Swinging into action

Matthew Bourne, a Freshman, takes a swing at a pitch last Saturday in a game against St. Peters that was called on the count of rain after six innings. Bourne popped the pitch.

Not your typical N. Road residents

Property lines aren’t the only things that separate houses

by BETH CONRAD Senior Editor

They are the sole survivors. Anna and John Manfredi have lived at 67 North Road for 55 years — the only house left on North Road that does not hold Marist students.

Mrs. Manfredi, 74, and Manfredi, 83, sit on their front porch and recall the good and the bad that come along with living amongst Marist students.

“They’re not bad this year,” said Mrs. Manfredi. “I hope they stay that way.”

Looking at the houses next to theirs, Mrs. Manfredi remembers a time when they had problems with the students.

“The first time they moved in about 10 years ago, they knocked our fence down, and those partis would go on until three or four in the morning,” Mrs. Manfredi said.

Manfredi laughs and adds, “What do they go to college for, drinking on Friday nights?”

Mrs. Manfredi points to the house on her left and recalls one party about five years ago when they had to call the police.

There were about 80 people and when the cops came, the kids started coming out in lines, she said.

“My God, we thought they were soldiers; where did they put them all?”, she said. “It was bad.”

Despite their problems over the years, the Manfredis have had some good experiences with Marist students.

“One year, some of the boys left a note on our porch saying we were the nicest neighbors they ever had,” said Mrs. Manfredi.

Manfredi said this year one of the boys came over to introduce himself and shake hands.

“We can’t condemn them all,” he said. “Some of them are very nice.”

With the widening of Route 9 set to take place next year, the Manfredi’s will lose their home; the other houses and businesses on North Road from the gas station to Skinner’s will also be removed.

Manfredi, a retired carpenter, built their home himself.

“We’re really going to miss it,” he said.

The Manfredi’s don’t know where they will live when their house is taken because they are still waiting for an appraisal from the state.

“We just have to wait and see,”...see MANFREDI page 2

Faculty studies plan to restructure divisions

by APRIL M. AMONICA Staff Writer

Currently, the college is organized into six divisions headed by a chairperson appointed by the administration. Communication arts, rather than being a separate unit, is one of several areas of study now in the Division of Arts and Letters.

Any change in the college’s academic structure would have to be approved by the board of trustees.

While the faculty’s proposal has not specified what academic areas would qualify, as separate departments, the faculty in communication arts has officially requested that it be one of the new departments.

Under some proposals being considered by the faculty, faculty members in an academic area would elect one of their members to serve a three-year as chairperson.

Faculty members want leaders who are more responsive to the concerns of specific disciplines, said Dr. Richard Platt, communications arts coordinator.

The plan allows for more direct communication and decision making with the Academic Vice President and the executive vice president.

“The elected chair would be more responsive and accountable to the faculty as a faculty member rather than as an (appointed) administrative officer,” Platt stated in a memo sent to the faculty’s Academic Affairs Committee.

A growing concern among communication arts faculty about the current division structure’s lack of effectiveness surfaced last year according to Cool, who is acting chair for the Division of Arts and Letters.

“There is a need for an open forum in which the faculty members may express their ideas, opinions and concerns...” said Platt.

Executive Committee’s agenda for discussion, according to Dr. Vincent Toscano, chairman of the committee.

“The self created between faculty and administration could be eliminated by having orders be sent down the ranks,” Toscano said.

“...it would be very shortsighted of the college to not profit from the communications arts out of the arts and let’s not call it that,” Platt continued. While it may solve their immediate problems, the move would...see page 2
Foreign films shown weekly; students show little interest

by VINCENT J. ZURLO

Once again, Marist College is offering a selection of foreign films every Thursday evening. And once again, it seems the students have little interest in attending.

The program has changed significantly from last year, and it seems to have been successful in attracting a larger audience. The program is held in the College Auditorium, and admission is free to all Marist students. The films are shown on Thursdays at 8 p.m., and the reception desk in the College Auditorium is open from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The schedule for the fall semester is as follows:

- September 19: La Haine
- September 26: La Vie En Rose
- October 3: The Daughters of Dollier
- October 10: The Pianist
- October 17: Cries and Whispers
- October 24: Before Sunset
- October 31: Amelie
- November 7: The Intouchables
- November 14: The Great Gatsby
- November 21: The Grand Budapest Hotel
- November 28: The Grand Budapest Hotel
- December 5: The Grand Budapest Hotel

The films are shown in a variety of languages, and all have English subtitles. The program is supported by the Marist College Art Department and the Department of Performing and Media Arts.

Palace Diner
SPECIALS
WITH MARIST DENT END-OF-THE-WEEK DISCOUNT WEDNESDAY 5/19
MONDAY: "MEATBALL MEDITTER" $7.99
TUESDAY: "MOROCCO NIGHT" $6.99
WEDNESDAY: "ITALIAN NIGHT" $6.99
THURSDAY: "KOREAN NIGHT" $6.99
FRIDAY: "COMBO NIGHT" $6.99
SATURDAY: "SPICY NIGHT" $6.99
SUNDAY: "ALL YOU CAN EAT" $9.99

21 Society succeeds, let the good times roll

by KRISTA RABA

Katie Night transformed into the Roaring 20s as the 21 Society held its second party of the semester on Saturday, November 3. The event was held in the College Auditorium and was attended by over 100 students.

The theme of the party was the Roaring 20s, and the decorations were fittingly elaborate. The dance floor was decorated with black and gold streamers, and the walls were covered in posters of famous jazz performers.

The music was provided by the College Band, and the attendees were encouraged to dress in 1920s attire. The party started with a welcome speech by the president of the 21 Society, followed by a speech from the College Band leader.

The party was a huge success, and the attendees had a great time. The 21 Society plans to hold another party in the fall, and they are looking forward to seeing everyone again.

Alumni return to Marist for homecoming

by VINCENT J. ZURLO Staff Writer

Thousands of alumni have returned to play on Loretto Field this weekend. There will be games, parades, and a number of activities to celebrate the Marist Alumni of today and tomorrow.

The weekend will kick off with the annual Homecoming Game on Saturday afternoon. The Marist College Red Foxes will take on the St. Francis Red Flash, and the game will start at 3 p.m.

The game will be followed by a number of activities, including a tailgate party, a alumni association meeting, and a alumni alumni dance.

The Alumni Alumni Dance will be held on Saturday night, and it will feature a live band, a DJ, and a buffet. The dance will start at 8 p.m.

The weekend will conclude with the annual Homecoming Banquet on Sunday morning. The banquet will feature a live band, a DJ, and a buffet. The dance will start at 8 p.m.

The weekend will be a great opportunity for alumni to reconnect with old friends and meet new ones.

Grads top charts with sports show

by HOLLY WOERNER

Two Marist alumni are now on television because they created their own sports show for a local radio station.

According to "ESPN 4" producer and Marist alumnus Donal Darko, the show will air on the radio station WWRR 1050 on Saturday afternoons.

"We created the show because we wanted to create a platform for local teams to be heard," Darko said.

The show features a variety of local teams, including the Marist Red Foxes, and is hosted by Darko and his co-host, Marist alumnus Alex Sanchez.

"It's a great opportunity to showcase local sports teams," Sanchez said.

The show is a big hit with listeners, and Darko said he hopes to expand the show to include more teams in the future.

Donal Reddication set

by CAREY ALLABAND

The celebration of Donal Reddication will be held on Monday, November 11, in the College Auditorium. The event will feature a speech by the Marist College President, a parade of the Marist College football team, and a special performance by the College Band.

The celebration will be a great opportunity for the Marist College community to come together and celebrate the life of Donal Reddication.

The event will begin at 10 a.m. and will be followed by a parade of the Marist College football team. The parade will start at the College Auditorium and will end at the College Green.

At 3 p.m., the celebration will begin in the College Auditorium. The event will feature a speech by the Marist College President, who will speak about the life of Donal Reddication.

After the speech, the College Band will perform a special performance, and the event will conclude with a special performance by the College Band.

The celebration will be a great opportunity for the Marist College community to come together and celebrate the life of Donal Reddication.
21 Society succeeds, let the good times roll

by KRISTA RAAB
Staff Writer

Kawika right transformed the theme of his Society and it's here to stay. "It's the second party of the semester and it's our first one this year," he says. The party's theme is "Tiki Heat," and all event details will be revealed throughout the semester.

The Society was founded in 1931 to bring together students from different backgrounds and interests. Today, it remains one of the most popular on-campus organizations, hosting events ranging from concerts to movie screenings.

"We are officially closing in on Monday, November 21," says Sarah, the Society's president. "It's been a great year so far, and we're excited to see what's ahead." The Society's events are open to all students, regardless of major or minor.

"I'm looking forward to our next event," adds Alex, a member of the Society. "It's always a lot of fun, and it's a great way to meet new people." The Society's next event is scheduled for early December, and details will be announced soon.

For more information on the Society, including event schedules and upcoming activities, visit their website at society.21.org. Follow them on social media for exclusive Behind the Scenes content and behind-the-scenes footage from their upcoming events.

Grads top charts with sports show

by HOLLY WOERK
Staff Writer

Two Marist athletes are now seen on television screens across the country, broadcasting their professional experiences to millions.

Bianca DeCarlo and Zahra Warn are the latest Marist athletes to join the ranks of ESPN's coverage, joining the likes of former Marist athletes such as Dave Dore and Mike O'Hara.

"It's a dream come true," says DeCarlo. "I am so grateful for this opportunity and excited to share my experiences with fans across the country.

DeCarlo, a former Marist volleyball player, secured a spot on ESPN's College GameDay, a popular pregame show that airs every Saturday morning during the college football season. The show is hosted by Rece Davis, Lee Corso, and Kirk Herbstreit, and features analysis and predictions from the experts on the weekend's top college football games.

Warn, a former Marist softball player, joined DeCarlo on College GameDay as a guest analyst. Warn is the first Marist athlete to appear on the show as a guest analyst, and her insights and commentary were well-received by the audience.

"It was an honor to be a part of College GameDay," says Warn. "I had a great time sharing my experience with the experts and the audience.

The pair were also joined on the show by former Marist athlete and ESPN analyst Tom Rinaldi, who provided additional analysis and commentary. The show was broadcast from the location of the game that weekend, which was a Marist football game against a top ranked team.

"It was an amazing experience," says DeCarlo. "I am so grateful for the opportunity to be a part of such a prestigious event.

Warn echoed DeCarlo's sentiments, saying, "It was a dream come true.

The two Marist athletes are just the latest in a long line of Marist athletes to appear on national television. Other notable Marist figures to appear on national television include former Marist basketball player Mike Bibby, who has appeared on numerous ESPN shows, and former Marist football player Aaron Maybin, who has appeared on several SportsCenter segments.

DeCarlo and Warn both plan to continue their broadcasting careers after their athletic careers are over. "I am looking forward to the future," says DeCarlo. "I am excited to see where my broadcast career will take me.

Warn is equally enthusiastic about her future in broadcasting. "I am so grateful for this opportunity and I am excited to see where my career will take me.

For more information on DeCarlo and Warn's national television appearances, as well as upcoming events and activities, visit the Marist Athletics website at maristathletics.com. Follow the Marist Athletics department on social media for exclusive Behind the Scenes content and behind-the-scenes footage from their upcoming events.

Donnelly rededication set

by CAREY ALLABAND
Web Editor

The rededication of Donnelly Hall, a historic building on the Marist College campus, will take place on Thursday, November 19, at 2 p.m.

Donnelly Hall, named after the college's founder, Saint Marcellus Donnelly, was opened in 1930 and has been a central part of the college's history and culture. The hall has been the site of many important events and activities over the years, including commencement ceremonies, convocations, and other important events.

The rededication ceremony will feature speeches from college officials, including President Daniel P. Martin, Esq., and a ribbon-cutting ceremony. The event will also include a tour of the newly renovated hall, which has undergone extensive renovations to improve student amenities and facilities.

The rededication ceremony will be open to the public, and the college will provide shuttle buses for those who wish to attend. For more information, including a schedule of events and transportation details, visit the Marist College website at marist.edu.

Donnelly Hall is located at 500 Bigelow Blvd, Poughkeepsie, NY 12602. The rededication ceremony will be held on the north side of the building, near the main entrance.

For more information, visit the Marist College website or contact the Office of Public Relations at 845-575-3901.
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New York sports defended

Dear Editor:

As a lifelong supporter of the New York sports teams, I was disappointed by your recent editorial. The criticism of the New York Jets and the New York Islanders is unwarranted.

The New York Jets are a well-run franchise, with a strong coaching staff and a commitment to developing young talent. The New York Islanders are a proud part of the history of the NHL, and their fans deserve to have their team respected.

I urge you to re-examine your views on these organizations and to provide a more balanced perspective in future editorials.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Parents just don’t understand...

Waking up the hard way!

Dear Editor,

I know you can relate. You’re probably looking forward to the day when your child finally leaves home and you can relax. But until then, you’re stuck living with them.

You know what I’m talking about. The late-night parties, the endless hours of Netflix, the constant cleaning. And don’t even get me started on the dishes!

I’d be lying if I said I don’t sometimes wish I could go back to my college days, but I know deep down that things are different now. My parents might have been more lenient, but I can’t help but feel like they didn’t understand the struggles of raising a child.

But you know what? That’s okay. Because I’m learning that sometimes, the hardest lessons are the ones we have to teach ourselves.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
Commitment to Communications

As 720 students are testament to, communication arts is the most popular major on campus, accounting for nearly 22 percent of the entire undergraduate population. Yet communications is not only the most popular major, it is also the most visible. Whether it be reading The Circle every week, attending a Marien Theatre production, listening to the campus radio station or just having a class in the Lowell Thomas building, no other academic discipline has so much of an impact on the day-to-day life of a student.

And now is some discussion of restructuring the college’s current academic departments so that communications would leave the Division of Arts and Letters and establish itself as a separate department.

This sounds like a good idea. Yet, as any communications major can tell you, without an increased commitment by the academic vice president’s office and the college, any change will be uneven and fruitless.

Because for communication arts majors, without more attention, a rethinking of the current academic structure will have little meaning. A new system with a separate communication arts department could make considerable difference in the quality of a student’s education, but it is not a critical agent for this improvement.

Quite simply, you can lead a horse to Churchill Downs, but you can’t make it win when there is no jockey. And the college is going to be as serious as it restructures the current system of disciplines, than it should also be prepared to fully commit to improving the system, which will be standing alone.

For communications, this means drastically upgrading the equipment that our current communication professionals are using. The equipment in the department, is housed in Champagne with antiquated equipment older than many of the students working there. The entire environment is overworked and lacks the latest software and other upgrades. One of the students is working there. The entire environment is overworked and lacks the latest software and other upgrades. One of the students is working there. The entire environment is overworked and lacks the latest software and other upgrades.

While yes, Marist is first and foremost a liberal arts school, and having some solid bad habits can be done. For communications, this means drastically upgrading the equipment that our current communication professionals are using. The equipment in the department, is housed in Champagne with antiquated equipment older than many of the students working there. The entire environment is overworked and lacks the latest software and other upgrades. One of the students is working there. The entire environment is overworked and lacks the latest software and other upgrades.

A full commitment to improving the system on campus can be implemented in other ways as well. For example, it is the students’ best interest to have the assistant vice president of academic affairs as acting chair for the Division of Arts and Letters. The Division of Arts and Letters chair is supposed to have one single-minded interest at heart — the bettering of their division for the faculty and the students. Can Linda Cool, who currently holds both these titles, do this?

Not to take anything away from Cool. Her abilities and contributions are irreplaceable, but having missed the job was more of a necessity than choice. But communications majors want more, and do have some academic interest in mind — communications. When you assistant vice president of academic affairs, this is no easy task.

Thinking Between the Lines

The recent arms reduction proposals announced by President Bush and Gorbachev have been praised around the world.

Despite their obvious merits, some critics remain concerned that the proposals do not go far enough. The proposals, however, do represent a significant step in the right direction.

Michael Gorbachev is also politically shrewd. He knows that the West will not be able to afford any re-election campaigns. With their economies in shambles and their people living in a state of constant fear, the Soviets have no choice but to accept the proposals.

A key to the success of the proposals is the willingness of the two leaders to make concrete progress.

If you don’t believe me, you should read his New York Times op-ed piece the other day. The New York Times might come in the middle of the night, but that’s not the point.

To summarize, the proposals are a step in the right direction. They represent a significant effort to reduce the number of nuclear weapons and to ensure a more stable world.

Pass or Fail: What to do with the arms reduction proposal

It’s not being done any more by any group of humanities. They are being replaced by the political and military schools, not a single school of, or any school of, of the kind.

George Bush’s proposal includes the following: nuclear warheads, the withdrawal of all strategic nuclear weapons, and the establishment of the basis for a new strategic arms agreement. The proposals, however, do not go far enough. The proposals, however, do represent a significant step in the right direction.

Michael Gorbachev is also politically shrewd. He knows that the West will not be able to afford any re-election campaigns. With their economies in shambles and their people living in a state of constant fear, the Soviets have no choice but to accept the proposals.

A key to the success of the proposals is the willingness of the two leaders to make concrete progress.

If you don’t believe me, you should read his New York Times op-ed piece the other day. The New York Times might come in the middle of the night, but that’s not the point.

To summarize, the proposals are a step in the right direction. They represent a significant effort to reduce the number of nuclear weapons and to ensure a more stable world.

Letter Policy

The Circle welcomes all letters to the editor. Letters to be typed and include the author’s name, address and phone number. Letters must not exceed 200 words.

The editorial staff reserves the right to edit submissions for length, style and good taste.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New York sports defended

Dear Editor,

I agree with Mike, but really the New York sports fans are a bit of a special case. It’s true that the fans are highly devoted and passionate. However, the team’s performance has been inconsistent and disappointing. Despite this, the New York sports fans continue to support their teams through thick and thin.

Sincerely,

Michael Smith

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New York sports defended

Dear Editor,

I agree with Mike, but really the New York sports fans are a bit of a special case. It’s true that the fans are highly devoted and passionate. However, the team’s performance has been inconsistent and disappointing. Despite this, the New York sports fans continue to support their teams through thick and thin.

Sincerely,

Michael Smith

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New York sports defended

Dear Editor,

I agree with Mike, but really the New York sports fans are a bit of a special case. It’s true that the fans are highly devoted and passionate. However, the team’s performance has been inconsistent and disappointing. Despite this, the New York sports fans continue to support their teams through thick and thin.

Sincerely,

Michael Smith
FOR MORE INFORMATION ON THE IBM PS/2'S CONTACT
JOAN SYLER IN THE COMPUTER CENTER
IBM

PARK DISCOUNT BEVERAGE
Rte. 9, Hyde Park
229-9000
(Rt. 9 North past Culinary Institute to traffic light - on left)

MOLSON 6 PACKS $3.99
MOLSON REFILLABLE CASE $13.99
COCA COLA
RC & DIET RITE
12 PACK $2.99 2 Liter $1.19
2 LITER

LARGEST SELECTION OF COLD & IMPORTED BEER IN AREA.

BUD SUITCASE $13.49
BUD 12 PACK $6.99

HAMM'S STROHS OLD MILWAUKEE
$6.99 CASE
$7.99 30 PACK
$3.99 12 PACK

IT'S OKTOBER FEST TIME! SOUDA BEER LOTTO SNACKS ICE KEGS

PARK DISCOUNT BEVERAGE
Rte. 9, Hyde Park
229-9000
(Rt. 9 North past Culinary Institute to traffic light - on left)

MOLSON 6 PACKS $3.99
MOLSON REFILLABLE CASE $13.99
COCA COLA
RC & DIET RITE
12 PACK $2.99 2 Liter $1.19
2 LITER

LARGEST SELECTION OF COLD & IMPORTED BEER IN AREA.

BUD SUITCASE $13.49
BUD 12 PACK $6.99

HAMM'S STROHS OLD MILWAUKEE
$6.99 CASE
$7.99 30 PACK
$3.99 12 PACK

IT'S OKTOBER FEST TIME! SOUDA BEER LOTTO SNACKS ICE KEGS

FOR ALL YOU BIKE RIDERS, THIS IS THE RIGHT PLACE
by RICK DAWSON
Staff Writer

For all you bike riders, this is the right place.
by RICK DAWSON
Staff Writer

Whether one has a mountain bike, a recumbent or just an ordinary two-wheeler, there are plenty of good and scenic routes available in the Hudson region. Taking a bike tour, one will encounter many routes that offer exciting possibilities for biking, both within a mile or two of campus or those reachable only by car.

For those who do not own a bike, it is possible to rent one. People who rent bikes ride within easy proximity to many local attractions.

The bike rentals are offered by many companies in the area. The most popular are the New York Bicycles, located at 53 Main Street, and the Mountain Bike Shop, located at 35 Main Street. Both companies offer a wide range of rental bikes, including road bikes, mountain bikes, and BMX bikes. Prices vary depending on the type of bike and the length of the rental period.

The Hudson River Valley is a great place to bike ride. The area is known for its scenic beauty, with numerous waterfalls, parks, and hiking trails. The Hudson River itself is a popular destination for cyclists, with smooth and flat terrain.

The bike trails in the area are well-maintained and offer a variety of difficulty levels. Beginners can enjoy the easier trails, while more experienced riders can challenge themselves on the more difficult paths.

For those interested in taking a guided tour, there are many options available. Many local bike shops offer guided tours, which are a great way to explore the area and learn about its history and culture.

In conclusion, the Hudson Valley is a great place to bike ride. Whether you are a beginner or an experienced rider, you are sure to find a route that suits your needs.

Keg bans become national trend
by HOLLIE WEEDER
Staff Writer

Marquis is preparing to enforce the national trend of banning beer kegs on campus. The trend has been adopted by many universities to prevent alcohol-related problems and promote a safer campus environment.

Many universities have banned kegs in an effort to reduce alcohol-related incidents, such as drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and public intoxication. The University of California, Berkeley, and the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, are just two examples of universities that have banned kegs in recent years.

At Marquis, the ban on kegs will go into effect immediately. The university has already started enforcing the ban, and students who违反 the rule will be subject to disciplinary action.

The ban on kegs is expected to have a positive impact on the campus community. It will help to reduce alcohol-related incidents and promote a safer environment for all students.

Marquis is not the only university in the country to enforce a keg ban. Many other universities have followed suit, and it is likely that more will do so in the future.

The ban on kegs is part of a larger trend in the national college community to address alcohol-related issues. Many universities are implementing stricter policies and regulations to prevent alcohol abuse and promote a responsible campus environment.

In conclusion, Marquis is joining the national trend of banning beer kegs on campus. The ban is expected to have a positive impact on the campus community and promote a safer environment for all students.

DONELLY
Gloria Andreoni, 22, sophomore

Gloria Andreoni, 22, sophomore, has been given a seniorhood assignment by the university. The assignment is intended to help students prepare for their future careers and lives.

The seniorhood assignment is part of a larger initiative by the university to help students develop the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in their future careers. The assignment will be completed by the end of the spring semester.

The seniorhood assignment is an important step in the university's efforts to help students prepare for their future careers. By providing students with the skills and knowledge they need, the university is helping them to be successful in their future careers.

In conclusion, Gloria Andreoni is the latest example of the seniorhood assignment at the university. The assignment is an important step in the university's efforts to help students prepare for their future careers.

Student Life

The Student Life section discusses various aspects of student life, including academics, social activities, and campus life. The section provides information on resources and services available to students and highlights events and activities on campus.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

In conclusion, the Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.

The Student Life section is an important source of information for students, parents, and prospective students. It provides valuable information on the university's offerings and helps students to make informed decisions about their academic and social lives.
For all you bike riders, this is the right place

By ROBERT BRADY
Staff Writer

Whether one has a mountain bike, racing bike, or just a bicycle intended for neighborhood riding, there are plenty of riding opportunities available. Each week, the paper highlights a different area for riding, both within the city and in the surrounding suburbs. Each week, the paper highlights a different area for riding, both within the city and in the surrounding suburbs.

"Ten miles of various road conditions allow the rider to choose from hills, flats, rough roads and steep declines.

"The miles of various road conditions allow the rider to choose from hills, flats, rough roads and steep declines. There is virtually no traffic, allowing a safe and enjoyable ride. The area is suitable for all the riding abilities, if one desires to pedal, or even to walk, to the trailhead. The trailhead is located in the Waukesha County Park, where the trail leads through the woods and ends at the parking lot.

For more information on how to get to the trailhead, contact the Waukesha County Parks Department at 262-541-1060.

Donnelly -

Sean Burns (left) and John DiMaggio (right) take a leisurely ride in the park, enjoying the scenery and the outdoors.

B.A. B.S.
Ph.D. M.D.
J.D. M.B.A.

IF YOU DON'T HAVE THE NUMBERS, YOU WON'T GET THE LETTERS.
SAT · ACT · LSAT · GMAT · GRE · MCAT
College & Grad School Selection & Enrollment Assistance

Ask about our free diagnostic & consultation.

Classes Now Forming
In Poughkeepsie, Call 914-485-9400
FOR LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE CALL 1-800-2 TEST III

Pharmaceuticals

The Circle, October 10, 1991

The Circle, October 10, 1991

IBM loves a good party.

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON THE IBM PS/2'S CONTACT JOAN SYLER IN THE COMPUTER CENTER IBM.
Transfer students adjust to Marist
by MARY-GAY PROVOST
Staff Writer

Making new friends, adjusting to Marist and being on campus — welcome to the life of a transfer student. The class of 2021 has 45 new transfer students, making this year’s total 175. Each transfer student is assigned a mentor, who is a current student.

When I arrived, I was nervous and excited. I had just moved from the Midwest to the East Coast to attend Colgate University and now I was attending Marist College. I was not sure what to expect, but I knew I was going to make the most of my time here.

Being a transfer student means adjusting to a new environment, new people, and new routines. It’s not always easy, but it’s worth it. I’ve learned a lot about myself and about the college within the first few weeks. I’ve met some amazing people and have made some great friends.

I’m happy to be here and I’m excited to see what the future holds. I know I’ll have some challenges along the way, but I’m ready to face them. I’m ready to embrace the transfer student life.

To those who are new to Marist, I say welcome. You’re part of a special group of students who are making the most of their time here. You’re going to have some amazing experiences, and I’m here to support you every step of the way.

Ladies v-ball pounds Pace, Army next
by ANDREW HOLHOLT
Staff Writer

The Marist Women’s Volleyball team continued its winning ways this weekend as it beat Pace University on Saturday and Army on Sunday. The team improved to 2-1 on the season.

On Saturday, Marist broke even at 12-12 before taking over the game and pushing it to a third set. The team won the final set 25-16 to win the match. The performance was strong, with the team hitting over .300 and holding Pace to a .150 hitting percentage.

On Sunday, Marist faced Army and had a similar performance. The team took the first set by a dominant margin of 25-9, but the second set was a much tighter affair. The team then got a surge of momentum and took the third set 25-17 to clinch the victory.

The Ladies are looking like a team that is ready to make some noise in the MAAC. With strong performances this weekend, they have secured the top spot in the conference and will look to continue that success moving forward.

Softball continues to improve
by MIKE O’FARRELL
Sports Editor

The only thing different about the cross country team’s performances this weekend was the weather. The team ran in the 40th annual Loebbeh Debut Invitational, but was unable to compete due to the rain. The team had a successful weekend, finishing in the top five overall.

Sophomore Coach Phil Kelly said, “It was an interesting weekend running and dealing with the rain.”

The Ladies finished sixth place overall — just 10 seconds behind Villanova.

"It’s a good way to start the season," said Kelly. "It was a solid performance." The team will have a chance to improve at the MAAC Cross Country Invitational on October 12. The weather is forecasted to be sunny with a high of 78 degrees, making it a good day for running.

“Every race is different. We learned from this weekend’s experience. We’re looking forward to the next one,” said Kelly.

Marist senior Nicole Silvano spikes a return against the Lady Red Foxes opponent in a recent match at the James J. Mooney Center. (Photo by Mary-Gay Provost)

Running Red Foxes continue to improve

The Everything Red Foxes continued their winning ways this weekend. The team took on the Pace University Patriots and the Army Black Knights. The team improved to 2-1 on the season.

On Saturday, the team took on Pace University and won in three straight sets. The team hit over .300 and held Pace to a .150 hitting percentage.

On Sunday, Marist faced Army and took the first set by a dominant margin of 25-9, but the second set was a much tighter affair. The team then got a surge of momentum and took the third set 25-17 to clinch the victory.

The Red Foxes are looking like a team that is ready to make some noise in the MAAC. With strong performances this weekend, they have secured the top spot in the conference and will look to continue that success moving forward.

Crew set for challenge

The crew team will face a stern challenge this weekend. The team will compete in the second annual Challenge of the Hudson regatta on Sunday, October 27. The regatta will be held in upstate New York, and the crew is looking forward to the challenge.

"We are excited to be back on the water," said crew coach Jennifer Sanders. "We are looking forward to the challenge of the Challenge of the Hudson regatta."
Transfer students adjust to Marist
by MARY-GAY PROVOST
Staff Writer

Making new friends, adjusting to Marist and being in Poughkeepsie — all are part of the first-year experience. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.

Studying abroad, attending a university with a different atmosphere and having a different life style is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.

Studying abroad, attending a university with a different atmosphere and having a different life style is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.

Studying abroad, attending a university with a different atmosphere and having a different life style is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.

Studying abroad, attending a university with a different atmosphere and having a different life style is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.

Studying abroad, attending a university with a different atmosphere and having a different life style is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.

Studying abroad, attending a university with a different atmosphere and having a different life style is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.

Studying abroad, attending a university with a different atmosphere and having a different life style is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.

Studying abroad, attending a university with a different atmosphere and having a different life style is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist. It is something that many transfer students have enjoyed since they first arrived at Marist.
Red Foxes win 3-0, snap scoring drought

by TED HOLMLUND
Staff Writer

The soccer team broke out of its scoring slump when it notched a 3-0 victory over Franklin, Pennsylvania last Saturday.

Freshman forward Juan Favero, who hails from Buenos Aires, Argentina, led the attack with one goal and one assist. Junior Bodhi Anguilla and Chris Artigliari chipped in with a goal apiece to secure the team's victory.

Favero said the team's play — and his own — are improving with each game.

"We are passing the ball better now," he said. "And personally, I'm getting used to the American way of play." But he noted that the team still needs to work on its finishing.

Last Wednesday, Mariott tied Iowa's Sophomore Brian Neale scored the lone goal for the Red Foxes. Defensively, Mariott had a solid showing with a defensive line that held Iowa to just 17 shots on goal.

"We shut down Iowa's offense and made them work for their chances," said Goldmann. "The Red Foxes' record is 3-1-1 overall, while the Northeast Conference mark is 2-0.

Gridders notch third straight victory, can clinch ACFC title Saturday

by MIKE O'FARRELL
Sports Editor

The football team will attempt to clinch a second consecutive Atlantic Conference College Football Conference championship when it takes on St. Francis College this Saturday. The Mariott scored 23 of the first 24 points to lead the Cardinals to a 24-3 victory.

Mariott's head coach, carved out the妞妞's nickname for the championship game.

"We are going to bring more pressure because I think we can sack them," he said. "Our offense — we think we can control the ball effectively."

"It was a hard-fought game," said Mariott head coach, Luke Scott. "But our defense held and we were able to capitalize on our opportunities.

Mariott sophomore Brian Rose leaps to head a ball in the Red Foxes' 3-0 win over St. Francis last Saturday.

Softball team drops three in fall finale

by J.W. STEWART
Staff Writer

The softball team finished its inaugural fall season losing to the first three opponents of the season. Saturday in the day-long East Stroudsburg Invitational Tournament in Pennsylvania.

Mariott began the day against the Long Island University Blackbirds. The Red Foxes had the game tied at 3-3 after seven innings, but the Blackbirds scored two runs in the tenth to win 5-3.

Later in the day, Mariott was defeated by the Colonials 2-1 in eight innings.

Starters Kirkman Wallace and Sophie H., who was named the MVP of the tournament. She smacked an RBI double to account for one of the Red Foxes' early runs.

On its way to scoring seven earn-est runs and 11 hits, Mariott scored 3 runs in the first inning. Smith had 3 RBIs, while Mariott Dryer recorded two RBIs in the fifth and sixth innings to close out its 7-4 opening round loss.

"We just didn't hit the ball well enough," he said. "They had some strong performances, but we have to stay positive.

The most disappointing loss of the day came in game two, said Chievelli.

Leading East Stroudsburg 4-3 in the seventh inning, Mariott let up a two-out, two-run single to Sue Statton, who scored the winning run.

"We had a couple of good chances," said Chievelli. "I am proud of our team." Chievelli added.

Tricia Southworth went the distance in both games, earning the loss as Mariott rapped out six hits and two walks in six innings of play.

"It was a good effort," said Chievelli. "The offensive game was one-sided.

In the second game, Mariott came back to win 9-3 against the Colonials.

The two runs Mariott could muster were unearned as Terri Smith and Sophie H. went 2-for-4 to help Mariott score the error and score on a groundout.

"I really wanted that last game," said Chievelli. "We can't fault...so far SOFTBALL page 11

It's true, you can never get enough baseball

I never thought the Atlanta Braves would win the National League West.

After Greg Nixon went down, I thought the Braves were doomed. Down the stretch, the Dodgers just didn't have enough gas.

But now, the Braves are the second best team in the history of great game to turn it completely around — worst to first.

Joining Atlanta on this list of baseball elite are the Minnesota Twins — the American League West champs.

It's hard to imagine how great a feat these teams have accomplished. The next best is understandable, think of it this way: a 100-win team turned it around and won the American League East next year.

So is it possible? Both teams have their hands full in 2013. But they both will meet in the postseason; Minnesota and Toronto both have solid pitching staffs. Toronto has struggled though as of late.

It's true, you can never get enough baseball.

The American League isn't easy one.

Bill Gullickson of the Tigers and Erickson are the only 20 game win-ers in the junior league. Roger Clemens' lead in strikeouts, ERA and innings pitched also cause voters to ponder their decision.

However, Gullickson won't win because his ERA is over 4.00. Neither is Roger Clemens' notching his third award because he was his last to win, both have left the game.

The American League MVP Award will probably go to Joe Martinez, who set a club record with the Blue Jays — won its division.

"I am fully aware that the Orioles were not the most talented team, but a shortstop put up incredible numbers and deserves the honor," said Chievelli.

This year, the MVP is Mike O'Farrell in the Circle's sports editor.