McCann weightroom too weak for many students

Po'town's Sammy
Senior Matt Michael has a new pitch page 12

Unwilling hookers
Mariest professor studies Chinese prostitution from 1900-1941 page 3

VOLUME 41, NUMBER 5
Mariest College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

OCTOBER 29, 1992

Mixed reaction to 'Red Hot' theme

by ANASTASIA B. CUSTER
Staff Editor

"Red Hot and Alive" is not a new alternative music band or another AIDS benefit, instead it is the chosen theme for the Mariest College yearbook, the Reynard.

As with numerous yearbook themes, "Red Hot and Alive" may connote many different meanings. However, the editor said the theme reflects life at Mariest.

"The goal for the theme "Red Hot and Alive" is to capture the spirit here. The face of the school is changing, but we wanted to talk about the people who are changing," said Laura Stroh, a majoring in Communication arts from Staten Island, N.Y. However, not everyone was as enthusiastic about the theme as was the editor. "A yearbook should say goodbye and it doesn't appear to be doing that," said Andrea Prezioso, senior class president from Bedford Hills, N.Y. Prezioso was not in favor of the yearbook theme.

"It's a theme. It's energetic, virile but also bombastic and esteticious," said Jonathan Banca, a senior majoring in History from Orange, Conn. "It's really strict... and lacks a little bit to it..." Also, one student said he liked the theme, but not for a yearbook. "It's a theme that has no meaning for me. It's not our current problems," Matt Cheadle, a business major from Ringwood, N.J. said.

Chetaine, a business finance major, said our country's national deficit will get worse before it gets better. "Everybody lost interest compared to the national debt is trivial," he said.

Kathy Gorman, a sophomore from Queens, N.Y., said she wants the next president to get involved with creating new jobs, help small businesses and focus less on foreign affairs and more on the United States. "More money should be spent on the life of the businesses facing hard economic times as well as the individual's efforts to get work," she said. The two major presidential candidates, George Bush and Bill Clinton, have two separate proposed plans concerning the deficit and unemployment.

Bill Clinton and Al Gore, representing the Democratic party, said they plan on cutting the national deficit by half over the next four years if elected. Clinton said he wants to raise taxes for the rich as well as reducing defense spending and putting that money into American jobs.

George Bush and Dan Quayle, representing the Republican party, said they would not raise taxes again. Bush said he wants to create a job program for the young as well as creating a program that would use income tax payments towards the federal deficit.

Many students expressed concern about both candidates ability to fix the problems facing the nation. Kelly Valentine, a junior from East Setauket, N.Y., said it is time to give someone besides Bush a chance. "Bush gave it his best shot, but I think we had enough of his płutocratic and his policies," she said.

Malissa Medina said Bush accomplished nothing in the past four years that would warrant him another four years.

"It would only be a waste of time, even though you can't put the blame on his shoulders," the sophomore from the Bronx said.

Medina said we do not have a great selection of candidates, needing to vote for the lesser of two evils. Other students expressed concern over being able to trust Bill Clinton. "If he's done with his past record and the question over his draft dodging, he is always changing his mind, he shows a lot about his character," Elise Eichbach, a junior from Amenia, N.Y., said. Like many other students Eichbach said she likes what Ross Perot has to say but believes he would be a lose vote. "I don't think Perot will make a difference in the election because he is so low in the polls," Eichbach said. "I want my vote to make a difference," said Cristideld, a junior from Staten Island, N.Y., said Perot adds spice to the election by taking away votes from the other two candidates.

With economy in mind, students ready to cast votes

by JOSEPH CALABRESE
Staff Writer

As election day, Nov. 3 approaches, Mariest students are examining the presidential candidates and focusing on the economy.

"This country needs some good economic advice that will solve our current problems," Matt Cheadle, a business major from Ringwood, N.J. said.

Chetaine, a business finance major, said our country's national deficit will get worse before it gets better. "Everybody lost interest compared to the national debt is trivial," he said.

Kathy Gorman, a sophomore from Queens, N.Y., said she wants the next president to get involved with creating new jobs, help small businesses and focus less on foreign affairs and more on the United States. "More money should be spent on the life of the businesses facing hard economic times as well as the individual's efforts to get work," she said.

Bill Clinton and Al Gore, representing the Democratic party, said they plan on cutting the national deficit by half over the next four years if elected. Clinton said he wants to raise taxes for the rich as well as reducing defense spending and putting that money into American jobs.

George Bush and Dan Quayle, representing the Republican party, said they would not raise taxes again. Bush said he wants to create a job program for the young as well as creating a program that would use income tax payments towards the federal deficit.

Many students expressed concern about both candidates ability to fix the problems facing the nation. Kelly Valentine, a junior from East Setauket, N.Y., said it is time to give someone besides Bush a chance. "Bush gave it his best shot, but I think we had enough of his płutocratic and his policies," she said.

Malissa Medina said Bush accomplished nothing in the past four years that would warrant him another four years.

"It would only be a waste of time, even though you can't put the blame on his shoulders," the sophomore from the Bronx said.

Medina said we do not have a great selection of candidates, needing to vote for the lesser of two evils. Other students expressed concern over being able to trust Bill Clinton. "If he's done with his past record and the question over his draft dodging, he is always changing his mind, he shows a lot about his character," Elise Eichbach, a junior from Amenia, N.Y., said. Like many other students Eichbach said she likes what Ross Perot has to say but believes he would be a lose vote. "I don't think Perot will make a difference in the election because he is so low in the polls," Eichbach said. "I want my vote to make a difference," said Cristideld, a junior from Staten Island, N.Y., said Perot adds spice to the election by taking away votes from the other two candidates.

A nightmare on North Road: They're here

by B.J. RICHARD

Bee Pederson walked into the Sheahan Hall third floor study lounge around 4 a.m. and saw an eerie shadow-like silhouette on the wall in front of her. The shadow then slowly floated across the room and disappeared into the corner without making a sound.

Many schools, old buildings and countries around the world - Mariest is no different.

Many theories guard's weave bizarre, bone-chilling tales of the supernatural, setting scenes as early as Stephen Spielberg, ebbing shivers raising up and down one's spine, the eerie sounds of unknown music hinting at the legend of a Stephen King novel.

Many of these stories center on an actual tragedy in Mariest history.

Like all historical mutations, the versions of this event come to vary and relate contain shadows of what was revealed in the newspaper at the time. Most of these stories trend toward the murder of Shelley Spending earn 18 years ago. Even today this heinous crime is confining, as some details in the Poughkeepsie Journal and the New York Times remains a little vague.

The REAL STORY

Shelley Spending walked to diner in the Mariest College cafeteria on the night of Feb. 18, 1975. She went for the Marriott, a sophomore from Queens, N.Y. Her roommate Renee Bernard left the diners around 5 p.m. that Wednesday and were interrupted by Louis O. Aevedo III and his 12-caliber Jumper sitting in the New York Times.

Spelling, a former boyfriond, was released on $10,000 bail the previous Friday, Valentine 10th time when he appeared in court facing charges of felony assault for fracturing a man's skull and with a hand and a butt on Sept. 29, at the Marriott house, Aevedo, a 20-year-old Dutchess Community College student and his roommate as they raced back into the cafe to catch the Sandman, they believed they had contacted Spelling's spirit and that odd was happening. Before the incident in the study lounge, Pederson was walking upstairs after playing with a Ojla board with some friends on the first floor. As she climbed the steps, she heard footsteps behind her. She turned around but saw no one. Pederson said she became frightened and spurred up the few remaining stairs, she stopped at the top to listen and could still hear the steady rhythm of footsteps behind her. She then walked into the hall and was overjoyed to see a light in the study lounge. "I thought it was odd because nobody ever was in there," said Pederson. "It was just glad someone was awake." Pederson's relief was short-lived. As she peeked into the room, she said she noticed a weird, silhouetted figure of shadow on the wall in front of her.

"All of a sudden the shadow moved," said Pederson. "It floated across the room and disappeared into the corner. It was sort of odd." She said it is highly possible that her mind was playing tricks on her since it was so late. "Normally, you don't tell people about things like this," she said, "because they'll think you're crazy." Another former resident of Sheehan Hall claims that she too had an encounter with a spirit and asked not to be identified, fearing someone would think she was insane for telling her story. This communications major who lives off campus now was getting ready for bed around 1 a.m. in the bathroom when she looked up and saw another girl standing behind her. She didn't hear anyone come in and didn't recognize her so I turned around," she said. "When I did, there was no one there." She describes the face as being pale and somehow having a "certain softness" since the girl seemed to be smiling at her. "I wasn't scared at all," she said, "even after I realized she had disappeared. How could anyone be afraid of something so serene and pretty?" This student said she doesn't associate this to the face's idenity and draws no association to Spelling.

Mike Gordon, now a resident's assistant in Chapman Hall, has a tale of his own. "I don't know when this story took place, although this one has an explanation: a hop. Gordon, a farmer from Atsburo, Mass., lived on the first floor of Sheahan Hall and created quite a stir when playing a trick on a group of people using a Ojia. He scrawled the words "Beware Shelley" on the bathroom mirror in November when some of the peoiple playing with the board discovered the mysterious writing were terrified.

"They flipped out," he said with a smile. The panic that ensued sent shock waves through the Ojia circle which prompted the group to break the board in half and burn it. Gordon said they then threw the pieces with lighted fluid and torched the remains...

...see STORIES page 8
Adults consent to some suspenseful acts

By JENNIFER DINGADELLE

For the Record

There's an old saying that you can't judge a book by its cover. Well, not far to go to prove its premise here. "Conniving Adults" is the latest movie on view around town. Written and directed by Kevin Kline and Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, the film stars a cast of unknowns who are simply wonderful. It's a story about a family that moves into a small town and discovers a secret that could change their lives forever.

The plot thickens when an old woman goes missing. Her disappearance triggers a series of events that lead to the uncovering of a long-buried family secret. The film is a suspenseful and thought-provoking exploration of the human condition and the consequences of past actions.

"Conniving Adults" is a must-see for anyone who enjoys a good mystery. It's available now at all local theaters and on demand.

Soul Asylum good for driving

By DANA BUONCONTI

When I popped the Pan Am Chevy into a new Soul Asylum album, "Gracias and Gratitude," something unexpected happened: I felt good, even happy, while driving.

Reading the back of the CD cover, I noticed that it had been produced by Michael Beinhacker, who has worked with such artists as U2 and The Who. Coincidence, no doubt.

"Gracias and Gratitude" is a collection of 11 songs that feature soulful guitar work and powerful vocals. The album's message of gratitude and appreciation is well-timed, given the current political climate.

Having never heard of Pan Am, or any other Soul Asylum album, I thought I'd give it a listen.

I was pleasantly surprised. The band has a nice blend of soul, rock, and pop influences.

"Gracias and Gratitude" is available now at all major retailers and for streaming on all music platforms.

Haunted house of horrors

By CARL OLESKOWICZ

Volunteer work was never easy in my opinion, but it was always worth it. I've seen the haunted house of horrors they used to have down at the local school when I was a kid.

The group was formed by the students in my grade, and we had to work together to make it happen. We had to come up with ideas and organize the whole thing.

"The haunted houses were always a hit. We would set up spooky scenes and play eerie sounds to scare the pants off the visitors. It was a lot of fun, and I'm glad we were able to create such a memorable experience for the kids.

The haunted house was located in the basement of the school, and it was always a challenge to keep everything running smoothly. We had to make sure the lights were just right, and the sound effects were set just so.

"We worked hard to make the experience as realistic as possible. We had, like, a haunted maze that people could get lost in, and a few scary little rooms.

"The best part of the haunted house was the反应： Squirrels and intruding critters make Marist home eventful, and decided to keep the nuisance.

"We tried to catch it with traps, even fences, a junior, and even with a boomer stick," said Lyons.

But the squirrel managed to find the door to its own home, only after having spent a part of the night in a tree.

"The squirrels," said by Marist students, have been frequent visitors to dorm rooms across campus. "It’s almost like seeing them wandering around your room," said one student.

"The squirrels and small birds have been sniffing at our campers' doors," said another student.

"I think in a way, the squirrels are just looking for a way into the dorms," said a third student.

Squirrels are just one species of furry critters that inhabit the homes of the Red Fox.

"We've seen a few squirrels and even a couple of mice," said Lyons.

"The mice have been a little more of a problem," said another student.

As a result, Lyons said that Marist has started taking steps to prevent rodents from entering dorm rooms.

"We are monitoring the situation and taking steps to prevent further problems," said Lyons.

"We are also trying to be proactive and prevent the problem from occurring again," said Lyons.

Circleophysiology

Dance club to hold Night Performance

EVELYN HERNANDEZ

Members of the dance club will move to the heart of the city, into the modern dance space on Nov. 2. The Marist dance team will perform at The Red Fox, located in the heart of the city.

"We are excited to be performing in such a great venue," said Club President Maria Ramirez.

The dance team will perform a variety of routines, including modern, contemporary, and jazz.

"We want to showcase our talent and give the audience a great show," said Club Vice President Sarah Johnson.

The dance team will perform from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

"We are looking forward to this opportunity to perform in such a great venue," said Club Treasurer Emily Garcia.

Circlephysiology

Members of the dance club will perform at The Red Fox, located in the heart of the city, on Nov. 2.

"We are excited to be performing in such a great venue," said Club President Maria Ramirez.

The dance team will perform a variety of routines, including modern, contemporary, and jazz.

"We want to showcase our talent and give the audience a great show," said Club Vice President Sarah Johnson.

The dance team will perform from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. A dance club performance, which is open to the public, will be held on campus.

"We are looking forward to this opportunity to perform in such a great venue," said Club Treasurer Emily Garcia.

"We are excited to be performing in such a great venue," said Club President Maria Ramirez.

The dance team will perform a variety of routines, including modern, contemporary, and jazz.

"We want to showcase our talent and give the audience a great show," said Club Vice President Sarah Johnson.

The dance team will perform from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. A dance club performance, which is open to the public, will be held on campus.

"We are looking forward to this opportunity to perform in such a great venue," said Club Treasurer Emily Garcia.

Circlephysiology

Members of the dance club will perform at The Red Fox, located in the heart of the city, on Nov. 2.

"We are excited to be performing in such a great venue," said Club President Maria Ramirez.

The dance team will perform a variety of routines, including modern, contemporary, and jazz.

"We want to showcase our talent and give the audience a great show," said Club Vice President Sarah Johnson.

The dance team will perform from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. A dance club performance, which is open to the public, will be held on campus.

"We are looking forward to this opportunity to perform in such a great venue," said Club Treasurer Emily Garcia.
WE TAKE CARE OF OUR OWN AT...

THRIFTY BEVERAGE
DISCOUNT BEER - SODA - KEGS - TAPS - SNACKS - ICE - LOTTO

As a 1982 graduate, Jon Urbahn, owner of Thrifty feels he should give something back to the Marist Community. That is why he set aside certain specials for Marist students only. If you wear anything that says Marist you will be eligible for the MARIST SPECIALS OF THE WEEK. (or show your Marist I.D.)

- OLD MILWAUKEE -------------------------- 24 PACK CANS $7.99
- MEISTER BRAU -------------------------- 12 KEG $34.99
- HOFFMAN SODA -------------------------- ANY FLAVOR $5.69 CASE
- SHARPS NON-ALCOHOLIC -------------------------- 12 PACK $5.99
- CHECKS AND CREDIT CARDS ACCEPTED
-  AND MANY MORE IN STORE SPECIALS...

454-1490
187 N. HAMILTON ST
OPEN 7 DAYS CALL ANYTIME
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Democrat Clinton has best plans of all the candidates

I am a new reader of The Circle. I have been reading the editorial section for many years and I am pleased to see the political balance. I am a Democrat and I have been a supporter of Bill Clinton for many years. I think he is the best candidate for the presidency. I believe he has the best plans and I hope he wins.

Sincerely,

Susan Brown

New breed of Dracula arrives for Halloween

Halloween is one of the most popular holidays in the United States. It is a time when people dress up in costumes and go door to door to ask for candy. This year, there is a new breed of Dracula that has emerged. It is a cross between a vampire and a bat. It is called the "Draculaturn." It has the ability to fly and bite people. It is a dangerous creature that is spreading quickly. I hope they can find a way to stop it.

Sincerely,

John Smith

Editor's note: We encourage all readers to submit their thoughts and ideas. I have included these letters to show the diversity of opinions in our community. I believe it is important to have a balanced and fair perspective on the candidates and their plans. I hope this will be helpful to our readers.

Sincerely,

Caroline Johnson
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Democrat Clinton has best plans of all the candidates

Clinton as president a bad idea

New breed of Dracula arrives for Halloween

WANTED STUDENT WRITERS FOR THE JOHN P. ANDERSON MEMORIAL AWARD

TARAS STAPONOWICZ

Liu is the bubbles

TAE EPSILON PHI FRAT.

URGES STUDENTS

DON'T DRINK & DRIVE

G&A TAXI (914) 454-0033
STORIES
continued from page 1
the broken on the corner between Len and Sheehan Halls, with a security guard looking on in amusement.
A few blocks away, on the corner of another building, a woman who identified herself as Kara Remo, another sapphire who didn’t want to be identified, said she didn’t believe in ghosts either.
Remo, who was walking along the corner of a building, said she was at a party and then went to the corner of another building.
She said there was a ghost standing there, which she described as a black figure.
She said that the ghost touched her on her face and then left.

Another student, who didn’t want to be identified, said she didn’t believe in ghosts.
She said she had heard of ghosts, but she didn’t believe in them.

Others, however, believe in
ghosts.

The President’s View
By Don Mathers
Day or any day you want.

prepare for upcoming exams:
GRE begins Oct. 24
LSAT begins Oct. 31
Get 5% Off The
Lowest Travel Fare
You Can Find.
That includes Spring Break, Winter Breaks or any time you need a break.

McCongaig, right-off-superior,
results as resident in Chester
Finger, is a few seconds ago
when suddenly a light appeared
on the first floor — the
building was empty.

He said he didn’t know of any such phenomenon, at least
described as a black figure.
She said she was in the
hallway and saw a ghost
standing there.

Starrs, a security guard,
said he knew about a few
different sightings.

Hankins and a security officer
were in the Campus Center when they heard a loud noise and
saw a ghost standing there.

They said they had
nothing to prove.

One student, who didn’t
want to be identified, said
she had heard of ghosts,
but she didn’t believe in
them.

Another student, who didn’t
want to be identified, said
she had heard of ghosts,
but she didn’t believe in
them.

Others, however, believe in
ghosts.

The President’s View
By Don Mathers
Day or any day you want.

prepare for upcoming exams:
GRE begins Oct. 24
LSAT begins Oct. 31
Get 5% Off The
Lowest Travel Fare
You Can Find.
That includes Spring Break, Winter Breaks or any time you need a break.

McCongaig, right-off-superior,
results as resident in Chester
Finger, is a few seconds ago
when suddenly a light appeared
on the first floor — the
building was empty.

He said he didn’t know of
any such phenomenon, at least
described as a black figure.
She said she was in the
hallway and saw a ghost
standing there.

Starrs, a security guard,
said he knew about a few
different sightings.

Hankins and a security officer
were in the Campus Center when
they heard a loud noise and
saw a ghost standing there.

They said they had
nothing to prove.

One student, who didn’t
want to be identified, said
she had heard of ghosts,
but she didn’t believe in
them.

Another student, who didn’t
want to be identified, said
she had heard of ghosts,
but she didn’t believe in
them.

Others, however, believe in
ghosts.

The President’s View
By Don Mathers
Day or any day you want.

prepare for upcoming exams:
GRE begins Oct. 24
LSAT begins Oct. 31
Get 5% Off The
Lowest Travel Fare
You Can Find.
That includes Spring Break, Winter Breaks or any time you need a break.

McCongaig, right-off-superior,
results as resident in Chester
Finger, is a few seconds ago
when suddenly a light appeared
on the first floor — the
building was empty.

He said he didn’t know of
any such phenomenon, at least
described as a black figure.
She said she was in the
hallway and saw a ghost
standing there.

Starrs, a security guard,
said he knew about a few
different sightings.

Hankins and a security officer
were in the Campus Center when
they heard a loud noise and
saw a ghost standing there.

They said they had
nothing to prove.

One student, who didn’t
want to be identified, said
she had heard of ghosts,
but she didn’t believe in
them.

Another student, who didn’t
want to be identified, said
she had heard of ghosts,
but she didn’t believe in
them.

Others, however, believe in
ghosts.
SUBWAY'S SUB WARS
THIS WEEK'S RESULTS:
TOWNHOUSES: A = 2 • B = 0 • C = 0
GARTLAND: E = 2 • F = 0 • G = 0 • D = 0
CHAMPAGNAT = 9
BENOT = 0
GREGORY = 0
LEO = 2
MARION = 0
SHEAHER = 1

COLD SUBS
WHEAT OR ITALIAN BREAD
SMALL OR REGULAR SALAD 6 in. Footlong

COLD CUT COMBO
(Ham, Salami, Bologna
All Turkey Based) 1.89 3.19

SPICY ITALIAN
(Genoa Salami, Pepperoni) 1.89 3.19

BMT
(Ham, Genoa Salami, Pepperoni) 2.69 3.99

FREE FIXINGS
Cheese • Onion • Lettuce • Tomato • Pickles • Green Peppers • Olives • Salt Pepper • 0 • Marinated Vinegar • Hot Sauce • Mayonnaise
10:30AM - 12:00 Midnight • 11:59AM - 2:00AM

HOT SUBS
WHEAT OR ITALIAN BREAD
SMALL OR REGULAR SALAD 6 in. Footlong

MEATBALL 1.89 3.19
STEAK & CHEESE 2.69 3.99
PIZZA SUB 2.69 3.99

FOR TWICE THE MEAT 1.00 2.00

SUBWAY CLUB
(Roast Beef, Turkey, Ham) 2.69 4.19
TURKEY BREAST 2.69 3.99
ROAST BEEF 2.69 3.99
HAM & CHEESE 2.69 3.99
VEGETABLES & CHEESE 1.69 2.59
TUNA 2.69 3.99
SEAFOOD & CRAB 2.89 4.99
ADD BACON .50 1.00

FOR TWICE THE MEAT
Route 9, Hyline Park, NY
We Now Deliver?
OPEN LATE!!!
DELIVERIES AFTER 7:00 P.M.

Red Foxes
divide games to end season
by ANDREW HOLMLUND
Staff Writer
The women's soccer team split its last two matches of the season, tying Holy Cross 2-2 on Sunday and falling to Bryant University, 3-0.
Bryant University's Julie Bedell scored the first two goals for Bryant.
On Saturday, the Red Foxes defeated Bellarmine 2-1.
Des Sullivan and Cindy DeLebelle combined for the final tally.
A Mad City Boot Camp was planned with the win and both teams have had the opportunity to have some fun with the win, Sullivan said.
"We're very happy with how we played tonight," she said. "The inclement weather really hurt us last year. The atmosphere here is fantastic and we have a great income to have a better season this year.

Netters end year with 2-11 mark
by TERRI L. STEWART
Staff Writer
The women's tennis team will begin its search for more success next year.
Netters head coach Howard Goldstein said his team is looking forward to next season.
"We're excited about next season." he said.

Boothers blank Monmouth 4-0
by TED HOLMLUND
Staff Writer
The men's soccer team blanked Monmouth 4-0 on Sunday.
Head Coach Howard Goldstein said his team is looking forward to next season.
"We're excited about next season," he said.

Harriers near front in NEC title race
by MIKE WALSH
Staff Writer
The cross country program continues to rack up the wins. The men's team third at the Northeast Conference Championships.
"We're excited about next season," he said. "We're excited about next season."
We Deliver!!!

2 MILES NORTH ON RT. 9
PHONE 229-7716

SUBWAY'S SUB WARS THIS WEEKS RESULTS:
TOWNHouses: A = 2 • B = 0 • C = 0
GARTLANd: E = 2 • F = 0 • G = 0 • D = 0
CHAMPAGNAt = 9
BENoIT = 0
GREGORY = 0
LEO = 2
MARION = 0
SHEAAHN = 1

Cold Foxes divide games to end season
BY ANDREW HOLMLUND Staff Writer

The women's soccer team split their last two matches of the season, falling to Bucknell 2-1 on Wednesday, but rebounding with a 3-0 victory over John-Hopkins on Saturday. The team finished the year with a 2-4-1 mark, tying them for fourth place in the Patriot League.

On Saturday, the Red Foxes defeated Bucknell 2-1. Dea Stallons and Cindy Daito combined for the final tally.

"Coach Colleen Hennessy was pleased with the win and with the team," Stallons said. "Our team's not very happy with the way we played," she said. "The team had really made a big turnover from last year. The things that we need to improve on are in practice take part of the game for us."

"I think we played a good game, we played well," Stallons said. "We played well for the entire game."

"I think we played a good game, we played well," Stallons said. "We played well for the entire game."

The Red Foxes also dropped a 3-0 decision to James Madison University last Saturday. The Red Foxes were also defeated by the Mount Union College 1-0 this past Thursday.

"I think we played a good game, we played well," Stallons said. "We played well for the entire game."

"I think we played a good game, we played well," Stallons said. "We played well for the entire game."

Netters end year with 2-11 mark
BY TERI L. STEWART Staff Writer

The women's tennis team will begin its search for new players next month. The season ended with a 2-11 record.

"I am proud of all the time and energy put into getting better," Harrington said.

Earlier this week, Marie (2-11) won a 6-3 decision in the 8th round. In action last week, the Red Foxes were defeated by the Mount Union College 7-2.

"I think we played a good game, we played well," Stallons said. "We played well for the entire game."

"I think we played a good game, we played well," Stallons said. "We played well for the entire game."

Head Coach Howard Goldsmith said the team's goal was to win the last two matches of the season.

"We are going to try to win the last two matches of the season," Goldsmith said. "We are going to try to win the last two matches of the season."
SPORTS

STAT OF THE WEEK:

The women's cross country team finished fourth at the NEC Championships...its lowest finish of the year.

Spikers take third in NEC Tourney

By ANDREW HOLMLUND

Stiff-Winged Red Lobsters 15-13, 15-10, 15-9 victory over Dickinson University in the match, Creighton put down a team-leading 14.4 blocks as McKeon spiked 13. Marias hopes for a third-round upset were evaporated when Robert Morris beat the Lobsters in the semifinals, 15-6, 15-10, 15-4.

The loss was the second for Marias in the double-elimination tournament.

Head Coach Sally Johnston was not only pleased with the third- place result; she was also happy with the team's effort. "The first round was a very good experience for all of our players, she said. "You can't expect to win every tournament, but the team played extremely well — the best I have seen in recent memory."

Moira Breen and Creighton were named to the All-Tournament Team.

---

Foxes stumble again, winless last 5 weeks

By J.W. STEWART

Sports Editor

Sept. 18, 1992 -- Marist beats Pace 18-13 to run its record to 2-0. Today, Oct. 29, 1992 -- The football team, down 2-1, unable to win in almost a month - three weeks and seven days - eliminated from the quest for the Liberty Cup.

The team's personal losing streak strengthened by an incredibly difficult schedule, started with Rensselaer last Saturday, 26-17.

The Red Foxes, who never trailed by more than nine, had an opportunity to pull out a win on the rain-soaked end zone covered field when Don D'Alessandro's 44-yard field goal missed yards out with 9:40 left in the contest. However, KPI (3/1) returned the kick-off in an extra point return and sent Marist back to Poughkeepsie with another disappointing defeat.

That kickoff return gave their field position more than anything," said Head Coach Jim Bordner, "and it set us up for mental st-deep down in situations like that and that hurt us."

It also did not help that Marist was forced to go to three-down conversions. "We need to work on more than just kicking the ball and keep the offense on the field. When you go to a four-down conversion (when you kick the ball and the game did arise, according to the rules, to go to a four-down conversion) gave the offense a four-down opportunity on every play," he explained. "And I'm not the same person breaking down, either, that's perplexing,"

Tim D'Aulio's run, Marist received scoring help from winger Brian McCurry (goal field) and Dan Phelan (15-yard touchdown catch from J.W. Stewart) for the first time.

With the prospect of winning the conference gone, the goal the team wants to accomplish is to finish the season strong. "We feel good, we are against the wall," said Parady. "We have to win our last three." Standing in the way is St. John's. The Redmen come to town on Halloween. "We're hoping we'll get some spiritual help," said Parady.

---

Soccer club finds fun after frustration

J.W. Stewart

Thursday Morning Quarterback

Browne was a bit surprised to hear the accolades. "I wasn't really a 'coach' to be honest. I was just shrugging off the fact he helped replace the forwards that dominated last year. I didn't feel like he was a less a friend. I was there just to make decisions," one of the decisions the team may have to make in the future is what kind of kind of attitude to have in the event they are approved for varsity status. Some of the players are already thinking about that, and believe it or not, it got me thinking about it," answered one of the players. "We see the pros and cons of being a varsity player," said J.W. Stewart.

"When it's a club, you can still mess around and have fun. But that's only true if you're not under pressure-filled, too. Definitely a decision," Browne said.

"As a club, it's not as serious and you don't have to be going to come out and play," pointed out senior Diederik Svendsen. "We have three coaches in this club and we really don't have a lot of rules.

"It's a club, you can still mess around and have fun. But that's only true if you're not under pressure-filled, too. Definitely a decision," Browne said.

"As a club, it's not as serious and you don't have to be going to come out and play," pointed out senior Diederik Svendsen. "We have three coaches in this club and we really don't have a lot of rules.

Browne, who was a bit surprised to hear the accolades, "I wasn't really a 'coach' to be honest. I was just shrugging off the fact he helped replace the forwards that dominated last year. I didn't feel like he was a less a friend. I was there just to make decisions," one of the decisions the team may have to make in the future is what kind of kind of attitude to have in the event they are approved for varsity status. Some of the players are already thinking about that, and believe it or not, it got me thinking about it," answered one of the players. "We see the pros and cons of being a varsity player," said J.W. Stewart.

"When it's a club, you can still mess around and have fun. But that's only true if you're not under pressure-filled, too. Definitely a decision," Browne said.

"As a club, it's not as serious and you don't have to be going to come out and play," pointed out senior Diederik Svendsen. "We have three coaches in this club and we really don't have a lot of rules.

"It's a club, you can still mess around and have fun. But that's only true if you're not under pressure-filled, too. Definitely a decision," Browne said.

Browne, who was a bit surprised to hear the accolades, "I wasn't really a 'coach' to be honest. I was just shrugging off the fact he helped replace the forwards that dominated last year. I didn't feel like he was a less a friend. I was there just to make decisions," one of the decisions the team may have to make in the future is what kind of kind of attitude to have in the event they are approved for varsity status. Some of the players are already thinking about that, and believe it or not, it got me thinking about it," answered one of the players. "We see the pros and cons of being a varsity player," said J.W. Stewart.

"When it's a club, you can still mess around and have fun. But that's only true if you're not under pressure-filled, too. Definitely a decision," Browne said.

"As a club, it's not as serious and you don't have to be going to come out and play," pointed out senior Diederik Svendsen. "We have three coaches in this club and we really don't have a lot of rules.

"It's a club, you can still mess around and have fun. But that's only true if you're not under pressure-filled, too. Definitely a decision," Browne said.

Browne, who was a bit surprised to hear the accolades, "I wasn't really a 'coach' to be honest. I was just shrugging off the fact he helped replace the forwards that dominated last year. I didn't feel like he was a less a friend. I was there just to make decisions," one of the decisions the team may have to make in the future is what kind of kind of attitude to have in the event they are approved for varsity status. Some of the players are already thinking about that, and believe it or not, it got me thinking about it," answered one of the players. "We see the pros and cons of being a varsity player," said J.W. Stewart.

"When it's a club, you can still mess around and have fun. But that's only true if you're not under pressure-filled, too. Definitely a decision," Browne said.

"As a club, it's not as serious and you don't have to be going to come out and play," pointed out senior Diederik Svendsen. "We have three coaches in this club and we really don't have a lot of rules.

"It's a club, you can still mess around and have fun. But that's only true if you're not under pressure-filled, too. Definitely a decision," Browne said.