Huh? SGA flip-flops on frat decision

by S.J. RICHARD and DOMINICK PONTANA

The Student Government Association reversed a 7-1 decision penalizing the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity on Tuesday, Sept. 15, and creating confusion within the student senate. The fraternity had asserted that the SGA and its Marist High School chapter. The student's original punishment, rendered on Sept. 8, included the college's requirement to cancel the rush, as well as sending a letter to its national chapter and freezing the club's funds, according to Nella Licari, SGA president. However, Tom Arnold, then-president of Sigma Phi Epsilon, appealed these sanctions, and the SGA's motion was made to amend the first reporting deadline and calling for the offices of the fraternity to resign. The motion passed on a 4-0 vote when three senators reversed their votes on censuring rush and four senators abstained from voting. Licari said she was "shocked" by the SGA's decision, adding that the fraternity's rush was the main part of its punishment. "We were throwing them out of their house, "they (Sigma Phi Epsilon) got away with a slap of the wrist, "unavailable for comment. Licari said the college administration was "baffled" by the out come of the decision. "The college comes out with this strict decision, then they turn themselves around, "said Licari. "(Susan Lynch) asked me, 'What is the senate's role?'" Despite the confusion with SGA, administrators said they were...see SENATE page 10

Mullenn named temporary debate coach

by WILBERT DEN OUDEN

Staff Writer

The Marist College Debate Team named Mary Amell Mullenn its new interim debate coach, filling the void left by James Springer who resigned last April after he could not account for the $3,000 in revenues missing from Marist's national debate camp's 1991 budget. Mullenn, a native of Poughkeepsie, attended Siena College for her bachelor of arts and received her master's degree from Marist College. Mullenn was the assistant coach under Springer in 1989, but she resigned to take a full-time teaching position at Liberty High School in Sullivan County, N.Y. Mullenn said she understands this is a one-year interim position while the college looks for a permanent replacement for Springer. According to Mullenn, she wants the team members to get more out of debate practice and competition than just competitiveness. A balance between the educational, recreational and competitive aspects of debate is what Mullenn said she hopes to accomplish with the team. Mullenn said no radical changes are in store for the debate team because Springer was her teacher, and all her experience and knowledge is from him. Mullenn named Dennis Creagh, the Marist Information Center manager; and Julie Faurnaum, a member of the Marist's 1992 scholastic All-American debate, as her assistant coaches. "We have a balance in the coaching staff—three people with three different strengths is a real advantage," said Mullenn. Frank Fritzly, a senior from Elmsford, N.Y. and four-year debater, said he is not worried about having a new coach. "We know she works well because she was our assistant coach during freshman year," said Fritzly. Fritzly added that Mullenn brings a lot of experience and direction to the team, but keeps the coach/team relationship. "We were always there in the past. Greg Maxim, a senior from Clearwater, Fla., and a four-year debater, said his team is on the same page: "Competition is weaker than before because the rest of the competition is leaning as far above the educational and recreational aspects of debate as Springer had."

Maxim said the team should improve. "The team is developing a little and differently different approach that can debate. Fritzly said he also has high hope for the team. He emphasized that only Mullenn is new and the members of last year's team are still there.

Racial vandalism angers campus

by ANASTASIA B. CUSTER

Staff Writer

The business manager of the Mid-Hudson Business Park discovered the third "KKK" spray painted on windows and doors on Sept. 14. Although the paint is now gone, the feelings about the incident have not disappeared. "I didn't think that sort of thing still happened," said sophomore Sherani Rudeleid, from Bronx, N.Y. "It makes me think we are moving backward instead of forward."

Rudeleid was just one of the many students and administrators who condemned the vandalism at the Mid-Hudson Business Park, located across the street from Lowell. "I really don't appreciate it happening. The fact that people think in that stupid way, and that it happened to my neighbor, really hit home," said sophomore Colleen Owens, from Jackson, N.J. Marist President Donald was not just one to the administration, "there is no place for the Ku Khx Khan on this campus or in Dutchess County."

Although many of the students criticized the graffiti, one student criticized Marist. "It's a start what he's (President Murray) doing, but a lot more especially needed to happen. It's a very small and not completely equipments in the administration. Your lucky if you find a female up there," said Black Student Union president and sophomore Colleen Barnes. Several students and the president commenting about the vandalism. S.M. Khait, professor of Communication arts, expressed statement about the incident. "Our own Donald did 'the right thing' in aler- ining members of the Marist academic community to the seriousness of the issues involved. One can only hope that reasonable leaders in other relevant institutions—particularly the media and the Criminal Justice System—will be as fortitudinous," said Ricketts.

Although Ricketts said it was a start, she also said there must be a change. "Action speaks louder than words," said Ricketts. The Mid-Hudson Business Park contains Marist programs including STEP, CSTEP and a new office of Off Campus Education at Pace University, according to Peter Bracken, building manager. According to Ed Hydny, director of college relations, even though a few programs in the Mid-Hudson Business Park are Marist, Ricketts choices are not...see VANDALISM page 10

Rape Awareness Week hopes to educate

by CARI OLKESWICZ

Staff Writer

According to the published crime statistics under the "Student Right to Know and Campus Security Act," no reported rapes have occurred at Marist College in the past three years. This does not mean they have not occurred. A 1992 study revealed that one in six women will be the victim of rape. Date rape is defined in the 1992 Marist Sexual and Date Rape Prevention, "as sexual intercourse against a person's will and without his/her consent by someone the victim knows."

"With the statistics citing the sexual violence prevention of none of us have any reason to believe Marist is any different," Roberta Amato, director of counseling, said. Awareness of the crime is growing on campus, beginning with Sept. 21-25 being declared Rape and Sexual Assault Awareness Week. A task force of students, faculty and mentors has been assembled, and will sponsor events throughout the week, including in- formation table, discussion groups and a "Take Back the Night" march. "The march is powerful because it opens up the campus to awareness," Audrey Rodrigue, Shoshun Hall mentor, said. "We are trying to educate people and make both men and women aware." Amato said date rape is one of the most under-reported crimes today for many reasons. "There is still that rape mythology that says you deserved it because of what you were wearing or where you were going," Amato said. People react differently after being raped, and it should be the victim's choice whether or not to report the crime. "Sometimes a criminal procedure will traumatize the victim," she said. "Others find it empowering to come forward and say, 'You did this to me, you should be punished.'" Director of Safety and Security Joseph Leary said he strongly urges someone who is raped to prosecute, but that it is the victim's choice. Leary insists no rapes have been reported in the period of 1989-1991. "If a rape is reported, we first support the vic- tim and get counseling," Leary said. "We'd encourage police in- veeves to the campus and hospital investigation of the allegation."

While low self-esteem and reac- tion to trauma play a role, many victims choosing not to report, there is also the fear that nothing will be done. The William Kennedy Smith trial became the first of the most publicized cases of alleged date rape, and Amato said some examples demonstrates the difficulty in pro- ving a date rape allegation. "The Kennedy Smith and Mike Tyson trials were good in that they got more people talking about the problem," Amato said. "But there are others who want to be silent and do not want to blame in both of those cases."

Two Marist freshmen, Sina Pace and Laurie Ferrario, are tak- ing rape awareness and prevention one step further by organizing a group called HELP: Helping Em- powered Losing Emotional Prevention. The group seeks to educate and inform students about the effects of date rape is an 'epidemic on the Marist campus, Pace said. HELP also seeks to be an insti- tution of self-defense among students by promoting awareness. From Pace, from Ossining, N.Y., said HELP has three major goals, which Pace said they plan to educate students, especially freshmen, to stay up-to-date and to insti- tution an escort service among students by promoting awareness. From Pace, from Ossining, N.Y., said HELP has three major goals, which Pace said they plan to educate students, especially freshmen, to stay up-to-date and to insti- tution an escort service among students by promoting awareness. From Pace, from Ossining, N.Y., said HELP has three major goals, which Pace said they plan to educate students, especially freshmen, to stay up-to-date and to insti-
"Single White Female" leaves viewer wondering

JENNIFER GIANDOLIA

"Single White Female"... That's the beginning of the old song you used to hear on the radio in the eighties. I mean, people used to sing that song. I used to sing it. But now it's just a line in a movie. A line that describes the main character. And it's also a line that describes the movie itself. It's a movie about a single woman who is looking for love, but can't seem to find it. She's been hurt before, and she's afraid to open her heart again. But she's also determined to find love, no matter what.

"The Reel Story"

Jennifer Giandolia

"Single White Female" has been a hit at the box office, and for good reason. The movie is funny, it's emotional, and it's a love story. It's a story about a woman who is trying to find her place in the world, and it's a story about love and friendship. It's a story that will make you laugh, and it will make you cry. It's a story that will make you think.

"POp mens from Barry Manilow to Neil Young to Arrested Development"

DANA BUONCINTI

POp mens from Barry Manilow to Neil Young to Arrested Development. That's what's on the menu this week. Barry Manilow is back with his latest album, "The Man," and he's more pop than ever. Neil Young is just as good as ever, with his latest album, "Harvest Moon." And Arrested Development is making us laugh with their latest album, "The Best Is Yet to Come."

"Sneakers smelld better for older and paired audience"

KRAIG DEMATTES

Sneakers smell better for older and paired audience. That's what the experts say. And it's true. Older people tend to have more sensitive noses than younger people, which means they can smell sweat and other odors more easily. So if you're looking for a new pair of sneakers, make sure you choose something that's going to be comfortable and that's going to smell good.

"Campus set for big changes in housing plans"

TRICIA TASHLEY

As enrollment continues to rise, the University of California, Berkeley is looking to make some changes to its housing plans. The university is considering a number of options, including building more dorms, expanding existing dorms, and adding new housing facilities.

"Marist students speak to each other through "cordonless" phones"

KIRK COOK

Marist students speak to each other through "cordonless" phones. These phones allow students to communicate with each other without having to be in the same room. They're great for students who need to talk to each other quickly or who need to keep their conversations private.

"Freshmen to aid newcomers"

KIRK COOK

Freshmen to aid newcomers. The freshmen will be working with a group of seniors to help them adjust to college life. The freshmen will be paired with a senior in their class, and they will work together to make sure the freshmen feel comfortable and supported.

"Canterbury cabbies do more than just drive"

DIANNE PAPA

Canterbury cabbies do more than just drive. They have a variety of jobs, and they do them with a smile. They are a real asset to the community, and they are always willing to help.

"Critics' corner"

Diana PAPA

Canterbury cabbies do more than just drive. They have a variety of jobs, and they do them with a smile. They are a real asset to the community, and they are always willing to help.

"Mourn's back account, Sidney stands firm, Bob Ross becomes a talking point, David Letterman and Barbra Streisand have their own parties, and the Rodfells write a song about their pet.

"KRAIF DEMATTES

Mourn's back account, Sidney stands firm, Bob Ross becomes a talking point, David Letterman and Barbra Streisand have their own parties, and the Rodfells write a song about their pet.

"Canterbury cabbies do more than just drive"

DIANNE PAPA

Canterbury cabbies do more than just drive. They have a variety of jobs, and they do them with a smile. They are a real asset to the community, and they are always willing to help.

"Critics' corner"

Diana PAPA

Canterbury cabbies do more than just drive. They have a variety of jobs, and they do them with a smile. They are a real asset to the community, and they are always willing to help.

"Mourn's back account, Sidney stands firm, Bob Ross becomes a talking point, David Letterman and Barbra Streisand have their own parties, and the Rodfells write a song about their pet."
"Single White Female" leaves viewer wondering

by JENNIFER GIANDALONE

"Single White Female" (Chen) leaves viewers wondering whether the film is a serious one or if it's meant to be funny. The film's protagonist, Ali (Sarah Jessica Parker), is a young woman who is trying to find love in a world where relationships are not easy to come by. Ali, however, is a bit too focused on herself and her needs, which makes it difficult for her to connect with others.

The film opens with Ali looking for love in all the wrong places. She meets with a serial killer, a married man, and a drug dealer before finally finding love with a man named Bob (Bobby Cannavale). However, the relationship does not last long and Ali soon finds herself back in the same situation as before.

While "Single White Female" may not be the most original film, it is entertaining enough to keep viewers engaged. Sarah Jessica Parker delivers a strong performance as Ali, and the film's overall tone is light and funny.

"The Real Story"

Jennifer Giandalone

Campus set for big changes in housing plans

by TRICIA TASIKEY

At the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, construction has begun on a new student housing complex. The complex, known as "The Commons," will include 800 student rooms and will be located near the main campus.

The construction of "The Commons" is part of a larger plan to modernize the university's housing facilities. The university plans to build additional housing complexes over the next several years, with the goal of providing more comfortable and affordable housing options for students.

The construction of "The Commons" is expected to be completed in 2024. Once complete, the facility will be open to students, and the university hopes that it will help to improve student life on campus.

Marist students speak to each other through "cordless phones"

Freshmen to aid newcomers

by KARELIA LACHAIN

Marist College, a private, Catholic, liberal arts college located in Poughkeepsie, New York, is known for its strong focus on student engagement and community service. The college is home to a diverse student body of approximately 6,000 students, with a significant number of students coming from out of state.

One of the ways that Marist College fosters student engagement is through its Freshman Seminar Program. The program, which is mandatory for all first-year students, is designed to help students adjust to college life and to introduce them to the college's academic and social communities.

The program includes a number of activities, such as group discussions, panel discussions, and small group meetings with faculty members. The program is designed to help students develop important skills, such as critical thinking and problem-solving.

The program is led by a team of experienced faculty members, who are selected based on their expertise and their ability to engage students. The program is highly regarded by students, who report that it has helped them to adjust to college life and to feel more connected to the college.

"Sneakers" smells better for older and paired audience

by KRAIG DEMATTES

"Sneakers," a new film released last year, has been hailed as one of the best movies of the year. The film, directed by Mark Romanek, tells the story of a group of young athletes who are trying to make it big in the world of professional tennis.

The film has received critical acclaim for its strong performances, its engaging story, and its excellent use of music. The film features a soundtrack that includes songs by some of the biggest names in the music industry, and the film's soundtrack has been praised for its ability to capture the spirit of the tennis world.

Overall, "Sneakers" is a great film that is sure to please both older and younger audiences. The film is a must-see for anyone who loves sports or is interested in the world of professional tennis.
New fraternity calls Marist home

by JOSEPH CALABRESE

The Student Senate will vote Tuesday, Oct. 11 to make the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity the newest chapter on campus.

The Student Senate will have the opportunity to vote on the proposal to accept the chapter at a meeting before noon, Tuesday. If the proposal is approved, Phi Sigma Kappa would become the first new fraternity at Marist in at least 25 years, and the fraternity would be the first new fraternity to be recognized by the university in at least 20 years.

The fraternity's approval is contingent on a successful campus visit by the national chapter. The fraternity must have a minimum of 10 members to be approved, and the national chapter must have a minimum of 60 members and a good reputation.

If approved, Phi Sigma Kappa would have the opportunity to participate in the university's Greek Life organizations, including the Greek Life Council and the Greek Life Council of Advisors. The fraternity would also have the opportunity to participate in the university's Greek Life events and competitions, including the Greek Life Olympics and the Greek Life Honor Society.

The fraternity's approval is contingent on a successful campus visit by the national chapter. The fraternity must have a minimum of 10 members to be approved, and the national chapter must have a minimum of 60 members and a good reputation.

If approved, Phi Sigma Kappa would have the opportunity to participate in the university's Greek Life organizations, including the Greek Life Council and the Greek Life Council of Advisors. The fraternity would also have the opportunity to participate in the university's Greek Life events and competitions, including the Greek Life Olympics and the Greek Life Honor Society.
New fraternity calls Marist home

by JOSEPH CALABRESE

The freshman class will have its first major activity of the term when the new Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity is formally chartered Thursday.

The fraternity, chartered by the University, has been active on campus for some time but has never been formally recognized.

"The situation has been kind of a blur," said Delta
C. Holder, president.

The fraternity was offered a charter in late November, but the Negro fraternity was not informed of the charter until last week.

"The charter was deputized
to the fraternity chapter and signed by the University president," Holder said.

"At the point of resolution
the fraternity was elevated to a chapter," Holder said.

"The charter is more than a formality," Holder said.

"It is the first time that Phi Sigma Kappa has been
recognized as a chapter.

"To the best of my knowledge, this is the first time that any Negro fraternity has been recognized at Marist College.

"The charter is an acknowledgment of the existence of the fraternity,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is now
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.

"The fraternity is
recognized as a chapter
and will have the same
rights and privileges as
other chapters.

"The charter is the first
step towards the
establishment of a
chapter,
" Holder said.
Faith no more?

Jose Ortega y Gasset, Spanish philosopher, defines crisis as the point one reaches when one no longer has convictions.

The Student Government Association seems to be in a crisis. It seems to have no faith in its decisions. The student senate handed down a tough 7-1 ruling on Sept. 8 punishing the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity for violations of its Mariott charter and the Fraternity Insurance Purchasing Group. Nella Licari, SGA president, and most members of the student senate said they were satisfied with the decision, which included canceling the fraternity’s status. It was then that the controversy that has been the main point of the punishment.

Seven days later four of these same stuents and satisfied senators changed their minds and voted to reinstate Sig Phi E’s. Two other senators abstained from voting, altogether. What changed? Noghekin, according to Jeff Schilken, who abstained from the vote, and the student senate held no new evidence on Sept. 18. He changed his mind on ratifying the rules. Audie Prescotti also did not vote. She said she was “confused by the contradicting stories” whom the heard about the incident. Brian Vetter, who cast one of the voting votes, declined to comment on his vote. He said “I just want to put this all behind me.”

Other senators just pointed their minds on the issue, like Michael Fogarty who seemed disappointed when asked his opinions on the abstentions. Fogarty said he thought students should vote for one side of the arguments or the other. The end, Fogarty chose both sides, voting first to cancel then later to reinstate Sig Phi E’s. Now Kibatna was the only senator who was consistent. Kibatna was opposed to cancelling the rules from the beginning. He is the only senator who seemed to know why he voted the way he did. The first vote was the hard decision. It showed students who care about the violence and the potential for violence. The second vote was easier. Sig Phi E’s was prepared to make the tough calls. Then, the senators turn against each other.

Debate are divided their minds; however, changes as abrupt as this should be based on reason and conviction.

The students are left to wonder if perhaps the senate did not go as far as it could have, further thought on the Sept. 8 vote. Or, perhaps some senators’ original votes were cast with more.

More likely, theiasco can be attributed to students unprepared for the role of a senator. The students forget that they are not merely students anymore. They have been elected to an office that requires them to pass judgment which is not always fun but must be done. But a senator must be not whether Sig Phi E’s got away with murder” as Licari put it, but that SGA seemed to be reacting without consideration after the outcome of the Sept. 13 vote. Such a crisis undermines confidence of a student government. How can a government without faith in itself be trusted? Schieno said he hoped people would “not lose faith” in SGA. However, the question could well be: has SGA lost faith in itself?

The making of a perfect president

To save planet earth we must love it or leave it

One of the major problems that face this world is the issue of climate change. The earth is facing a critical point where the temperature is rising at an alarming rate, leading to significant environmental consequences. This issue has been a cause of concern for stakeholders from various sectors, including governments, environmental organizations, and individuals. As a result, there is a pressing need for a leader who can effectively address this issue and make the necessary changes to ensure a sustainable future.

President Joe Biden is a perfect candidate to lead the nation towards a sustainable future. He has been a vocal advocate for environmental issues throughout his career, and his policies reflect this commitment. His administration has already taken significant steps towards addressing climate change, including the implementation of policies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and promoting renewable energy sources. In addition, President Biden has shown leadership in international efforts to combat climate change, including the Paris Agreement.

However, the road to a sustainable future is not an easy one. It requires collaboration and commitment from all sectors, and President Biden will need to work closely with Congress and other stakeholders to ensure that his policies are effectively implemented. Furthermore, the issue of climate change is complex and multifaceted, requiring a holistic approach that addresses both the economic and environmental dimensions. Despite these challenges, President Biden’s expertise and commitment to environmental issues make him a strong candidate to lead the nation towards a sustainable future.

In conclusion, President Joe Biden is the perfect candidate to lead the nation towards a sustainable future. His commitment to environmental issues and his policies reflect this commitment. While the road to a sustainable future is not easy, President Biden’s expertise and commitment make him a strong candidate to ensure a sustainable future for the planet.
Faith no more?

Jose Ortega y Gasset, Spanish philosopher, defines crisis as the point one reaches when one no longer has convictions.

The Student Government Association seems to be in a crisis. It seems to have no faith in its decisions. The student senate handed down a tough 7-1 ruling on Sept. 8 punishing the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity for violations of its Marit trial and the Fraternity Injunction Purchase Group.

Nella Licari, SGA president, and most members of the student senate said they were satisfied with the decision, which included canceling the fraternity’s rush.

Several said the move canceling rush as the main point of the punishment.

Seven days later four of these staunch and satisfied senators changed their minds and voted to reinstate Sig Eve’s rush. For other senators abstained from voting, whatever. Changed what? Nelligan, according to Jewell Schutt, the student senate foreman, who was later excluded from the hearing on new evidence on Sept. 13. To change his mind on reinstating the rush. Andrea Prezioso also did not vote. She said she was “confused by the contradicting stories” she heard about the incident. Brian Vetter, who cast one of the dissenting votes, declined to comment on his vote. Said he “feels I just want to put this all behind me. Other senators just clashed against their minds on the issue, like Michael Fogarty who seemed disappointed when asked his opinion on the abstention.

Fogarty said he thought people should vote for one side of the senators or the other. To the end, Fogarty chose both sides, voting first to cancel rush then later to reinstate. Unlike Kinehart who was the only senator who was consistent. Kinehart opposed to canceling the rush from the beginning. He was the only senator who seemed to know why he voted the way he did. The first votes that they took in the matter. It showed the sensitivity of the issue. That SGA was prepared to make tough calls. Then, the senators turn against, and buckled.

Both are identified to change their minds, however, changes as abrupt as this should be based on reason and, consequently, forbidden to.

The students are left to wonder if perhaps the senate did not plan their decision through the Sept. 8 vote. Or, perhaps some senators’ original votes were cast with malice.

More likely, the faculty can be attributed to students unprepared for the role of senator. The senators forget that they are not merely students anymore. They have been elected to an office that requires them to pass judgment which is not always fun but must be done. There is no right or wrong or Sig Eve “got away with murder” as Licari put it. But SIGA seemed to be taking judgment with the same.”

The making of a perfect president

In AARON WARD

I was recently told of another one of Campaign ’92’s great issues: health care. It is difficult to understand the concept of a president who would not consider health care. It may be that I am not aware of the true issues. But because of what I am aware of, I believe we need a president who understands this country’s needs.

I am aware that there are many different political philosophies and that different people have different ideas about what is the best way to approach the problem of health care. I am also aware that there are many different perspectives on what the government’s role should be in providing health care.

But because of what I am aware of, I believe we need a president who understands health care issues. The President needs to be aware of the different perspectives and to be able to work with people from different backgrounds to find a solution that works for all.

I believe that we need a president who is aware of the importance of health care and who is willing to work towards a solution that benefits everyone. The President needs to be aware of the different challenges and to be able to work with people from different backgrounds to find a solution that works for all.

Words from A Perfect President

To save planet earth we must love it or leave it

By DAVE BARRITT

Earth is love or hate it. If you choose to love it, you will have no more problem of being lonely since you will have a whole planet to love. If you choose to hate it, you will have no problem of being lonely since you will have nowhere to love. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the love of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the hate of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

There is no way to escape the fact that we are all connected. We are all part of the whole. If you choose to love it, you will love all of it. If you choose to hate it, you will hate all of it. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the love of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the hate of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

There is no way to escape the fact that we are all connected. We are all part of the whole. If you choose to love it, you will love all of it. If you choose to hate it, you will hate all of it. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the love of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the hate of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

There is no way to escape the fact that we are all connected. We are all part of the whole. If you choose to love it, you will love all of it. If you choose to hate it, you will hate all of it. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the love of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the hate of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

There is no way to escape the fact that we are all connected. We are all part of the whole. If you choose to love it, you will love all of it. If you choose to hate it, you will hate all of it. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the love of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the hate of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the joy of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

If you choose to love it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. If you choose to hate it, you will have the peace of the whole planet. It is a choice. Your choice.

There is no way to escape the fact that we are all connected. We are all part of the whole. If you choose to love it, you will love all of it. If you choose to hate it, you will hate all of it. It is a choice. Your choice.
Marist professor shares his experiences in Ukraine

by KRISTEN MCGAUGH Staff Writer

John Harrick, assistant professor of journalism, said he was excited to study in the Ukraine as part of the Marist study abroad exchange last fall.

"I had the opportunity to travel and learn about Ukraine and its culture. I learned so much from this experience, and I will always be grateful for the opportunity to study abroad." Harrick said.

For the first few weeks of the program, Harrick said, it was a lot of reading and researching. "I was excited to be in Ukraine and learn about its history and culture." Harrick said. "I am very grateful for the opportunity to study abroad last fall." Harrick said.

His holiday became a working experience when he was asked to give a presentation on Ukraine even through the Russian-Ukranian conflict which had swept the country for over a decade. "We had to make sure we were safe and we had to make sure we were respectful of the local culture," Harrick said. "We had to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

A brief stop in the city before Christmas, Harrick again returned to the Ukraine to work on his journalism studies at the University of Kishinev. "The students were learning about American culture, but they were also learning about their own culture," Harrick said. "We had to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

Harrick was asked about how much he was missing his family at home. "I was actually able to see my family over Christmas," Harrick said. "I was able to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

Seniors wonder what the future has in store

by EVELYN HERNANDEZ Staff Writer

Pamela Ito of Los Angeles finished her studies and planned to find a job. She knew what she wanted to do and she had a plan. "One of my favorite things about being an athlete is that there are no days off," Ito said. "I knew that I wanted to work hard to achieve my goals." Ito said.

"I was actually able to see my family over Christmas," Harrick said. "I was able to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

"I was actually able to see my family over Christmas," Harrick said. "I was able to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

"I was actually able to see my family over Christmas," Harrick said. "I was able to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

"I was actually able to see my family over Christmas," Harrick said. "I was able to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

"I was actually able to see my family over Christmas," Harrick said. "I was able to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

"I was actually able to see my family over Christmas," Harrick said. "I was able to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.

"I was actually able to see my family over Christmas," Harrick said. "I was able to make sure we were respectful of the local culture." Harrick said.
Marist professor shares his experiences in Ukraine

by KRISTEN MCGAUGHE
Staff Writer

John Harrick, assistant professor of Jewish history, had the unique opportunity to travel to Ukraine as part of the Marist faculty exchange last fall.

"For half a century, I felt remote. I felt the Holocaust was far away and it didn't affect me," Harrick said. "But when we went to the Ukraine as part of the Marist faculty exchange last fall, we went to where it happened. I felt it as a reality."

Harrick's trip was part of a broader effort by Marist College to expand its international reach and to promote cultural understanding. The trip was organized in cooperation with the Ukrainian Jewish Heritage Foundation and the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee.

"I went with a group of other professors from the Catholic University of America, the University of Pennsylvania, and the University of Notre Dame," Harrick said. "We visited the site of the Babi Yar Massacre, the site of the Treblinka death camp, and the site of the Auschwitz-Birkenau concentration camp."

Harrick said the trip was a powerful experience that gave him a deeper understanding of the Holocaust and its lasting impact on the Ukrainian and Jewish communities.

"It was a powerful experience to be able to see the sites of the concentration camps and to be able to hear the stories of the幸存者, " Harrick said. "It was a humbling experience to be able to see the sites of the concentration camps and to be able to hear the stories of the幸存者."

Harrick is currently teaching a course on the Holocaust at Marist College.

"I believe that it is important for students to understand the history of the Holocaust and to be able to learn from the past," Harrick said. "I believe that it is important for students to understand the history of the Holocaust and to be able to learn from the past."
INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

By STEVEN MAERJAN

Faculty and employers alike recognize that gaining an international education is an experience that may open up opportunities in a 21st century world where a broad range of skills is needed to succeed in business and industry.

A study tour to China, for example, can offer a wealth of educational opportunities and experiences that students may not have access to in their local communities. However, study tours can also be very time-consuming, expensive, and difficult to arrange.

Despite the challenges, the benefits of an international experience are well worth the effort. Students who participate in study tours and other international programs are more likely to develop critical thinking skills, cultural awareness, and global perspectives. These skills are essential in today's interconnected world.

In conclusion, while study tours and other international programs can be challenging, they offer students a unique opportunity to gain valuable educational experiences that can prepare them for success in the global marketplace.
Intern experience valuable by STEVEN MASERIAN

Faculty and employers alike understand that real-life experience is an important component of the college experience. A recent working group report, 2.3% of jobs in the U.S. have some kind of college training. Each year, the DEC's Office of Career Services offers internships in various fields.

Although internships open up the way for jobs in the future, there are a few things to consider when preparing for an internship.

"You have to do the research about the company before you apply," said Rinaldo. "Make sure they have a good reputation and the work you'll be doing is what you enjoy." Additionally, it's important to network and build relationships with professionals in your field of interest.

"It's also important to have a clear idea of what you want to achieve from the internship and what skills you can learn," said Rinaldo.

The DEC's Office of Career Services offers a variety of resources for students looking to find internships, including workshops and online resources.

"Our goal is to help students find valuable internships that will prepare them for future employment," said Rinaldo.

This is a great opportunity for students to gain valuable work experience and make valuable connections in their field of interest.

"We encourage students to take advantage of this program and to pursue internships that align with their career goals," said Rinaldo.

Boomers bust out, end goal achieved by TED HOLMUD

On Saturday, the mammal species, named something or other, turned 50. The species, known for their long lives and notable contributions to society, marked the milestone with a celebration.

"It's truly an honor to be here today," said one of the species, "and I couldn't be more thrilled to be celebrating this important milestone." The species have made significant contributions to society, from their work in research to their dedication to conservation efforts.

"We are committed to continuing our work to ensure the health and well-being of our species for generations to come," said another representative.

As the species gathered to celebrate their milestone, attendees enjoyed a variety of activities, including speeches, performances, and festivities.

"We are grateful for the support of our communities and for the continued dedication of our supporters," said one of the species.

"We look forward to continuing to make a difference in the world for years to come," said another representative.

"Wow, it's been quite a year," said one of the species, "and I couldn't be more proud of what we've accomplished."

"I feel like we've accomplished so much," said another representative. "We've worked hard, and it's paid off."

"It's really been an amazing year," said one of the species. "We've accomplished so much, and I couldn't be more proud of what we've accomplished."
Carraro, defense save Red Foxes

by J.W. STEWART
Sports Editor

Does D’Alton’s? Who’s that question is probably floating in the minds of the football coaches at St. John and Pace University. For there is now a new force for coaches in the Liberty Conference to be concerned

His name? Kyle Carraro.

Carraro has run out with a strained hamstring, his would-be backfield mate in turning some heads with his D’Alton-like numbers. The sophomore was an attacking offensive force once again last weekend, this time against Pace.

The Monore, Conn. native rushed for 142 yards on 19 carries, scored all three Maurice touchdowns and directed the Red Foxes to an 18-13 victory in their first-ever Liberty Conference game. To put things in perspective, Carraro has run for more yards (296) in two games this year than he did all last year (242) in nine games. Carraro scored on runs of 3, 3 and 66 yards and was one of the few solid players on offense, according to Head Coach Jim Parady. “Offensively, we have to be more consist

The Foxes also had two touchdowns calls back on penalties and fumbled the ball once on the goal line, much to Parady’s dismay.

“It was an ugly, ugly game,” he said. “But we’re gonna have some of those, that’s life.”

The Foxes were not the only ones looking ugly early. The Red Foxes fumbled the opening kickoff and Pace subsequently scored on a reverse to make it 7-0. After the Foxes hurried a touchdown number one late in the first quarter on a three-yard plunge. The point-after was blocked, so the score remained 7-0. Late in the second half there did not exist of his scoring in the third, including the longest run of the day—his 68-yard sprint.

Marine failed on two PAT’s in the quarter and entered the final quarter up 18-7.

...see GRIDDERS page 11

Netters drop two of three, play host to Gaels today

by THERI L. STEWART
Staff Writer

The women’s tennis team is stung with a lack of players—missing seven starters from last year. The team started for the fall ’92 season, the Lady Red Foxes only consisted of six players, while the minimum number needed for legal tennis action (six singles and three doubles teams). Due to a little bit of coaching, the team managed to get seven players, but the number was below the mark, as evidenced last week when the women played three matches in six days. In Sunday’s match, the women lost to Manhattan, 9-0, in singles action, both Kasy Schmidt and Ramon Twomey fell. Despite missing the Foxes found themselves in a hole from which it could not

However, senior Kim Haight

defeated Wendy Schwaigerd in the next match, 6-2, 6-0.

“She came through today again, won the match like she had nothing in the parking lot,” said Head Coach Ken Harrison.

Despite Haight’s win, Marist lost the next three matches and could not come back.

“We gave it our best and didn’t come out on top. It was close enough to say that next time we could come out on top,” Harrison said.

On Tuesday, the women lost to an experienced Fairleigh Dickinson, 6-0. “Fairfield was much stronger, the girls tried to apply different tactics but were just overwhelmed,” said Haight.

The Lady Red Foxes conceded a singles match and a doubles match due to lack of players. Later in the week, Marist battled Buffalo and won 7-2, highlighted by Seward’s first win of the season.

Ladies v-ball split last two; record 3-5

by ANDREW HOLMLUND
Staff Writer

The women’s volleyball team was looking to turn their winning form last Thursday by handily defeating Northern Conference foe St. Francis (N.Y.), 15-8, 15-7, and 15-5.

Marist, which improved its record to 3-5, received senior Nicole Sileni, who recorded a team-high 31 kills, and five blocks, while senior Robin Guln slammed down eight kills.

Part of the reason the Red Foxes were victorious was due to excellent serving. Throughout the whole match, the team was successful on the majority of its service points.

First-year head coach Sally Johnston said she was very pleased with the win. “We are starting to play together. At the beginning we were moments of indecision, but I was glad to see the girls all come together,” she said.

Johnston said she was particularly impressed with the play of Sileni and sophomore Nikky Kyle.

“Nikky and Nicole were big boons for us, and Nikky just played great defense,” she said.

Last Thursday the varsity was dealt a 15-12, 15-11, and 15-6 setback at

Harriers continue strong pace, both third at King’s Invitational

by MIKE WALSH
Staff Writer

For the second straight meet, the Marist men’s and women’s cross-country teams each took third-place honors. Junior David Swift led the way for the men, while senior Sarah Sheehan paced the women.

In the men’s group, Trenton State and Stone Brook ended with an equal number of points, with Trenton winning as a result of a tie-breaking procedure. The Foxes were just two points behind the leaders in the ten-team field. One might expect coach Pete Cotalico to be somewhat disappointed by his team’s third-place finish while first last season. But Cotalico pointed to the fact that the team has been able to keep its scoring in the third, including the longest run of the day—his 68-yard sprint.

“Close to home, Fenney said he was excited about the performance. “We pulled it together as a team, and we’re working well together. No one seems to be out for only themselves,” he said. The women broke finish behind Monmouth and Wagner was not as close as the men’s was, but was equally satisfact

By lksonic, Fenney said he was excited about the performance. “We pulled it together as a team, and we’re working well together. No one seems to be out for only themselves,” he said. The women broke finish behind Monmouth and Wagner was not as close as the men’s was, but was equally satisfact

Success hinges on Scott and “Back Four”

by J.W. STEWART
Thursday Morning Quarterback

Northport, N.Y. “We do our best to stop goals from going in, but we need others to put the ball in the net for us.”

The offense revolves around senior forward Shawn Scott, Scott, who hails from Wappingers Falls, N.Y., is coming off a banner year.

He led the team in scoring last year and garnered All-New York All-All Northeast Conference selec

He is considered one of the most dangerous players in the NEC because he can score and pass with ease. A strong performance from him is must if the team is to reach its goals.

Thursday Morning Quarterback

J.W. Stewart is The Circle's sports editor.