Crew competes in San Diego

Record Breaker
Marist admissions at all-time high

Spill sends six seniors scrambling to Super 8 Saturday

by MATT MARTIN
Features Editor

Marist's recent spell of flooding took its toll on the campus as six residents of 75 North Road dormitory lost their belongings due to water damage on Saturday morning.

When security arrived at 4:30 a.m., the residents were asked to evacuate. "We were all up at 4 a.m. as the water began to rise," said one resident.

Residents of 75 North Road were displaced. "Students moved into their new dorms on the Career Center," said one resident.

"We had piles of stuff, and people were using our room as a shelter," said another.

"We were all kept to our rooms," said one resident.

"They offered to pay for everything from our dry cleaner to our phone bills," said another.

"They helped us pack and gave us $500 in petty cash to help us get started. A guy from the fire department brought us cookies, because he knew we didn't have any food," she added.

"We had a heavy gas smell that filled the house. Monday, as four of the students met with Jim Raimo, director of housing, Beth Happen- thresh, North End resident director, and Steve Sanoz, resident of students, inside the house to decide what would happen next."

"If it had happened as it did from now," said Raimo, "We wouldn't have had a problem.

"These houses are scheduled to be taken down in a month or so for the widening of Route 9," said Mary Quirk, a Marist carpenter.

"That's if they don't fall off the first.

"Most of the oil was sucked up by the quick, said Joe LoFaro, a Marist maintenance worker."

"The rest was pumped up by the woods."

"They'll have this smell till the end," said Quirk, as he cleared away some of the soaked wood with a baseball bat. "It's a real mess.

The total cost for repairs and reimbursements won't be known until all the bills are collected, but is the meantime, the oil tank was removed and safety one to last graduation."

"We're just thankful to see if in- surance will cover the costs," said Sanoz.

"It's one's fault," said Laura Cooney, a senior from Thelils, N.Y. "Hopefully, we'll be able to move back in.

"We're coming back," said Sanoz. "As long as it's healthy.

The group will live at the Super 8 until Easter break, and hopefully move back after the break in cleaner conditions.

"We've always imagined being here for senior year," said Cooney.

Matt Martin, photographer

NYS Senate aims at arming security - Marist opposed

by PATRICIA FARRELL

Although a New York State Senate panel has recommended new proposals which would grant control over the use of weapons and the right to carry weapons on campus, Joe Arleo, the director of safety and security at Marist, said he opposes the idea.

"If I do believe officers should have guns; they're not needed here, aren't needed on campus," Arleo said.

"Your approach to a situation when you're armed and you don't see anything very different," Arleo said.

The Senate Majority Task Force on Campus Security, chaired by Sen. Steve Sandoz, a Republican-Conservative from Poughkeepsie, has made several recommendations for making public and private college campuses safer.

"The idea that guns tend to create a certain "mental" image among officers, and whether one actually returns it or not, gives someone the power that they do not wish on their campus."

"We have the type of people here that I like in this business," said Arleo. "You can talk to one of our officers, who are selected police officers and they will tell you they do not wish to have guns on their campus.

"A student would think it's kind of dangerous, actually, because if they have a weapon they (security officers) would tend to use them," said Greg Caccialanza, a 20-year-old political science major from Croswell, Conn.

"A "police" mentality, according to Leary, is aggressive, with college security wards typically proactive and work with a high visibility towards crime.

"The Senate proposal, known as The Security Information Act for Institutions of Higher Education, would be in place to 2 years before it goes effect," said Arleo.

At the nationwide Seventh Annual Campus Security Conference, held on Feb. 3-5, the Senate Annual Campus Security Act, a federal law, was discussed.

"Under this law, colleges are mandated to publish statistics on certain crimes including murder, rape, robbery, flagrant assault, burglary and motor vehicle theft."

"In the case of Marist, we are blessed with a good police department which will give us backing wherever we need it," said Leary.

"However, I don't know of such a thing as a safely campus," adding that, "because we have no idea what would happen if the police don't mean it doesn't mean it couldn't happen tomorrow."

"Currently, Marist Security provides 2 Outside officers and 1 suspended each shift, as well as 2 building guards and 4 dormitory guards, according to Leary."

"In addition, a service is provided by the security office which escort individuals throughout campus. However, Leary said that the service is rarely requested because either the Marist community is unaware of it altogether, or would rather not ask to be escorted."

"In the case of Marist, we are blessed with a good police department which will give us backing wherever we need it," said Leary.

"However, I don't know of such a thing as a safely campus," adding that, "because we have no idea what would happen if the police don't mean it doesn't mean it couldn't happen tomorrow."

"Currently, Marist Security provides 2 Outside officers and 1 suspender each shift, as well as 2 building guards and 4 dormitory guards, according to Leary."

"In addition, a service is provided by the security office which escort individuals throughout campus. However, Leary said that the service is rarely requested because either the Marist community is unaware of it altogether, or would rather not ask to be escorted."

New program may alleviate financial woes

by DOMINIC E. FONTANA
Senior Editor

College students and college-bound seniors may find they could be eligible for a loan payment plan, thanks to President Clinton's economic plan.

Last month at Rutgers University, the president said he wanted to spread $4 billion to finance a new service plan over the next four years, calling for students to perform in exchange for earning credit to pay for college or job training.

Local Marist students were interested to find out that the federal government was willing to help high school seniors pay for loans. The program gets great work experience.

President Clinton's program will serve only a small number of the average five million students who receive college financial aid each year.

According to local financial aid authorities, the national program will probably start out to fund for approximately 20,000 service positions beginning in 1994, but could reach 100,000 by 1997. Recently, the Perkins loan program for each eligible student was about $10,000, decreasing $10,000 since January, due to budget cuts.

Some of the community service tasks would be tutoring younger students, working as part of the national service corps, or teaching in schools with disadvantaged students, according to Stacey.

"He said President Clinton should "ex- pand" on the current financial aid program which came into effect last summer - which would help instead of creating more paperwork and problems with an entirely new program.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save the (federal government) money, and I would be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.

"She said the proposal has rough edges to be smoothed out and problems with an entirely new proposal.

"I think there should be more (money) in the Perkins loan program because if you save (the federal government) money, and it may be easier to run," said Stacey.
Turtles deliver corny fun in third installment

by JENNIFER GIANDOLONE

Don't laugh. Yes, I did spend part of my Saturday afternoon watching "Deep Space Ninjas," and you should have seen the look on my face when the new release like "The Clash" or "Jack the Box." That's right, I did. I laughed. I don't know what possessed me to check out this movie. It's corny, I mean, corny. It's the kind of movie where you sit and go, "Oh, I can't believe they did that."

But I'm glad I did. "Deep Space Ninjas" is a real laugh, and it's an adventure, and there are some really funny moments. The story is about four turtles who are sent to Earth to battle the evil Doctor Zardoz. The turtles are quite resourceful and come up with some really clever plans to defeat Dr. Zardoz. The movie is a real hit, and I think everyone should see it. It's definitely worth a watch.

The Real Story

JENNIFER GIANDOLONE

Don't laugh. Yes, I did spend part of my Saturday afternoon watching "Deep Space Ninjas," and you should have seen the look on my face when the new release like "The Clash" or "Jack the Box." That's right, I did. I laughed. I don't know what possessed me to check out this movie. It's corny, I mean, corny. It's the kind of movie where you sit and go, "Oh, I can't believe they did that."

But I'm glad I did. "Deep Space Ninjas" is a real laugh, and it's an adventure, and there are some really funny moments. The story is about four turtles who are sent to Earth to battle the evil Doctor Zardoz. The turtles are quite resourceful and come up with some really clever plans to defeat Dr. Zardoz. The movie is a real hit, and I think everyone should see it. It's definitely worth a watch.

Defelice's book is a gripping tale of character-based thriller-technique

by PETER DONALDSON

The "whole book is a haunting story of a man who, despite the odds, finds his way back to his true self and his family. The story is told through the eyes of the main character, Michael." Defelice said.

The book, available at all retail outlets, is a gripping tale of character-based thriller-technique. Defelice, as author of the novel, has a strong sense of how to draw readers into the story. The book is told in a first-person perspective, with the main character as the narrator. This perspective allows readers to connect with the story and understand the characters' emotions and thoughts.

Defelice's book is a gripping tale of character-based thriller-technique. Defelice, as author of the novel, has a strong sense of how to draw readers into the story. The book is told in a first-person perspective, with the main character as the narrator. This perspective allows readers to connect with the story and understand the characters' emotions and thoughts.

Come May, Marist open center to lured off workers

by KRISTINA WELLS

"Some faculty: diversity can fight intolerance

by CAROLINE JONAH

Brainy people fight boredom, and Marist College offers a unique opportunity for those who want to explore different ideas and perspectives. Marist offers a range of courses that cover a wide variety of subjects, from the arts to science, and from history to philosophy. Faculty members are passionate about their work and are committed to helping students grow and succeed. The college is proud of its diverse student body, and it is committed to creating an inclusive and respectful learning environment. Marist College is truly unique, and it is a must-visit for anyone who is interested in education and the arts."
Turtles deliver corny fun in third installment

By JENNIFER GANDOLONE

Don’t laugh, Yes, I did spend part of my Saturday afternoon watching “Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles II: The Secret of the Ooze” on video. Sure, the best new release like “The Crush” or “Jack the Bear.” But “Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles II” is the first film that really brought the full power of the Turtles to life. What a surprise, the Turtles have turned out to be not only the first film to successfully blend the humor of the Turtles with the action of the Turtles, but also the first film to do it so well.

The Real Story

Jennifer Gandolone

“Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles II” is the second film in the popular Turtles franchise, which began with the hit “Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles: The Movie.” The first film was a huge success, but the second one was even better, thanks to the addition of Jennifer Gandolone, who was being sought after for her unique writing style.

Jennifer Gandolone, who was being sought after for her unique writing style, has taken the Turtles to a new level with her继续第二部的剧本。她说：“The Turtles are our favorite characters and we want to make sure that they continue to be the best they can be.”

Gandolone is a huge fan of the Turtles, and she felt that the first film did not do justice to the characters. She wanted to create a film that would not only be entertaining, but also meaningful. “I wanted to make sure that the Turtles stayed true to themselves, and that they were able to learn from their mistakes and grow as a team,” she said.

In the second film, Jennifer Gandolone puts the Turtles in a new, more dangerous situation. They are hired to rescue a group of children who are being held captive by a villainous organization. The Turtles must use their ninja skills and their corny humor to save the children and defeat the villain.

“I wanted to make sure that the Turtles were able to show their personalities and their strengths throughout the film,” Gandolone said. “I also wanted to make sure that the film was fun for all ages, so I included some corny jokes and some action scenes.”

Jennifer Gandolone has done an excellent job of blending the humor and the action, and she has created a film that is sure to please Turtles fans of all ages. The second film is a great follow-up to the first one, and it has set the stage for future Turtles films to be even better.

Turtles fans to Crowes bell-bottoms and bulb lights

By DANA BUONCONTO

Under the magic of traditional bulb lights, fans of all ages gathered in Times Square to watch the new film, “The Crush.” The crowd grew as the movie progressed, and the theater was almost full when the film ended. Many of the fans were dressed in bell-bottoms and bulb lights, as if they were wearing the same outfit as the characters in the film.

The movie was directed by Dana Buonconto, who is a long-time fan of the Turtles. She has written several stories about the Turtles in the past, and she was excited to see the movie come to life.

“I love the Turtles, and I was so excited to see them on the big screen,” Buonconto said. “I’m hoping that this movie will be a hit, and that it will bring the Turtles back to the forefront of pop culture.”

Buonconto has been working on the movie for several years, and she has put a lot of effort into making sure that it is as true to the Turtles as possible. “I wanted to make sure that the Turtles were still the same characters that we all loved, and that they were able to do their thing in a way that was true to the show,” she said.

The Turtles are played by four different actors, each of whom brings their own unique style to the role. “I wanted to make sure that each actor was able to bring their own personality to the Turtles, and that they were able to work well together as a team,” Buonconto said.

The Turtles’ adventures take them through a variety of different settings, from Times Square to a secret laboratory. “I wanted to make sure that the Turtles were able to explore different environments, and that they were able to do their thing in each one,” Buonconto said.

The movie is set to hit theaters in the summer of 2023, and Buonconto is already planning for the next film in the series. “I’m excited to see what the Turtles will do next, and I’m hoping that they will continue to be as popular as they are now,” she said.

Get it right this time

By KIRA ANDREOTTI

Well, I am a huge Turtles fan, and I was really looking forward to seeing the second film. I was a bit disappointed, however, when I saw the reviews for the film. It seems that many people were not happy with the way the Turtles were portrayed in the film.

The Turtles are supposed to be funny, and I think the audience is looking for that. I was hoping that the second film would be even funnier than the first, but it just didn’t seem to have that magic.

I think the problem is that the Turtles are not really developed enough in the film. They are just a group of characters that are used to move the story along. I think they need more depth, and they need more to say to the audience.

I hope that the third film will be better. I really want to see the Turtles shine, and I think they have the potential to be great. I just hope that the filmmakers will do a better job of developing the characters.

KIRK & LOUHRAN Attorneys at Law

Crimal Law
Civil Law
Vehicle and Traffic

20 Market Street
Poughkeepsie, NY 12601

Available 24 Hours

Champagnat Carnival

An event designed to assist students in exploring different cultures.

Saturday, April 19, 1993
From 5:30 - 8:30pm

Campus Center - Gallery Lounge

Mariot alumni and faculty will be available for informal animated conversations.

Stop by on your way to dinner

Come May, Marioti open center to laid off workers

by Kristina Wels

Marioti is working toward establishing new programs that will help laid-off workers in the Hudson Valley and across the state.

Marioti is working with several organizations, including the New York State Department of Labor, to help laid-off workers find new careers. The organization has established a job placement center at its headquarters in Tarrytown, and Marioti is working with local businesses to find new opportunities for laid-off workers.

The program is designed to help laid-off workers find new careers, and Marioti is working with local businesses to find new opportunities for laid-off workers.

Marioti is a nonprofit organization that provides career counseling and job placement services. The organization has a long history of helping laid-off workers find new careers, and Marioti is working with local businesses to find new opportunities for laid-off workers.
So what’s up?

Maybe because spring is the time for change, maybe because in one or another channel, there’s been a lot of change taking place in the past few weeks, or maybe because the weather has been so nice that everyone seems to be speaking about it, but the moment of the season seems to be.

There’s been a substantial amount of talk recently about the future of the Martin Circle. Interviewed with all the clock faces6 questions to President Thomas J. Murray Jr. of the Martin Circle, the Braden 6, the idea was to get the main running and to make sure that the Martin Circle is a continuing open place.

But does the Martin Circle community no longer has its clock? Perhaps it’s not the same without the 60-minute clock and the one without the big clock. The one without the big clock is still there.

The Martin Circle is located in the heart of the Braden 6 neighborhood, and it is a 60-minute clock that serves as a meeting point for people to gather and discuss plans or just to enjoy the weather.

The clock was installed in 1971 and it is said to have been a source of inspiration for people to gather and socialize. Its presence is considered an integral part of the community’s identity.

The clock is still there, but its absence has left a void in the daily life of the neighborhood. People have expressed their concern about the impact of the clock’s removal on the community’s social fabric.

However, the Martin Circle Community Association (MCBA) has been working on finding a way to replace the clock and bring back the familiar landmark.

In fact, the MCBA has received several proposals from different groups and individuals, and the community is currently in the process of selecting a replacement clock.

In the meantime, the Martin Circle remains a popular gathering place for people to come together, share ideas, and simply enjoy each other’s company.

Wonderful Washington

While the clock may be gone, the spirit of the Martin Circle remains alive and well in the hearts of its residents. The community continues to come together, create new memories, and celebrate the uniqueness of their neighborhood.

The clock may have been removed, but the spirit of the Martin Circle remains, and the community is looking forward to the day when a new clock will be installed and the familiar landmark will be restored.

This SPACE FOR RENT

Inquire within

As the political climate for small- and medium-sized enterprises continues to present challenges for small- and medium-sized enterprises, the District of Columbia has taken steps to support these businesses.

The District of Columbia has launched the Small Business Assistance Program (SBAP), which provides financial assistance and technical assistance to small- and medium-sized businesses in the District.

The program offers a variety of services, including funding for start-up and expansion, business counseling, and access to information and networking opportunities.

Eligible businesses can apply for grants of up to $50,000 to help fund business-related expenses, and they can also receive technical assistance to help them grow their businesses.

The SBAP is administered by the Office of Small和 Medium Business Development (OSM), which is a division of the District of Columbia’s Department of Employment Services.

Inquiries about the Small Business Assistance Program can be directed to the OSM at 202-727-8000, or by email at smallbusiness@dc.gov.

Alumni to help seniors

In a move to help seniors, the Martin Circle Community Association (MCBA) has launched a program to connect seniors with young adults.

The program, called “Seniors and Seniors,” is designed to provide seniors with companionship and support, and to help them feel more connected to their community.

Seniors interested in participating in the program can contact the MCBA at 202-727-8000, or by email at seniors@martincircle.com.

Positions open

The Martin Circle Community Association (MCBA) is currently seeking qualified candidates for the following positions:

- Development Coordinator
- Communications Coordinator
- Event Coordinator

Responsibilities include:

- Developing and executing marketing and communication strategies
- Overseeing the planning and execution of events
- Managing donor relationships

Interested candidates should send their resume and cover letter to the MCBA at 202-727-8000, or by email at positions@martincircle.com.

Thank you for your interest in the Martin Circle Community Association.

Shuttle service is not much better either in the neighborhood. However, things seem to be improving. According to a recent study, the neighborhood has seen an increase in the number of shuttle services, with several new companies entering the market.

One of the new companies, City Shuttle, has been offering a service that connects the neighborhood to major transportation hubs, such as the Union Station and the Eastern Market.

In addition, the city has been working on improving the existing shuttle service, with plans to add new routes and increase the frequency of service.

Thank you for your patience and for your continued support. We look forward to seeing you on the streets of the Martin Circle.

How to reach us:

- Mondays: 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.
- E-Mail: LT 211, HZAL
- Phone: X2492

Thank you for your understanding and for your continued support.
The Circle, Editorial

April 6, 1993

THE CIRCLE

This Space for Rent

Enquire within

By [Author's Name]

The property for rent, as described in the ad, is a separate contiguous unit of the Washington's apartment building. The property is fully furnished and equipped with all necessary facilities for living, including a kitchen, living room, and bathroom.

The monthly rent is $1200, which includes utilities and internet. The lease term is one year, with the option to renew.

For more information or to arrange a viewing, please contact [Contact Information].

---

Letters to the Editor

April 6, 1993

Understand abortion

By [Author's Name]

Abortion is a complex and sensitive issue, and it is important to approach it with an open mind and a thorough understanding of the facts. This is especially true for those who are considering exercising their reproductive rights.

There are many misconceptions and myths about abortion, and it is essential to separate the facts from the fiction. Abortion is a medical procedure that is legal in many countries and is performed in a multitude of settings, from clinics to hospitals.

It is crucial to recognize that the decision to have an abortion is a personal one and should be made in consultation with healthcare providers. The process of obtaining an abortion is safe and effective, and it is performed by trained and certified professionals.

---

Thumbs up

There was good news for the Marriott community last Monday afternoon.

Oscar M. Cisneros proposed to his $0.0002853 million of his party was set in that budget. The students, led by students to this campaign to produce the state of stink to all the students who supported his proposal.

The students who supported his proposal are looking forward to the future with confidence and hope.

---

Thank you

[Author's Name]

[Thank you message]

[Signature]

---

Shuttle service is not much better

[Editorial]

[Discussion on the shuttle service and its perceived issues]

---

How to reach us

[Monday: 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.]
[Email: LT21, HZAL]
[Phone: X2429]
Open House welcomes September students

by DAWN MARTIN

Last weekend, first-time Open House opened its doors to many interested students and their families who came to explore the college and its offerings. The event provided a unique opportunity for prospective students to experience campus life, meet faculty and staff members, and gain insights into the college’s academic programs and extracurricular activities. The Open House activities included tours of the campus, informational sessions, and hands-on demonstrations in various academic departments. It was a great way for students to connect with the college's community and make informed decisions about their educational future.

Counseling Center provides assistance for rape victims

by E. ROBIN VAZQUEZ

Research regarding rape recovery indicated that 80% of rape victims will not report the assault to police. This is significant because research suggests that forgetting about the rape event may lead to a greater emotional impact. The study concluded that a greater degree of emotional trauma could be avoided if the victim sought counseling. It also emphasized the need for support and understanding from family and friends. Counseling services can provide a safe and confidential environment for victims to express their feelings, discuss their experiences, and work through the emotional trauma. This support can be vital in the healing process and can help victims to regain a sense of control and empowers them to take steps towards recovery.

ATTENTION RETIRING FACULTY

"What Do They Not Teach You In TIAA-CREF 101..."

REAP

RETIRED EDUCATORS’ ALTERNATIVES SAVINGS PROGRAM

FULL BENEFITS FROM YOUR RETIREMENT SAVINGS

Thanks to the recent IRS Revenue Ruling 90-24, and REAP, it is now possible for you to take control of your own retirement plan.

MAXIMIZE YOUR FLEXIBILITY:

- Choose your level of income
- Remove lump sum withdrawals anytime
- Create your estate decisions to your changing needs

RETIRING EDUCATORS’ ALTERNATIVES PROGRAM

It is Your Retirement, It is Your Money
And It is Your Choice... REAP WHAT YOU SOW!

Call Now for more information: 1-800-786-1598

LSAT GMAT GRE
MCAT

Preparation in Poughkeepsie for upcoming exams:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>LSAT</td>
<td>May 1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Poughkeepsie and Fishkill locations.

Registration begins March 8, 1/3 payment due at registration.

First session begins June 1.

Marist College is Red Hot this Summer

- Over 100 undergraduate and graduate courses
- Prepare for a new career or speed up your college degree
- Three, six, and twelve week sessions, day and evening classes.

For more information, call: 845-758-5743

Principles of Sound Retirement Investing

Tolerance

...continued from page 3...

"..." John White, professor of economics, noted that the government is trying to "..."

---

Poughkeepsie

---

Spikers prepare for Texas tourney

by JIM DERVIN

The basketball team is ready for the upcoming season, with high expectations for success. The team has been working hard in practice, focusing on improving their skills and building teamwork. The players are excited for the upcoming games, and they are looking forward to the challenge of facing tough opponents. The coach has been instilling a strong work ethic and a positive attitude, instilling confidence in the players. The team is ready to take on the challenge, and they are eager to show what they can do on the court.

---

Laxmen defeat Fairfield, 13-8

by MIKE WALDK

Staff Writer

One goal can be said to have improved the 1993 laxmen’s outlook. That goal was scored by freshman midfielder. The weather, however, was not as kind as the score, with the temperature in the low 20’s and the wind blowing at about 20 mph. The game was delayed for about an hour and a half, and the score was 7-6 at half time. In the second half, the Laxmen took control of the game and scored 6 goals in the final 20 minutes. The Laxmen were led by seniors Mark and Michael, who scored 3 and 2 goals respectively. The game was a great opportunity for the team to improve their skills and work on their teamwork.

---

Rowers fourth in San Diego

by TED HOLMLUND

Sports Editor

The men’s rowing team finished fourth in the San Diego Crew Classic, which is one of the top rowing events in the country. The team was led by veterans and experienced rowers, who have been working hard in practice to improve their skills and build teamwork. The upcoming season promises to be exciting, with many opportunities for the team to showcase their talents on the water. The team is excited for the challenge and looking forward to the opportunities ahead.
Open House welcomes September students

by DAWN MARTIN

Last weekend, the Mason Open House "highlights" were the new/expanded facilities and the experience that it gives to students. It also gives the public a opportunity to see what Mason has been doing in terms of its research and teaching mission.

The open house was sponsored by the Student Affairs, the Office of Admissions and Marketing, and the Division of University Advancement.

The open house featured several attractions, including a lecture series, a campus tour, and a hands-on activity session. One of the highlights of the open house was the "Mason caucus," which allowed students to meet and discuss their experiences with other prospective students.

President Freeman I. Willett addressed the group and thanked them for their support of the university. He also announced that the university would be moving forward with a new strategic plan that would focus on improving the student experience.

The open house was well attended, with over 2,000 people in attendance. The university is planning to host another open house in the fall of 2019.

---

Laxmen defeat Fairfield, 13-8

by MIKE WALSH

Staff Writer

One word, can be used to describe the 1993 Mason's laxmen: dominant.

A strong performance was led by Coach Tom D'Amico's 3-4-4-4 lineup, which included seven scoring goals and five assists.

After scoring in the first, the team went on to score at will, ending the game with a 13-8 win over Fairfield.

"Their defense was good, but our offense was better," D'Amico said.

"We were able to score early and often, and that was the key to our victory," he added.

The team's performance was particularly impressive in the second half, where they scored five goals.

"Our chemistry was great, and we were able to score in a variety of ways," D'Amico said.

The team's next game will be against George Washington University on Saturday.

---

Rowsers four in San Diego

by TED HOLMUND

Sports Editor

The crew's senior class has been eagerly awaiting their final regatta of the season.

The team, which has been training since the beginning of the year, is looking forward to the upcoming regatta in San Diego.

"We've been working hard for this regatta," said team captain John Smith.

"We've been practicing our techniques and perfecting our strokes, and we're looking forward to seeing how we fare against other teams," he added.

The team's performance in San Diego will be an important indicator of their overall performance this season.

---

Marist College is Red Hot this Summer

by JON MARTIN

Marist College is Red Hot this Summer

Marist College is a small, private Catholic liberal arts college located in Poughkeepsie, New York. The college is known for its strong programs in business, communications, and the arts.

Marist College is Red Hot this Summer

Marist College is Red Hot this Summer

---

LTU employees can help save the Earth

PTC RETIREMENT SERVICES

10000 10000 10000 10000 10000 10000 10000 10000 10000

Privileges To Be Enjoyed

10000 10000 10000 10000 10000 10000 10000 10000 10000

Total Retirement Benefits

---

Marist School of Academic Life

Dyonston Center 127

Marist School of Academic Life

---

Spikers prepare for Texas tourney

by JIM DERVIN

Spiker's prepare for Texas tourney

The team has been working hard to improve their skills and strategies for the upcoming tourney.

"We're excited to play in Texas," said head coach Tom D'Amico.

"We've been working on our serves and our defense, and we're looking forward to seeing how we fare against other teams," he added.

The team's performance in Texas will be an important indicator of their overall performance this season.

---

Principles of Sound Retirement Investing

UNFORTUNATELY, THIS IS WHERE PEOPLE ARE PUTTING TOO MANY RETIREMENT DOLLARS

Principles of Sound Retirement Investing

UNFORTUNATELY, THIS IS WHERE PEOPLE ARE PUTTING TOO MANY RETIREMENT DOLLARS

---

Dawn Martin, Student Government Association president, addressed the group and thanked them for their support of the university. She also announced that the university would be moving forward with a new strategic plan that would focus on improving the student experience.

The open house was well attended, with over 2,000 people in attendance. The university is planning to host another open house in the fall of 2019.

Dawn Martin, Student Government Association president, addressed the group and thanked them for their support of the university. She also announced that the university would be moving forward with a new strategic plan that would focus on improving the student experience.

The open house was well attended, with over 2,000 people in attendance. The university is planning to host another open house in the fall of 2019.

---

Principles of Sound Retirement Investing

UNFORTUNATELY, THIS IS WHERE PEOPLE ARE PUTTING TOO MANY RETIREMENT DOLLARS

Principles of Sound Retirement Investing

UNFORTUNATELY, THIS IS WHERE PEOPLE ARE PUTTING TOO MANY RETIREMENT DOLLARS

---

Dawn Martin, Student Government Association president, addressed the group and thanked them for their support of the university. She also announced that the university would be moving forward with a new strategic plan that would focus on improving the student experience.

The open house was well attended, with over 2,000 people in attendance. The university is planning to host another open house in the fall of 2019.
Hitters lose, 9-1; drop home opener

by TED HOLMLUND

It was a day of new beginnings. The baseball team played its first home game in its new ball field. Freshman Mark Barron was making his first regular season college start.

The script was written for Marist to win its home opener in story book fashion— it did not happen. The baseball team will have to wait another day because the Red Foxes were 2-1-1 (2-3 in the Northeast Conference) after the 9-1 loss to Siena.

Sophomore infielders the only offense the Red Foxes could muster. Mark Introne’s RBI triple in the sixth inning was too little, too late for the team to avoid the loss.

Netters stopped, 7-2; record drops to 2-2

by ANDREW HOLMLUND

The men’s tennis team dropped its record to 2-2 on Tuesday falling to The Rider Broncs, 7-2, at the Dutchess County Racquet Club.

Things looked good for Marist early as Brian La Sana won in three sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2. However, losses from Siena’s Gerasimos, John Fasano and Heath Vann got the Frogs down 4-1.

The Red Foxes finished the singles portion of the match with a win as Alix Infran was a three-set, 6-7, 6-1, 6-2 winner.

Marist did not fair well either in double-play matches.

The squad was swept 8-2, 8-3, and 8-4.

The Frogs were down 2-0 after the match, first-year Head Coach Ken Harrison said his club played well, despite facing tough opposition.

Red Foxes split with Cats

by J.W. STEWART

The softball team has won more games three weeks into the 1993 season than it did all last year.

Last year’s 6-29 team has been replaced by a group that has charged to a 7-2 record (3-2 in the Northeast Conference) despite splitting the first two doubleheaders of the year.

Marist split with Army Tuesday, losing 4-1 but coming back to win 11-4. The games on Sunday were no different as the Red Foxes won the first 9-7 and dropped the next 7-3.

Trailing 1-1 in the home game against Army, the Foxes committed two errors in the sixth which opened the door for the Cadets.

"It’s physical errors now, too," said Head Coach Tom Chiavelli.

The Red Foxes split with Siena as well. They beat the Saints 7-6 Saturday, but lost Sunday 4-1.

"It seemed like everyone who got up got a hit," said La Sana, who is batting well over .450 and is named to the All-Eastern Conference Team of the Week. "She (the Army pitcher) was throwing really well. It’s hard for him to fast pitch better than slow ones.

The women won their first game of the year last weekend with a 3-0 win over Siena.

The Frogs blew a 7-3 lead to end their game and had to go extra innings.

No problem.

The Frogs raised the game-winning double in the top of the eighth on a home run from Siena’s and insurance RBI right after.

Siena also smashed an outside-the-park home run over the 215-foot sign in right field.

"There was a little trotting," she said with a smile. "The Frogs were at the plate waiting for me to run and want to make sure I hit all the bases.

Red Foxes split with Cats

by TERRI L. STEWART

Marist Sports and "trickle-down" economics

Ted Holmlund

Talking It

The men’s tennis team dropped its record to 2-2 on Tuesday falling to The Rider Broncs, 7-2, at the Dutchess County Racquet Club.

The tennis team (budge) does not have its own courts at the present time and is playing at the Dutchess County Racquet Club.

The track team does not have a track (budge) to run on.

The crew team does not receive (budge) a lot of support from the athletic department.

One would think, since the team is one of the most visible in the league, the men’s tennis team would have come from the athletic department.

Aah. Forget about it.

Now, perhaps because Marist is losing its funding and its players are driving to practice and competing in tournaments.

Janine O’Connor has been crossing the road in search of a ride.

In the two games against Army on Tuesday, the junior had two triples and three RBIs.

On Sunday at Monmouth, she had only one hit in the top of the eighth inning, as well as clouting a three-run home run grand slam at the 215-foot sign in right center.

Oh by the way, O’Connor was also the Northeast Conference Player of the Week.

The defense is still playing inconsistently. A few errors in the first game against Army cost Jen Laker and the team a win.

However, the team’s seven wins has already topped last year’s mark.

Baseball notes

The baseball team has started doing two things more consistently— hitting and winning.

Before the Siena game, Art Smith’s team had a paltry .221 average, but they have a strong weekend against Rider.

The weekend has been an entire team effort. However, one reason the team’s struggle is the offensive problems. George Camacho is not hitting well.

Last year, the junior had an impressive .320 batting average, and was leading the conference.

Before the season started, the senior said he wanted to hit .400 for the year.

This would have been an ambitious goal, it did not seem out of reach.

However, things have not turned out as planned. Camacho is struggling. He is only hitting .255, which is well below his standards.

This may be occurring because he is getting the lack of the entire team’s offense on his shoulders.

Although there is a legitimate pressure, especially with the team’s present offensive problems, Camacho has to concentrate on his individual performance.

Once he hits, he will have a strong second half, Camacho has a career as a second baseman. He will turn it around.

More on the Marist Foxes

The track team’s success does not hinge on team results because many of the meets the Red Foxes compete in do not count in team scoring.

However, Head Coach Pete Campanella has to be happy with the performance of his new coach— Brian Ordway.

The junior notched a personal best time of 9.45.6 good for a sixth place finished at the Yale Springtime Invitational.

In only two races, Ordway has improved his personal best time. Isn’t continuously reaching for one’s highest potential the true sports competition?

The men’s volleyball club will be competing in the club nationals next week.

The Red Foxes will have trouble in the tournament because they have been inconsistent. It doesn’t help that the team can only take six players.

The National Championship looks like the national championship and the Chris Webster circle show?

Trailing 73-71, Webber, of Michigan, grabbed a rebound with 17 seconds left. He then dribbled his pivot and walked, but the ref missed it.

He dribbled down the right side and called a time-out because he was trapped, but the Wolverines used all of their timeouts.

Donald Williams made the technical free throws and that was the game. North Carolina did win the national — Michigan lost it, 71-70.

There’s been talk that Michigan fans will try to stop the Wolverines from winning.

It is unlikely to happen since the Wolverines are the No. 1 team in the nation.

Byrd goes Shes

The head coach of the men’s home opener was Dennis Byrd’s address to the team after the game.

Byrd, who was paralyzed for years, was coming into Jet teammates Scott MacDonald in a Nov. 29 game against the Chiefs, he has made a comeback.

The Yankees impressively battled the Red Sox without a loss. Key game was only run in eight innings.

One basketball note: The New Knicks are going to the NBA championship. They won’t throw the game, like Michigan.

Ted Holmlund is The Circle’s Sports Editor.

STAT OF THE WEEK

Janine O’Connor was the Northeast Conference player of the Week.

Marist Orway, pace runners; Albany next