

In addition, the window screen of Room 606 was broken during the drill and rusty water leaked into the room and left a stain on the ceiling. Stepnowski said a close-up painting over the stain.

Dormeyer said several drills would be held in empty rooms and would not include the smoke machine.

The students have contacted Gerard Cox, dean of student affairs, asking for $150 to $200 to cover the cost of dry-cleaning their clothes, potential repairs to a typewriter and cleaning supplies. They also complained that students should be notified about the drills.
Second ‘Turtles’ film is oozing with problems

By BRIAN MCHESLY

This movie is the sequel to the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles 1990 film, and promises to bring the same fun and humor to the big screen. This is the first sequel to be followed by a third movie in the same series, which is currently in production. The sequel is set to hit theaters in Spring 2023.

The original Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles movie was released in 1990 and became a cult classic, quickly gaining a large following and becoming a staple of 90s childhoods. Since then, the franchise has grown immensely, with numerous sequels, spin-offs, and other media adaptations being released. The success of the first sequel has set high expectations for the upcoming third movie, which is set to explore new adventures and challenges for the iconic ninja turtles.

I think that the first sequel has a lot of potential. The cast is talented, the story is engaging, and the production values are high. With proper direction and editing, I believe that the third movie could be even better than the first two. Overall, I'm excited to see what the future holds for the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles franchise, and I'm looking forward to seeing the third movie in theaters soon.

---

Up to Date

Odd's & Ends

By BARBARA JOYCE

In a world where technology is constantly evolving, it's important to stay up-to-date on the latest trends and developments. This includes everything from the latest gadgets and apps to scientific breakthroughs and cultural shifts. By keeping myself informed, I can make more informed decisions and stay relevant in today's fast-paced world.

---

Riff Raff wins battle of the bands

By MICHAELE DINO

There was a break in the action when the last band was playing, as the audience took a breather before the final act. The audience was packed to capacity, and the atmosphere was electric. The venue was a perfect fit for the event, with its high ceilings and spacious layout.

---

Social work program growing in size, spirit

By AMY ANSON Staff Writer

There has been an increase in the number of students interested in becoming social workers, which is reflected in the growth of the social work program. The program is expanding, with more classes and opportunities for students to engage in hands-on learning experiences. The program is attracting students from a wide range of backgrounds, and there is a strong sense of community within the program.

---

Student guiad pigs get answering service

By ERIC FROST Staff Writer

The piggy financial answering service is proving to be a valuable resource for students. The service provides financial assistance to students who may be struggling with their finances, and it helps them to stay on track and avoid setbacks.

---

Student guiad pigs get answering service

By TRICIA RIZZUTO Staff Writer

The piggy financial answering service is proving to be a valuable resource for students. The service provides financial assistance to students who may be struggling with their finances, and it helps them to stay on track and avoid setbacks.
Odds & Ends

Up to Date

- Coming events
  - Sigma Phi Epsilon presents "Double Down," Thursday, April 21, at 10:30 p.m. at the Center for the Arts. Snack bar and cash bar will be available.
  - "The Great Gatsby" opens on Friday night, April 22, at 8 p.m. in the Center for the Arts. Tickets are $8. For more information, call 473-1277.

- Sigma Phi Epsilon sponsors its 5th Annual Blood Drive
  - Saturday, April 3, from noon to 6 p.m. at the Student Center. The group is hoping to draw about 400 people. Food will be provided. Details about the event can be found on their website.

- Coming soon is a hilarious musical comedy, "The Producers," with performances scheduled for Thursday, April 21, and Sunday, April 24. The show is a parody of the classic 1967 film. Tickets are $10 at the door. For more information, visit their website.

- Arts and entertainment
  - "The Musical at UConn" is a series of musicals presented by the UConn Musical Theatre. Performances are at 8 p.m. on Wednesdays and Saturdays and at 7 p.m. on Thursdays. For more information, visit their website.

Second 'Turtles' film is oozing with problems

By Brian McNelis

Director of "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles: The Next Mutant" is joining the "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles" world again. The film marks the return of the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, who are the best of friends and the worst of enemies. The story follows the adventures of the four Sewer-dwelling reptiles as they face new challenges and obstacles. The film is set to be released later this year and is already generating excitement among fans of the iconic franchise.

Environment studies chief Hill to leave

By Barbara Joyce

Director of Environment Studies, Dr. Mark Hill, is set to leave UConn at the end of this academic year. Hill joined the UConn faculty in 1992 and has served as the director of the Environment Studies Program since 1993. During his tenure, he has led the program through significant growth and expansion, making it one of the most respected programs in the country.

During his time at UConn, Hill has been a leading voice in the environmental movement, advocating for policies and initiatives that promote sustainability and reduce our impact on the planet. He has also been a vocal critic of policies that he believes are harmful to the environment, and has been a strong advocate for the need for action on climate change.

Hill's contributions to the field have been recognized with numerous awards and honors, including the 2011 Environmental Award from the National Resources Defense Council. He has also been a frequent speaker at conferences and events, sharing his insights and expertise on the latest developments in the field.

Social work program growing in size, spirit

By Maria Penrose

Every Monday and Wednesday, at 4 p.m., UConn's Social Work Program holds meetings in the Center for the Arts. The meetings are open to all students, faculty, and staff interested in the field of social work. The program is housed in the School of Social Work and offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in social work.

Student guided pigs get answering service

By Amy Anson

When you feel like you're in a rut, there's a way to get out of it: a group of happy pigs. These animals have a knack for understanding human emotions and can provide comfort and companionship. They have even been known to help with anxiety and depression.

In a recent study, published in the journal Animal Behavior, researchers found that pigs can understand and respond to human emotions. The study involved a group of pigs that were repeatedly exposed to different emotions, such as happiness, sadness, and fear. The pigs were then able to accurately identify the emotions of the people who were expressing them.

The researchers believe that these animals can help to improve the mental health of people who are struggling with anxiety and depression. They have even been used in therapy sessions with people who are suffering from these conditions.

Smoke

Continued from page 1

Cigarette ashes by the poolside may be the only aspect of beach life that didn’t catch on in the 1920s. As a youth, Russ argued, "I don’t think anyone ever thought of smoking."

"Smoke"

Continued from page 1

Despite overwhelming opposition from the state's health director, the "proposed smoking regulation" for the beach went into effect yesterday at 3 p.m. in the beach. The regulation is designed to protect beachgoers from the harmful effects of secondhand smoke.

"The purpose of the grill was to help people grill on the beach, with a view towards the building, where there are more smokers," he said. "But I think this is a step in the right direction." The city is also considering the possibility of adding more grills to the beach to accommodate the needs of smokers.

The city’s Director of Public Safety, Sandy Margolick, was also concerned about the new grill. He said, "I don’t know what to make of it. I think I need to see it in action before I can make a decision."
ATTENTION ALL RESIDENT STUDENTS!
YOUR $75 ROOM DEPOSIT AND RELOCATION FORM CONFIRMATION ARE DUE NO LATER THAN APRIL 1, 1991
TO THE STUDENT ACCOUNTS OFFICE IN DONELLY HALL, ROOM 208

DON’T FORGET!!!

For information on test dates, class schedules, and free seminars, call 914-948-7803

220 E. Post Rd.
White Plains, NY 10601

审批过程延误

by HELEN ARROYO
Staff Writer

该大学目前有三个研究生学院项目，每个项目都有录取需求。要被接受为研究生，学生必须参加一系列考试，并达到一定成绩。

詹金斯表示，研究生项目是一个复杂的过程，需要考虑许多因素。他建议学生提前准备，以确保有足够的时间来完成申请。

该大学的研究生项目包括商科、工程和医学。商科项目对有商业背景的学生特别有吸引力。工程和医学项目则吸引了许多有相关专业知识的学生。

詹金斯还表示，研究生项目的研究方向和目标是多元化和包容性的。该大学希望接纳来自不同的文化背景和学术背景的学生。

该大学还提供多种资助机会，包括奖学金、助学金和工作机会。学生可以通过参加这些机会来减轻他们的经济负担。

詹金斯建议有兴趣申请研究生项目的学

Something for those of you who aren’t taking Kaplan Prep!

We’ve produced every top-wins in the world’s most popular test prep

DURING APRIL 1ST, 1991
You will lose the loss of one point prior to

If you have any questions, please contact
THE OFFICE OF HOUSING AND RESIDENTIAL LIFE in the Campus Center, room 270

DON’T FORGET!!!

For information on test dates, class schedules, and free seminars, call 914-948-7803

220 E. Post Rd.
White Plains, NY 10601

Approval process delays minor

Fraternity members lend a hand building houses on Saturdays

by ROBERT BLODEN
and DANNY HALL

On Saturday, every Monticello college student donned a white hat and apron and took part in the annual Habitat for Humanity event. The Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit, national organization that builds homes for low-income families.

In the process, an ironic twist happened: the students built houses for families who were previously not in the building process. According to the Habitat for Humanity, the students were able to help those families who previously were not eligible to build.

One of the most significant accomplishments of the day was the construction of a three-story house.

The students worked together, using the skills they learned in their engineering classes.

The Habitat for Humanity appreciates the help of the students and the college community.

On the air

by SHEILA McCOUGHLIN
Senior Writer

Although the rules of advertising have changed greatly in the last 30 years, the changes have not yet been fully addressed in advertising, according to Ina Kellner in "Silk Killling Us Softly," a film produced by the University of Arizona.

A group of students and faculty learned about the danger of this type of advertising at the Women’s Film Festival this fall. A panel of women’s studies professors discussed the advertising community’s marketing of the mass media to women.

Kellner, who has a degree in marketing, said that every deal in advertising is made because the message is clear. She said that the target audience is always women.

Kellner and the panelists discussed the film industry’s marketing strategies and the dangers of advertising aimed at women.

The film presented a set of women who were portrayed as the same woman. The film showed the dangers of this type of advertising.

In the film, Kellner said that the ideal woman is portrayed in such a way that makes people think of the media and women.

Today, Kellner said that the idea of a woman being a profession is not the same as the idea of a woman being a professional caregiver.

The film presents a picture of women as the same woman. The film shows the dangers of this type of advertising.

Kellner said that the message of the film is to show that products on the market are not products for women, but products for men.

The film presents a picture of women as the same woman. The film shows the dangers of this type of advertising.

Kellner and the panelists discussed the film industry’s marketing strategies and the dangers of advertising aimed at women.

The film presented a set of women who were portrayed as the same woman. The film showed the dangers of this type of advertising.

In the film, Kellner said that the ideal woman is portrayed in such a way that makes people think of the media and women.

Today, Kellner said that the idea of a woman being a profession is not the same as the idea of a woman being a professional caregiver.

The film presents a picture of women as the same woman. The film shows the dangers of this type of advertising.
ATTENTION ALL RESIDENT STUDENTS!
YOUR $75 ROOM DEPOSIT AND ROOM RECONFIRMATION FORM ARE DUE NO LATER THAN APRIL 1, 1991
TO THE STUDENT ACCOUNTS OFFICE IN DONELLY HALL, ROOM 208

DON'T FORGET!!!

On the air

Sophomore Michelle Lutes on the air at WMCR this week. The station has been broadcasting on 88.1 since March 18.

Approval process delays minor

by HELEN ARROYO

Although the college has begun registering its freshmen students minor program, students may not actually be able to register for the fall semester until after the fall semester begins, according to Linda Conlin, registrar's office assistant.

"It is also the process involved in receiving committee meetings and discussion of their actions, the registration." said Linda Conlin, registrar's office assistant.

Linda Conlin, associate professor of administration and the program's promoter, said even if the program is approved, it would not be implemented until after the fall 1990 semester begins.

The full fall 1990 semester would not begin until after the fall semester.

The approval process is intended to provide for a timely manner for the students to be included in the program.

The proposal for an African studies minor was introduced in fall by several interest groups, proposed by Kirkland.

Kirkland, a student in the science department, said the program would build on the department's existing African studies program.

"It is also the process involved in receiving committee meetings and discussion of their actions, the registration." said Linda Conlin, registrar's office assistant.

Klinak said he is drafting letters to faculty members who have courses he is interested in taking to discuss the proposed courses.

Once the proposal is complete, it must be approved by the college's faculty before it can be implemented.

Klinak said he will have a letter written to students and faculty to discuss the proposed courses.

Delays in the approval process will be minimal, Klinak said, because he has received helpful feedback from students and faculty.

Fraternity members lend a hand

by KATHY NEJONK and DANN HALL

On Saturday, November College students donate their time to the Habitat for Humanity.

However, some members of the Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity volunteered to help.

Kirkland and his two members raised a brand new house in the Kokomo area.

Three hours after Kirkland's departure, the house was raised.

Members of TEA are volunteering their service to the national Habitat for Humanity, a non-profit, non-sectarian organization.

The Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization.

Alcoa construction crews, including members of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority, were involved.

Kirkland and his two members raised a brand new house in the Kokomo area.

The Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization.

The Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization.

Kirkland and his two members raised a brand new house in the Kokomo area.

The Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization.

Kirkland and his two members raised a brand new house in the Kokomo area.

The Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization.

The Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization.
THE CIRCLE
March 28, 1991

Letters to the Editor

No to condoms

The annual search for the students interested in the American Co-op is now again underway. Theสวย are for the Fall 1991 semester. Please see the Co-op office soon and sign up for the Fall semester.

Candidates need to submit resume, name and contact information to Carol Melkus in the Career Center at 12000 N. 15th St. Each annual American Co-op sponsored abroad during the Spring 1991 semester. All interested students are encouraged to contact the Career Center for more information. The deadline for applications is April 11, 1991.

Interns wanted

I am writing this letter to announce that I am planning to attend the American Co-op for the Fall 1991 semester. I have decided to do so because it will give me a chance to travel abroad and experience a new culture. I am very excited about this opportunity and I am looking forward to learning more about the American Co-op.

Sally

Life in the City of Angels: If the smog doesn’t kill you, maybe the cops will.

By now, nearly everyone is tired of the debates about crime and the over-burdened police force. It has become a perpetual discussion topic among residents of Los Angeles. Many people believe that the city is not safe and that the police are not doing enough to keep the peace.

The police force has been under tremendous pressure to reduce crime rates. They have been working tirelessly to improve their response times and increase their visibility throughout the city. However, some residents feel that these efforts are not enough.

The police are doing their best, but they need our support. We should be patient and give them the resources they need to do their job.

Sergeant John Smith

Editor

The Circle welcomes all letters to the editors. Letters must be typed and include the author’s name, address and phone number. Short letters are prefered.

Letters should be addressed to The Circle, c/o The Circle, through campus mail.

The editorial staff reserves the right to edit submissions for length, style and good taste.

THE VIEWPOINT
March 28, 1991

Soviet role in the Persian Gulf signifies a changing world order

By MARK MARBLE

Soviet rule in the Persian Gulf signifies a changing world order

The focus is now on the Soviet role in the Persian Gulf. The Soviet Union has made several moves to tighten its control in the region, especially in Iraq. This has raised concerns about the stability of the region and the potential for further conflict.

The Soviet Union has been increasing its military presence in the Gulf region, especially in Iraq. This has led to concerns about the possibility of further conflict in the region. The United Nations has been trying to mediate the situation, but so far without much success.

The Persian Gulf region is strategically important to the Soviet Union, as it provides access to the Indian Ocean and the Persian Gulf. This has led to concerns about the potential for further conflict in the region.

The Soviet Union has been increasing its military presence in the Gulf region, especially in Iraq. This has led to concerns about the possibility of further conflict in the region. The United Nations has been trying to mediate the situation, but so far without much success.

The Soviet Union has been increasing its military presence in the Gulf region, especially in Iraq. This has led to concerns about the possibility of further conflict in the region. The United Nations has been trying to mediate the situation, but so far without much success.
Soviet role in the Persian Gulf signifies a changing world order

by MARK MARBLE

The Soviet Union

For the past two years the Soviet Union and the United States have held high level talks and discussions to reduce the military presence in the Persian Gulf area. But if these discussions are to be taken seriously, the United States must make it clear that it will not allow the Soviet Union to gain a foothold in the Gulf.

The United States and the Soviet Union have both made military withdrawals and concessions in the area. But if the United States is to prevent the Soviet Union from gaining a foothold in the Gulf, it must be clear that it will not allow the Soviet Union to gain a foothold in the Gulf.

I am not arguing that the United States should not make concessions in the area. But if the United States is to prevent the Soviet Union from gaining a foothold in the Gulf, it must be clear that it will not allow the Soviet Union to gain a foothold in the Gulf.

Thinking of studying abroad? Just do it

by THEODORE MOY

Why bother with the hassle of studying abroad? It can be a great way to learn about different cultures and perspectives. But you don't have to go to a foreign country to have a great experience. Studying at a foreign university can be just as beneficial.

I have had the opportunity to study at a foreign university and I would highly recommend it to anyone. The experience was eye-opening and it taught me a lot about different cultures and perspectives.

Understanding Marist: Simple as a sentence

by DANNY HULL

Marist is a great place to be. There are so many things to do and see. The campus is beautiful and the people are friendly. I have made so many great friends there. I highly recommend Marist to anyone who is looking for a great college experience.
Drum solos, celebrity mockery, muscle-flexing and patriotism

by MICHAEL FUREY
Staff Writer

Joe Piscopo entertained a sold-out capacity crowd Thursday night with a variety of impressions and skits. The former Saturday Night Live star also performed two impressions of himself, Pinochel by Piscopo who played the wizard and darts along with a digital audio tape. Accordin g to Chip Michael, a writer who worked the stage and lights for the show, the USF is the largest of Piscopo’s tour stops, with other shows planned for Chicago and New York.

Piscopo’s impressions are noted for their spot-on accuracy and humor, with a particular fondness for creating impressions of politicians and celebrities. His show Thursday night featured an array of impersonations, including John Belushi, Bill Clinton, and Arnold Schwarzenegger, among others.

According to Michael, Piscopo started to see the first show of the night as a show because he changed his schedule. He was supposed to perform in New York, but due to scheduling conflicts, he had to change his plans.

Piscopo followed his drum solos with a spirited speech about differences in which he expressed his views on the American flag. A large American flag was held behind Piscopo during his speech to make his patriotic message clear.

"After the show was very friendly and stayed to sign autographs and take pictures," said Michael.

The evening’s entertainment included a picture session of Piscopo posing with the crowd for photos with the American flag in the background. The crowd responded with enthusiasm, cheering and clapping for the veteran performer.

"It was a great night and the audience loved every minute," said Michael.

Whether you need a computer to write papers or create graphics, charts and spreadsheets, there’s an IBM Personal System/2 that’s right for you and your budget. The IBM PS/2 family of computers has everything you asked for—including preload ed software, a special student price and affordable loan programs.

Give one a try. We’re sure you’ll find one that fits you and your wallet just right.

And on a different note, for only $599 you can get the Roland® Desktop Music System that transforms your IBM PS/2 with Mic Chronicled here...

Joe Knew comedy, Piscopo plays theater

by MIKE O’FARRELL

Saturday night, Joe Piscopo was where he is every other Saturday night. He was host of the popular Comedy Central series, "Saturday Night Live." The 38-year-old comedian, who is known for his impressions and sketch comedy, is set to perform at the University of South Florida this weekend. His show is scheduled for Friday night and Saturday night.

Piscopo is a veteran of the late-night comedy circuit, having performed on "Late Night with David Letterman" for years. He is also known for his role in the 1984 film "Ghostbusters," where he played the part of Dr. Egon Spengler.

Piscopo’s impressions are well known for their accuracy and have earned him a loyal following. He has been a regular on "Saturday Night Live" since 1990 and has won several awards for his work on the show.

"He’s a natural talent and a true comedic genius," said O’Farrell. "His ability to capture the essence of a character is truly remarkable."
There's an IBM PS/2 made for every student body. And budget.

IBM PS/2

---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---
Memory | 2MB | 3MB | 5MB | 8MB | 16MB | 16MB | 25MB | 32MB
Processor | 80286 (80286) | 80286 (80286) | 80286 (80286) | 80286 (80286) | 80286 (80286) | 80286 (80286) | 80286 (80286) | 80286 (80286)
3.5-inch diskette drive | 1.44MB | 1.44MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB
Floppy disk drive | 1.44MB | 1.44MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB | 2.88MB
Micro Channel architecture | Yes | Yes | Yes | Yes | Yes | Yes | Yes | Yes
Display | EGA Color | VGA Color | EGA Color | EGA Color | EGA Color | EGA Color | EGA Color | EGA Color
Software | DOS 4.0 | Microsoft Windows 2.0 | DOS 4.0 | Microsoft Windows 2.0 | DOS 4.0 | Microsoft Windows 2.0 | DOS 4.0 | Microsoft Windows 2.0
| | | | | | | | | 256-color | 16-bit graphic
Price | $1,499 | $1,799 | $2,299 | $2,599 | $2,799 | $3,199 | $3,599 | $3,799

Whether you need a computer to write papers or create graphics, charts and spreadsheets, there's an IBM Personal System/2® that's right for you and your budget. The IBM PS/2® family of computers has everything you asked for—including preloaded software, a special student price and affordable loan rates.

Give one a try. We're sure you'll find one that fits you and your wallet just right.

Stop by Donnelly Computer Center for more information.

---

Drum solos, celebrity mockery, muscle-flexing and patriotism

By MICHAEL FURLONG Staff Writer

Joe Nipomo emulated a cold, deadly assassin as he twisted with a variety of impressions and a slow, sultry dance. His lead, Frank Sinatra, was previously worked on the popular comedy show "Mrs. American."

Joe gave a performance of 6 p.m. at the annual "Night of Music" event sponsored by the Taperland Club. Joe showed off his skills in the audience's eyes.

A large portion of Joe's act included a skit called "The Leg," which Joe performed to the audience's delight. The skit was created to highlight the talents of the members of the Taperland Club.

Joe followed his performance with a mime routine of Frank Sinatra's "My Way." His performance was met with much applause from the audience.

According to Mr. Nipomo, Joe performed the role of "Sinatra" in the upcoming film "My Life," which is set to be released next month.

Joe's opening number of the show was the hit song "Rum and Coke." Joe performed the song with a slow, sultry dance that was met with much enthusiasm from the audience.

The audience loved the performance and applauded Joe throughout the entire show.

Joe's opening number set the tone for the rest of the show, which was filled with more impressions and humorous skits.

---

Joe knows comedy, Picoscope plays theater

By MIKE O'FARRELL Staff Writer

Saturday night, Joe Picoscope was where he was to be. He was on stage, performing for his adoring fans. Joe is known for his ability to bring the house down with his impressions of various celebrities.

Onstage, Joe was a different person than he was offstage. Joe, who usually does not play small roles in his act, was given a chance to shine in the spotlight.

"I always wanted to have the chance to show my true talent," said Joe. "Now, I get to prove to the world that I can do more than just impressions."

The crowd loved Joe's performance and gave him a standing ovation.

Joe's next act was a skit called "The Leg." This skit was created by Joe's best friend, who is also an impressionist. The skit was performed with perfect timing and a lot of energy.

Joe continued his performance with a slow, sultry dance that was met with much enthusiasm from the audience.

Joe's performance was a huge hit with the audience and he was given a standing ovation.

---

Stop by Donnelly Computer Center for more information.

---

The ImageIndex For Men

Test Your Potential For Getting Ahead.

- Are you looking for a great new job?
- Do you want to improve your skills?
- Are you interested in advancing in your career?
- Do you want to be more successful?

Take the ImageIndex For Men test to find out your potential for getting ahead.

---

The ImageIndex For Women

Test Your Potential For Getting Ahead.

- Are you looking for a great new job?
- Do you want to improve your skills?
- Are you interested in advancing in your career?
- Do you want to be more successful?

Take the ImageIndex For Women test to find out your potential for getting ahead.

---

Stop by Donnelly Computer Center for more information.
Earth Day plans, recycling beginning to take root
by RICHARD NASS
Staff writer
In spite of Dayton County’s recently enacted mandatory recycling law, the Metro environmental community is discussing the success of recycling programs and set new goals for the Earth Day celebration.

"This year’s event will be the biggest Earth Day celebration ever, but we have a slightly smaller budget," said Richard Knight, one of the Metro leaders.

The event will be held Saturday, April 21, at the Metro Environmental Center. It will feature a variety of booths, live music, and recycling activities.

A rain plan will be in effect this year, which will move the event inside to the Metro Center. The rain plan is in effect for the year, according to Richard Knight, executive director of the Metro.

RAPE MYTH #10
MYTH:
A man can tell by a woman’s body language if she wants sex.

FACT:
When we assume what a body movement means, we are projecting what we want onto our partner. Acting on assumptions often leads to rape.
Candy for all baskets at local sweet shop

by LYRJA CEIST

When you have to have that special something for your Easter basket, head to the Easter basket store. Candy is a must-have item for most baskets.

Easter egg hunts, basket-making lessons, and other activities can be found at the store. The store is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is located at 123 Main Street.

“Easter egg hunts are a fun way to get into the spirit of the season. We have a variety of eggs available, including candy-filled eggs and non-candy eggs. We also offer basket-making lessons for those who want to make their own baskets.”

Tennis splits first two matches

by KENT RIGHETTI

Two matches, one new, one repeat, both season-openers, were held this past weekend.

In the first match, the doubles team of Jeff and Betty Brown defeated the team of Mike and Lisa Johnson 6-4, 6-3. In the second match, the singles team of Mike Johnson defeated Jeff Brown 6-3, 6-2.

Both matches were played at the local tennis court and drew a large crowd.

Sports Schedule

Men’s Tennis vs. Ramapo College on Monday at 3:30 pm at Laxcorse vs. Montclair College on Thursday at 3:30 pm

Volleyball rabbits third place in Classic

by TED HOLMLIND

The volleyball rabbits finished third this past weekend in a tournament at the local college.

In the final match, the rabbits defeated the university team 3-0. The team members were: Mike, Jeff, and Lisa. They are looking forward to the next tournament.

Earth Day plans, recycling beginning to take root

by RICHARD NASS

In what will be known as Earth Day, the community is gearing up for recycling and conservation efforts.

Many organizations and individuals are planning events to educate the community on the importance of recycling and conservation.

The Earth Day celebration, scheduled for April 22, will feature a variety of activities, including a recycling fair, workshops, and environmental education sessions.

RAPE MYTH #10

by PATSY JONES

Myth: A man can tell by a woman's body language if she wants sex.

Fact: Women's behaviors can indicate their interest or disinterest in sex, but understanding body language is complex and can vary widely between individuals.

The Myth: Sexual behavior is the only way to determine if a woman is interested in sex.

The Fact: There is no definitive way to know if a woman wants sex based on body language alone.

Women's behaviors can indicate their interest or disinterest in sex, but understanding body language is complex and can vary widely between individuals. While certain behaviors may suggest interest, it is important to communicate openly and honestly about sexual desires to prevent misunderstandings.

LAX

continued from page 12

of a good and the score was tied 2-2 at the end of the period.

The second period was all New Hampshire.

The first period saw the Red Frogs go up 3-1 on goals from Matt Derosier at 7:02 and Chad Latonier at 18:00.

The third period saw the Red Frogs take the lead back to 3-2 on a goal from Tim Brown at 2:40.

In the final period, the Red Frogs took the lead back to 3-2 on a goal from Tim Brown at 2:40.

Men's Tennis vs. Ramapo College on Monday at 3:30 pm at Laxcorse vs. Montclair College on Thursday at 3:30 pm

Volleyball rabbits third place in Classic

by TED HOLMLIND

The volleyball rabbits finished third this past weekend in a tournament at the local college.

In the final match, the rabbits defeated the university team 3-0. The team members were: Mike, Jeff, and Lisa. They are looking forward to the next tournament.

Earth Day plans, recycling beginning to take root

by RICHARD NASS

In what will be known as Earth Day, the community is gearing up for recycling and conservation efforts.

Many organizations and individuals are planning events to educate the community on the importance of recycling and conservation.

The Earth Day celebration, scheduled for April 22, will feature a variety of activities, including a recycling fair, workshops, and environmental education sessions.

RAPE MYTH #10

by PATSY JONES

Myth: A man can tell by a woman's body language if she wants sex.

Fact: Women's behaviors can indicate their interest or disinterest in sex, but understanding body language is complex and can vary widely between individuals.

The Myth: Sexual behavior is the only way to determine if a woman wants sex based on body language alone.

The Fact: There is no definitive way to know if a woman wants sex based on body language alone.

Women's behaviors can indicate their interest or disinterest in sex, but understanding body language is complex and can vary widely between individuals. While certain behaviors may suggest interest, it is important to communicate openly and honestly about sexual desires to prevent misunderstandings.

LAX

continued from page 12

of a good and the score was tied 2-2 at the end of the period.

The second period was all New Hampshire.

The first period saw the Red Frogs go up 3-1 on goals from Matt Derosier at 7:02 and Chad Latonier at 18:00.

The third period saw the Red Frogs take the lead back to 3-2 on a goal from Tim Brown at 2:40.

In the final period, the Red Frogs took the lead back to 3-2 on a goal from Tim Brown at 2:40.
Red Foxes down Queens for first win

by MIKE O'FARRELL

THE CIRCLE, SPORTS
MARCH 28, 1991

Skaters fall in season finale

by MIKE O'FARRELL

Sports Editor

After overcoming adversity all season long, the hockey club fell two minutes short of a championship season.

The Red Foxes fell to Southern Connecticut State University 5-4 in the finals of the Metro Collegiate Hockey Conference Sunday night in New Jersey as the Owls scored the winning goal with just two minutes left to play in the game. Mariot ended the season with a mark of 12-9-1.

"I honestly think they were the best team in the league," said Mariot Coach Bob Mathieu. "We really had to work hard and it was a great game and a win because we hadn't beat them during the regular season.

"From a mental standpoint, most of our effort was against CCM because we questioned if we could beat them," said Mariot. "After the we knew that we could play hard against Southern.

"We were really up for CCM," said captain Steve Waryas. "Playing them hard may have had something to do with the outcome against Southern but I don't think it made that much of a difference. We were up for both games.

It was the third meeting of the season between the two clubs. In the opening game of this year's campaign, Southern was able to score in the third minutes to tie the Mariot 4-4. Later in the season, Mariot edged the Owls, 10-4-4 defeat.

"They were a different team when we played them earlier in the year," said Waryas. "We didn't take them lightly, things on our end just didn't click.

"We knew they were a good team," Waryas said. "We thought that we would take them but we weren't overconfident because we knew they could play strong after they tied us in the first game of the season."

Southern Connecticut got going quickly. The Owls scored two goals in the first three minutes of the game.

"They came out flying," said captain Kevin Walsh. "There had to be a goal in that game."

"There may have been some nervousness on our part," Mariot said. "We were just off a little bit. However, we were able to bounce back each after goal that they scored.

Southern held a 3-1 lead after the first period and Mariot scored the only second period goal making the score 3-2 at the second intermission.

In the third period, Mariot tied the score at three apiece before Southern widened 4-3. The Red Foxes tied the game at 4-4 before the game winner with just 3:24 left in the game.

Scoring for the Red Foxes were Derek Porelo, Scott Brown, Noel Smith and John Lloyd.

After the early Southern goals, the Red Foxes found themselves in a similar situation.

"We were caught in a situation like that the entire last season," Mariot said. "We had some defensive let-downs and found ourselves working hard to get into the game."

Mariot credited the line of Lloyd, Porelo and Smith for solid play throughout the playoffs.

"They are my second line, or my freshmen line, and they provided quite a bit of offensive punch down the stretch," he said. Lookin back on the season, Mariot was pleased with the effort of his team to overcome some problems along the way.

"I don't think we ever became complacent here of there," he said. "This team overcame a lot of adversity during the year and the credit for that must go to the seniors. I can't say enough about the leadership that they possess. It led the team onto the ice and effects the younger guys and the rest of the team in a positive manner."

Overall, Mariot was pleased.

"It's to say if we had a full squad the entire year we would have been better off," he said. "But the way I look at it is considering what we faced, we did a great job. I think we had one helluva season and they should be proud of that."

Dear Mom: Send me cookies and a winner

Monday evening Quarterback

MIKE O'FARRELL

Monday evening Quarterback

Dear Mom: Send me cookies and a winner

Mom's are great.

They seem to have a knack for knowing everything that ever happens in your life before you even tell them.

They know if you are in trouble. They know when you are sick. They even know if you did something you should have done.

Sometimes, we take our Mom for granted. Whether it is a nice batch of homemade cookies, a basket of clean laundry or some money, Mom always comes through.

My Mom is into sports. While she is not into the sports of soccer, basketball or hockey. (no doubt she acquired her taste of these sports from me) she is always watching those sports on television.

Because I have only two teams left in my NCAA tournament pool, I decided to go to Mom for some advice on how to pick the remainder of the games.

My reason behind this was simple. If Mom truly knows basketball, than how could I go wrong?

Now, my Mom has some interesting views on college basketball.

Take socks for example. She believes that the players should keep their socks pulled up all the time because it looks stiff if they are wrinkled around their ankles.

Then there is the praying on the foul line. Mom doesn't like players that do the sign of the cross before they shoot a free throw. She believes that if they are going to pray then it should be for something more meaningful than a mere foul shot.

According to Mom, Duke University will again fail to win a national championship.

The Blue Devils have been to the Final Four eight times without coming away champions. My Mom says that this year will be no different.

Even though Duke has the talent to beat UNLV, Mom says it won't happen because the Blue Devols' coach Mike Krzyzewski.

I tried to explain to her that Coach K is one of the best in the business and given that this is a one game, I might be able to pull off the upset. "Doesn't matter," she said.

"Why," I asked.

"He looks much like Hitler and that little Hurley is a crying baby."

Oh.

In the other semi-final, Kansas will continue its role as underdog. The Jayhawks, according to Mom, will upset Notre Dame's North Carolina club.

I didn't even bother to tell her about the legacy Smith is building and how his club has come on in the last in the season. Instead, I just waited for reasoning.

"Their underdogs well," they say. "Their underdogs well."

Well, I am trying to tell me that even though the players whose wears spread out from the bottom of the team.

Mom says that Kansas will beat Duke but they won't be able to make it on to the next round. Regrettably, I asked why Kansas will lose.

"Those country boys have too many freckles."

"Too many freckles!"

"I wasn't about to argue."