Military private's disappearance still unsolved

by JUSTIN SEREMET
Senior Editor

According to Town of Poughkeepsie Police and Marist Security, there was been no clear sightings of the whereabouts of a friend of a Marist student missing since Oct. 8.

Christopher J. Thomas, 20, of Chelmsford, N.H., was last seen at a party on Church St. around midnight on Oct. 8, and despite the rumors circling around campus, his location is still unknown, police said.

He left his car parked at Donnelly Hall, leaving behind an overnight bag and his wallet, and was reportedly unfamiliar with the Poughkeepsie area.

Thomas was on active duty in the U.S. Army and did not report back to his station in Virginia on the Oct. 11 when he was scheduled to, police said.

According to Thomas' bank records, there has been no any withdrawals or activity in his bank account since his disappearance.

Speculations have circulated around campus that his body had been found, but according to Det. Paul DiPietro of the Town of Poughkeepsie Police, there is nothing new in that investigation.

"There have been bodies found in various places around campus, but none have been identified as his. A body found in Hyde Park turned out to be a female. At this point, we're following all leads," Leary said. Leomote said he does not know if Thomas' military status has anything to do with it.

"He enjoyed the army as far as I know," he said.

Joseph Leary, director of campus safety and security, also said the rumors were untrue as far as he knew.

"This is the first I've heard of it," Leary said when asked about the rumor. "There's lots of reach out there. There was a body found in the woods somewhere near Stanfordville, but it was an escapee from a mental institution. Rumors will abound. I know the cops have spent a lot of hours on this one.

Thomas was visiting a freshman (name withheld for reasons of confidentiality) that weekend and she has not been in contact with him since.

"The news is really bothersome," said freshman Christine Mages, a friend of the person whom Thomas was visiting. "She's just the detectives.

Leary said he has received one anonymous tip that has been handed over to police and will be dealt with by those authorities.

"The longer this goes, the worse and weirder it gets," Leomote said.

"We're hoping to hear from anyone who has seen him since last seen around 11:30 p.m. to 12 a.m."

With Thomas missing, and with the shooting of a student a couple weeks ago, Leary said this will not be solved quickly.

"What it does affect is the perception of running around (off-campus) and nothing will happen," he said. "It serves as a good wake-up call to students. Anything can happen."

Techs computer weekly

CHRISTOPHER JOHNSON
Senior Staff Writer

It's computer week at Marist College, as an increasing number of students are turning to computers to do just about anything. This is due to the increasing availability of computing resources on campus, as well as the increasing demand from students for such resources.

"I think it's pretty good," said sophomore Patrick Kelly. "I use the library a lot, but now I use the computer a lot more."

Kelly said he uses the library for research, but now he uses the computer for everything from word processing to doing homework.

"I use the computer a lot," said senior Natasha Gudzue. "I think in the corporate world it will be an asset to us."

Gerberich said he estimates the majority of students who use the mainframe also use the Internet. Students using the Internet can access the Internet, which provides connections to both the mainframe and the Internet.

"It's a world of information out there," he said. "The Internet is a world of information out there."

In addition to the Gopher, students can use the mainframe to access the Internet, which provides connections to both the mainframe and the Internet.

"We're starting to see a lot of people using the Internet," Gerberich said. "It's a world of information out there."

The Internet is a world of information out there. It's a world of information out there. The Internet is a world of information out there.
Branchag's 'Frankenstein' a new look at Shelly classic

by JUSTIN SEREMEY

Dr. Frankenstein's Monster, the mad scientist from Mary Shelley's novel, has been reimagined by New York University students for a performance at the University's Tisch School of the Arts. The production is being directed by Tom Mee, assistant professor of theater.

"It's a show that has been done before," Mee said. "But it's never been done like this. We're taking the classic tale and putting a modern twist on it.""The performance is set in a laboratory where the Monster is being created through genetic engineering. The Monster, played by a group of student performers, is brought to life by a series of electrical shocks, symbolizing the scientist's efforts to bring life to the inanimate matter.

The Monster speaks in a series of monologues, reflecting on his own existence and the power that gave him life. The performance is interspersed with scenes of the scientist's experimentation, including shots of him working in the lab and experimenting on a series of smaller creatures.

The production is being held at the University's Tisch School of the Arts, and tickets are available for purchase online. The performance is scheduled for this weekend and next week, with tickets ranging in price from $10 to $25.
Discount in Cafe offered to few students.
by JEANNE AYLES
Staff Writer

The students who are receiving a second year discount for their coffee are the "few" students.

"It's for the students who are getting their second year discount for their coffee," says Jeannine Martin, director of Campus Life and Dining Services.

"The discount is only for the students who are getting their second year discount for their coffee," she said. "It's for the students who are getting their second year discount for their coffee."
Winter intercession to provide plenty for students

By PATRICIA FARRELL

Imagine spending your winter vacation on a sandy beach along the beautiful, sun-drenched beaches of Aruba or taking a cruise down the beautiful Euphoria Falls in the heart of South America.

That’s what it’s like to be a student at Marist College.

Need to go back to school?

The alumni of Marist College have the opportunity of two different experiences: the traditional winter intercession and the new Marist Experience.

Intercession is a time for students to visit home, relax, and engage in activities that they enjoy.

The Marist Experience, on the other hand, is a program that allows students to travel to different countries and learn about different cultures.

Both programs are designed to provide students with a unique and enriching experience.

Bars taking different approaches to students

By LYNN WHEELAND

Local bars are doing all they can to lure students into their place.

The bars have taken a more college-oriented approach, offering a variety of drinks and appetizers at discounted rates.

The bars are also adding more entertainment options such as live music and karaoke.

Students can enjoy a variety of drinks and appetizers while socializing with friends.

RESTAURANT REVIEW

by ROBERT C. PARROO Staff Writer

The Bank is a new restaurant in the heart of downtown Poughkeepsie.

The Bank offers a wide variety of dishes, including sandwiches, salads, and entrees.

The Bank has a cozy atmosphere and friendly staff, making it a great place to relax and enjoy a meal with friends.

Board of Trustees premieres art gallery in student center

By DINA WEIDHOFEN

The Board of Trustees has premiered an art gallery in the student center.

The gallery features works of art by students, faculty, and alumni.

The gallery is open to the public and is free to attend.

Career expo brings perspective employers to Marist

by RAY JESCHICK Staff Writer

The Career Expo is an event where employers come to the campus to meet with students who are interested in finding job opportunities.

Many students and employers attend the Career Expo, which helps students to explore different career paths and find job opportunities.

The Career Expo is a valuable resource for students who are looking to start their professional careers.

Sophomore female stock car driver balances academics and racing

by SCOTT SIGMUND Staff Writer

Sophomore Poughkeepsie High School student Audrey Lee balances her academic responsibilities with her passion for stock car racing.

Lee is a member of the racing team and competes in various events around the country.

Lee is committed to her studies and her racing career, dedicating time and effort to both.

The opportunity to compete in collegiate racing has been a highlight of her academic journey at Marist College.

Lee credits her coaches and mentors for their support and guidance.

"I love being a student and a racer simultaneously," Lee said.

"It’s challenging, but fulfilling."
Board of Trustees premieres art gallery in student center

by SINA WEINBERG

Friday, the Board of Trustees at the last meeting approved a plan to build an art gallery at the University. The gallery is to be located in the Student Center, and will feature works of art by both students and faculty. The gallery is expected to open in the fall of 1994.

The gallery will be open to the public on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission will be free to the public.

The gallery will feature a variety of art, including paintings, sculptures, and photographs. The gallery will also host special exhibitions and events, including lectures and workshops.

The gallery is expected to be a valuable addition to the University community, providing a venue for the appreciation and enjoyment of art. It is also expected to contribute to the cultural vibrancy of the University.
EAT! EAT! EAT! EAT! EAT!

Some of the most important stories of the week deal with the issue of food, and the importance of eating healthy and balanced meals. These stories cover a variety of topics, from the nutritional value of different foods to the impact of diet on overall health. The articles also highlight the importance of making informed choices when it comes to food, and the role that education and awareness can play in promoting healthy eating habits.

On the food front, there are several important stories that warrant our attention. One article discusses the benefits of plant-based diets and how they can improve our health. Another piece explores the role that processed foods play in obesity and other health issues. Additionally, there is a compelling story about the connection between diet and mental health, showing how what we eat can affect our mood and cognitive function.

These articles are just a small sample of the many ways in which food and nutrition are shaping our world. As we continue to explore these topics, we will have a better understanding of the complex issues surrounding food, and the role that we all play in creating a healthier and more sustainable future.
Editorial

WALKING TO CLASS IN THE MARIST WIND!

Published Every Thursday

EAT! EAT! EAT! EAT! EAT!

Feeds L. Animal mental, youth of plant or animal origin, unassimilating essential body nutrients, endorphins, probiotics, vitamins, or minerals is to your express agreement to maintain allergic to excessive.避

Recently, The Circle received an article that was very popular regarding reducing soda consumption. Here are this week’s maintenance, maintenance (alcohol) studies.

This week, “There’s nothing much left for free,” a student noted. “They have学, but I don’t take salad.”

Would you take some edible pizza? Perhaps home-made dough and cheese?

There’s a traditional item that goes with being a freshman: fast food.  All college food is always crowded, hungry, and beautiful in its own way.

"There’s no right thing for any college," one student noted.

Shawn, a freshman, makes his way to the dining hall. He’s excited about the options, but he’s also a little worried about the cost.

What do you think? Are there certain things that should be available on campus for free?

Letters to the Editor

Big time reality check on Marist

Big time reality check on Marist

Imagine what it would be like to have a website.

The Circle receive an article that was very popular regarding reducing soda consumption. Here are this week’s maintenance, maintenance (alcohol) studies.

This week, “There’s nothing much left for free,” a student noted. “They have学, but I don’t take salad.”

Would you take some edible pizza? Perhaps home-made dough and cheese?

There’s a traditional item that goes with being a freshman: fast food.  All college food is always crowded, hungry, and beautiful in its own way.

"There’s no right thing for any college," one student noted.

Shawn, a freshman, makes his way to the dining hall. He’s excited about the options, but he’s also a little worried about the cost.

What do you think? Are there certain things that should be available on campus for free?

Letters to the Editor

Big time reality check on Marist

Big time reality check on Marist

Imagine what it would be like to have a website.

The Circle receive an article that was very popular regarding reducing soda consumption. Here are this week’s maintenance, maintenance (alcohol) studies.

This week, “There’s nothing much left for free,” a student noted. “They have学, but I don’t take salad.”

Would you take some edible pizza? Perhaps home-made dough and cheese?

There’s a traditional item that goes with being a freshman: fast food.  All college food is always crowded, hungry, and beautiful in its own way.

"There’s no right thing for any college," one student noted.

Shawn, a freshman, makes his way to the dining hall. He’s excited about the options, but he’s also a little worried about the cost.

What do you think? Are there certain things that should be available on campus for free?
HEOP celebrates 25th anniversary of service to Marist students

The Higher Education Opportunity Program (HEOP) celebrated 25 years of helping Marist students with economic and academic needs last month.

According to Rich Quinlan, the director of HEOP, the program is one of the 12 founding institutions in New York State.

"HEOP provides Marist with students who are by definition the first in their families to attend college," Quinlan said. "We serve students who have 1/4 of the average income of students who attend Marist College. They are the first in their families to attend college."

Quinlan said that the program is designed to "serve the needs of students who are lower income and provide a pathway to Marist College."

"At Marist, we believe that all students deserve a quality education," Quinlan said. "HEOP is designed to help students who may not have the same resources."

The program has been in existence since 1989, and currently serves 50 students per year.

"The program is a success because of the hard work and dedication of the students," Quinlan said. "They work hard to succeed and are proud to be part of the Marist community."

The program is open to students who are U.S. citizens, and have a minimum GPA of 2.0. Application deadlines are typically around November 1st, and the program is open to students who have completed at least 12 credits at the high school level.

For more information about the program, contact Rich Quinlan at rquinlan@marist.edu.
HEOP celebrates 25th anniversary of service to Marist students

by ROBERT C. TECOSKI

The Higher Education Opportunity Program (HEOP) celebrated 25 years of helping Marie students with economic and academic needs last fall.

According to Mike Bruch, the director of HEOP, the program is one of the 12 founding institutions in New York State.

"HEOP provides Marie with a diversity of students," Bruch said. "Through the program, students can receive guidance, academic enrichment and counseling, and financial aid."

Lewis said the demand for HEOP programs must be met by all institutions, continuing for all of the years.

The program helps students make the adjustment from high school to college by providing them with academic resources and support, he said.

Lewis said counseling has an important role in HEOP, because many of the students find it difficult to adjust to college life and want to do well.

"HEOP students are often the first in their family to go to college," Lewis said. "They need the support and guidance to help them succeed."
CLASS OF 1996 EVENTS & NEWS:

HOW WELL DO YOU KNOW YOUR ROOMMATE?
COME TEST YOUR SKILLS AT THE ROOMMATE GAME!

MONDAY, NOV. 29, 9:30 p.m. IN THE CABINET ROOM.
INTERESTED IN BEING A CONTESTANT?
CALL JEN AT X4068 BEFORE NOV. 21:

REMEMBER, THE RING PREMIER IS COMING!
MON. NOV. 14, FROM 11-12 p.m. IN THE PERFORMING ARTS CENTER.

OUR CLASS IS DOING, OR HOW WE CAN IMPROVE IT?
WILL BE HEARD AT THE CLASS OF 1996,
TUESDAY, NOV. 16, 8-10:30 p.m.,
IN THE HALL OF OFFICE BUILDING.

TOPIC: PRINCIPAL DANCE!
THIS IS YOUR TIME—HELP MAKE THIS BIG EVENT
A SUCCESS WITH YOUR INPUT!

Drugs take crown

AP Top 25

Cagers fall, 93-92,
in pre-season tilt

by MARY SHINCOLA
Staff Writer

The women's basketball team had the opportunity to win their first game of the season against St. John's University this past weekend.

The game was held at the Alumni Center on October 30th, the same day as the men's game. The final score was 93-92, in favor of the Marists.

The women had a strong start to the season, winning their opener against St. John's University. They were able to hold off the Red Storm with some key baskets late in the game.

The men's team also had a successful weekend. They defeated St. John's University, 93-92, in their opener. They were able to pull away in the second half and secure the victory.

The Marists are looking to build on this momentum as they prepare for their next game against the University of Scranton on November 5th.

Marist loses big to Seton Hall in N.J.

by MARY SHINCOLA
Staff Writer

The women's basketball team had the opportunity to win their first game of the season against St. John's University this past weekend.

The game was held at the Alumni Center on October 30th, the same day as the men's game. The final score was 93-92, in favor of the Marists.

The women had a strong start to the season, winning their opener against St. John's University. They were able to hold off the Red Storm with some key baskets late in the game.

The men's team also had a successful weekend. They defeated St. John's University, 93-92, in their opener. They were able to pull away in the second half and secure the victory.

The Marists are looking to build on this momentum as they prepare for their next game against the University of Scranton on November 5th.

Marist loses big to Seton Hall in N.J.

by MARY SHINCOLA
Staff Writer

The women's basketball team had the opportunity to win their first game of the season against St. John's University this past weekend.

The game was held at the Alumni Center on October 30th, the same day as the men's game. The final score was 93-92, in favor of the Marists.

The women had a strong start to the season, winning their opener against St. John's University. They were able to hold off the Red Storm with some key baskets late in the game.

The men's team also had a successful weekend. They defeated St. John's University, 93-92, in their opener. They were able to pull away in the second half and secure the victory.

The Marists are looking to build on this momentum as they prepare for their next game against the University of Scranton on November 5th.

Marist loses big to Seton Hall in N.J.

by MARY SHINCOLA
Staff Writer

The women's basketball team had the opportunity to win their first game of the season against St. John's University this past weekend.

The game was held at the Alumni Center on October 30th, the same day as the men's game. The final score was 93-92, in favor of the Marists.

The women had a strong start to the season, winning their opener against St. John's University. They were able to hold off the Red Storm with some key baskets late in the game.

The men's team also had a successful weekend. They defeated St. John's University, 93-92, in their opener. They were able to pull away in the second half and secure the victory.

The Marists are looking to build on this momentum as they prepare for their next game against the University of Scranton on November 5th.

Marist loses big to Seton Hall in N.J.

by MARY SHINCOLA
Staff Writer

The women's basketball team had the opportunity to win their first game of the season against St. John's University this past weekend.

The game was held at the Alumni Center on October 30th, the same day as the men's game. The final score was 93-92, in favor of the Marists.

The women had a strong start to the season, winning their opener against St. John's University. They were able to hold off the Red Storm with some key baskets late in the game.

The men's team also had a successful weekend. They defeated St. John's University, 93-92, in their opener. They were able to pull away in the second half and secure the victory.

The Marists are looking to build on this momentum as they prepare for their next game against the University of Scranton on November 5th.

Marist loses big to Seton Hall in N.J.
Student Safety

Personal safety must be a constant issue in the minds of all the Marist community. We have a good security department and an administration that listens to student opinions and concerns. As students we are limited in the scope of what we can actually accomplish. That's why we organized.

Getting more lights on campus is without question a welcomed safety improvement. Adding more police personnel may also be necessary. The only problem here is security can't be in all places at all times.

The best way we can help the Marist community is to get everyone to protect themselves. We must all be conscious of our personal safety on an off-campus.

No one is safe from a victim, but using common sense is probably the best way to avoid being a victim. In the future, SGA will identify the high crime rate areas of Poughkeepsie, and then inform students to avoid those sections of the city like the plague.

Walking home alone from a party or a bar in the City of Poughkeepsie is a nonexample of poor judgment. This is not to say if you can't use the "buddy system".

The "buddy system" is probably the most valuable deterrent in reducing the chances of becoming a victim. A couple, or a group, is less likely to be victimized. If you have to walk, walk in the largest group of people you can assemble. Last but not least, tell someone where you are going and when you will probably return.

Unfortunately, crime is a reality, and we have to do whatever we can to protect ourselves. We don't need to read about any more students being shot, raped, or assaulted.

If you have been a victim of any of the crimes listed above, there are places on campus to help you: the Counseling Center x.2152, Campus Safety and Security x.2282, and Campus Ministry x.2275.

In the future be sure to have a buddy of yourself, and take care of someone else when you can.

Matthew Gillis & Rebecca Bacher SGA

CLASS OF 1996 EVENTS & NEWS:

HOW WELL DO YOU KNOW YOUR ROOMMATE?
COME TEST YOUR SKILLS AT THE ROOMMATE GAME!
MONDAY, NOV. 29, 9:30 p.m. IN THE CABINET ROOM.
INTERESTED IN BEING A CONTESTANT?
CALL JENN AT X6088 BEFORE NOV. 21st.

RENDEZ-VOUS: THE Ring PREMIER is COMING!
MON. NOV. 14th FROM 11-12 a.m. IN THE PERFORMING ARTS CENTER.
OH! YES! RENDEZ-VOUS DO YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS, CONCERNS, COMPLAINTS, OR IDEAS ABOUT HOW OUR CLASS IS DOING, OR HOW WE CAN IMPROVE IT?
WE'LL BE HERE AT THE CLASS OF 1996 RENDEZ-VOUS.
MONDAY, NOV. 18TH, 9:30 p.m. IN THE CABINET ROOM.

TOPIC: PRINCIPLES CENTER: PRINCIPLES & DANCE
THIS IS YOUR TIME... HELP MAKE THIS BIG EVENT A SUCCESS WITH YOUR INPUT!

Skaters hang on to a 4-2 victory

Ruggers take crown

Cagers fall, 93-92, in pre-season tilt

Marist loses big to Seton Hall in N.J.

SGA NEWS

COUNCIL MEETINGS

Production Performance
November 10, 1994, 7:00 a.m.
Campus Center 348A
Co-Curricular
November 11, 1994, 1:00 p.m.
Campus Center 360
Social Services
November 17, 1994, 9:50 a.m.
Campus Center 350
Any questions or concerns call Nickolas Coras, VP of CAS at x.2599 or x.7500

Student Academic Council Public Service Announcement

Having trouble finding work? The Mater College Counseling Center can help. The Work Experience Center offers students on-campus employment opportunities. On-campus employment can help you pay bills, build your resume, and develop skills that are not trained in writing and reading. Any questions about the Work Experience Center can be directed to the Counseling Center MONDAY THROUGH THURSDAY, 9:00 A.M. TO 4:00 P.M., and to Saturday, 9:00 A.M. TO 1:00 P.M. beneath the biochemistry lab.

Milo T. Carlton VP of Academic Affairs

CLASS OF 1996 EVENTS & NEWS:

HOW WELL DO YOU KNOW YOUR ROOMMATE?
COME TEST YOUR SKILLS AT THE ROOMMATE GAME!
MONDAY, NOV. 29, 9:30 p.m. IN THE CABINET ROOM.
INTERESTED IN BEING A CONTESTANT?
CALL JENN AT X6088 BEFORE NOV. 21st.

RENDEZ-VOUS: THE Ring PREMIER is COMING!
MON. NOV. 14th FROM 11-12 a.m. IN THE PERFORMING ARTS CENTER.
OH! YES! RENDEZ-VOUS DO YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS, CONCERNS, COMPLAINTS, OR IDEAS ABOUT HOW OUR CLASS IS DOING, OR HOW WE CAN IMPROVE IT?
WE'LL BE HERE AT THE CLASS OF 1996 RENDEZ-VOUS.
MONDAY, NOV. 18TH, 9:30 p.m. IN THE CABINET ROOM.

TOPIC: PRINCIPLES CENTER: PRINCIPLES & DANCE
THIS IS YOUR TIME... HELP MAKE THIS BIG EVENT A SUCCESS WITH YOUR INPUT!

Skaters hang on to a 4-2 victory

Ruggers take crown

Cagers fall, 93-92, in pre-season tilt

Marist loses big to Seton Hall in N.J.
Runners gear for final race of the season
by GREG BIBB
Staff Writer

It's a shame when all good things come to an end, especially for the men's and women's cross country teams.

Anyone who has followed Marist cross country has had the opportunity to watch one of its most successful runners, senior Dave Swift.

The curtain will come down on Swedish Long History this Saturday when Marist ends its campaign at the NCAA Regionals in Boston, Mass.

Head Coach Pete Colatino said he is hoping his men's team can defeat a formidable opponent.

"Our goal is to beat a Big East team," Colatino said.

The women's program will also make the trip north.

The women will see in the university race, and will be looking to make an impact in a competitive field.

Women's Head Coach Phil Kelly said his team is looking to have runners finish high in the standings.

"We want to improve on last year and finish in the top ten," Kelly said.

Seniors fullback Matt McDonald looks to move uptight in Saturday's win against St. Francis. Marist is now 6-2-1.

Swimmers crush Pirates, 127-86

by JASON PAKADO
Staff Writer

The men's swimming team dominated Pepperdine in a high note by doubling both schools, 127-86, on Saturday.

The Red Foxes' 2-0 record this season, however, gave up a shutout, 15-15.

According to Johnson, the contest did not show how his team had played at this point of the season.

"We've been better than we were three weeks ago, and we'll be better next week and so on," he said.

"But we finished second in our league," he added.

The contest of teamwork with his team to youth—five of the seniors and sophomores will return next season.

Marist entered Army on Tuesday in its last dual meet of the season. Results were unavailable at press time.

The Red Foxes will travel to O’Connor Center in Teaneck, N.J., tomorrow for the NEC Championships.

"If we play up to our ability and stay on top, we can get the blowout," Johnson said.

Steinbrenner homers while baseball strikes out

New York Yankees Owner George Steinbrenner gave the sporting world a good real good last week even though he may not realize it. The business coincidently coincided (if using this term loosely) and announced that his team, the New York Yankees would be raised for the 1995 season.

What's new?- Steinbrenner has the Yankees' homers and they have been playing the ball well and have come into the game of baseball with some new Yankee Homers.

Steinbrenner has increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.

The upper-premium seating will remain the same, $11.50, and the outfield bleachers have dropped 50 cents to $6. These two sections in the price cut, which the face of the Miller is the center of; the ticket to watch the Brux Bombers.

Steinbrenner has increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.

Steinbrenner is an increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.

Steinbrenner is an increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.

Steinbrenner is an increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.

Steinbrenner is an increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.

Steinbrenner is an increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.

Steinbrenner is an increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.

Steinbrenner is an increased field box seat tickets by $25. The main reason for the drastic increase in price is to make $4,300,000 with better service, which will attract more white-collar enterprises to purchase season tickets.

This particular pricing alteration will not currently affect the real fans. However, the average working-class follower of Yankee baseball will have to pay $18 for a lower-level box seat, and $16 for a upper-deck box seat.